A. C. IS DEFEATED IN THE SECOND BATTLE UPON THE LOCAL FIELD

With Three Regulars out of the Game and Line up Shifted A. C. Fails to get Together.

SECOND ARM IS BROKEN.

Game Interesting to the Spectator A. C. Scores in Last Minute of Game.

The A. C. team still crippled from injuries in previous contests and with Captain Nemzek, right half, Anderson and Murphy left shift of the lineup of the A. C. as a result, our boys faced the sturdy South Dakota Aggies upon Friday afternoon and went down to defeat with a score of 11 to 5 against them.

Although a defeat for our team the game was intently interesting from start to finish and the quality of rooting showed that the students were with the team all the time and appreciated their efforts. The crippled condition of the team tended to reconcile the sting of defeat and hopes are still high to,—when St. Thomas bunch comes to Fargo to send the Irishmen "back to the woods" with defeat so anticipations of the coming game are met with enthusiasm by the students.

Barring one accident, when Johnson, the visitors half back, was taken out of the game with a broken arm the game was clean and free from rough play. Our team testifies that the South Dakota men were a fine bunch of fellows as they ever played against.

The visiting team showed the result of the team work coming, only from repeated seasons of practice together and hence although somewhat lighter worked together with greater speed and precision than did our men. Little else could have been expected from the patched up condition of the A. C.'s back field and with green men at either end. Worst at the left end is an old player but had only donned a suit for this fall four days before. In spite of this he showed up with remarkable speed and did some fine tackling.

Darrow did good work at quarter and repeated scoring was only prevented by his splendid tackling. There was some criticism of his not using more open plays when he found it possible to buck the line.

Ewen and Grondahl showed up well in the back field in carrying the ball. Ewen is proving that he can make good at full. Grondahl is a plucky player and makes consistent gains. Where the forward pass was used it was from Ewen to Worst.

First Half.

A. C. won the toss and chose the North goal. Darrow received the ball on the kick off and returned it 10 yards. A. C. fails with the forward pass and were penalized. Darrow punted to S. D. who fumbled,—where upon Ewen "nailed" on to it.

At this point time was called to replace Johnson who had broken his arm by Temte.

South Dakota gets ball and failing on line bucks, kick. The A. C. receiving, fumble, but recover. A. C. again penalized failure on the forward pass and kick to S. D. who returned twenty yards. A. C. gets the ball on downs; kick. South Dakota are penalized 10 yards; kick, and get the ball away from the A. C. S. D. carries the ball ten yards to the A. C. five yard line and then push it over for a touchdown. Kick goal, and the score is 6—0. The balance of the half was spent bucking the line and when time was called the A. C. was in possession of the ball.

Second Half.

The style of play the second half was changed somewhat, open playing being the feature. Frequent use was made of the forward pass double pass and the onside kick.

By consistent gains through the line about the end and through the use of a trick play South Dakota got her second touch down the middle of the half but failed at the goal. Score, 11 to 0.

During the last few minutes of the half the A. C. forced the ball into S. D. territory by speedy playing and the use of open formations carried the ball over the line for a touch down but failed to kick goal. Final score 11 to 5.

The line up:

It's going to happen Friday, the thirteenth.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS!

Paths are rapidly forming on both sides of the brick wall between the corner of the Campus and the Administration Building. Neither time or expense is spared in keeping the grounds in the best condition and it would seem that the students should refrain from needlessly defacing them in any way. If they do not the unsightly and unpleasant trimmings of last year will probably be replaced.

Look in the "coming events" for the thirteenth.

PRESIDENT WORST TO OFFICIATE LAUNCHING OF THE "NORTH DAKOTA"

President Worst has been conferred the honor by Governor John Burke of being the official representative of North Dakota at the launching of the Battle Ship "North Dakota" at Boston on November 10th. A special train carrying the North Dakota delegation will go by the way of Fargo and arrive at Boston on the morning of the tenth. The new Battleship is to be christened by Miss Benton, daughter of Col. Benton of this city.

President Worst expects to stop at Washington, D. C., where he will attend the meeting of the American Association of Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations which will be held there upon the 17th of November.

Found.

An A. C. pin in Francis hall last Friday afternoon. The owner of this pin may obtain it by calling at the Spectrum office and proving it.

Friday the thirteenth.

PROFESSOR WALDRON TO GO TO NATIONAL FLOWER SHOW.

Professor Waldron will attend the national flower show which is to be held in the Coliseum in Chicago November sixth to fourteenth. This will be the biggest flower show that has ever been held in the United States. The national Carnation, Rose and Chrysanthemum Associations will meet at this show. Flowers from all parts of the United States and Europe will be on exhibition. Professor Waldron will buy stock for the new Green House, which is now nearing completion, while in Chicago.

Busy Early.

The University is already talking of track and basket ball. Preliminary work upon the track will begin at once and some cross country running will be done. Basket ball will be in order as soon as the pressure of the football season has been removed.

Juniors.

A meeting of the Junior will be held at Chapel to-day at 3:30.

Our Alma Mater.

Our Alma Mater true, fond praise to thee is due:
For boundless joy is thine to give thy children might:
Thy joy is e'er to crown that strength with truth and right
Then joy be thine to hear us sing.

Chorus.

Our dear A. C., thy name we sound;
With tribute free our hearts abound;
Our lofty blue shall ring, our prairies broad resound;
Glad praise to thee, our dear A. C.

We bid adieu, we sigh, but hope and courage high
To win the narrow way where fame awaits the few;
Yet, named or nameless we, the fight shall be full true,
And add but glory to thy name.

Oft shall we dwell on thee, and glad days spent care free,
Till to the winding Red again we speed our way;
Then with proud love we'll view thy ever broadening sway
And flaunt the Yellow and the Green.

St. Thomas Comes To Fargo Saturday

Fastest Game Upon Local Grounds — And We Will All Be There.

CAP. "NEMY" IN THE GAME.

Everybody Get Out and Boost — Games With Fargo C. and U.

The game Saturday with St. Thomas is looked forward to as the best game of the season upon the local grounds and a large attendance is expected. The rooters at the College are enthusiastic and believe that the chance for the A. C. to win is bright. Captain Nemzek has expressed himself as determined to take a "crack" at the Saints himself and Anderson and Murphy will also be in the lineup. The Saints are a speedy bunch of players and combine good straight football with trick plays and the open formation and there is no doubt that they will do their part to make the game interesting. The boys here are working hard and in spite of the disastrous result of the Saint Paul game expect to win from the Saints.

The A. C. line up will be practically the same as that which went in to the first game of the season and among the subs will be a stronger bunch of men by far.

More Games.

The Athletic management are still hoping for a game with the University. The dates open are two weeks from Saturday and Thanksgiving day.

Arrangements are being made for a game with the Fargo College a week from Saturday. The downtown bunch are very anxious to meet our boys and are confident of winning so there is a showing that such a game would be fast from start to finish.

The Bleached Flour Case Now in Court

Case in Which Dean E. F. Ladd Is Defendant, Has Opened in District Court.

WITNESS MAKES ADMISSIONS

Poorer Grades Can Be Made to Look Like Good Flour to House Wife.

Saturday, in the district court, the long pending legal battle, the Millers vs. E. F. Ladd, Food Commissioner for the state of North Dakota, saw its beginning, and from the long array of legal talent upon either side it would seem that the fight will be a hard one, the hardest in the history of the pure food movement.

First Witness on Stand.

The first witness for the millers was called to the stand Saturday. This was John A. Mitchell, manager of the Alsop Manufacturing Co., and one of the owners of the Alsop process which is used generally by the milling interests for the bleaching of the flour. The testimony of this witness was technical dealing with the process, etc.

Admits Ladd's Contention.

In the cross examination the witness admitted that durum wheat flour could be bleached so that the house wife could not distinguish it from fine or blue stem flour, and also that the "first clear" could be bleached in a manner that it could not be told by the consumer from first patent. This is interesting in view of the fact that it has always been one of Professor Ladd's contentions that the inferior grades of flour could be parceled off to the public for higher grades and a fraud be thus perpetrated.

Quality Affected.

The testimony brought out by the hearing in St. Paul last week in the presence of Professor Ladd and attorneys showed that the bread produced from bleached flour is of an inferior quality and that the chemical composition of it is changed, especially that of the fat.

It was further shown by one of the witnesses that one of the millers had been grinding 25 per cent of durum wheat and mixing it with the fine and blue stem, selling the product as pure hard wheat flour. It was also brought out that the government had seized a car load of this flour as misbranded.

The case was continued yesterday, Mitchell going back upon the stand at the opening of the court. The progress of the case for the next ten days or two weeks will be watched with intense interest by the great milling interests of the country as well as the pure food men, both state and national.

Sunday Dramatic Performance at Ann Harbor

Faculty and Students Gather at Theater and Listen to Sunday Performance.

"SERVANT IN THE HOUSE"

Performance Receives Approbation and is Considered Significant in Uplift of Drama

Ann Arbor a week ago was the scene of the performance of the play "The Servant in the House" given as a voluntary gift of the Henry Miller associate players to the students of the University. Certainly this is an innovation with out parallel. Imagine a theatrical company drawn to a quiet University town upon a Sunday afternoon and there giving a performance in the presence of the distinguished faculty of the University and the students assembled in mass.

This is what happened at the Michigan University town and we will endeavor to give a revision of the account of this interesting event as it appeared the following day in a two column article in the Chicago Record Herald.

"The audience assembled in the Majestic Theater near the Campus between 12:30 and 1 o'clock. At the latter hour the street in front of the play house was crowded with people and the the curtain was held fifteen minutes to permit their slow and decorous entrance. When the curtain lifted a roll call of the University professors occupying the long tier of boxes on either side of the house could be read like the honoral scores of societies in Europe and America. The orchestra pits had been given over to extra seats. On the stairway and in the foyer the people stood patiently through the three hours of the performance.

No Music.

There was no music between the acts, no applause from first to last. And yet the absence of any outward demonstration did not result in a spiritless atmosphere either behind the footlights or in the auditorium. The attitude of the audience became one of rapturous sympathy as the afternoon wore on.

Complete Silence.

"The familiar phrases of emotional description are meaningless because they are so familiar, but they tell the story. Though there was no beating of hands, no cheering there was a silence so tense and so prolonged that it was fairly tangible. The players felt it and responded to it. They played like inspired beings and there was a passion and majesty in their efforts of this afternoon that they themselves recognized as a new key note in their work. They looked out upon the rows of wet faces, and where on other days and before other audiences the inflammatory speeches of the play had brought them a rapturous applause they now heard nothing. But they beheld rapt countenances and they knew that the deep vast silence meant more than a tumult possibly could have. When the play was done grave old pundits who have never had a name for emotional surrender to any appeal left the house wiping their eyes and tremulously expressing their gratitude to the committee that represented Mr. Miller.

Minister's Approbation.

"Here is what Rev. Patton of the congregational ministry said to his people:

"I realize that no sermon that I could preach, no sermon that will ever be delivered in Ann Arbor, I might say that no sermon that will be delivered for some time to come in any pulpit and anywhere, could bring to the hearts of my congregation with half the power and truth which this play puts into them—the essential spirit and the ideals of the Christian religion. I wish that the Christian clergy could express these truths with one tenth the power which is displayed in "The Servant of the House."

Michigan's Attitude.

An expression of the University's attitude in the matter is found in the following words that were printed upon the program.

"The people will have their stage. Upon you men and women of University training, and consequent broader outlook upon life and letters, it depends, more than anybody else what they shall have in years to come the media of general culture becomes more securely established upon our national life. Will you by precept by example of tentative revivals of the masters, unlock for them the classic literature of the stage, and not only vivify for them the past but also speed the time when newcomers in the field of dramatic writing may obtain recognition?"

"The calm message of beauty, the wider view, the quickened conscience—these are the needs of our national life, and the responsive soul to hear the message and to comprehend the view must be created. In accomplishing the task the drama may be made a conspicuous aid to the preacher and teacher.

This is what Michigan believes that the drama can mean and this movement new as it is inaugurated in one of the great educational centers of the country is significant and it is hoped marks a new era when the moral leaders of the country so far from condemning the stage which is at present a wonderful power for both good and evil in the world will stop and raise it up until it becomes a positive moral and educational force.

WHITING VISITS COLLEGE, ADDRESSES HORTICULTURISTS.

Geo. H. Whiting, prominent nurseryman of Yankton, S. Dak., visited Professor Waldron of the Horticultural Department last Thursday in quest of tree seeds. He obtained a quantity of box elder seed, but found the ash and hackberry scarce so did not gather any.

While at the College Mr. Whiting gave a talk to the class in Horticulture on the subject "How to Induce Hardiness in Trees by the proper Methods of Cultivation." He also gave practical directions for digging, storing, and planting trees. His remarks referred especially to evergreens as these trees are the hardest to handle. Mr. Whiting's remarks were much appreciated by the class and were of a very practical nature as the speaker is a nurseryman of experience.

The Juniors will have another class meeting this week. They announce for the benefit of the Sophomores, that there will be no refreshments this time.

Stock Are Poisoned By Unknown Agency

Professor Bolley Investigates the Cause and Finds Some Water Hemlock.

Is Suspicious of the Common Slough Weed Water Parsnip.

A large number of reports of cases of stock poisoning throughout the state this season have been coming in. These reports usually come to the Department of Botany accompanied by some plant which, it is suspected has caused the poisoning. In previous years the Department has studied this question, and has issued a Bulletin listing four or five of the stock-poisoning plants. There are, however, several others which it has not been proven are poisonous to stock, yet the conditions under which the cattle die when investigated throw suspicion on one more of such plants.

Professor Bolley has lately made quite an extensive inspection trip in the sloughs in the Foot Hills west of the Soo R. R., and north of Valley City. He finds that in the East part of the state Water Hemlock is a very common plant in the little sloughs, but that it is not nearly so common in the sloughs and meadows as in the North and Western portions of the state. He found a number of the sloughs where there had been records of stock poisoning, where there was no Water Hemlock, but much water parsnip was found. There are no records in which it is definitely proven that this plant is poisonous to stock, however the large quantities of the material has been gathered. Feeding experiments are now being conducted on some of Dr. Van Es' guinea pigs and rabbits. If this preliminary test develops evidence against the plants under consideration then more extensive experiments will be tried to settle the matter more definitely.

PROF. BOLLEY GOES TO WASHBURN FOR GEESSE.

Expects to Make New Record with the Shooting Iron.

Professor Bolley went to Washburn, N. D. Saturday where he claims he is going to make a new record with the shooting iron. His mission upon this occasion is to bring back several of the geese that are reported so abundant in that region. It is hoped that the Professor will have pity upon the people at Washburn and leave a few birds for them to practice upon. It is understood that people of Devils Lake, where he spent a few days hunting ducks two weeks ago are quite well satisfied in this respect.

Wood Shop Apparatus.

Some new machinery for the wood shop arrived this week and will soon be installed. This includes a power grindstone equipped with tool clamps and tracing device and the necessary shafting and shaft hangers. A new ceiling has been put into one of the wood shop rooms preparatory to the installing of the machinery and some of the convenient tool cases have also been added to the equipment.

The Brookings football boys were campus visitors Friday morning.

FARM HUSBANDRY GRADS. NUMEROUS NEXT SPRING.

This year the Farm Husbandry class will number pretty near on to twenty. All ready seventeen of the '09 men have registered and several more that are more or less irregular are expected to come in soon.

The class is made up of a bunch of exceedingly bright farm boys and it will certainly be a credit to the institution. The class has not yet formally organized but it is expected that a meeting will be called this week.

Cement Samples.

The Vulcanite Portland Cement Co. of New York has furnished four jars of samples showing the stages of the cement manufacture, namely limestone, cement rock, cement clinker, and Portland Cement made up as to show its quality after it has been prepared for use.

Professor Ladd is now in his element. He has got a big fight on.

Sounds Familiar.

The following clippings from the Pacific Wave of the University of Washington might be of interest to a few of our readers. It is only necessary to say that Washington won in the first big game of the season by a score of 24 to 4.

"Washington's scoring was not directly resultant on the heavy linemen entering the game. The team was due to score and did it. The first touch-down came after a forward pass to Muckelstone, which placed the ball on the third yard line. Willis carried it over. Eakin kicked goal. A little farther down we read, "A brilliant forward pass" from Coyle to Muckelstone covered the distance. Eakin kicked goal." So it was even in the days that are past.

Professor Slocum is in receipt of bulletins brought out by the Insurance Experiment Station, on the subject of slow burning or Mill Construction.

Co-Eds Must Get In Front of Co.

Major Parker has New Scheme to Prevent Men from Twisting Their Heads when upon Parade.

"Co-eds in front in the future when the company is on parade," is the new slogan of the battalion staff. The plan has been conjured up by the staff in order to remedy a grave defect in the showing of the Battalion parade. It is said that a large number of the privates have a persistent habit of twisting their necks about in an unseemly manner.

A little investigation has shown that the explanation of this lies in the group of young ladies that have a habit of congregating upon the steps of the Library and viewing the Parade.

If this is the case it will only be necessary to put the girls up on the receiving stand with the officers. It is guaranteed that if this is done that every one of the cadets will look straight to the front.

The only hindrance to put this plan in operation is the fact that Major Ulio has as yet withheld his approval. Some have suggested that it would have a derogatory effect on the officer's efficiency and this will probably explain the Major's reticence.

Paper Milk Cans.

One of the latest things in the dairy line is the paper milk can. This can is made of greased paper and fills the place of the bottle very nicely. There is no more bother about returning the cans. The cheap price of the paper allows you to throw it away. This is a great convenience to the customer, but its great point of value lies in the fact that as it is never used but once it is perfectly sanitary.

Teachers Wanted.

Occasional calls are received by the department of Education for teachers from the different schools throughout the state and those who desire to teach during the present winter should make that fact known to Professor Weeks.

PHARMACISTS TAKE STATE EXAMINATIONS

Twenty Pillmixers Meet the Board But Only Eleven Pass.

Last Wednesday a class of about twenty Pharmacists completed the examination for registered and assistant Pharmacists under direction of the State Board of Pharmacy. The examinations were made at the A. C. as usual, the A. C. class rooms being turned over to the use of the Board for the two days. Out of the class five were granted certificates as registered pharmacists and six are assistants.

The successful in the examination were as follows:

F. C. McCagherty, Ardoch; Henry W. Nelson, Stanley; F. W. Carlson, Valley City; Albert Craychie, Amboy, Minn.; and E. Orson Doe, Ray. Those who qualified as assistants are: C. E. Fleck, Minneapolis; L. O. Reily, Necomah; Henry Walberg, Stanley; A. Spielman, Garrison; F. H. Arland, Sawyer, and J. W. Hofer, Wishek.

It is known that the examinations in North Dakota are the most rigid in the United States and those passing the examinations are in the position to practice pharmacy any place in the United States.

The next meeting of the Board will be at the College about the twentieth of March when the short course in Pharmacy at the A. C. closes. It is expected that a much larger class will try out at this time.

The members of the Board that conducted the examinations were Messrs Parker of Lisbon; Hausman of Grafton; Bateman of Cooperstown; Masters of Willow City, and Porterfield of Fargo.

Mr. Parker, secretary of the board, is one of the vice presidents of the National Board of Pharmacy.

The new Green House nears completion and Professor Waldron looks forward to the time when he will move from the Biological Green House to his own roomy quarters.

A new power hack saw made by the Chas. Stretiner Company of Detroit arrived this week and will soon be put in the shop.

Sprayers Tested For Efficiency

Prof. Bolley Suggested Improvements to Manufacturers.

The department of Botany has lately received a Binks' Field Sprayer for examination and trial. Professor Bolley is attempting to aid the manufacturers of different types of spraying machines to adjust their machines in such manner as to be of more serviceable nature in the work of field spraying, specially applied to the potato spraying, and spraying for the eradication of weeds in grain fields. During the past two years he has examined representative machines made by many of the different manufacturing companies. During the past season a number of manufacturers have visited the College to get specifications for re-modelling their machinery.

The advice of the department is given to any of the machine firms asking for it.

It is already evident that much improvement has been made, especially in the simplicity of the machines on such points as convenience of filling, compactness, strength, etc.

In many of the Universities and Colleges Taft and Bryan Clubs have been formed and the students are taking active parts in politics. Political rallies are the order in such places.

The engineers finally got the Adams two-cycle gas engine to work last Saturday. It made enough noise and if it generates power in proportion the invention will certainly be a success. The pony break will be brought into use this week for the test.

The class in the History of Education has been making a careful study of the origin of Universities in the Middle Ages.

Dr. Bell will have charge of the teachers class in nature study in the future during the fall and spring term in place of Professor Waldron who has been in charge heretofore.

MINNESOTA FORESTER TO ADDRESS GRAIN GROWERS

Professor Waldron recently received a letter from Professor Green, State Forester of Minnesota, from St. Anthony Park stating that he will be present to speak at the Grain Growers' Convention which is to be held in Fargo beginning Jan. 21. The program for this convention is being arranged at the present time and promises to be especially good his year.

To Test Seed Potatoes.

Professor Waldron is collecting seed potatoes from Larimore, Langdon, Walhalla, and Fargo for the Nebraska Experiment Station which is carrying on experiments to determine the relative value of northern grown seed to that of southern grown seed. These potatoes are selected from both light and heavy soil. This test will really be a test of the relative merits of North Dakota potatoes and southern grown potatoes for Nebraska.

At Two Hundred Yards.

The weekly target practice took place last Friday. Major Ulio stated that the shooting was very good and above the average at two hundred yards. Drum Major Keeney made the best record, Captain Heidner coming next below.

MORE GAMES.

The A. C. football schedule as it is now arranged, ends next Saturday. It is certain that every student of the College would like to see no more football this fall, and it is hoped that at least two more games can be arranged. It is without a doubt the hope of every A. C. fan that of those two games one will be with the University and the other with Fargo College. What the first of these would mean for the stirring up of enthusiasm is known to us all. The effect of the second would be much the same. Fargo College has a loyal bunch of rooters that would turn out in mass. The A. C. would certainly do the same, and the enthusiasm stimulated by genuine rivalry on the sidelines would be a thing that we have missed for the past two seasons, and there is not a single doubt that the students would vote such a contest worth while no matter what the result was.

Fargo College men have intimidated off and on that they could beat us this year. We don't agree with them on this point, but we know that they are basing this boast upon the fact that they have the strongest team that they have ever had. Taking it all in all such a game would be no mean contest. test.

Fargo College wished that a game could be arranged for last Saturday, but this was out of the question on the part of the A. C., because of Friday's contest. The A. C. management is now, we are told, ready to arrange for a game at some future date, preferably Nov. 7. It is learned from other sources that Fargo College is favorable to the proposition, and so the game would seem assured unless unseen difficulties arise.

Have you an engagement for Friday, the thirteenth?

NEWS "DREAMS."

The following was clipped from The News, where it was put so as to indicate that it was the sentiment of the A. C. rooters after Friday's game.

"And just to think we were deep in thought and ambition and wanted to have a game with the 'Varsity. Hush! Keep the door closed."

The News evidently takes us for a bunch of quitters but we are glad to say that the students evinced no such spirit and are just as ready to meet the University today as before. The A. C. students know how to take defeat as well as victory, but that isn't saying we would let the 'Varsity beat us.

LEARN THEM.

Not your lessons but your college songs. The Spectrum will in this and ensuing numbers publish both the "Alma Mater" and "The Green and Yellow" in full. Learn them and then learn to sing them. Quit imitating the Senior faculty when at Chapel. Open your mouth and sing.

LeRoy Gifford of the Sophomore class will in the future appear among the names of The Spectrum staff of reporters. Mr. Gifford is one of the brightest of the members of the class of tens and is well qualified for the position. In his writing he has proven that he has a refreshing originality of expression that we do not doubt will add much to our columns.

Should there be any in the College that would like to obtain a position upon The Spectrum staff, they will be given a trial upon application. To obtain a permanent position they have only to prove themselves useful to the paper, and steady contributors to its columns.

The A. C. rooters did the best work last Friday that they have done for three years. Let us beat all records next Saturday. Pa Phelps says he will lead the yelling, but he wants a stand put up in front of the bleachers where all can see him. Somebody get out and put up the stand and then everybody get on the bleachers and yell. We are going to have the hardest and best game of the season next Saturday. We may lose, but the boys say that we won't.

Notice!

Dr. Bell will speak in Chapel 4:30 Wednesday afternoon. All men of the College are invited to this the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Grasse Entertains In Honor of Miss Sheppard.

Miss Edythe Grasse entertained a number of Fargo and Moorhead friends at a dinner party last Wednesday evening at her home in Moorhead. The party was given in honor of Miss Blanche Sheppard of Exeter, England, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. D. C. Darrow of Moorhead. Six tables, which were decorated with pink and white candles, were set and dainty menus served. Bridge was played after the dinner at which Mrs. Sudro and Professor Beckwith, both of the A. C., won the first lady's and gentleman's prizes respectively. A number of A. C. people were present.

Mrs. Paige Visits College.

Mrs. Alice Paige of the Grand Forks Daily Herald was a visitor at the College Monday. She is on her way to Boston to the launching of the battleship North Dakota where she will act as a chaperon to Miss Benton of Fargo who is to christen the new ship. Mrs. Paige was the guest of Professor and Mrs. Waldron while in Fargo.

Importing Eels.

Scott Stanbaugh has become so interested in his zoological work that he is using imported eels for his work. The eels are supposed to be the very best that can be purchased on foreign markets. It is understood that one of the drug stores downtown is in his employ in this matter.

Let's see what is going to happen upon Friday, the thirteenth.

The Engineering Department has been ordered by the Board of trustees to make a thorough inspection of the plumbing of the Chemical Building.

After waiting for about a year the tables in the Mechanical drawing room are at last being fastened in their places and locks are being placed upon the drawers. Likewise locks are being placed upon the lockers in the hall way between the old and new Engineering Buildings.

Dr. Bell is soon to publish a series of articles on "Nature Study in the Public Schools" in the ensuing numbers of the Extension.

When? Upon the thirteenth.

Athenian Party.

The Athenians assembled at Francis Hall, Friday evening, Oct. 23, and spent a most enjoyable social evening. The chief amusement was in various games and contests. The first was an acquaintance contest in which each person tried to get as many names as possible of the other members. Miss Fern Dynes succeeded in getting the most and was awarded a letter case as prize. Much sport was derived from the "peanut bag". The bag of peanuts was suspended from the ceiling and the person blindfolded and given a stick with which to strike the bag. He was then lead around the room several times and told to strike at the bag three times, if he hit the bag the peanuts were his. Mr. Oliver Dynes was successful and treated everybody to peanuts.

Miss Addie Stafford was the winner in the riddle contest — guessing eight right out of ten. In "A Penny for your thoughts" Prof. Slocum was the lucky one and was awarded a watch fob.

Perhaps the most exciting time was the "shoe sale" when the ladies had their shoes auctioned and in this way obtained partners for supper.

Refreshments of fruit, sand witches, coffee and fudge were served.

Everybody reports an enjoyable time.

Prof. Bolley Speaks Before the Polytechs

Problems Involved in Weed Eradication by Means of Sprays Discussed.

REITERATES IMPORTANCE AND VALUE OF THE DISCOVERY.

Prof. Bolley Speaks as One of the Pioneers in this Line of Investigation.

"Problems Involved in Weed Eradication By Means of Chemical Sprays" is the title of a paper given by Professor H. L. Bolley before the Polytechnic Society last Wednesday evening. This is a subject with which Professor Bolley is very familiar, having spent much of his time on this work for the past two years, and he treated it from an entirely practical standpoint. This is one of the most important problems with which the agriculturist has to deal with at the present time and is one which has received a great deal of attention during the past few weeks, both in this country and in European countries.

History of the Work.

In speaking of the history of the eradication of weeds by means of chemical sprays Professor Bolley said: "As far as I am able to get at the literature of the subject the eradication of weeds by use of chemical sprays began in a definite experimental way not earlier than 1896 and 1897. My own trials began in the spring of 1896 at a time when I did not know that any other experimentalist had conceived the idea of spraying chemical solutions upon weeds with a view to their eradication. There is, however, abundant evidence to show that during the year following the work started quite generally in France, Germany, and England. The first observations conducted in Europe during the season of 1896 however, I believe, did not relate to the spraying of weeds in cereal grainfields, but only recorded observations of destruction of the weeds which were hit by sprays applied to vines in the work of preventing anthracnose of the grape. The work there, as here, was a direct follower of previous experiments of spraying to eliminate plant diseases. In my own work I was led to begin the trials in weed killing by numerous observations I had made regarding the effect of sprays upon plants in general, associated with my trials which I was then making in the work of seed disinfection and spraying of cereals for the prevention of rust. For example, I noted that in spraying potatoes with the Bordeaux solution with insufficient lime was a great destroyer of herbaceous plants like the potato, but that it had slight effect on grasses which happened to be in the row. The observation which actually started the work was on the effect of extremely weak solutions of hydrochloric acid upon the sprouting of potato tubers.

"The substances used in the preliminary experiments were gasoline, kerosene, corrosive sublimate, sodium arsenite and arsenate, potassium sulphide, copper sulphate, iron sulphate, sulphuric acid, nitric acid, hydrochloric acid, etc.

Time to Spray.

"It has been found by experiment that the best time to spray weeds is when they are about a foot high and before they begin to form seed. It is useless to expect desirable results by spraying in drouthy or windy weather; even mustard become to hardy and can resist while the central growth from the cereals, not being rapid at such times, results in these plants also becoming injured by accumulative effects of the poison. Spray just after a rain rather than just before. Do not spray unless both grain and weeds are succulent and rapidly growing. Success in this work lies in close relation to the weather conditions, which exert variable influence upon the work.

Substances Recommended.

"At the present date we are recommending for actual use in a general way iron sulphate, copper sulphate, sodium arsenite, sodium arsenate, and common salt. So far as I am aware no other investigators have advocated the use of substances other than copper sulphate and iron sulphate or some modification of these mixtures. The arsenate and arsenite can be used for destroying weeds along roadways and are used for this purpose quite extensively by railroad companies because of its persistence in action is desirable there while it cannot be used on cereal grainfields for the same reason. Common salt is proving to be very effective as a destroyer of Canada thistle, and as a consequence can be used against this weed in meadows and pastures where the farmers as yet fear to make the trials of sodium arsenate because of its poisonous effects. At the present time copper sulphate, iron sulphate, and common salt may be used for general spraying upon cereal fields depending wholly upon the cost of the substance. The iron sulphate as furnished by the American Steel and Wire Company retails at approximately one cent per pound, otherwise it cannot be used as a competitor of copper sulphate, as one hundred pounds of iron sulphate scarcely equals in killing power twelve pounds of copper sulphate.

Crops That May Be Sprayed.

"Under certain conditions general spraying can be successfully conducted upon the following crops: wheat, oats, barley, rye, timothy, flax, corn, and millet. Some of these are more delicate than others and the solution to be used depends somewhat upon the age of these crops and the condition under which it is to be applied. Hand spraying or special spraying upon clumps become valuable upon a number of crops which are not capable of withstanding a general field spraying, as for example onions, beets, parsnips, strawberries, melons, beans, etc., while certain others of the garden crops such as carrots and cabbage, admit of spraying in a general way. As would naturally be expected the work of spraying parks and lawns has created a great deal of interest and has been applied successfully by many and unsuccessfully by many. Blue grass, being the most common lawn grass and being extremely resistant to the action of chemicals, especially copper and iron sulphates, allows spraying operation to go on without much fear of injuring the lawns, even by careless workmen. Because of these weeds in the perennial conditions, of which dandelions is a type, having so much reserve strength in their roots it becomes necessary to spray several times in order to kill them. Even though these weeds cannot be killed at the first few sprayings this is a mean by which they may be kept in check.

Applicances.

"The best means of applying the solution is by means of sprayers which will throw a fine spray, as this will not run off the leaves of the plant as readily as the coarser sprayer which throws larger drops of the solution. The large sprayers which are drawn by horses give the best satisfaction for general spraying and the small hand sprayers do very well for small areas and places difficult to reach with the large sprayers. The hand sprayers cost about seven dollars while the larger kind run as high as one hundred and fifty. Weeds Susceptable to Treatment. "In a general way it may be said that herbaceous annuals which do not naturally shed water solutions may be destroyed and any herbaceous perennials which will likewise absorb solutions may be largely controlled or eradicated without materially injuring the growing crop.

Increased Yield.

"It is a fact that yields and quality of cereal grains have been increased through weed eradication by means of chemical sprays. These increased yields are not only caused by the killing of the weeds so the grain has better light but the sprays also kill many of the spores of the fungi which attack the cereals and in some cases the chemicals act as a fertilizer."

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

One more word upon a subject as vital as the one of industrial training in our public schools will not be out of place and coming from a man as prominent in the educational field as the commissioner of Education of the state of New York, Andrew S. Draper, it is certainly welcome and timely as well as significant.

"We have seen the indefinite expansion of instruction and the unlimited multiplication of appliances leading to literary and professional and managing occupations without any real solicitude about the vital industrial foundations of the nation's happiness and power. A situation manifestly unjust to the greater number even unjust to those for whom it has done the most, has resulted. Notwithstanding our boasted universality of educational opportunity there has grown up an absurd hiatus in the educational system which denies the just rights of the wage earning masses and grievously menaces the industrial efficiency and the material prosperity of the country.

"There should be an open chance for every American child. The influences of the schools must not lead boys who might become ing no account lawyers and girls excellent cabinet makers into being fourth class music teachers.

"The school system has grown deformed; it is one sided and not broad enough at the base."

WORKING HARD FOR ST. PAUL CONTEST.

The class in advanced stock judging now numbers over twenty and work is progressing rapidly. At present sheep are being placed from the various standpoints. Professor Richards expects to send a team of the five best men to the St. Paul Live Stock Show, the middle of next month and later if the team so desires they will complete at the International at Chicago in December.

Among the prize winners of last year that are back are Dinwoodie, Ruzicka, and Moun. All of the class are experienced and the keen competition shows that a number of the other men are going to contest their right to first place. At all events the A. C. is assured of having the best team to represent them it has ever had and we hope to make a good showing at the intercollegiate contest.

Gerald Evans of the City accompanied the Band about the City last Friday.

Lynn Miller was out with the band Friday. There was a noticeable improvement with him at the big drum.

Lloyd Worst was new football find last Monday. He came in handy Friday once in a while.

Theodore and Fred Faust again joined the '09 farm boys last week

News from Grant Morton who in Washington says that he is well pleased with the alcohol school which he is attending.

Paul Froemke, one of the former Commercial students, entered College again last week.

Professor Willard spoke at the Grand Theater Sunday evening upon "The Origin of the Red River valley."

Pete Tierney last years star quarter was noticed upon the side line Monday. He looked as if he wished he was in the game.

Mr. Kennedy, formerly an employee in the Station nursery is at the College again.

Irwin Thompson, a student of several years ago, appeared before the Pharmacy Board last week.

Roy Balfour was among the belated men that entered school this last week.

Kenneth Staples and Gustave Lium, both of the Sophomore class are back once more.

Leo Montgomery, one of the brightest of our Farm Husbandry students of two years ago, is back once more.

Scott Stambaugh and Sam Heindner were collecting grass hoppers for the Zoological Department last Saturday.

President Weld of Moorhead Normal and President C. H. Cooper of the Mankato Normal were visitors at the College Thursday morning.

Professor Richards spent Saturday in Leonard upon business.

Darling was about the Campus selling Blickendorfers, last week.

Charles Clark came in for his weekly visit from his school in the North.

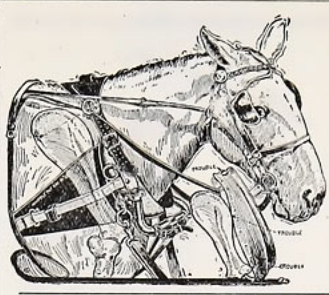

Albert Oswald, who left school for his health and went west last year, is very much improved thanks to the beneficent climate of California.

Many were glad to see Louis Doleshy back to school last week and especially the basketball enthusiasts.

A group of North Side young people were given the pleasure of listening to a talk by Professor Arvold at the Plymouth Church last Tuesday evening.

Edward Hovey, a graduate in Pharmacy in '07, visited the College last week. He said the College looked better to him than ever.

McDonald strained a tendon in his knee at a hard practice Wednesday evening. It was feared that he would not get into the game Friday but he did and did good work.

Coach Magoffin accompanied Otto Biersdorf to his home Saturday upon a duck hunting expedition. They were back yesterday with a whole lot to tell.

Ruby Hicks, '08, one of the ever loyal to the A. C., was a visitor at Friday's game and incidentally took in the Athenian social in the evening.

Mr. Chisholm started the second section in forging last Thursday. This class works between the hours of 3:30 and 5:30 the last three days of the week.

Among the students registering last week were Normand Johnson, Oscar Knudson, Adolf Colvar, Ernest Morris, Walter Peterson, Leo Reitan, Peter Thorson, H. W. Basing Waithe, H. H. Berthenson and J. W. Freegard.

John White returned from Montana last Thursday evening and made such a good impression upon the Coach that he was asked to don a suit the following day and act as a sub on the side lines.

Fred Birch, capt. of the 06 football team will be back from Salt Lake City soon. It is rumored that this means that there is something in store for the foot ball boys.

The Magills were expected back last Wednesday and the Seniors postponed their election with this in view but they did not show up the following day as expected

Dean and Mrs. Sheppard, Professor and Mrs. Weeks, and Miss Simmons were among the faculty members who attended the lecture at the Moorhead Normal last Monday evening.

We hear that Albert Faust will be back and take up his engineering course after Christmas. Faust was formerly a charter member of the '08 but will now join the ranks of the 10's because of several terms absence.

Dr. Van Ee has been slightly under the weather this last week. A severe cold has prevented him from lecturing to his class and he has been giving them written tests as a respite.

F. C. Meagherty, F. W. Carlson, and Henry W. Nelson, all old A. C. pharmacies, were three out of the five that were successful in getting registered certificates from the State Board last Wednesday.

Professor Randlett and John McDonald went out on a hunting trip in the vicinity of Lowner last week. They are very modest about their exploits, but it is rumored that they made fearful inroads on the game of that district.

Miss Edna Zvitz who attended the A. C. a year ago last spring is now attending the St. Margaret School for young Ladies in Toronto, Ontario, where she is specializing in music and domestic science.

S. V. Anderson's lameness prevented his getting into the game Friday but Andy is not the man to be idle on such occasions. During the afternoon he filled his old position at Tuba in the band and gave ample evidence of having lost none of his former skill.

Professor Ladd is in receipt of many applications for the position vacant by the death of Professor Wood. He hopes to have the position filled by January first

John and Margaret Magill, '09, have come back at last. They arrived in Fargo Saturday evening and were greeted upon the Campus yesterday morning.

Alfred Anderson was presented with flowers by the Sophomore class last week. His condition is not much changed as yet. He is in for the usual seige of the typhoid patient.

Shortly after finishing the bleached flour case Professor Ladd expects to leave for Washington to appear before a committee of the Department of Agriculture to give the results of his investigation on bleached flour. At the same time he expects to meet with a committee who will consider a model pure food law and prepare an outline for the same.

Some "cub" reporter got busy and conjured up a report of Professor Bolley's lecture the other night for the Forum and quoted him as saying that there would be no more dandilions upon the campus. There was no truth in this. Infantile newspaper men of this quality should be discouraged as they do so little good and much harm

One half hour vacation last Friday to get to the game. Why wasn't another half hour added to this and rally called. Well, we will do it before the next game.

What is the matter with "Pa" Phelps for a yell leader. He above all can put vim into the rooting

Did you notice the haze about the campus last week. No there wasn't much of a fire. It was simply those pharmacists pipe dreaming in front of the chemical Building, dreaming that they were going to pass the board.

Otto is developing into quite a sprinter. He wasn't always the last one to get down the field by any means.

Any student that hasn't got an athletic pass should be dubbed a quitter if he doesn't get one before Saturday. Remember that you will have to pay for it anyway.

Doctor Putnam became angry at a dog which was protesting at the music which the band was producing on Broadway last Friday before the game and kicked it out of the way. Some people think that the dog was applauding but the doctor did not see it in that way.

We Are for The A. C. All the Time

"Booster" Talks on College Spirit and Gives a Rooters Creed.

HAVE PLENTY OF SPIRIT, WHY NOT USE IT.

We Need New Yells and Need to Practice What We Have.

We are printing below the words of one who is well known to us all, one who has always shown, since his connection with the A. C., interest in athletics and all that makes for College spirit. He suggests a creed for the A. C. rooters and makes some new comments which we commend and heartily endorse.

Rooters Creed.

"1. We are for the A. C. all the time. We are willing to fight her battles for her on the athletic field or as rooters upon the bleachers.

2. We are true sportsmen. We propose to fight fair. We fight to win but we are good losers; as sportsmen we fight for the game and not for the victory. We receive our opponents as guests and treat them as gentlemen.

"There is the sum and substance of all true college spirit in those statements. The A. C. as a college has lots of it but we haven't found out as yet how to use it. The first statement says that we are for the A. C. all the time. If we are upholding her name upon the field that means that we will fight ill the whistle blows; fight on, after we are sick and weary with defeat for the old A. C. It means that the rest of us will cheer our warriors from the bleachers, that we will cheer oftener and harder when the game is going against us. We should always pay all honor to our representatives.

"The writer saw Coach Magoffin and Captain Nemzek enter the Chapel on Monday after winning the first game of the season. Our men had played a good game and won. But whether they had lost or won that moment on Monday morning was the time to make the old walls shake with cheers for Coach Magoffin, for Capt. Nemzek and for the whole team.

"Instead nobody chirped. It wasn't because we didn't want to—we simply didn't know how to get started. If we want our team to feel that we are behind them we must show it or they will never find it out.

"So much for the first statement. The second explains itself. We propose to play a clean game, on the field and on the bleachers. We can appreciate and applaud a good play no matter on which side. We can let our team know by repeated cheers that we are with them as they fight through the game on the side lines. We can let the opposing team and the visitors know that we are living and coming. We are not going to call our opponents hard names if they get the better of us. Above all we are never down.

At Another School.

"I have seen five hundred men pull their defeated team two miles in a tally-ho to their hotel cheering all the way. I have seen the home coming team greeted with bon-fires and "Night Shirt Parades," and all this done at an institution but little larger than the A. C. with no more spirit but with better knowledge how to use it.

"The parade between the halves at the South Dakota game was a good thing and a mighty good thing. It gave the fellows a chance to warm up for the rooting during the second half and showed the people that we were alive. Let's keep it up.

New Yell.

"We need some new yells, — and we need to practice a little upon the ones that we have. Let us use our ingenuity and see if we can't have some good new productions.

"Now that the term admission card has been adopted we can get into all the games,—so let us show the outsiders that we are alive.

Fargo Opera House.

J. C. Lewis in his own version of the new "Si Plunkard" which comes to the Fargo Opera House Wednesday evening Oct. 28., like "The Old Homestead" and "Sag Harbor" appeals to the general public tastes. It deals naturally with life as it is among the sunkissed hills of Pennsylvania, where the scenes are laid. There are no clap-trap or artificial elements in the play. It is a mirror of human nature that is graphically pictured. Being a rural drama of course, there are exciting incidents, villainy and pathetic scenes, but they are relieved by wholesome comedy, so the play possesses light and shadow in various forms. The company is a large and competent one and there will be plenty of specialties to please all tastes. Remembers the date.

FROM THE SOUTHEAST AND THE NORTHWEST

Among the exchanges to come to our desk for the first time is the "Oregon Weekly" from the University of Oregon and "The Tiger" from Clemson College, S. Carolina. One from the far northwest and the other from the far southeast. Other new exchanges are "The Coyote", of Sioux Falls College, S. D., and the Lawrentian of Lawrence University, Wis.

The co-eds of the University of Washington have several rowing teams. Fifty one have signed up for practice in the water sport this fall.
