ALL LITERARY SOCIETY FESTIVAL OCCUPIES MUCH ATTENTION FROM CONTESTANTS

Four Literary Societies Will Compete For Places In Dramatic Contest.

DATE NOV. 15th ADMISSION 10c

Annual Event Promises To Be Well Attended By Everyone In College

Last year, thanks to the inspiration of Prof. Arvold, the four literary societies of the institution staged a Literary Festival, in which they strove to out-do each other in the presentation of a play, and in a song and yell contest. This novel affair made such a hit that it was decided then and there to continue the festival annually.

All four of the societies are now busy with plans for this year's contest, which is scheduled for Nov. 15. Plays have been selected, and the casts decided upon, and every one is hard at work trying to make the presentation of the play of their own society and incidentally the entire festival a success.

The Philomathians have selected a negro farce, entitled "Who Gets De Reward?". Six characters take part in this production. One of these is a negro girl, but while the Philos are all men of pure Caucasian blood they are sufficiently adaptable to furnish all the requirements.

Athena will present a farce on the matrimonial market, "First Come, First Served". This society won first place in last year's contest, and are to be reckoned with again.

One of the strongest hits of last year was the "Old Maid's Convention" presented by Castalia, the girls' society of the A. & M. T. H. S. This year they expect again to entertain and please the audience, presenting a basket ball farce, "The Outsiders". Seven girls will take part in this play.

Hesperia, the boys' society of the high school, will probably stage "The Doctor's Assistant", which calls for six characters. No one can forget the force of the play presented by this group last year, and a high class production is looked for.

Nothing that was attempted by the literary societies heretofore has stirred up quite the enthusiasm, rivalry, and withal, goodfellowship, that was engendered by the All Literary Festival. While the Athenians were adjudged winners of the contest, the decision was close, and none of the societies were so far behind as to lose heart, but each went away with the feeling that next year's victory was within grasp for his or her society. In addition to the production of the plays there was a song and yell contest, for which separate prizes were awarded. The first place in this contest was won by Castalia.

The prizes to be awarded have not yet been announced. Last year the Athenians were given a roast chicken which formed the basis for a spread at a later meeting.

In accordance with the custom established last fall there will probably be a social after the performance, for the exclusive benefit of the members of the various literary societies. This will furnish a splendid chance for the literary workers to get acquainted and get in touch with each other.

In order to defray the expenses of the festival a nominal admission fee of ten cents will be charged of all spectators. Everybody is going, so a large crowd is inevitable. Get your tickets early as the supply will be limited.

Legislature To Be Asked For Appropriation For Agricultural Building

COMMITTEES ARE WORKING ON TENTATIVE PLANS.

For some time there has been a feeling among the people of the college and others interested that the purely agricultural interests at the institution were but poorly cared for in the way of buildings and general equipment; that at the Agricultural College there was no Agricultural Building worthy of the name, or capable of arousing the pride of student and citizen. With many of the other departments now fairly well supplied it was decided to ask the coming session of the legislature for an appropriation sufficient to build and equip a real Agricultural Building such as is demanded by the foremost industry of the State.

Various committees are now working on the tentative plans of the building, its location, and the distribution of the interior space. It is planned to have one large central wing, and two somewhat smaller wings to the rear. Each of the three wings is to be three stories in height above a full basement.

The building is to house the work in Animal Husbandry, Dairying, Horticulture, Farm Crops, Soils, Plant Breeding, Farm Management, Agricultural Engineering, Demonstration Farms, College Extension, Farmers' Institutes, and the Stallion Registration Board. Both the Station work and the college teaching work is to be carried on within the walls of this building. In addition to providing the class rooms, laboratories, and offices for all of the above mentioned departments there is also to be a fair sized auditorium, which it is expected will provide for most of the crowds which gather here for any occasion. The auditorium is to be in the central part of the building, straight before you as you pass thru the main entrance. The exact location of the building has not yet been decided upon, but it is likely that it will be located west of the Horticultural green houses.

Prof. Miller had a young alligator sent to him, but unfortunately the reptile died in transit, and now forms a part of the mounted collection instead of the aquarium collection.

COLLEGE ON THE HILL VANQUISHED IN ANNUAL CHAMPIONSHIP GRIDIRON BATTLE

Preachers Play Havoc With Aggie Line and Score On Place Kick By Stickney

DANN MAKES TWO TOUCHDOWNS

Splendid Passing And Open Work By Backfield made Victory Possible

Those who had expected to see a one-sided game between our team and their old enemy, Fargo College, were indeed sadly disappointed last Friday afternoon when the college on the hill was downed after a close battle, to the tune of 14-3. F. C. had decidedly the better of the argument until the last of the third quarter after which the result was never in doubt. The team than seemed to realize that they would have to fight for their laurels. Fargo College fought as for their lives and played rings around their lighter but more experienced opponents, who lacked the fighting spirit one would be justified in expecting from an A. C. team playing against Fargo College. Our line was punctured in spots at will and the fast backfield was never able to begin a play without being spilled by some man breaking thru. The defense used by F. C. was old style. The secondary defense backed up the line leaving a rather weak defense for the forward pass upon which fact our victory was won. In the first half the play was largely in our territory and it was not advisable to open up at that time and of course that half seemed rather disastrous for us. However when open work was at last resorted to, gains were rather easy and with a little more effort several more touchdowns might have been made. In the last half McQuillan made some fine passes and Dann made two touchdowns after receiving them, making 50 yard runs in both instances. Parizek made an unlucky fumble which spoiled his chance of making a similar run for six counts. Dann and Parizek starred at the ends. Dann received some difficult passes and in both instances did some very clever open field running. He was aided by fine interference by the backfield. Parizek played an exceptionally fine game, spilling several plays behind the line. In the line Captain Olson played a strong game and usually held like a stone wall. Schroeder was also at his best both in defense and offense.

An exceptionally large crowd attended the game. The Fargo College rooters occupied the South stands and yelled up to their usual standard. The rooting of the A. C. bunch was probably the best ever heard here. The band was on hand and gave a good account of themselves. Shortly after three o'clock both teams appeared on the field and warmed up. The punting of Harrington in practice was very good. The A. C. chose to kick off to the West goal.

The Game in Detail.

The game started with a rush when Bentley kicked off 40 yards to Harrington who returned 15 yds. Rolf was thrown for an 8 yd. loss by Bentley on the first play. A. C. was penalized for off side. Harrington tried left end for no gain and was forced to punt 30 yds. to Foss who got the ball on the first bounce. Foss was called upon and fumbled and the ball was recovered by F. C. Harrington then took the ball around right end for 15 yds. No gain was made on the next play on the line. Boise rushed thru left tackle for two yds. and Olson broke thru on the next play and spilled it for no gain. At this point Stickney made his first try for a field goal by place kicking from the forty yd. line. The ball went wild and was put in scrimmage

PROF. REYNOLDS ARRIVES

Prof. Ernest Shaw Reynolds, who has been selected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. Bergman has arrived, and takes up his work as teaching botanist this week. The classes in Botany are this year the largest in the history of the institution, and in the absence of the regular instructor there has been some difficulty in directing the student work. The task, however, has been very ably performed by Prof. Stevens of the Pure Seed Laboratory.

Prof. Reynolds holds the degree of Ph. D. from the University of Illinois, and his training has been such as to peculiarly fit him to carry on the work of the department as it should be conducted in an institution where science is of the greatest importance. He has had a number of years experience in teaching, and two or more years of experience in Government investigation in Plant Pathology, coming to this institution direct from teaching work in the University of Tennessee. The faculty and students extend to Prof. Reynolds a hearty welcome, and hope that he will find conditions here entirely to his liking.

PHILOMATHIA

Saturday morning five enthusiastic Philos, anxious to "put it over" on the Athenians, tried out for the Joint Debate. Dynes, Walter and Wije were the successful contestants. Miss Dinan, Prof. Martin and Prof. Johnson acted as judges. This team will uphold the negative of the question, "Resolved, That the System of Recall now in operation in the City of Los Angeles, California, would be beneficial in American cities of over one hundred thousand inhabitants," in the debate which is to be held Dec. 6.

What's the matter with Roney's Boys? They're Great.

Prof. Waldron was successful last week in landing a fine specimen of the Jack Rabbit family, which he donated to the Zoological Department. The jack is now on exhibition in Mr. Williams workshop and museum.

THOSE AWFUL FRATS.

With this issue we conclude our writeups on the fraternal organizations of the college now in existence. More of them will inevitably follow as the College grows larger. And more of them will be welcome if their purposes are right. The controversy which goes on in all colleges as to whether fraternities are an evil or not is largely due to these organizations forgetting their primary purpose in a scramble impelled by selfish motives. The sooner fraternal organizations realize their important place in college life and play fair with the remainder of the school the sooner they will be a benefit rather than an evil. The following clipping very forcibly brings out the true fraternity purpose, the following out of which would obviate much trouble and unnecessary internal strife in American Colleges.

"The first and greatest purpose of a fraternity, the highest and loftiest ideal, should be to create and foster among its members a strong and abiding mutual friendship. As this purpose is recognized and becomes more and more an essential objective point in fraternity life, so does it elevate the whole moral and mental stature of the Fraternity member, and will make it well nigh impossible for him to give way to the lower and baser elements of nature.

"Oftentimes, however, we have seen the Fraternity entirely diverted from the higher purpose for which it was created and which constitutes its sole claim to a distinct place in college life, and become a mere engine of prejudice to foster and protect selfish motives, a by-path, perhaps, to political honors in the college community. When a fraternity reaches this level, the reason for its being is past. The necessity for its immediate purification or successful condemnation is evident. To guard against such a descent by a fraternity or chapter of a fraternity, must be the constant effort of every member. The downward tendencies must be checked, for in fraternities as elsewhere they await but the chance to creep in. And it is for this reason that the purely fraternal idea must be dominant. The bonds of friendship, of genuine brotherly love, will brush from a man the roughened edge of selfish, sordid motives, and finally wear them entirely away."

Boy Problem Expert Will Appear At Grand

Dr. Merica is expected to be one of best on Course.

Next Sunday's lecture at the Grand promises to be one of the best of the course. Dr. Charles Oliver Merica, formerly President of the University of Wyoming, now Superintendent of the Boys' Training School at Red Wing, Minn., will speak on the subject "The Boy Who Goes Wrong".

Dr. Merica is characterized by authorities, both East and West, as an orator of the first rank, an educator without a peer, and a thinker who blazes the trail for others to follow. In his addresses he combines rare wisdom with humor and philosophy. The subject on which he speaks next Sunday is one of vital interest to all who are interested in the upbuilding and improvement of the race, and a rare treat is in store for those who attend the lecture.

The Soil Survey Work in Barnes county is rounding up nicely during these last days of fair weather. Prof. Hard is spending most of his time in the field, and Messrs. Dunn, Holmes, and A. C. Anderson are out constantly. Barnes County is the third county in the state to have a complete survey made of its soil resources over its entire area. Several other counties have had large tracts surveyed, also. Next year the work will be extended into Griggs county, the enterprising farmers of that county having agreed to furnish a portion of the necessary funds.

EDUCATION LECTURE.

Tuesday afternoon Miss Stoner lectured on the Meaning of Home economics and its place in the College curriculum. She discussed the economic reasons for such a course and proved that it is no longer an experiment in education. The work of Ellen H. Richards was taken up and her definition of what home economics stands for discussed in detail.

"The ideal home life for to-day unhampered by the traditions of the past.

The utilization of the resources of modern science to improve home life.

The freedom of the home, from the dominance of things and their due subordination to ideals.

The simplicity in material surroundings which will most free the spirit for the more important and permanent interests of the home and society."

Miss Stoner then discussed the curriculum for various classes of schools. She closed by saying that home economics is woman's, therefore women should be proficient in the practice and teaching of it.

Follow the Band, Back the Team at the Forks.

The hearts of the Juniors were gladdened by the return to their ranks of Bob Pearson. Many had despaired of ever seeing him among them again, but hopes have revived, and all are merry.

On to the Forks Tomorrow.

THE BIG FOUR "30" means the dawning of a new day for the farmer, a new era of efficiency, prosperity, success. It means freedom from the expense, trouble and limitations of horse traction and hired help. It means that he can do his work better, quicker and cheaper, and do it when soil and weather conditions are just right. THE BIG FOUR "30" almost entirely eliminates the element of chance which until its advent made farming so uncertain. It places agriculture upon a scientific business basis. Send NOW for handsome ILLUSTRATED Book "The Big Four "30". It tells all about it. We will gladly mail you a copy with our compliments.

ALUMNI ACTIVITIES

Edited by John B. Wentz '13

Alfred Anderson '12 made a short call at the Spectrum office last Wednesday morning. "Andy" had been out to his home near Churchs Ferry hunting geese and was on his way back to Valley City where he is engaged in soil work.

Robert Stevens '10 made a business trip to Fargo the latter part of the week, and was out to see the A. C. and Fargo College football game.

Hugh J. Hughes '09 spent a few days in Fargo last week in the interest of his work as editor of the Farm Stock and Home.

Ralph Ward '95 is building a new up-to-date modern house on his ranch in the western part of the state.

Scott Drummond '11 is now located at New Rockford, N. D., as resident engineer for the Great Northern from there west about twenty-five miles.

Peter J. Olson '10 wrote in to the soils division a few days ago from the University of Ill. asking for soil samples representative of the typical soils of the western part of the state. He is to use these soils in some of his postgraduate work at the university.

Evan Hall '09 has resigned his position as assistant superintendent of demonstration farms to accept a position as manager of a large stock and grain farm near Sauger, in Oliver county. Mr. Hall took a great deal of interest in the demonstration farm work and agricultural activities of the state in general, and has been in a position to gain a good knowledge of farm management in N. Dak. With the agricultural training and experience he has had there is no doubt but that he will be a success as a farm manager.

Oliver W. Dynes '07 was confined to his home the last part of the week on account of an attack of grippe.

Chas. Clark '08 is now located at Waco, Texas. He expects to be in Fargo for a short visit in a couple of weeks.

Juvenile Issue Appears Two Weeks From Now

FRESHMEN TO CONTINUE ANCIENT CUSTOM, WITH HAROLD BACHMAN AS EDITOR.

When in the course of college events a movement has been successfully carried on for three successive years it has become a solidly rooted custom and is looked forward to expectantly from the beginning of each successive school year. Thus it is that folks who are wise to the ways of the Agricultural College have been anxiously making inquiry for several weeks past as to the date on which the "Freshman Issue" of this publication is to appear. For the information of these people we wish to state that the class of '16 has taken over the management of the paper for the issue of Nov. 19, A. D. 1912.

The class of '13 were the first ones to conceive the brazen idea, away back in the days of the fall of 1909, that Freshmen were capable of editing a college paper, and to that class belongs the credit for inaugurating what is now a time-hallowed custom, and which has been observed with unbroken regularity from the first.

The present Freshman class has passed the 100 mark in point of numbers, contains some of the brainiest young people in the state of North Dakota, and came here for the express purpose of showing the world just what a college paper should be like. To accomplish this purpose they weeks ago organized themselves into a compact group and selected their editorial staff. Harold Bachman is the Editor-in-Chief and Barbara Heidner and Einar Blix are his trusty associates. The balance of the staff is being selected from out of the horde called Freshmen, and will be supposed to represent the cream of the class.

The regular staff, having tasted the joys and sorrows of editorial and reportorial life, extend to this class a paternal smile, and week after next will settle back comfortably in their easy chairs and watch the preparation of a Spectrum as it should be prepared. Long live the Freshmen!

Prof. Darner has been working out a new oil from a Phillippine nut that promises to be a substitute for linseed oil for paint purposes. The results of this investigation will be published in the Annual Report.

FORUM REPORTER ADDRESSES SUNDAY MEETING.

Prof. Oliver W. Dynes was advertised to speak before the Sunday afternoon men's meeting, but was unfortunately taken sick and could not appear. But the Committee was not as a loss for a speaker, and at a rather short notice secured Mr. Wick Wood of the Forum staff to address the fellows. Mr. Wood spoke for a short time on his early and later experiences in life, and what the Christian religion meant to him. Mr. Wood speaks in a rather slow and measured tone, but every word carries meaning, and is backed up by a world of faith and experience, and every word goes home.

Carl Paine officiated at the piano, and Messrs Sonquist and Benson sang a duet.

Next Sunday the fellows who attended the Lake Geneva Conference last summer will give a report of what they saw and heard there. The delegates were David Sonquist, E. W. Anderson, and Dean Mendenhall.

Mr. Arthur J. Ogaard
Editor-in-Chief—
Weekly Spectrum,
North Dak. Agri. College.

Dear Sir:—

I want to thank you for sending us a copy of your Special Edition, devoted to Public Speaking.

Being an enthusiast in this special line of education it is deeply gratifying to one to find this activity so effectively stimulated as it is proven to be in your College by the issuance of this splendid number of your paper.

In chapel the other morning I called the attention of the school to The Spectrum and I read the editorial—"Your Opportunities" to the students.

With earnest good wishes,
I am sincerely,
LELAND POWERS,
Principal.

Prof. Ince has been engaged the past few weeks in analysing sugar beets grown by farmers over the state, and considering the rather cold season the sugar content averages high. Experiments have also been made with beets grown on the Station.

Night Shirt Parade Feature Of Celebration After Friday Victory

REVELERS BURN F. C. GOAL POSTS.

We are not publishing this article about the Big Celebration as a matter of news, but as a record of History, for surely there breathes no man with soul so dead who has not hear of the famous night shirt parade pulled off by the students of the A. C. on the streets of Fargo last Friday evening.

Between the hours of 7 and 7:30 P. M. that evening there congregated at the Armory between 300 and 400 joyous and enthusiastic students, scores of whom were clad in all manner of night apparel. Promptly at 7:30 this enormous procession, led by the band, started for the city on a pilgrimage of celebration over the victory won that afternoon. Following the band was practically the entire body of co-eds, and then in order came about 100 spectral and ghostly forms attired in costumes negligee. Behind these marched the latter half of the parade which were composed of persons who either did not enjoy the good fortune of possession nightshirts, or else lacked the courage to appear in public in these nocturnal garments. However, the whole crowd took possession of the city, and by means of their deafening yells and tingling cowbells announced to the citizens that we had defeated our rivals on the hill. The parade halted at the corner of Broadway and N. P. Ave. where the band, lead by Bachman, manufactured some first class music, which was greatly appreciated by the on-lookers. From there the bunch went to the Orpheum, The Courier-News, The Waldorf Hotel, The Forum, and the Gardner hotel where a serenade, and several yells were rendered at each place. By that time many of the revellers thought they had finished their celebrating, and accordingly dropped off at the Orpheum. The others, however, were undaunted and wandered down towards the Fargo College, but found no one at home. Before leaving the place several boys whose enthusiasm quite overcame their good judgement, tore down one of Fargo College's goal posts and carried it back to the A. C. where a bonfire was made of it. The fellows probably did this as a means of showing our supremacy over F. C. in football, but it was hardly the right thing to do to destroy our neighboring college's property. Friday evening, Nov. 1, will long be remembered as the day in which we celebrated our victory.

Prof. White was appointed as associate referee in cereal work for the coming year by the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists. Prof. Putt was almost made an associate referee on medicinal plants. At the annual meeting of the Official Chemists held last month, Prof. Ladd was appointed a member of a committee to receive cooperation in chemical work between various official bodies of the U. S., including Boards of Health, Food Departments, etc.

Enthusiasm Sustained By Noon Rallies

New Yells and Songs Mastered by Much Practice.

Interest in the recent football game was sustained at fever heat all of last week by holding enthusiastic rallies every noon in the Armory. That these yell feasts were successful in every way was evidenced by the constantly increasing attendance at them and the very meritorious results seen at the game.

Cheerfully and with a vim, the students aired their feelings as never before been seen at this institution, and would give credit to a much larger group of students. Several new yells and songs were mastered and the old ones perfected, so that by Thursday noon, at the final rally, the noise and enthusiasm reached such a high pitch that the roof of the armory was seen to rise several inches in order to let out the turbulent sound waves. With Livengood at the piano and Bachman at the cornet the several new songs were tried out and learned, and Friday afternoon the air was filled with the strains of such classical compositions as "Everybody's Doin' It", "The Subway Glide", and "What's the matter with Father". One of the notable features of the series of rallies was the very large attendance and great enthusiasm of the co-eds, who in previous years have not always shown as much interest in athletics as could be desired. This year, however, they proved themselves loyal to the core and yelled and sang with nearly as much energy as the yell leaders themselves. At the Thursday rally little booklets were distributed, in which were printed in full all the standard yells and songs of the college and on the front page of the pamphlet was a place for recording the scores of the year, so that this little book will make a very nice souvenir of this season's football game. Now if we all yell next Wednesday at the Forks as we did at the rallies we will certainly win the big game.

Dean Bolley was in attendance at the International Dry Land Congress at Lethbridge. While there he gave three addresses: (1) On "Handling the Flax Crop on the new lands of the Northwest," (2) On "The Control of the Root Diseases of Cereal Crops by Tillage and Breeding Methods," (3) "Soil and Seed Sanitation—A Basis for Crop Rotation."

The meeting proved to be one of the most extensive gatherings that this organization has developed. There were represented over 13 or 14 foreign countries, and in all over 2700 delegates from different states, provinces and territories.

The Exposition of Dry Land products was one of the finest collections of seed grains and fruits ever brought together. The dry land farmers certainly demonstrated that under their conditions of work, cereal grains reach the very highest perfection in seed quality.

It was a very busy meeting, both for those who were concerned in the work of the organization and the large number of farmers who came to attend the meeting. President Worst delivered two important addresses. There were many able speakers from all parts of the country. L. H. Bailey of Cornell giving a very fine address on the country life question. While at the meeting Prof. Bolley served as a member of the credential committee, and thus met many delegates from all parts of the country directly interested in the future work of the organization.

A debate league comprising Huron College, S. D. S. C. at Brookings and N. D. A. C. was a possibility discussed and approved by the Public Speaking Board of Control at its last meeting.

Cadet Hops Arranged For Friday Afternoons

INFORMAL DANCING TWICE
EACH MONTH UNDER SUPERVISION OF MILITARY ORGANIZATION.

Efforts directed toward starting informal dances in the Armory on Friday afternoons have now been successful. The executive committee reported favorably upon the matter and the Cadet Hops now will be in charge of the Commandant and the officers of our cadet organization. Beginning Nov. 22 at about 4 o'clock Cadet Hops will be held twice a month. Dr. Putnam will bring the band over and furnish the music which will be good if last Saturday evening's music is a sample of what he will offer.

Those in charge will meet this week and make more definite arrangements and everything will be explained fully in our next issue. The advantages of such a series of hops are self evident and the co-eds especially are delighted with the plan. Each hop will be preceded by a short drill after which the dancing will begin. Miss Haggart has consented to excuse her Friday gym class for those occasions.

Roney's Boys on their twenty-fifth and last tour. Hear them.

E. W. Anderson, of the class of '14, arrived in company with his younger brother last week. Both gentlemen had been out in the fields, threshing, and came to town in characteristic hobo garb. Being refused rooms at the Viking hotel on account of their appearance they wended their way toward the college and laid themselves down to sleep in the protection of the bountiful supply of hay in the loft of the horse barn.

Earl Yerrington, whom many of the old-timers will remember as one of our prominent students several years ago, and who has been for the past years in attendance at the State College at Pullman, Washington, arrived in Fargo last Friday, and will continue his college work here. Mr. Yerrington will receive a hearty welcome, particularly in musical circles, where he was prominent during his former attendance at this institution.

Claire Parker formerly a student here took in the game and visited with friends last week.

Louise Poland and Rhoda Fosbourg assisted by Dodds and Gustafson posed for some remarkable pictures in front of Main Sunday afternoon. We predict that the Agassiz will be a humdinger.

Delta Phi Beta Sorority

The Delta Phi Beta Sorority, the first and only society of its kind at the N. D. A. C. came into being during the winter of 1908 when a few kindred spirits met in the Engineering building, little dreaming of the great joys and sorrows which would come to them and others as a result of their act.

The records show the pathfinders to have been Anna Lamb, Agnes Haland, Jaredine Thompson, Katharine Lowman, Gladys Guthrie, Louise Dolleshy, Maude Knight, most of whom have been able to take an active part in the organization to the present day as they reside in Fargo and have been an everpresent help in times of need.

Every year new members have been taken in but as yet the number is small there being about 20 alumni with an active membership of ten subject to additions in the near future. The college last year provided the girls with cozy quarters on the fourth floor of Ceres Hall within the four walls of which all business and many social events take place.

The selection of members is undoubtedly the greatest task for in school this size there is unlimited material and one Sorority cannot begin to include all the girls who would make ideal Sorority sisters. The requirements however, are that the student shall be of college rank, that she shall have a certain standard of scholarship and that she shall be a woman capable of the broadest sympathies and intense loyalty.

The aim of this Sorority is primarily to promote the feeling of fellowship with all that it involves not only among Sorority sisters but also among the entire student body for they believe that

"He who has a thousand friends has not one to spare; But he who has an enemy will meet him everywhere."

The white rose was chosen as the Sorority flower signifying the simplicity, nobility and purity desired by every true woman.

Furthermore, the Delta Phi Betas stand for loyalty—loyalty to each other, to their classmates and their college realizing that without this college life resolves itself into mere routine lacking the vital human side.

Reflections from other Colleges
R. H. Drummond, '15

At South Dakota State College a straw vote on presidential candidates resulted in a victory for Wilson. This seems to be the general result among various colleges: Wilson first with Roosevelt running second and Taft third.

Princeton and Dartmouth are the only ones of the big Eastern schools, whose goal lines are still inviolate.

According to Walter Camp, that football which will be most successful will be that style which combines straight football with shift play.

For the first time in the history of the institution the second team at Cornell defeated the first team, to the tune of 27 to 6. As a result of this victory Coach Sharp has placed the entire second team at the training table and "canned" the first team to the second string table.

There was to have been a dance at the University of Oregon given by the Woman's Equal Suffrage League. It has been indefinitely postponed. Lack of enthusiastic members has been given as the cause. 'Nuff sed.

Because a petition to refuse to accept a gift of a set of chimes, presented to the school by Alden J. Blethen, was to have been published in the University of Washington Daily, the president of the institution ordered the publication of the paper stopped. The editor and manager took the forms down town and had them run off in spite of the faculty edict. The members of the Oval Club, the upper class society, have decided to back the paper in its efforts to publish the news regardless of consequence.

The University of Oregon students are endeavoring to obtain a clean town for their school by a petition addressed to the citizens of Eugene urging them to vote down the attempt to legalize the sale of liquor in Eugene.

There will be no basketball coach at the U. of W., the graduate manager of athletics claiming that they have been spending too much money on coaches and that the team has been doing well enough under the direction of its captains.

A co-ed at Beloit College found a burglar in her room one morning. Clad only in a pair of pajamas and armed with a hat pin she chased him thru the park and by inflicting several severe stabs compelled him to drop her violin which he had stolen.

The girl students at Northwestern altho they are not allowed to go to the Indiana game at Bloomington are working to insure a good crowd of rooters by selling tags to the boys which can be exchanged for tickets to Bloomington. Some enthusiasm, that.

At Huron there is a rule in force that all engagements must be reported to the Social Committee. A rule like that here might end some suspense and clear the atmosphere a little. How about it?

Ripon college has abolished clubs and frats. The trustees held that such organizations are not in accord with the spirit of the school and must be abolished.

The Huron Alphomega comments on the fact that our score of 112 to 0 against the Wahpeton Indians was the largest score made in a college game this season. The score was 123-0 which makes our lead so much the greater.

Aberdeen Normal has cancelled her schedule because of lack of material.

The H. S. Bible class for girls meets in Ceres Hall Lecture room every Monday evening at 5 o'clock. The enrollment at present is nineteen, but we would like to see it reach thirty, at least. The Y. Miss Agnes Holien arrived from Cando last week to begin work with the first year Homemakers.

Miss Bobby arrived last week from Dawson, Bobby is a senior this year, but we have not noticed the added dignity which most Seniors are supposed to assume.

The girls in Public Speaking would be delighted if the book store sold bells every day at eleven o'clock.

FRIENDLY COLLEGES

Fargo is the educational, as well as the business headquarters of this great state. We have colleges for the teaching of almost everything which young people may want to study. Over 3,000 pupils make their homes in Fargo every winter.

DAKOTA BUSINESS COLLEGE

AND THE

NORTH DAKOTA AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

Have always been on very friendly terms. The work of the one does not overlap the work of the other. Many pupils enter Dakota Business College and later take courses at the N. D. A. C. and others enter the A. C. and then decide they want to specialize in BUSINESS, BOOKKEEPING, PENMANSHIP, SHORTHAND, TYPEWRITING or BANKING and enter the D. B. C. for that special training.

We solicit the good will of all A. C. pupils, especially invite them to call and look the school over and, if they decide to take up the business branches, we naturally want their patronage.

EVENING SCHOOL

Offers opportunities for those who are engaged during the days to take up some special work. The tuition is exceedingly cheap in this school.

Jane Addams' Addressed Large Audience At Armory Tuesday

MANY LINES OF HER WORK DISCUSSED.

On Tuesday morning at 9:30 the students were honored with a short talk by Miss Jane Addams. After a fitting introduction by Prof. Minard she spoke on Hull House and its problems.

Miss Addams spoke particularly of the Greeks, Bulgarians and Turks and described the impressive service held at Hull House about two weeks ago when 200 Greeks left Chicago to take part in the war with the Turks. She told several incidents of the Greeks and their attitude toward their adopted country. She spoke of the need of sympathetic understanding of these as well as other foreigners.

At Hull house a labor museum in which the work of the immigrants is displayed brings out in a striking manner the evolution of industry. Here spinning with the stick spindle, spinning wheel; weaving, pottery and other industries are carried on.

Music has a prominent place and under the direction of Miss Elinor Smith the children are taught to compose as well as read music. The children set their native songs to music and some of the results are very beautiful. In connection with the day nursery a school is conducted in which the foreign women are taught cooking, sewing and laundry work.

Miss Addams has established a league for the protection of immigrants in Chicago. She is now trying to gain the aid of the government in establishing a Bureau for the safe transportation thru Chicago of foreigners who are on their way to

SOCIAL EVENTS

By Eugenia Ruff, '18.

The Faculty Reception last Saturday evening was a great success. Both the faculty and the students turned out in great numbers. In fact the receiving line of faculty members was so long and the number of those who went down the line so great that the College Orchestra played five selections with an intermission between each two while the introductions were proceeding. Mr. Ogaard as Master Introducer filled his position very creditably. He saw to it that President Worst met all the students. The Armory was appropriately decorated in yellow and green bunting and the platform upon which the orchestra sat was surrounded with ferns. After the introduction ceremony was ended, the orchestra struck up a two step and the floor was covered with dancing couples in no time. The dancing lasted till eleven-thirty. During the evening delicious sherbet and wafer's were served from two tables at the end of the room. In order to give the orchestra a rest for awhile, Dr. Putnam summoned the band to play a few numbers. The band selections were enjoyed as much as those of the orchestra, tho the syncopated two-step called Toboggan Rag, played by the orchestra was enthusiastically encored. The enjoyment of the evening was so general that eleven-thirty came all too soon.

The girls of "The Castle" entertained the active members of the Delta Phi Beta sorority and their gentlemen friends last Thursday evening at a Hallowe'en Party. The mystic character of the night was enhanced by the long dark walk to the Castle and the pumpkin lantern at the door. As the guests entered, they were directed to the dressing rooms by a witch and black hands. The only light was emitted from grue some pumpkin heads and apple candle sticks. Many Hallowe'en stunts were tried and futures were prophesied in verse. A delicious supper was served. Scalloped oysters, lettuce and parsley sandwiches, olives, coffee, nut and chocolate cakes, ice cream in orange shells which were painted to represent Jack-o-lantern, and nuts formed the menu. After a little music, the guests adjourned to catch the last Sacred Heart street car for home.

The Ceres Hall girls had a Hallowe'en surprise supper last Thursday. As they entered the dining room they were greeted by darkness plus some mystic light from Jack-o-lanterns. After the supper, the girls were entertained till eight o'clock by various

In the forthcoming Biennial Report, Dean Bolley has summarized the teaching work of the School of Biology. On account of the fact that the actual Biological course is a special course for teachers and investigators, comparatively few students complete this course. For this reason there are a good number of people, even at the institution, who have the impression that the teaching work in the division of Biology is light. The figures taken from the Biennial report will, however, give considerable enlightenment on this matter. It is found that during the Biennial period the division of Zoology of the college has given instruction to a total of 219 students, representing in all 17 different term classes. There is in the Zoological classes this fall a total of 38 students in the fall work.

In the College work in Botany, during the Biennial period, there were a total of 153 students enrolled, and teaching work was done in 18 different term classes or subjects. There are enrolled in the present College class in Botany 76 students.

In the division of Bacteriology, the number of students enrolled during the Biennial period were 187, representing 14 different term subjects of instruction. There are 57 enrolled in this fall term.

In the high school, the biological subjects are taught during the biennial period represent 14 term subjects, and handling 288 students.

Hallowe'en games. Miss Glasier acted as ghost of ceremonies.

The next dance will be given November eighth by The Lyceum of Engineers. Beautiful light effects are promised.

The fraternity of Alpha Zeta invited a number of Agricultural students of college grade to a banquet served at the Copper Kettle Inn last Tuesday evening. Covers were laid for thirty-five. The hall was decorated with pennants and the fraternity flower. After a delicious repast, several speeches were given which were enthusiastically received. C. M. Hennis '11 gave a fine talk on "The Opportunities of the Agricultural Graduate". He was followed by Dean Shepperd, who read a recent literary production of his own pen. Prof. Donegheue presented many points of interest gathered on his recent trip and discussed the proposed new Agricultural building. Thomas Cooper, Sec. of The State Better Farming Association very enlighteningly discussed, "What Alpha Zeta Means to a Graduate." The program was closed by Hugh J. Hughes '09, Editor of Farm Stock and Home, who gave the students some good advice as to their future work. A flashlight was taken of the group before the party broke up.

Last Friday evening about twenty Castilians resisted the powerful temptations of the night shirt parade, and held a very delightful Hallowe'en party in Music Hall. The Hall was decorated with the Society colors, and appropriate Hallowe'en decorations. The evening was spent in playing games; and performing stunts of such a nature as to delight the hearts of the young and untutored High school co-eds. Delightful refreshments consisting of sherbet, cocoa, apples, sandwiches and cookies were served, and the girls adjourned instilled with the idea of boosting the Castalian Society into the very front rank his year. A considerable portion of the refreshments were left over and these the girls kindly donated to the evidently starving boys who had returned from the football celebration, and were burning the goal posts in front of Ceres.

Miss Taylor, Miss Laura Taylor and Miss Griffin were entertained at dinner on Sunday by The Castle.

Miss Ruby Gibbens came in from Bismarck Saturday morning and stayed with her sisters, Gertrude and Mary, at Ceres Hall till Sunday afternoon. All of her friends were delighted to see her again.

During the present fall term the High school classes in Biology number 72 students.

When it is considered that all these biological subjects carry with them regular afternoon laboratory periods of work, it will be easy to see that the few rooms that are represented in the Science Hall building are well occupied and that the teachers in charge of the classes do not have very much spare time left for play or investigation.

Fargo High played Valley City on Dacotah Field Saturday and walked away with the game to the tune of 55-0. Hines of Fargo starred with several sensational runs.

The College entrance gateway is beginning to take shape. Nearly all the material is now on the grounds.
