BIOGRAPHY

The donor of this collection, John Strohmaier, Jr., is descended from the Meitzner family, who emigrated from Seimeny, Bessarabia, South Russia in 1903; and the Strohmaier family, who lived in Friedorf, South Russia, before relocating in 1905. Both families built homesteads near Elgin, North Dakota after settling in the United States. John C. Strohmaier married Elizabeth Meitzner in Elgin in 1916 and moved into the Meitzner family home. The family was forced to sell their farm in 1935 due to drought and they relocated to Lodi, California, where they would raise their five children. Elizabeth (Meitzner) Strohmaier died in 1957 in Lodi. John C. Strohmaier died in 1966, also in Lodi.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The John Strohmaier Collection consists of three series, the Family Documents Series, the Family History Series, and the Photograph Series. The materials in this collection have been arranged in the following manner.

The Family Documents Series contains photocopies of six documents relating to Peter Meintzer, Elizabeth Strohmaier, and John Strohmaier, circa 1903-1935. These are listed individually below in the folder list.

The Family History Materials Series consists of three typescripts of short biographies with photocopied images related to the family of John Strohmaier. The subjects of these typescripts are Peter Meintzer (1840-1905), John Strohmaier, Sr. (1895-1966), and Elizabeth (Meintzer) Strohmaier (1896-1957).

The Photograph Series contains several photographic resources related to the Meintzer and Strohmaier families. Present within this series are two photographic prints of the same image, one black and white and one sepia-toned, of individuals posed outside the Peter Meintzer farm, near Elgin, North Dakota, circa 1915. Additionally, there is one photographic slide and one black and white negative of this image within this series. Also present are two photographic prints, one black and white and one sepia-toned, of the Meintzer family posed outside of their farmhouse in Elgin, circa 1915. Additionally, there is one photographic slide and one black and white negative of this image. Three sheets of photocopies of these images are also present. Also contained within this series is one 8"x 11" photographic copy of an image of a farmstead, noted as being the John and Elizabeth Strohmaier farm, Elgin. Three photocopies of additional images of Strohmaier family photographs are included in this series, noted below. All of the images in this series were copies made by Strohmaier or GRHC.
