University Game Is On Saturday

THIRD GAME WITH CONCORDIA ENDS IN VICTORY FOR A. C. ELEVENTH CONSECUTIVE VICTORY.

Thursday evening in the Concordia Armory the Aggs played and won the eleventh game of the season. This was the third game of the Concordia series and aside from the practice it afforded our fellows it was not a much moment.

The Concordia Armory is exceptionally small which condition prevented any fast team work. Capt. Darrow and Bridge were at no time in the game. Drummond and Clark were the stars of the contest. Grafthefer and McConn being at all times very much in the game.

This week will begin the hard practice preparatory to the "U" game. With eleven consecutive victories in our wake it looks as tho the A. C. bids fair to get at least a slice of the Championship again this year. However these games were principally early season games and the really big games are still on the schedule. Next Saturday we play the U. N. D. and should there be anything in the statement that coming events cast their shadows before them. The contest will certainly be of the lightning order.

The Concordia game line up was as follows:

A. C. Concordia.
Nolet f Mathiason
Clark f Thompson
Grafthefer, (Wheeler) c Johnson
Drummond g Kill
McConn g Brathove
Field goals—Clark 7, Grafthefer 5, McConn 4, Drummond 3, Wheeler 1, Nolet 1, Thompson 3. Free throws—Nolet 3, Clark 2, Kill 3, Brathove 3. Referee—Kingsford of the Moorhead normal.

Oratorical Contest Comes Friday Night

BIG PRIZES TO BE GIVEN WINNER TO REPRESENT A. C. IN STATE CONTEST.

The most important public speaking event of the year will come Friday when the annual oratorical contest will be held in the Armory. Two valuable prizes will be given in this contest. The one who receives first place wins $35 in cash and the winner of second place $15. The winner of the first place will also be a representative at the state oratorical contest next spring when he will compete against representatives of other institutions in this state.

The speakers will be Thomas Calnan who speaks on "Man's Noblest Purpose"; Arthur Oggard whose oration will be "The Point of View"; Edgar Olson who will orate on "The Citizen of Tomorrow"; and Clarence Williams who has selected as his topic "The Past, Present and Future."

The Judges will be Atty. Pfeiffer, Atty. Lawrence, Mr. Salverson, F. Squires, Pres. of Am. Society of Equity for N. D., and Prof. B. G. Martin of the Moorhead Normal.

Musical numbers will be given at the beginning of the program.

A preparation of an oration means a large amount of work to the contestants and as these orations deal with questions which are of great interest to students every student should make an effort to be there.

Monday afternoon Miss Barrows gave a demonstration before the Home Economics Association and visiting ladies of the city.

Good Positions Open To Animal Husbandmen

MORE OPPORTUNITY FOR A. C. MEN QUALIFIED COLLEGE MEN TO BEGIN AT $1380 PER ANNUM.

Dean Shepperd of the Agricultural Department recently received a letter from Chief Admeltin, Bureau of Animal Husbandry Washington, D. C. asking for the names of men about to graduate from the Agricultural course of this institution who may be available for work in Animal Husbandry in his Bureau of the department of Agriculture. He requires an examination, a large part of the grade of which is made on the experience of the applicant.

He writes "The salaries range from under Animal Husbandry man at $900.00 per annum to Senior Animal Husbandry men at $2460 per annum, vacancies in the higher positions being filled by promotion or by eligibles having considerable experience. As a rule men just graduated from college are eligible to appointment as Junior Animal Husbandry men at $1380 per annum.

This is but another proof that there is a great demand for young men well trained in agriculture and other kindred subjects. The country at large is awakening at the fact that the prosperity

No person can now approach the campus without realizing that tomorrow will be the event of some by political gathering at the A. C.

Pictures of the numerous candidates, headquarters signs, and numberless other notices incident to a political campaign attract their attention on every hand.

Those from the Southern States who have the proverbial southern hatred for the colored race, are first shocked as they perceive in the loftiest corner of the Main Building the likeness of the famous Booker T. Washington. Their disgust is increased as they approach

FARGO COLLEGE CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC TO HAVE MUSICAL FESTIVAL. ST. PAUL SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA TO PLAY.

President Creegan of Fargo College and Judge Amidon were at the college Monday, arranging for the use of the Armory, for the purpose of a Music Festival to be held March 31st, and April 1st.

At this time the Philharmonics Club of Fargo will present Tannhouser, assisted by Schuman Heineke and other eminent soloists. The St. Paul Symphony Orchestra is to play thru all the program.

The College Armory is the only building convenient to Fargo, that combines suitable acoustic properties with sufficient seating capacity, and the Executive Committee of the Faculty is pleased to be able to do what it can to bring to Fargo such rare musical treats as this event promises to be.

Dean Shepperd of the Agricultural Department will deliver the Convocation address next Monday.

Prof. Trimble To Deliver Address On Washington

WESTERN SIDE OF WASHINGTON'S LIFE TO BE DISCUSSED TOMORROW AT CHAPEL. DR. PUTNAM TO SUPPLY MUSIC.

Tomorrow Feb. 22nd, being Washington's birthday, there will be no school. Instead at 10 o'clock all the students are invited to attend the address to be delivered by Prof. Trimble, Professor of History and Social Science at this institution. Prof. Trimble will take for his subject "The Western Side of Washington's Life." His address will touch particularly upon Washington as a surveyor in what was then the West, as a frontier soldier, investor in land and as a promoter of transportation. Prof. Trimble has made a life study of the causes which have effected great changes in nations and a study of those men who have taken a leading part in these great movements which have altered the World's map, in many instances. Naturally Washington who has rightfully been called the father has received special attention from Prof. Trimble and the many interesting features of Washington's life, which Prof. Trimble's command, should be heard by the students and faculty Feb. 22nd. A musical program under the direction of Dr. Putnam will precede the address.

The last declamatory contest of the year occurred Friday evening when the short course students very ably contested for the three valuable prizes awarded to the three best speakers of the evening.

Paul Schultz won the first prize which was a five dollar gold piece given by the Agricultural Club. Emma Kain won second prize which was a book donated by Prof. Shepperd. Robert Kerr and Anton Christ tied for third place so both will be given a years subscription to a

At The Grand

Next Sunday evening Feb. 26th, President C. C. Creegan of Fargo College will speak at the Grand. His subject will be "Observations and Experiences in Turkey and the Holy Land." President Creegan was for a number of years a missionary in Turkey and because of his extensive experience in the far East is qualified to speak interestingly from first hand information. President Creegan has many admirers in A. C. circles and his address should attract a good many of our number.

and welfare of all is largely dependent upon this great and fundamental industry, and that it should be stimulated by the best trained men procurable. Young men who have made a special study of some phase of agriculture and who possess ability usually find a good position awaiting them at the conclusion of four or more years of hard work at college. The demand for trained young men is at present in excess of the supply.

CONVOCAATION

Miss Anna Barrows, Demonstrator of the Home Economics Department, Columbia University was the speaker at chapel yesterday. Miss Barrows is one of the pioneers of Home Economics and the author of several publications on Domestic Science and as a demonstrator stands without a peer in the United States. She is making a two weeks tour of this state under the direction of the Farmers Institute.

Mrs. Campbell 1911 has been invited by Mr. Hoverstad to accompany Miss Barrow on her tour over the state and aid her in her demonstrations.

closer to the buildings and find these pictures scattered over the campus. Although these pictures are the most conspicuous to the Southerners they are by no means the only ones posted, for in every corner are also found pictures of all the other candidates which are to be nominated at this convention.

Here and there are scattered small mobs of embryo politicians emphatically discussing their favored candidates. On this page are found out of some of the more promising candidates. Political gangs are being organized. Old cliques are broken up for the time being and new friendships are being made. Old troubles are forgotten while they work together in hearty cooperation for the candidates of their state. Political organizers are being trained who in a few years can take the place of such organizers and Mark Hanna, Platt, McKenzie and others. Many of them claim to have accurate estimates of the number of votes each one will have on each one of the ballots.

Below is given the official order of business for the evening.

Convention called to order 6:30 sharp when all delegates must be there.

Call for Convention read by Chester Holkesvig, from the Illinois delegation, Secretary of the Non Partisan Political Convention.

Introduction of Temporary Chairman LeRoy Gifford, from Maine.

Address of Temporary Chairman. Presentation of gavel to Temporary Chairman.

Appointment of committees on Permanent Organizations, Rules and Regulations and Official Order of Business, Credentials, and Platform.

Miscellaneous Business. Election of Permanent Chairman. Band Concert by Putnam's College Concert Band from 7:45 to 8:15.

Program.

March—The Hustler by Alford.

Overture—Huat Monde by Vandercook.

Selection from "The Goddess of Liberty" by Howard.

Patrol—The Blue and the Gray by Dalby.

8:30 Convention called to order by

Temporary Chairman LeRoy Gifford. America (Delegates, Audience, Marching Clubs, will rise, Band will play.)

Reports of committees: Permanent Organizations, Rules and Regulations, Credentials.

Presentation of gavel by Temporary Chairman Gifford to Permanent Chairman Traynor.

Address of Permanent Chairman.

Report of Platform committee.

Discussion of Platform.

Escort of notable men in attendance to Platform (Marching Clubs in Balcony will rise. Delegates remain seated).

Grand procession of Marching clubs.

Nomination of Candidates for President.

Election of Presidential Nominee.

Nomination of candidates for Vice President.

Election of Vice Presidential Nominee.

Star Spangled Banner.

Convention adjourns.

The nominating and seconding and all other speeches will have to be made from the stage. Each speaker will be limited to five minutes on any one discussion so some pretty snappy speeches will be expected. The nominating speeches will be especially good. Those who are to nominate have been working on these for some time as they all want to leave the best possible impression for their candidates.

The platform will be the subject of considerable discussion. What it will be no one can tell as yet, but it will probably include the following planks.

1. Protective tariff and limited reciprocity with Canada and the Philippines.

2. Arbitration in the settlement of all international disputes. Development of efficiency and economy in the administration of the army and navy.

3. Territorial government for all insular possessions.

4. The establishment of a more elastic currency, with the least possible

It is safe to say that never before have the students of this institution been brought closer together than they are now. This has been accomplished by the excitement that foreruns the coming new and untried nonpartisan political convention. In sounding each other on their political views and tendencies and the chances of being able to effect a swap with each other, the students have come to get a good idea of astuteness of the ones they are dealing with and have been called upon to sharpen their own wits in order to accomplish the ends sought. Who can say that this mingling is not a good thing, and that it does not give a student a pretty good idea of his weakness or strength. If he loses his own objects he gets to see the other fellows methods and comes to see how he was outgeneral.

Thereafter he is sure to be more alert and the chances are good that he will not be outwitted in this particular manner again.

Now in the season of oratorical discontent Julius Kammeyer professor of economics and director of public speaking in the Kansas Agricultural College proposes a score card for the contestants. Every college in the country is spreading itself just now in preparation for the annual word and arm battle, the great conflict in which the English language will writh and twist and go thru all sorts of gyrations from A. to Izzard. Prof. Kammeyer's score card is modeled on the cards used in other contests of different kinds. A horse or steer, he says, is scored on a definite number of points. This is also done in grain judging. Why, then should not any ponderable product be subject to the same standards. The idea is new. Prof. Kammeyer arranges his card this way:

Bases of criticism.	Values
I. Technique:
1. Vocal.....	55
a. Articulation.....	10
b. Pronunciation.....	5
c. Time.....	10
d. Inflection.....	5
e. Tone.....	10
f. Force.....	5
g. Musical properties.....	10
2. Physical action.....	20
a. Bearing.....	5
b. Attitude.....	3
c. Gesture.....	12
II. Personal Judgment:
In all that pertains to manifestations of purpose.....	25
Totals.....	100

Just what points should appear on such a score card doubtless will occasion differences of opinion. This one is intended to be suggestive and helpful to students when called upon to criticize the platform work of their class mates. The use of this card will not only insure a fair degree of accuracy in judgment, but it will afford excellent practice to the student critic in reviewing the essential factors of public speaking in which he may have made a study. The values assigned in the first two columns are arbitrary.

Objections will doubtless be made to the relative weights assigned to the points to be scored. These may be changed to suit the judgement of the individual critics, and until there is a definite fixation of content and weight by some widely recognized oratorical association, score cards like this will be variable and must continue to be merely the result of personal judgement.

- change in the present system.
- 5. Extension of the postal savings bank. Creation of a parcels post.
- 6. Increased efficiency and economy in the administration of the post-office department. The placing of the appointment of officials on a non-partisan basis.
- 7. Physical valuation of railways and government supervision of corporations doing an interstate business.

- 8. Compulsory arbitration in the settlement of labor disputes.
- 9. Advancement of agricultural science and education.
- 10. Federal Grain Inspection. Establishment of a merchant marine. Restriction of immigration.
- 11. Womens suffrage.
- 12. Popular Election of United States senators.
- 13. A through going corrupt practices act.
- 14. Popular election of President and Vice-President and of delegates to the national convention.
- 15. An income tax. Limitation of the power of the supreme court in regard to the constitutionality of laws.
- 16. Fortification of the Panama canal.

All arrangements have been made for the big gathering. Places have been assigned to all the delegates, to the marching clubs, and the rest of the audience. Blueprints posted in conspicuous places around the campus show plainly where the different delegations are to be seated.

Separate platforms for the band, the Western Union and Associated Press are being erected.

The convention hall will be decorated in our national colors and along different lines than anything attempted in the past. Five hundred yards of red, white and blue bunting will be used for this purpose besides a large number of flags, shields and other decorations of a patriotic nature.

Many Marching Clubs will be there in gala attire, which will add to the scheme of decoration. They will furnish much of the amusement for the evening as they will all have different stunts to do. The band will do much to help them as it will have selections suited for each Marching Club, as they march around the hall.

The Y. W. C. A. girls have already started their kettle boiling so they will be able to feed the immense crowd which will be present. If for nothing else come over and have a good supper at their counter and incidentally help swell the Lake Geneva fund.

The success of this convention now depends on what the students make it. A large number have gone on record as pushers and have done a large amount of work to make it a success. They will do their part Wednesday evening. If you have no special part to play at this convention some anyway and be alive. If you do this will be the biggest event which ever happened at the A. C.

Emery Gets Six Months And $500.00

The jury in the case of State vs. Amos Emery, finds him guilty of having bought votes, and Judge Bachman sentenced him to six months in the penitentiary and a fine of $500.00.

The trial was held at the Hesperian Literary meeting held Friday Feb. 17th, in the Chapel. The desks and tables were arranged in court room fashion and when at 6:45 the judge called the court to order every officer was in his place. Then came the long process of swearing in the jury, after which the trial opened. Chief witness for the state Worth Couey, was sworn in by Clerk Rankin and the examination was begun by County Attorney Jack Kerr. Mr. Couey swore that Mr. Emery had given him $5,000.00 to buy his influence. The next witness for the state Harry Goldmire swore that he had seen Emery and Couey together on the night that Couey claimed he had received the money from Emery and that they seemed to be in their right minds.

The defendants attorney Wm. Emery cross examined these witnesses after the direct examination and then the witness for the defense were sworn in and examined. Mr. Crouch, saloon keeper, swore that Couey had drunk whiskey with Emery on the night that the money had changed hands. Mr. Mikkelson swore that Couey had bought at his drug store on the same evening. Then Amos Emery took the stand and was examined by his attorney. He swore that, when he returned to his room on the night in question he went directly to bed and that when he got up in the morning the money was gone.

Further evidence made it very much as though Emery had brought the money to pay Couey. At this stage the case went to the jury room where after a hard fight which lasted some twenty minutes, returned a verdict of guilty and he was sentenced by Judge Bachman.

At the meeting of the Hesperian Society on March 3rd, the preliminary debate will be held, to pick out the team to meet the Castilians on April 7.

Richard Crawford of Chicago stopped off to pay a visit to his former classmate Prof. Arvold last Saturday.

SOCIETY

Owing to the fact that so many public speaking contests and other functions have been scheduled for the regular Literary Society nights, it seems necessary to us to speak a few words of encouragement to these organizations. Friday night, Feb. 17th, was the first time this term that the Literary Societies have been able to convene for their supposedly biweekly programs and then they had to run in opposition to the Short Course Declamatory Contest. It seems to us that something ought to be done so that there will be a regular time and place for everything. In the spring term especially is this true, and we hope the faculty will take some action towards regulating these functions. We cannot have five Literary Societies when other functions are scheduled for their nights.

And while we are at it, we might say just a few words in general to those members who have been notified to appear on programs. There are some who will refuse in the first place, perhaps for good reasons and perhaps for no reason at all, yet they have at least been definite. Then there are others who do not know whether they can appear or not, and who never do know until the night of the program, when they decide at the last minute not to come; but of course it has not occurred to these members to notify the program committee or the president. This sort of member can only be equalled by those who promise to take part, and do not appear. It is this class of people, who, if not severely chastised, are going to be the death of our Literary societies, and it is up to the Societies to impress this upon their members. But we do not mean to imply that our Literary Societies at the present writing are overrun with these members, and are on the verge of being extinguished. Far from it! For the most part we have loyal members, who, when called upon to take part in programs, are always willing to do their best. Let us hope that in time we have every member a live wire, so that the success of both mixed and segregated societies will be assured.

ATHENIANS.

The Athenians met for the first time this year last Friday evening in the Society room. The first number was a piano solo, a selection from "The Chocolate Soldier" by Mr. Floyd Caldwell. As one of the debaters had an important engagement down town, it seemed best to the president to put the debate on next. The question was, Resolved that the Federal Government should grant financial aid to ships engaged in foreign commerce owned by citizens of the U. S. The affirmative was taken by Julia Kennedy and Reginald Colley, while the negative was upheld by Agnes Peterson and J. Budd Wentz. A piano duet was then rendered by the Misses Alm and Cox, after which the decision of the judges was rendered, it being unanimous in favor of the affirmative. Mr. Colley has the distinction of having won a debate on both sides of the same question in the past week. After a short business session the Athenians adjourned to accept the invitation extended to them by the Philomathians to listen to their program.

PHILOMATHIANS.

The Philomathians, after many postponements found time last Friday evening to hold their program, the first number of which was a male quartet by Messrs. Smith, Horn, Horst and Nash. This was followed by a declamation given by Mr. Roy Dynes, after which Mr. Frank Peters read an essay. The business of the society was next disposed of, to be in readiness for the Athenians. Finally despairing of their coming, Mr. Donald Dyke began his address on "Mixed and Segregated Societies," when the visitors arrived. Starting again, Mr. Dike gave a very earnest appeal, closing with an invitation to the Athenians to present their views on the subject extemporaneously.

Mr. Mendenhall was the first Athenian to respond, giving such good reasons why mixed societies are successful at the N. D. A. C. that an answer seemed necessary, which was given by Mr. Dike. The discussion finally resolved itself into a debate in which each speaker might talk when he wanted to and as long as he wanted to. After Mr. Hennis, Mr. Williams and Mr. Holkesvig, had each defended the views upheld by the Athenians, each speech being answered by Mr. Dike, the hour grew near 10:10 when the Athenian girls are forced to leave. As this question could not be settled, it was deemed best to see the girls home. The Athenians being forced to leave, stood not upon the order of their going but went at once leaving the Philos to finish their program.

The regular Y. M. C. A. meeting, which was supposed to be addressed by Rev. Beard, was turned over to Hugh Miller of the City Y. M. C. A. and Fern Munsen, a high school student, who explained something of the work the "Boy Scout Movement" is doing among the boys in this country between the ages of twelve and eighteen years. This movement is of more significance than might be expected. It is a movement which originated about twelve years ago, and which has now spread all over the world. Its object is to promote manliness among the youths of the country who are some day destined to be dealers.

The nine rules, which all scouts must obey were all technically explained by Mr. Munsen, who is himself a scout here in this city. He, much to the surprise of all present, gave a remarkably interesting talk for a boy sixteen years old. After the meeting was over he received several compliments from the boys, as well as a great deal of encouragement for the work he and his scout friends are doing here in Fargo by promoting manliness among the boys of his age.

The next program of the N. D. A. C. L. E. on Friday evening at 7:00 sharp will consist of a debate on the subject Resolved That North Dakota should enact a law compelling all practicing engineers should pass an examination given by a board of examiners.

PERSONALS

Last Wednesday companies A. and B. held their third competitive drill. The two companies were equal in appearance, and as a result a coin had to be tossed to determine which company should have the honor of carrying the colors. Company A proved to be the successful company.

The smiling physiognomy, commonly associated with the name Jack Dinwoodie, has begun to show care-worn lines since he has become editor of one of our well known daily papers, and since he has been attacked by a serious case of the "editorial grip."

The Y. M. C. A. cabinet is beginning to worry about getting money to send delegates to Lake Geneva for the annual summer conference which will be held there next June. They like to send about eight or ten delegates, which means an expenditure of two hundred or two hundred and fifty dollars.

Mr. C. A. Williams still continues to be inspired by the stories of Demosthenes, and is working hard on his oration, "The Past, Present, and Future." Some of the boys at the Dormitory have begun to wonder if he is ever going to get through "barking."

The third year Farm Husbandry students have secured a new design for their graduating pins, which, in some respects, is superior to the one adopted by the two previous classes.

Mr. Arthur Ogaard was absent from drill last Wednesday on account of the grip.

Prof. Waldron's class in "Landscape Gardening" is completing the drawings of several original plans that the girls have showing how a resident building in town should be arranged. If any one is thinking of building it might be well to investigate some of their plans.

The third year Farm Husbandry men are busy laying plans for a banquet to be given in the Boys' Dormitory at the close of this term. They will, probably, have as guests Pres. Worst, Prof. Shepherd, and the members of the alumni that can find it convenient to attend.

Great interest is being shown these days in the coming opera "Pauline" to be given under the direction of Dr. Putnam Mar 3rd. Seventy-two were out to practice Wednesday evening, in preparation for the important event.

Last Friday afternoon at Band Practice the question of securing Band pictures for the annual was taken up among the boys and a decision reached as to what was to be done in the matter. It was decided to have the band taken in nine sections. Dr. Putnam, the Drum Major, the Principal and Chief Musicians will form one section. The noncommissioned officers to form another, and the privates to be grouped in sections according to the instruments played.

Messrs. Roy Corbett and Henry Reddy were entertained at 5 o'clock tea by Mr. Juy Vowels, Professor of Greek at the Fargo College. Mr. Vowels was the successful candidate for the Rhodes Scholarship a few years ago and received his collegiate training at the University of Oxford. The two fortunate gentlemen above mentioned not only vote Mr. Vowels a capital hand at making tea but a delightful entertainer as well.

The following sign written in red chalk appeared on a certain blackboard last Monday, a week ago. "Not Hot Air." "No classes."

Prof. Ladd was called to Bismarck on two occasions last week to confer with legislative committees on food and beverage work.

Resolutions

In as much as Brother Edwal J. Moore Jr. passed away January 26th, 1911 and in his death the Alpha Mu Fraternity of North Dakota Agricultural College feels that it has lost one who was a lover of mankind, honorable, sincere, and true, one who was a strong and well beloved college associate and fellow member of this society; and since it has pleased Almighty God in his just omniscience and inscrutable power to take from our midst our brother Edwal J. Moore Jr., therefore be it Resolved by the Alpha Mu Fraternity that we hereby express our own sorrow and deep respect for his memory together with our sympathy and condolence to his afflicted family. The fellowship of our grief is mutual.

Be it also resolved that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this society, a lasting evidence of our love, respect and sympathy, and the pins and insignia of this society be draped for a period of thirty days.

Resolved also that a copy of this resolution be sent by the Alpha Mu Fraternity to the family of our deceased brother as a message of sympathy and fraternal regard.

Finally be it resolved that a copy of this resolution be published in the "Spectrum."

Alpha Mu Fraternity,
MAX HARRINGTON Pres.
CHESTER HOLKESVIG, Secy.

College Attendance Not Up To Last Year

LACK OF GOOD CROPS CHARGED WITH BEING RESPONSIBLE FOR DECREASE.

It is a generally known fact that North Dakota's crops last season were below the average and that this fact effected quite materially many of North Dakota industries. Among the effects that this condition produced was to forcibly call attention to the fact that Agriculture is of great importance and that the success of all is determined largely by the success of this one industry. Even the schools of the state feel quite keenly the effects of last season's shortage. All of the higher educational institutions of the state report a decrease of their attendance and attribute it to a decreased agricultural yield. This institution is among the list and is not able to report nearly as many as last year is registered last year.

Below is given a list of the students at present enrolled and the classes to which they belong:

College	177
High School	152
Two Year Phar.	78

Sub. Prep.	34

Prof. and Mrs. Doneghue Entertain Alpha Zeta

Prof. and Mrs. Doneghue entertained the Fraternity of Alpha Zeta last Saturday evening at their 13th street home. The evening proved to be one of the most pleasant as provisions had been made by the host and hostess which kept the guests interested, employed and amused from beginning to end. A number of original contests were introduced that stimulated not only the intellect but laughter as well. At the conclusion of these contests, cards were provided for those who indulge in this pleasant pastime while those who do not were amply provided for. At a late hour delicate refreshments, artistically arranged, were served and were such as to leave a pleasant and lasting impression. Twelve o'clock arrived before the guests were scarcely aware of the lateness of the hour. The leaving was with reluctance and with the conviction that Prof. and Mrs. Doneghue have a natural aptitude for entertaining.

Grace.—O no. The sleighride wasn't what made me sick. I asked the doctor about it and he said so.

NOTICE.—Anyone desiring to have their future revealed to them please call on Carl Yerrington. Prices one cent.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Since tomorrow is Feb. 22 Washington's birthday and a national holiday there will be no school. In commemoration of Washington special exercises will be held in the gym which all students should attend.

Reuber Gave Dobie His Hardest Battle

THE FAMED DOBIE ACKNOWLEDGES REUBER HAD HIM UP IN THE AIR.

Gilmore Dobie, the former famed athletic director at the North Dakota Agricultural college has the utmost respect for Arthur Reuber the present A. C. coach. Dobie says his hardest game was against a team that Reuber coached and that he has the highest respect for the A. C. coach's ability.

The following is a story from a Seattle paper regarding the game in question:

Washington university rooters would never concede it, but I'm telling you now that the greatest victory Washington won in the last three years was that over Whitworth college of Tacoma, the first year I came out here. We have beaten Oregon, Washington state and all the rest of them since then, but no victory ever gave so much satisfaction as the one over Coach Reuber's team."

Gilmore Dobie, the lean, lugubrious and efficient coach of the Washington university football eleven which has won three northwestern championships running, made this statement in a football fanning bee following the Oak Park Wenatchee game Monday night. Talking to the writer with characteristic gestulations, Dobie continued:

"I shall never forget the game and I doubt if I shall feel as well satisfied as I did when my men trotted off the field with a 24 to 4 score in their favor. That was my first year out here and I knew little about the other teams. By inquiring I discovered that Whitworth had held Washington to a 50 to 0 score the year before. I asked the men at the university, who were supposed to know something about football what kind of a team Whitworth had."

"They'll be easy for you; it's only Whitworth of Tacoma," they replied.

"I wasn't satisfied, but continued my inquiry until I had learned more of Whitworth's best plays.

"You will remember," said Dobie, "that for forty minutes of that game we were outplayed. I was never in such a stew before in all my life. Whitworth was playing us off our feet and just missed scoring touchdowns several times. But Reuber had coached his team to play only 40 minutes. I insisted on a longer second half and in the last 10 minutes Washington made all its points and won the game."

Dobie, by the way, has great respect for Arthur Reuber as a coach and says he would make good with the best of them in the northwest.

Registrar Parrot has the new college catalogue of 1911-12 in readiness and the manuscript will be sent to the printer tomorrow.
