Learning from our Past: Catching Dreams

Rebekah A. Gurulé
Professor Ganapathy Mahalingam
Design Thesis | Spring 2016
Pow Wow Traditions

Pow Wows are the Native American people’s way of meeting together, joining in dance, singing, visiting, renewing old friendships, and making new ones. This is a time to renew Native culture and preserve the rich heritage of Chippewa Indians.
Where is Belcourt?

Belcourt is on the Turtle Mountain Indian Reservation in North-Central North Dakota.
Turtle Mountain Indian Reservation

The Turtle Mountain Indian Reservation was established on December 21, 1882. The main reservation lies in the northern part of Rolette County, North Dakota; a 2000 census population of 5,815 persons.
How BIG is Belcourt, ND?

Belcourt’s 2010 census indicated their population is 2,078 persons.
The location of my site is on the school property; to the North is the brand new high school, along with the middle school and football field to the West.
Existing Site Conditions
Belcourt, ND USA

The Chippewa Cultural Youth Learning Center will be located on a site South of the existing High School.
Existing Site Conditions
Belcourt, ND USA

Looking North towards the existing High School – recently built in 2008.
Facility Activity Study: 8:00 AM - 2:00 PM | M-F
Facility Activity Study: 2:00 PM - 6:30 PM | M-F
Facility Activity Study: 6:30 PM – 9:30 PM | By Appointment Only
Facility Activity Study: Weekends or Reserved Occasion
Transverse Section Perspective
Pow Wow Exterior Perspective
Please Enjoy this Video!

Video made with Lumion.
Thank you!

(Comments | Questions | Discussion)