

Polytech to Open Season Wednesday

"The Use of Plants in Medicine" to Be Discussed.

On Wednesday evening, October 18, the Polytechnic society will hold the first meeting of its ninth season. The society has an active membership of over sixty, composed largely of college and station men together with representatives of Fargo College, Fargo High, and the several professional and technical groups of the two cities.

The program for the coming meeting will consist of a thorough discussion of "The Use of Plants in Medicine." Professor Schlicting will deal with the historical side of the question mentioning the more important of the common plants used and the active principles derived from each. He will illustrate the methods of preparation.

Dr. Kent Darrow, a former A. C. student, now practicing in the city, will deal with the physiological reaction of some of the preparations obtained from plants. Dr. Darrow's discussion will be decidedly practical and will deal with specific instances.

The Polytechnic society aims to have these discussions given so that the layman may understand and appreciate them.

The meeting will be held at 8:00 o'clock in room 12 of the Engineering Building and is open to everyone. Last year the number of visitors in attendance equalled the number of members present, and the outlook is even more promising for the coming year.

"A TRIP TO OREGON"

Tryouts for Debates Set for November First.

Much New Material Should Add to Competition.

The announcement appearing on the bulletin board under the headline "A Trip to Oregon," has aroused a large interest in the student body. It is a notification to the students that the busy Board of Public Speaking Control is again earnestly at work promoting the forensic interests of the N. D. A. C. Our success in this field last year was gratifying. The Agricultural College representatives won from the Oregon Agricultural College the dual debate which took place last January. A. C. lost to Montana.

The Board of Public Speaking Control is anxious that the A. C. make even a better showing this year. There is no good reason why they should be disappointed in their expectations. Among the new people on the campus there must be a goodly number of debaters and orators. If you have any desire for public speaking work, here is an opportunity to express it. Already a number of students have signified their intentions of entering the debate tryouts for places on the Oregon-Montana team.

The date for the tryout is set for November 11 at 3 P. M. in THE LITTLE COUNTRY THEATRE. The question for the Oregon debate is "The Abandonment of the Monroe Doctrine." The Montana issue is, "Resolved, that the U. S. should adopt a system of Military service modeled after that of Switzerland." Your competition in the contest will help to make the debate teams better.

BAND PLAYS NEW MARCH.

"The March of the Yellow and the Green" by Dr. Putnam Played for First Time Saturday.

One of the features of the playing of the band on Saturday was the playing of Dr. Putnam's new march, The March of the Yellow and the Green. In this, Doc has arranged the college song, The Yellow and the Green, in a form in which it can be played as a march down town or anywhere. It proved to be a very good march and certainly made a hit when played Saturday.

Doc says that he has had the idea in mind for several years but lack of time in which to work out his idea prevented the march being written before. As soon as he learned that he would be here again this year he started to work on the new march. It was practically complete by the time he returned this fall. The arrangement of the different parts has taken considerable time since and Doc has spent some long hours in getting the march ready for presentation.

The first portion of the march is a good march tune. The Yellow and the Green is introduced as the trio strain and may be used as the accompaniment for the singing of the song. The arrangement of the different parts has been very well worked out and the students are very loud in their praise of the new production.

THE HARVEST FESTIVAL AN EVENT OF OCTOBER 28.

Elaborate Plans Being Made For Production.

Details to Be Announced Later.

On Saturday evening, October 28, 1916, a typical harvest festival will be staged in the college Armory, as one of the features of the All College Halloween Party. Over one hundred fifty people will participate in the production. The Armory will be appropriately decorated for the occasion, representing a scene similar to a corn field. One of the features of the festival will be a wedding between King Corn and Queen Pumpkin. The marriage ceremony will be performed by an Indian. Various other features will be announced next week. All members of the college organization are cordially invited to witness the festival and are requested to be at the armory at eight o'clock sharp.

Pharmacy Class Organized.

The first year class in pharmacy met and organized last week. The officers for the coming year were selected and several matters of interest were taken up. Those elected were: President—Phil Nelson Vice President—Alma Rytter Secretary-treasurer—Anderson Plans were made for several good times this year and it is planned that the class shall often hold meetings in the nature of "get-togethers."

ROUND TABLE CLUB HEARS A MIDON.

Many Interesting Bits of Information Given.

The second meeting of the Round Table Club was held at the Gardner Hotel Wednesday. Only a small portion of the total membership was present and the meeting was not altogether a satisfactory one from the standpoint of attendance. The guest of the evening was Judge Amidon of the U. S. District Court. The meeting was of untold value to all who were present and much concerning the organization and the working of the U. S. courts was brought out.

A short business meeting was held, and A. P. Beals was chosen secretary-treasurer of the club.

Y. W. MEETING WELL ATTENDED.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was well attended on last Tuesday evening. The musical numbers were furnished by the girls' quartet and were well rendered. Miss Neth spoke on the relation of the local to the national association. The business consisted in the presentation and adoption of the budget for the current year, and other items.

The meeting for this week is the annual Recognition Service for new members at which time all applicants for membership are formally taken into the association.

Castalian Meeting Postponed

Only five turned out for the meeting scheduled for last Friday. The Music Hall was locked and so no meeting was held. However, the good program which had been prepared will be given this Friday together with the numbers planned for that date. Dorothea Nevramon is president this term. She hopes that all will be present at the next meeting so that the year's work will not have a late start. It is hoped to have Eloise Waldron give an account of her trip to Florida in the near future.

Many of the alumni of the A. C. returned for the game on Saturday. Among those present were: C. F. "Dutch" Schroeder, "Polly" Foss, Bernard Aamodt, Amy Whitman and Noted Soprano To Appear.

On Thursday night of this week Anna Case, who is known in America's greatest soprano and as one of the best in the world, will be heard in recital at the First Methodist church. She will be accompanied on the piano by Charles Gilbert Spross, the noted musical composer and pianist. Anna Case is known as possessing a voice of marvelous sweetness and range. Every student of this school should make an attempt to hear this wonderful singer as it will afford much pleasure in addition to being of real educational value in the development of an appreciation of the beautiful. It will be money well spent.

Democratic Education Discussed.

The speaker at Monday mornings convocation hour was Mr. A. P. Hollis of the extension department. He gave a very interesting and very instructive talk on what he termed democratic education. This term covers the system of education practiced in Wisconsin, which gives practically every person desiring instruction a much better chance of receiving it. Men, women and children who are compelled to work for their living are thus enabled to secure an education, outside of their working hours, by a special system of schools designed for the purpose of meeting these conditions. The greatest fault of these schools at the present time is that they don't meet the needs of the rural population. Mr. Hollis, who has a great deal of first hand information on this subject, thinks that eventually they will be brought to meet the needs of the farming class, who are in great need of some such a system. He believes there is much need for such schools in North Dakota, which state, too, a leader in education in the United States, is from twenty to fifty years behind the majority of the European nations.

This announcement should quiet all rumors as to what will be taken from the college and what will be left. According to this rearrangement there will be no course which has been offered in the past taken from the school. All the departments have been left intact and will be strengthened by the reorganization. This final announcement as to the policy of the board toward the college should silence the last of the uncertainties which have persisted as a result of the stir-up of a year ago. From now on the school will steadily advance and will take its place where it rightfully belongs, at the head of the educational institutions of the state.

SPECIAL CANVASS ORDERED BY STATE BOARD OF REGENTS

Let's Help the Registrar's Office.

The State Board of Regents has passed the following resolution: "The following questions are to be asked for the purpose of statistical information, in which the individual names will not appear. The student will read all questions in full before answering the first or any other questions.

1. Students name in full.
2. Age: Birthplace.
3. Residence: (before coming to this institution)
4. Past occupation:
5. Parents or guardian:
 - (a) Father's name: Is he living? Mother's name. Is she living?
 - (b) If neither parent is living, give the name of your guardian.
6. Occupation of parent or guardian.
7. Do they live on a farm?
8. Or own farm land
9. Do you own a farm of your own?
10. Are you paying your own expenses in this institution?

The board directed that the head of each institution secure proper blanks and furnish this information through its registrar to the State Board of Regents by November 1.

The registrar has had provided special blanks for this canvass and while a part of this information has previously been supplied to the Registrar's office by each of us, a good deal has not. A complete report has to be made for each student. Let us each go at once to the office, get one of the blanks and fill it out promptly.

Class Spends Day at Dalrymple Farm.

Prof. Thomas' class in Farm Management spent Saturday morning in looking over the Dalrymple farm near Casselton. The day was all that could be desired and the time was well spent. The many details of the operations of the 22,000 acre farm were discussed as far as was practical. All the members of the class were much impressed with the business ability required to operate successfully such a large acreage. The questions of the crop rotations, live stock equipment, seed production, and the business end were discussed. Mr. Dalrymple stated that they had raised one good crop during the past season and that was a crop of colts. There were about 75 head in this spring's crop, and, to judge from those the members of the class saw, it surely was a good crop.

At noon the class was royally entertained at lunch, and it is needless to say that each did justice to the meal provided.

Because of the game in the afternoon, the trip had to be cut rather short, and the return trip was started soon after, although time was taken to sing The Yellow and the Green. The whole trip was made without mishap and was much enjoyed by all who took it.

Fellowships Offered.

Membership in the National Association of Drug Clerks valued at twenty dollars ($20) is offered to the three senior students receiving the highest average grades during their senior year in the respective studies of Pharmacy, Chemistry, and Materia Medica.

These life memberships include a certificate of membership, membership card, dues in the association for life and subscription to the official publication for life. These will be of value to the students in these different courses, and any one interested may obtain further information upon application to President Ladd.

Crawford Offers Prizes.

President Crawford of the Board of Regents has announced that he will offer prizes to the winners of the stock judging contest to be held later in the year. Further details will be announced later.

Yelling Still Lacks Finish

Only The Concentrated Efforts of A United Student Body Will Get Results.

On Wednesday another of the rallies was held in the Armory. This by no means fell behind any of the previous rallies in attendance and in enthusiasm. As the date was just the day prior to the game with St. Thomas, the talks were centered on the demands to be made on the student body at that game. Dean Keene told a little of the athletic relations of A. C. and St. Thomas and warned every one to be on guard for trick plays, since that was one place where St. Thomas had to be watched. Several amusing incidents relative to this matter were mentioned. Coach Davis emphasized the necessity of remaining silent while our team was trying to get the signals and as a substitute for yelling suggested concentrated thought which he said would reach the team just as well.

Some new yells were introduced and practised, as were also the old yells. The necessity of watching the yell leaders was also forcibly presented, but, judging from the yelling of Saturday, it was not presented forcibly enough.

We now have nearly three weeks in which to prepare for the next game, which will be with the university on November 4. We are in no condition to meet them with our yelling as it is now. There is great need for more practise, and we mildly suggest that one or two rallies be held each week in order to get into shape for the game. The yelling of Saturday was not up to the standard and the only way for improving it, that we suggest is more rehearsal. The yells are not well enough known in the first place, and those who do know them have not caught the idea of following the yell leaders. The yelling was too much accelerated to get results. When the enthusiasm is so high it is difficult to keep down the speed. The yelling of the Da-Co-Tah in particular wants to be of only moderate speed in order to get the most out of it. The proper emphasis can not be put into a yell run thru in the manner that it was on Saturday. Keep your foot off the accelerator when giving the yells. Disastrous results are apt to follow if you don't.

Yell Leaders Blossom Out in New Togs.

Who says that we haven't some live yell leaders? Did you notice the effect of the new attire? Not only were the leaders the objects of envy of all the boys but they had the hearts of the girls right in reach. The yells were not given as loudly as they were at other games probably because of the interest manifest in the yellow and green clown suits. But now that the novelty has worn off there should be a marked improvement in the yelling.

Juniors Elect Officers.

The juniors were able to gather enough of their number together at one time to choose their officers of the coming year. The meeting was held last Friday and the following members will guide the destinies of the class for the coming season: President, Enoch Frojen Vice president, Minnie Sorenson Secretary, Mazie Gilmore Treasurer, Frank Powell

FRESHMAN PARTY THE SOCIAL EVENT OF THE WEEK.

Sophs and Spectrum Staff Invited.

Posters announcing the freshman party are seen. This is to be the first social function of the class of '20 as a class and the outlook is very promising. They have shown their good feelings toward other classes by including in the invitation the members of the sophomore class and of the Spectrum staff.

The posters announce that there will be a program during the first part of the evening and dancing after. From the inquiries heard much time is being put into arranging a good program and the whole event will undoubtedly be one which the class will remember for a long time.

Michigan Aggies Are Defeating All Opponents

The team which represents Michigan A. C. this year is proving too much for all its rivals for football honors. It has defeated all its opponents so far this year. The N. D. A. C. will test its scoring machine on Saturday, October 28, at East Lansing. The boys are not taking the game lightly but are putting in several hard ticks in order to make the best possible showing. Barring accidents, the team should be in great form to give battle royal, but leave it to them to make a creditable showing.

Commission Provides for Special "U" Game

STUDENT SPECIAL TO LEAVE SATURDAY MORNING AND RETURN IN THE EVENING.

At the regular meeting of the student commission Monday evening definite arrangements were drawn up for the launching of the student special campaign. The special will leave here between eight and nine o'clock on the morning of Nov. 4th and will return in the evening, leaving the "U" at about ten-thirty. Arrangements for the financing and arrangements of the special were left in the hands of the members of the commission for the present time.

It is estimated that fully three hundred college people will be on board the train when it leaves the station at Fargo. There will also be a large contingent of city people on the train as it will afford them a chance to see the game and return to Fargo in reasonable hours.

Work of College Reorganized

Division of Work Into Seven Schools.

In accordance with the plan announced previously, the board of regents has authorized the reorganization of the work of the college along lines recommended by the investigating committee which was at work on the educational problem of the state for a portion of last year. Instead of the several departments as is now the case the different courses of the college curricula will be placed in schools. The board has authorized the establishment of seven of these: the school of agriculture, of home economics, of engineering and mechanics, of pharmacy, of veterinary medicine and surgery, of the applied sciences, and of education.

High School Notes

William McCloud has re-entered school after an absence of a year and a half. He is enrolled with his old class, the class of '17.

This one from the Cynosure, the Fargo High publication, but is true in any paper: One little thing the whole world begs, That jokes be always fresh like eggs.

Those who are doubtful about entering the declamation contest or any other contest should remember what a chance Columbus took.

At Fargo High it is the custom in the spring to have a class fight, the victors having the privilege of putting their class flag on the pole out in the school yard. The other morning the American flag had given place to the pennant of the class of '18. All ropes were cut and the pole had been greased. The principal detailed a squad of suspected juniors who were released from classes long enough to take down the '18 and restore the American flag to its rightful place. The fact that it was raining did not help matters any.

Lulu and Irving Herm have entered the high school in the last few days. Irving Herm is a former student here. Miss Kittelson is another recent entrant in the high school. On Monday there were two more students enrolled. They were Miss Tjenstrom and Goodwin Westlund.

The fourth year class, a live bunch in the high school, held their first social affair Friday afternoon. It was a weiner-roast and was held in Oak Grove. The class assembled at the oven in the woods where a bonfire was built. Then every one got acquainted by playing games. As the light faded out among the trees, the fire attracted the crowd over to the table. Then the slaughter began. It stopped when nothing was left to eat. Pleased with the trip, the class struck out for home. A good point was that every one got acquainted and had a share in the fun. This was in large part due to the efforts of the class president, Leland Smith, and the chaperones, Miss Elrick and Mr. Baumgartel, who kept things moving all the time.

Why should the students in the high school wait for the college parties? Can't we just as well do some things independent for the rest of the school?

We're On Our Way to Grand Forks. WORTH MENTIONING

We have cause to be proud of the splendid democratic spirit manifest in all of the associations of our students with each other. The Spectrum is of the opinion that no school exists within or without this nation that has a truer democratic spirit than has our own school. This fact is amply demonstrated by the splendid way that the students take advantage of the opportunities offered them to become thoroughly acquainted with one another. In fact they are so anxious to accomplish this very thing that those dances arranged especially for that purpose are always encored time and again. A few people make themselves conspicuous, however, by forgetting the duty they owe the school and their fellow students and seemed to be making the attempt to stay within their own particular clique. This is sometimes apparent during those dances mentioned above. Now is a splendid time to put a quietus upon such inclinations, especially between students who are taking the nine month courses, and hence have at least a few things in common. It should be thoroughly understood that snobbishness will not be tolerated in this school and, while the offenders mentioned were probably innocent in their intent, nevertheless their actions tended to have just as injurious effects as if deliberately executed.

COLLEGE SPIRIT DEFINED.

College spirit, that "peculiar, animating principle", is something that should pervade our conduct and characterize our work. It is college spirit that prompts us to take an active interest in the doings of our school, that leads us to exert ourselves for college good. From the day we enter its gates the college instills in us the idea of boosting for her. Unless we possess true college spirit, our boosting is vain.

Our school is a corporation, a corporation of teachers and students. There is a common ideal, bound together and upheld by college spirit. But how does this lauded spirit show itself? Thru loyalty, and thru yet more loyalty, is the answer. Not passive loyalty do we mean, but the active kind that manifests itself on the football field, on the campus, in the classroom. Loyalty to our team, whether we win or lose, is our duty; and the yells from the sidelines are but a mode of expression. But besides athletics there are other activities that need our support. The declamatory contest, debates, plays, all call for student support. Not that we must enter into the actual contest with a part on the program, but we must enter into these activities with enthusiastic interest, that our very eagerness may stimulate others not so closely concerned. Our paper needs support, our class, our literary society. College life is a collective life, not an individualistic one.

But college spirit is broader than that represented by interest in activities; it includes the upholding of the standards of our Alma Mater. Are we content merely to pass, or shall our scholarship help to raise that of our college? Yes, our scholarship is worth while, when we are in the institution and after we are gone. Our active part while here means much to us; our active part after we have completed our course means more to the institution. For, after all, it is the alumni who are the real boosters or knockers. The alumni are as much a part of this corporation of teachers and students as they were when yet undergraduates. They, too, must be loyal, not by a sentimental praise of the past but by a keen interest in attempts at advancement. The alumni boosters do not resent changes in their Alma Mater; rather they work for such changes as represent the college good. What the alumni get in the open lobbies of state citizenship, the stimulation they receive from contact with men and leaders in every walk of life, this must they send back to the college of their youth, if they are possessed with college spirit in its broadest sense. They must, as President Vincent says, "see the institution more vividly as a noble trust to be administered to the common good." As we undergraduates go out, never must we forget our duty to the college which gave us our preparation, or to the state and nation which made such preparation possible.

What is college life without boosting, without spirit?

JUNIORS.

After the remarkable record made by last year's junior class, much hope was held out for all future junior classes. This year, however, reports were circulated that there was no such thing as a class of '18. After a careful perusal of the college catalog, we found an insinuation to the effect that there was a junior class. Examination of the sergeant's records at the local police station corroborated that insinuation. In order to settle the question once for all, to find out if there is such an organization, and if there is, to bring them out from their retreat into the public eye.

WE, THE SENIORS, DO HEREBY CHALLENGE the class of '18 to a GAME OF FOOTBALL, terms to be arranged by a joint committee consisting of two members from each of the interested classes.

An answer to this challenge would be like a voice from the dead. (Signed) Class of '17.

Military Department

Activity and progress are the by-words of the military department. Lieutenant Carrithers reports that more men are now drilling than at this time last year and such advance has been made that it is expected that the rifles will be distributed the latter part of the week.

The officers of the battalion now occupy the quarters formerly held by the basketball players, this new arrangement proving both convenient and satisfactory.

A new system of dealing out rifles and equipment is to be employed. Roll will be called and afterwards the first sergeant will distribute rifles and bayonets to the members of his company. This will put things on a more business-like basis and will stop the "horseplay" with the rifles and bayonets before drill calls.

There are now two companies, but with the coming of the industrial course students the number will be increased to five.

Lieutenant Carrithers states that he has some extra leggings, caps, and buttons for sale to men who desire them. This will save the time and expense of sending for them.

The band now numbers thirty-two and more will be added when the short course students arrive. This is an increase of 150 per cent over the enrollment of last spring.

Report of Government Inspector.

The following is the report turned in by Major Munroe McFarland of the general staff to the War Department after inspecting the cadet battalion last spring:

Date of inspection, April 29. Cordial support and co-operation of the students and the faculty.

Military spirit developed to a fair degree. All requirements of the War Department met.

The inspection consisted of review, battalion inspection, close order drill, and extended order drill, all well executed. Arms in good condition.

Climate limits outdoor drill. Lieutenant Carrithers does excellent work, and the cadets show evidence of careful preparatory instruction.

Social Doin's

SENIORS HOSTS TO COLLEGE STUDENTS

Because we have such a perfectly good floor upon our campus; because we have a real live student body, and especially because we have a senior class that like to show the other fellow a good time as well as enjoy one themselves, a regular old fashioned informal dance was the result Saturday night. Dr. Putnam and Mr. Baerstein with their able assistants rendered irresistible music in a way that made the Joymakers step lightly and laugh merrily.

The gathering was the first of this kind to be presented this year, but the armory is for the benefit of the students, so why not make use of it and have a "get together" whenever scheduled programs do not interfere?

ALUMNI & FRESHMAN GUESTS OF PHI UPSILON OMICRON.

The active members of the Phi Upsilon Omicron sorority were hostesses to about thirty-five guests at a three course banquet Saturday evening. The party was made up of freshmen home economics girls and alumni members of the sorority.

Immediately after the game the young ladies found their way to the Hotel Dacotah, where tables, prettily decorated in Halloween fashion, were soon surrounded by the joyful band. Laughter and merry-making continued until about 8:00 when guests and hostesses departed for the armory. The remaining portion of the evening was then spent in a merry round of dancing.

MADLEINE BLAKE ENTERTAINS SORORITY.

Saturday afternoon Miss Madeline Blake was hostess to the members of the Phi Upsilon Omicron sorority in her home on Second Ave. south. The meeting was an informal social affair given in honor of the alumni who were here as loyal supporters at the St. Thomas game.

DELTA PHI BETA.

The Misses Myrtle Johnston and Mary Gibbens were hostesses to the active members of the Delta Phi Beta sorority at a Saturday noon luncheon. Covers were laid for ten and table decorations were carried out in a pink and white color scheme. A two course luncheon, served by the pledges, was an enjoyable feature of the occasion. Following the luncheon the sorority girls departed for Dacotah field to help our players win the game.

Dean Waldron believes in developing along all lines of activity. In order to have a well balanced curriculum a course in landscape gardening is especially necessary, for in this gymnastics, rail walking, artistic temperaments and graceful curves are marvelously demonstrated by the bright pupils in this class.

Aggies Defeat Fast St. Thomas Team 9 to 7

Have Decided Advantage in Every Point of Game

Fumble Gives St. Thomas Their Touchdown

In a contest full of thrilling moments, the Aggie football team defeated the team representing St. Thomas on Dacotah field on Saturday. The game was fought from whistle to whistle and although the A. C. men apparently had the advantage from the start the possibility of misfortune made the outcome of the game a question. From the comparative playing as viewed from the sidelines, the score of 9-7 does not indicate what should have been the result. St. Thomas' touchdown was not one that was earned, it being the result of a fumble. In two other instances the A. C. team carried the ball well toward the St. Thomas goal but a fumble in one instance and the end of the half in the other prevented the ball from being carried across for a counter. Every member of both teams was fighting every minute of the game. The Aggie line was too strong for the St. Thomas boys to penetrate, the only long run by St. Thomas being round end in the last quarter. But whenever a hole was needed for the advance of the Aggies, it was made. "Hap" Peterson found a way to the secondary defense in nearly every play of the offensive. His ability to get his man was a very marked feature of the game. He was also good for a gain whenever called upon. The field generalship of Movold was also a noteworthy feature. His passes to Dutch were accurate and with Dutch's ability to pick the ball out of the air, a total of over 150 yards was made. Hauser was successful in grabbing eight out of ten chances at forward passes, and made a total gain of 145 yards in this manner. The A. C. backs were also on the job. They were able to earn the first down twenty times to St. Thomas' twice. The ground gaining ability of Baker, Kelly, Hayes and Movold will count in the remaining games of the season.

For St. Thomas the playing of Ward and of Quinn was deserving of special mention. Quinn was the man who succeeded in evading the A. C. men long enough to carry the oval over the line for the touchdown.

Both touchdowns came in the second quarter. The first was made by St. Thomas when a long pass to Wold was interfered with and Quinn grabbed the ball and ran for a touchdown. Ward kicked goal. The touchdown by Peterson was the result of consistent gaining by the backs and the successful execution of the forward pass. The difficult angle prevented the kicking of the goal. The winning score was made in the last quarter after three unsuccessful attempts had been made at placing the ball behind the goal posts. Curry made a pretty place kick and lifted the spell from the crowd and for a few minutes they went wild. St. Thomas made a brilliant exhibition of football just before the close of the game but an intercepted pass prevented their counting once more.

The game in detail follows:
Start With Rush.
 The Aggies showed their strength early in the game. The Aggies kicked off, and on the first two plays, the Saints took the ball forward for eight and six yard gains. Two failures to gain, a five yard penalty, a blocked pass, and the Cadets were forced to punt.

On a fumble, the Cadets regained the ball on the Aggies' forty-two yard line. Held for downs, the ball went to the A. C. on their own thirty-eight yard line. Penalized fifteen yards after making six yards on two plays, the Aggies made it first down on a fake punt, Movold going around the left end for twenty-one yards. Three line bucks and it was first down again. Hauser took it six more, and Movold for more, for another first down. Failing to gain on three downs, Movold attempted a drop kick from the thirty-five yard line, but failed.

Fatal Fumble.
 The ball went into play on the Cadets' twenty yard line. They were forced to punt at once, making forty yards, the ball being returned five. Baker netted six yards and another line smash netted four more and first down, the quarter ending. In the second quarter, A. C. made its downs twice when the fatal fumble occurred. Cy Quinn, grabbing the ball back of the A. C. line, with a clear field in front of him, sprinted sixty yards to the goal, while Ward kicked for an extra point.

Coming back strong, the Aggies opened up after the Saints had kicked to them. Five yards gain in two downs were followed with an eight yard gain on a Movold-Hauser pass. Two more forwards failed, and the A. C. punted. On the third play, after making six yards, the Saints Cadets, the A. C. recovering on the Cadets' twenty-three yard line. Straight line bucks carried the ball across the goal, with the exception of a single forward pass, Movold-Hauser, that netted a small gain.

Goal by Inches.
 It was Peterson who put the ball just across the Cadets' line on the fourth down. Movold failed to kick goal from an difficult angle.

When the first half ended, the Aggies were again making steady progress forward the Cadets' goal, three passes putting the ball on the Cadets four-yard line. On the last pass Hauser made thirty yards, just as the whistle blew. It was a lucky tackle that stopped the score.

Third Is Scoreless.
 In the third quarter, the Aggies again displayed remarkable ground gaining proclivities, but they were unable to score, several fumbles, two penalties for holding, marring their play. An early Movold-Hauser pass for thirty yards, the recovery of a fumble for five yards more, line gains of three yards twice and one of nine yards, followed by a Movold-Hauser pass for eleven yards, put the ball on the twenty-five yard line. Two plays netted five yards; two attempted passes failed, and the ball went to St. Thomas. On the third play, the Saints netted 30 yards by a break through the line, Movold stopping the runner.

A blocked punt was recovered by the Cadets in the middle of the field, a second punt giving the ball to the Aggies. Movold and Hauser completed another fifteen yard pass, when the quarter ended.

In the fourth quarter, the Aggies opened with a rush, but lost the ball to the Saints on a bad pass. Held for a net loss of four yards on three downs, the Saints punted. The ball was returned 20 yards, and Movold made eight. On three attempts to gain, the Aggies netted only two yards, when Movold made his successful kick from placement.

The Exciting Finish.
 The last few minutes of play were exciting. The Aggies kicked off 55 yards, the Saints returning 25. An end run netted 30 for the Cadets; the A. C. was penalized fifteen for holding, a forward pass netted six yards, and placed the ball on the Aggies' twelveyard line. The Cadets lost a foot on the first down, attempted a forward pass, which was intercepted by Baker, within four

HAMLIN vs. AGGIES

OCTOBER 21.

A. C. to Invade Enemy's Camp.

The fighting Aggie football squad will travel to St. Paul on Saturday to test the comparative strength of their team with that of Hamline. The Methodists have been having success with their games so far and are now going full blast. Last week they defeated Shattuck 40-0, and are hoping to be able to repeat the performance next Saturday when they meet our team.

With the fighting spirit of both teams at the boiling point the game is sure to be full of pep.

The team will leave over the N. P. on Friday. Everybody be on hand to give it a good send off.

Minnesota "U" Defeats North Dakota

The team representing North Dakota University journeyed to Minneapolis last week to engage in a game of football with the Minnesota "U." The result was disastrous for the Flickertails, the U. N. D. being defeated to the tune of 47-7.

McKay made the only touchdown for the Dakotans while the Minnesota bunch piled up a total of 40 points in the first half. North Dakota's touchdown came when McKay picked up a fumble and ran for a touchdown. The Minnesota team had little difficulty in proving their superiority and the last half of the game was played by the second team and a third string quarter.

The slogan of the university has been, "beat Minnesota." This having failed, they are now crying, "Beat the Aggies."

UNIVERSITY GAME ONLY TWO WEEKS OFF.

Great Preparations Being Made for Trip.

The game with the university is only a little over two weeks off now. The Aggie team has two stiff games before it and will be in good position to repeat the performance of the team which went up to the Forks two years ago when the University has had some good games on its schedule and will play Macalester next Saturday and South Dakota on the following Saturday. Great plans are being made for the game of November 4, by both schools. It will take the united efforts of all students to beat the "U" this year. The matter of a special train in which to make the trip to Grand Forks has been discussed and is a sure go. The band will be on hand with 42 pieces, so Doc says, and with an additional 150 from the student body the showing will not be bad.

The annual game with the university is one of the biggest events of the fall term and when it is happens that the game is to be played at Grand Forks, it devolves additional responsibility on the entire student body. The game last year was played under handicap. Seven yards of the goal line.

Three scrimmages gained only four yards for the Aggies. Movold punted forty yards, the Saints fumbled and the Aggies recovered the ball. Two plays and the game was over.

of our men should have been in the hospital instead of on the gridiron. We are hoping for better conditions this year. We have the men to beat them! Will we do it? It is up to each and every student to decide this question.

November 6.

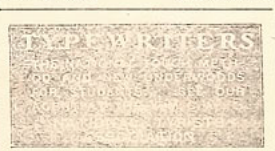

Those who contemplate playing in the annual freshman-sophomore football game on November 6, should get out for practice this week. The regulations require that no one shall be permitted to play who has not been out for practice for three weeks previous to the game. This means that anyone who is not in training this week will be barred from the game.

The game promises to be the most lively game of the season, and is the cleanest and fairest way in which to determine the superiority of the freshman and sophomore classes. The sophs have made the promise that the freshies may leave off their green caps if they win, but if the sophs win, freshmen, look out.

Cheating Your EYES?

From a sense of false economy or as a result of pure, inexcusable thoughtlessness,
 you may be deferring the wearing of eye-glasses—the one thing needful to your now defective sight.

CAN YOU IMAGINE PEOPLE
 ROBBERING THEMSELVES?

Think this over, think of your eyes, think of your folly and then—think of us who will gladly furnish you—at small profit—the very kind of glasses a correct and thorough

Hesperians Meet.

The Hesperians kept late hours at the last meeting. The program was a strong one enjoyed by all. A great deal of legislation was also taken care of. The program committee was instructed to search for a new meeting place. It will also prepare a program for an open meeting to be held soon. This meeting will be for all the boys in the high school department. There was a discussion on the plan of having frequent short notice spreads and informal doings instead of having one or two formal affairs with their extra work for the committees. Initiation added greatly to the success of the meeting. The society easily disposed of Thordarson and Buxton but Christianson was a job. He attempted resistance but soon learned to his betterment the authority of his superiors.

EYE STRAIN

Do not put on wearing glasses fearing that they might make you look older, etc., its not wise and will cause more trouble later. Remember, also, that tired, faded eyes and a frowning, strained expression gives the appearance of age.

It will pay you to consult us about your eyes if you think they're defective.

There is still a need of more strings in the orchestra. The other parts of that organization are well balanced but there is a scarcity of strings.
 Doc is of the opinion that there are several around school who should be able to help out in this, but as they do not come around, he is unable to get them. One last plea!!
 If you play a violin, cello, viola, or bass, come around and get into the game!

RETURN POUCHES!!
 The call for the pouches has resulted in the return for four of the missing. There are still nine out and these are needed at once. The plan is to be obtain tan straps instead of the white straps now in use and to use the pouch as a part of the military equipment. The black pouch with a tan strap will greatly improve the appearance of the band in all military functions, as well as prove very serviceable to those who are members of the band. So send them in! They are wanted!

CERES HALL

SPECTRUM—GALL FOUR
 Mrs. Ernest Mares, of Wheatland,
 N. D., visited her daughter Grace
 Saturday.

Miss Alice Tjenstron has returned to continue her work in high school.
 The girls of Ceres Hall are glad to have her with them again.

Miss Grace Kotchian spent the week-end with her parents at Wim-ledon, N. D.

Miss May Dennis enjoyed a visit from her parents and sister for several days last week. They motored across country returning to their home at Page, Tuesday.

Miss Ethel Prentice, of Cogswell, N. D., who is now in attendance at Wahpeton Science school, spent Saturday with Myrtle Wolstad.

The Ceres Hall girls were delighted to have Miss Amy Whitman with them today afternoon for a few hours.
 Miss Whitman, a graduate of the class of '15, is teaching in the Pembina high school this year.

The Misses Lucy and Alice Brownlee were guests of May Dennis and Myrtle Thompson Sunday. Miss Lucy Brownlee was a Ceres Hall girl last year and we enjoyed having her with us again.

A number of the girls enjoyed a very delectable spread, Thursday evening, which was given by Miss Esther Wolody, the event being in honor of her birthday.

Miss Myrtle Waechter, of the class of '16, who is now an instructor in the Tower City high school, was a delightful visitor at Ceres Hall Saturday, for a short time. She was accompanied by her sister Ivy, who is a student at Fargo College.

Miss Bernice Derby met with a painful accident Monday evening when she slipped on the steps in front of the hall and sprained her ankle. She was confined to her room for several days, but is now able to be about again.

HAVE YOU A GRAY UNIFORM?
 As announced two weeks ago, it planned to have a complete concert uniform for the Cadet Band this year. The old cadet gray uniform used by the military department a few years ago, will be used. With the additions of the gilt chevrons and trimmings and the black aigullettes these will make very attractive uniforms. The gray uniforms are being supplied by the old students who used the gray uniform while in school. Many of these have already been sent in and more are coming.
 If about fifteen more of the old
 students would wrap their old uniforms up an take them to the express office and address them to Dr. Putnam, it would be very much appreciated. With the promising outlook for the band, there is a program of events at which the band will be called upon to play and these uniforms will be in use much of the time after the football season is over.

GIRLS' QUARTET SINGS FOR W. C. T. U.

The college Girls' Quartet sang for the Scandinavian W. C. T. U. at Aaker's Hall on Wednesday of last week. The program rendered was very much appreciated and from the quality of the work done the organization will have many dates to fill in the coming months. The quartet is under the direction of Miss Grasse of the music department and is composed of Anna Johnson, Marion Johnson, Fern Briscoe, and Alma Rytter.
 Miss Grasse accompanied the quartet
 last Wednesday.

SAXOPHONE QUARTET FOR THE BAND.

The return of McCloud to school has added another saxophone to the band. This makes four regular saxophone players in the band and makes some quartet work possible.
 Several pieces are now on hand and as soon as time will permit work on this branch of the band work will commence. It is believed that audiences will receive this new part of a musical program eagerly. There is also the possibility of quintet and sextette work as Boyd Naughton, who plays the bassoon regularly,

 has a tenor saxophone and with Doc to take another alto the sextette will be complete. The instruments open up a new field for band work.
 A reed band will be possible as well as several other combinations. These features should prove big drawing cards whenever the band gives concerts.

TRYOUTS FOR DRUM MAJOR
 Tryouts for the position of drum major have been in order the past few days. On Friday and Saturday, Byron Box worked in that capacity and performed very satisfactorily.
 With this position filled, the band will be in the shape to make any public appearance that may be required of it.

THE FIRST APPEARANCE

Prior to the game on Saturday, the band made the old customary trip around the loops and gave a concert down town. This was the first appearance of the band in public under Doc's direction since his return and from all reports, it was a satisfactory appearance. Thirty men were in line and the music was well played and with the snap that has always characterized the bands of which Doc has been the leader. After the concert down town, the band returned to the college and added much to the game with St. Thomas. The feature of the playing was the new march, "The March of the Yellow and the Green", which was written by Dr. Putnam and played for the first time Saturday.

The civics class is thinking of making a trip or two this year. Points of interest suggested include the local municipal filtration plant, and the county and the federal courts.
