RESIDENT SECRETARY IS NOW AN ASSURED FACT FOR THE COLLEGE ASSOCIATION

Splendid Response Made By Students and Faculty In Great Campaign

The impossible has again been accomplished. Had any one even one year ago predicted that the students and faculty of this institution would pledge themselves for the necessary funds to support a resident full-time man to direct the Christian work at the college he would have been looked upon as a visionary and a fanatic. To but few did it occur that the North Dakota Agricultural College had advanced to the stage when it would be justifiable to engage the services of such a man. Some indeed there were who had a vision of the time when a secretary would be installed, but they were prudent enough not to publish their views, and even the most sanguine of them can hardly believe that the time has come so soon. Naturally, the men who have been most earnest in the carrying on of the Association work, both among the students and the faculty, are jubilant at this mighty forward step in the work of the Association.

The first definite step toward securing a secretary for our Association was taken the first week of the winter term, when about twenty-five representative men gathered about the banquet board at the Copper Kettle with Interstate Secretary John Childs and talked the matter over, discussing the need for such a man, and the possibility of securing the necessary funds. Enthusiasm did not run to a high pitch, but it was the quiet estimate of all present that the rapid increase in the number of the students made the services of the secretary almost imperative, and that by a united effort the funds could be secured. It was also decided to make a concerted campaign early in the spring term.

From that time forward plans were quietly laid, the faculty advisory board strengthened by the addition of two members, and other matters brought into harmony with the plan. Finally it was arranged that Mr. Childs should be at the college during the first week in April, and supervise the campaign. Last Wednesday morning Mr. Childs arrived, and the organization of the campaign commenced. Twenty-five of the leading members of the Association divided the student body among them, and began a systematic canvass of the school, with the result that by Friday evening enough pledges had been secured to justify the Cabinet and the Advisory Board in issuing a call to a prospective secretary. The present canvass is intended to raise the entire Y. M. C. A. budget for the coming year, including running expenses, Geneva fund, and incidentals, as well as the salary of the secretary. At the present writing not yet all the returns are in, but by the time the paper comes off the press there should not be a man in the institution who has not been approached, and every cent of the estimated budget requirement pledged.

The response to the appeal has been generous in every respect. The solicitors report that very few of the men have absolutely refused to help the cause, and some quite generous subscriptions have been received. However, it is by numerous small subscriptions that such a fund can be most effectively gathered. Among the students it was mutually agreed that no subscription above ten dollars would be desired, but a goodly number of that sum were turned in. The faculty also has been universally responsive. All were appealed to, and practically all agreed that there was room and need for the kind of man it was desired to employ, and responded accordingly.

As previously stated, a call has already been sent out for a man to fill the place. Of course, nothing definite can be said at this time as to who will be the man to take the place, although it is hoped that the near future will bring him to the front. As now outlined, the secretary will be expected to put in full time at the college for ten months of the year, to spend one at the summer conferences of the Y. M. C. A., with one month free as a vacation. This will allow him to keep in touch with the world of Christian work, and to take the necessary rest allowed by a vacation, as well as putting in full time with the students while school is in session. In a very short time we hope to be able to publish the name of the man who is to move among us next year, and probably some communication from him.

NOTICE!

At a meeting of the class managers on Monday morning it was decided to call off the Athletic Carnival scheduled for Saturday night. As the Inter-class League is in need of funds, the managers would gratefully accept the money for tickets sold as a contribution towards the maintenance of the league. However, all who desire their money refunded may get it by presenting their tickets to Lloyd Kelley, treasurer of the league.

Chi Gamma Psi Holds First Initiation

THE SORORITY NOW NUMBERS TWELVE MEMBERS.

The newly organized Chi Gamma Psi sorority originated with five young ladies of especial ability. These as charter members drew up a constitution which was submitted to the faculty, who approved and accepted it.

Last Friday evening seven other young ladies were taken in. The initiation was held at the home of Miss Whitman. After the ceremony all enjoyed the rest of the evening at the Grand. Saturday evening a six course banquet was served in the private dining room of the Annex. This banquet was given by the charter members in honor of the establishment of Chi Gamma Psi and in honor of the new members.

This sorority has organized with the purpose of promoting higher average scholarship and to show a better spirit of friendship between the students and faculty.

The members are as follows, the first five named being the charter members: Jennie Simmons, president; Amy Whitman, secretary; Elsie Stark, treasurer; Mabel Cox, Ethel Poole, Rosabelle Magill, Veta Berner, Edna Bowers, Mabel Holmes, Mabel Leet, Lena Honett, Louise Poland.

CASTALIA.

The Castalians held their regular meeting Friday. The meeting was opened with a short program after the business meeting a social time was enjoyed by all. By the time refreshments were served the society song was sung and then the society met in a body to serenade the future president, Nellie Ewen, who is confined to the hospital section with the mumps.

Two College Associations Hold Joint Meeting Sunday

F. C. AND A. C. MEN PLAN STATE TRAINING INSTITUTE.

Before leaving town Sunday, Mr. Childs called a meeting of the cabinets and other members of the two college Young Men's Christian Associations of the city. The meeting was held at the city "Y," and seventeen or eighteen men, about evenly divided between the two schools, were there. It was decided to arrange for an Officers Training Institute to be held in Fargo, May 16, 17 and 18. To this institute will come several of the officers of the various collegiate Associations of the state to meet with several experts in the various lines of Y. M. C. A. activity and thresh out some of the problems and difficulties met with in the work. The first meeting will probably be held Friday evening, May 16, and will continue through Saturday and Sunday. This meeting is not organized on the convention plan, but will rather be a season of intensive study. Announcements will be made later as to who will be the men to appear before the institute, and meanwhile plans are being laid to entertain the out-of-town delegates.

At this meeting the Geneva situation was also discussed.

WIJE WINS ORATORICAL

Thursday afternoon in the old chapel, before a small but interested audience, was held the eighteenth annual oratorical contest. The contestants showed careful preparation, especially in the thought of their orations, and the delivery of the winners was especially good. Reuel Wijje with his oration "The Coming of the Average Man," exhibited maturity of thought, and he was by general consent awarded the first prize of thirty-five dollars. Vernon Arvold, however, proved a close second, along with Bertha Camp, the fifteen dollar prize being divided between the two. Arvold's oration was entitled "The Problem of the Land," while Miss Camp spoke on "The Melting Pot." Clarence Walter and Urban Ebner, the unsuccessful orators, chose as their subjects "Country Life," and "Our Industrial Crisis," both of which were well worked up. It is to be regretted that so little interest was shown in the contest this year, but this may have been due to the many activities in the winter term which distracted the attention of the students from public speaking events. Below we print the ratings of the judges:

Contestants—	Bell	Weeks	Jensen	Remington	Milbrath	Total	Place
Reuel Wijje	1	1	2	4	2	10	1
Wm. V. Arvold	3	3	1	1	3	11	2

ALPHA ZETA INITIATES.

Tuesday evening, March 24, Dacotah chapter of Alpha Zeta began the initiation of three candidates into the ranks of the order. Walter Bayard '13, Hal Pollock '13, and George Gustafson '14, were the victims. M. N. Pope '13, who was also a candidate this term, had been initiated some time before. From the whisperings which were afloat the next morning we judge that the unfortunate were very near death's door indeed, and that their physical and mental sufferings were intense. However, they have forgiven their brethren, particularly as they were tendered a royal banquet at the Gardner Wednesday evening. The ritual was read in Francis Hall at six o'clock, after which the brethren repaired down town for the feast. After the feed, the following interesting program of toasts was heard:

- The Honorary Brethren—Dean Shepperd.
- The Alumni Prodigals—Edwin Traynor, '11.
- Alpha Zeta—Prof. Doryland.

COLLEGE SECURES NEW HERDSMAN.

H. W. Douglas, of Nebraska, has been appointed herdsman to fill the place recently vacated by Peter Hennen, who goes this week to take up his new duties at the Mandan station. Mr. Douglas is a graduate of the Agricultural school course of Nebraska, and comes to us with considerable experience from the Nebraska A. C., having been employed there since his graduation as assistant herdsman.

The Senior High School class have decided to adopt the May Pole for their class day exercises. The class song is to be written by Ada Lachner and Bessie Thom, the prophesy by Mr. Couey and Sidney Hooper, the class history by Mr. Bjornson, and the poem by Rosilla Ladd.

- The Active Brothers—John B. Wentz '13.
- The Initiated Kids—Walter Bayard '13.
- The Fickle Goddess—Prof. Waldron.

"ALL OF A SUDDEN PEGGY" FULFILLS ALL EXPECTATIONS BEFORE A CROWDED HOUSE

Alpha Mu Amateurs Star In High Class Production. Special Scenery

For several months past the Alpha Mu fraternity has been preparing to give a really high class play. The play was carefully selected, the parts in the cast assigned with equal care, and then came diligent, painstaking drill in preparation, with the result that when the time came last Saturday evening to present the play before the public an exceptionally good representation of theatrical art was seen. Special scenery from the Grand theatre had been secured, giving the best kind of a setting for the scenes which were enacted.

"All Of a Sudden Peggy" is a three act comedy, written by Henrietta Grossman. It centers around the life of a certain family of the English nobility, the scenes being at the family home on the estate and the apartments of the younger son in London. The older son, Anthony, head of the family, is one of those occasional freaks with an intense love for collecting spiders. Because of his investigations of the spider tribe he had at some time made the acquaintance of the naturalist, Prof. O'Mara, now deceased, and of his wife, and daughter Peggy. When the play opens the Widow O'Mara and Peggy are the guests of Anthony at the Crackenhorpe home, much to the disgust of the proud Lady Crackenhorpe, who sees clearly that the Irish widow is scheming to place her daughter in a comfortable position for life. So urgent does the need of preventing such a social calamity appear that on the arrival of the younger son, Jimmie, from Ceylon, the distracted mother and uncle prevail upon him, even before he has made the acquaintance of the young lady, to help the cause, "for the good of the family" to "dazzle" Peggy, thus drawing her away from Anthony. This scheme works better than calculated, as Jimmie discovers that Peggy is not a bad sort of a girl at all. Peggy obtains the same opinion regarding Jimmie, and there follows a bewildering series of love-makings and heart-breakings, Peggy instinctively making several wild moves "all of a sudden" which several times threatened to throw all her plans into the air permanently.

The second act is staged in Jimmie's London apartments, Jimmie having returned to town on business. Peggy "all of a sudden" leaves the Crackenhorpe home, with a note to her mother that she had eloped with Jimmie and that they would be on their honeymoon on the continent. By wild-irish daring she enters Jimmie's apartments one evening when Jimmie is absent, and prevails upon the valet to allow her to remain. Next morning Jimmie arrives and is informed by Peggy that all the world supposes they are now married and on their honeymoon, and again a series of astonishing, mirth provoking scenes are enacted. Lady Crackenhorpe arrives, and much against her will is prevailed upon to formally become reconciled to the match. Jimmie, however, is not yet reconciled to exactly this method of procedure, and the act ends with the explaining of the pretense, and the determination of Jimmie to return to Ceylon, despite the fact that he has secured an excellent berth in London. Peggy returns to her mother, and here the third act is carried out.

Mrs. O'Mara, during the absence of Peggy on her supposed honeymoon has not been inactive, but, seeing her daughter provided for by marrying the younger son, immediately, thru her unabating interest in spiders, captures the heart of Anthony, and before the return of the party, becomes engaged to him. Jimmie also returns, before sailing for Ceylon, but both he and Peggy come to a fuller realization that their love for the other is not to be denied, and finally both come to a realization of the other's feelings, and the play ends happily, again "all of a sudden."

The play was characterized by splendid acting of difficult parts. Chester Holkesvig, who played the part of Anthony Crackenhorpe, the spider collector, gave evidence of a great deal of talent in portraying the part of the eccentric naturalist, so absorbed in his hobby as to forget all else. Reginald Colley as Major Archie Phipps, the impecunious

Our Athletes Are Rounding Into Shape

FIRST WORKOUT IN THE OPEN LAST SATURDAY — TRACK WORK WILL START SOON.

"Polly" Foss and Captain Wirtenberger are working hard with the baseball candidates. There are more men turning out every day and the squad now numbers about thirty members. Last Saturday afternoon the first outside practice occurred, and lasted for a couple of hours, batting and fielding practice being the order of the day, and some of the boys amply demonstrated the fact that they still have their batting eye.

The battery candidates are gradually rounding into form, under "Polly's" able tutelage kinks and sore muscles are disappearing leaving the candidates in shape for the harder work which is to follow. The pitching department shows promising signs of developing into a classy string of heavies, while the receiving end will be the best ever. "Polly" Foss is undoubtedly the best college catcher in the northwest, and with two or three others to fall back on when necessary, there needs to be no worry concerning that position. There are three and four candidates for every position on the team and some very lively competition for berths on the squad may be looked forward to. Just now every one is anxiously awaiting Coach Reuber's return, he has some way of pounding the rawest kind of material into championship aggregations, and we hate to think of what he will do with the wealth of material there is available this year.

Track Situation Grows Hopeful.

So far the track men have been able to do but very little, Mr. Pope and Prof. Miller have been selected to coach the track team, and we are now assured of good representation in that line of sports if the students will do their share. The warm weather will soon put the cinder path into fit condition to use.

In looking over the material we find Wirtenberger and Bolsinger for the sprints, Mikkelson and Schroeder for the weights, Nolet, Westlund, Stumpf, Perry and Larson for the distances, including the half and quarter mile, Nolet for the high jump, Wirtenberger and Beardsley for the hurdles and Berg for the pole vault. All these men are of last year's team and may be expected to be better than ever this season. Several new men have signified their intention to turn out, so it is beginning to look as though there will be material galore. However there can never be too much, and there is no danger but what there will be room for all and then some, so it is to be hoped that all who have the time will turn out.

Special Bulletin No. 12, containing the new laws on snuff, cold storage, affected meats, and honest advertising is now ready for distribution.

1915 Agassiz Board Elected Last Week

STEWART WILL EDIT, BERG HUSTLE, AND STARK KODAK.

Wednesday noon the Sophomore class met and elected George Stewart, as editor of the 1915 Agassiz. They put August Berg in as his running mate, and now they are talking about what kind of an annual the next year's Juniors are going to impose upon the public. Miss Elsie Stark was chosen as the one to carry the vest pocket edition of one of Eastman's latest types, and spring upon all unsuspecting campus hikers and shoot them unawares with her deadly weapon in order that a page of kodak views may be secured for their edition.

We feel certain that this trio of workers will put out a book that will be very creditable, as August Berg has had experience along this line before, and George Stewart can do anything. Miss Stark is good with the kodak and so we will all have to go a little easy around the campus when she is in sight.

Mr. Congden has recently been making a special study of chicken soups, and those who are under the impression that the commercial soups are made from that well known bird will doubtless be tolerably surprised when they learn the composition of this article of diet.

John Z. White To Speak In Chapel Wednesday P. M.

NOTED CHICAGO MAN WILL APPEAR TOMORROW.

The Spectrum has received notice that Mr. John Z. White of Chicago, has been secured to speak to the people of the college in the old chapel Wednesday afternoon. Mr. White is presented by the Henry George Lecture Association, and comes recommended as a speaker of unusual force. On the previous evening he will speak before the Town Criers on some phase of city government of interest to citizens of Fargo. The subject which Mr. White will treat in his address here has not been announced, but we are assured of having an opportunity to hear one of a number of able lectures which he presents. Remember the time, 4:30, Wednesday afternoon, April 9.

Inspectors from the Pure Food department have made inspections in the last week in the towns of Grand Forks and Wahpeton, under the state beverage law, and found that many shippers have violated this law. Food Commissioner Ladd has accordingly sent notices to fifteen firms to appear in court in the next ten days to show cause why they should not be prosecuted for violation of the beverage law.

A CO-ED NUMBER.

There has been considerable agitation for some time past, and particularly for the past week in favor of an issue of the Spectrum to be known as the Co-ed Number. Several other college papers of this and other states have run special issues of late, but the Co-ed Number has not yet reached our exchange table. Here is a chance for quite a number of our feminine competitors for scholastic honors to distinguish themselves in a journalistic venture which shall amaze the entire West.

Nearly all periodical publications are edited by men, and women get such recognition as they are able to secure by the artifices known to the members of the sex. We believe it would be no more than our duty to turn over the columns of this paper to the much-abused Co-ed for one week, in order that they may have a fair opportunity to present their cause to the world on an equal footing with mere man, but we are far too considerate of nerves, pocket-books, and the girls' valuable time to expect them to carry the almost superhuman load for more than one week.

Now, girls, talk this up. The Spectrum is yours for one issue, if the opportunity is grasped within the next few weeks. There are exactly eight more issues to follow this one, and as we are the only person able to edit a paper and cram for final exams at the same time, we expect you to improve your opportunity this month if possible, or early next month. Talk it up, and elect your staff, then let us know and we will gladly resign for the week.

"ALL OF A SUDDEN PEGGY" FULFILLS EXPECTATIONS

uncle, was in his element in the role of an elderly English gentleman. Homer Dixon played the difficult part of Jimmie, the victim of the greater part of the disturbance caused by the irrepressible Peggy. The part of Peggy was played by Genevieve Grover, and she was probably the star of the entire performance. Laura Taylor appeared as Lady Crackenthorpe, her part being that of the aristocratic lady whose pride is being injured at every turn. The scheming Irish widow, Mrs. O'Mara, was well played by Eugenia Ruff, who naturally possesses all the qualities necessary for the part. Rizpah Ladd was quite natural as Millicent, the vivacious young daughter of the Crackenthorpe house. Others in the play were not so conspicuous, but carried their parts in a manner that was exceedingly creditable.

A large sized audience turned out for the performance, and gave every evidence of having received a splendid treat. The orchestra also was well appreciated.

Following is the cast of characters: Lady Crackenthorpe, Jimmie's mother—Miss Laura Taylor. Millicent, Jimmie's sister—Miss Rizpah Ladd. Parker, Crackenthorpe's butler—Clarence A. Williams. Old Student Gets Reward Of Early Endeavor

DANIEL GLOMSET PUBLISHES INVESTIGATION RESULTS.

The student and faculty friends of D. G. Glomset, one of the old students of this institution, and a specialist in the Biological department, will be glad to learn that Mr. Glomset, after becoming a doctor, has not lost his scientific activities. Mr. Glomset, while at the A. C., was an inveterate worker and spent much time with Professor Bolley, and later with Dr. Bell in histological studies. He is one of those students who earned his entire way while at the institution and is worthy of a great amount of credit for all his efforts. Not only that, he seems now to be reaping the reward of his early hard work in that he now has a fine position in the Medical faculty of Drake University.

Mr. Glomset has lately published a number of interesting articles upon special cases in Pathology, including studies on cancer, and especially two quite notable articles on the following topics: "Autogenous Vaccines" and "Intra-leukocytic Bodies in Scarlet Fever." These articles are carefully illustrated by micro-photographs of various organic structures, and by careful drawings of his studies in the histological line. These articles are splendidly prepared and show every evidence of scientific exactitude. It is a matter of no small interest, especially to the members of the faculty at the A. C., that a student, working under the difficulties Mr. Glomset had to meet, including ill health in his later years at the Medical college, where he also, through his energy and determination, earned all the funds necessary to put him through the medical college, to know that he is thus meeting with success and able to work upon the line of life work which was, from the start, so interesting to him.

When Mr. Glomset came to this institution, he could neither understand English nor speak it sufficiently to be well understood, but the second day he was in the institution, he explained to Professor Bolley, although he was not then able to enter the first year preparatory course, that he wanted to study Anatomy and become a physician. He appears to have made good within a period of about fifteen years from that date.

PHILOMATHIA.

Philo's first meeting of the term was held Friday evening, and a program of unusual interest was rendered. Reuel Wije told of (some) of his "Experiences in a Canadian Metropolis." Following him Ralph Smith gave a talk on Tornados. As Mr. Smith had observed a tornado which did considerable damage in Bottineau county two years ago, and had read extensively on the subject, his talk was exceedingly instructive. Mr. Smith showed several excellent post card views, two of which showed the tornado in action near Antler. Several members of the society were then called upon to speak extemporaneously on subjects assigned them as they were called upon.

March 31 marked the close of a very successful farmers' institute season, and also the expiration of Mr. Hoverstad's term in connection with this institution. We regret to see Mr. Hoverstad leave us and the work which he has so successfully built up during the years in which he has been institute superintendent, but we congratulate him on his new position as Agricultural Expert for the Soo railroad, and wish him unbounded success in his new field.

NEW KEY TO NO. DAK. PLANTS.

The Department of Botany of the North Dakota Agricultural College has published a check list of North Dakota Plants, Ferns and Flowering Plants. This is put up in the form of a double card index on a card measuring 5x8. It shows the chief families of native plants in order according to Britton's Manual and lists all of the plants alphabetically which have been collected by Professor Bolley or any of his assistants,—that is, it represents a full list of standard specimens now found in the A. C. Herbarium.

It is the idea that the list will be used as a pocket guide to the plants of the state. It will, of course, be of no valuable use to anyone who does not understand the usage of the regular Botanical keys. Only the Latin names are given. It will, however, be of particular interest to those engaged in making local collections of herbaria, and all of those who are particularly interested in collecting and classifying the native plants. This will be sent to any teacher of botany or any specialist who is particularly interested in plant classification on application to the Department of Botany, North Dakota Agricultural College.

JUST HATS!

At last! Once again they have blossomed out, somewhat belated, 'tis true, but more gorgeous than ever before. Their brilliancy and unconventionality quite dazzles us, e'en producing mirth at times, and we almost feel like saying "there aint no such things." Now there is Ethel's for instance, a sensible enough one as far as size and general utility are concerned, but horrors! gaze upon that myriad colored, slender feathery projection reaching up, up, up, into the serene blue till the tip is fairly out of sight, so far is it from the surrounding landscape. But then, one would become blinded ere his eyes had traversed a quarter of the length of this zoological curiosity, so brilliant and varied are the colors. Gaze upon it, we say.

Lives there a bird in any clime Who ever to himself has said: "The feather that you see was mine, But now is perched on Ethel's head?"

We defy Dr. Bell or any other zoologist to name the bird from whence was plucked this feather. Is it fish or flesh or fowl? But this is not the only one from Ceres that we have seen. Many other fair damsels have been similarly duped by the milliners. And 'tis indeed a rare treat to watch the procession of postion, Easter bonnets, all of them radical, radically different, radically ludicrous, and gorgeous beyond description. And still some people say that women should vote!

JOINT BULLETIN ISSUED.

An interesting bulletin by H. L. Bolley of the North Dakota Experiment Station and M. L. Wilson of the Montana Experiment Station is just off the press. This joint bulletin is intended to illustrate the best methods of handling sod lands to prepare them for cropping to flax.

It is written primarily for those regions which may be spoken of as semi-dry land areas. The bulletin is prepared in a topical manner, each page treating a definite subject. Each subject is illustrated by a carefully prepared picture. The bulletin is really a picture book of best methods in handling sod lands. As it is issued in a comparatively small edition it will, chiefly, be sent out only upon request. It does not deal to any extent with the preparation of old land, but it shows how new land should be handled in order to avoid spoiling the land for flax cropping in the future. It explains very clearly what is meant by soil deterioration arising from soil infection by root destroying fungi. It illustrates all the processes of handling sod from engine farming down to the two horse proposition.

ALPHA MU DANCE.

The first social event of the term occurred Friday evening, March 28, in the armory, when the Alpha Mu was host at a delightful dance. About ninety-five couples were present and danced to the music of Dr. Putnam's six piece orchestra. The decorations were in green and yellow, the college colors, and black and blue, the fraternity colors. Frappe was served by the Copper Kettle Inn.

One Man or Boy, Alone, Can Run This Avery Plow Outfit

You don't need any plowman with an Avery "self-lift" Engine Gang. The plows are handled entirely by power taken from the plow wheels. Pull a cord at the ends of the furrows and the plows lift out of the ground—turn around, pull the cord again and they drop back in. This wonderful Avery "Self-Lift" Engine Gang puts all the Hand Lever Plows all out of date. Saves you the wages and board of a plowman. Saves you all the hard, back-breaking work of lifting and lowering the plows by hand levers at the end of each furrow. And with an Avery "Self-Guide" attachment you don't even have to touch the tractor steering wheel from one end to the other. Just sit there and watch the outfit run. Plowing is certainly play with an Avery "Self-Guide" Tractor and "Self-Lift" Plow.

Make More Money By Power Farming Like Others Are Doing

Power Farming with an Avery Outfit is a Proven Money Maker. Definite cost records kept by owners prove a saving of half and more of the expense of horse plowing, also a big saving in harrowing, discing, seeding, harvesting, hauling, grading and other work. You can raise bigger crops by tractor farming—plow deeper and do all your work better and at just the right time. Also save hard work for yourself and make farming more interesting for your boys. You can get an Avery Outfit to fit any size farm—12-25 H. P. Tractor pulling 3 to 4 plows and plowing 15 to 18 acres per day, for small farms—25-35 H. P. pulling 5 to 6 plows and plowing 15 to 18 acres per day for medium size farms—40-50 H. P. pulling 8 to 10 plows and plowing 25 to 30 acres per day, for large farms.

Get Tractor Farming Facts, Free! Learn the facts about Tractor Farming. The Avery Tractor and Plow Book tells you about them. Also tells about the wonderful "Light-Weight" of Avery Tractors—the 12-25 H. P. weighs less than 7,500 pounds, the 25-35 H. P. less than 11,500 pounds, and the 40-50 H. P. only 20,000 pounds. Shows why they are the simplest Tractors built. Explains all about the Avery Mutual Benefit Selling Plan of Sold on Approval Terms, Strong Guarantees and Low Prices. Write—get all the facts—ask for Avery 1915 Complete Tractor Book with Power Farming Facts, full information about Avery "Light-Weight" Tractors and "Self-Lift" Plows and the Avery Mutual Benefit Selling Plan. COLLEGE BRIEFS

Prof. White has just completed his experiments on the influence of bran and wheat products on flour and on the volume and quality of the bread containing these extracts. There appears to be an enzyme which acts upon the yeast in such a manner as to produce an especially large and light loaf of bread.

Brother Ogaard, before leaving our sanctum sanctorum, deposited in our care and cash box a tenth part of a dollar, the same to be invested in stamps, which, if affixed to the wrapper of one of the issues of our weekly paper, and addressed to the gentleman in question, will insure a more expedient delivery of the periodical than if sent by the Williston freight.

Every Friday from now till inspection, weather permitting, the band and company will go through the maneuvers of parade review and inspection. While the company is greatly handicapped by the lieutenant's illness, still the boys are working well, with a few exceptions, and prospects are favorable for a good appearance at government inspection.

M. A. Thorfinson has recovered from his siege of the mumps, and has again resumed his school work.

A certain young lady tried to kidnap one of our illustrious young men one day last week, to take him for a walk. Fortunately (?) her plans went wrong, so the young man escaped and is still at large.

Prof. Richards made a hurried business trip to Detroit, Wednesday last.

Prof. Thompson spent Thursday and Friday of last week on institute work at Park River.

Henry Horsager of Berlin made a hurried call on his sister, Clara, and other friends at college Wednesday morning.

Alpha Zeta is planning for its annual dance, which will be held Friday, April 18th. Several committees are working on the project, and a success is promised. Reuel Wiye and Walter Bayard have charge of invitations and programs, Gabriel Lundy looks after refreshments, and Hal Pollock the decorating.

Ole Neraal, George Gustafson, Bill Emery and Arthur Ogaard left for their respective positions during the past week.

Mr. Farmer has been added to the number of book agents now burdening the campus.

David Sonquist has returned from his tour with the F. C. Glee Club. The moisture in the gas mains on the campus froze and closed the pipes last week, causing considerable inconvenience for several days.

Mrs. W. C. Palmer has written an article on different days of preparing potatoes for the table which has been widely published, and it is of interest to know that the article has been taken up by the Farmers' Clubs of Ohio in the study they are making of vegetables.

Dr. Bell and the Boyd boys were out Saturday morning in quest of a few specimens for the zoo.

Mr. Clauson of Northrup, King & Co., visited the Pure Seed Laboratory last week.

Miller S. Vance has returned to the A. C. and has taken up his scholastic duties in the high school and his vocational duties in the Botanical department. He also expects to go out for track as soon as the field is in shape.

Ray Boyd has succeeded to the position of taxidermist which was vacated some time ago by H. V. Williams.

Mr. W. L. Oswald, Minnesota's new State Seed Commissioner, spent Friday observing the methods in use at our laboratory.

Arthur Ogaard has been chosen Class Orator for this year's graduating class.

The Seed Laboratory sent out its first consignment of 28 different samples N. D. R. 114 Flax Seed to the flax growers of the state. These are samples of seed which has been grown for several generations on the old flax sick soil of the station, and making from 15 to 30 bushels per acre, according to the weather conditions. This seed is sent out under the provisions of the new law whereby the ultimate purchaser of seed can always ascertain the grower of the seed. The bags are sealed by the Seed Laboratory representatives, and a card is enclosed with a number representing a certain grower, whose name is registered with the laboratory.

"Get the Education That Gets the Money"

A big business man at a banquet the other night said, "It takes a college education to learn how to properly color a meerscham pipe."

The way the big moneyed men of this country are rapping unpractical college courses over the knuckles nowadays is a caution—and also a nudge to every bright, keen, alert, active fellow to "Get the The Education That Gets the Money."

If Professor Watkins could only tell you of the phenomenal success of many of his graduates, you would hardly believe that there are so many big, golden opportunities lying around to be seized.

RIGHT HERE IN FARGO

His school has fourteen people with the First National Bank. Forty-nine out of fifty-three people working in the local banks are his graduates. Over 685 Northwestern banks employ Dakota Business College pupils. These are facts which you can verify for yourself—they mean something to young people. This school cannot fill one-third of the calls it receives for graduates.
