FORMER COMMANDANT OF OUR CADETS IS STRICKEN BY HEART FAILURE

Major James A. Ulio Dies At Ripe Old Age, After Many Years Of Service To His Country

On the morning of October thirteenth, the students and faculty of the college were astounded to hear that Major James A. Ulio, formerly Professor of Military Science and Tactics at this institution, had suddenly passed away. As the Major was walking to the Waldorf for his breakfast, he suddenly collapsed. He recovered sufficiently to return home but died a few minutes after entering the house. His loss is mourned by his wife, a son and a daughter besides a host of friends at the college and in this city.

hard service and had attained such a ripe old age, the Major was very active and robust. His death came as a surprise to everyone as he seemed to be in perfect health.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the Swartz Home on 8th St. No. Dean Dowling of the Episcopal Cathedral read the funeral service. All classes were excused during the afternoon and the faculty and students were well represented. Intimate friends from the faculty and from the general service acted as pall-bearers. A picked squad of Major James A. Ulio.

Major Ulio came here in 1903 and resigned after eight years work here a year ago, when he was succeeded by Lieut. Herren. His service in the Army dates back from 1855. He served in the Civil war and took a very active part in the Indian wars. He was retired from active service in 1896 as Major after having worked up thru the ranks from private. For a man who had endured such eight men commanded by the cadet major acted as an escort and fired the salute of three volleys over the grave at Riverside Cemetery. Dr. Putnam sounded taps.

Many army officers were in attendance as a mark of respect to their former comrade. A grand old man has gone from our midst. The family of the deceased has the sympathy of the entire college.

Victory Celebrated Under Auspices of Y.

SPECIAL CARS TAKE ENTHUSIASTIC ROOTERS ABOUT CITY.—CITY Y. VISITED.

As a fitting celebration of the foot ball victory of the afternoon the "Y" had arranged for a grand blowout and roundup of all men at the college. Special cars were provided by the Association, and at 7:45 the crowd began to gather in the Armory where the band created a considerable volume of enthusiasm until the time scheduled for the departure down town.

The monotony of the trip was relieved by songs and cheers which induced a number of the fossiliferous residents of the North Side to sit up and take notice that the A. C. and the Y. were strictly on deck.

About 8:30 the one hundred seventy five fellows on the cars arrived at the city Y. M. C. A. Building, and proceeded to make merry. The fellows were first shown the wonders of the building, and for a half hour watched the exhibition stunts of a "gym" lacss. Next they were treated to a feed in the Auditorium, and after a few short talks by several members of the cabinet Mr. Hill, an old college chum of Coach Reuber, and now a Y. M. C. A. worker in Brazil gave an illustrated lecture, showing and describing several phases of the Agricultural industry of that country.

After the lecture, the hour being now quite late, many of the fellows returned to their homes to indulge in a few hours of slumber before the morning shurch services, but the hardy ones remained for a celebration in the natatorium.

The next social will be a Joint affair for the actual members of the two Christian Associations. A hunch—"Pay your fees before next Saturday."

Polytechnic Society Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Polytechnic Society will be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 22 instead of Wednesday this week. Prof. Ladd will give a report of the conventions he has attended during the summer.

COACH DOUGLAS OF D. W. U. AFTER THE GAME.

We want to express our Appreciation of the splendid treatment given us while in Fargo. We hope that A. C. men will have as good a time in Mitchell next fall and a smaller score.

Benjamin Chapin Appears As Lincoln Tomorrow Eve.

CLEVER IMPERSONATOR OF THE EMANCIPATOR — IS SURE TO PLEASE

Tomorrow evening in the armory will occur the first of this year's series of the Citizens' Lecture Course. Since its organization two years ago this course has presented the best talent coming to Fargo, and this year will be no exception to the rule. Mr. Chapin, who appears tomorrow, is recognized as the greatest impersonator of Lincoln on the platform today. His work is so clever and realistic that people who know Lincoln well are carried back to the old days, and can scarcely make themselves believe that the man on the stage is only an actor. Such men as Mark Twain, who were particularly sensitive lest their mental picture of the great man receive a rude shock by a mere imitation, have, after seeing Mr. Chapin's performance declared that they now have a far more perfect and acceptable picture than before.

The costume and "make-up" of Mr. Chapin, tho perfect and altogether realistic in every line, is not the feature which brings out the applause of these discerning men. Mr. Chapin has such a perfect grasp of the psychic phase, of the life of the great man, of his heart sympathy, of his mental anguish, of his absolute devotion to the cause which he represented, that he immediately makes contact with the deepest feelings in the hearts of his hearers. The all but unbearable weight of responsibility which Lincoln bore, and the awful throes thru which the Nation was passing in his days are so well presented that one cannot but come away with a much clearer, conception of the meaning of it all.

Mr. Chapin will appear on the stage in complete costume and "make-up". The effect will not be marred by making up on the stage and in the presence of the spectators. Lincoln appears on the stage just as he appeared in the White House half a century ago.

Yesterday Mr. Chapin appeared at Minot, tonight he will give his portrayal in Valley City, and from there he will come direct to Fargo.

The past years have always found our best students loyally supporting the course. They find that the price of a ticket is money well invested, from the point of view of education and information, as well as entertainment. Yet some there have always been who have not been able to see the benefit to be derived, hence have not attended the lectures. These may well profit by the experience of others, and procure their tickets for the present season without delay.

The attendance this season, judging from the advance sale of tickets will be exceptionally good. The sales have been very brisk, and a full house is assured for the first number.

DAKOTA WESLEYAN TEAM ANNIHILATED AND CRUSHED IN INTERSTATE STRUGLE

Heavy Theological Aggregation Outclassed In Every Department, Visitors Were Game To Finish And Put Up A Good Scrap. Score 35-0

The clouds rolled back; the sun came forth giving us most excellent crisp football weather. Dakota Wesleyan was represented by a bunch of huskies that sent a shudder of fear over the A. C. cohorts as they trotted on the field. Fears were soon dispelled however when Caukins opened fire and turned the A. C. fighting machine toward the Wesleyan goal posts which were reached in just seven jumps. Balsinger and Bentley were used as battering rams.

The visitors rubbed their eyes and took a brace. They succeeded in holding the Aggies until the second quarter, when McQuillan strolled over for another touchdown. In the third quarter, the S. D. full-back shifted to half and made a brilliant 40 yard run thru an open field on a fake play. This quarter was the only period where the visitors made any consistent gains. Dutch forced his way for a 10 yard gain and a touchdown in this quarter.

In the last period Dutch again crossed the line. McQuillan made a pretty 30 yard run for the final touchdown of the game. Caukins kicked the five goals.

Every A. C. man played good football. The score looks onesided but from a spectators point of view, the game was a thriller. The Wesleyan players played a scrappy game and never gave up. Their spirit was excellent. The game was not marred by any unpleasant incidents. Balsinger received a severe wrench in his shoulder. The chief ground gainers for the Aggies were Foss, McQuillan, Caukins, Bentley and Schroeder. All the men, however gained consistently when called upon to carry the ball. For Wesleyan, Walters, Keinholtz and Tridler starred.

The crowd went wild during the first quarter and remained in that same condition during the progress of the game. Yell leaders Dixon and Nolet succeeded in extracting a constant stream of yells from the band of rooters. The coeds showed the effects of good rooting practice and yelled on any and all occasions. The band played a few of its most lively selections between halves. An attempt was made to warm up on the field by the customary snake dance. The all important cop however frustrated all attempts and incidentally applied the cane with an iron hand to any one caught climbing the fence Long live the Cop.

The game was covered in detail by Adolph Anderson '16, who took every play down in shorthand as it occurred. Below we give the play from start to finish.

First Quarter.

Wesleyan kicked off. Scoop returned the ball 20 yds. McQuillan carried the ball 20 yards around right end. Balsinger 3 yards thru center. McQuillan 8 yards around right end. Balsinger 4 yards thru right tackle. Bentley 8 yards thru center. Bentley 9 yards thru right tackle. Bentley thru center for a touchdown. Caukins kicked goal. Score 7-0.

McQuillan received kickoff and returned 8 yds. Schuman 2 yds thru left tackle. McQuillan 12 yds around left end. Caukins fumbled and lost 6 yards. McQuillan 8 yds. thru left tackle. Balsinger hurt shoulder and Foss put in. Dutch 8 yards thru right tackle. Caukins kicked and ball was downed on the 8 yard line. Wesleyan ball. Tridler punted to thirty five yard line. McQuillan went thru for a yard over left tackle. Bentley 9 yards thru center. McQuillan 4 yards thru center. Foss 3 yards thru center. Foss 3 yards thru center. Caukins ran around right end and A. C. penalized for holding. Schuman thru center for no gain. Caukins kicked to 20 yard line and Brown returned 6 yards before being tackled

Miss Simmons Speaks At Grand Next Sunday

HER SUBJECT WILL BE THE DRAMA IN MODERN LIFE.

The Grand Free Lecture Course has opened the sixth successful season and many instructive and interesting numbers are promised for the winter, among them being lectures by men of national fame and persons who have had wide experience in the lecture field. Next Sunday Miss Simmons of our English department will talk on the subject of "The Drama in Modern Life." Miss Simmons has made a special study of the drama and should be in a position to give a very interesting discourse. She has given this talk at the Dramatic Club in Fargo, and will repeat it by special request at the Grand. On Nov. 3 Mr. Charles Zeublin of Boston, editor of the "Twentieth Century Magazine" and a man of national reputation will speak on "The Nation's Human Resources", which will undoubtedly be of great interest to the auditors and it will be a misfortune for anyone to miss hearing this lecture. Mr. Zeublin has been prominent in social work for many years and his talk is expected to be one of the hits of the year. The Sunday following, Mr. C. O. Merica, superintendent of the Training school at Red Wing, Minn., will give an address on the "Boy Who Goes Wrong," and while we hardly think that such a catastrophe will occur to any of our students still we would recommend that everyone attend the lecture, as it will certainly be an interesting and valuable one to the young man. These lectures are given regularly every Sunday evening at the Grand Theatre, and students will do well to attend them. No admittance is charged. Further announcements of lectures will appear in the Spectrum from time to time.

LATE SPECTRUMS.

We wish to ask our subscribers to forbear with us, when the Spectrum is a few hours late. The enlarging of the paper necessities the printing to be done in two runs. If the issue is to come out on time, half of the news must be in by Saturday noon. The staff is therefore rushed Saturday morning and sometimes the news is not all forth coming. An attempt will be made to organize in such a way that the sheet arrives on time after this.

BAND INFORMALS.

Last year efforts were directed toward starting a series of Band informals for Friday afternoons after 3:30. These afternoon hops would be the means of bringing a large number of the students together and would be a good college "Mix". The small admission fee would materially help the band in raising funds for trips. Other Colleges are blessed with this function. Why not we?

FRATERNITIES.

In this and the following issues, we will present one by one, the fraternities and the Sorority of the College. There are three secret organizations on the campus. All are prospering and are working for a better A. C. besides fulfilling the purpose of the organizations. Fraternities have been viewed with suspicion since they were first organized in the early college days. Men were too apt to think that membership in a greek letter organization meant that they became superior to the "barbs". This was and will be resented by students everywhere.

The intimate friendships formed in a fraternity are lasting and is cultivated rightly are a decided benefit to any man. It is only when fraternal organizations begin to consider their interests greater than that of the institution, that their influence is a detriment.

With a national fraternity, a strong local fraternity and an equally strong sorority established here, the A. C. takes a back seat for no one.

INTER CLASS INDOOR BASEBALL.

In view of the interest taken in the interclass baseball series last spring, it has been suggested that a similar organization be affected in regard to indoor baseball this fall and winter.

An indoor baseball league would arouse a great deal of class spirit and would be the means of giving a great deal of healthful exercise to a larger body of the students than by any other game. A five team league would perhaps be the most feasible. This could be comprised of one team from each of the college classes and possibly one from the high school or special courses.

Talk this matter over. If sufficient interest is aroused, a meeting of class representatives will be called next week to perfect an organization and arrange a schedule of games.

ATHENIANS

Friday evening the Athenians gave the most spirited and entering program that has been known in our literary circles for some time. It was in the nature of a political Rally and the following candidates and political speakers were heard:—

Woodrow Wilson
..... Dean Mendenhall
Jane Adams Bertha Camp
Theodore Roosevelt..... Urban Ebner
Bob LaFollette Carl Yerrington
W. J. Bryan Arthur Ogaard.

Wilson convinced his audience that there was an urgent need for a reduction of the tariff, popular election of senators, and publicity of campaign funds. In speaking of the progressive party he recognized it as an inevitable product of the age.

Jane Addams gave herself unreservedly to the Progressive party cause, and the leader of the Bull Moose.

Teddy was very alive and gave a short explanation of the Progressive party.

LaFollette confined his remarks to a few pointed Rooseveltisms.

Bryan gave a very interesting as well as entertaining summary of the Chicago and Baltimore conventions.

A vote was taken from the mixed audience and the count stood, Wilson 32, Roosevelt 14, Taft 2 and Debs 2.

The meeting next Friday evening will be given over to the Joint debates Tryouts for the Athenian team.

"Dad Elliott and Mr. Childs, two of the most widely known Y. M. C. A. workers in the United States made a hurried call at the A. C. Friday, conferring with President Mendenhall and the cabinet here. Mr. Childs will be remembered as the gentleman who gave one of the most interesting chapel talks heard here last spring. Students will be glad to know that he will be in the city and about the college the latter part of this week, assisting in the big membership campaign.

THE BIG FOUR "30" means the dawning of a new day for the farmer, a new era of efficiency, prosperity, success. It means freedom from the expense, trouble and limitations of horse traction and hired help. It means that he can do his work better, quicker and cheaper, and do it when soil and weather conditions are just right. The BIG FOUR "30" almost entirely eliminates the element of chance which until its advent made farming so uncertain. It places agriculture upon a scientific business basis. Send NOW for handsome ILLUSTRATED Book "The Big Four "30". It tells all about it. We will gladly mail you a copy with our compliments.

ALUMNI ACIVITIES

Edited by John B. Wentz '13

Thos. Manns '01, who will be remembered by Alumni members as one of A. C.'s famous foot ball players of the past, is now located at the Delaware College and Experiment Station. After graduation Mr. Manns spent three years here as a post graduate student and instructor. From there he went to the Phillipines where he spent three years and upon coming back to this country obtained a position at the Ohio experiment station as plant pathologist where he staid five years. He is now doing advanced work at the University of Penn. and recently accepted the position as Plant Pathologist and Bacteriologist at the Delaware College and Experiment Station.

Mr. Manns has done some very valuable work in the scientific world in the last few years and has established a reputation for himself as an authority of no little consequence in his line of work.

The following is a letter that was received from him a short time ago by the secretary of the Alumni Association.

Newark, Del. Oct. 15, 1912
Agr'l. College,
N. Dak.

My dear Mr. Dynes,

It makes me somewhat homesick to think back to the bygone days at the A. C. I am glad to see you making a roundup of the Alumni and for one will be glad to get a knowledge of their whereabouts. The Spectrum is showing up in nice shape.

I would like to be back and expand my lungs once more just to give one "Indian yell" at the A. C. vs. U. game.

I am glad to hear the Northwest has a bumper crop. Trust you will be glad to get it threshed. I was in Washington about a week or so ago and the Forum (in the library of congress) stated that it was impossible to get men and machines to get the grain threshed. Trust this is not entirely true.

Give my regards to all the boys and in case I fail to be with you at the reunion in the spring, tell them I'll be there in spirit at least.

With kind regards to all
THOS. F. MANNS.

Mrs. Manns ex-'07., formerly Miss Alys Reed, will be remembered as a well known and prominent Fargo girl.

Max Harrington, '11, saw the fourth game of the New York and Boston series last week.

Dr. Reynolds Chosen To Succeed Prof. Bergman

NEW ADDITION TO FACULTY FROM UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE.

Dean Bolley has selected as a successor of Prof. Bergman, and the Board has confirmed the appointment of Dr. Ernest Shaw Reynolds of the University of Tennessee. Dr. Reynolds comes to the institution after a long period of training such as few men have the persistence to carry out, and with sufficient experience in the teaching of botany to essentially guarantee that he will be able to direct the work in a splendid fashion.

Mr. Reynolds has his Ph. B degree and his Master of Arts degree from Brown University, after which he spent considerable time in the government forestry service as plant pathologist in the Chestnut Bark disease studies. Later he did post fern Dyues, '12, and Ruby Gibbens, '11' report a rather strenuous two weeks at the North Dakota Industrial Exposition. There were about seven hundred entries in the cooking and sewing departments and the girls did all of the judging in these two departments.

Edwin Trayuor, '11, writes in that things are moving along smoothly out at Starkweather.

J. A. McGlynn, ex-'05, visited at the college last Thursday on his return to his ranch out near Sidney, Montana. He had been on a trip in the East. Mr. McGlynn was a very enthusiastic member of his class when here at the college and no doubt some of the Alumni will vividly recall some of the class activities in which he took a leading part, especially those who took any part in the class "scarps."

Victor Parker, '09, has been heard from in the last week. He is putting in some busy hours on his new work and reports that the business is progressing as well as could be expected. When Parker left college he started out with the intention of making a business of establishing electric lighting plants in small towns and had fitted himself for such work, but soon after he graduated he was offered a position as editor of a Winnipeg paper and gave up his original plans. Later the company for which he was working was divided into two separate companies and Parker was given charge of the publication of the new paper under the name of the Modern Power. For a year or more he has been working on a new rotary valve for gasoline engines and finally is satisfied that he has it perfected. He has organized a motor company under the name of the Parker Motor Co. and is located at Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Parker will be well remembered by all who were students here during his time as he was one of A. C.'s most active men both in class work and college activities. He was at one time editor of the Spectrum, he took an active part in literary society work and for two years was cadet major.

Ben Barret, '12 has resigned his position at the Velva high school and expects to spend the winter in Fargo. There has been some trouble among the school board there as to the equipment of the school and the hiring of the teachers and Ben decided to give up his part of the work at least until some settlement is made.

graduate work in the Harvard Herbarium. He has spent two years post graduate work at the University of Illinois under the training of Drs. Burrill and Hottes, taking his Ph. D. from that institution upon research work in plant pathology and physiology. His last work has been at the University of Tennessee, where he has been Assistant Professor of Botany for two years.

Mr. Reynolds will direct the teaching work in the division of Botany and Plant Pathology. A perusal of his previous record, his work and the recommendations forwarded by those who know him best, give promise that this line of work in the school of Biology at the A. C. will have a leader of high work and energy.

Mr. Campbell's work in the seed division proved him to be a man of rather wide farming information, and Prof. Bolley states that he was very sorry to be unable to retain Mr. Campbell in the field of work which he had been in for the last two years. The funds of the Pure Seed Division did not justify the Seed Commissioner in providing a salary such as Mr. Campbell was entitled to draw.

Y. M. C. A. Begins One Week Man to Man Canvass

EVERY MAN IN COLLEGE TO BE APPROACHED BY ZEALOUS WORKERS.

This week will witness the greatest membership campaign ever carried on by the local Young Men's Christian Association. Already a large number of the students of the institution have enlisted in the cause, and before the week is out there should not be a single man on the campus who has not had the opportunity presented to him to join the association. A "man-to-man" canvass will be inaugurated and every student will have presented to him the object and work of the "Y," the benefits accruing from membership, and the opportunities for service in association work. The canvass will be pushed with the utmost strenuousity the latter half of the week, and will wind up with a joint social for members of the two associations, to be held in the Armory Saturday night. As in previous years, this social will be open only to those who are bona fide members of either the Y. M. C. A. or the Y. W. C. A., having paid their membership dues.

That the association is capable of providing for the social needs of the students has been proven in the several affairs already given this fall, especially the brilliant "stag" of last Saturday, and with the union of the two associations for this affair the most enjoyable time imaginable may be expected. But the social is by no means the only one considered by this organization. This week's campaign will be centered not only on membership, but also on Bible Study. This year the "Y" has made arrangements with most of the churches of the city to offer in their Sabbath School courses of Bible Study especially suited to the college man. Some of these courses are already launched and others will be in the immediate future. All are led by men who are "live wires," and who understand the Bible in its application to modern life. There is no reason why every A. C. student should not be in one or another of these courses.

Bible Study is today recognized by leading educators as an essential in any branch of education purporting to fit the youth for his place in society. In North Dakota the Department of Education has gone so far as to encourage Bible Study by offering to the High School students of the state a half-year credit on satisfactorily passing an examination in a course of Bible Study outlined by the Department. At this institution Bible Study is as yet no part of the curriculum, but the necessity for it is nevertheless just as strong as among any other body of young men. The Y. M. C. A. therefore would urge every student to avail himself of the opportunity of pursuing one of these special courses. While there will be no college credit to help toward graduation, yet the knowledge gained will be of as great benefit to the man when once out in life as though a chredit were attached.

Mr. J. R. Campbell of the Division of Pure Seed work of the Department of Botany has resigned to accept a position with the Better Farming Association.

Mr. Campbell's friends are pleased to know that he will remain in the state associated with agricultural work, and are glad that he is able to have the nice advancement which comes to him, in the line of increased remuneration.

For this position in the seed laboratory, Dean Bolley has a number of able applicants and the applicant sees of their ability to direct student work in the pure seed division and oversee the actual laboratory analyses of seeds.

MISS STONER SUPERVISED AN EXCELLENT DINNER GIVEN TO TRUSTEES AND DEPARTMENT HEADS
Last Tuesday evening, the Board of Trustees and the heads of the departments were entertained by the Domestic Science Department at dinner. The delicious repast was prepared and served by the Junior Cooking Class under the supervision of Miss Stoner, the capable new head of the department. The dining room was attractively decorated in green and yellow. The curtains had yellow drapes and the electric light globes, yellow and green shades. In the center of each of the three large tables was a large bouquet of chrysanthemums and the top of the buffet was banked with chrysanthemums and ferns. For favors there were tiny yellow candlesticks with candles no larger than matches in them. These gave out the only light as the guests entered.
The menu served a la Russian, consisted of the following courses: Oyster Cocktail, Wafers, Celery, Pickles, Olives and Salted Fruits.

The greatest praise goes however to Miss Stoner for the ability she displayed in directing and planning the whole affair. Everyone declared the dinner in St. Louis.

Punts and Smashes

McQuillan sure was finding the holes last Saturday. His thirty yard run for a touchdown was one of the features of the game.

Balsinger wrenched his shoulder in the very first play. For a man with only one arm in working condition "Bally" did some Bully good work.

Polly Foss evidently forgot all about his sore back, at least he did not seem to be hindered by it from making some extra long and consistent gains.

Perry wrenched his hip during the second quarter. Scoop tells us that it is not serious, not even keeping him from practice a single night.

Dutch and Schuman were sure on the job, both in opening up the holes and carrying the ball. Dutch galloped thru for two of the touchdowns.

Dann did some very good work at end. When called upon to fill the full back position, his place at end was filled by Parizek. "Pretzel" also managed to hit a couple of South Dakotans hard enough to stop 'em for a while. His interference for McQuillan's 30 yd run was timely.

Ostby and Ziegelman came in late but nevertheless managed to give a good account of themselves.

Capt. Olson got a jab in his one good eye during the first half. Ole said he couldn't see much for a while after that. Instinct then must have sent him to the right place at the right time.

Mikkelson and Kelly both played well at guard. They were especially good at making nice holes for the man carrying the ball.

The center job is now in safe hands. Gulbranson and Hackett make it very interesting for their opponents. We are not worrying much about the pivot.

The way Bentley hit the line was a caution. Nothing short of a stone-wall would stop Joe when he got started.

Shorty kicked five goals without a miss. Not so bad, eh?

McQuillan is minus several square inches of skin, lost during the game. Finder is requested to leave at the Spectrum office as a souvenir of the game.

The A. C. team accompanied by Manager Keene were the guests of the Orpheum management at the first performance Saturday evening.

An invitation was also extended to them to attend the Grand's second performance, which most of the boys accepted. The liberality of these two popular playhouses was much appreciated by the team.

Coach was noticed to smile once or twice during the game. Can you blame him?

The unusually fine weather the past couple of weeks has been aptly taken advantage of by Coach Rueber. A good stiff signal practice and a long run being the every day order with an occasional scrimmage thrown in. They boys are beginning to show the effects of efficient and persistent coaching. All we need now is lots of pep and ginger on the part of the team and its supporters. The team must pull together and the team's backers must do likewise.

Coach Rueber is doing all in his power to bring us the football championship. With the support that he is getting he will not be far from reaching it either. Let's boost.

A game with St. Cloud Normal is a possibility for Saturday. This team held St. Thomas 7-3 this season.

Dakota Chapter of the Fraternity of Alpha Zeta. Honorary Agricultural Fraternity.

FRATERNITY OF ALPHA ZETA.

A group of young men at the Ohio State University first felt the need of a definite organization which would weld together men interested in scientific agriculture and at the same time represent scholarship or achievement, promote congeniality and good fellowship, and prepare a man to grasp the needs of his community and further the cause of the greatest of businesses—farming or agriculture. January 10, 1898, this effort was crystallized and the first chapter of the National Fraternity of Alpha Zeta was founded.

Since that time the growth of this organization has been a pleasing one. Chapters have been admitted from the different states until now there are twenty-two, the Dacotah Chapter coming in June 8, 1909 as the twentieth one, while the last two, Kentucky and Tennessee, were admitted at the sixth bi-ennial convale during the summer of 1912.

It was the idea of the founders of this fraternal body, that college men should learn to be broad enough to look beyond the horizon of a small circle which usually hems in a four year college course and realize that they are not shut away from the outside world during this period of preparation. Citizenship is not denied a college man but it is expected that after the years spent at college he will be at least a citizen in the broadest sense. The four years of special privileges are not to be used forming habits that will have to be unformed or else mark a man as a failure. Members are chosen not because a man is a "bookworm" or a "jolly good fellow" but ability and attainment are honored. A man may possess all the qualifications for the highest requirements of citizenship and yet not bear the brand of a brilliant student.

Alpha Zeta stands for the highest in scientific agriculture, membership is permanent and links one with the best in this line where chapters are found. It is proud to number among its members men of national reputation. All this combined tends to increase the efficiency and ability of local members, the betterment of agriculture of the community, the state, and the nation as a whole.

The sixth bi-ennial convale of the National Fraternity of Alpha Zeta convened at East Lansing, Michigan, July 16, 1912. It was the special purpose of this body to pass upon the problem of reviewing the standards of the organization and to raise them to such an extent that Alpha Zeta may always stand as the leading Agricultural honorary fraternity of this country and the world. It has now been adopted and each chapter must put into force the following eligibility rule: A man in order to be eligible must be within two and a half years of completing the four year course and his standings must place him in the upper two-fifths of his class both at the time of pledging and initiation. This rule is also a three-fold rule as a man is chosen not by standings alone but by 1. Standings, 2. Character, 3. Social-

Charles W. Hammond was the delegate from the Dacotah Chapter at the convale and has rendered his report to the chapter including the new eligibility rule and minor changes of ritual which are of interest only to the body as a fraternity.

The Dacotah chapter is looking forward to a bright future as the prospects of a new Agricultural building are good and a fine suite of rooms for this chapter is to be included in the plans.

Alpha Zeta does not represent a local spirit nor does it exist merely for the mutual benefit of the brotherhood but to accomplish the greatest amount of good and serve as an aid to those in Agricultural lines. It must be a constant ideal of Alpha Zeta men to do the greatest good for the greatest number.

Gilmore Sisters and Bringham present an act in which they do some clever comedy and singing stunts.

Manager Fowler has secured some star acts for the last three days of this week. The big headliner is Miss Bushell and Company in a boxing comedy. Miller and Shelley appear in a refined musical act. Young

Last Monday evening, prior to Theodore Roosevelt's speech in the Milwaukee Auditorium, he was wounded by John Schrank who fired a thirty-eight calibre bullet into his breast.

Just as Mr. Roosevelt was leaving his hotel in an automobile he rose up to greet the crowd and while in this position Schrank pulled out a revolver and began firing.

The latest reports shows that Mr. Roosevelt is much improved and expects to be able to leave the Chicago hospital, where he has been confined, for Oyster Bay on Monday the twenty-first.

All those interested in the national game have had their attention drawn toward New York and Boston the past week where the World's Championship series have taken place. All of the games were hard fought and neither side had the championship cinched until the last of the seven games was played. The last game was a ten inning one and ended in favor of Boston, giving them the honor of being the World's champions in baseball for the season of 1912.

Political Club Barred
From College Activities

FACULTY RECEIVE MUCH CRITICISM FOR THEIR ACTION

The faculty has decreed that political clubs shall not exist on the college campus or Buildings; shall not be christened with any semblance of the college name; in fact we have been denied the right to assemble in an orderly manner as partisan clubs for the purpose of discussing the issues of the day. It is to be deplored that the student body is thus to be deprived of the privilege of thus preparing themselves for active citizenship. Considerable adverse comment has been made by the daily press and other sources. However we must abide by the decision and hope that the faculty were prompted by just reasons when they voted down the petition.

Hugh J. Hughes '09, editor of Farm, Stock and Home comments editorially as follows:

An Exception Taken.

The daily papers make note of the fact that the North Dakota Agricultural College has forbidden its students to organize political clubs. This is a form of paternalism which appears common to state institutions. Just why the student at a state institution should not develop his political thought and activity is not clear. Farm, Stock & Home believes that one of the most important and most valuable parts of the education of a young man or a young woman is to awaken the sense of personal interest and responsibility in good government which such clubs, organized and carried on by the students themselves, and not by the professors, tend to foster.

The writer has in mind the campaign of 1896 and the student activities of that year. Those who were then scarcely voters are now in the prime of life. At the institution which he at that time attended three political clubs were organized. The professors did not take active part in this organization, but they were friendly to it. Today, after the years have passed, the fact stands out that those men who took active part in the discussion of current political problems are the men who are leading the thought of their communities, and are giving to their Alma Mater whatever name it bears for value as a teacher of political and social morality.

To refuse to students the privilege and the right to throw themselves with zest into the political campaigns of the day is to stunt the political side of their nature and to teach them that the educated man has no business in politics.

It should be the function of the state and of the state institutions to encourage in every way possible the student's sense of responsibility as a citizen, and as a voter, and as a student of politics; and the mere fact that the student out of his inexperience will sometimes carry to excess his zeal for his particular candidate should not weigh in the matter. It is part of life's training to learn how to control one's self and his feelings. It is not the business of the state to tell its young men that politics are not for them.

For a number of years one of the events most eagerly looked forward to in the Agricultural and Manual Training High School has been the High School Declamatory Contest, participated in by members of the Hesperian and Castalian Literary Societies. The date of the contest this year is November 22. The experience of past years proves that the H. S. students at this institution

Can A Student Work His Way Thru College

The question is often asked, is there a good chance for a fellow to work his way through the Agricultural College? If he is in earnest and wants to work, there is. There is work here at the college for many students and many more could secure employment about the city, if they would only look for it.

There are always positions open for a person who can operate a typewriter and besides this a great deal of piece work may be obtained. This is an art which is quite easily obtained and which is very useful and profitable. A number of positions are held by students who have become proficient in their particular departments, as assistants in the laboratories and shops. There is also a great deal of work on the campus, the college farm, the gardens, and in the buildings as janitors, that may be done by students.

Work in the city which is open to students is plentiful. Our students are working in stores and offices on Saturdays and after school hours; as bell boys, porters and clerks in hotels; as waiters in restaurants and boarding houses as janitors and furnace tenders; and professional musicians and tutors. We had one student who was a telegraph operator and who made his living by working in a telegraph office a part of each day. A number of students also find a source of income in newspaper work.

A fact to be noticed, is that a large percentage of the leaders in scholarship and in all branches of student activities, including athletics, public speaking, music, and social events, are students who are making the whole or a part of their support by working at one of the above occupations.

A young man came down here last year with little more than enough money to register but, with a strong determination to go to school. He secured a position in a private boarding house where he washed dishes, swept and scrubbed floor, waited on table, and performed other duties usually done by a girl. By doing this he was enabled to remain in school for the year and I am sure that he did not lose the respect of his fellows by doing this class of work. On the other hand I believe that he had just as good a time and received more benefit from his year of school than many of his class-mates who did not have to work.

The Review of Reviews for September, 1912, gives a report of an investigation made as to the number of students who earned money during their college course in some of our American schools. At Beloit, Wisconsin, twelve per cent of the students earn their whole support, twenty-seven per-cent half their own support and seventy-three per-cent earn something. At Princeton they have a student express company, a sandwich man, who sells lunches to the students in their rooms, a pressing club, which keeps the men's clothes in order, and many other enterprises. The president of the pressing club has always been a member of one of the big Princeton clubs, and the fact that he pressed clothes for a living does not seem to detract from his social standing. It was found in this investigation that the average expenditure of the students who earned their own money was nearly as much as that of those who did not. This shows that it is not necessary for a person to deprive himself of all the pleasures of college life because he has to work. Usually he will have more pleasure than the person who does not earn his own support.

There is always an opportunity for a student who will hustle. If there is not an opportunity there is room to make one. A student who knew the barber trade could make a

A Letter Home

Say but this college business is the best thing that I ever struck, and I am the happiest fellow in town. Gee, but you have to study though. Just think, we had a lesson in chemistry the other day that was thirty pages long and say, I sat down and absorbed facts on Hydrogen until I was so full of it that if anyone had held a match to my mouth I would have blown up. Do you know I have not done a thing but absorb knowledge ever since I came here.

We had a big football game yesterday and it was the most exciting thing that I ever saw, worse than mumbledepeg, Dad, a lot. Why everybody yelled as loud as they could and the band played hifalutin marches better than the Wescot Harmonic Town Band that Ole played in. Some of the fellows got a bit hurt and then a girl fainted and I got some water and poured it on her. She is a peacherino Dad, gosh yes. But don't say anything to Ma, she asked me to call, Gee I am going to go tonight Dad and wear that new white collar that you just have to wipe off when it gets dirty to clean it again, and that checked tie that you gave me.

Say, you are a peach of a Dad to send me down here to school, can't you send me a little spondulicks, that means a few dollars, cause books cost like the dickens and don't tell Ma I am going to see a girl.

Your loving son

Dean Bolley of the School of Biology is at Lethbridge, Alberta, in attendance at the Dry Land Congress. This is one of the most important gatherings of agriculturalists and farm workers that meets anywhere in the world. It has perhaps more representatives of all of the different types of agricultural workers from the standpoint of cropping than any other meeting.

Dean Bolley, upon request, will give at this meeting three papers, all of which are prepared for the purpose of making clear his conception of the cause of deterioration in farm crops due to the various cropping systems.

The titles of the papers are as follows: "Soil Biology: A new Basis for Crop Rotation;" to be given before the Section of Scientific Research. "Tillage and Machinery Methods in their Relation to the Control of Root Diseases in Cereal Grains," to be given before the Section on Soil, Tillage Methods and Machinery, and the third, "Flax Crop Improvement Thru Breeding," before the Section on Crops and Crop Breeding.

All of these papers are prepared for publication, but the addresses will be made from outline and carefully illustrated by specimens and lantern slides.

The work of the State Biological Survey is being continued during the Fall season. Interesting data is being secured with regard to Fall migration of birds, and valuable additions to the college collections are being made. Taxidermist Williams has been industriously at work, and is getting a very interesting series of birds and mammals nicely mounted.

The second number of the Citizen's Lecture course will be given in the armory on Thursday, Nov. 2. At that time the world-famous Roney's Boys, now on their twenty-fifth and last tour of the country, will appear and give one of their concerts. It goes without saying that they will be greeted by an audience that will probably tax the capacity of the hall.

A part of the office force of the Botanical Department reports a well earned and every enjoyable vocation during the absence of the Dean.

PHILOMATHIAN

Philo met for a short business meeting Friday evening. A number of those who had made application for membership were voted into the society. It was decided to hold the tryouts for the Joint Debate on Friday, Nov. 8. After adjournment many of the members went to hear Williams' lecture on the fortunate babies of Chicago.

A number of the students, lured by the high wages offered, grasped the opportunity to earn a little spending money by picking "spuds" for the farmers about town. Mendenhall is no little proud of his claim to the championship in the race for the greatest number of bushels per hour.

An article written by Miss Ellen Syse '12, on "The Teacher's Boarding Place and the Rural School" appears in the current issue of The Westland Educator. It is an unusual article, well worth reading.

DAKOTA BUSINESS COLLEGE

AND THE

NORTH DAKOTA AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

Have always been on very friendly terms. The work of the one does not over lap the work of the other. Many pupils enter Dakota Business College and later take courses at the N. D. A. C. and others enter the A. C. and then decide they want to specialize in BUSINESS, BOOKKEEPING, PENMANSHIP, SHORT-HAND, TYPEWRITING or BANKING and enter the D. B. C. for that special training.

We solicit the good will of all A. C. pupils, especially invite them to call and look the school over and, if they decide to take up the business branches, we naturally want their patronage.

EVENING SCHOOL

Offers opportunities for those who are engaged during the days to take up some special work. The tuition is exceedingly cheap in this school.

Musical Department

By David Sonquist '14

"Music washes away from the soul, the dust of everyday life."—Auerbach.

If you hear any dying wails issuing from Music Hall resembling those of a much sick cat, do not jump at the conclusion that the Doctor or any of his boys are exploiting vivli section. It is only Gross on the oboe and he'll survive.

The Board of Trustees voted to defray one half of the expenses of the band trip to Grand Forks. The boys will defray the rest. The whole band are working hard to be in readiness to outdo the impression made last year.

The Music Hour at Convocation has been postponed for a week at which time the Orchestra will appear. A full orchestration of "The Yellow and the Green" will probably be rendered.

Prof. Darner, a violinist of considerable experience made his first appearance with the Orchestra on Thursday. Mr. Darner will strengthen the violin section very materially.

17 pieces appear for orchestra rehearsal on Thursday. With this talent an Orchestra of very high standard will result.

The whole student body appreciated immensely the Quartette numbers rendered by the Williams Jubilee Singers. These artists have a world wide reputation and A. C. is fortunate in having heard them. Mrs. Kalgren and Dr. Putnam sang several songs. These numbers together with Mrs. Nye's rare interpretation of the life and poems of James Whitcomb Riley, made a Convocation that will long be remembered.

Mrs. Kalgren, a pupil of Miss Grasse, assisted Mrs. Nye in presenting a Riley Programme at the Civic Center.

C. F. Guss has returned and will resume his position in the rear of the big bass horn.

Mr. Olaf Hendrickson pleased the student body at the last Convocation with one of his violin solos.

SOCIAL EVENTS

By Eugenia Ruff, '18.

Miss Ethel Peterson spent last Sunday with Mrs. C. B. Hay of Wahpeton.

Mrs. Clara Larson of Mandan, who was a student here last year stopped off for a few days on her way for a visit in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Iowa points.

Mrs. Keene and Mrs. Bolley gave a reception week before last in honor of the new faculty members.

Mrs. Stockham and Mrs. Remington delighted a large audience at the Grand Theatre Sunday evening in an excellent recital. Mrs. Stockham played a well received program of classical music and Mrs. Remington delighted her hearers with two readings from Mary Magdalene. The

A. C. faculty was well represented.

After the football game, a little spread was given by Delta Phi Beta in honor of their visiting sister, Clara Larson.

Mrs. Cryder of the Christian Church gave a party in honor of Prof. Campbell who is leaving the A. C. to take up work with the Better Farming Association. Delicious refreshments were served.

The dinner given by the Junior Cooking class for the Board of Trustees and the heads of the departments was a complete success and Miss Stoner is receiving some well deserved compliments on the part of all the guests.

Please Telephone all social events and items to 1832.

Martin Hagen from Fort Ransom began his work Thursday as a Senior Prep. at the A. C.

Fifty short course boys were installed in the same chemistry laboratory with the Juniors and Seniors last week. Since their arrival, three lab. Profs. have used up all their superfluous energy in interesting the girls in their own work.

A number of the Homemaker girls are back again this year, among whom are Thordis Eyoifson, Julia Larson, Eunice Whitcomb and many new ones, also there are still several of the old girls who will be back soon.

The H. S. class in cooking 4a are to begin their lessons in deep fat frying this week. Heretofore the work has consisted of canning, preserving and pickling fruit and vegetables.
