ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

The members of the Cadet band wish to publicly express their appreciation and gratitude to those who so kindly and faithfully worked and helped them in their circus and in their parade. The success of the circus was due not to the band members alone but to all the others who so generously donated their services and their support in every way.

Barnyard and Baled Hays' Circus Scores Big Success

Approving Comment Expressed by All Who Attended Performances—Affair Credit to Its Promoters.

The big circus which was presented by the band the last two days of last week proved to be one of the best things in that line which has been staged at this school. The attendance at the first two performances was not all that could be desired, but the last night proved to be a hummer not only in the size of the crowd but on the way that everything went off. One thing that was noticeable at this circus was the way in which the props used in the various acts were handled. The speed and smoothness with which they were moved was the result of hard work on the part of Prop Manager Tarbell and his crew of huskys.

Mr. Ringmaster.

That ringmaster: All over the feminine side of the house the commonest exclamation was, "Isn't he simply grand?" Although he is only an average human individual that has raised his height to at least seven and one-half feet. His voice made a hit too.

The Grand Entree.

Almost all the performers in the entire show were in the Grand Entree and the result was one that a real circus might have been proud of. The band's new uniform furnished a lot of color and was artistic in its simplicity. The only disappointment to some of the youngsters was the fact that the animals were barred from the entrance. Messrs. Colley and Anderson officiated as Marshals of the Entree and handled the maneuvers very nicely. After the Grand Entree, Drillmaster Superbus Ben Brown and his Cracked Squad held the floor. The results were a scream and a lasting lesson of the folly of believing in an unloaded gun.

The Clowns.

They were one of the biggest things in the entire show and many were saying that some of their stunts might be profitably copied by regular circus clowns. They broke into the performance at will and usually were greeted with a roar of laughter. There were many individuals deserving of special mention but space forbids that they be discussed here. Of exceptional merit was their burlesque of the crowning of the Circus Queen, and their suffrage parade.

General Features.

Misses Keene, Keye, and Gilbertson gave their Yama-yama dance before the crowning of the Circus Queen and were heartily received. After the completion of this dance they were joined by a number of young ladies and another pleasing dance was presented. They were formed around the throne in the center of the floor and attention was occupied by a number of graceful social dances. The crowning of the Circus Queen was the next number and was a very pretty and graceful tableau with Miss Ruby Head as the central figure.

PART TWO.

In the first ring, George Cratias and Herman Halland gave an instructive and interesting exhibition of the possibilities of the correct use of Jiu-Jitsu and showed the very serious injuries that could be inflicted by the use of hand and leg alone. In ring number two, Irvan Storland and his partner gave an exhibition of a sort of tumbling not usually seen, in which both participants had their feet tied in a grain sack. One of the gentlemen gave a very pretty display of twirling a heavy sledge hammer.

The elephant leaping act, staged by the employed boys' class of the city Y. M. C. A., was one of the features of the evening and afforded many thrills through their apparent reckless diving over the parallel. Some of the clowns took a whirl at the diving and some of them did almost break their necks. The management is to be congratulated on being able to secure such an excellent attraction for their circus.

Gratias and Barchus in ring number one entertained the crowd with a wrestling exhibition that was a real match and showed that these two gentlemen knew something about the wrestling game. Ring number two was held by Messrs. Dodds and Powell in a comedy boxing match. The two clown seconds, the referee and the policemen kept interfering and getting their heads jarred by chance blows. It was a very pretty performance and the remark was made several times that they would like to see that match pulled off in regulation style, so that its excellence might be plainly seen.

PART THREE.

Scoop Perry's trained elephant was the chief attraction during his appearance on the floor and much wonder was expressed over his marvelous mastery of the intricacies of the more modern dances. He was some mathematical machine although decidedly lazy, and when it came to walking all around and over his trainer he acted like he was walking on eggs. (He must have taken Dick for a concrete sidewalk.) He was somewhat of a featherweight, though, for an elephant when an ordinary folding chair supported his weight with ease. Curley, well known to members of this institution, was introduced as "the only dog who has been clear around the campus eleven thousand times," and performed a number of very clever tricks under the direction of Mr. Heidner. The ease with which Curley can negotiate an ordinary ladder, was the cause of much favorable comment. After the above two numbers the floor was cleared and turned over to the North Dakota Crack Squad. Although drilling under handicap through the loss of two men, and on Saturday afternoon of four men, the squad gave some of the best drills of their career. The drill on Saturday night was a whirlwind and several of the boys say that it was the best that the squad ever gave. The use of various colored spotlights added much to the attractiveness of the drill.

The gymnastic squad from the Senior Department of the city Y. M. C. A., were the next attractions and one of the best that held the floor during the evening. These gentlemen are the pick of the members of the city Y. M. C. A. and are certainly deserving of all the credit which they received. Their work on the parallel bars was excellent and its excellence was attested by the outburst of applause which followed each man's movements. One of the features which brought success was the fact that very rarely did each member of the squad go through the same movements as the man before him, thus lending much variety to their exhibition. Members of this school will be glad to see these gentlemen again.

PART FIVE.

This was a fitting finale for a circus as exceptional as this one was. The Daredevil Boys will be long remembered in the annals of the school as two of the most reckless gentlemen that have ever entered the institution. There was a regular procession of admiring kids, after each dive, all pressing forward for a glimpse at the man who had come through this hair-raising feat alive. One young lady was heard to say, "My—but I'll bet his head was sore when he hit." And one gentleman offered to bet any amount of money that the water in that tank was over two feet deep but was stunningly crushed when he measured it and found that it was not even two feet deep, but was a scant eighteen inches.

The Glee Club and quartet put on a very good minstrel show after the close of the main performance. Their makeup effectually concealed their identity and was a big aid to their Southern songs. And speaking of coons, what did you think of those peanut butchers, "Are you hungry? Are you thirsty?" They lent a lot of circus atmosphere to the performance and sold a most amazing amount of "fodder."

Taking it all in all, the recent band circus was a production that, in

Parade Attracts Much Attention

The parade on Saturday morning, which was used by the management of the Barnyard and Baled Hays' Great Circus to advertise their two performances of that day down town, attracted much favorable attention from the people of this city. One gentleman was heard to remark, that if those boys could get up a parade like that, their show must certainly be worth going to.

The parade was formed at the Armory and left promptly on time. After dodging mud puddles for twenty minutes, they finally reached North Broadway, where the parade was reformed in the order which it kept throughout the line of march. The route followed was: down North Broadway to First avenue; around by the Gardner hotel and the City Hall to Front street and back down Broadway. When the procession started back down Broadway it was halted while a picture was taken for next year's Aggasiz.

Leading the procession were the owners of the big show in their private carriage. McLoud and Dunbar scored a big hit in these roles, not only during the parade but at all performances. Many and loud were the demands to know, "Who that cute little old man was?" in spite of this fact, Mac says that the only time he got fussed was when Dunbar tried to run over a pedestrian. A clown frolicked around the head of the procession and furnished entertainment for the children. Next came the main band in their nobby new uniforms and although short several members who were playing in the clown bands, their lively music was as attractive as ever.

Immediately behind this band was an automobile filled with young ladies and signs. (By the way, do you believe in young ladies or signs?) The cadet battalion followed the automobile and elicited much favorable comment from the bystanders. Following the battalion were a number of decorated hayracks acting as floats. Two of them carried clown bands, who enlivened the procedure by playing their favorite hymn, "How dry I am," whenever occasion offered. One float carried Jumbo, the big elephant, who, with his keeper, rode in solitary state in a private hayrack. A grain tank held the rest of the menagerie. So ferocious were these animals that only their heads were allowed to project. This was done for the protection of the populace.

A big crowd viewed the parade from the curb and the parade doubtless had a large share in bringing out the large crowd on Saturday night.

BRASS QUARTET PLAYED AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Last Sunday afternoon the College brass quartet played a selection at the Men's meeting in the city Y. M. C. A. auditorium.

The audience showed a hearty appreciation by their excellent applause.

view of the amount of work involved was a credit, not only to the band, but to the school.

PATHS.

As soon as the snow clears off and the the ground becomes dry, there is sure to commence the annual epidemic of cow-paths that have marred our campus every year. This has been the cause of much unfavorable comment on the part of visitors who cannot see any beauty in an unsightly path tramped across a well kept campus.

MAIN-SHOW VS. SIDE-SHOW.

No one can deny that the amount of outside activities which held such a large place in the eyes of the students, was such that the regular work of the college was shoved into the background and that the "side-show was made the big performance." It was regrettable, traceable to no definite cause, and almost unpreventable.

The head of one department made the statement that, "never in the past ten years, has the average grade of work been so poor as it has this term." When a department head is warranted in making such a statement as that, it is time that every student in this institution should back off and take a sane view of the things that are keeping him away from his chief purpose here and see whether or no the game is worth the candle.

HESPERIANS.

The Hesperian Society held its regular meeting on Friday evening, April 3rd.
The meeting was called to order by the President and a short business meeting was held.
When the business meeting had been disposed of, Professor Smith was ushered in and gave a very interesting talk on the "Accumulated Effect of Invested Savings."
The number of questions asked throughout the talk reveals the lively interest some of the Hesperians already have in the subject of scientifically capturing the elusive dollar.
The try-outs which were to be held for the declamation part of the coming contest with the Castilians were postponed because of the number of candidates for that part that were participating in the Barnyard and Baled Hay Circus at the Armory.

COLD WEATHER KEEPS MEN IN-DOORS—MANY NEW CANDIDATES—SCHEDULE NOT YET COMPLETED.

A combination of too much circus and cold weather put a stop to baseball practice during the latter part of last week. The "Baled Hays" circus took up all available room in the Armory and grim old Jupiter Pluvius refused to let the men work outside. Yesterday, however, saw things moving again and from now on there will be no peace for the baseball men.

Much of the material is new this year but has shown some signs of promise. Starting at the receiving end we find Capt. Parizek and Bar-chus. Parizek needs no introduction to the A. C. fans and although he has never performed behind the bat for the A. C. he is by no means a novice at the position, having caught for some of the fastest independent teams in the state. Bar-chus should prove himself a valuable man. He has had considerable experience and possesses both weight and speed.

Only four pitchers have so far put into appearance. Gullickson of last year's team needs no introduction. He is a hard consistent worker, a faithful trainer, has good control and endurance and last year proved himself to be the most dependable pitcher on the staff. Otis of last year's team is also out. Last year he failed to get into condition and as a result showed only occasional flashes of real form. This year though, he has been going along nicely and keeping well within the pale of the training rules. Bromaghim, a lanky port sider from Kenmare, is new to us, but reliable authority tells us that he has speed, curves and good control as well as good judgment. He has played in high school and considerable semi-pro ball in the western part of the state. Bachman, another left hander, completes the roster. He first was heard of last spring in the Inter-Class games, where he pitched for the Preps. Although he lacks experience he has shown considerable ability, and with hard work and more experience will prove to be a valuable man.

Competition around the initial sack will be keen. Hanson, a veteran of Rueber's team two years ago, Steinhau, Murphy and Gayette are the principal contenders. At the short stop job is Homme and O'Connell, McBride and Odell for the second base job. All of them are new men and the inside work is of little aid in giving a line on fielding or batting ability. At third, Wolstad of last year's team and Caulkins, a last year's outfielder, will fight it out for the job.

In the outfield Whiting, a former

Pillsbury star who has for the past two years captained the fast semi-pro team at Great Bend, N. D., is one who will undoubtedly make a strong showing. Among the other candidates are Jacobson, O'Brien, Schroeder, Hall and Perry.

Coach Haskins is anxiously awaiting the warm weather. The crowded quarters in the Armory do not give sufficient room and several men will be added to the list of candidates when the weather will permit the men to go outside.

The schedule is not quite completed. Twelve games have so far been signed up, seven of them on Dacotah field. Unless a change in dates can be secured the Minnesota trip will be canceled.

Spring Training To Start

COACH WOOD AND CAPT. CAULKINS WILL DIRECT PRACTICE—FIRST TIME IN THE HISTORY OF COLLEGE—WILL START IN A WEEK OR TEN DAYS.

Spring football practice is scheduled to start next week under the direction of Coach Wood and Capt. Caulkins. This is the first time in history that the A. C. football men have had the benefit of spring training and marks a new milestone in the athletic history of the institution. The work, however, will not be severe. Special attention will be paid to tackling, catching punts, falling on the ball, charging and blocking. Very little if any, scrimmage will be indulged in, but strict attention will be paid to the rudimentary fundamentals of the game. Many of the small college teams, especially in the middle west, are deficient in the above points and it is Coach Woods aim to have at least his veterans well enough versed so they may be depended upon and more care given new men who enter in the fall.

Next fall's football team has a stiff schedule and in order to come out on the long end of scores of the games an early start is necessary and a lot of determination and hard work after the start is made. The spring work will not only give the men good training, but it will also build up a better team spirit, which is an essential of any winning team.

Track Material Scarce

MANY NEW MEN WILL HAVE TO BE DEVELOPED, COACH WOOD FACES A HARD PROPOSITION.

The track outlook is not of the best and Coach Wood is face to face with a mighty stiff proposition in order to even make a fair showing in the meets scheduled. Many of the old reliable point winners have been lost since last year and now the Coach is facing the task of replacing these with new material which he will in the main have to develop.

The inclement weather has kept track work at practically a standstill since the Coach has sent out his first call for candidates. The Armory offers small opportunity for track work, even if there was room enough.

The veterans who Coach Wood will have to depend upon to form the nucleus for the track team are Bolsinger, captain of this year's team, for the sprints, pole vault and shot put; Mikkleson for the weights; Aakhus for the quarter and half; Stumpf for the distance runs; and if Parizek has time he will again take care of the broad jump as well as entering for the sprints. These men are all that there is left over from last year in the form of point winners.

Among the new men who may be looked for to get points are J. Devere Jensen, "Bunk" Harris, Slagerman, Abbott, Kirke, Lowe, Beals, Lolland, Billings, Weston and Tarbell.

Toward the end of last term the managers of the various class teams met in Prof. Dynes office in Francis Hall. It was decided to organize a board of managers to take care of the inter-class athletics. The following officers were elected for the rest of the year: Melvin Ostby as president and Myron Bachman as secretary. The board will meet soon to decide on an inter-class baseball schedule and also a new set of eligibility rules.

OLD MAN HARD LUCK FOLLOWS GODBE'S CAREER.

CAPTAIN-ELECT OF THE UTAH AGGIES HAS HAD A LIFE HARD PRESSED BY FATE.

Utah possesses one No. 13 athlete. To be born on Friday the thirteenth is not one of his misfortunes, but he celebrates each Friday the thirteenth as solemnly as though it were his anniversary and for him to slip through such a day without a hazardous experience or a hair breadth escape from death is always a miracle to him. Lawrence Godbe, captain-elect of the 1914 Logan Aggie football team, is the person in question. He has had more hard luck than any athlete of Utah. The fact that he has not been killed outright, he affirms, makes his dilemma all the more remarkable. He is forced to live in constant agony of fate.

The latest mishap of Godbe occurred only last week when one of his toes was almost severed from his foot. He did a no more offensive act than laugh during his shower bath. Hit outburst of mirth, however, was the cause of the accident as his shoulder humped against one of the glass liquid soap receptacles, which broke. He stepped one a piece of the broken glass with the above result.

Godbe's reign of hard luck started far back in his town-lot career. His shoulder was broken in a grade school football game. Later his leg was broken in a Sunday school league football game. When he recovered he entered the Salt Lake high school, but the jinx did not leave him by any means.

A broken shoulder, the opposite to the one busted in his grammar school days started his career at the high school. This was followed by a wrenched knee. The next year "Lollie's" ankle was fractured and his other knee thrown out in football. It was soon after this that his father's home was burned down and he was forced to live in a tent for several weeks. He managed to finish the year out, however, without further accidents, but the next year he went to the Logan A. C., but that did not drive away the jinx.

During his freshman year Godbye had his right arm broken in football and his leg fractured. The next year he finished up the football season on crutches and last year his arm was broken in a football game with Colorado Aggies, which kept him from the Thanksgiving contest with the University of Utah.

Godbye was elected captain of the 1914 football team by his football associates, probably with the hope that it would drive away the jinx, but evidently it has not done so. Even while performing such an in-offensive pastime as taking a shower bath he laughs and, as a result, almost loses his toe.

Lawrence Godbe is one man who

WIRELESS STATION
NOW A REALITY.

That the North Dakota Agricultural College will have a wireless station is now a reality. Apparatus has been selected for a station and will be of the same type and quality as that used by large commercial stations. This station will probably be installed in a month or so.

It has been the desire of several of the Engineering students to install a station but it was not possible to get the students of the college interested enough until just recently. Those who attended the Electrical Show saw how it was possible for two stations to carry on successful communication. During the three days of the Electrical Show, about one thousand messages were sent from one station to the other. This demonstrated that it would be possible for the College to have a station which could be operated and managed in a successful manner. Following the Electrical Show a station was placed in the engineering society room. This station is the same that was on exhibition at the show and is the property of Edwin Hooper. At present this station has been operated by R. T. Jacobson and Edwin Hooper. So much interest has been shown that the Lyceum of Engineers appointed a committee to investigate the possibilities of getting a larger and more adequate station.

It is the intention of those interested to install this new station in a room on the third floor of the Engineering Building in a place where its operation will be easiest. During the summer a new aerial of larger capacity will be erected. This aerial will be one which will cause much admiration by all visitors to the institution. It is expected that by the fall term messages will be sent and received as regularly as in a Western Union office.

At present, under limited facilities, reports, time signals, etc., are received daily from the station at the University of North Dakota, but when the new station is completed it will be possible to keep in touch with other institutions and receive unlimited college news. Communication is now often held with amateur stations in the vicinity, and only one who is familiar with the operation knows the thrilling sensation that passes over one who is receiving a message that is being sent from a distant station and traveling with the terrific speed of light, sounding as if it were in the next room.

IMMIGRATION.

Shall We Accept the Literacy Test?
Come and Decide.

Perhaps no question is creating more interest at the present time than that of immigration. North Dakota is as vitally concerned in this matter as any state in the union, for to our borders, immigrants from all parts of the world are flocking even as did the Mohammedans of old to Mecca.

Accordingly the North Dakota Agricultural College, voicing the common interest of the people has scheduled an inter-collegiate debate with South Dakota State College, the question being, "Resolved that immigration into the United States should be further restricted by means of the literacy test." This debate takes place on Thursday evening, February 9th, promptly at 8 o'clock, in the Little Country Theatre.

Our team here supports the affirmative side of the argument, and consists of Mr. Walliam Bollerud, Miss Barbara Heidner, and Mr. Charles Amidon. These students have worked long and hard and will present an argument of which any school may be proud. It is up to us to come out and support them if we expect the best results of their efforts, for loyalty means as much to the debater as to the athlete.

South Dakota is sending a strong team, at least we should judge such to be the case as their try-outs often include thirty or forty students. This year they are sending Mr. Horace Jones, Mr. Edward Puhr and Mr. Joseph Bergeim to support the negative.

There is another question involved, that of extending hospitality to the visiting team and if we expect to show them a good time there must be a crowd at the debate.

We are sending a team to Brookings and the students who are to represent us there are Bill Arvold, Geo. Dixon and Geo. Knutson; even as we expect our team to be well received there let us extend all courtesy to our visitors and be present both at the debate and at the reception. The nominal fee of twenty-five cents will be charged for admission.

EASTER CONCERT A BIG SUCCESS.

The annual Easter concert, under the auspices of the College Y. M. C. A. last Sunday afternoon, was one of the best concerts of the season and was witnessed by a fine crowd. Some of the best talent in Fargo was secured by the Y. M. C. A., which brought out a large number of Fargo's best critics.

The concert was opened by the Men's Glee Club of the A. J., which rendered "Unfold, Ye Portals," from Redemption, by Gounod, in a pleasing manner. This number was assisted by the brass quartet. The boys next sang "Remember Me, O Mighty One," by Kinkel.

Mr. H. M. Rudd continued the program with two cornet solos, which were highly appreciated by the audience. Mr. Rudd is one of the best if not the best cornet soloist in the Northwest. His tone quality was the conspicuous element of his achievements on the cornet.

The College Y. Quartet then rendered two selections and needless to say the same pleasing impression was made upon the audience as has been made before in Fargo and over the state by our quartet.

Following the quartet Miss Margaret Bentley played "Scene De Ballet" as a violin solo. This number made such a fine impression upon the crowd that a second number was insisted upon.

Miss Aileen Sullivan filled part V. of the program with a reading entitled, "The Suitable Child," by Norman Duncan. Miss Sullivan's rendition of this beautiful production of Mr. Duncan's received much comment and her dramatic ability was highly appreciated.

The Y. Quartet again sang and received the same hearty applause.

Mr. Bertrand Allan Orr, Fargo's accomplished baritone singer, followed the quartet with, "The Gift of Peace," and "The Lord Is My Light" Mr. Orr has sang several times before in the College Armory and again left the good impression on the attentive listeners.

The Fargo String Quartet concluded the program with three heavy numbers. This quartet consists of four of the best musicians in Fargo and the manner in which the pieces were played showed that Fargo holds her own in the musical world.

SUGGESTION TO TOWN-CRIERS.

We note with approval that the Town-Criers club of this city is to try two of our leading newspapers on the charge of publishing advertisements which are not exactly true. This would result in a big improvement in the class and character of the advertisements which will be published in these newspapers in the future. We congratulate the Town Criers Club on taking the initiative in this matter, and at the same time we would like to call to their attention an advertisement published very recently in one of these newspapers.

This advertisement while not coming under the head of "advertisements not exactly true," is nevertheless worthy of very serious consideration by this august body. Certainly newspapers should not be allowed to publish with impunity advertisements which would incite its readers to the crime of vivisection for a paltry consideration. We print below the essential parts of the advertisement under consideration, which would lead people to this heinous crime.

LOST.

Pointer dog, liver spot on left hip, white face. Return liver ears and black and white toe-nails to Mr. A. J. Blank, Rustad, Minnesota, for reward.

Now in view of the fact that it is manifestly impossible to return the liver ears and the black and white toe ails, without removing them from the aforementioned dog, it is thus seen that the advertisement is not conducive to the best interests of the dog or the morals of the man who finds him.

We do not know for what purpose the owner of the dog desires these gory trophies, but we do think that any newspaper when would permit public expression of such desires, should be punished to the full extent of the law. All this, of course, is merely a suggestion.

ACADEMY OF SCIENCE.

The seventh annual meeting of the North Dakota Academy of Science will be held at the Agricultural College, April 25. The local members of the association are planning an informal reception to be given on Friday night, April 24.

The officers of the association are: President, Dr. A. Leonard of the State University; vice president, Dr. W. H. Bell of the Agricultural College; secretary-treasurer, Dr. G. A. Abbott of the State University. The other members of the executive committee are: J. A. Switzer of Valley City and Dr. M. L. Dolt of the Agricultural College.

GLEE CLUB TO GIVE CONCERT ON MAY 8.

The Men's Glee Club decided last Tuesday night, on May 8 for their home concert. This gives the club a good chance to prepare a concert which will make evident the ability and talent that we have in school, when all that is needed is the bringing out.

LINE TO THE LATEST AMERICAN PICTURE

(Being the soliloquy of a Rustic from Missouri, while visiting a modern Art gallery for the first time.)

"I've often wondered about the mysteries of modern Art
And the latest creative scenes that inspire the human heart—
But words fail to express the emotions that arise in me,
As I view this sunrise by the tranquil sea.
From whence came this dear decadent maid
Who stands alone at early morn, quite undismayed?
While all alone—yet unafraid. This water Nymph of healthier hue
Whose hazy form is hemmed about with sparkling dew."
The silent mystery grew within his troubled mind
As he deeply wondered if modern Art was all refined.
Yet while he gazed at the mysterious Art sunrise
The answer came from darkening clouded skies:
"Come, John! Don't stand there gaping at that scene—let's be pursuing Other works of Art. The light that shines in that maiden's eyes
May be your heart's undoing—this is no place for public cooing."
Sadly John left the picture all forlorn
The latest work of modern Art—
September Morn." —E. B.

"Why is English called the mother tongue?"
"Because father never gets much chance to use it."—Ex.

The Indian with his pipe of peace
Has slowly passed away,
But the Freshman with his piece of pipe
Has come prepared to stay.

The Dramatic club at O. A. C. is producing "The Professor's Love Story," which has been presented here.

Rehearsals for the Senior play O. A. C. were announced on a schedule which extends over a month ahead. The acts that were to be rehearsed on each night were also posted and were to be unto the man who made any engagements for rehearsal nights. It is said that the scheme worked a wonderful improvement in increasing the efficiency of the rehearsals.

An elaborate program and a special issue of the school paper marked the installation of a chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity at Carleton.

A MILE WITH ME.

Oh, who will walk a mile with me
Along life's merry way?
A comrade, blithe and full of glee,
Who dares to laugh out loud and free
And let his frolic fancy play,
Like a happy child, through the flowers gay
That fill the field and fringe the way
Where he walks a mile with me

And who will walk a mile with me
Along life's weary way?
A friend whose heart has eyes to see,
And stars shine out o'er the darkening lea,
And the quiet rest at the end of the day—
A friend who knows and dares to say
The grave, sweet words that cheer the way
Where he walks a mile with me.

With such a comrade, such a friend,
I fain would walk till journey's end
Through summer sunshine, winter rain,
And then? Farewell—we shall meet again!

—Henry van Dyke.

Try This Outfit On Your Own Farm

If it doesn't do the work, it's our outfit, not yours. We sell Avery Tractors and Plows on approval.

We don't want any man to keep on farming with horses or mules because he doubts Tractor Farming.

So we offer to prove Tractor Farming with Avery Outfits—on your own farm.

We can make this proposition safely because we have behind us the experience of thousands of farmers who are today making big successes with Avery Outfits.

One Avery owner writes—"I bought the tractor so my boys could farm the new way as I expect there will be as much change in a few years as there was from the old reapers to the binders."

He's absolutely right. Tractor power is cheaper than horse or mule power. Tractor Farming also means bigger crops.

You can run an Avery Outfit all alone. The Avery plows a "Self-Lift." Pull a cord at the end of the furrow. Power from the plow wheel raises or lowers the plows. Avery Tractors are the lightest-weight tractors considering their draw bar pull. They don't waste fuel or power. They don't pack the ground to injure crops. The simplest tractors built.

Five sizes—8-16 to 40-80 H. P. They fit any size farm—large, medium or small.

Learn About Tractor Farming and the Avery Sold on Approval Plan. Our new book "Tractor Farming" tells why and how to farm with tractor power. Our 1914 Tractor and Plow Catalog explains Avery Tractor Plans, Low Prices, Strong Guarantees and Avery Construction. Write, telling how many acres you farm and how many horses you use and get both books FREE. Address

Question—"WHAT DID YOU THINK OF THE A. C. CIRCUS?"
Unanimous reply — "GREAT! THE BEST EVER."

Now we are wondering where the management uncovered all the real talent. Nobody ever even suspected that we had so many real "big league" actors and actresses in our midst.

"ISN'T THAT FAT MAN JUST KILLING?"

Ray Bolsinger was a whole three-ring circus all in himself. He was playful as a kitten and in his reckless tumbling and "elephant vaulting" he showed the same uncanny ability to light on his feet—and an absolute disregard for his neck. For his comedy roller skating he deserves at best three places on the All-Conference Roller Skating team.

"HELLO, IKEY!"

As the original Front Street Jew Ira Nelson was a whirlwind success. He kept the crowd in an uproar from first to last with his clever impersonation and mirth-producing antics. His individual burlesque during the Crack Squad drill would have made the Sphynz howl with unrestrained glee. It was rumored that a smile was even seen flickering over the placid features of President Tibert.

"Scoop" Perry and his trained elephant, "Jumbo," took the house by storm. The intelligent beast, captured in the wilds of darkest Africa, certainly has learned our latest and most popular dances with avidity. His interpretation of the "Lame Duck" was a scream. Prof. Bolley couldn't have done it better himself. As a mathematician Jumbo was a wonder. His success along this line proved conclusively that higher education is beneficial, even for elephants. We do not believe though, that Jumbo got tired just at the right time when he was multiplying 9 times 9. Why, neither Bill Arvold nor Joe Dwire could do that without a pencil and paper. (Curtain.)

ENTERTAIN ROYALTY.

Nobody can say that Ruby Head didn't make a swell Queen. She manipulated her train perfectly; as if she had always worn one, in fact. We bet she would stumble over it and fall off the throne, but she didn't, so we lost. Her crown only fell off once, and that may happen to any Queen. The Czarina of Russia has nothing on our Ruby when it comes to queening.

THUMBS DOWN FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

If the Grover-Brown-Natvold trio gave a true picture of the typical militant suffragette we sure do pity England. Their act was swell, but it would have too great possibilities in real life. The way our Genevieve disorganized the police force and had Chief Bjornson under her thumb at all times would have made Mrs. Pankhurst envious. Altime was so good that she received an ovation from the south side spectators.

THAT MAN BRITTON.

Our own one-and-only original barnyard varsity A. J. Britton, performed with his usual success at the Big Show. Why he isn't on the stage is a mystery worthy of the consideration of a master mind. Some witty member in the audience remarked that he would easily have taken first prize at the Minneapolis chicken show. We believe you are right, sir."

"Say, how would you like to make George Gratius real angry, then meet him alone in the dark?"
General Sentiment:—"Excuse me.

By the way, have you figured out how that high dive was worked? It has a lot of people guessing. Unless you know the Boyds, you will probably keep right on guessing, too. Why, they are so much alike that when Roy wakes up in the morning he has to pick his nose to make sure that he isn't Ray.

"Come now, Louie. Buy more candy for your friend. You like candy, don't you Katherine?"
Keep after him, MacLean, he will buy.....

Where did Prof. Colley get that drum major's hat? It certainly lent dignity to your bearing, Reg, even if it did look like a sewing basket.

Common Question:—"Have you got all your makeup off yet?"

Now we can begin to think up new stunts for the circus next year. May it be as big a success as the last one.

Two minutes for change of reel.

Bill Ballerud is now wearing a care! How these "forensic gentlemen" do put on style!

QUITE POSSIBLE, DUTCH.

In Education class Prof. Weeks explained that in every state in the union, except Utah, poor cooking in the rural districts is the rule, and that in the state of Utah cooking everywhere is of a very high standard, because the Mormons taught home economics.

Dutch Schroeder brought down the roof with this question: "Do you suppose that the strenuous competition that existed in Utah at one time had anything to do with the present condition?"

"Boob" Abbot's watch has been returned. The girl who took it could not pawn it so she gave it back to the original owner in disgust. Hard luck, Stanley.

SPECIAL BULLETIN.

The weekly joke on Ethel Peterson will not appear this week, and for a very good reason. Mr. Thompson has treed the editor! Since the aforementioned Tommy is in a rather irate frame of mind, probably a little discretion would be the better part of valor. We believe in arbitration and attempt to steer clear of all evidence of belligerency.

The following was contributed by Leo Nemzek of athletic fame in the old days at the A. C. His interest in the school and its activities might well be imitated by others, both in and out of college:

TEACHING THE SAILORS.

Uncle Sam is beginning to have the sailors in our Navy go to school. For the first time in the history of the service the officers have been called upon to impart the knowledge they have gathered at Annapolis to the men before the mast, and some surprising results have been obtained.

There have been a number of amusing incidents on the battleship North Dakota. There are a number of Filipinos who have been anxious to learn and who have been given much misinformation by their fellow sailors. Commander Jackson asked one class to prepare compositions upon George Washington. One of the sailors who had sought outside counsel from a coal passer who has a sense of humor, produced the following:

Georg Wassingham was sore because Ammerical persons is not free. e sale to England on North Dakota ship and say to king, "I ipress declaracion of indypendens for American persons." King say nothin' doin and Mr. Wasingham tell admiral Dewey to shoot turret guns. Bime-by, king say he will not rule Ammerical persons again. "Let George do it," say king, and Ammerical persons is free.

CIRCUS COMPLEXION.

Miss C.—"She has a novel complexion."

Miss D.—"Yes, but the novelty is apt to wear off."

PRETTY PUNK.

Broker's Clerk.—"Could you let me have $10 on last month's salary?"

Broker.—"Great Scott! That's the punkest collateral I ever had offered me!"

HAPPY THOUGHT.

Her beautiful tresses were straying. All tossed by a wind from the south. So that when I attempted to kiss her

I just got a "bang" in the mouth.

What the Logicians would call a disjointed syllogism:

All those who do not believe in free speech have no place in a democratic country.

The telephone companies do not believe in free speech.

Therefore they do not belong in a democratic country.

Professor Keene expects to have a complete thermo-static heat-regulator installed in the Physics lab in the near future for the use of the classes in Household Mechanics. This is identically the same device which is in operation in the Chemical and Veterinary buildings. It has been possible through the courtesy of the Johnson Service Company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

He also reports that the Jenkins Company of New York has loaned to the department, one of their small, general purpose moving picture machine. This machine only costs about $100 and uses and ordinary lamp circuit current. It is designed for family and organization use and possesses the advantage that it uses the regular films.

The Chi Gamma Psi Sorority elected their officers for the following year Friday. The results were as follows:

President—Elsie Stark.
Vice President—Mable Leet.
Secretary—Lena Honette.
Treasurer—Hazel Petrie.

Alumni Notes

Edited by Roy Dynes.

RUZICKA PROMOTED.
Charles Ruzicka, 1911, has recently been appointed superintendent of the Williston Sub-experiment station, and left Fargo some time ago to assume his duties.
Since his graduation, Mr. Ruzicka has been associated with the Better Farming Association, and after the amalgamation of the North Dakota Experiment Station and the Better Farming Association, he has been Secretary to Mr. Cooper, Director of the Experiment Station. Mr. Ruzicka will succeed Mr. Chollander, who resigned a short time ago.

Harold Dodge, 1911, was a visitor in the city for a short time last week. He is on his way to Detroit, Michigan, where he will be located for some time.

Edgar Olson, 1913, has pent the past week in the city, and it is very evident that the sentiment on the campus has assumed a more optimistic attitude since "Olo's smiling countenance has appeared again. Mr. Olson has been connected with a cow testing association at Wimbledon, N. D., which is operated in co-operation with the Better Farming Association in the state. Mr. Olson will soon leave for Grand Forks, where he will be stationed at Inkster under the direction of O. D. Centre, district superintendent of the Better Farming Association in that region.

A number of Alumni, both Farm Husbandry and College, have attended the recent meeting of the field agents of the Better Farming Association which was held at the College. Among them were: M. B. Johnson of Bottineau, E. A. Olson and G. Calnan of Wimbledon, E. Hall of Williston, and G. E. Mills of Bottineau.

M. B. Johnson of Bottineau will leave the field service of the Association and assume his new duties in the real estate business at Bottineau.

Henry Reddy, 1912, who has been working in a drug store at Coopers-town received an appointment as chemist in the service of the John Lucas Paint Co. He will soon leave for Gibbsboro, N. Y., to take up his new work. This is the third A. C. alumnus who has received an appointment with this company, the others being Leo Nemzek, 1902, and Chester Holkesvig, 1912.

Polly Foss, 1913, who is operating a drug store at Page, N. D., passed through Fargo on his way to the Twin Cities on business. It is rumored that the most important business which called him to the cities was the procuring of some furniture. We would like to know what use furniture would be in the drug business.

J. W. Hilborn of the first graduating class is engaged in dairy farming at Leel, N. D., Mr. Hilborn is the president of the local breeders' association at Leel.

Anton Christ, president of the Farm Husbandry Alumni Association is a prominent stock breeder at Leel, N. D., and is interested in the Community Breeders' Association at that place.

OLD STUDENT SUCCEEDS IN MISSIONARY WORK.

Those who know Miss Sadie Barrett, while she was connected with the institution will be interested in the attached clipping from The Honolulu Star-Bulletin, telling of her work in that island. It seems that the same qualities which won her so many friends while here at school have been equally successful in the country where she is now stationed. "An important factor in the charitable work of Honolulu for the uplift of Oriental girls is the home established 13 years ago by the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church and was named "Susannah Wesley Home" in honor of the mother of John Wesley, who was the founder of Methodism.

This home was first established on School street, but in a short time the society was forced to procure more commodious quarters. A pleasant place was found on Nuuanu avenue, but they soon found this also inadequate for their needs.

At that time, 10 years ago, Bishop Hamilton came here to preside at the annual conference of the Methodist churches and before he left the coast the Woman's Home Missionary Society extracted a promise from him that he, with the local workers interested, would select a place suitable for a permanent home and procure an option on the same.

A place most admirably suited to this work by reason of its location and the adaptability of the buildings already upon the property was selected; the society at once made the purchase and the place on King street, well known by all residents of Honolulu, has since been "Susannah Wesley Home."

This home is probably doing more than any one institution in bringing about a condition as to the thought and customs of these Oriental girls that will make for the Americanization of Hawaii's future Oriental homes and their modes of living.

them the advantage of an education in their own tongue.

During these years of the existence of the "Susannah Wesley Home," several of the girls have been preparing themselves for mission work amongst their own people and good reports come back of splendid work being done.

There are 36 girls in the home at the present time.

We should not close this rescription of the "Susannah Wesley Home" without speaking of the head workers therein, for seldom is to be found a home so well equipped in this respect as is this home.

The present Superintendent, Miss Sadie Barrett, was provided in the first place by nature with a deep interest in other people and a self-sacrifice for the uplift of the work. Her training has given strength and force to this natural tendency. She is an untiring worker. As much also can be said of her co-worker, Mrs. Josephine Miller, who has been with the home for two and one-half years. They are daughters of the King and ready for work any hour of the day or night with an inexhaustible supply of sympathy and love.

This is surely a splendid opportunity for the orphan and the poor and helpless girls of the Korean and Japanese races."

Last Thursday evening the members of the Delta Pi Fraternity were invited to Maurice Adams' home in Moorhead. After playing cards, those present sat down to a table, which was tastefully decorated with the Fraternity colors, and enjoyed an excellent midnight supper. Besides the members present there were Messrs. Ray Boyd, Roy Boyd, Walter Bender, and Edwin Hooper, who were formally pledged to the Fraternity.

A very interesting bulletin on wheat, No. 107, has been issued from Prof. Bolley's office in the last few days. It embodies some very interesting conclusions, which, although concisely stated, are too lengthy to mention here. Those interested can obtain bulletins from the office or the results may be found summarized in the daily papers.

"Campus," as a pleasant subject for consideration during the Spring term, bids fair to be as popular as ever, judging from the display of early birds on Sunday afternoon. The most noticeable thing about those enjoying the beauties of the day and of the campus was the large proportion of people who are in the habit of coming to our campus for an afternoon walk. And, while we are talking about it, did you ever notice that this is the show place of the town for real-estate men; that whenever they want to show a prospect some of the beauties of the town, that they bring him up here? We have a right to be proud of this campus; more so, when we remember that the men who have developed it, belong to our own faculty and have brought all of this out of what was one a wheat-field.

In an inventory of the unclaimed lost articles which were placed in the Lost and Found cabinet of Oregon U., the value at current prices totaled up to $47.75. The largest item was ten pair of gloves at $1.75 per pair. It would be interesting to know the amount of things lost at this institution during a school year. It is a peculiar thing that the list at Oregon does not include a single text book.

On being asked by a curious subscriber, "Why does a girl always close her eyes every time a fellow kisses her?", the editor of the Yale Record sent back the somewhat caustic reply, "If you will send us your photograph, we may tell you the reason."

MILITARY DEPARTMENT

(Marvin Kirk.)

Last Wednesday the two companies were drilled in the loadings and firings. The cadets were taught to set their sights, and load their rifles, and also the different methods of firing, used in battle. They were also taught to fix and unfix bayonets. At inspection this year, much of the time will be taken up in extended order drill, the firings, and other field exercises.

On Friday Lieut. Herren lectured to the cadets, on the rifle. He took a gun to pieces, and then showed how each piece was made, what it was used for, and how to adjust it. He then explained the care of the rifle, and the thoughtfulness of the United States government in putting a ramrod in the stock of every rifle, notwithstanding the fact that these rods are never used to clean the rifles.

Lieutenant also told an amusing story on himself, about getting a rag stuck in the barrel of his rifle when he was in the Philippines. He had never been told what to do in a case of that kind, so he loaded the gun, tied a string to the trigger, and put the gun on one side of a rice dike, and pulled the string from the other side. No deaths were reported, on account of the explosion, for the barrel did not blow up. Only a small part of the rifling was blown out, but the Lieutenant said that the gun shot as accurately as ever.

Ross made the startling announcement that "The faster a bullet travels the less chance the enemy has to dodge it."

Saturday forenoon the battalion marched down town with the two bands, cages of wild animals, and other great attractions of "The Barnyard and Baled Hay's" show. While in the business district, the battalion marched in column of platoons. The men were marched like veterans, and executed the movements splendidly. It was announced the best showing that our battalion has ever made in a parade.

THE PARABLE OF THE YOUNG WOMAN WHO SOUGHT AN HUSBAND.

Now it came to pass that there dwelt in the land of North Dakota a certain maid who would fain have taken an husband to wed.

But, behold, none came seeking her to take her strolling of a Sunday afternoon, nor to manfully carry her books from distant Chem unto the car line.

Whereupon she was downcast with much sorrow and took counsel of the Matrimonial Department of the Weekly Spectrum; following their Solomon-like advice she applied herself diligently unto books and harvested unto herself great learning concerning the Drama, Poetry and Woman Suffrage, and a multitude of things equally burdensome.

Also, exceeding instructions, she took a correspondence course in the gentle art of Tangoing, which gained her nothing except trouble with the Social Committee.

But still no man lent her his frat pin. So sighed she deeply and said, "I must know about Art and be musical.

So learned she to play the Beethoven Moonlight Outrage on the family Grafonola and sang a little tale of "Ischi bibble," with great gusto.

But yet had no man tarried at her abode until Favver translated his desire to have him leave, into terms o Kinetic Energy.

Then had she a brilliant inspiration and quoted to herself, "Behold, ye reach not a man's heart and pocketbook through his thinktank but even through his digestive apparatus."

Then hid she herself unto Ceres Hall to sit at the feet of the great Dean Stoner and other learned (?) females to learn Home Engineering and the gentle art of making a million-dollar taste blossom out on a thirty-cent round steak.

And it came to pass that a Western Prince passed that way and was given a highball to come and feed at the family trough.

And lo, after two bites of aforementioned steak he sprang to his feet and swore to devote his life to winning the dame who was responsible for that steak.

Then achieved she her ambition and was married and lived scrappingly ever after.

And she that had waited for her meal-ticket these many weary years said within herself; Let foolish damsels worship at the altar of Art and the Tango if they so wish; but how shall a male animal be fed on Beethoven or sated by having his toes walked on; behold, I, even, have slipped one over on them.

The athletic editor of one of our exchanges has just made the discovery that the average man has an arm thirty inches long and that the average woman has a waist thirty inches in circumference. We believe that he must have neglected the measurements of our A. C. damsels when computing the average.

The Montana A. C. wants baseball, but the athletic committee can't see it that way, so the great national game will not be on their athletic calendar this year.
