

The Labyrinth Studies:
Exhibiting Culture Through Art & Architecture

Thesis Display

The Labyrinth Studies

The Labyrinth Studies: Exhibiting Culture Through Art & Architecture

University of Minnesota
Department of Architecture
100 University Avenue
Twin Cities, MN 55455
612.495.5000

Text block describing the project or a specific aspect of the architecture.

Text block describing the labyrinth or a specific aspect of the architecture.

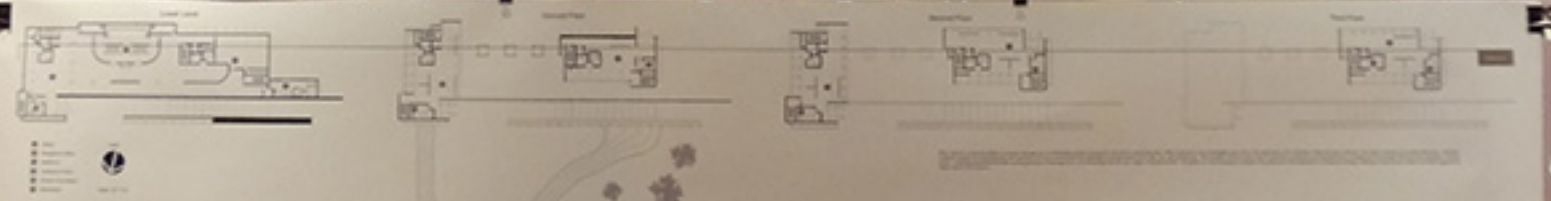

Text block describing the interior or a specific aspect of the architecture.

Text block describing the exterior or a specific aspect of the architecture.

Text block describing the interior or a specific aspect of the architecture.

The Labyrinth Studies

This wall display is a comprehensive architectural presentation. At the top left, a map of Minnesota is shown. Below it are several circular inset images. The central portion of the wall is dominated by a large, detailed site plan or floor plan with various rooms and corridors. To the right of the site plan is a prominent black spiral graphic. Further right are three circular inset images. Below the site plan is a photograph of a modern building with a dark facade and large windows. At the bottom of the wall display, there are several circular inset images.

This vertical wall display features a series of architectural drawings and photographs. At the top is a photograph of a landscape. Below it are several rows of architectural drawings, including floor plans and elevations. The drawings are arranged in a vertical sequence, showing different views and details of a building or structure.

