We Win At Home, And Lose At Winnipeg, But Have Slight Advantage Iu Total Points

On Friday evening of last week there occurred an event bound to be remembered as the beginning of a new era in public speaking history at the Agricultural College, namely, the first dual debate with the Agricultural College of Manitoba.

Seldom if ever has there been held in our halls a debate which could fival this one in merit. The teams were very evenly matched as to individual debating ability, the arguments clashed perfectly, and the speeches were of a high order of merit. From the first to the last the interest never lagged, as each speaker was brim-full of his subject and perfectly ready to answer any arguments brought by his opponents. While some thot that the Single Tax was a dry subject, those who were brave enough to attend have changed their minds, and all came away certain that they had learned much concerning an interesting branch of political science.

The debate ween bound to be the other. An equal tax would discourage speculation. A chart was shown showing four lots in Wiuni-equity one with a house, the others vacant lot adjoining, under the single tax the non-resident speculator would pay as much as the householder.

The second negative speaker, Mr. Smith, stated that the single tax idea was based on a false foundation. Henry George was more concerned in striking a blow at private ownership of land than to raise revenues. The single tax had proven itself inservations and the occupied lot is several times the tax on the vacant lot adjoining, under the single tax the non-resident speculation. We have not expert of the single tax the same the single tax idea was based on a false foundation. Henry George was more concerned and their single tax had proven itself instriking a blow at private ownership of land than to raise revenues. The single tax had proven itself instriking a blow at private ownership of land than to raise revenues. The single tax had proven itself instriking a blow at private ownership of land than to raise revenues and advised economy. Another expert of the single tax the occupi political science.

The debate was opened at eight thirty, with Edwin Traynor in he chair and Roy Dynes keeping time. The first speaker was Mr. Gordou of Manitoba, representing the affirmative, who stated the question, "Resolved that for Western Canada and the Western States the taxing The of Manitoba, it ative, who stated the dative, who stated the dative, who stated the argument that all wealth, at the data was practically at the data was at a tax on land at the data was practically at the data was practic wealth. A tax on land alone, in proportion to its producitve value was the only solution. This statement was backed by the argument that land is the source of all wealth, hence land is the best subject of taxation. He denied that any form of wealth could be produced without land. Stocks and bonds, if they represent labor value, would be on a par with any other, but if they represent land values, they would be subject to the tax, and would not esrepresent land values, they would be subject to the tax, and would not escape. Land differs from other property in that it is fixed, and is not man made. It is communal in its nature. Rent for the use of land should be paid to the community which gives it value.

Mr. Stewart opened the debate on the part of he negative. He defined tax as "That portion of property which a man pays for the free use of the remainder." The single tax does not come within the definition. He based his argument against the single tax on the theorems that it is false in theory, that it is ineffective and inelastic, and it is unjust. A land tax was the first tax imposed, when land was the only form of property. A tax on other property came in later, when such property became when land was the certy. A tax on other property came in later, when such property became common, and the tax was levied that owners might bear their proportionate share of the burden. He agreed with the affirmative that the baisc with the affirmative that the baisc license license.

The judges of the debate were the contradictory to the stablished, no revenue is received, and vice versa. Mr. Smith showed that Vancouver was facing the necessity of either abandoning the single tax system or unercifully raising the rate.

The judges of the debate were with the affirmative that the baisc idea of a tax is to tax according to the benefis received. Hence license taxes, income taxes, franchise taxes, etc., are common sense taxes, because of the benefits received. Any business receiving fire and police protection should pay for it. He produced a chart which showed that ninety per cent of American cities and fifty per cent of Canadian cities are not in favor of the single tax system.

doning the single tax system or unmercifully raising the rate.

The judges of the debate were Rev. F. G. Behner, Rev. W. J. Hutcheson, and Judge C. F. Amidon Their verdict stood two to one in favor of the negative.

While the decision was being taken, Miss Keene rendered a vocal solo. Afterwards a short social session was held, at which dancing was the chief attraction.

The second speaker on the affirmative, Mr. McCulloch, cited the effect of taxation on the shipping of the United States. While other nations United States. While other nations have gradually reduced their taxes on shipping, our taxes have gone up, with the result that our shipping is almost demoralized despite our sulphase the decision was two one against our team, making the negative winner in both cases. Howperior workmanship and intelligence.

Many factories are now being attracted to cities of Western Canada which have the single tax, from American and Western Canadian cities.

A land tax is simple. Land can not be hidden nor the tax evaded | As long as tax collection depended upon faithfulness nad honesty there would amout of trepidation as well as debe tyranny and corruption on the termination

Canadian cities which have the single tax the rates have gone up as high as 90 mills on the dollar. In Fair-hope, Alabama, which has operated nope, Alabama, which has operated under the single tax for seventy years, money for public improvements is raised by means of entertainments, etc. In many cities the population is decreasing, hence land values are decreasing and the tax becomes inadequate to raise sufficient revenue. The single tax is inclus-

Edmonton and Medicine Hat to show that the system was working well and that no immediate difficulty was expected.

The last speaker for the negative, Mr. Stapleton, showed the tax to be unjust, as it puts the burden on the poorer classes. Factory operatives occupy one hundred times as much land as the factory, and their tax would be excessive. Owners of land having buildings for rent will receive an increased rental, hence will not an increased rental, hence will not pay any more out of their own pocket than before.

In the rebuttal arguments much vim and fire was shown by both sides, each brot forth arguments sides, each brot forth arguments clashing directly with those of their opponents. Mr. Gordon made a good point when he showed that a tax for the double purpose of restriction and for raising revenuie was contradictory to itself. If restriction is fully established, no revenue is received, and vice verse. Mr.

Ogaard Quits Spectrum For The Simple Life

Will Begin Work At Williston Sub-station This Spring.

In another column we print the farewell editorial of our erstwhile head pen-pusher. Mr. Ogaard has accepted a position with the Williston Subsation, taking the place va-cated by Mr. W. O. Whitcomb, who is now connected with the Montana Station.

Since coming to this institution the above named gentleman has been connected with probably more studconnected with probably more stud-ent activities than any other man, and has made an unqualified success of every venture which he undertook. As Editor-in-Chief of this publication he worked with boundless enthusiam to make the paper a success, and it is due to the great amount of energy he eveneded that we were able to say he expended that we were able to say that we had here the best college weekly in the North West. The Crack Squad, the organization which Grack Squad, the organization which is transforming our military department from an enforced burden to be endured as well as may be to an organization whose training is as eagerly sought for as that of the band, is the product of his organizing ability and stick-to-it-iveness. As a debater and orator his reputation is well known and besides the work of well known, and besides the work of this sort he has done much which is not so well known to the college public, especially as president of the Board of Public Speaking Control.

The standard of college life has risen markedly in the past few years, and much of it is due to the influence of a few students with a broadence of a few students with a broad-enced vision, of which Mr. Ogaard is one. From his record here and at other schools it is easy to predict for him a large measure of success in his chosen vocation. While he will him a large measure of success in his chosen vocation. While he will not be here during the Spring term, he will return in June to receive his degree, for which he is already prepared. The student body and especiall the Spectrum staff congratulate Mr. Ogaard on his appointment and wish him unbounded success.

Verne McCall Answers The Final Summons

Member of Graduating Class of '11 Passes away after Long Illness.

The students and faculty, as well as many people of the city, were shocked last week to learn of the death in Colorado of Verne McCall '11. Mr. McCall while a student here made many friends by his quiet, spent at the Kansas State Agricultural College, where he studied electrical engineering. On coming here in 1909 he changed his course to Agricultre, and graduated with the class of 1911. He was a member of Alpha Zeta Fraternity, and an industrious worker in the Y. M. C. A., being president of the latter organization during his Senior year. zation during his Senior year.

ALPHA MU INITIATES.

Friday evening the Alpha Mus initiated three more candidates into the horrors and benefits of the order. The victims were Lloyd Beardsley, Robert Pearson, and Edward Parizek. The ceremony took place at the frat house on eleventh avenue, and was followed by an eight course supper which was pronounced by the one of the brethren to have been "swell' in the extreme. The occasion was made a sort of a house warming, as several of the alumni were present and remained as the guests of the fraternity.

FARGO COLLEGE SQUAD TAKES ITS TURN FOR A DRUBBING AT HANDS OF A. C.

Hill Toppers Could Not Stand The Pace And Lost 12 to 21

On Saturday evening Coach Rueber's squad again demonstrated their superiority over Fargo College, this time to the pleasing time of 21 to 12. This is our second triumph over the Hill-toppers this season, and besides giving us the city championship is another long stride towards the state title. An immense crowd witnessed the game, the armory being filled to its utmost capacity. The A. C. rooting was very good, showing a decided improvement over past games.

The game started with a rush, both teams playing hard, Murray of Fargo College negotiating the first both teams playing hard, Murray of Fargo College negotiating the first basket, a free throw netted F. C. another point making the score 3 to 0 in their favor. Capt. Bolsinger then came to the rescue and shot a long basket from a difficult angle. He was quickly followed by Hackett and Darrow, each of them contributing a field basket. Murray shot a gield goal and soon added another point via the foul route. McKee then went in for Darrow. The play was fast and furious with neither side scoring until Murray again connected for a field basket. Krafthefer then went in for Hackett, announcing his entrance into the game The last series of the Inter-Class Basket-Ball League proved to be highly interesting, the games were very well played and a better attendance was very evident, on the hight of the Soph-Freshmen game there was a crowd of two or three hundred people, including a large number of the Co-eds. Several surprises were sprung and interest is now at fever heat, the Sophs and Freshies are now tied for first place, and unless the unexpected happens, extra games will be required to settle the championship. The biggest surprise of the series was the defeat of the Sophs at thands of the Farm Husbandry.

Juniors 17—High School 7.

On Monday night the Juniors defeated the High School by a score of 17 to 7. During the first half the Juniors played the Preps off their feet, the half ending 14 to 3 in favor of the Juniors. In the second half ,however, the High School took a brace and played the upper class men to a standstill, scoring 4 points to the Juniors 3. The teams lined up as follows: H. S.—Hooper, Dahl, I. f.; Bjornson, r. f.; Mikkelson, c.; Corbett, I. g.; Heidner, r. g. Juniors—Ostby, I. f.; Halland, f. f.; Larsen, c.; Manikowski r. g., Stumpf, I. g.

NOTICE.

Prof. Trimble will give opportunity for examination of students needing to make up back work, on Saturtwo-thirds of the time, brilliant team work and the superior condition of our men was again in evidence, while Coach Rueber's generalship was also clearly visible. Krafthefer pulled off difficult plays with almost monotonous regularity, the principal features being his two baskets made from the tip-off under our basket afte a held ball had been called. Capt. Bolsinger and Krafthefer each connected for two field baskets while connected for two field baskets while Nolet and McKee both contributed one apiece. Fargo College scored only four points during the last half only four points during the last half two of these being from fouls and the other two coming from Murray's field goal. The guarding of the A. C. can best be judged by the number of field goals made by the Hill top-pers. Neither their guards nor their forwards were able to connect, luck cannot be said to have prevailed in our favor, as F. C. probably made a larger percent of baskets in propo-eion to shots, time after time the A. C. would shoot only to have the ball

EDITOR'S FAREWELL.

Due to the fact that I have accepted a position to be occupied at the end of the present term, it becomes necessary for me to resign as editor-in-chief of THE SPECTRUM. The Student Council has accepted the resignation and has authorized one of the associate editors, Clarence Walter, to take charge until the next editor's term of office begins. Mr Walter has been very efficient as an associate and has had charge since the week prior to the Student Life We also sympathize Special tour. most heartily with anyone who may in the future be prevailed upon to edit the college weekly. From what we have been able to gather from present status the college editor is doing a work of charity for we fail to see any reward except complaints from subscribers when the paper comes out late. AN OPINION.

There has been considerable agita There has been considerable agitation during the past two weeks over the adoption of a popular system of student election. By this system the editor and business manager of the Spectrum, the athletic manager, and other important officers would be elected by a majority vote of all the students who are taking covers that elected by a majority vote of all the students who are taking courses that grant degrees. Several articles have appeared in these columns which have been favorable to this plan, and it is the concensus of opinion that this new system which is being largely used in colleges and universities should be inauguarted here. The opposers of this plan have not voiced their sentiments in these columns, nor have they offered any logical objection, yet, when it was brot before the Student Council a motion was made to lay it on the table, without even discussing the issue. The Student Council is truly a

The Student Council is truly a governing body and has the power to reject it if they wish, but, if they are not sufficiently broad to at least take it into consideration and discuss an it into consideration and discuss an issue which is vitally important to all progressive and democratic students, then it is time that we abolished our Student Council. Under the present system of student election it is possible for a mere handful of students to elect the editor of the Spectrum, while there are hundreds of students while there are hundreds of students just as vitally interested, and who pay just as much for their paper, yet they are not given a chance to vote. If this system is going to be at least tried, why not either adopt it or re-ject it "now" instead of waiting un-til all interest is lost, and the Spring elections are over? The Student Council consists of representatives from the various classes, therefore they should carry out the wishes of the class. But is this true? Cre-tainly not! If not, we need a change, and a change would certainly come if a sytem of popular election

The write-up in the last number fo this paper concerning "tag-day" has caused much bad feeling among some of the S. C. Students. Now this article was written by a member of the regular editorial staff of this paper and not by a staff-member of the Agassiz trying to rub it in.

We wish to thank the large number of Short Course Students who have subscribed and to advise those wh have not yet done so that the Junior Class is doing all in its power to put out a book that will surpass any similar book that has ever been seen at this school, and that in the seen at this school, and that in the book will be found pictures of all the classes and organizations in school, both long and short course. -Agassiz Staff

SUNDAY AFTERNOON MEETING. The regular Y. M. C. A. meeting was addressed by Rev. W. J. Hutcheson, pastor of the Broadway M. E. church of the city. Mr. Hutcheson is a man of pleasing personality who takes a great delight in mixing with young men, especially students, and his address, which was entitled "Facts, Ideals, and Thrills" was one of the most forceful, interesting, and edifying addresses yet delivered before the association. After presentfore the association. After presentfore the association. After presenting several basic facts in a logical way he proceeded to show that life was at its best only when there was held up before it high ideals, such that the accomplishment thereof would give to a person physical, intellectual, and spiritual thrills.
