

Review of 1915 Football Season

On The Whole, Is Very Satisfactory

Times change and each new day and week leaves its stamp on the past. Since the earliest games of football, we have been adding to the good points of the game, and eliminating the cruder qualities.

The past season has been fairly successful as far as victories were concerned, although we failed to win the championship.

The first part of the season was very bright. From watching the work of the men with the new Coach, the fans were quick to see that, barring any mishaps, we were scheduled for a good series of games and although the results were not in our favor as often as we might have desired, we were not the least bit discouraged or disheartened by them.

o: the team played remarkably well, taking the season as a whole. Injuries often hindered them from doing as they have done in the past, but they regretted it as much, yes more, than we.

The first games of the season were, as always, more or less practice games; played in order to give the Coach an idea of the respective ability of the several players as well as to give the members of the team an opportunity to accustom themselves to working with men who were more or less strangers to them, or at least whose methods of playing were new to them.

The first game we got away with the long end of the score by a majority of 33 points. The same thing happened a week later when we played Wahpeton Science, except that the surplus was 34 instead of 33. Of course the hopes of the student body went up after these events, and not a few were heard to remark that the prospects were good for getting revenge on St. Thomas for the defeat of last year. But in spite of the wonderful fight they put up, our team had to taste defeat again to the tune of 13—0.

Well, work was then started on the preparation for meeting our old rivals, Fargo College. Dope was (Continued on page 3)

Alumnus Remembers The Library

W. H. FOLEY, '11, PRESENTS A NUMBER OF BOOKS

The library is in receipt of some fifty books from W. H. Foley '11. The books are miscellaneous in title and characteristic of the donor. Poetry, metaphysics, history, philosophy and religion are included in the list but nothing of the present day fiction.

Those who knew Foley remember him with pleasure for he represents a class admired and respected alike by his instructors and his fellow students. Of all who have graduated from the A. C. Foley will readily be considered the most scholarly. Serious, quiet, thoughtful, kindly by nature, he came and went without any of the blare and bumble that heralds the average student.

We are glad to acknowledge his remembrance and express our appreciation of his kindness. We will not agree to read all of the books but we will be willing to wager that Foley knows their innermost secrets.

The fact that such a present is sent to his alma mater after an absence of four years, to us represents a type of loyalty that we are glad to acknowledge. We extend our hand of friendship across four years of absence and wish success to our old friend.

His present address is 4163 Lake Park Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

THE BAND APPEARED IN CONVOCATION

The Band was the feature of the regular convocation Monday morning. A large audience was present and seemed to appreciate the numbers presented.

The following program was given: 18th Regiment March — Panella Adoration — Barnard Trombone — Withrow Bowl of Panicles — Reynard Patrol: I'm on My Way to Dublin Bay — Lampe London Hippodrome — Plathers Yellow and Green — Putnam Professor Churchill is the speaker for next Monday morning.

Agricultural Club Representatives Wins

NATHANIEL CROCKETT, DEMONSTRATING THE CEMENT POST, AWARDED FIRST PLACE.

Before a fair sized audience, the Agricultural Club, represented by Nathaniel Crockett, won the Second Annual Industrial Demonstration on Friday. James McLaughlin, of the Power Machinery Club, received second; and Vera Poe, of the Aurora Club, was third.

Miss Poe was the first on the program. She had as her subject, "Practical Suggestions for Jelly Making." In her discussion she took up the fruits that were suitable for jelly-making and the constituents of fruit juice, the importance of each, and the tests for the same. The amounts of sugar to be used and when to be added was clearly shown. In concluding Miss Poe gave the characteristics of good jelly and some of the reasons for failure.

Mr. McLaughlin took up the Selenium cell. The construction of this remarkable device and its uses were thoroughly described and demonstrated. The action of the cell was shown to depend on light, as was shown by the use of a bell and electric fan. The practical uses to which it may be applied were, the use as a burglar alarm for safes, as fire guard, and as furnace tender. The last use will appeal to many as it does away with the getting up at dawn to open up the draughts in order to warm the house. As soon as the first daylight strikes the faithful cell, an electric connection is made and the draughts opened. In conclusion Mr. McLaughlin stated that the world would soon be able to get along without us as electricity would warm our homes, cook our meals and serve them.

Mr. Crockett's demonstration was largely shown rather than told about. He first discussed the importance of concrete to the progressive farmer, and then went thru the operations necessary to making a good cement post. All the work was actually performed before the audience, so there was no misunderstanding of any part of the process.

The Industrial Course Orchestra furnished music before and after the demonstrations as well as between.

Y. M. C. A. Making An Effort Toward Bible Study

ARE ENDEAVORING TO GET MEN TO SET ASIDE ONE HOUR A WEEK.

Under the committee on Bible Study of the College "Y," a number of Bible classes have been arranged throughout the city. Most of these are held in connection with the regular Sunday School services of the various churches. Efforts are being made to get every man interested in one of these classes. They are regularly held at follows:

- At 12:00 Sunday— Leader First Baptist Church, Rev. Peterson. Christian Church, Lee Monson. Plymouth Congregational, Rev. Ford Broadway M. E. Church, Prof. Meiner. First Methodist Church, Dr. Walters. Pontopidan Nor. Lutheran, Rev. Bernsten. First Presbyterian, S. S. Lyon. At 9:30 Sunday— Norwegian Evangelical Synod. At 7:00 P. M. Sunday— Norwegian Lutheran Church.

FIRST OF A SERIES OF PARTIES GIVEN BY THE CERES HALL GIRLS

On Wednesday night, all the little girls and boys of Ceres Hall washed their faces, combed their hair, put on their holiday dresses and met in the gym. There they played their favorite games of drop the handkerchief, tag, etc., and dancing. Later in the evening two more children arrived who proved to be none other than Mrs. Gilbert and Tommy but they were too shy to join in the fun.

Towards the close of the evening baskets were passed around and a surprise was found in them. Each contained sandwiches, cake, pickles, fruit and ice cream and nice candy suckers. The ice cold milk was also very good and the cups were refilled many times. The little tin spoons, with which the ice cream was eaten, were delightful souvenirs of the occasion.

"Better late than never."

"Engaged" is one of the greatest and most interesting comedies ever written. The rehearsal work under the direction of Della A. Linwell has been going along in a splendid manner. It will be presented tonight. The admission is twenty-five cents.

THREE WORLD PROBLEMS

"Whoever studies the events of the past year with some knowledge of political philosophy and history will see that humanity needs supremely a sanction for international law as an indispensable precondition to security, order and progress. The other world problems the war has emphasized are: The necessity for rescue from alcoholism, and a sound basis for just and unselfish human relations in the great industries. Somehow these problems must be solved if the white race is to succeed in the pursuit of happiness or even to hold the gains already made."—Ex-Pres. Elliot of Harvard.

What She Learned.

Mrs. Willis—So your daughter is home from domestic science school. I suppose she has learned several new ways of washing the dishes. Mr. s.Gillis—No; she seems to have learned several new ways of getting out of washing them.—Judge.

Bugs.

"Isn't this awful!" exclaimed Mrs. Gabb as she looked up from her newspaper.

"Isn't what awful?" demanded Mr. Gabb.

"Why here's a woman who complains that the insane asylum is filled with bugs," replied Mrs. Gabb.

"Well," growled Mr. Gabb, "what's the blame place for, anyway?"

On the whole the Demonstration was a great success. Mrs. Orr, Mr. Heldt, and Professor Nelson were judges.

William Chauncey Langdon, America's foremost pageant master will appear in a series of lectures at THE LITTLE COUNTRY THEATRE, January 19 and 20, 1916.

Professor Trimble Is Receiving Much Praise On His Recent Work

Professor Trimble, who is head of the department of History and Social Science is receiving much praise from the best critics in the country because of the excellence of his recently published book entitled "The Mining Advance into the Inland Empire; a Comparative Study of the Beginning of the Mining Industry in Idaho and Montana, Eastern Washington, and Oregon, and the Southern Interior of British Columbia and the Institutions and Laws Based Upon That Industry."

In the October issue of the "American Historical Review" Mr. F. G. Young writes in part as follows:

"Professor Trimble's narrative is a remarkably clear, well ordered and comprehensible handling of a large and difficult subject. The physiographical features of the 'Inland Empire,' the Indian tribes in possession and the sources of the population that, took part in the 'rushes' are geographically outlined. The necessities of trial and hardship in getting to the remote localities with supplies, and experiences of tions of the different discoveries privation and danger in the early stages of the development of each camp, are well worked out and told largely in the language of reliable contemporary accounts of participants."

The following is extracted from The Journal of Political Economy.

"This is a careful study of the beginning of the mining industry in Idaho, Montana, eastern Washington, and Oregon, and the southern interior of British Columbia during the years 1855-70. Mr. Trimble records the history of the movement and describes the economic and social institutions and laws that grouped around the industry."

"The book is an interesting study of one of the most picturesque phases of our economic history."

In "The Washington Historical Quarterly" Mr. Frederick Vable writes in part as follows:

"Is an epic in spirit, though a work of historical and economic science and expressed in prose. It is the thrilling and romantic story of a movement which, because it eventuated in the creation of civilized society and political order, is of kin with the swarming of the Teutonic peoples into the Roman Empire."

"Dr. Trimble threshes out to the last straw the bearings of mining upon the government in the Inland Empire, upon agriculture, grazing, transportation and many other interests. What he has done is really to write a history of civilization in these states during their intermediate era."

"This student has done his work so judiciously and with such scholarship, that it will not require to be done again."

"It is an honor to him and his university and an invaluable service to the Pacific Northwest."

The Twenty-first annual oratorical contest will be held in THE LITTLE COUNTRY THEATRE on Friday evening, December 10, nineteen hundred and fifteen. ENTER NOW.

PHILOMATHIAN SOCIETY

The Philos held a very well attended meeting on Friday evening. Twenty-five members were present to enjoy the excellent program prepared.

Football Trip to S. D. — Underwood First Impressions of College Life — Mr. Bohnhoff

A Surveying Trip — Mr. F Critic's Report — Ward Porter

Mary Wood Hinman of the Hinman School of Polk Dancing will be at the Agricultural College in February.

Charles Carlson '15 Doing Good Work

Charles Carlson '15, now principal of the Noltmier Consolidated School 11 miles northeast of Valley City, is "making good" according to reports brought back by one of the students of the college who visited in the community recently.

The Noltmier school is a new institution which opened for work the first of October. Governor Hanna gave the dedicatory address Tuesday, November 16, before an audience which packed the auditorium of the building. The building is modern in every detail, having besides four school rooms a manual training room, a domestic science department and a gymnasium. The cost of the building was about $16,000. Three years high school work are being given.

Carlson has already begun to make the school a social center. There is scarcely a week in which there is not one or more social events held at the school. A Citizen's Free Lecture course is being conducted. Rev. E. C. Ford, of the Plymouth church of this city, was the first speaker on the course, last Friday evening. He took as his theme: "The Story of the Development of a Rural Community."

A local Agricultural Fair was held a few weeks ago, much of the produce displayed being real prize winners. One of the old school buildings has been moved near the new school and remodeled into a cozy home for Mr. and Mrs. Carlson.

It is quite possible that L. H. Bailey of Cornell University will be the commencement speaker for the Industrial Course Commencement, March 19 and 20, 1916.

MAN'S VANITY RESPONSIBLE FOR FILLED BACK SEATS

In how many classes do you enjoy the privilege of a back seat? Why do the students, whether they know their lessons or not, tend to seat themselves in the rear of the class room?

Professor Smith, head of the psychology department, has made some interesting observation upon this subject, in answer to an inquiry. It is a well known fact that this tendency prevails among young men to a greater extent than women. Professor Smith in explaining this says that it is because women enjoy talking so much that they are oblivious of their surroundings.

"Most students and especially the young men are self-conscious and desire to be as inconspicuous as possible so that when they recite they will be seen and not heard. They want no observing eyes behind them. Another reason why both young men and women desire these seats is because it is an in-born trait to desire to look in from the outside."

"Others, who do not know their lessons, and do not wish to be called upon think that thus they will escape the too discerning attention of the teacher."

"A few brazen students, who above all things want attention, seek the back seats. When their voices boom forth, the people in front turn around to hear or see, and thus their wishes are granted. This is flattery to them!"

"Men are prone to congregate in the back more than women, because it is thought that they possess the club instinct to a great degree, and desire to be together, away from the crowd. Almost all people avoid crowds, if the conditions are favorable."

"Back seats are not only desired in class rooms, but in churches and almost all public gatherings. In getting away from the crowd, and trying to be inconspicuous the most external seats are secured, and this may explain why the front seats in class rooms and churches are almost always empty." — Montana Kalman.

The Eighth Annual Joint Debate between the Athenian and Pythian Literary Societies will be held in THE LITTLE COUNTRY THEATRE on Friday, December 3, 1915 at 8:00 N. M. No admission fee will be charged. Remember the date.

Second Annual Thanksgiving Concert, Sunday Nov. 28

Good Program to be Arranged

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are working hand in the Annual Thanksgiving concert to be given in the Armory next Sunday at 3:30 P. M. Owing to the fact that the member of the cabinet in charge of the music has not returned this year, preparations were delayed, but a good program is promised for next Sunday.

The regular program has not yet been completed, but will be announced thru the daily papers. Among those who will take part are: Harold Bachman, Myron Bachman, Miss Linwell, and Ward Porter. Numbers by a male quartette will probably be given.

These concerts have been important events in the plans of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. in past years and the one this year will be no exception. No effort will be spared to make this the best yet.

Bachman and Thorfinnson to Corvallis, Oregon

Schollander and Baumgartel to Represent A. C. Here

As a result of the try-out held last Saturday for the Inter-collegiate Debate with Oregon A. C., Harold Bachman and Mathias Thorfinnson were chosen to represent A. C. at Corvallis, Oregon, on January 10, 1916. The question for debate is "Resolved that the Federal Government should own and operate all telephone and telegraph systems in the United States."

The debate is dual, so on the same evening, a team from O. A. C. will meet the team here in debate on the same question. Walter Baumgartel and Arthur Schollander are to debate here. The judges of the try-out were Professor Smith, Professor Minard, and Professor Arvold.

Christmas Festival to Be A Memorable Event

To Be Held in Armory, Saturday December 11

On Saturday evening from 7:00 to 11:00 P. M. will be held a Christmas tree, and a chorus will mas Festival, open to all the Collegiate organization. It is to be a gathering of all the College family; Then all will go to the Armory Pres. Worst, all the married sons where there will be a miniature and daughters, the near-married forest of Christmas trees with a children, and all the younger sons large tree in the center. Here there and daughters together with all the will be story-tellers, who will relate the folklore of the particular people they represent, there will be Christmas carols sung, and folkdances by different groups.

The festival will be one that will long be remembered by those who attend. Plan to be there. You may never have an opportunity to see any thing which will equal this. Remember, Saturday, December 11, 1915.

The evening is to open with a grand march from Ceres Hall, Main Building, Engineering Building, and the Library by four different groups of students dressed in gowns of red, green, yellow, and gray. These will all meet in front of the

CASTALIA-HESPERIA

On Friday last the members of the Castalian and of the Hesperian Literary Societies met at the home of Miss Amy Euren. An excellent program was given, including a burlesque debate between Esther Heidner and William Mortenson, as to whether or not pins are more useful than needles. Needless to say, with such a subject, a great many points were produced. The judges decided in favor of Miss Heidner, who represented the pin side of the question. Leland Smith depicted in a most touching manner the sorrowful ending of an Irishman's dog. Amy Morgan, Esther Heidner, and Eleanor Geiken then sang a pleasant selection, accompanied by Alice Struble. Chapter One of a novel now being written by the Hesperians was read by Willis Boots. Several of Castalia's members rendered piano selections.

After the program, refreshments were served and the evening was spent in lively games and music. Every one reports a most enjoyable time, and both societies unite in thanking Miss Euren and her family for their kindness in opening their home to the members and affording them such a pleasant evening.

Miss Stoner gave a special quiz on Saturday morning for those who fell below 95 in Junior cooking. Many were called but only three were chosen.

Genevieve Kelly visited Junior cooking class, but visitors are not allowed so Miss Stoner did all the entertaining.

Rosilla Ladd, Florence Lane, and Katherine Keye have been chosen to represent the Pythia in the Inter-society debate to be held December 3. They will uphold the affirmative of the question.

The members of the Aurora Club are being coached by Mary Gibbons in their play "Aunt Minerva" which promises to be a good one.

From this time on the H. E. seniors will be very much interested in securing positions for the coming year. Material, and excellent suggestions and advice were given by Miss Stoner as to methods of procedure. The committee on Recommendation of Graduates for positions is very anxious to do all in its power for each graduate but the work and interest of each graduate is also necessary to bring results.

FRESHMAN ISSUE NEXT WEEK

The regular staff will recuperate for the following issue to be issued before the holidays.

The members of the Staff are united in the opinion that there is lots of room for improvement in the Spectrum. A series of talks by those who know, on the fundamentals of the newspaper business, especially as they can be applied to a school paper, have been arranged, and it is hoped that the results will prove the plan to be a good one.

Last week Miss True gave a brief outline of the scope of the School Paper. Next week a talk is planned on "Getting the News and Putting It in Good Form." The following week there will be a discussion on the "Composition and Grammar Involved."

These meetings are not limited to the Staff. They are open to all interested in this line of work.

THINGS WE NEVER DO

How many times have we said we were going to start studying tonight, or we were going to finish that note book this week, or made some similar resolution? One does not have to go back very far to find some little act, he had faithfully promised himself, or someone else, he would do. Hardly a day passes but that some such instance comes up. "Oh yes! I was going to attend to that last evening, I surely will today." But how often today and tomorrow passes on without that particular thing being attended to.

Examination time is fast approaching. Only three weeks remain until we will be doing our best to prove to our instructors that we have learned something. When those days of testing come, we will undoubtedly recall some of those things "we never do." We will remember how that new magazine, that play, or what not, seemed more attractive than the pages containing the next day's lessons.

So let's get busy and do a few of those things we ought to do; study those lessons, write up those notes, and so be ready to meet our testing time, which is sure to come.

THE AVAIL OF COLLEGES.

Emerson, in 1851, in his lecture no "Culture", asserted that "one of the benefits of a college education is to show the boy its little avail". In the Outlook for July 28, 1915, a college Senior contributes "The Confessions of an Undergraduate", which closes with these words: "Judged by what it ought to do, by the thorough mental discipline it ought to inculcate, the college is more or less of a failure, as far as an undergraduate can determine from his own experience." This particular student's college can certainly plead Emerson's authority for having conferred one benefit on its critical son. In fact this bright boy's confirmation of Emerson's dictum is only less remarkable than the seriousness with which the Outlook presents his exaggerated strictures, so naively lacking selfcriticism, as if they contained an element of novelty. Actually they represent only what college people have come to expect from promising graduates. Those Phi Beta Kappa men who later become Doctors of Philosophy and afterwards the instructors and professors with whom the Outlook's undergraduate finds so much fault, all felt on graduation the same disgust at the emptiness of their diploma. An alumnus who did not get enough out of his college life to be disgruntled with it never received the intellectual awakening that a college course means. This very summer a Harvard graduate of the Seventies, whose writings have honored his Alma Mater remarked, with a bitterness that startled his listener, on the poorness of the instruction he received in college and the general futility of his course. He should have known his Emerson better, and have realized that his disappointment represents more than anything else his own intellectual growing-pains.

Do we mean that a college is above criticism! Far from it! But the best tribute to an intellectual Zion is that its inhabitants are not at ease in it; and, in our opinion, a college that can inspire a student to write a criticism even like the myopic and two-dimension "Confessions" of the Outlook contributor, is a college to which a parent need not hesitate to send his boy. —Brown Alumni Monthly.

Rankin was chuckling. "Whatsa matter?" asked Phyle. "I was just thinking of something my boy asked me." "What was it?" "He wanted ti know what will become of all the horseflies when everybody uses automobiles." —Youngstown Telegram.

MILITARY AND MUSIC

The shipment of regulation tan shoes has been received, and those who ordered them should see to getting them at once.

The Band was a conspicuous part of the parade in honor of Commander Eva Booth last Thursday. They played again in the evening before the address at the Auditorium.

Professor Orr was very much pleased with the turnout at the first rehearsal of the Men's Glee Club. Over twenty were present, and only a few of the old members appeared. It is hoped that there will be at least 40 out. With the right amount of work on the part of its members, this year should be a banner year in the history of Glee Club work.

Let Her In on This. "I believe a man should be master in his own house," said the newly married man. "There can be only one head in a family, and I mean to be it." "That's a very good idea," answered his friend, who had been married more years than the other had lived, "a very good idea indeed. Have you spoken to your wife about it?"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Are you going to "Engaged" tonight — Wednesday, November 24, 1915?

I a hundred pounds of ash leaves are eighty-five of water, in ash leaves are eighty-five of water, in the same weight of beech leaves seventy-five, of maple sixty, of pine fourteen and of fir ten.

Then the Row Started. Mrs. Snappen (who has been suffering from toothache)—Thank goodness, I've had that tooth out at last! Mr. Snappen—Happy tooth! Mrs. Snappen—What do you men? Mr. Snappen—It's out of the reach of your tongue.

BASKET BALL PRAC-

TICE HAS BEGUN

The call for basket ball men has been sent out, and there seems to be a ready response. A number of those who were members of the class teams last winter are planning on breaking into the regular game this year. There is also much promising new material. This with the number of old men, who will come out later is encouraging to the followers of the game. A strong schedule of games is being arranged, and some fast games are promised when the season opens after Christmas.

REVIEW OF 1915

FOOTBALL SEASON

decidedly in our favor, but the Coach certainly did his best to knock in the head any idea that the game was to be a landslide, for reference we direct you to any one who was present at the Rally held the day before the game. Well you know the result. Nuff said.

Our team entered upon their preparations for the last game of the season on the home grounds considerably handicapped. Catlin was hopelessly out, and Bolsinger's chances of doing his best work were considerably below par, due to an injured shoulder. Then Curly had the misfortune to sprain his ankle in practice. These are only the misfortune to sprain his ankle enumerate all of them, we should have to start at one end of the list and include every man on the squad. When we met the "U," as the Coach said at the Rally, we had the best bunch of cripples ever gotten together on one football team. But this did not dishearten the rooters. They knew that every man was in that game to the end and that there would be no need for apologies for any playing that might be one. And the game was one of the best ever seen on Dacotah field for the three periods, no we will say for the entire game for we are sure that none can successfully contradict our assertion. The "U" bunch were kept on the anxious seat for most of the game.

The season was closed with a game with South Dakota at Watertown in which game we were again defeated. We note these last facts, not that they are facts to be proud of but that credit may fall where credit is due.

The spirit manifested by the student body is deserving of mention. Never before in the history of athletics at A. C. have the students shown such spirit. Many were the comments heard after the F. C. game and while not so good a week later when the "U" were our opponents the spirit was far above the average of former years. It leads us to hope that there will be more of it in the future and consequently we are very optimistic for the coming Basket ball season. We all know and have confidence in Coach Davis and with the kind of support from the student body as we believe will come we have no hesitation in predicting as most successful season in the next branch of athletics to be undertaken, Basketball. Everybody on a good Da-co-tah and Three Cheers for Coach Davis.

The students taking public speaking at Carleton are now hearing the results of their efforts to become efficient in addressing audiences. The department has recently installed a specially constructed recording and reproducing phonograph.

The introduction of the phonograph caused a little uneasiness at first, but now the call for volunteers to speak into it finds ready response, and the listening to results is often attended by much merriment. The machine is a complete success, as the instructor can readily show the student body their mistakes. The only conceivable additional equipment in the department would be a motion picture machine to demonstrate defect in the action of speaking.

Syracuse will arrive in Missoula on the North Coast Limited Tuesday evening at 10:40. The east-ners are finishing one of the hardest and best balanced schedules of any of the big college elevens. Next Saturday the undefeated Colgate eleven is the opponent of the Salt Lake City team and the following Saturday Syracuse will meet Dartmouth. On the western trip Montana and Oregon A. C. will oppose the heavy travelers.

At a meeting of the men's and women's student councils of Hamline university a detailed plan was proposed whereby each student will be charged 25 cents for each absence over the one allowed every week. The fines will have to be paid to the registrar before the student will be allowed to take the semester examinations.

Students attending Des Moines schools had the rare privilege, last Monday evening, of hearing Fritz Kreisler, perhaps the world's foremost violinist. Aside from his superlative art, the great violinist draws throngs to hear and see him because of his being the only musical celebrity who has done actual fighting in the present European conflict. Mr. Kreisler, as lieutenant in the Austrian army, served four weeks in the trenches near Lemberg until wounded by a Cossack's lance and released from further active service.

By scoring a total of 323 points against nothing for their opponents, the Carleton football men have given the college an average record of more than a point a minute for the last two years. The total score last year was 375 points for 350 minutes of play, leaving a wide margin of 25 points.

The Athletic Board of the University of North Dakota has made a ruling that any member of a team betting on any contest in which he is to play shall be automatically dropped from the list of eligible candidates for that team for one year.

The board of regents of the South Dakota State College have recently signed a contract for the erection of a new dormitory at that school. The building will be four stories high, fire-proof, built of pressed brick and will have concrete floors. The outside trimmings will be terra cotta. It is to be completed by September 1, 1916.

The freshman class at Nebraska Wesleyan has presented to their school and set up at one corner of their gridiron a score board containing a place for the scores of the teams playing, the number of downs, number of yards to go, etc.

The freshman class of the University of Montana have constructed a huge "M" on the mountain side near by. The letter is one hundred feet long, and is cut in solid shale. Rocks are rolled down from above and piled up to form the letter. The freshman have been able to lay out only the outline of the letter. They hope that the other classes after them will take up the work and complete it.

Washington Swamps California

The University of Washington walked all over the California University eleven at Berkeley last Saturday and rolled up a score of 72 to 0. The California team showed absolutely no knowledge of the rudiments of the game and Washington kept the ball during practically the entire game and the game was merely a steady procession to the California goal. The same teams play in Seattle Saturday as the big attraction of the year for Seattle folks. Some attraction.

The Carletonia, Fairfield, Minn., announces the official reformed spelling. This is an innovation and may be worth while, but we hear very little about it. We find it in use occasionally among the newspapers, which seems to be its extent at present. A little ink is saved, but the public school teacher will experience the same difficulties in the spelling class that has always characterized it in the age of the un-simplified spelling.

An Irishman was out gunning for ducks with a friend who noticed that although Mike aimed his gun several times, he did not shoot it off. At last he said, "Mike, why didn't you shoot that time? The whole flock were right in front of you."

"O' know," said Mike, "but every time O' aimed me gun at a duck, another wan come right between us."

"Dutch Dreiss," a former football star at St. Thomas College and nifty third sacker of the Fargo baseball team in the Northern league this past season, is now playing football with the U. of Montana. We wonder if some fellows ever stop going to school or whether athletics is not, after the facts are made known, the work of their life.

Talk about hard luck in football. Read the Silver and Gold paper of the U. of Colorado. They have lost three games in succession and to teams from whom they have won 80 per cent of their former games. The "U" has always been noted for its gridiron prowess and has won the Rocky Mountain championship quite repeatedly. And, now comes a most disastrous season. But, in spite of that, the student spirit is fine.

The University of Oregon is soon to have a woman's band, if the plans of Albert Perfect, band leader, mature.

Burns and Dickens.

The formula of unification—universal sympathy with man—embodied in wit and humor and pathos, in satire's scorching flame, in cheerful sunshine of didactic optimism, supplies the key to manifold analogies in Burns and Dickens. "Holy Willie's Prayer" is the ne plus ultra in the satire of hypocrisy; and the false elder in Burns is of the 14th and kin of Pecksniff and Bumble and Uriah Heep.

Burns' Doctor Hornbook, taking the work of death out of death's hands with fool medicines, is of the tribe of Mr. Venus, Articulator of Bones, and Salsrey Gamp, who "went to a t'ing-in or laying-out with equal zest and relish."

Served Him Right.

If there was one thing more than another that he prided himself on, it was the fit of his clothes.

"I can never get a dress coat really to fit," he said to his partner, as he glanced down at a perfectly made garment, with a hope, of course, that she would at once disclaim the insinuation. "Look at this thing."

"Well, it is atrocious," she said coolly. "But why not save your money and buy one? It is so much cheaper in the long run than hiring."

Woes of an Author.

"How's your new book coming on?" "Passably well. The demand isn't what it should be. I mean among purchasers. And, of course, if people don't buy the book there's nothing in it for me."

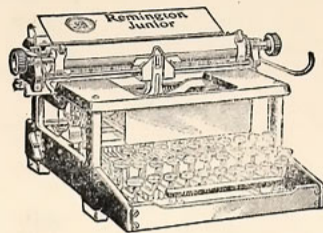

"I see. By the way, I'm reading it now. Binks loaned me a copy that Tompkins borrowed from Bradley. Pretty fair story."

The Case.
"Matrimony seemed largely incidental to Henry VIII's career."
"I should call it more axe-ident-al."

"You must never forget, my boy, that about one-third of all success is pure luck."
"But how can you make sure of this luck?"
"Why, by being successful."

Geo. Stewart '15 and E. D. Sylvester '13 were largely responsible for the excellent Street Fair held at Gilby last week in connection with Appreciation Week. President Worst was the honored guest and principal speaker.

Geo. Knutson '15 was heard from recently. He is engaged in plant breeding with the Great Western Sugar Co. at Longmont, Colorado. One of the interesting points mentioned was that his company was contemplating a "house-cleaning" and filling all the Agricultural positions with college graduates.

Homer Dixon '15 wrote Professor Sheppard that he was very well pleased with his work at Perham, Minnesota, and that he was making preparation for a three month's short course in connection with the extension work in which he is engaged in addition to his regular teaching. He has also the promise of speakers from the Minnesota Agricultural School for some two to five-day institutes to be held during the coming winter.

SOCIETY

The second of the series of Kadon dances was given last Friday at K. C. Hall. Between fifty and sixty couples were present, and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all. Baersten's orchestra furnished the music.

A good crowd attended the All College Party in the Armony, Saturday evening. Here those who danced were delightfully entertained. Frappe and wafers were served. Those who did not dance had entertainment provided in the parlors of Ceres Hall. An enjoyable evening was reported.

The annual Founders' day banquet was the occasion of the members of the Epsilon chapter of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity assembling at the chapter house, 1316 Twelfth avenue north, Thursday, twenty-six participating. All chapters of that fraternity observe this anniversary, at exactly the same time, which lends to its dignity. Toastmaster for the occasion was President Rourke, and those responding to toasts were Professor Thompson, Harold Bachman, William Guy, Dick Bjornson, Ralph Movold and Al Simonitsch. Richard Olsen of Sanborn, N. D., a member of Epsilon chapter was a guest.

Ceres Hall

Gladys Plath went to her home to spend Sunday.

Harriet Rupert spent Saturday night with Miss Marjorie Brown.

Misses Ruth and Liela Nelson took dinner at the Gardner Sunday with their brother-in-law, Mr. Moore of Glen Ulin.

Miss Anna Anderson went to Valley City Saturday to hear the singer Gadske.

Dorothy Keene spent Sunday evening with Marion Brainard and Ivy Waechter.

Mrs. Gilbert spent several days last week at Crookston, visiting with friends.

Mr. John Archibald spent Sunday evening with his sister Desdemona Anne Archibald.

Mr. Charlie Parker spent Sunday evening in the Ceres Hall parlors. Also Joe McCune.

Miss Marorie Cook took supper with Miss Myrtle Waechter Friday evening.

Agnes Hutchison gave a most delightful spread Sunday evening in honor of her sister and friend who are visiting with her.

Myrtle and Ivy Waechter had a Sunday night lunch for several of their friends. Barbara Hutchison and Miss Baxter were the honored guests.

Miss Barbara Hutchinson and Helen Baxter are visiting Agnes Hutchison this week. They plan on taking in the play at the Auditorium Monday evening.

Stella Holmes and Pearl Farslof were hostesses to two delightful spreads Wednesday and Thursday evenings. All the girls in the Hall were entertained.

Each year on that festive holiday, Thanksgiving Day, Ceres Hall rings with mirth and laughter for Mrs. Gilbert always proves herself an admirable hostess to all her young people who are away from home and at the Hall that day. She spares no means to give each and everyone a joyful time. This year is to be no exception. Plans are being made for a big dinner with Master Turkey and all the "fixins" present. A good time is anticipated by all those who expect to be present.

Home Economics

The H. S. senior class are to have their work in candy making next week.

Monday, December 6th, the Chapel hour will be given over to the H. E. Department for Ellen H. Richard's Day exercises. In the afternoon a H. E. one act play will be given in the Little Country Theatre. This date is also to be an Open Day in the department for all visitors.

The class in Household Management under Miss North has had very interesting work in demonstration. Each girl, with an assistant is required to demonstrate on some particular subject. This offers good training in manipulation and in speaking and working at the same time.

LOCALS

President Worst has been appointed delegate to the National Conference of Marketing and Farm Credits, to be held in Chicago, November 29-December 2. President F. L. McVey, of the University, is the Chairman of the General committee. Director Cooper is a member of the committee in exhibit and finance.

The Station has sold during the past week, a number of "roasting" pigs. They present a very pleasing spectacle as they appear in the show-window of one of the meat markets down town. The money realized from such an enterprise is largely profit, as the only additional expense is the extra feed given the sows.

Prof. Trimble has been appointed a delegate to the American Economics Association, the American Historical Association, and the American Political Science Association, all of which hold meetings in Washington, D. C. during the holidays.

One of the fall pigs has found a place to keep warm during these cool days. It makes its bed in the ash box of the feed cooker used by Mr. Geiken. The only trouble is that it may find the place too warm some time.

The other day, band rehearsal was interrupted by one of the new students. "Does anyone know whether there is to be a Cadet Hop?" he asked. Benson answered immediately, "Yes, in the basement of the Chemistry building at 5 o'clock."

President Worst spoke at Gilby last Friday at a special meeting in connection with Appreciation Week. Geo. Stewart '15 and Sylvester '13 were responsible for the meeting as well as for a Street Fair held the same day. Exhibits of agricultural products, live stock, etc., were shown. The President says that the people showed themselves to be up to date in that they had a very good Baby Show as well.

The Animal Husbandry department of the Station is at present carrying on a series of feeding experiments with a number of steers recently received from Mandan. Rations consisting of barley, silage and alfalfa; barley and alfalfa; and barley and straw for roughage are being used. The groups receiving the first two rations have a straw shed for shelter thus approximating actual farm conditions. A carload of steers has also been placed on the Edgeley sub-station for feeding trials with corn fodder as roughage. The results of these trials will be watched with interest.

High School Notes

HIGH SCHOOL PARTY
 The Castalian Literary Society and the Hesperian Literary Society will entertain the whole Agricultural and Manual Training High School at a party to be given in the College Armory on Friday evening, December 3rd. The purpose of the party is to get the young people better acquainted with each other, and to thus promote more social activity in the High School. The two societies are already at work on a play to be presented on that evening, and preparations are under way to make the evening a pleasant one for everybody. All High School students come out and enjoy yourselves.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS CHOOSE MOTTO
 At a class meeting held on Wednesday, November 17th, the senior class of the high school considered a number of mottoes, finally selecting as their choice the Latin "Labor omni vincit" (Labor conquers everything.) The class pins were also selected at this meeting. The design is a simple, but beautiful one. It has the initials A. M. T. H. S. and the numerals '16. On the reverse side will be engraved the initials of the owner.
