

PRESIDENTS RECEPTION VERY WELL ATTENDED. Many Old Acquaintances Renewed And New Ones Made.

The reception given on Friday evening was a very delightful and enjoyable affair. The students were first entertained at the home of President and Mrs. Ladd, afterward spending a couple of hours in dancing and games.

The students were introduced to President and Mrs. Ladd, Miss Simmons, and Miss Jensen by Mortimer Keely. Then they were given an opportunity to meet all the other students and members of the faculty who were present. Delicious refreshments were served to the students in small groups by the Misses Dinan, Neth, Taylor, and Knox. The entertainment was then transferred to the Armory where good music which made even the most awkward and untuned eager to dance, was provided by an orchestra under the direction of Dr. Putnam. Dancing continued until 11:30.

The reception will go down as one of the most enjoyable events of this school year and the students are especially appreciative for the generous hospitality of President and Mrs. Ladd.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

MR. ADAMS GIVES INTERESTING ADDRESS.

The last regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was addressed by Mr. John H. Adams, the new secretary of the Fargo association. Mr. Adams was formerly of Bay City, Michigan, but has recently come to this city to take up the work left by Mr. Wolf. A good sized audience greeted Mr. Adams and listened with much profit to his talk dealing with the selection of the major interests in college life. Several of the rousing Lake Geneva songs added much to the program. Mr. deYoung assisted at the piano.

CITY Y. M. C. A. TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE.

On Wednesday evening, October 11, at 8:15 o'clock, the city Y. M. C. A. will open its gymnasium and swimming pool to the students of the college and the high school. Complimentary use will be provided for the evening and every man who appears with a pair of rubber soled shoes will be admitted to the gym and to the evening's entertainment. We take it, however, that those who do not have the rubber shoes may partake of the use of the pool.

CLASS IN JOURNALISM STARTED.

First Meeting Held Tuesday

The class in Journalism which has been announced for this term had its first meeting last evening in the Spectrum office. This work is designed primarily to assist the members of the Spectrum staff in preparing their contributions in better manner, but is open to all who may be interested. For the present the class will meet at 7:00 on Tuesday evening in the Spectrum office. The hour may be changed if it is possible. The course will include lectures by practical newspaper men, and by others, study of typical newspapers and college papers; and discussion of live topics closely related to the editing of a school paper. The course will be given for only one term and should appeal to others beside the present staff, as in the future others will be called in to carry on the work. If you are interested, consult Prof. Minard, who will have charge of the class.

The first year man who got a green cap has nothing on our friend Valentine. The second year fellow is supposed to have learned the place of a prep, but listen. At the game Saturday, it became necessary for the upperclassman to chastise some of the freshmen who failed to appear with the proper headress. Valentine, happening by, took a prominent part and got in several good licks. Then came a reckoning for Valentine. The freshmen caught him and handed it to him in like manner and a little extra.

Lylith Rusk In Stock.

One of the members of this year's senior class has answered the call of the stage and will appear in "Under the Cove," which is being played at the Orpheum by the Orpheum Stock company the first half of the week. Considerable previous experience in dramatics should tell when Miss Lylith Rusk appears at the Orpheum. She will get good support in her new undertaking from the students.

Lecture Course to Be Announced Next Week

Several have made inquiry regarding the lecture course for this year. It may be said that the committee is experiencing some difficulty in obtaining numbers which it desires, but is persisting in its efforts and hopes to be able to announce the complete course in the next issue of the Spectrum.

STUDENTS HAVE TREAT AT CONVOCATION.

Listen to Speakers From Women's Special.

The students who took advantage of Monday's convocation hour found themselves at the end of the hour much richer in knowledge and probably stirred to a deeper consideration of the important sociological problems which confront the people of this nation to-day. Many people not connected with this college also took advantage of the privilege of listening to the necessarily short but very meaty talks delivered. The speakers were two women well known in public life. Both are members of the women's special touring the country in support of the republican candidate for the presidency of the United States. Mrs. Robins, the first speaker, is the wife of Raymond Robins, sociologist and reformer, well known in Chicago because of the great work he did assisting in the clearing up of the notorious seventeenth ward of that city. Mrs. Robins spoke of the pleasant reception which her husband received when in this city two years ago. Evidently Fargo made a very favorable impression upon Mr. Robins. Continuing she spoke of the chaotic industrial conditions in this country. In Chicago the average population is 70,000 inhabitants to the square mile. It is so high because of the crowded living and working conditions prevalent among the working class of that city. There are 30,000,000 wage earners in the country, and a death total of 250,000. Every year there are 500,000 of these wage earners injured. The average yearly income is $300 to $400. One fifth of the workers earn $4 as their weekly income, one half earn $6, and two thirds earn under $8.00. Our democracy was the dream of a great future. There is a need of a great devotion on the part of its citizens. This devotion will only be accomplished by the education of the whole people, as the foundation for the development of a refined and intelligent people. There is a struggle for liberty, freedom, and justice taking place in our land. At this point Mrs. Robins told the story of a Hungarian family which was depriving itself of food and even fuel to keep the house warm with, at the time that a newly born babe demanded that the mother receive the best care that medical science could provide for her. And all this in spite of the fact that these privations would have become unnecessary had the father accepted a bribe to become a traitor to the cause of his fellow strikers. The wonderful spirit which inspired this family is well set forth by the words of the mother. "We live not by bread only but by liberty too, and I will die to give it to my children."

Mrs. Grabau, known to the reading world as Mary Antin, the author, who also is a member of the party traveling on the special, next addressed the audience, who received her enthusiastically. Knowledge, she said, shall make you free. It will free of ignorance and littleness. There is no other hunger than that craving for food. There is a hunger for things of the mind. At this point Mrs. Grabau was evidently reminded of the green caps so conspicuous on the campus. She spoke of them as "the jolly green caps with the yellow buttons". She then referred to the spirit of a college, which is "to do

Much Enthusiasm Shown By New Students Wednesday NEW "PEP ARTISTS" CHOSEN

Enthusiasm was felt for a short time on Wednesday. The first football rally of the year was held. The freshmen seemed to desire to live down the fact that they had been criticised for their lack of loyalty to the school, and were out in a body "to show the older students up" when the yells were started. But the older students were also well represented, and the yells were given with a vim that was very marked. Of course there were some who had not had much opportunity to learn the yells yet, but with the aid of the "greenbooks" satisfactory results were obtained.

The first matter espoused of was the election of some yell leaders. Considering the fact that the student body will soon be augmented by the incoming industrial course students, it was thought advisable to have more than one. So it was announced that one principal yell leader would be chosen, and that he would have two assistants. Kelly—you all know Pat by this time,—

Grand Forks Special.

At the meeting of the commission on Monday evening the matter of having a special train in which to make the trip to Grand Forks at the time the football team goes to play the University was considered. As those who were here two years ago will recall, the matter was left to anyone who would do it and as a result the trip was not a certainty until the morning the game was to be played. This year it will not be left that way. The commission will have charge and will attend to all the details in connection with the trip.

The trip is always made and has always been a success. There is no reason why it can't be the same this year. Dr. Putnam is already getting the band in shape for the trip, and that part of the student body will go regardless of whether there is a special train or not.

So make your plans accordingly. The matter of expense is only a trifle and will not be noticed in the long run. You do not know the whole of college life until you have made at least one such trip.

things just as well as any other student and a little better." She compared this to the spirit of our nation, which is that government by the people is a little better than government by kings. We must prove it. It is an innovation just the same as the Brooklyn bridge was. It has got to prove that it will bear traffic. At this point the audience was compelled to laugh by Mrs. Grabau's accent which is suggestive of Teutonic origin while that of Mrs. Robins is distinctly Bostonian.

The commission appointed for the investigation of the cause of the industrial unrest was next spoken of. The existence in New York of a shop that treated its employes like human beings was referred to, and the fact that never had the employes of this place had to ask for raise in wages or shorter hours. And never had this place had a strike to combat. In comparison to this was cited the case of the dry goods merchant who refused to divulge the amount of his wages as secretary of an employers organization at the objection of his attorney to the question. Mrs. Grabau referred to such a person as being without the spirit of our national institutions and as being as much if not more of a hyphenated American as a great many residents of foreign birth.

Preceding the talks Miss Romsdahl, of Concordia College, sang two Indian songs by Cadman. The first was "The Sky Blue Water" and the second "The Moon drops Low." Miss Romsdahl has a beautiful voice, which was so much appreciated by the audience that she was compelled to render a third song, taken from the opera Madame Butterfly.

Bill—"They are putting the screws down pretty tight here lately."
Dick—"Yes, but the nuts are still loose."
Bill—"Of course it's the nuts that are putting the screws down."

Britton and Lewis were quickly elected, and at the rally held in the afternoon and at the game Saturday, they were busy trying to get the rooters to yell.

Live talks were given by the coach, who emphasized the value of the spirit and its relation to the building up of a championship team; by Dick, who warned against disastrous results of not working together, which tendency was beginning to make itself known both on the team and in the student body; and by Doc, who emphasized the necessity of working together when it came to giving the yells. Doc drew several valuable lessons from the manner in which a band follows its director, and applied them to the student body, comparing the yell leader to the director and the student body to the band.

As a result of the meeting, classes were cut a little short, but as Bill said: "The profs. didn't want us, and we didn't want to go; so we would stay."

MORE CO-ORDINATION OF YELLING NEEDED

NOT ENOUGH ATTENTION PAID TO LEADERS.

WATCH THEM!

Wednesday afternoon dawned clear and pleasant. The atmosphere was charged with the enthusiasm of the noon rally, and shortly after 3:40, Dacotah Field began to be thronged with an eager body of students. What was the excitement? The first big rally of the season. The game was furnished by the scrubs and the 'varsity, and it was by no means a poorly played game, considering. It showed up several weak places in the lineups and in the individual men, which defects were properly noted and recorded for future reference. Some men who had been thought only fit for the second string were promoted as a result of their endeavors.

But the real part of the afternoon's rally was the lack of co-ordination in the yelling. The yell leaders were working themselves as hard as possible, but they couldn't get the results. Probably, this was partly due to the fact that some of the rooters had never seen a game before, or they had seen a game so far back in the past that they had forgotten what a football game looked like, and were so intent on watching the players that they forgot the leaders. At any rate, the stuff was not there, and it was a very noticeable fact that there was a need for more attention being paid to the points brought out by Doc in his talk at noon, among which was the one that it was absolutely necessary, that in order to get results in yelling, it had to be together, and not individual. More attention will be paid to that phase of the yelling at the future rallies, and by the time next Saturday comes, we hope to be able to present a better appearance as rooters.

REMEMBER! EVERYBODY WATCH THE LEADERS AND YELL WITH THEM!

DATE OF DECLAMATION CONTEST NOT FAR DISTANT

The date of the annual declamation contest is not far off. Those who are planning on taking part this year should make an early selection of their piece. Only one month remains in which to prepare to win the prize, as the date is November 10. New students can find out about the contest at Professor Arnold's office. It is open to all high school students. The contest last year resulted in a tie between Gladys Plath and Leeland Smith, Thorud Thordarson getting second place. Last year there were only four contestants but it is hoped that there will be a larger number this year.

Unacquainted student—"Who was that fellow that taught entomology this morning?"
Bill—"That was L. R. Waldron, Waldron's brother."

Score Two More for Stork.

There is little evidence of race suicide among the members of the college faculty. On the other hand, the stork has been pretty busy of late. Visits have been made to the homes of two of the members of the faculty in the past week. The first was to the home of Prof. R. M. Dolve, which was about the time that the last issue of the Spectrum came off the press; the other was to the home of the college physician, Dr. W. C. Nichols, on Saturday. Both are boys and will undoubtedly be rivals for positions on the football team next year.

MANY ELECTIONS HELD

Various Classes Elect Officers for Coming Year.

The various classes of the college have been holding meetings during the past few days and as a result the class officers which are to guide the classes through the year's work have been chosen, and are already doing duty.

The freshmen met and elected the following officers:

- President—Walter McKim.
- Vice President—Gladys Engle.
- Secretary—Louis Croal.
- Secretary—Mr. Digness.
- Athletic Director—Lynn Huey.

Another item which was considered was that of the class party to be given on October 21. When the question of having outsiders present came up for discussion, it was decided that the class would include the members of the Spectrum staff in the invitation.

The sophomores chose as their officers the following:

- President—Wm. Stewart.
- Vice President—Louise Rusch.
- Secretary—Fern Briscoe.
- Treasurer—Theo. Thorfinsson.

The seniors met on Monday and elected the following members to lead them through their last year's work:

- President—Olivia Wild.
- Vice President—Madeline Blake.
- Secretary—Mary Gibbens.
- Treasurer—Sidney Hooper.

The elections were all very close, Miss Wild having been elected over Dick Bjornson by only one vote, while the vote cast for the secretary was a tie, but Mr. Dodds moved that in view of the fact that he would probably be in school for only a portion of the year, his votes be cast for Miss Gibbens and that the secretary be instructed to cast a unanimous ballot for Miss Gibbens. Hooper was chosen treasurer in spite of his determined statement that it would be impossible for him to act, the other members of the class evidently deciding that this was only an excuse on Sid's part. Other matters of business were attended to and the dues for the coming term were set.

The Juniors held a class meeting, but due to the small attendance, the election of officers was deferred to a later date.

SENIORS CHOOSE OFFICERS.

The senior class at their meeting Thursday noon elected the following officers for the year:

- President, Leeland Smith.
- Vice-President, Mr. Horn.
- Secretary, Miss Hultberg.
- Treasurer, Miss Kothman.

Several matters were considered, among which was that of a class motto. Miss Euren was appointed to look out for suggestions for a class motto. It was thought a good plan to have the motto selected early so that it could be used before graduation night. The class is also trying to arrange for some kind of a social affair for the purpose of becoming a more unified class. A weiner roast was suggested but struck some as being out of season because of the cool evenings.

INFORMATION, PLEASE.

A newspaper article concerning the old-time district school in New England says:

An old record of 1661 sums up the tasks of the New England schoolmaster as follows: "To act as court messenger, to ring the bell for public worship, to serve summons, to conduct certain ceremonial services of the church, to lead the Sunday choir, and to perform other occasional duties."

We wonder how the teacher spent his spare moments.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

There are this year many new students in all the classes. The old students should make the new people feel at home and see that they get acquainted. Get them to the class meetings and see that they attend the school entertainments.

Many of last year's graduating class are Freshmen in the college this year. They know the value of the school.

William Mortinson has a position in the registrar's office and a green cap. Zenus Sanford is serving as 1st. sergeant, Co. B. Vernon Sanford is working on the Odessa Stock Farm but will be back for school next week. Nelson Chamberlain, who came in late, seems glad to be back.

Mr. Baumgartel, recently appointed instructor at the N. D. A. C., will have charge of the civics and geography classes of the High School.

Friday night the Hesperians started the year's work by voting in six applicants for membership. Those who were taken in are Sylling, Gordon, Buxton, Putnam, Wildfang, and Christianson. The Hesperians have the start on the Castilians and hope to keep it.

Next week's thriller, "The Tale of the Missing Grape Juice" in which Fat Barchus plays stellar role. An eighteen part feature directed by Coach Davis. Plot by Crabby Ross.

Professor Smith recently had letters from Anna Johnson, '15 and Mary Horn, '16. Both are teaching this year, Miss Johnson being near Upham and Miss Horn having a school near Brocket.

One of the first year men was induced to purchase a green cap at the bookstore and to appear in that brand of the freshman. However, soon after he appeared on the campus with his new purchase, kind friends showed him his error and he quickly put the thing away.

At the President's reception on Friday evening, it was very noticeable that many of the high school students are not very well acquainted with the other members of the student body. It is very lonesome at school until one has time to become acquainted. The older students and especially those who live in town could make it much more homelike for the new students if they would take the trouble to invite them to their homes occasionally. A rented room at best is a poor substitute for a home.

It has been noted that those who laugh the loudest in German classes usually know the least when called upon to write something on the board. Such questions as "Was ist das" are usually answered wrong.

OTHER HIGH SCHOOLS.

On Saturday last Fargo High defeated Casselton High in a game of football played at Casselton. Last year Casselton was one of the final contenders for the state championship. The Fargo bunch had a big celebration when they returned Saturday evening.

PROGRESS.

Oregon A. C. The latest returns from the registrar's office indicate a total registration well over 2,000 for the year. What a remarkable increase is this! What a good omen for the future! O. A. C.'s growth is phenomenal. There is no institution in the country that has had a more rapid growth in the past ten years. When we stop to think that three years ago there was no Forestry building, no Home Economics building, no Men's Gymnasium, no athletic field, no system of well-drained roads and highways, our momentous progress looms before us. It is a growth pregnant with possibilities.

ONE ON SON.

Father (ruefully gazing on his last dollar)—"Money has wings and house rents make it fly," he said.
"Yes," said his 15-year-old son, "and some houses have wings, for I've seen many a house fly."
"You're smarter than your old dad, maybe, my son, but I always thought that no part of the house except the chimney flew."

CHANGE IN WORK ANNOUNCED.

Course in Wood-Shops Has Been Altered.

Many Improvements Will Facilitate Work.

Mr. Hoisington announces that the course in woodwork for the Farm Husbandry students will be somewhat altered this fall. In place of the course of shop exercises as given the past two years, a course consisting of both exercises and lectures will be substituted. The lectures will be on such topics as nail, wood, building forms for concrete construction, house and barn planning and construction, rafter cutting, hog and hen house construction, the care of tools, and the farm shop.

The shop exercises will be divided into two parts; the first consisting of the sharpening of tools and the making of a few simple joints which are used in every day carpentry, and the second of the making of several articles of value. As soon as the student is able to handle the tools satisfactorily he will start the work of repairing wheelbarrows, sleds, cultivators, trucks, etc. Then he will make such articles as nail boxes, milk stools, wheelbarrows, chicken feed hoppers, hog troughs, auto horses, saw horses, and hand made lathes. At the close of the term's work, the articles made will be sold to the students or to the public at the cost of the materials contained in them.

Several improvements have been made in the shop during the past summer and it now presents a pleasing appearance to the prospective student. The several small doors to the lockers which were made and fitted by the students last year have been put in place and painted. A place has been fixed for the keeping of the tools, and this has been painted and closed off from the general shops. The several racks and stands have also been painted and the whole shop presents a rather different appearance from what it has in the past. All of these improvements will add considerably to the efficiency of the work to be carried on in this department during the coming year.

HESPERIANS.

The Hesperians are well under way with the work for the year. At the last meeting several new members were admitted and each required to make a little speech. They all were rather stage struck and said that they had little to say but that they were glad to have been permitted to join. A little more experience along these lines will soon enable them to become free in speaking before an audience. The society is hoping for a better place in which to hold their meetings. Although the present meeting place has been pretty satisfactory, the members would like a room which they could decorate and make attractive to all the members. In other words it would be a "Hesperian Room."

WORST LUCK.

Tramp—Yes, mum, I ain't got nuttin' ter hide from the world. I've been in jail ninety times at ninety differin' places!
Miss Tenderheart—Oh! did you have a camera with you?
Tramp—No; I never had none.
Miss Tenderheart—Oh what a pity! If you had had one you might soon take a new start by writing a series of articles for the Ladies' Own entitled "The Inside of a Hundred Jails."—Puck.

At the reception last Friday, Miss Dinan, with the best of intentions, attempted to introduce Art Scholander to his wife. Did she say, "I'm pleased to meet you?" Far from it. She said, "Well, we won't repeat it. Knowing Art as we do, our sympathies are entirely with her."

Minnesota Aggies have two teams and one extra man out for football. At that rate it will be sometime before they are able to follow the example of the Michigan Aggies and get out from under the control of the state university.

"It's the coward that quits the misfortune;
It's the weakling that changes each day;
It's the fool that wins half the conflict,
Then throws all his chances away."

This is the text for a real sermon, but as we are not in that business at present, we will leave that rest of the sermon for you to preach for yourself. The text is sufficiently large to make a profitable and very inspiring talk for any one.

"Do we accept material from the 'Dope-Box'?" "Can anyone not a member of the staff contribute to the Spectrum?" "Are we willing to have help?" These are a few of the questions which have been thrown our way lately. We positively answer in the affirmative, WE ARE. This paper is not for the benefit of a few, it is for all. The only purpose of the staff is to get the paper out if the rest of the readers do not feel so inclined.

The columns of the Spectrum are always open to any one who thinks he has something to say, on any subject he may select. This is really the place for some questions to be discussed by the members of the student body. Discussion by a few is not democratic. A mass meeting is all right, but for the most part utterances made in such gatherings have not had the proper consideration and polishing to make them tell. It is different with the article written while the author is alone and has time to consider the proper sequence in which his thoughts should be presented in order that he may be understood. These columns will be read and considered, when some live subject is up for discussion, by a far larger majority of those interested than they would be reached by views presented to the mob or to a few chosen followers.

So this is the place for such things. We have an abundance of space in which any subject pertaining to the welfare of the school may be freely discussed, and if there is not a sufficiency in the paper at its present size, we will only be too glad to enlarge that size in order that there may be plenty of room for a free and unbiased consideration.

So when you have some matter to present to the other members of the school, do not defer presenting that material because you are afraid it is not the place for such presentation. If you do not want to give it to the editor personally, drop it in the little brown box in the corner of the Administration building near the Post Office. We know of no more convenient place in which to put it, so there it is. USE IT.

MORE PEP.

Are we cranks on this subject? Well, maybe. But there is such a dearth of it around this school during the most of the time that it is no wonder that visitors are prone to ask what the trouble is. Except for a few moments around the time for a game or a sack rush, there is a decided lack of spirit among the students. Last year it was worked up and kept up in a remarkable manner. The team received such support that it was enabled to win the most of its contests with the rivals, and you remember that the basket ball team was enabled to make a new record in the matter of consecutive games won. This was not due alone to the fact that there were all good men on the team. They could all have been all-state men and, without the proper support from their classmates would not have made the record they did. Remember what Coach Davis said in his talk on Wednesday? Remember how he reminded us that many of the small denominational schools would never be heard of if it wasn't for the spirit—that ought to be spelled with a capital—which is characteristic of every one who goes there as a student. Every building and bush ought to be the best of its kind in the whole world, and that is what it will be if we get the proper enthusiasm back of us. The football team have several hard games ahead of them and they are pleading for the support of the students. Are we going to fail to support those who are working so hard for the upbuilding of the A. C.? We hope not, but from past experiences it has been a rather doubtful question.

Let's get a little life into our relations with each other. Let's begin to look around at all the beautiful parts of our campus, for they are here, but we are so filled with the spirit of criticism that we fail to see them. Let's show that we are proud to have the privilege of belonging to the student body of this great agricultural school in a great agricultural state. Let's get some pep! Some real live spirit! And then watch how things will move around here!

THE CROAKER

Once on the edge of a pleasant pool,
Under the bank where 'twas dark and cool,
Where bushes over the water hung,
And rushes nodded, and grasses swung,
Just where the creek flowed under the bog,
There lived a grumpy and mean old frog;
Who'd sit all day in the mud and soak,
And just do nothing but croak and croak,
'Till a blackbird hollered, "I say, yer know,
What is the matter down there below?
Are you in trouble, or pain, or what?"
The frog says, "Mine is an awful lot;
Nuthin' but mud and dirt and slime
Fer me ter look at just all the time.
It's a dirty world!" So the old fool spoke,
"Croakity-croakity, croakity-croak."

"But yer lookin' down!" the blackbird said;
"Look at the blossoms overhead,
Look at the lovely summer skies,
Look at the bees and butterflies;
Look up old feller! Why, bless yer soul,
Yer lookin' down in a muskrat hole!"
But still with a gurglin' sob and choke
The blamed old critter would only croak.
And a wise old turtle, who boarded near,
Saz to the blackbird, "Friend, see here;
Don't shed no tears over him, fer he
Is low down, jes' cause he likes ter be.
He's one er them kind er chumps that's glad
Ter be mis-rable-like and sad;
I'll tell yer somethin' that ain't no joke,
Don't waste yer sorer on folks that croak."

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS AT END OF SECOND WEEK.

Slight Increase Shown in Totals.

The reports from the registrar's office show that the enrollment of students for the year so far is above that of last year, especially in the two lower classes of the college department. The totals for the end of the second week are 300, and 299, respectively, for 1915 and 1916, but the totals for the end of the third week are 312 and 321 for 1915 and 1916, respectively.

The classification of the students and their distribution among the various courses are given in the following table:

HOW'S THIS?

The girls of the freshman class here should consider themselves fortunate that they have no other badge than that of having their hair down their backs and tied with a green bow. Read what is required of the girls of New Hampshire College at Durham, N. H.

Freshman girls at convocation will each wear conspicuously suspended from the arm by a green ribbon a little doll. Freshman girls will also greet the sophomore girls with the military salute when these two classes meet. Representatives of the sophomores have explained the rules of conduct to the freshmen and have given them their badges. These consist of green ribbons to be worn around the neck with a tiny bell attached. Wherever goes the freshman girl there must go the ribbon and the bell, and there is just now a pleasant tinkling in the corridors and the classrooms.

EDITORIAL HASH.

Did you ever consider the editor who writes editorials which are never read?

Sometimes editorials are not worth the time spent in reading them. Oftentimes they do not appeal to the eye of the reader even if the editorial is of vital interest. Or, perhaps, the reader is interested in other things.

It is a fact, however, that except for a certain few people editorials are not very popular reading matter.

Editorials in a college paper are not the easiest kind to write. Whenever they merit recognition, they are not appreciated. Whenever one is prepared in haste or bears the earmarks of laborious writing, it is held up as an excellent sample of the whole lot.

Nor are you asked to read editorials out of pity for the editor. We, of course, do not enjoy compiling facts, fiction, and philosophy which will never be read. But nevertheless, we should rather have you skip the column than to accord a few moments merely given out of charity to us.

What is asked, though, is that you learn to read editorials as you do any other department of the paper. It is supposed to be representative comment on live school subjects and issues.—Huron Alphonse.

Our Readers Say

On the front page of a local periodical recently occurred a picture depicting a young lady bound to a tree. The artist took particular pains to bring out the terror of the situation upon the countenance of the young lady, and also a look of depravity on the face of a man squatting before a campfire near by. Thus was the recent licentious attack upon Olga Dahl, a young school teacher of Minnesota, brought again before the public eye. Evidently words failed to describe adequately the situation; accordingly this form was taken to impress the public mind with all the gruesome details. There is a certain class of people who seem to enjoy the contemplation of such situations and also a class of newspapers who make a specialty of catering to this class. These papers are known as yellow journals and resort to these identical methods of satisfying the desires of their readers. Students of criminology tell us that much crime is the result of the suggestion furnished by these papers. As a consequence some of them are barred the use of the mails. It is apparent to any one that no good is accomplished by detailed description of such occurrences. It follows that any paper resorting to these practices is abusing its privileges and mission in public life.

New York progressives who have a chance to vote either in the district where Mr. Meyer London is running for reelection, or in that where Mr. Morris Hillquit is the candidate, have an easy choice. There are not so many districts this year where the liberal can vote enthusiastically for a candidate that is positively good, rather than select the least distressing of two mediocrities. Altho a solitary congressman in his first term is cramped under the machine methods which control the house, Mr. London was a noticeable figure in the sincerity and depth of feeling and in the intellectual distinction which he brought to debates on the floor and to committee work. He was always listened to with a peculiar respect by his colleagues, and perhaps also with some sense of inferiority before the high and disinterested seriousness with which he looked upon his work as a legislator. In Mr. Hillquit the socialist party has nominated its ablest statesman, the one preeminently executive figure among its leadership. Mr. Hillquit deserves election not only for his wide scholarship in legal, political, and economical matters, but for his long and brilliant record of public service in the city of New York. In innumerable instances, from the garment makers' strikes to the present traction difficulties, Mr. Hillquit has shown an insight into underlying causes, a power of negotiation, and a fertility of invention which ought to be drafted at once into the service of the nation.

Aggies Win First Game 56 to 0

Wahpeton Science Defense Pierced Easily

Many Spectacular Gains Made

The first game of the season resulted in a decided victory for the Aggies. Never has the team worked both the offensive and the defensive, been so good in the first games of the season as was the case in the game on Saturday. The defense of the visitors was torn to pieces at many different times, while the line of the Aggies never failed to open the hole where it was desired. The backfield were consistent ground gainers, Movold, Hayes, Kelly, and Baker always making the desired gains. Huey and Peterson as tackles were also able to get thru for big gains whenever they were called upon.

The game proved a very good practice for the 'varsity as every type of play was used after the victory was in sight. Line rushes, end runs, passes, and fake plays all worked with seeming ease. The team showed much improvement over the game of Wednesday afternoon and by the time St. Thomas and the other games are played we can hope for big results.

The game started at 3:10. Nemzek kicked off 60 yards to Wahpeton who returned 20 yards. The visitors failed to make their yards so were forced to punt, but the kick was blocked. Then the fireworks started and the X. C. went thru for gain after gain and before five minutes were up Curly had slipped across for the first touchdown. He was also successful in kicking goal. Score A. C. 7, Wahpeton 0.

Wahpeton's kickoff went high and fell only 20 yards in front of the line. Peterson returned 10 yards. The succeeding plays brought the ball to within striking distance and the ball was given to Hayes, who succeeded in carrying it across. Movold kicked goal and the score was 14-0.

After the next kickoff, Wahpeton returned the ball 20 yards, but failing to gain in the next three downs was forced to punt again. A. C. failed to return but the next play netted 20 yards around end. Movold tried a drop, but it fell short and Wahpeton punted again. A. C. returned it but lost on a fumble. Wahpeton formed for a pass, but Nemzek grapple the ball from the air and went for the third touchdown of the first quarter. Movold kicked goal. Time was called soon after the next kickoff with the score 21-0.

The second quarter opened with the ball in Wahpeton's possession but failing to gain they punted. A. C. did not return the ball but on the first play went 12 yards around end. The succeeding plays brought the ball near the goal, and Huey was sent around end 15 yards for a touchdown. Movold kicked again. Score 28-0.

Jamestown Defeats Fargo College.

Fargo College met its second defeat when its team met that of Jamestown College on Fargo College field on Friday. The big Scandinavian, Erickson, of the Jamestown team proved too much for the players on the hill. Except for a few flashes, Jamestown had its own way in nearly every play. The defense was remarkably weak except for a few minutes at the first of the game and again at the close. The offensive tactics were not used much as the ball was largely in the hands of the visitors.

The last five minutes of the game were crowded with real football, Fargo showing more in those few minutes than it had in all the rest of the game. On the whole the team appeared little better than it did

Wahpeton received the kickoff and returned 15 yards. After two more unsuccessful attempts at gains they punted for only 10 yards to Movold who returned 8. Hayes went round end for 10 yards, and then 20 more for the fifth touchdown. This ended the scoring for this half, the rest of the time being spent in marching down to Wahpeton's 20 yard line. Score: 35-0.

The second half opened with Elliot on end, Movold at half and Kelly at quarter. Nemzek kicked off and Wahpeton returned only to lose the ball on a fumble. A. C. went thru for several gains but was penalized 15 yards for holding. On the next play the ball was lost on downs. Wahpeton attempted a pass but Hanson intercepted it and after two more plays, Curly went over for another touchdown and then kicked goal.

A. C. punted and the visitors returned 20 yards. Two true plays and a pass failed and Wahpeton punted 35 yards. The third quarter ended with the ball in A. C.'s possession on their 35 yard line.

Kelly next made another pretty run of 25 yards around end. Then Movold passed to Baker, who went another 25 yards for a touchdown.

A. C. kicked off and Wahpeton returned 40 yards. A pass netted Wahpeton 5 yards but following plays were blocked. A. C. played for 5, 2, 5, 3, and 4 yards one after the other. A penalty set them back and a pass failed. The ball went over on downs. Wahpeton punted and Movold returned 10 yards. The next three plays failed to gain, but a pretty pass from Movold to Hauser for 30 yards gave them the last touchdown. Curly kicked goal and the score was 56-0.

The rest of the game was short, and the second half ended with the ball on Wahpeton's 15 yard line in A. C.'s possession.

The lineup.

NO DECISION IN ANNUAL SACK RUSH.

Freshies Unable to Score A Decisive Victory.

Question to Be Decided By Football Game

The annual sack rush came off on Monday afternoon instead of on Saturday as was previously announced. And it was surely an exciting affair. The odds were not so much in favor of the freshmen as was the case last year, and it was with a great deal of difficulty that the first year men were able to hold on to the sacks which had been provided. Two of the sacks could not withstand the terrific assault and parted in the middle, giving each a portion to carry away as a trophy. The third sack was held in almost its original position by the determined soph. The attacks of the freshmen were of no avail in this instance.

The preparations for this important event had been left to the last minute and to a very few men at that, and they were not as well cared for as they might have been. The questions of the proper officials and of the proper policing of the field were not properly answered, and as a result there was some confusion in several instances. The crowds were not kept on the field and in several instances they were permitted to interfere with the contest. At one stage of the scrap some one called time and there was a withdrawing of the forces. The fact that the official time keeper was not known to many of the contestants led to this mixup, and the sophs claimed that had this not occurred they would have been able to have held on to another of the sacks and would have thus been declared the victors. As it was, no decision was made, and the question of supremacy is still unsettled and will probably remain so until the annual freshman-sophomore football game on November 6.

Large crowds of interested spectators were present and added much to the enthusiasm which prevailed.

NEW ATHLETIC ACTIVITY FOR GIRLS

SOCCER FOOTBALL BEING PLAYED.

The work in the physical training for girls is being reorganized under the direction of the new instructor, Miss Kammeier. One of the new activities is soccer football for the girls. The girls are very enthusiastic over the game and are rapidly becoming proficient in placing the ball between the goal posts. The prospects of having a schedule of games to be played between the various classes is adding much to the interest manifested by the girls; and with the continuation of favorable weather, "gym" will appeal to them more than has been the case in some instances in the past. A complete schedule of games is being arranged and will be announced in the near future. An invitation will be extended to everyone to witness these games. Enthusiasm should run high.

The work of the department is being organized, and the girls are very much elated over the prospects of a good year's work.

NATURE RIVALED

Is spring here? No, just freshmen! For the last two weeks the freshmen have been displaying their true color in ever increasing quantity. Coincidentally, the ranks of the Order of S. A. have been greatly augmented. Sporadic paddling of from ten to fifteen freshmen has occurred every noon, but at the football game last Saturday the best licks were put in. A total of twenty-nine were initiated into the ranks of S. A. Some received the marks of extinction for not being adorned with the green lapp which are just as necessary to a freshman as a cross is to a t.

"Amongst those present" was Walter McKim, president of the freshmen. Despite the piteous pleading of some of the freshmen girls, his august presence was attacked in the rear. However, it withstood a severe bombardment.

Evidently, the freshmen have had a lesson impressed upon them. This week things are looking much brighter—green. Should one say that Nature is rivalled—or reviled?

A little information picked up every day soon becomes an education; and a little moral teaching picked up every day soon becomes a sermon.

Isaac Newton, when at school, was a notorious dunce, and always at the bottom of the class.

The least man who has his stenographer call you on the phone can do is to be ready to talk to you as soon as you are on the wire.

The difference between the man who has been operated on for something and the one who hasn't is that the former always has something to talk about.

ORCHESTRA STILL IN NEED OF STRINGS.
The regular rehearsal for the A. C. Concert Orchestra was held on Thursday evening and as before there was a large and enthusiastic attendance. The lack of strings was, however, felt, and Dr. Putnam is desirous that there should be a better representation of the students on this section of the orchestra. The reed and wind sections are well filled, but Doc says that he can use more violins, another cello, and bass viols. If you are able to play any of these instruments, you should get in touch with the orchestra at once.
The work of the band is progressing and it is the contention of every one who has had an opportunity to hear them that they are in the best form for this time of the year that they have been in for many years. This is Doc's opinion as well and it is born out by others who know. The band played for the rally on last Wednesday afternoon and for the game on Saturday. These appearances enabled those who had had little experience in marching to get some idea of what was to be expected of them, and during the next few days considerable time and attention will be devoted to this phase of the work.
If the present plans are carried out, the band will take the traditional trip around the loop and will give a concert down town prior to the game with St. Thomas next Saturday.

JOHN A. ANDERSON ACCEPTS POSITION AT MORRIS.
The biggest blow that the band has felt for some time came when it was announced that John Anderson had accepted a position with the Minnesota sub-station school at Morris, Minn. Many plans for the coming year had been laid around Johnnie. It was expected that he would remain here in order to take post-graduate work and that he could be counted on to assist in building up the band. But we are glad that he has been able to get such a promising position as he has; and we wish him success in his new venture. He will have charge of the band and the orchestra work as well as teach horticulture in his new field, and he has certainly had sufficient experience to enable him to fill the position with credit.
John Anderson became a member of the band in April, 1909. October 6, 1910, he was made corporal. He was promoted to the following positions in succession: Sergeant, September, 1911; Principal Musician, fall of 1913; and since January 5, 1914 he has had the position of Chief Musician. During the most of that time he has played E flat clarinet. His departure will leave a big hole in the ranks of the band. With Gram still on the border, Dr. Putnam has not been able to have the sectional rehearsals of the band as he had planned, and the work is hampered to that extent. The choice of Anderson's successor as chief musician has not been made as yet.

CERES HALL
Miss Chrissie Stuart, of Gilby, N. D., spent several days with her sister May last week. These visits from home are much appreciated by the girls.
Hilda Bergstrom was the guest of Irene Haugberg Friday evening.
Mrs. Bingham, of Caledonia, spent Thursday with her daughter Florence.
Helena Horn spent the week end with her parents at Moorhead.
Mrs. H. S. Prichett, of Perham, Minn., is visiting her daughter Josephine for a few days.
The population of Ceres hall is being added to weekly. Among the new arrivals of the past week are the Misses Lillian Erickson, of Souris, and Mina Meldahl, of Sharon. Miss Meldahl is registered in the High School.
Miss Maud Engle, '16, who is teaching this year at Wahpeton, returned Friday evening to see how the school was progressing. While here she was the guest of her cousin, Gladys Engle, and of Kathryn Ferguson. Miss Engle has charge of the domestic science work at Wahpeton High School and reports the work is coming along very well.
The local Y. W. C. A. had as its guest during the past week Miss Dodge, who is the traveling secretary for the Y. W. C. A. She spent several days here in the interest of her work, and was of considerable help to the girls in outlining the work for the coming season. Tuesday noon, the girls entertained for Miss Dodge at a dainty luncheon which was served in the Y. W. rooms.

The Pythians were hostesses to the freshman girls at a very enjoyable affair in Ceres Hall gymnasium in Wednesday. The hours were from 5:30 to 7:30 and they were filled with many amusing incidents. The party was in the nature of an auction sale, the refreshments being placed in small boxes and sold to highest bidders. Considerable laughter was occasioned by the nature of some of the articles offered in exchange for the much desired boxes. Chemistry texts, note books, cribs, and freshies were among the varied offerings. The whole affair tended toward better co-operation the highest bidders. Considerable they were better acquainted with one another.
And the game with the University is only three weeks off. Are we going? Of course we are. The special will leave Fargo about 9:00 o'clock and will return after we have defeated our old rivals.

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS "GENEVA MEETING" TUESDAY.
Miss Adela Dodge, student secretary of the North Central Field, spent three days of last week with the local Y. W. C. A., conferring with each member of the cabinet and helping to outline the work for the year. Miss Dodge addressed the "Geneva" meeting on Tuesday night, and likened each delegate to a messenger bringing light and warmth back to her local association.
Each of the delegates to the last conference had a part in the meeting, Miss Johnson reporting on the general meetings, Madeline Blake on the good times, and Dorothy Price on the Bible study and mission study.
Music was furnished by Miss Woldy.

A picnic upper proved an enjoyable affair in the gymnasium of Ceres Hall on Monday evening when the members of Delta Phi Beta were hostesses to the freshman girls and to the new ladies of the faculty. Dancing and merry making continued from six o'clock until seven thirty when the ringing of the study bell caused the abolition of all gaiety.
Saturday evening, Miss Kathleen Kelly was hostess to the member of Delta Phi Beta and a few friends at an oyster stew. Table decorations were in green and yellow and the delicious lunch proved especially enjoyable to the would-be football rooters.
The members of the Achto sorority were hostesses to a few friends at a box party at the Garrick Saturday evening. Following the performance, the party enjoyed refreshments at Pirie's.

Mr. Meinzer had as his guest for a few days last week, his brother, O. G. Meinzer, who has spent some time in the west in the interest of the U. S. Geological survey. He was enroute to Washington, D. C., after having spent considerable time in California and Washington.
Mrs. J. H. Shepperd left for South Bend, Indiana in order to attend the funeral of her brother's wife, Mrs. Taylor. She expected to be gone about two weeks.

The University won their second game of the season when they defeated St. Thomas on their own field at St. Paul on Saturday. The game was hard fought from the first to the last, and until the last period the outcome was questioned. The University were the first to score, when McCarthy recovered a fumble and ran 50 yards for a touchdown. St. Thomas tallied in the same period, when Ashbaugh, substituted for Lynch, carried the ball over 30 yards in three downs. A safety and another touchdown by McCarthy completed the scoring for "U".
We will have an opportunity to see what the cadets are made of next Saturday when they are scheduled to appear on Dacotah Field and to contest their knowledge of the game with that of our team. It will be a rip-roarer of a game. Be sure and be there.
