

St. Thomas Stumbles Over Horse Shoe In First Five Numbers of Play

Were On Defense After That—Carried Superstitious Iron With Tom—Aggies Team Still Improving.

The Aggies went down to the first defeat of the season in the first five minutes of play with St. Thomas at St. Paul, the final score being 13 to 0.

The boys fought hard throughout the game and for three quarters of the game kept the St. Thomas bunch on the defensive. Nemzek fumbling the first kickoff when tackled by a cadet, gave the St. Thomas bunch the jump. On the first St. Thomas down they shot a forward pass 15 yards over the Aggie goal. Ward missed goal.

Cadets Score Again

Within the next five minutes the Cadets had scored again. From that time till the last two minutes in the fourth quarter the Cadets were unable to pull off anything. The Aggies kept them going and made gains consistently, thus keeping the ball in the Cadets' territory.

The Aggies lost their chance to score in the last quarter, when they were on their two yard line, after working the ball down the field for the fourth time. A fumble recovered by St. Thomas spoiled their chance, as the Cadets punted out of danger, and the game was over.

The first half was hard fought and was marked by some excellent playing on each side. The Aggies pulled off some brilliant passes, making seven out of 11 trials.

Bolsinger Stars for Aggies

Bolsinger for the Aggies did wonderful work in intercepting the Cadets' passes. Catlin and MacPulla were the big gainers for the Dakotans. The last half was one of the best ever played on the Cadet field the Aggies having a little the better of it and kept the ball within the Cadets' 40 yard line at all times.

The work of Graham and Conway in the Cadets' machine was wonderful, both men keeping the Dakotans constantly on their guard. The St. Thomas line considerably outweighed the Aggies, while the backfield of the visitors had the advantage. When the fourth quarter began and the score stood 13 to 0 the crowds went wild and the play was exceptionally fast. The lineup:

Bolsinger Right Half

Captain Bjornson of the Aggies went in at guard in the last three minutes of play.

Ed Shave of the Minneapolis Times refereed and Ed Force umpired. Time of quarters, 15 minutes.

The rooters which visited St. Thomas last Friday brought good news as to the fighting ability of Coach Davis' proteges. St. Thomas and the Aggies always have it nip and tuck. The Cadets are fortunate to get the lucky breaks of the game. A Christianson who witnessed the game and is a firm believer in college spirit, said: "Why, those yellers wouldn't let us yell for the A. C. at all, those yellers could have won the game, and did win it by their continual uproar."

This is only one of the many examples of school loyalty. Any team needs the backing of the entire student body at the games. The remaining games will be no walk-away for the team. South Dakota is coming up here to win and are going to play accordingly. Fargo College can always be relied on to fight the A. C. to a standstill. N. D. U. held the strong Montana U aggregation to a tie score, a week ago. Coach Gill is bending every effort to whip a team into shape for the A. C. game, so that the last game promises to be a thriller. Let us all get together and help win these games.

GRANVILLE BARKER ADDRESSES GOOD-SIZED AUDIENCE

Granville Barker delivered an interesting talk on the "Character of the Stage" and some of the present day plays. His talk was very well received by a good-sized audience which greeted him at The Little Country Theatre.

Max Waldron Takes Issue With Publication

DIFFERS WITH EDITOR OF "INDEPENDENT" MAGAZINE ON COLLEGE EDUCATIONAL VIEWS.

Max Waldron, '14, has again shown that he has his own opinions on subjects and, according to "The Independent" for September 27, tells his idea of the importance to be attached to a college diploma. We are glad to see that he is able and not afraid to express his views on the subject.

"The ideas advanced in your editorial of September 13, 'The Educational Reserves,' while quite novel and humiliating to the fledgling graduate, appear to be based on false premises. It is quite beside the mark to compare educational reserves to military reserves, the reason being that after a man has completed his allotted period of military training he usually enters some occupation which has no relation whatever to military life. In other words, military training does not prepare him for his vocation—it is merely a necessary evil like tax-paying.

"A university graduate, on the other hand, employs as much of his acquired education as possible in his life work and, if he be of the proper stamp, he will constantly use and add to the learning he has paid money to acquire in college. His education and efficiency constantly increases as he endeavors to place himself in the front rank, or in these days even to earn his bread he must continually improve his mental or mechanical capacities. If he return to his Alma Mater every five years as you suggest to 'brush up' it is quite likely that his former instructors could learn more from him than he could from them in many instances.

"It is agreed that a college degree is a fraud upon the public, but this is due to the type of education itself. If a university turns out incompetent and falsely-educated graduates, it would obviously be folly to later return to that institution to refresh one's 'intellect.'"

"There are of course many subjects taken up in college which are valuable for mental training and preparation and it would be of no advantage to review them. Once a child learns to walk he doesn't go back to his walking-chair every year to practice the first steps—he keeps on walking.

"The point is this: Let the college give the man the right sort of education and one that is suited to him and he will take care of himself; but as yet most of the colleges fail to do that.

MAX WALDRON,
Lake Alfred, Florida.

The editor replied: "We fear that our correspondent still clings to the exploded theory of generalized mental training and the transference of acquired abilities. How many of the studies which a man takes in college does his life-work ordinary impel him to keep up? How many college presidents could pass the entrance examinations with sufficient credits to gain admission to their own institutions? We do not agree that a college degree is a fraud upon the public because it 'turns out incompetent and falsely educated graduates.' We merely made the modest suggestion that it would be well to put a date limit on the diploma as is done on kodak films. This might read 'knowledge not guaranteed unless used and developed within five years from date.' How long have you been out of college?"

Those that went by the field that raised the silage for this years crop had quite an interesting sight shown them. The station has turned into the field about eighty pigs, a flock of sheep, a few colts and a few head of cattle to graze off the fodder left by the corn cutter. They certainly did clean things up.

Waldron Speaks In Chapel In "Efficiency Of Education"

Dean Waldron was the speaker at convocation on Monday morning: He said in part:

The present war has brought out a number of perplexing problems both international and intranational. Our nation has had its share in common with the other countries of the world. The chief problem confronting our country is whether democratic government can long endure.

Democracy was established in this country as an outburst against Toryism. Yet, so far in the history of country we have not had a real democratic government. There has always been an "extra government" and this has been one of the weaknesses. The Democratic government has been very inefficient, especially in the matter of the conservation of national resources. We have been permitted to waste our forests, our national gas supply, and the fertility of our soils. Countries with a more absolute form of government, like Germany, have shown marked contrasts in the matter of efficiency. The logical conclusion to be drawn is that "unless we have a more intelligent democratic government, we will have to have some form of absolute government." It is certain that a democracy cannot long endure where the citizens are willing to sacrifice the State for personal gain.

One of the solutions of the problem will be found in the right form of education. The educators of Germany, whose schools have long been considered the standard, have come to the conclusion that their system of education is decidedly inefficient, because it does not train their young men to think rapidly and act intelligently. If this is the verdict in the efficiency of the German schools what should be the attitude toward our system?

The hope of democracy is in a system of education which will produce men, and women too, who can think clearly, act unselfishly, and perform intelligently. Unless we want an absolute form of government, we must have such an education, and one that shall raise the community as a whole to as high a development as is possible.

The special music of the meeting was in charge of the chapel choir, which rendered "Farewell to the woods."

Prof. Minard announced that Pres. McFarland of Valley City Normal would be the speaker for next Monday.

Polytechnic Meeting In Engineering Building

MEETINGS ARE INSTRUCTIVE AND INTERESTING AND A CORDIAL INVITATION IS EXTENDED TO ALL.

The next regular meeting of the Polytechnic Society occurs Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Engineering Building of the Agricultural College. At this time Profs. Householder and Smith of the Mathematics department of the A. C. will give a discussion upon "Rapid Mathematical Calculations" which ought to be of very great interest and helpfulness to students, teachers and others who have many mathematical computations to perform. Mr. Householder will present a number of simple arithmetical short cuts in multiplication, division, etc., and show the use of logarithms and engineering tables. Mr. Smith will discuss the application of such tables to mechanical devices like slide rules and computing machines. He will show the great possibilities of the former for special purposes and the relative advantages of the different makes of computing machines. In addition to these two talks there will be an interesting exhibit of books of

Pres. Worst Meets Many Old Grads. On Western Trip

One of the pleasant features of President Worst's trip west last summer was the meeting of quite a number of the alumni and former students of the Agricultural College. Among these was E. G. Schollander, '05, who was for many years superintendent of the Williston sub-experiment station. Mr. and Mrs. Schollander occupy a pretty cottage of their own construction about six miles from Medford in the Rogue River Valley of Oregon. Mr. Schollander is engaged in growing pears and grapes. At Medford, he also saw Tom Osgood '02, a prominent civil engineer, who has won quite a reputation in his profession, and Frank J. Newman, who enjoys a successful legal practice. Mr. Newman did not graduate, but enlisted for the Philippines in 1898, and afterwards too a law course at the U. of Minnesota. Charles Hughes had an experience similar to that of Mr. Newman, and is now practicing law in Oakland, California. The President had a pleasant visit with Mark Keeney, a former student, now in business at San Diego, California.

Rural Lyceum Doing Great Work

The Rural Lyceum, Professor A. P. Hollis, Director, is a forward step toward extending the service of the Agricultural College to the rural communities of the state. The purpose is to make country life more agreeable and satisfying by giving the rural communities something in the way of amusement and instruction that heretofore has been denied them. Cities and villages have long enjoyed the advantages of lectures and musical and dramatic entertainments, but those living far back in the country have never had access to recreations of this character. Since the farmers and their families constitute the bulk of our population and contribute almost exclusively to the production of wealth which all enjoy, and which supports all the state educational institutions, it is but fair that the life of the farmer should be made not only pleasant but satisfying. The Rural Lyceum will contribute largely toward carrying the influence of the Agricultural College into country communities.

The list of talent available includes:
1. Lecture—President J. H. Worst, or other member of the College faculty.
2. Entertainment—Clara Wool-edge Wright, Soprano, and Blanche Boyden Hutchinson, Reader, and Accompanist.
3. Illustrated Lecture—Professor A. P. Hollis.
4. Demonstration Lecture—Mrs. M. M. Hollis.
5. Play—The Little Country Theatre Players.

This program is good enough for the largest city, at a cost low enough for a rural school.

mathematical tables and different kinds of slide rules and mechanical calculating machines which will add to the value of the evening's discussion. A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested in this subject and it is hoped that many of the teachers of the schools of the two cities and business men will attend. The meetings of the society are open to the public and the officers and members of Polytech are very glad to welcome townspeople who are interested in its meetings.

The first meeting in November occurs at the Moorhead Normal School, when Mr. R. E. Remington, of the North Dakota Experiment Station, will discuss "The Technique of Food Preservation." This meeting has been arranged as an act of courtesy by the Fargo members of the society to acknowledge the faithfulness with which the Moorhead members of the society have attended the meetings for the last four or five years.

Sack Rush Results In Victory for Freshies

Although Outnumbered Sophs Put Up Good Fight—Present System Not Good

The Second Annual Sack Rush came off on Thursday afternoon as scheduled. The weather conditions were fairly agreeable, and a good crowd witnessed the contest.

At four o'clock Chief Referee Joe Alexander called his assistants, Mendenhall, Beals, Hooper, Crouch, and Challey, together and gave them final instructions as to the rules governing the actions of the contestants. Then the opening shot was fired and the fight was on. There was a rush and a collision of opposing forces. In a few minutes four of the five sacks were behind the Freshman goal. The struggle over the fifth sack was so fierce that the sack parted in the middle of the field, so that where before there were one sack there were now two.

The battle continued for a short time but the odds against the Sophs were too great. The parts of the fifth sack were finally safely deposited behind the Freshies' goal with the line of retreat marked with the straw which had been used as filler.

There were occasional spurts made by the Sophs in attempts to take sacks from sleeping Freshmen, but the Freshies wouldn't be so obliging as to be caught napping so the sacks remained where they were until the shot which marked the close of the contest was fired.

The only injuries were received by McConnell, who is still wearing the tape cross of merit. Roberts was woefully shy on shirt at the close of the fight, but the conditions which occasioned the loss spoke so loudly in his defense that adverse criticism were drowned out.

The Freshman girls were rather disappointed in the struggle as they had gone to considerable trouble to learn yells and songs to be used to help their heroes in tough places. As no tough places arose, their yells and songs were not needed and they felt that their work was in vain.

The sack rush, as it is now carried on, again demonstrated the fact that it is not a satisfactory means of deciding the superiority of either the Freshman or the Sophomore classes. The fight is bound to be uninteresting from the standpoint of the spectator, and not very satisfactory to the contestants themselves, so long as the odds are 1 to 4 or 5 as they were last Thursday. It is really no great feat for five men to beat one in any kind of a combat. It would be decidedly more interesting if the opposing sides were equal, or at least where the ratio was not greater than 2:3.

Suggestions have come in that in the future some different arrangement as to the relative number of men engaged be adopted. At some of the larger institutions where such contests are carried on, equal numbers are used. If this is not satisfactory, and some one must have an advantage, why not limit it to a ratio of 2:3?

Think it over and let us know your opinion. That is what the Dope Box in the Main building is for.

Handbook To Be Off Press In Short Time

Ray Sweetman and the members of the college who are working with him have about completed the preliminary work on the Directory. This year it will be somewhat different than the system in vogue last year a sit will contain in addition to the material of last year the home address of the persons names it holds.

It will be handed out free of charge this year. Watch for it

MISS McDONALD GIVES TALK.

Miss May McDonald, head of the Extension Department of the College gave a splendid talk on Home Economics Extension on Wednesday afternoon. Her talk was admirably adapted to such a program, and was filled with valuable information along the line of subjects which so many women's clubs are interested in at present time, as it gave so many ideas for reducing the high cost of living and other problems of particular interest to the homemaker.

Another interesting address was given on Thursday morning by Mrs. J. H. Sheppard, chairman of the Extension department of the Federated Clubs. Her talk was devoted largely to showing the advances made in the organization of new clubs in the state, and to pointing out how the older clubs have become more helpful in their respective communities. Mrs. Sheppard said in part "Our mission is to extend the influence of federated clubs to the uttermost part of the state. We are interested in city women, town women, country women, rich women, poor women, educated women, uneducated women. Heretofore our department has had eleven workers, but believing that the county is the proper unit of organization and that in numbers there is strength, it will hereafter have fifty one, forty eight of whom will be club organizers, one for each county."

Miss Stoner, head of the Home Economics department was also present at the meetings of the Federation for the last four or five years.

Local Y. M. C. A. Have Good Prospect for Permanent Home

BOARD OF REGENTS ARE HIGHLY IN FAVOR OF THE PROPOSITION AS PLACED BEFORE THEM.

The local college "Y." in response to efforts on part of the members to secure and formulate plans for the erection of a building near the campus has so far met with success. Those interested in the proposition have secured the conditional gift from parties in the east who are interested in college Y. M. C. A. work. It has been secured on the condition that part of the sum necessary for the erection of the building be raised locally.

Considering that such a building if erected would be open to all of the men students of the college and would act as a congregating place for them it would act as a great boost for the institution.

In recognition of these facts the board of regents at Bismarck has granted to furnish heat, light, janitor service and water is such a building is erected.

Miss Linwell Takes Up Work In Dramatic Dept.

Miss Delia Linwell of Northwood, N. D. is to teach English in the Industrial Course this year. She will also assist in the Dramatic Department, having had special training for this work at Cunnock School, Los Angeles, California, and at Emerson School of Oratory in Boston.

She took her B. A. degree at Wisconsin "U" at the close of the 1915 summer school.

She is admirably fitted for her work at the A. C.

Before her student days Miss Linwell was champion woman tennis player of N. D.

Credit to Be Given For Library Work

Good News to the Freshmen

At the faculty meeting on Friday, one of the matters attended to was that of giving credit for work done in library.

The course is to be known as "Elementary Library Science." The present eight-week course is to be extended to one of twelve weeks duration, with one period each week. The course is to be required of all Freshmen enrolled in courses granting the bachelor's degree. Credit of one hour will be given. This will be accepted in lieu of one hour credit of elective work.

There have been some very flattering returns from the different sub-stations throughout the state, especially the Williston station. There the wheat went over 50 bushels per acre; oats 130 bushels; barley 83; flax 30 bushels. All the other stations, with the exception of the Dickinson station, which has not reported, had a yield of over 50 bushels of wheat to the acre. This is only one of the proofs that make intensive farming practical. If these sub-stations can do work of this kind, the average farmer can approach it to a certain degree.

Board of Regents Meets at Bismarck

PRESIDENT WORST AND HEADS OF OTHER STATE INSTITUTIONS PRESENT.

President Worst attended the meeting of the Board of Regents on October 15th. The sessions of the Board are held in Bismarck exclusively, and the heads of the different institutions are invited to be present and to lay before the Board any business that requires its attention. The President expressed himself very highly pleased with the attitude of the Board toward the educational institutions, and their evident desire to promote all interests of education in every legitimate way.

CRITCHFIELD TO ANIMAL HUSBANDRY DEPARTMENT

Burke Critchfield, who until last spring was with the Stallion Registration Board, and since then has been farming, has returned to assist Prof. Thompson in the Animal Husbandry Department. Mr. Critchfield needs no introduction to the student body, and his assistance in this department will do much toward strengthening that work.

Some people seem to have the idea around here that they were born on the foot-stool of the Gods and that nothing short of a person baptized in sacred fire have the right to speak to them. Also that they are not supposed to lower themselves in order to pass the time of day with their fellow students or to make time worn remarks about the weather.

Such people—there are only a few of them—should find no place to ruffle the nerves of the respectable members of this college family—they belong up around the north pole in connection with the ancient Cook polar expedition.

Those that are suffering from this queer form of leprosy should hide themselves from the sun-light that God made to warm this campus—they only absorb the rays that were intended for those who walk on the earth.

There is absolutely no excuse why a person should pass up a fellow student on this campus. As far as the writer know there are no social outcasts hiding here, and when this "passing up" continues day in and day out there is some other reason than that of overlooking the object of the demi God's disgust.

Now we issue an invitation. Come down and let the light of common every day affairs rattle around your head. If you don't know a man, get acquainted. There is nothing coming to an animal of this type but contempt and the lowest brand of contempt at that. Get wise!

According to all reports, the team played a great game at St. Thomas. We are not surprised in the least. That is just what we expected that they would do. Of course we are sorry that it happened to be a day of hard luck, but we are satisfied that it was luck and nothing else that gave St. Thomas the game. We have still three big games before us, and not until the last one has been played do we expect to see the members of the team let up their hard work. We feel sure that they have seen in too many instances, the effects of over confidence and we believe them to be true enough to themselves and the school not to let such a criticism mar their prospects for a championship team. Nevertheless we would urge on each and every member of the team the necessity of constantly being on the look out for any symptoms of that fearful malady known as Big-headitis.

EXIT.

The present editor feels that on account of a heavy schedule and on account of the work needed to get the paper in at least a fair working order, that it will be necessary to step out of the active responsibility of turning out the paper for a while at least. With the staff improvements and with a few additional it is absolutely sure of a successful season.

The latest additional members to the staff are: Elvira Rasmussen, McClellan, Ivy Waechter.

Alfred Matters has been secured to sit in the editors chair and he will handle the job in regulation style. The retiring editor feels sure that a good man has been secured.

ORGANIZATIONS

HESPERIA

Three members passed the rigid examination given as initiation into the Hesperian Literary Society last Friday. It consisted of a mental test covering literary work, and some points proved to be stickers for a couple of the candidates. The following were admitted: Wm. Freeman, Ralph Hick and Morteboey.

New candidates as follows were voted on and accepted. C. Valntyne, T. Thordarson, P. De Boer, J. Hendrickson and R. Wells. They will be initiated at the regular meeting of October 22.

Several new topics relating to the A. and M. T. High School were suggested and a few surprising things will be talked over in the near future.

- The following program was rendered:
1. Declaration—"Better Than Gold," Orin Walter.
 2. Essay—"Social Life in the Country," L. Smith.
 3. Talk—"What I Think of the A. and M. T. H. S.," S. Erickson.
 4. "Whistle," Society Paper, Editor Erickson.
 5. Singing, with Mr. Boots at the piano.

PHILOS HOLD MEETING

The Philomathian Literary Society met in regular session on Friday.

As some of the fellows were a little slow in arriving, a few of the old songs were sung before entering upon the real program.

The program proper consisted in music by Alfred Matters; talks by Mr. Harrington and Mr. Loftus and readings by Joe Roberts and Mr. McConnell.

Mr. Harrington gave a brief summary of the recent Crack Squad trip which was very interesting to those present.

Mr. Loftus' talk was on conditions at the A. C. He showed from men he had met that students here had great advantages over some at larger institutions, especially in being able to get into close contact with the professors.

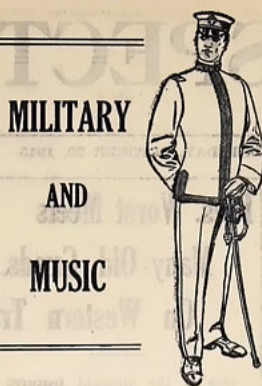

At the conclusion of the program a brief practice of the Philo song and yells was held.

NEW EQUIPMENT IN BACTERIOLOGY LABORATORY.

The equipment of the Bacteriology Laboratory has been augmented recently by the addition of a new sterilizer. The one formerly in use was large enough to sterilize the product of only one student's work at a time, thus making this part of the work very slow. The new sterilizer will take care of the output of the entire class.

The new sterilizer is one similar to that used in a regular canning factory. It has connections with live steam and will greatly facilitate the work in this department. This laboratory is one of the first to install such a sterilizer.

Other improvements in this laboratory are contemplated. All the apparatus has been connected with live steam.

MILITARY

FIVE CORNETS AT BAND REHEARSAL

Nobody knows how such a thing could happen, but there sure were five. Professor Orr is of the opinion that they had planned it several days before. Besides this great accident the following new men appeared: Ruthford, Franky, Lenorad, Rygg, Losen and a few second band men. Work has been in earnest and the band will soon be prepared to fill its old position.

TRYOUTS FOR CLUBS BEGIN 20th

After Wednesday the 20th, all students wishing to join in this activity should report at the music hall. To make these clubs a success the support of every student is needed. So if you do not sing say a good word and help make the best glee clubs in the state.

VOICE

Miss Grasse sang at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Y. W. C. A. The selections rendered were very appropriate and pleased all that were present.

Miss Pearl Vanpelt who is studying with Miss Grasse sang at the Broadway Methodist Church last Sunday evening.

MELVIN MCGUIGAN APPOINTED CADET MAJOR

Melvin McGuigan was appointed Cadet Major and Assistant Instructor to the Commandant. McGuigan was one of those Captains who received instruction under last years Commandant, Captain Macon. This instruction consisted of two parts, lectures on a soldiers duties in active service and a thorough study of all formations executed by a company. With this training and the help of Lieut. Carrithes, McGuigan will soon develop into an able Cadet Major.

SECOND BAND

The second band is doing fine. Last Wednesday at rehearsal nearly ten men were present. If there are any other men who would like to try out, better see Professor Orr at once as there are only a few instruments to be had.

ORCHESTRA STARTED

The first rehearsal of the Orchestra will be held Thursday at 4:30, under the supervision of Professor Orr. Professor Orr is now planning to have Mr. Heizer take charge of the Orchestra after a few weeks. Mr. Heizer has made arrangements whereby he is now able to spend the entire day at the College, thus giving more time for teaching.

SOCIETY

The Delta Phi Beta members entertained a few of the new girls Friday evening at the home of Genevieve Kelly. The evening was spent in games and music. All agrees to having had a good time.

Y. W. C. A. PARTY.

One of the most unique and enjoyable informal parties of the year was given in the parlors of Ceres Hall, Saturday afternoon when the Young Woman's Christian Association entertained all the women of the college.

MRS. DAVID J. deLENDRECIE

teaches beginners ball room dancing as well as the latest steps in the modern dances. Phone 1480 to arrange for private or class lessons.

After an informal introductory and social hour a short program rendered consisting of instrumental music by Maud Engle, a reading by Mary Gibbens and vocal music by Mrs. Sweetman. Immediately following this Y. M. C. A. monogrammed cards were distributed and those bearing like numbers were divided into groups. These groups were then ushered into and a very prettily decorated pink and white Japanese tea room in the center of which was an artistically arranged coffee service with Mrs. Sweetman presiding. The guests were served with coffee and wafers and a delightful social chatter encouraged others to come into the tea room.

All who were present declare that this was one of the prettiest little affairs that has been given at the college his year.

CORRECTION

Due to an oversight on the part of the Staff, last week's Spectrum stated that Walter Douglas, who is to leave soon, was to take up work in Animal Husbandry at Nebraska. Mr. Douglas is planning on going farming near Lincoln, Nebraska, instead of going to school. The Staff takes pleasure in making this correction.

ATHLETICS

Second Team

Loses to Normal

EXTRACT SHORT END OF 27-0 SCORE AT VALLEY CITY

In a hard luck game last Saturday the Aggie seconds lost to the Valley City Normal by the score of 27-0. Valley City had a heavy line and a strong backfield; but in spite of this handicap the Aggies put up a strong game. This was the second game, and gave Assistant Coach Darnar a chance to pick out the weak spots. With some experienced ends and some heavy men in the backfield, the seconds should give a good report of themselves. The boys are not downcast, however, as they claim that this is the first defeat they have suffered in two years. They are mostly inexperienced men, and doubtless will profit considerably by the mistakes of last Saturday's game. They are now planning to humble Mayville Normal if a game can be scheduled.

ABERDEEN GAME CALLED OFF

The foot ball game scheduled with Aberdeen Normal for Friday has been called off by the authorities of that school. According to rumor, the financial condition of their athletic association was very poor, and this fact together with the fact that they have an extra poor team has caused the calling off of the game. As yet no other game has been scheduled, but the loss of this game will surely be made up to holders of season tickets at some future date.

FIRST KADONA DANCE SATURDAY

The first of the series of five dances to be given by the Kadona club, will be held on Saturday evening, October 23, at the K. C. hall. Those who took in those dances of last year are anxiously awaiting the coming of Saturday and the first Kadona; and those who were not so fortunate, are eagerly waiting to prove the statement of the first group true. Bernstein's orchestra supplies the music. That Playing in a game that seriously interfered with the use of the forward passes, the University of Minnesota defeated the University of South Dakota, 19 to 0. Captain Solon scored two touchdowns in the second period and Long on a forward pass from Wyman, crossed the goal line in the final quarter for the third touchdown. Solon kicked one goal from touchdown. Frequent penalties marked the Minnesotans' play.

University Wins Over Fargo College In Close Game

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 16.—Outweighed man to man and cheered time and time again for their hard playing by 6,000 spectators, Fargo College this afternoon went down to defeat before the University of North Dakota by a score of 6 to 0. It was the hardest fought game staged on a North Dakota gridiron this season.

The lone touchdown came in the first quarter. Lowe of the university plunged through the Fargo College line, after the university had had a series of repeated line bucks. The university failed to kick goal.

The university made its fumbles, and many of them coming at critical times and giving the ball to the visitors, who were unable to gain through the heavy line of the university and were forced to resort to punting, getting the punts well off.

Most of the gains were made on wide end runs with good interference. Both sides were unable to work forward passes because of the splendid work of the backfield men on both sides, who covered their ground well. Fargo recovered half of the university's fumbles.

A light rain fell during the third die. It was in this quarter that Coach Die. It was in this quarter that Coach Doseff took Boise out and shifted his backfield considerably, in hope that fresh men would tear through their opponent's line for a touchdown and that a possible kick goal would give them the game by a margin of one point. But the university line held firm and punting resulted.

Fargo was penalized twice for off-side and once for crawling. University was penalized frequently for holding in the game.

Bright Ones From The Minneapolis Trip

Before arriving at Minneapolis, the conductor was at a loss to know what had happened to the hat-checks; some of them appeared to be rather worn and dilapidated. Nobody volunteered any information at the time but later reports leads one to believe that there were a few more passengers than hat-checks.

Benson, Kelley, Foley, Dodds and Homme intended to get o at Detroit to get off at their station, and as the to get off at their station; and as the conductor forgot to awaken them, they slept peacefully until they landed in the Twin Cities.

Two of last year's Sophomore class, Mary Hartney and Louise Clayton were seen at the St. Thomas A. C. game. They are attending the Minnesota "U" this year and seem to be enjoying themselves. However, they said that they would like to be back in Ceres under Mrs. Gilbert's maternal wing.

Bunch arrived in the cities and started to do the town up right away. Dixon gets mixed up and goes to the wrong hotel. Asks a taxi to help him out.

Hard luck, some one slips a cog and the works get gummed. St. Thomas slides over for an unlucky number.

Gazette feels bad when he hits Rogers. Asks waiter to bring him one of those little things wrapped up in paper, looks like an after dinner mint. Enter, sugar lump.

Dodds decides that he does not want to count ties on the way back. He acts natural for ten minutes and thus attracts copper's attention. He is brought up before insanity board, declared hopeless and given free transportation to the state from which he came. Result: Dodds is with us again.

Bunch goes to Galety, Dick gets initiated into stage dome. He doesn't fall.

Bunch linger along. Hate to go back. Not all in yet.

EXCHANGES

A soccer game with Iowa University has already been definitely scheduled and the possibility of an additional game with Cornell makes the prospects for a successful soccer season this year exceptionally bright. Iowa defeated the Grinnell team by a close score on the home grounds last year, but the return of a large number of the Scarlet and Black stars boosts the prospects for a fast aggregation this season.

By starting with a wonderful rush, driving their heavier opponents steadily before them, showing remarkable team work and the effects of conscientious and wise coaching, and completely outclassing the opposing eleven at phases of the game which were expected by many to bring an Oregon victory, the Washington State College football team on Saturday outplayed and outought the heavy team from the University of Oregon and won by a score of 23 to 3. It was a wonderful battle, full of thrills and surprises, and 1200 supporters of the team made the most of the victory. Sweetness was added to the result by virtue of the considerable amount of apprehension felt by the state college rooters before the game as to the real effectiveness of the new coaching methods introduced this year by Coach Wm. H. Dietz, but since the contest Dietz and his team of fighters are heroes.

The practice game with the State College at Brookings resulted in a disastrous defeat for Huron, the score being 39 to 0. This was partly due to the short time Huron has had for practice since the beginning of school; but none of the boys who played are willing to say that State has a wonderful team; the veterans of last year, such as Webber, Sheehan, and Skinner, and an influx of new men who are making competition for places keen, giving them an organization which will certainly make any team with championship aspirations hustle to keep up with them.

SOUTH DAKOTA

Perhaps never before have football prospects been so bright for State College. With nearly all of last year's squad in school, and with a good supply of new material in the freshman class, our chances for a freshman class, our chances for a winning team are indeed strong. The need the support and encouragement of the student body. Boost for the team, and State will go through the most successful football season she has ever had. Begin early, and keep it up until the time keepers whistle has closed the last game.

Dakota Wesleyan is to have two triangular intercollegiate debates this year. In the debates with her old rivals, Yankton and Huron, a new question, "Resolved, That socialistic control of the means of production and exchange would be preferable to the present capitalistic system," will be discussed. In the other triangular with Morningside and St. Olaf's the question of a city manager for the government of municipalities has been selected.

THE 20-YARD LINE

Cheered by several hundred local rooters under the direction of Harry ("Champ") Clark, cheer leader, and the lusty voices of as many more high school students from the city schools, Coach Sanderson's gridiron performers repeated their feat of last year at Mizsoh park Saturday, when they again whitewashed the eleven from Yankton college by the score of 51 to 0. The score Saturday was indicative of the superior all around ability of the Maroon huskies over their lighter opponents. The game last year was won by the Maroons by 48 to 0 count.

Yale and Princeton will be the head-liners in the East on Nov. 13, while Minnesota and Chicago will play the leading roles in the middle west. Other important contests on the same day include Washington and Lee and Cornell, Brown at Harvard, Michigan at Pennsylvania, Colgate at Syracuse, Penn State at Lafayette, South Dakota at North Dakota, Amherst at Williams and Illinois at Wisconsin.

ALUMNI

Hugh J. Hughes, '09, now editor and business manager of Farm, Stock and Home, one of the most influential agricultural papers in the Northwest, was a visitor at the Agricultural College last week. Mr. Hughes is a good example of the kind of service for which an Agricultural College education fits a man.

Dr. Otto Beiersdorf, who completed the larger part of the Farm Husbandry Course at the A. C., and recently graduated from the Chicago School of Veterinary Science, took the state examination for veterinary surgeon last week. Otto was a prominent character on the campus some years ago. He is located at Stirum, N. Dak.

Among those of the Alumni to be married this past summer were Chester Holkesvig and Beatrice E. Alm, '13. While in school "Hoke" was active in fraternity and dramatic club circles. Since her graduation Miss Alm has been teaching in the High School at Park River. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents at Hankinson. The newly-weds are now living at Gibbsboro, N. J. where the groom has a position with the John Lucas company.

Helen Hoover, '12, and Dr. Styner N. Thams of Ambrose were recently married in Fargo, at the home of the bride's parents.

Chas. G. Carlson '15, has also joined the benedicts, his bride being Miss Esther Bengston of St. Cloud, Minn.

Fred Hackett '13, formerly prominent in athletic and fraternity circles, is now instructor in Manual Training at Moorhead High. From reports, he is enjoying the work and making a success of it.

Miss Simmons' Greek Play Received With Enthusiasm of Minot-- Federation Notes

The important feature of the Wednesday evening session of the State Federation of Women's clubs in Minot, was the presentation of the Greek play written by Miss Abbie Simmons of the A. C. of Fargo. Apollo and Daphne, which is now being copyrighted. One attractive feature of the play was the lovely Dance of the Muses, which had as its originator another well known Fargo resident Mrs. David deLendrecie, whose work in classic and other fancy dancing is well known. The cast for the play were chosen from among Minot young people, and the presentation was under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Storey, of that city. The play was given under the auspices of the endowment fund committee, at the Grand Opera House, Minot, and was largely attended. The leading roles were taken by Miss Karyl Kunkel, a clever young actress who is making an extended visit in Minot from her home in the east and by Royal Storey, who has had considerable experience along the lines of this particular play.

Miss Simmons' Report
 The report of Miss Abbie L. Simmons, Fargo, chairman of the drama section of the state federation literature and library department, as given at the convention session this afternoon, follows in part:

"As the chairman of the dramatic section of the library and literary department of the North Dakota Federation of Women's clubs was appointed last spring, she, in consequence thereof, has very little definite work to report.

Responses received from the vice presidents heard from, out of the eight districts of the state, told of very little work accomplished in the study of the drama, though all thought the subject an important one. Clubs reported as studying the drama are, Woman's Study club of Turtle Lake, Women's Literary club of Carrington, McHenry Women's club, and the chairman will add to that list the Round Table club of Fargo, and the drama section of the Fine Arts club which has devoted four years of study to the modern drama.

"Some of our club women may be wondering why a club should give special heed to the study of the drama. One very potent reason is that through the study of the great dramatic masterpieces of all nations, one gains the clearest, truest, and all-round illuminating ideas of human nature, human situations, and human problems. This includes that philosophy of life which presents the modern view of ethics. In previous clays, not so very far removed from our present era, our philosophy of Mrs. Stafford of Parsons, Kansas, has been visiting with her niece, Miss Engle this past week.

Miss Agnes Hutchison took dinner with Mrs. P. D. Gilger last week.

Rev. Gaubriel and his wife have been the guests of Mrs. Gilbert the past week. They are here as delegates from Reynolds at the Methodist conference.

Miss Spurgin, the physical director at Fargo College and Miss Foiner of Chicago, visited Miss Agnes Hutchison Monday afternoon.

Twenty girls at Ceres met in room 14 and did justice to a spread, Tuesday evening. After it was over and the girls were going down the corridor to their rooms, there was a lot of yelling and screaming when the man from room 16 appeared on them tho that "he" was harmless and would not hurt them.

Miss Jeanette Westley and Ruth Olsen autoed to their home at Hanaford Saturday morning.

Gldays Plath was home last Friday and Saturday, returning Sunday. She surely returned with a grand display of fall styles.

Miss Elise is one of the Home-makers to join the few who have returned. Miss Horn is a Senior this year and returned Monday to resume her course.

Miss Gust of Davenport was the guest of Gladys Plath at dinner Sunday.

Miss Evans has been staying at the Hall since Thursday for some reason or other campus has a great attraction for her.

Mrs. Sherman had no news to tell except that she has purchased a new waist.

Life was expressed in the essay of a Carlyle, a Ruskin, an Emerson; in the novels of an Eliot, a Meredith or in the poems of a Wordsworth, a Browning, or a Whitman. Today this philosophy comes to us through a Galsworthy, a Shaw, a Tagore, and a host of other dramatists who have set before their audiences the different phases of life that really exist in every nation under the sun; and this fact brings home to us, perhaps more keenly than ever before, that the whole world is akin in its pleasures, its sorrows, its passions. This circumstance alone should be sufficient

LOCALS

The regular white suits, which are a part of the equipment of each student taking dairy laboratory will be here in a short time.

During the past week plumbers have been engaged in installing gas and hot water connections for the laboratories in the dairy building.

Over six hundred dollars worth of improvements will be added to the dairy department and this will be applied more to the laboratories. It will make them complete and up-to-date in every respect.

On October 6th, Superintendent W. G. Patterson of the Federal Station at Mandan together with Mr. Pfander of the same station were here looking over this station and the work done here. They have been up at the government stations operated by the Canadian Government in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Manitoba and have looked into methods there. They have left for points in Minnesota where they will investigate reformation.

Commissioner Crouch does not seem to be able to keep his mind off of the fair sex—no names mentioned of course. The other day in History 6 the following conversation took place.

Prof. Trimble: Now Mr. Crouch, what products did the West Indies excel in during the early colonial period?
 Crouch: Ah—er—corn!
 Prof. Trimble: Do you mean maize or other cereals?
 Crouch: No, Kaffir corn.

Rourke sure must be getting old. Upon his return from the squad trip he departed one morning rather early (for him) for home. In his hurry to return however, he absolutely forgot to get the required amount of postage stamps for which to mail home the weekly (?) letter. As a result he has been hitting every one around the campus for a two bit piece lately.

P. S. Rocky says that he has received some cash so that he can pay back his debts.

Ray Gibbons and Roy Powell have returned from a visit to their homes in Cando where they went after returning from the crack squad trip. They stepped into the Forks on their way back and looked over the town. It is reported that everything is as usual up there. Andy Gill is hard at work trying to wake the "U" bunch up before November 6th.

The only thing good that they saw in the whole town was a movie of the crack squad taken at the Twin Cities and shown at the "Photo" in the Forks. The picture will be shown at the "Garriek" the last of this week.

The University of Washington football team will be accompanied to San Francisco by an entire boat-load of students from the school when it leaves to meet the California team. The effect of such a spirit on a team is difficult to estimate, certainly it goes far toward assuring success. Any school might do well to emulate such an example as that shown at the U.

to guarantee furthering the study of the drama not only in the women's federated clubs of North Dakota, but also in the Federation of Women's clubs throughout our great nation.
 "Then since this study is of vital importance, let us, the members of the federated clubs of North Dakota, work towards the establishing of community theatres in our school-houses for the production of worthy plays; towards the presentation of instructive and beautiful pageants; towards encouraging the writing of plays by people in our own state; towards the study of the drama, by careful reading and lively discussion.
 "Therefore, in order to carry out better the points touched upon, let us join the Drama League of America, which union will also enable us to help in that great movement of extension work which is being accomplished by this well known league."
