Florence Beck Brings Victory to Moorhead

Armory scene of greatest Contest in years. Local High School rejoices

Miss Gretchen Movius Second Place

Seven contestants competed after five of twelve entries were eliminated

Before a large crowd which packed the armory, the representatives of many of the High Schools of North Dakota and Minnesota contested for declamatory honors tonight. Florence Beck of Moorhead was awarded first place. Miss Movius of Lidgerwood, the youngest contestant was awarded second place, and Maurice Masterson third.

From the twelve contestants entered, several were selected in the preliminaries held this morning at ten o'clock. These appeared on the programme tonight as follows:

The Slow Man—Emma Hunger, Hankinson, N. D.

If I Were King—Ethel Canniff, Fargo, N. D.

The Lie—Gretchen Movius, Lidgerwood, N. D.

Gentlemen, the King—Maurice Masterson, Barnesville.

Old Hickory—Floyd Cooper, Casselton.

Mercedes—Florence Beck, Moorhead. Ben Hur and Iris—Louis Duggan, Grand Forks.

selection, which was The Slow Man, was a pathetic story of a naturalized Jew, who cannot talk English. He supports a family on ten dollars a week, until his eyesight gives out and he is forced to cease working. Finally after much suffering, and privation, he receives a job through the pleadings of his son, Sam. Miss Hunger had a good stage presence and gave the part of Sam in an excellent manner.

Miss Canniff

gave the selection, If I Were King. The selection required a nice distinction of characters, which Miss Canniff gave very easily. Her articulation was exceptionally good and she was heard very distinctly in every part of the room. Fargo can well be proud of Miss Canniff.

Miss Beck.

had a difficult selection to deliver, but gave it in an excellent manner. Her articulation was good and her voice well modulated. The scene was laid in a Spanish village. During a French invasion, a girl, Mercedes was left behind when the population fled. Some years before she had been wedded to a French soldier, who deserted her. When he appears with the army, she and her child drink some wine to prove that it is not poisoned. The soldiers drink. She scorns her returned husband. The wine was poisoned and she and the child die.

Gretchen Movius

was the youngest contestant. Her selection was well suited to her voice. It consisted of a dialogue between a Lie and an unloved child, Pussy, who was forced to tell said lie when he was asked if his mother kissed him goodnight. This lie troubled him and his mother found him still troubled when she came home. Needless to say she did not neglect her child anymore.

Maurice Masterson's

selection had lots of action and his voice showed good range in depicting different characters. A company of plotting barons are interrupted by the King, the subject of the plot. He hears of the plot and forces them to play dice, the loser to die a traitor's death. It finally ends by the King disclosing that he has been sentencing them to a mythical death. He abdicates. The barons plead, but he drinks to the health of the president and all ends well.

Floy Cooper's

selection was a story of a governor who had received a petition for the pardon of a woman murderess. He cannot decide. He tried to follow Andrew Jackson's principles. A conversation with a newsboy, who, not knowing the governor, gave him to understand that he was looked upon as one who loved his fellow men and the pardon was granted. The impersonation of the newsboy was very good.

Louise Duggan

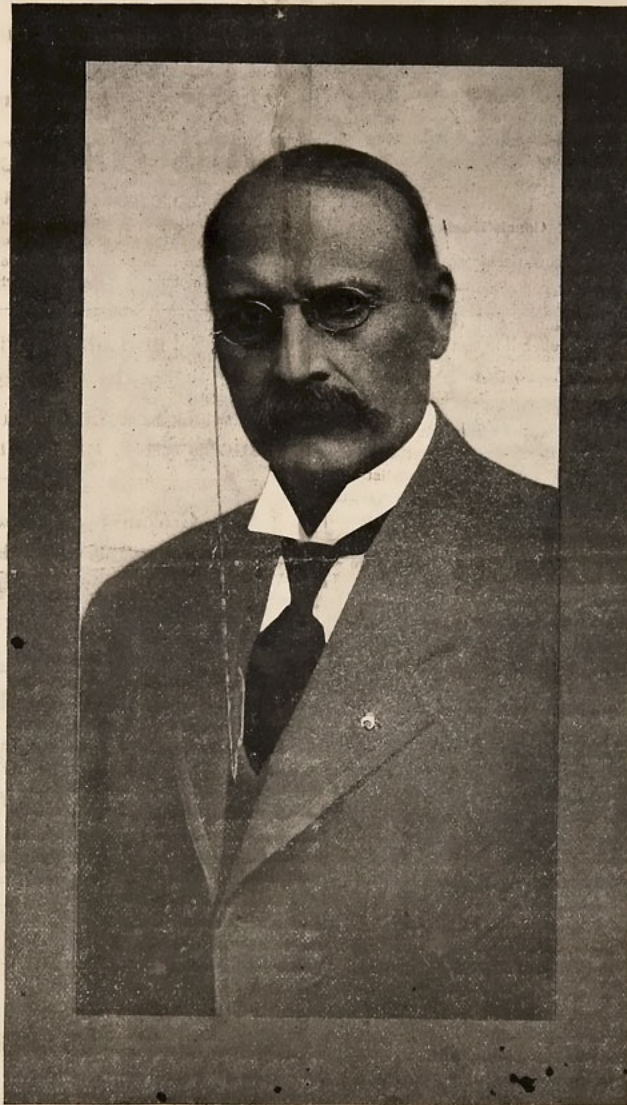

in Ben Hur and Iris, showed a very easy stage presence. Her voice was clear and distinct. The selection was extremely difficult and much credit is due Miss Duggan for the creditable manner in which she handled the selection.

IN MEMORIAM.

After a long slow struggle against the steady call of the messenger of Death, William Mugoat, finally gasped his last, turned his toes heavenward, horns in an opposite direction and casting one last look for a prospective candidate, died a hero last Thursday afternoon. William was welcomed to the fraternity ranks in early November. Being a freshman life was extremely precarious and he was rather slow getting on to college ways and men during his first term. Gradually he became accustomed to the incessant din of Chester's voice, and became aristocratic. His diet of concentrated lye, old issues of the Spectrum and tin cans became a thing of the past. He began to forget to heed his fond mother's parting advice and abandoned himself to high living and the arduous task of disciplining the candidates on all occasions. All was well until Boucher, Williams and Dixon were presented for his stamp of approval.

His deep hatred for the Y. M. C. A. A. stood pat and William and Williams waged an awful battle and Billy arose a conquered but broken hearted, hollow horned ruminant of the Genus Capra. His decline was slow but equally sure. Day after day he pined away.

It was noticed that sawdust was so beneficial to Fargo, that Billy was given a ration of sawdust and distilled air, but to no avail. Sadness and gloom prevades the campus. The Alpha Mu's are wearing black socks and looks of despair. He has found peace at last. His majesty is dead!

President's Welcome

The Agricultural College extends cordial greeting to-day to the high school students assembled from many neighboring villages and cities in earnest rivalry for honors on the athletic field. While many are thus engaged in friendly competition in speed and endurance or in strength and skill, still others are competing for declamatory honors. The day is given over to good-natured rivalry.

Regardless, however, of who may win most points in athletics or in declamation, the new acquaintances formed here and the old ones renewed makes your coming together worth while. Moreover, the faculty and students of the Agricultural College not only welcome you to its campus, but would make the occasion a pleasant one—one well worth remembering.

Young people, while pursuing their studies in neighboring schools cannot fail to profit thru wider acquaintances with each other, hence Inter-High School Field Day offers this additional inducement for coming together.

May you all prove to be as good losers when you lose as you are good winners when you win; and may the battle to-day symbolize the more serious battle of life for which this is in part a preparation.

PRESIDENT J. H. WORST.

Grand Forks Again Victor in Big Meet on Dacotah Field

A total of 46 points piled up against close Competition brought Victory

Langdon Close Second Followed By Fargo

Boyd of Langdon, Individual star, Breaks two state records. O'Keefe of Grand Forks makes great showing.

The greatest track and field meet in the history of the institution occurred today on Dacotah field. Barring a slight wind the day was ideal and the program was carried out in three hours without a hitch. There was not a show of friction or dissatisfaction to mar the event. The band was on hand early and between events entertained the large crowd which had gathered. Interest and enthusiasm ran high thruout.

Grand Forks High won first place with a score of 46 points, Langdon being a close second with a score of 36. Fargo High won third place with a score of 17½. The individual star of the meet was Boyd of Langdon who has three firsts to his credit, a total of 15 points. Each of these established new local records, two breaking state records. O'Keefe of Grand Forks won two firsts, one second and one third, thus tying with Boyd's number of individual points.

The ½ mile relay race was won by Langdon so the silver wall plate for the event becomes their property. Grand Forks received the wall plate for greatest number of points.

The New Athletic Park was in ideal condition and when the grandstand is erected and the other improvements completed we can well boast of the finest field in the northwest. Considering the success of the event next year's meet should be perfect.

Semi-Finals 100 Yard Dash.

The first of the track events was the 100 yard dash semi-finals. In the first lap, Boyd of Langdon won first place. Scouten of Inkster, second and Bublitz of Valley City third. Time 10 2-5 seconds.

In the second lap, McInnis of Fargo won first place, Gilby of Grand Forks second and Donovan of Langdon third. Time 10 4-5 seconds.

Mile Run.

The mile run was rather slow due partly to the wind which was rising. The field for this event was very large. Cotant of Casselton lead the first lap followed closely by Scouten of Inkster. Robertson of Langdon jumped ahead in the second quarter and maintained his lead thruout. Scouten followed closely until he was passed by Knudson of Grand Forks, who gamely but vainly fought out the last 100 yards with Robertson, who secured first. Knudson, Grand Forks, second. Farrand, Fargo, third. Time, 5 minutes, 14 2-5 seconds.

120 Yard Hurdles.

Only three entries were up for the 120 yard hurdles, which was won easily by O'Keefe of Grand Forks in very good time, 18 4-5 seconds. Nilles of Casselton got a poor start over the first hurdle but recovered and followed the winner closely. Wells of Grand Forks received third, but he was later disqualified. Time of this event equalled the A. C. inter-scholastic record.

220 Yard Dash.

There were six entries for this event and it was one of the prettiest runs of the day, and in spite of the rising wind, the state record was smashed. At the sound of the pistol, Boyd of Langdon and McInnes of Fargo sprang into the lead and held their positions to the end, Boyd, however, increasing his lead toward the end. Boyd of Langdon, first; McInnes of Fargo, second and Bauer of Jamestown, third. Time, 23 2-5 seconds. The previous state record was 23 4-5 seconds.

Half Mile Run.

Fourteen entered this event and it was a fine race. Kucourek led on the start, but was soon replaced by Alken of Fargo and Danuser of Jamestown, who ran neck to neck, only to be passed by Lynch of Grand Forks. Robertson of Langdon was second, Williams of Grand Forks, third. Time, 2 minutes 17 1-5 seconds.

Finals in 100 Yard Dash.

Another state record was broken by Boyd of Langdon in this event. Having just broken the record in the 220 he entered this event and ran the prettiest dash in the history of local High School meets. McInnes of Fargo won second place and Gilby of Grand Forks third. Time 10 1-5 seconds.

Pole Vault.

Grand Forks had a walk away in the pole vault. O'Keefe withdrew to second place in favor of his team mate, Lodwell, when they tied at nine feet. Scott of Jamestown was third. Distance, nine feet.

Hamer Throw.

Six men entered the hammer throw. Booth of Fargo easily outclassed all his competitors, throwing the hammer 139 feet, 6 inches, 25 feet beyond the next high mark. Second place was won by Halloran of Langdon, and third by Duggan of Grand Forks.

High Jump.

Out of the ten entries only five contested. The showing was good, the height being less than two inches below the state record. Lodwell of Grand Forks won first; O'Keefe, Grand Forks, second; Thien, Fargo, third. Height, 5 feet, 6 inches.

220 Low Hurdles.

The time for the 220 low hurdles was fast. Lindsay of Langdon led and won in the remarkable time of 28 1-5 seconds. Nilles of Casselton was second; O'Keefe of Grand Forks, third. The time was the A. C. track record.

Discus.

A large number entered this event and the final elimination placed O'Keefe of Grand Forks first, Nilles of Casselton, second and Bublitz of Valley City, third. Distance, 97 feet, 1 inch.

440 Dash.

There were nine entries. Drury of Langdon and Pinkham of Casselton gained the lead at first, Pinkham passing Drury shortly after and holding first place to the end. Lynch of Grand Forks made a sprint toward the end and barely missed second place. Time, 58 1-5 seconds.

Half Mile Relay.

Four schools entered for this, Langdon, Fargo, Grand Forks and Casselton. Langdon gained the lead in the first lap and held their position to the end. Time, 1 minute, 42 seconds. This breaks all previous records on the local field.

Shot Put

Four men entered in the finals in this event. Duggan of Grand Forks won first place. Danuser of Jamestown, second, and Bublitz of Valley City third. Distance, 20.2 feet. This gives Boyd three firsts and three records to his credit.

The winners received the medals and shields at the close of the declamatory contest.

The High School Greeting.

The youth of the Red and its branches we greet,
 The Land of White Bread sends its foremost to meet
 In contests of brain and competitive brawn
 Then trip the fantastic till morning shall dawn.

On the lists of Dacotah with spartanic pride
 These Red Blooded Knights will jump broad and wide,
 Throw discus or shot put or to jump hurdles high
 Or dash a fast quarter and yield without sigh.

To-night at the Gym Stuyvesant did die,
 Old Hickory did make the Polish Boy cry;
 The King and Mercedes did both have a tilt
 In the lists and Enoch's blood has been spilt.

Then eat the nabisco and drink the frappee
 Come again, my dear High Schools, make longer your stay.

E. D. S., '13.

Major Grafton, Captain Williams, and Captain Thompson were viewing the cadet battalion as they went thru the different maneuvers, Wednesday.

Glen McArden, a former student of the A. C., was a welcome visitor, Thursday.

Prof. Miller took his botany class out in the woods Thursday, for a long jaunt. It was a weary bunch of students that returned from their nature studying trip.

The grandstand in Athletic park, where so many people have viewed the hot contests between the A. C. and its opponents, is now a thing of the past. It was torn down this week and a line of residences will probably replace the old park.

Mr. Campbell leaves for Ames this evening, where he will spend his vacation. While there, he will attend the commencement exercises at the state College, of which he is a graduate.

A. C. Athletics

Never before in the history of our college has keener interest been shown in athletics than at present and the competition of Dacotah Field will only increase the interest. No other department of the institution does more to create and increase true college spirit. In the fall we had the best football team of recent years and hopes for the state championship were bright when the sudden arrival of winter prevented the playing of the University game upon which the championship rested.

Tho we did not win the Championship in basket ball we were second only to the University. Last year we held the undisputed championship in this branch of Athletics winning all of the fourteen games played. An excellent team also represents the preparatory department and was undefeated during this season.

Track and field athletics are becoming more popular each year and this year we hope to see some records smashed.

The lovers of tennis have ample facilities for enjoying that sport for with the three new courts on Dacotah Field, the college can boast of five of the best courts in the state.

Too much credit cannot be given Coach Rueber for his work as Athened men and turn out a championship team is a comparatively easy matter but it is another thing to take a bunch of green men each season and develop a football or basketball team. Rueber is a conversationalist and when he starts telling the embryo athlete of the mistakes of his Creator, said athlete will gladly carry the football thru the gauntlet of a tribe of Commanchee Indians to get away from the conversation. Rueber got his football training at Chattanooga University and Northwestern. He was captain of the Northwestern eleven in 1905. But where he got his vocabulary is still a mystery. It is known, however, that in the four years he has been with us he has never used the same adjective to the same man twice. The reason he is a great coach is because his men don't dare play poorly. Let him trace the pedigrees of a bunch of green material for about two weeks and you begin to see results. Not only can he make men play but he stands for a true sportsmanship in athletics. His men play the game hard, and for all there is in it, but al-

One of the younger members of the Sophomore Class was treated to a pleasant little surprise by some of the Pharmacy boys, which surprise consisted in having his cranial developments thoroly saturated some say dissolved(?) with abundant quantities of cold water from a couple of faucets in the chamber of Horrors, sometimes known as the Pharmacy lab. It is reported that the afore-mentioned youth, finding time hanging heavy on his hands, had endeavored to assist some of the boys in comounding their prescriptions, but in some unaccounted manner they were confounded instead of compounded and as a result the unfortunate lad alluded to had the white heat (did somebody say hair?) of his think (?) tank, the fires of youth, and the ardor of his love cooled to a remarkable degree, so great in fact, that this important(?) cranial appendage of his slender frame (scaffolding?) contracted considerably and has remained so till the time of going to press. It is said, however, that this is his first offense in matters of this sort. The moral of this sad but true tale is: when in doubt, mind your own business.

"Billy" Sunday Addressed Large Audience At Armory

Wednesday of this week saw what was probably the largest attendance at any Convocation ever held during the Spring term at this institution. Practically the entire student body and even the greater part of the faculty, together with a large number of visitors from down town, were present to hear what the Rev. Wm. A. Sunday had to say to the people of the college.

As Prof. Minard remarked in introducing the speaker, this was probably the first time in history that we "held our regular ten o'clock Monday Morning Convocation on Wednesday at eleven o'clock, but the day would undoubtedly be a memorable one for other reasons". Before the close of the hour all knew that Prof. Minard's conjecture was quite correct.

Before the address Mr. Rodeheaver rendered a selection on the trombone, accompanied by Mr. Ackley, pianist of the Sunday party. This was a musical treat of the first order, and was well received by the audience. However, on account of limited time, Mr. Rodeheaver did not respond to an encore, declining in favor of Mr. Sunday.

From the way "Bill" jumped to his feet and plunged into his address it is very evident that the base ball player of twenty years ago is not yet by any means dead, but still very much "on deck". The topic which he discussed was the ever live one of Success and perfection in life, with emphasis on the fact that we get out of life only as we put into it, and that a college education is not an education at all but only the foundation on which to build an education. "Learn to do common things in an uncommon way". "If you can do things as well as a thousand other men you are in competition with a thousand. Learn to do it better than they and you are in a class by your self". The instance was cited of the great artist who, looking for a face which would most nearly represent a typical beggar, found it in the face of one of the Rothschilds. When the great Rothschild was seated in the artist's studio in beggars clothes posing for the great picture a poor student entered, and, moved by the apparent need of the man, gave him a few coins from out of his own slender purse. Later Rothschild enquired about the young man, and next day sent a letter with a large sum of money. "That young man cast his bread upon the waters, and God spread a lot of butter onto it and sent it back again".

Mr. Sunday warned his hearers against becoming vain of their education and supposed intellectual powers. "You will find the world to be a wise old guy when you get out". "It won't be long before you can take your collar off by slipping it over your head, and you won't need to unbutton it."

The millionaires (and other owners of wealth) who obtain their possessions by dishonest means came in for no little condemnation on the part of the speaker. The money value is not the only value, nor the chief value. Many people today are rated by the amount of their wealth, and that is all they are worth in fact.

Good character and good citizenship is not founded on intellectuality alone. "The nation was founded by the Pilgrim Fathers, not by the Spanish adventurers of the type of Cortez and Pizarro". "The Pilgrims landed with the Bible in one hand and a Spelling Book in the other."

From beginning to end the address was crowded with terse, timely admonitions, delivered in the characteristic "Billy Sunday" style. Mr. Sunday did not speak over half an hour, by no means exhausting all of the time allowed, but he held his audience almost breathless the entire time, and the memory of the occasion will live for a long period of time.

Prof. Miller took a section of the class in Botany thru the woods by the river on Thursday. The class spent the time collecting plants for identification.

Alpha Zeta's Initiate.

The fraternity of Alpha Zeta held an initiation last night, with Grover Cleveland Edwards and David Sonquist as guests of honor. Both will probably recover and be in condition for football next fall.

Prof. Randlett, head of the Extension Department will depart for the east in a few days. His daughter, Mary, will accompany him. The trip will include Chicago, Guelph, Niagara Falls, Montreal, Quebec, Boston, New York and Washington, D. C. They will return in about a month, when Prof. Randlett begins a strenuous summer school schedule about the state.

The following letter was received and the suggestion contained has been acted upon:
To the Acting Editor of the Weekly Spectrum:

In order to further stimulate interest in the inter-class baseball series, I would like to submit the following suggestion. That the Spectrum editor, or some one else, pick out three impartial judges, from members of the faculty or of the first Baseball team, who shall attend all the games of the series and when the series is finished pick out an "All Star" team from the different class teams. The names of these players to be published in the Weekly Spectrum.

I believe that this inter-class league is a step in the right direction and that everything possible should be done to encourage it and to keep up the interest in the games.

From A Reader.

The committee has been chosen from the first team and will report to the Spectrum at the end of the schedule.

The representatives of one of the leading farm machinery firms were attempting to give a plowing demonstration last Wednesday on some of Prof. Bolley's experiment grounds. They found that our soil was not adapted to their plows or else their plows were not adapted to our soils, so after a day spent in heroic efforts to weight the machines down and turn land upside down as it should be done they gave up in despair. The entire crew of professors, engine men, and field laborers arrived at the creamery shortly before six P. M. and disposed of about 2 gallons of buttermilk in as many minutes, while "Doc" looked on, helpless to defend the property entrusted to his care. However, the State can well afford to overlook this outrage, as undoubtedly many lives of men invaluable to science were saved from premature death from thirst.

Harry Herbrandson reports catching five suckers in one afternoon while fishing in front of Francis Hall.

Mrs. Emery came down from Emmerado Tuesday to visit her sons William and Charles, and to inspect the new motorcycle. She returned home Thursday.

called on account of darkness, with the score 14-5.

For the Seniors Haskins and Ewen played a good game. While the other members of the team made many errors they fought hard and showed up well.

Sorenson pitched a good game and held the heavy batters of the Senior team down to four scattered hits. Cockburn caught a good game and showed great improvement in throwing to the bases. Beardsley at first played his usual good game. His hitting was remarkable and succeeded in getting four clean hits out of five times up.

The game was witnessed by over two hundred students and some great enthusiasm was shown. The rooting surpassed any of the previous games and for volume equaled that of the College games. The spirit in general was good and the rivalry between the teams was of the best nature, however some of the spirit was ill-natured and should be done away with. The crowding up on the lines and crowding the players is a sign of poor sportsmanship.

Holkesvig umpired game and to the satisfaction of all.

Sophomores vs. Seniors. 14-7.

The Seniors were defeated by the Sophomores in their first game of the series, Wednesday evening, by a score of 14-7. The game was called at 7:00 P. M. and from that time until the end of the fifth inning when the game called off on account of darkness, was replete with errors on both sides. The Seniors, however, were somewhat handicapped by having only eight men, one of their star players being unable to get out for the game.

Ed Evingson, the official pitcher for the Senior class, started to "do up" the second year men, and did some fine twirling, but the catcher was unable to locate and hold his speedy curves so "Little" Bert Haskins was put in the box after only a few minutes of play. From the time Haskins entered the box he was the star player for the upper class and was given fine support, only ten misplays being made behind him.

Hess and Nolet each took turns at throwing the ball for the Sophomores and both did well, allowing one hit and walking eight men.

Senior Preps vs. Juniors. 9-0.

The Senior preps won over the haughty Juniors by a decisive score in the second interclass baseball game last Wednesday by a score of 9 to 0.

The preps toyed with the Juniors, allowing them but four hits. Perry, for the preps, was the star player of the evening and Crouch, at the receiver's end, played excellent.

The battery for the Juniors was Dutch Schroeder and Olson. Olson stayed out of the varsity team in order to play with the Juniors, and played a good game.

Schroeder pitched the first 4 innings for the Juniors allowing but four hits; walked two men and struck out three. He was relieved by Ogaard.

Perry allowed three men to get on walked two men and struck out three, the next man came up to the plate, he was retired in short order.

Williams appeared upon the field with an old baseball suit on, probably trying to show the onlookers that he was a ball player, but any such thought was soon dispelled, when he tried to star by playing backstop for the second baseman. At this point Bolsinger came up to the plate and with one mighty swing sent the ball sailing fifty feet over Williams' head, making a home run.

The lineup was as follows:

Crouch	c	Olson
Aslaaker	ss	Ogaard
Bachman	3b	Westland
McKee	2b	Peters
Bolsinger	1b	Youngward
Rankin	lf	Rommel
Mickelson	cf	Williams
Kerr	rf	Schumann

Major Ulio was going through the hand shaking stunt last Wednesday, as if he had been a political aspirant for office, while watching the cadet drill. The major is as robust as ever and the students were glad to see him.

Freshmen vs. Seniors. 14-5.

With the weather condition ideal and the new Dacotah field in fine shape the Freshmen baseball team took the seniors into camp to the tune of 14-5. The game although full of errors was the most interesting of the games played so far.

The Seniors were given their in's and succeeded in getting two scores the first inning. The Freshmen during this inning played a rather loose game which accounts for the score made by their opponents.

"Iron Man" Haskins went into the box for the upperclass men and showed lots of ginger. The Freshies had great determination and succeeded in tying the score.

The seniors didn't score again till the third inning when they succeeded in crossing the plate three times. Good pitching by Sorenson and perfect fielding by the Freshmen held the Seniors scoreless during the rest of the game.

The "Freshies" didn't seem to have any trouble in scoring and kept on piling up the score till the end of the seventh inning when the game was
