Granville Barker Speaks at Little Country Theatre

WILL BE HERE SATURDAY, OCT. 16.

Famous Producer of Plays.

The American theatrical world was aroused and set guessing when Granville Barker, who will speak at The Little Country Theatre, on Saturday, October 16, came to New York last year and produced at Wallack's theatre several plays by Bernard Shaw, one by Anatole France, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and one by himself. But in a very short while, what uncertainty there had been about the outcome was over, and Granville Barker was recognized as a producer and playwright of rare merit who would become very popular with the American playgoing public. In England Mr. Barker's work is well known, in fact, he is acknowledged one of Britain's best producers but America had never seen his work before, and when it did, it gave him its enthusiastic approval.

Mr. Barker is the strongest advocate of better drama and more natural and logical methods in acting and producing. His belief is that bad drama is as bad as typhoid, and that the importance of having good plays cannot be too strongly emphasized. "I think," he recently said, "that any sociologist who claims it doesn't matter what sort of plays are seen by the millions of people who go into the theatres every day is writing himself down a callous person. The two things I want most to make the public feel are, first—that the theatre is important, and second that a good play doesn't mean a solemn play. On the contrary, the better a play is the jollier it is, and the better fun. A good play should exhilarate and entertain; it must be a vivid and natural expression of something. It can attack almost every kind of problem and enter almost every kind of life. There are a very few things that cannot be taken up in the drama."

WALTER DOUGLAS, HERDSMAN, LEAVING

Will Go to Nebraska Where he will Enter Live Stock Department

VIC ERICKSON '15 TO TAKE HIS PLACE

Walter Douglas, who has been the herdsman here for the past few years will leave his duties at this institution and journey to Nebraska where he will take up studies in the Animal Husbandry department. The students and faculty will feel his loss keenly as he has been a willing worker and has taken a decided interest in his duties. Many a student owes a great deal of his knowledge to his willingness at all times to impart his information.

It will not be so bad, however, as Vic Erickson, who graduated from here last year will take his place. Vic is well supplied with information and will be a great aid to the institution.

Mr. Zeigelman, a graduate of the chemical department, and now connected with the paint and varnish department of the Sears Roebuck Company, is here for a few weeks studying varnish and paint methods in connection with Professor Darners work.

CONVOCATION DRAWS A BIG CROWD

MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN BY PROFESSOR ORR

COACH DAVIS ROASTS THE IDLE MEMBERS

The program was divided into two parts: the first, musical in charge of Director Orr and Fredrick Heizer of the Musical Department, and the second, a short talk by Coach Davis. The following short program was rendered:

- Romance Svendsen
Mr. Heizer
(a) At Dawning Cadman
(b) To Horse! To Horse! Ward-Stephens
Mr. Orr
(a) Madrigal Simonetti
(b) Scheizo von Geons
Mr. Heizer
Mr. Case accompanied both Mr. Heizer and Mr. Orr.

In his introductory remarks, Coach Davis said he never made a speech, he just talked.

He said that probably the question he was expected to answer was: "What are the chances for a winning team?" This was for the students to answer. Candidly, the coach said thing looked blue, because of the falling off in number of men in suits each night. He said that the time-worn alibi was given, that there was too much studying to be done. The faculty would probably be very well pleased if 5 per cent of the students studied from 3:30 to 6:00. One thing the coach spoke against was the use of professional athletes on college teams. In his opinion, the professional athlete and hobo were in the same class. Another point was the place of athletics in the education of the young man or woman. Athletics are necessary for a fully rounded out education. At present 99 per cent of the college students stand back and let the 1 per cent take all the exercise. Roosevelt and Taft both realized their lack of college athletics, and during their terms in the White House both had hired trainers to look after their health. In conclusion the coach urged that a few more men get away from their Henry Clay pipes, cans of Tuxedo and jokes from 3:30 to 6:00 and find out for themselves the chances for a winning team

POSTPONED RUSH TAKES PLACE THURSDAY

Sophs Still Shy on Men—Freshmen are Confident

The annual sack rush will be staged on Dakotah Field tomorrow afternoon. At this time and place the Sophs and Frosh will do battle unto death. Four heavy sacks will be pushed and pulled about the field for fifteen minutes and at the end of which period the winner will be declared.

The Frosh are anxious to get a chance at the Sophs for many reasons, and more interest has been shown in the fight this year than was manifested last year.

The Sophs while weak on numbers are somewhat surer of their ground and with the members that came in since Monday, will put up a stiff front.

INTERNATIONAL TO CHANGE CUSTOM

Will Hold Only a Fat Stock Show Hereafter.

The International Live Stock Show will differ this year in its exhibits. Before this it has been the custom to hold a complete stock show with the exception of dairy animals. This year the management will hold only a fat stock show and it will consist of hogs, beef cattle and draft horses.

Capt. Dick Bjornson Who Will Soon be in the Game Again

BJORNSON NOW ON FIELD

VETERAN LINESMAN ABLE TO PLAY AGAIN.

Captain "Dick" Bjornson has left the invalid stage and gone into the limelight of the foot ball line again. For the past four weeks Bjornson has been laid up with a bad side and has been waiting anxiously on the side lines for the time when the doctor in charge gave the word that put him back into the game again. When he gets into condition he will bolster up a big hole in the line and his position in the field will add a lot of confidence to the team.

WEATHERWAX BROS. DRAWS LARGE CROWD

RENDER SPLENDID PROGRAM AT ARMORY.

Before a good sized crowd the Weatherwax Brothers quartette gave a fine musical and reading program. The numbers were good all the way thru and were rendered with a decided musical taste.

At the beginning of the program a few vocal numbers were rendered followed by two selections on the trumpets. Fred Emerson Brooks' "Mother" rendered as a reading or recital was given next by one of the younger members of the company and was enthusiastically received.

The quartette then gave "Sunset" by Van De Weyer. The voices were very well blended. "What a Flag Said" was also given at this time by the quartette and was a novel selection as it imagined what a flag would say if it had the power of speech. This was followed by a comical song which made it absolutely necessary for every one in the house to indulge in a good hearty laugh. La Mizzarari from Il Trovatore was next and was a trumpet selection. The tones were clear and distinct.

William Weatherwax, the oldest of the brothers made a decided hit with his exceptionally good readings. His numbers were Essay on Grass, The Cripple, The First Fight. With the exception of "The Cripple", which was semi-dramatic, the selections were all comical and were cleverly given.

The numbers were followed by the selection, "The Little Brown Church in the Vale" by Pitts, and a reading by one of the younger members of James Whitcomb Rileys', "That Old Sweatheart of Mine."

"The Sandman" by Prottman, a lullaby was given by the quartette and was very beautiful and left a decided harmonical effect.

The whole company then gave two national airs on the trumpets which was followed by "Lullaby" by Burns as the closing number.

The complete program was superbly given thruout and was heard by a very appreciative audience.

Aggies Play With Science School

Team Continues to Improve—Many Shifts in Line

Last Saturday morning Coach Davis and his Aggie warriors journeyed to Whapeton and in the afternoon trimmed up the down state team to the tune of 34 to 0. The Aggies went into the game with a determination to win and soon got busy, as the first touchdown was secured after five minutes of play.

The Aggies kicked off to the Scientists and held them for downs. It was almost impossible for them to penetrate the Aggie line. The ball was taken down the field and McQuene went over for the first touchdown the field and McQuene went over for the first touchdown. The Scientists chose to receive the ball again and they were held for downs giving the ball to the Aggies. McQuillan at full, Catlin at right half and McQuene at left half carried the ball for long runs. When the ball was ready to be shoved over for another touchdown a bad fumble gave the ball to the Scientists. The Aggies held and got possession of the ball. They repeated the same process when another fumble like the first one gave the ball to the Scientists. Science then punted out of danger, the Aggies losing two chances to score. Toward the end of the second quarter the Aggies had the ball on the 8 yard line and MacQuillan went around end for the second touchdown. Catlin kicked goal. The half ended soon after this.

In the second half Coach Davis made a good many substitutions and the Science school came back strong. They played the Aggies' second stringers even for a time but toward the end of the quarter the Aggies had the ball on the Science 30 yard line when Movold went around right and for 15 yards but fumbled the ball, but it rolled over the Whapeton goal line and Kelly fell on it thus securing the third touchdown. Movold punted out and Catlin kicked goal. Score: Aggie 21, Science 0.

In the fourth quarter Nemzek went in at full back. Bolzinger went to half back. The Science bunch punted to the Aggies 30 yard line and by a series of end runs and line plays the Aggies secured their fourth touchdown: Catlin missed the goal. Score: Aggies 27, Science 0. The Aggies received the ball on their 10 yard line and Nemzek returned 10 yards. On the next play Bolsinger made a spectacular run around the end with perfect interference for 80 yards and the last touchdown of the game. Catlin kicked a perfect goal. Score: Aggies 34, Science 0.

The Science kicked off to the Aggies and after a few plays the game ended with the ball in the possession of the Aggies on Science 40 yd line. The Aggie line showed that much improvement had been made over last week as they were more aggressive and stone wall on the defense. Another week's workout under Coach Davis and they will be ready to stop the terrific plunges of the St. Thomas backs.

WELCOME, CRACK SQUAD

Last Saturday night the college planned a welcome for the returning members of the conquering crack squad. The band made its first appearance for the year, the student body responded very well, and everybody was excited.

Well, anyway the spirit was there, and we are glad to see them back the crack squad has done more advertising for the old A. C. than any one factor in recent years.

A PLEA

As late as Monday night the editor found people about the campus who did not know which team had won at Whapeton Saturday. We are certainly thankful that everyone is not in the same position. It shows a decided lack of personal interest in school activities.

Look at the staff. About ten vacancies to fill. Nobody for the job. What is the trouble? The editor does not think he is to blame. He has offered so many people work on the staff that he is ashamed to ask any more.

Those that have been asked have all been busy, at least the majority of them have.

To be sure, there are six or seven who are now serving. But with heavy schedules it is impossible for these six or seven to turn out the paper alone.

We now put it up to you. If you want to get the Spectrum out on Wednesday at nine o'clock each week offer some of that valuable time that you spend on the corners of the day to the editor. He can use it.

A school paper, to be efficient must have the support and contributions of the students who subscribe thereto. It should set forth the ideals as they should be set forth by the student body. It should help them in their play and work and cover over mishaps and failures in their own as well as the college work.

The present editor feels that he cannot do this work with half a staff even tho that staff work all of their available time. Now, as we said before, it's up to you. If you want the Spectrum, get up and hustle. Otherwise, the editor will be in a position to turn over the chief office to someone else.

BRING ON THE COFFIN

The enthusiasm worked up over the Jamestown game was not as strong as it should have been for the first game of the season.

Who is to blame? Certainly there could have been a better turnout for this first game. With a new coach at the head of the athletic department, new men in the line-up and wit Jamestown clamoring for twenty instead of fifteen minute quarters, it is funny that more interest was not shown in the game.

The cause of the great European war—its results on humanity. Our editorial on the great conflict:

ONE ON SON Melvin said in his last letter that he would be home on Saturday, so beginning on Sunday Eleanor will smile again.

DENTING PLATFORM

Some passengers were standing on a station platform when they heard a noise like the smashing of things. On looking around they saw a baggage master throwing trunks from a car with large strenuousness. Suddenly the chief baggage party rushed from the depot with some speed.

"Look here," he loudly exclaimed, addressing the man in the car to the great astonishment of the passengers, "why in the deuce don't you be careful how you unload those trunks?"

"What's the matter with you?" was the grouchy rejoinder of the man in the car. "I've got to get 'em out o' here, hain't I?" "Yes," answered the head baggage party, pointing downward, "but can't you see that you are making dents in the concrete platform?"

ATHLETICS

N. D. A. TIES WITH MONTANA U.

UP STATERS CLAIM LARGE HOSPITAL LIST.

North Dakota's battered, limping football team opened the home season yesterday at Univeristy Field by fighting Montana to a 10 to 10 tie in a contest, the close of which was probably the most sensational ever played on this gridiron.

Getting away to a 10 to 0 lead in the first half in ending that period with a spurt that carried the ball from near their own goal line to within 15 yards of the visitors, the Flickertails looked like winners and wild enthusiasm was displayed by the students in snake dances, while the teams were taking their ten minute rest. The game comeback of the Bruins, however, outplayed the flickers in the closing half, changed the face of the situation decidedly, when shortly after the opening of the third quarter Sanderson, the fighting fullback of the Montanans, dove over the Dakota line for a touchdown, from which Blackwell negotiated a goal, making the score 10 to 7, with North Dakota leading by three points.

Four minutes before the final whistle, after the westerners had been driven back from the Dakota goal three times, Blackwell tied up the count when he dropped back and booted a place kick between the bars. The play was deliberate and sure. Montana's great line of forwards holding like a stone wall in every place except one. This one place was opposite Captain Ralph Lynch, who had been kept on the sideline with an injured shoulder and who had gone into the game but a few moments before amid wild cheering. Lynch tore through and jumped in the air to block the kick, but his fingers just grazed the oval as it passed above him. The touch was too slight to alter the course of the ball, however, and North Dakota's apparent victory went aglimmering.

The Flickertails' first score came in the closing moments of the first quarter, when Bob Lowe intercepted a forward pass and aided by interference through the crowded portion of the field sped 55 yards to a touchdown, from which McKay kicked the goal.

With the ball on the Montana ten yard line at the opening of the second quarter, on the fourth down, McKay negotiated a dropkick that gave North Dakota its last count. The half finished with the ball in Montana territory the rest of the time.

JAMESTOWN AND FARGO COLLEGE PLAY TO TIE

Repeat the Same Performance As That of Last Year

Jamestown college 7, Fargo College 7, was the result of the game when the Sky pilots journeyed to Jintown. The game was a repetition of last year's game when the two teams played to a tie of 6 to 6.

A large crowd witnessed the game which was cleanly played on both sides, Jamestown having a slight advantage most of the time. Fargo college's touchdown was made in the first half through a fumble. Holmes carried the ball across for the Hill-toppers.

The Jintown squad got their touchdown in the second half by beans of a forward pass to Harmon.

We advise the students who find their rooms too noisy for strict application to go to the bowling alley, where they will find it so quiet they can hear a pin drop any time.

AAMODT REGISTERED AS FRESHMAN

Will Fill a Big Hole in the Line Where Strength is Needed

Aamodt, who was one of Coach Wood's best warriors of the championship Aggie team of 1914, reported to Coach Davis on Decotah field Monday. The reappearance of Aamodt on the field made the team look a little better than at any time before this season. Aamodt is a big fellow and can be remembered by the way he held his own in the line last year. While Aamodt is big and fast and has had experience, it will make him hump some to get a berth on the Aggie squad.

LINE IMPROVING STEADILY

New Men Are Putting Mome Pep in the Plays

The line has been rounding into shape during the last two weeks and when they are pitted against the big shifty line at St. Thomas, Thursday, it will give Coach Davis his first opportunity to see just what the men can do.

The Aggie squad now numbers 35 and the coach is using each man in a different place until he determines just where he belongs and just what he can do. As yet there is no first team. The men are being shifted all the time, learning all of the plays and then getting into them from all positions. Aamodt, last years guard, will report steadily and Bjornson is getting into condition.

ST. THOMAS FRIDAY

One of Biggest Games of Season—Pickering Coaching the Fast Irishmen

Thursday afternoon the squad leaves for St. Paul, where they will play the fast St. Thomas bunch on Friday. The St. Thomas team is reported as being the fastest that the Catholics have ever had. They are under the tutelage of Earl Pickering, who is well known for his wonderful work with Minnesota. Pickering has all of last year's regulars back in the harness and with this line-up they are very confident that they will have no trouble in disposing of the Aggies. With the improvement Davis sets it is doubtful whether or not we will not have a better chance than was afforded us last year.

The less some people have to say the more they let you know it.

You can lead a horse to water, But you cannot make him drink, You can show a Soph his lessons, But you cannot make him think.

S. D. A. C. HOBO DAY

Hobo Day, which has come to be one of the greatest days of the college year at S. D. A. C., is now only a month away, and the committee is hard at work with its plans for the day. They will be ready to report at a meeting of the Student's Association soon. Indications are that the 1915 Hobo Day will be the biggest and greatest in the history of the institution, and cooperative action on the part of all persons connected with the college will insure a great day for S. D. A. C. Boost for it.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

When bathing one's face care should be taken in wintry days not to get any water on said face.

When baking cakes, if one finds the vanilla all gone—don't put any in.

If same cake burns in oven, it is too hot. Remedy: Remove flame or cake.

If one finds a red mark on one's card, it means the teacher is a little queer. Remedy: Take same subject over.

If you haven't anything to do—don't do it. Do something else.

When yawning open the mouth wide—others may want to start also you know.

If one feels thirsty, it is a sign said one needs a drink. Remedy: Drink a glassful of water, and if not then refreshed, drink another.

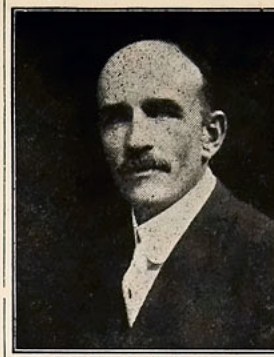

If one has a crush on a young lady, who spurns one's love, make oneself very much of a nuisance around said young lady. Such cases have been reported, where said young lady said ones to get rid of them.

Never graduate with a diploma, etc., unless you have 126 credits. It doesn't pay.

If anyone reads these hints and not be benefitted, they'd better engage space in a padded cell. Remedy: Don't believe everything you read.

BUSINESS FIRST

A Limerick miller, noted for his keenness in financial matters, was in a boat trying to get across a stream which drove his mill. The stream was flooded and the boat was upset. His wife seeing his danger, ran frantically along the side of the stream shouting for help when to her amazement she heard her husband saying out:

Dr. Charles E. Barker.

"If I'm drowned, Maggie, don't forget that flour has gone up 4 shilling a sack."

The food department is sending out notices that the use of second hand kegs for the shipping of sweet ciders, etc., will be unlawful after the first of January, 1916. It is claimed that the kegs become dirty and decayed in laying around the basements of stores and are liable to become infected with disease. Then too, they are very hard to wash and can never be washed clean. It is claimed that the cost of shipping, washing and repairing the empty keg will pay for a new one.

ATHLETES SUSCEPTIBLE TO CROWD CONTAGION

ONE OF THE FEW HELPFUL DISEASES

PSYCHOLOGISTS MAKE INVESTIGATIONS

Walter Cristie, the University of California coach, states as his opinion based on 25 years of observation, that one-fourth of the efficiency of athletes comes directly from cheering of the rooters. The athlete, he says, must have music and noise to keep him going. He claims that in the inter-collegiate contests on the coast, California men invariably slow down while passing the rival rooters, but that upon reaching the other side of the grandstand they speed up because of the proximity to the rooters for their own school. The principle involved is said to be one well known to psychologists as "crowd contagion," and is a recognized factor in determining the strength of the contestants. It is stated that a man breaks quickly into his reserve of strength when a thousand throats are helping him on. A show of abnormal strength is usually coincident with a loud cheer from the bleachers.

DRAMATIC CLUB PLANS WORK

PLAYS OF VERY HIGH CALIBRE TO BE PRESENTED

TO EXCHANGE PLAYS WITH U.

The Edwin Booth Dramatic Club held their first meeting of the year on Tuesday last in the Little Country Theatre. Officers were elected and plans for the coming year were discussed. This organization, one of the most popular on the campus, and has always ranked very high among the various student activities. The club members are very enthusiastic over the prospects for the coming year, as they plan on presenting three large dramas besides numerous one act plays. The first offering of the club will be on November 24th, the day before Thanksgiving, at which time a modern play of a serious nature will be staged in the Little Theatre. Several plays are under consideration at the present time. A choice will be made in a few days, and the cast will be selected. In the winter a rural comedy will be given. On April 23d, which is the 300th anniversary of Shakespeare's death, one of his plays will be staged, probably "Twelfth Night" or "As You Like It." Membership for the club are selected from those who have taken part in plays and have shown considerable dramatic ability. Anyone desiring to try out for the club should make arrangements to enter into the plays of the various literary societies or one of the short plays of the dramatic club. In addition to Mr. Arvold under whose efficient guidance the dramatic club has reached its present high standards, the dramatic club is to have the assistance of Miss Della Linwell, a graduate of Wisconsin U. in the coaching of their big plays. An added feature of the work this year will be the exchange of plays with the Sock and Buskin Dramatic Club of the University at Grand Forks. The members of the club are President Louise Fitzgerald, Vice President Barbara Heidner, Secretary Katherine Keye, Treasurer Katherine Ladd, Helen Lewis, Ailene Knatvold, Arnold Christensen, Earl Yerington and Rispa Ladd. Mary Gibbens was elected to membership.

COACH NEED MORE MEN

TURN OUT AND HELP

According to a statement made last week, there is a dearth of men on the foot ball field. Last year there as many as 40 men out, the greater part stuck the season out. So far this year there has been about 50 suits given out. Fellows go out for a day or two and then turn their suits in. Such a state of affairs should not exist in a school of this type. It is not only discouraging to the coach, but tends to produce a lethargy in the student body as a whole. There is an opportunity for at least 50 men to get some splendid exercise and some good training in the many arts of foot ball.

We have the man who knows the game, and it is up to the students to produce the necessary quota of men from which a strong team can be picked.

FRESHMEN GET ACQUAINTED WITH PADDLES

Gilles, Flaten, and Clough Take it Seriously—Hertzog and Kelly Just Miss It

The upper classmen were busy last week on the paddle end of the deal. Numerous frosh refused to wear the official head gear consequently the entire bunch were dealt with in a masterly fashion and but for the timely pleading of some of the gentler sex the freshmen might yet be smarter in some places. They all seemed to be marching very evenly at this time to the tune of "The Wearin' o' the Green."

LIBRARY NOTES

There has been so much call for reference books in the library the past week that it will be necessary to open evenings, hereafter.

The hours are:
 8:00-12:00, 12:30-6:00 Monday to Friday.
 8:00-12:00, 1:00-6:00 Saturdays.
 7:00-9:00 evenings, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.
 9:00-12:00, 1:00-5:00 vacation days.
 The reserve shelves are fast filling with books. This method for class study seems to be more popular every year.

There are now about sixty enrolled in the Freshman class for library science. Each division meets once a week for instruction and is given practical problems which are later worked out, right in the library among the books. Since this course has been given, a marked feeling of independence in their use of the library has been noted among the students, and many of them are gaining more confidence, as they continue their reference work in the library.

The following new books are among others of interest that have been accessioned and cataloged since the close of school last spring:
 Bates, E. W.—Pageans and Pageantry, 1912.
 Betts, G. H. and Hall, O. E.—Better Rural Schools, 1914.
 Carney, Mabel—Country Life and the Country School, 1912.
 Crampton, C. W.—Fold Dance Book, 1913.
 Doncaster, L.—Hereditry in the Light of Recent Research, 1912.
 Fowler, N. C.—Stories and Toasts, 1914.
 Grabo, C. H.—The Art of Short Story Telling, 1913.
 Kennedy, Sinclair—The Pan-Angles, 1914.
 King, H. C.—Rational Living, 1907.
 Martin, F. E. and Davis, G. M.—Firebrands, 1912.
 Pearson, P. H. and Hicks, P. M.—Extemporaneous Speaking, 1912.
 Staedeler and Abetjanz—Qualitative Chemical Analysis, 1912.
 In addition to the above volumes a number of the books belonging to the Debaters' Handbook Series have been received. Among the titles are: Child Labor; Government Ownership of Telegraph and Telephone; Woman Suffrage; Government Ownership of Railroads; Compulsory Arbitration of Industrial Disputes; Municipal Ownership; Enlargement of U. S. Navy; Compulsory Insurance; Direct Primaries; Central Bank of the U. S.; Election of U. S. Senators, Free Trade and Protection, and Federal Control of Interstate Corporations.
