

Water is seen in today's day-and-age as a raw material that we humans always have at our fingertips. Water is becoming more and more scarce, and it is only a matter of time until our societal norms will need to be reformed to accommodate for the lack of water on our planet.

This resort will show visitors the true beauty of water and its physical characteristics with the purpose of making visitors realize how important water truly is to our health, happiness and survival.