ANNUAL JOINT SOCIAL ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

LARGE CROWD IN ATTENDANCE

Saturday evening at eight o'clock the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. were hosts and hostess at their annual joint social in the College Armory. The Armory was appropriately decorated for the occasion with banners and potted plants. About two hundred faculty members and students were present. Most noticeable among the number however were the "Newlywed Profs" and their "Newly acquired helpmates."

As each person entered, he was supplied with a tag, on which he was instructed to write his name. Then everyone grouped together and were informed by Bill Mendenhall that the person, who managed to get the most names on his or her card would receive a prize? In this way everyone got acquainted with everyone else.

Then all were divided into groups, according to the color of their cards, and were instructed to get busy and prepare a stunt. The first stunt was of a military nature, being the triumphal march of an almost army, lead by "Gen." Fitzgerald, equipped with all the guns and bugles which the gun room possessed.

The next affair was an extemporaneous speaking class, with Mary Gibbens as teacher. Speeches were given by Geo. Dixon, Dick Lewis, Dorothy Price, Agnes Hutchison, Ward Porter, and Harold Bachman. All were very ably given and showed very careful preparation, usually very uncommon in a class of this kind.

The third stunt was a game, and caused much merriment among both the players and the spectators.

The last stunt of the evening was an auction sale, with Percy Beals as the auctioneer. Numerous unclaimed articles were disposed of including a package of Cornflakes for A. Christianson, some Hair Tonic billed to Arvold, Parrott & Co., and a large package labeled as the "Heavenly twins" was disposed of for the small sum of one million dollars.

Delicious refreshments consisting of neapolitan ice cream, and angel food cake were served, and all present had a most enjoyable evening.

Polytechnic Society Holds First Meeting October 7th

Fine Program Arranged For Coming Year

Announcements of the opening meeting of the eighth annual program of the North Dakota Polytechnic Society have just been made public. This meeting occurred on Thursday evening, October 7th, at 7 p. m. in Ceres Hall at the Agricultural College. Following the custom of the past few years, the opening meeting will be a reception to the ladies and the new members. Dinner will be served in the Ceres Hall dining room under the efficient direction of Mrs. Gilbert. The address of the evening will be delivered by Dr. O. G. Libby, of the University of North Dakota, upon the topic "A Hundred Years of Peace."

It will be recalled that last year Dr. L. T. Guild delivered an address at the opening meeting of the society upon the "The Eternal Eastern Question" or a study of the Balkan peninsula conditions. In view of the direction in which the great European war has now assumed, Dr. Guild's remarks were of more than opportune interest. It is to be hoped that Dr. Libby's address, the historical in nature, may be prophetic as well.

The complete Polytechnic program for the year follows. While the majority of the speakers are residents of Fargo, there are included one from the University of Wisconsin, one from the Moorhead Normal School and Dr. Libby from the University at Grand Forks. There are a number of innovations upon the program which promises to be of the greatest interest. Detailed announcements of each meeting will be made from time to time and it is hoped that the citizens of Fargo and Moorhead will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear these Polytechnic lectures.

Aggies Win First Game from Jamestown

Remarkable Showing for First Game of Season

The Aggies won from Jamestown Saturday in a walkaway. The Jamestown line was like paper and at the command of Movold could be cut at will.

The Aggies kicked off at the start and Jamestown made several futile efforts to get through. They were also penalized for being offside. The Aggies soon got possession of the ball and started down the field. In less than five minutes Bolsinger went over for the first touchdown but the farmers failed to kick goal. Again the Aggies kicked off and a fumble by Jamestown gave them the ball.

tors lost the ball on the Aggies' 30-yard line. The quarter ended there.

Second Quarter.
At the opening of the second quarter Slingsby replaced Ross at right guard for the Aggies and the slaughter went forward again right merrily. The farmers swept down the field but lost the ball within five yards of Jimtown's goal. The visitors worked the ball down towards the center of the field and lost it again on downs. The Aggies then started another sweep down the field and when close to the visitors' goal pulled off a forward pass over the line. Catlin kicked goal. Soon afterwards the half ended.

In the third quarter neither side did much till close to the end when Catlin tore loose for a 40 yard run. Jimtown finally got the ball on their own 30-yard line but could not keep it and before the quarter closed the Aggies went over for another touchdown. Catlin again kicked goal.

Last Quarter Features Long Runs.
The last quarter was featured by the long runs of Catlin and Bolsinger. At the beginning of the quarter Catlin made a 35-yard run through a broken field. The Aggies finally lost the ball on downs. They were (Continued on page 3)

PRES. WORST HONORED BY INDIANS

IS REMEMBERED BY RED MEN OF STANDING ROCK RESERVATION.

For the past three years President Worst has been given tokens of esteem by his Indian admirers at Standing Rock Indian reservation.

It has been the custom of the Indians to demand that President Worst be with them at the time of their annual fair held at the reservation near Bullhead, S. D. The first year that the President was in attendance at the fair, he was presented with a beautiful beaded tobacco pouch. The next year it was a grip of wonderful design, and just the other day he received a beaded leather or rawhide hand bag with the flag of the union beaded into the design. The three articles comprise a collection of worth in themselves.

The letter that accompanied the gift was written by a full blooded Sioux Indian in as good a hand as the writer has seen, was properly punctuated and properly spelled. This is a feat that the average college graduate can not perform.

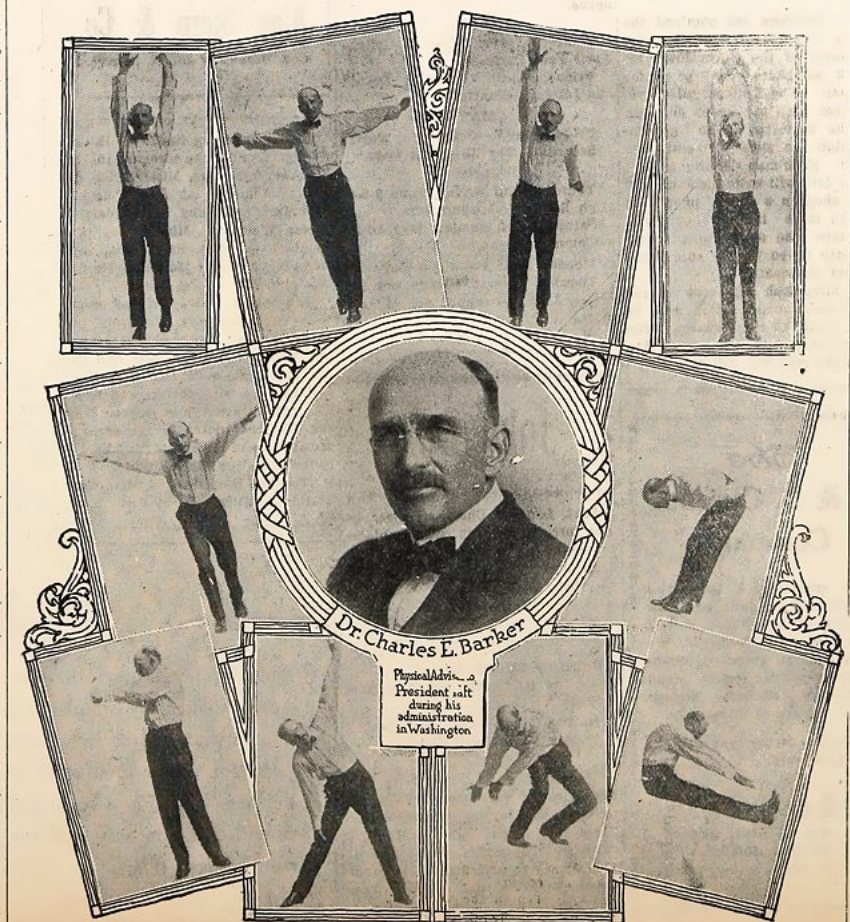

The letter was as follows:
Bullhead, S. D.
Sept. 28, 1915

My Dear Professor:
It gives me great pleasure to present to you at this time in behalf of the Standing Rock Indian Fair Association, the beaded hand-bag, sent under separate cover, as a souvenir for your trip to our fair.

Yours truly,
ROBERT HIGHEAGLE,
Treas. Standing Rock Indian Fair Association.

WORLD'S BEST BROTHERS QUARTETTE.

The Weatherwax quartette pleased everyone immensely and the attraction proved to be of a very high grade. The four members of this quartette are brothers and they are perhaps the only four brothers in the world who have voices suited so perfectly to quartette work of all kinds. Several high grade selections were also given by the brothers on trumpets and these numbers were of the same excellence as the rest. We can heartily recommend the Weatherwax Brothers' Quartette as one of the best on the road.—Rushmore, Minn., Enterprise.

DR. WALTERS SPEAKS AT CONVOCATION

Delivers Talk on "Unrecorded Influences of Our Lives."

Dr. Walters of this city was the speaker at the Monday convocation. He took for his subject, "Unrecorded Influences in our Lives."

He dwelt chiefly on the point that he benefits we enjoy in the physical, mental and moral world are the result of the vision, working, and sacrifice of men and women who have labored in the dark and have never been properly acknowledged. Such men as Stephenson, Fulton, and Westinghouse, were used as illustrations, also the "dago" and the "stoker" in their relation to their respective lines of work.

He further stated that college students should not forget that our parents are working hard to send us to college, and that we should make the best use of our wonderful opportunities here at "old A. C."

With this issue we are ready to present you with a part of our hard begotten staff. While they have been in the coming they are all of the best grade, guaranteed to last, a good share of them.

As associates the editor has had the good fortune to secure the services of Louise Fitzgerald and Joe Alexander, both of whom you may have heard of.

When it comes to handling the humorous side of the situation you have got to hand it to Joe. As usual Joe will edit the "Campus Gleanings" and we expect that this will be even stronger than ever.

In the person of Louise Fitzgerald we have a writer whose sterling worth has been proved again and again. A staunch supporter of everything worth while, always interested in things that are going on about her, and a wonderful gatherer of facts.

A. C. Registration Shows Increase

With many old students still to come in, the outlook for a large increase in enrollment is favorable. To date the freshmen class numbers seventy-six, a fact which is very gratifying.

MILITARY AND MUSIC BAND.

BAND.

Prof. Orr has been busy through the summer months in selecting new band music for the coming season. In the line of marches may be found some of the popular pieces.

So far only eighteen men have been registered for band work. But as there are several old men, who are not back and most likely some new, who have not reported the number will be considerable larger.

Band rehearsals will be held at 3:30 to 5 on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. As soon as the short course men arrive a second, and third band will be started.

Musical Chapel.

Prof. Orr and Frederick Heizer Jr. will give a musical program at Chapel next Monday.

Frederick Heizer Jr. made his debut as a child prodigy at the age of twelve years in Festival Hall, during the St. Louis World's Fair.

Alfred Matters has been secured as Special editor and from time to time will make contributions to the paper. He has had some experience in this line and is slated for the Agassiz staff this year.

Companies Will Be Organized.

Lieut. Carrithers will organize the companies the end of this week. As there is a shortage of non-commissioned and commissioned officers, all students wishing to try out for any officers, should write their name and the office they wish to try out for, on a slip, and the same in the box attached to the door of the office.

Government Shoes for Drill.

Lieut. Canthers has obtained the authority to purchase from the War Department of the Government regulation tan shoes—one pair for each man. The College rules require that high tan shoes be worn with the uniforms.

Also olive drab chevrons for the new commissioned officers may be bought from the same source. The corporal chevrons will cost 25c and all the rest will cost 30c.

ALUMNI

CLASS OF '14 TURN OUT CLASS ROSTER.

Often have we regretted the fact that many of our graduates immediately after commencement are apparently lost in the big world just outside the campus gate; often have we sought, but sought in vain, for a remedy. The task seemed hopeless until the "live" class of '14 performed the miracle in the form of "The 1914 Alumnus," a complete directory of the class giving the present address and occupation of each member.
