Ticket Sales For Rogers' Western Variety Show Brisk

DAZZLING DALE Evans would like to find another hayloft so restful when she appears here with her husband, well-known

Roy Rogers, King of the Cowboys, his wonder horse, Trigger, and a host of western songster and entertainers.

Advance ticket sales for the Roy Rogers western variety show have been brisk according to word from the Fargo Jaycees, sponsors of the event.

Shows are slated for 4 and 8 p.m. in the Field house November 9 with half the proceeds going to the Student union building fund.

Featured in the show is Roy Rogers, king of the cowboys, songstress Dale Evans plus 8 supporting acts. Tickets for the two hour show are available at the special ticket booth in the lobby of the Gardner hotel.

Faculty Members and Administrators Represent NDAC At Convention

NDAC will be represented by ten faculty members and administrators at the 1950 convention of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities.

The 64th annual meeting of the association is scheduled for Nov. 13-16 at the Statler hotel in Washington, D. C.

The convention group from NDAC will include Dr. Fred S. Hultz, president; R. M. Dolve, dean of engineering; Dr. Leita Davy, dean of home economics; E. J. Haslerud, extension service director; Dr. H. L. Walster, dean of agriculture and director of the experiment station; Miss Grace DeLong, state home demonstration leader; Dr. G. E. Giesecke, dean of applied arts and sciences; Dr. Glenn S. Smith, associate dean and director of the school of agriculture and the experiment station; Glenn Holm, chairman of veterinary science, and Dr. R. E. Dunbar, chairman of the graduate school.

Some of the delegates will leave early to attend pre-convention sessions for special interest groups.

Air Force Personnel From U Visit Here

Maj. Jesse C. Davis, USAF, professor of air science and tactics at UND, and Capt. Wm. Irwin, USAF, assistant PAS&T at UND returned a visit to the Air Force staff at the college last Monday.

The reciprocal visits between the schools are held in order to discuss new methods and techniques of instruction and to exchange ideas concerning the education of cadets.

ISA TO MEET MONDAY

The Independent Students Association will hold a business meeting Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Fireside Room of the YMCA.

LCT Players To Present 3-Act Comedy

The Little Country Theater players will present their first production of the season November 6 and 7 at the Little Country theater. The play is Her Husband's Wife, a comedy in three acts by A. E. Thomas.

Cast Members include Marlowe Jensen, Connie Jacobson, John Hesse, Walter Christensen, Lois Andren, and Maureen Chisolm. All three acts take place in a drawing-room during the racing season.

Production Staff includes Robert Granum, personal direction; William Humphrey, electrician; Betty Ackerman, script girl; Virginia Arneson and Jean Bolmeier, costumes; Mary Ann Fossay and Anne Whitman, make-up. General supervisor is Alfred G. Arvold.

NDAC Air Force Rated Excellent

The Air Force ROTC group at NDAC recently received the rating of "Excellent" during an inspection by Col. J. W. Eagan, USAF, deputy for materiel for 10th Air Force. He was accompanied by Maj. Pat Welch, USAF.

Col. Eagan, newly named as the deputy for materiel, made the visit here as part of a tour of his units in the 10th Air Force. Stationed at Selfridge AFB, Mich., he was inspecting supply organization and training set-ups at the various installations.

AC Plans Erection Of Greenhouse

A new horticulture greenhouse to be erected west of Butler hall will be 32 feet wide by 110 feet long. The framework will be constructed of steel with window panes 20 inches square. The larger size of window will be used because of the ability to bend when struck by hail stones.

The temperature, ventilation, and lights will be regulated by automatic controls to cut down the cost of operation and to give better protection for the crops being grown.

Now under construction is the head house. When completed it will have glazed tile interior, brick exterior, and a wood roof.

The unit will be used entirely for experimental work by the various plant scientist departments.

Camera Club Plans Exhibit At Library

The NDAC Camera Club will present an exhibit of pictures in the lobby of the new library beginning Nov. 16.

The Camera club invites all those who are interested in photography to attend the meetings the first and third Tuesday of every month in the Fireside room of the College Y at 7:30 p.m. Regardless of which class you are in, box-camera or speed-grapex, the camera club will improve your skill and add enjoyment to your hobby.

Crawford To Present Art Lecture Monday

Ralston Crawford will present the second lecture in the series, "The Arts in Our Industrial World" at a 9:40 Convo Monday in Festival hall. His appearance here has been arranged by the University of Minnesota Concert and Lecture service.

Born at St. Catherine's, Ontario, Mr. Crawford studied at the Otis Art institute in Los Angeles and

Choose Architect For Student Union

W. F. Kurke and associates were named architects for the Memorial Student Union building it was announced this week by the Student Union Board.

The appointment came after interviews with several architects by the Board.

Kurke said that he would begin plans immediately by visiting several Union buildings throughout the nation. Preliminary sketches will be ready for the Board about January 1 with the finished drawing to be prepared by late spring.

Kurke's projects have included the new NDAC library and the ND state capitol.

High School Youths Tour Campus Today

Forty high school youths, attending the North Dakota Episcopal Youth convention in Fargo this week-end will tour the campus this afternoon.

The visiting delegates will be directed on the campus tour by four guides from Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity. High school students attending the three-day conference here are from Dickinson, Minot, Bismarck, Mandan, Valley City, Jamestown, Grand Forks and Fargo.

Advise Students To Make Up Spelling

Students whose English 103 grade is incomplete through failure to pass spelling last quarter are advised to make immediate arrangements for makeup tests next week.

Credit for the course will depend upon successful completion of these makeup tests during the eighth week.

Sevrinson Is Receiving Applications For Foreign Country Scholarships

Senior students who will graduate at the end of the spring or summer term 1951 who are interested in furthering their education in a foreign country should apply to Dean C. A. Sevrinson immediately.

Dean Sevrinson is the NDAC chairman for the State Fulbright scholarship which annually sends qualified students to study abroad in most of the principle foreign countries and some of the lesser ones.

To be eligible for the state scholarship a student must be a legal resident of the state of North Dakota; must have acquired a bachelor's degree or its equivalent before the scholarship goes into force (Fall 1951); must have sufficient knowledge of the language of the country in which he desires to study; and must be in good health.

Because forms and instructions were late in arriving at NDAC all students interested in applying for this scholarship must apply immediately to Dean Sevrinson, Dean of Students office, Old Main.

worked in Walt Disney's early garage studio in 1926-27. During 1927 to 1930 he studied at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts where he worked with Hugh Breckenridge and Henry McCarter. Mr. Crawford has also studied extensively in Rome, Madrid, Naples, and Paris. During 1942 he taught at the School of Fine Arts, Buffalo, New York, and received a purchase prize for a color lithograph in the "Artists for Victory" exhibition held at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York City.

Civil Service Man At Y Next Tuesday

A representative of the Eighth Civil Service region, St. Paul, Minn. will be in the Fireside room of the college Y next Tuesday beginning at 10 a.m.

Any senior interested in civil service positions, particularly in the fields of Junior Professional assistant or Junior Management assistants or in the Engineering or Accountant examinations should arrange to see this representative sometime during the day.

Junior Class Wins Annual Play Contest

The junior class took first place in the 32nd annual one act play contest, which was held in the Little Country Theater Thursday. The winning play was "The Last of the Lowries," directed by Maxine Sill.

Featured in the cast were Donna Irgens, LaVonne Sommers, Mary Wanner, and Bob Zube.

Other plays that were also presented during the contest were "The Dear Departed," by the freshmen, "The Happy Journey," presented by the sophomore class, and "Gettysburgh" which was staged by the senior class.

The contest was under the supervision of Miss Constance West and personal direction of Mr. A. G. Arvold.

Tryota Initiation Set For Tuesday

Initiation ceremonies for girls interested in Tryota, national home economics club, will be in Festival hall November 14 with Beverly Widdifield as chairman. Pictures for the Bison annual will be taken at this time following the meeting.

Members are reminded that dues must be paid either before or at this meeting to their class representatives.

Bosch To Attend Paint Convention

Dr. Wouter Bosch, chairman of the industrial chemistry department at NDAC, will attend the annual convention of the Federation of Paint and Varnish Production Clubs in Chicago Nov. 9-11.

At the convention the NDAC industrial chemistry professor will present a paper on "Water-in-oil Emulsion of Varnishes and Paints." Dr. Bosch will report on research carried out in the paint chemistry department by Robert Jepson of Fargo, now with Rinshed-Mason Co., Detroit, and Leo Bjelland of Fargo, now with the Permanente Metals Co., Spokane.

During his Chicago trip, Dr. Bosch will visit the Paint Industries show and will address a luncheon meeting of the NDAC Paint Alumni club.

New Yorker Comes To Fargo To Direct Community Theater

Barbara Oliver, New York City, has arrived in Fargo to take over direction of the Fargo Moorhead Community Theatre, according to theater executives.

She replaces Bob Reynolds, who was given a leave of absence by the F-M organization when he was called to active duty.

Mrs. Oliver, who until recently was a director for Dumont television, Inc., in New York, will handle the final directorial chores on "Two Blind Mice", first production for the fall season. The comedy will be offered November 6 and 7 in Weld Hall, MSTC.

A native of Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. Oliver has had Little Theatre experience in Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. She is a graduate of Carnegie Tech. She will be accompanied to Fargo by her husband, William Oliver, who will play a role in the Samuel Spewack production.

The comedy deals with two spinsters who are found operating a government bureau many years after it was supposedly abolished by the New Deal. The speedy farce comedy has a cast of 14 men and four women.

"Two Blind Mice" will also be offered to patients and staff at the veteran's hospital, near Fargo.

Students To Hear Speech On Bikini

Mr. Forrest Nagler will speak on "Bikini, The Human Side," at the fall banquet of the student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers held on Nov. 7 at 6 p. m. at the Myers-Norton cafe.

Mr. Nagler is a graduate of the University of Michigan, where he specialized in hydraulic and marine engineering.

During the war his assignment was in connection with the production of the heavy machinery used for manufacturing the atomic bomb material. This work concluded with a trip to witness the underwater burst at Bikini.

Mr. Nagler has been chief mechanical engineers for the Allis-Chalmers manufacturing company since 1942 and he is connected with the atomic power department of that company at the present time.

AC Gold Star Band Performs For UND

Three formations were presented by the Gold Star band during the half time intermission of last week's game at NDU.

Led by Arlene Tiegen, Lou Etta Hanson, and Barbara Morris, majorettes, they formed a Sioux and played "Fight on Sioux." A smoking pipe in honor of Dad's Day and a BISON followed, during which the band played "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes," and "On Bison."

The University formed "HI DAD" and a large U. The bands joined in the playing of "The North Dakota Hymn," directed by Bill Eurene, Gold Star band director.

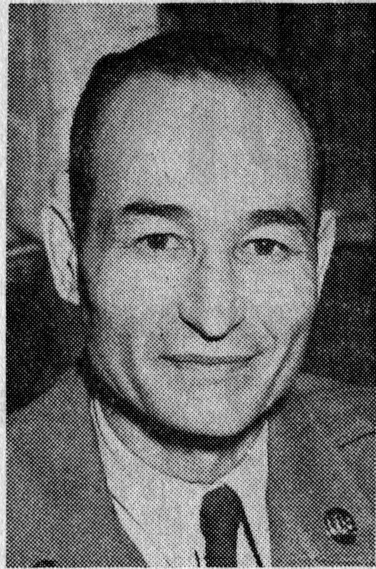

The opening was played by the Bismarck junior college's bagpipe band.

This finished the football season for the band, and now will start working on concert material.

Buchanan To Report On Sheep Experiment

Professor M. L. Buchanan will report on his recent experiments concerning the effect of inheritance on fleece characteristics in sheep at the animal husbandry seminar which will be held in Morrill hall Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 4 p.m.

Nanco Promoted

A veteran of 29 years service October 9, Raymond J. Nanco, instructor in military science and tactics at NDAC, was recently promoted to Master Sergeant.

Sgt. and Mrs. Nanco moved to Fargo in 1944 and reside at 70 4th Street North. They have one son, Raymond Jr., 19, a student at Shanley High school. Mrs. Nanco was employed by the St. John's Hospital X-Ray laboratory until this fall.

Says Sgt. Nanco of his 29 years, "Wonderful experience . . . no regrets now that my 30 years are about up . . . I wish I could do it over again. I strongly urge young men to get in the armed forces early and make a career out of it . . . there's security in many ways besides financial."

Sgt. Nanco's service began with the navy in 1920, and, after being discharged under the reduction of the armed forces in 1921, he enlisted in the army in 1922 and spent three years with motor transport corps at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas. In 1925 Sgt. Nanco began his ROTC service at Colorado State College, Ft. Collins, Colorado. In 1944, after a short stay at Casper High School, Casper, Wyoming, and South Dakota State, Brookings, South Dakota, Sgt. Nanco moved to Fargo.

Professor Publishes ND Farm Bulletins

Two new bulletins recently published by Prof. Baldur H. Kristjanson, associate agricultural economist, are now available in the Bulletin room located in the basement of Morrill hall.

Bulletin 357 is entitled "Handbook of Facts on North Dakota Agriculture"; Bulletin 360 is called "What About Our Large Farms in North Dakota."

Insurance Branch To Test Students

Any student interested in a career in life insurance work will be given an opportunity next week to discuss his background and a possible future in this field. Aptitude tests will be given those selected.

Mr. Wm. J. Wilson, C.L.U., manager of the Fargo branch for the New York Life Insurance company will interview students in the social science school, who are interested in a life insurance career, in the library, (2nd floor) on Tuesday Nov. 7 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Name Thorndal As Distinguished ROTC Student

In a recent article concerning Air Forch Distinguished Military Students the name of Herbert L. Thorndal was omitted.

Thorndal, a senior in advanced ROTC is from Fergus Falls, Minn. Upon qualifying he will be tendered a regular commission in the United States Air Force and will be designated as a Distinguished Military Graduate upon completion of his college degree.

SAI Tea To Honor Music Students

An SAI tea honoring music students will be given Sunday, November 5 at Mrs. Joseph Kise's home at 4 p.m. Invitations were sent to students interested in music on the MSTC and NDAC campuses. Maxine Sill is in charge of arrangements. A program is to be given also.

Name 25 Non-Commissioned Officers

Twenty-five juniors and one sophomore were named non-commissioned officers in the NDAC Army ROTC Cadet battalion by Lt. Col. Neal W. Lovsnes, professor of military science and tactics, at a battalion review Monday afternoon.

Announced as battalion sergeant major was Robert L. McKenkie, Grand Forks. Alfred Jensen, Bismarck, and George A. Sweeney, Larimore, were named operations sergeant and supply sergeant.

Company A first sergeant is

NDAC Journalism Class Visits Forum Newspaper Plant

Approximately 20 students of newswriting and advertising classes, accompanied by W. W. Norris, spent an hour in the Fargo Forum plant early last Thursday afternoon.

"The great bulk of our news comes over the tickers," Grant Webster, city circulation manager, told the students. He added that the Fargo Forum has the wire-photo in addition to AP and UP

Chem Instructors Writing Textbook

Dr. Ralph E. Dunbar, dean of chemical technology, Prof. T. H. Sands, and Prof. J. W. Broberg are now working with a state committee of chemistry teachers on the writing of a chemistry textbooks for the high schools of North Dakota.

The committee, with Mr. Charles J. Metzroth of Fargo High school as chairman, has been working for more than a year on the book. Copy is to be at the printer by the first of the year. The two other members of the group are Mr. Owen Johnson, LaMoure, and Mr. N. N. Ableidinger, New Rockford.

Graduate Student Studies At Purdue

James B. Leary, who received his masters degree in bio-chemistry at the close of the summer quarter, is now working at the experiment station at Purdue university, LaFayette, Ind.

Leary, of Fargo, is working toward his Ph.D. at the same time.

news services while correspondents cover news in the small towns.

Most important to the paper circulation is its coverage of local affairs under the direction of the city editor and department editor. Local reporters cover regular beats daily and special assignments when out of the routine events occur.

In the composing room the students saw the linotype in operation, the flat pages made and the process involved in making the plates for the rotary press. Each cylinder prints eight pages at one time and the Fargo Forum can print 48 pages in one operation.

Amid the noise and ink of the press room, the students saw the paper "hot off the press." A special counting device, called "dog", throws each 50th page sideways as it comes from the press. Webster said that it allows the papers to reach the reader 15 to 20 minutes earlier than they were counted after leaving the press.

The students saw the newspaper supply of the plant. Newsprint comes in large rolls which weigh about 1400 pounds each.

They also were told that coming for the Sunday edition are printed in Fargo, and of the daily editions, the morning paper has the largest circulation.

Ballweg To Speak

A. P. Ballweg of the NDAC Extension service, will speak on "Extension Work in Germany" at the agriculture economics seminar next Thursday, Nov. 9, at 4 p.m. in Room 215, Morrill hall. All interested students and faculty members welcome.

Air ROTC Staff On Campus Largest Since Inauguration

The Air ROTC staff at NDAC is the largest since its inauguration over two years ago. Increased enrollments in the advanced courses necessitated the addition of several new instructors. The staff, consisting of four officers and four enlisted men, have been in action or overseas duty on all parts of the globe during and since the last war.

Major Robert E. Phillips enlisted in the Air Force in December, 1940, took his flight training on the west coast, and won his wings in August, 1941. He flew patrol on the west coast from Dec. 1941 to March, 1942.

Major Phillips then went overseas to England where he was with the 8th and 9th Air Force in England, France, and Belgium. He flew Spitfires (English-Fighters) from 1942 to 1943. In the early part of 1943 he was on detached service with the 165th RAF Squadron for two months.

From Oct., 1943, to Nov., 1944, Major Phillips flew P-51 Mustangs in tactical and reconnaissance missions over Europe.

In Dec. 1944, he returned to the United States where he was Commanding Officer of the tactical reconnaissance phase at Meridian, Miss. In 1945 he moved to Rapid City, S. Dak., for a short time.

He returned to Europe in 1946 to serve two more years as photo control and intelligence officer for the 10th Reconnaissance Group. In Feb., 1948, he was transferred to the U. S. and was stationed at Greenville, South Carolina, as intelligence officer for the 316th Troop Carrier Wing.

In Sept., 1948, he was assigned to NDAC as its first PAS&T, to set up and supervise an Air ROTC program to swell the reserve officer ranks and strengthen the defense of our country.

Major Phillips was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, the Air Medal with 10 oak leaf clusters, the Purple Heart, and the Croix de Guesse with a bronze star.

Captain Cecil H. Best reported for active duty at Camp Robinson, Ark., in April, 1941, where he was with the 134th Inf. Regiment, 35th Division. He served as the motor transportation officer at this camp until 1944.

Capt. Best saw overseas duty in the Philippines in the latter part of 1945. He was sent to Elmendorf Field, Alaska, in August, 1946, where he was in charge of maintenance for air installations. He returned to the U. S. in Dec., 1948, and was assigned to Shaw AFB as air installations officer.

Capt. Best completed his academic instructor course, and graduated from the Air University at Craig AFB, Selma, Alabama, in August, 1950. He was then assigned to duty at NDAC as an air installations instructor.

Capt. Sintow reported for active duty in Jan., 1942, and went overseas with the Aviation Engineers in September of the same year. In the New Hebrides he built airfields, basins, docks, roads, bridges, etc. He then did construction work in New Guinea and the Philippines.

He returned to the U. S. in Sept., 1945, and was assigned to Brooks Field, San Antonio, as post engineer. Two years later he was sent to Dallas, Texas, to serve as air installations officer. In Sept., 1950, he came to NDAC to be an instructor in air installations.

1st Lt. John Augis left Northeastern university to join the air force in April, 1943. He took his basic training at Boca Raton, Florida, and received his officers commission after attending aircraft engineering school at Yale university.

He was stationed at Ogden, Utah, and other stations in the Midwest before being sent to the Philippine Islands. From there he went to Japan with the occupation forces in Dec., 1945, and remained there until May, 1948. He returned to Mitchel AFB, N. Y., where he was stationed until being assigned to NDAC in Sept., 1949.

M/Sgt. Hesselbach entered the service in June, 1936, and first served in the Panama Canal Zone with the 11th Combat Engineers. He also served as a non-commissioned officer in the S-3 section of the Pacific Sector Commander. Sgt. Hesselbach served with the 735th Railroad Engineer Battalion in Europe for the entire duration of the war.

He returned to the U. S. in 1945 to help activate the 660th Engineering Topo Group in Panama for a survey of Latin and South American countries. Sgt. Hesselbach traveled with this group through the Antillies until 1948.

After a short tour of duty at the Rapid City AFB, he was assigned to the 931st Engr. Avn. Gp. Hq. as S-3 on Okinawa for the purpose of rebuilding runways and new construction in the Far East Theatre.

He returned to the U. S. in March, 1950, and was then assigned to NDAC as an air installation instructor.

M/Sgt. Moore enlisted in the Air Force in Oct., 1940. He went to officers candidate school and was commissioned 2nd Lt. in May, 1942. He was in Australia and New Guinea with the 27th Air Depot Group. Lt. Moore returned to the U. S. in Nov., 1945 and was discharged in May, 1946. He reenlisted as M/Sgt. in May, 1946, and served at several bases before coming to NDAC in May, 1950.

T/Sgt. Chester A. Johnson entered service in Jan., 1943, and was assigned to the 146th Combat Engineer Battalion for the duration of the war. Sgt. Johnson saw action in the ETO, participating in several campaigns—Normandy, Northern France, Ardennes, Southern France, Rhineland, Central Europe, and the invasion of Omaha Beach. For these engagements with the enemy he received the

NDAC Order Librarian Former Member Of United States Forestry Service

A good candidate for the Women's Rifle team might be Miss Rae Olson, order librarian at NDAC. Her experience as lookout tower operator for the U.S. Forest Service made her consider a shootin' iron standard equipment.

When asked for an interview, Miss Olson told of the job she had as lookout tower operator at Medicine Bow Forest in Wyoming. Informed of the job by forest rangers in the town where she taught, Miss Olson accepted an opportunity of adventure and intrigue.

The tower itself was about 40 feet high. "I used to call it my 'cabin in the sky,'" Miss Olson said. She compared life in the tower to living in a gold fish bowl. There was glass all around except for two feet of wood built up EAMETO Medal, the Good Conduct Medal, the Bronze Star for meritorious service, and the Distinguished Unit Badge.

He was discharged in Nov., 1945, and reenlisted in July, 1947. He came to NDAC for ROTC duty in November, 1949.

Sgt. Wilford O. Olsen enlisted in the 6th Coastal Artillery, in Dec., 1940. He served in the Panama Canal zone from March, 1941, to Nov. 1943. Sgt. Olsen was in Italy from Dec., 1944, to June, 1945. He received his discharge in June, 1945, and reenlisted in April, 1946, when he was assigned to ROTC duty at this college.

Sgt. Olsen wears the American Defense ribbon with foreign service clasp, the Good Conduct Medal, American Theatre, ETO Ribbon with two bronze battle stars, and the Victory Ribbon.

from the floor. Groceries arrived three times a week. The mailman brought them to the ranger's station three miles away, and from there the fireguard delivered them to the tower.

"According to statistics the greatest cause of fire is the human being," Miss Olson said. "Lightning was our chief enemy," she went on to say. "After a rain, too, there would be a fine mist resembling smoke." Miss Olson said. One day she spotted what she thought was a fire in the distance. It kept changing shape just like clouds sometimes do. Convinced it was smoke, she contacted the forest ranger on short wave and dispatched men to the scene. As it happened the fire was on a mountain top hardly accessible by man. Scaling huge rocks the fire fighters got the blaze under control.

Miss Olson eagerly went on to tell that the tower was accessible by car. She had over 300 tourists that summer. Just a few of her duties were: making reports, operating short wave radio, operating the Osborn fire fighter, taking weather readings and gauging fire danger.

Along with her other duties came the one of being courteous and helpful to tourists. "Many tourists would come to the tower to see the beautiful sunsets," Miss Olson said, "But it was a little bit too much when they started coming at 5 a.m. to see the sunrise."

"With all that glass around me, imagine the fun I had keeping things polished and spotless. I'll never forget the Fourth of July that year. Among my 39 picnic tourists were several children. I don't know if it was the children or the chicken bones they carried, but my glass castle was a mess," Miss Olson explained.

When asked if she didn't consider her job a dangerous one for a woman, Miss Olson said that she was never really afraid. Her weapons of self defense consisted of merely a gun and a flashlight and she hastened to add, "I could operate the flashlight much better than the gun."

"I almost wrote a book one time," Miss Olson confessed. If she does get her book written she feels an appropriate title would be, "To Blazes with Women."

Social Jottings

By LOIS FITZLOFF

Silverware, light bulbs, and trays all were missing from various sorority and fraternity houses last Monday when the pledges skipped. An innovation was established this year when actives were met at the door of the hide out by uniformed policemen who refused to let them in.

The pledges of ATO are being given the silent treatment by the active chapter following their skip. Guess the actives were forced to make a belated trip to the Alpha Gam house for appropriate "chow tools." Have you ever tried eating ham with a soup spoon?

Spinster Skip is coming up November 17 and will be held at Festival hall from 9 to 12. A dressed turkey and other door prizes will be given away too. George Schoen and his orchestra will provide the music. So come on gals grab your fellows early so you'll have a chance at that turkey.

Initiation was held last week for three girls to Kappa Epsilon, honorary for girls in pharmacy. The girls are Phyllis Hanson, Herman, Minn.; Barbara Lazenby, Hankinson; and Erica Siivelt, a Dp student from Estonia. Pledging also was held for Darlene Doerr, Napoleon, N. D.

A bridal shower was given for Delva Howard Lilliveg, a recent pharmacy graduate, after the ceremony. Hostesses were Pat Kepner, Elinor Carlson, Marion Lysengen, and Mrs. Manning.

The Frederick Martin hotel, Moorhead country club, and K. C. hall with all be busy this week-end with term parties. On Friday the SAE's, Theta Chi's, and Kappa Sigma Chi's will be entertaining. Tomorrow night the SPD's will have a night of it.

Alpha Gamma Rho announces the addition of eight new pledges and eight actives. They are—pledges, Wayne Ditmer, Dale Bagnell, LeVon Kirkeide, Robert Laur, Gerald Buck, Wayne Walstad, Phil Olmstad, and Alvin Fragodt. Now in the active realm are Richard Clarke, Duane Erickson, Glenn Haugen, Rodger Lambie, Donald Moe, Curtis Norenberg, Nelson Stave, and Robert Velure.

Phi Mu entertained the ATO's Thursday from 5 to 8. Their pledges skipped with the KD's and AGR's.

SAE pledges were presented a week ago—all 29 of them. They pledged skipped with the AGR's.

If you girls didn't take advantage of the open house at the men's residence hall last Sunday you should be sorry. Various rooms had papers which you were required to sign with your name, address, and telephone number. I think they could put out the student directory themselves.

A coffee hour is being sponsored by Gamma Phi at their house from 4 to 6 today with an invitation extended to all. Halloween was the theme when they feted the football players at supper last Tuesday. Ask Orv Oberboe and Janet Berdahl how much fun it is to play eating a marshmallow on a string. This next comment is just to satisfy an intense desire of one of our foreign students to get his name in this column. "The reason I'm so handsome is because I'm from Canada," says George Long of Winnepeg. Are you contented now?

KD pledge Renee Haas has been engaged to Teddy Carr of Wahpeton since last summer.

Iona Bolton, KKG, married Nick Vujovich, ATO, last Sunday at a ceremony in the First Presbyterian church.

A potluck honoring their housemother Mrs. Piers was given by KAT on Wednesday.

Theta Chi's had a social get together with the Gamma Phi's Thursday from 5 to 8.

Seven new Sig actives are Jim Schrimpf, Rodney Fercho, Wes Gerber, Don Lamb, Carlton Rydstrom, Carroll Drablos, and Jerry Wichmann. Pledges are Jerry Anderson, Keith Carlson, Paul Crary, Erick Flaten, James Grobe, Duane Johnson, Roland Johnson, Vern Johnson, Gus Katzke, Bernard Masse, James McManus, Dean Morford, Duane Nelson, Loren Oliver, Dick Palon, Dick Pratt, Dick Shermoen, Glenn Smith, Ted Stensland, and Jack Young.

Our apologies to the Sigma Chis. Last week we said that one of their new pledges, Dean Morford was a Chicagoan. It comes to us via Harry Bristol that Dean is from Pequot Lakes, Minnesota. Also the name of Vern Peterson should be stricken from the record and Vern Johnson's name substituted. Vern is from Harvey. Of course, the Sigs are proud of footballer Bob Jones, a Chicago, Ill. boy, (no mistake, I hope) who is sporting one their pledge pins this week. The pledges are going to put on a big party for the actives on November 10.

Halloween must have been much fun for the KD's, when the SAE's invited them over for an entertainment. Also the Phi Mus did their good deed for the day when they entertained sixteen orphans from the North Dakota Children's home. The girls, with an assist from the Sig Phi Delt's helped the kids do the "tricks-or-treats" job for the evening.

The Ballpoint

By BOB JOHNSON

Well, we lost the game but AC fans have something to which to thank the U. That is a fine P.A. system and the new painted yard markers they put up just for us.

Quote of the game came from Joan Fisher who quipped after watching play for several minutes in the second half, "You mean had the ball?" Well, every now and then, anyway.

Am still wondering why trophies were awarded at the home time ceremonies. Drove up and down the avenue twice and didn't see any house decorations.

The incomparable Hildegar presented an enjoyable program Monday evening. To the delight of many of the spectators some of the notables of Fargo were brought on stage and given a reward for their nose.

The mass pledge skip of Monday night left a few vacant chairs at some of the Greek dinner tables. Not to be outdone by their pledges the Kappas, Thetas, Theta Chis and ATO's went to the Tournament park to ponder over the punishment to be delivered to the errand delinquents upon their return.

Can't figure out why Walter Klundt was hitting his head against the wall before he left for Chicago on Wednesday. He kept muttering something about pictures but it was almost unintelligible. (Seniors! Where are they?)

Wonder if there is still anyone around who will write a term paper for a price? It used to be done anywhere from 5 to 10 bucks.

Proving that some people have trust in the Spectrum, or something, a lady called the office long ago to ask if it was all right if she planted lawn seed in the fall. After much thought on the subject she was referred to the botany department.

A tip for future GI's: Check this month's Liberty magazine for a sneak look at the Army classification test. Every serviceman has to take it so you might as well make out a crib now.

It says in the Bison Boundaries the NDAC student bible, that "Men students are not permitted to room in houses where there are women roomers" and visa versa of the subject of off-campus rooming.

The Score

By JIM SCHIMPF

As we paddle our canoe homeward down beautiful University Avenue, we hear the haunting farewell chant of the Sioux co-eds: "How! How!" Was I glad to get back to the AC - the girls never have to ask, "How" here.

for "only" a buck. Everyone in the east bleachers enjoyed half of the game - the east half. Every time a play ran on the west side of the field, the players were obscured by the junior-sized mountain in the middle of the field.

The absence of yard markers befuddled not only the spectators, but also the three blind mice, who were officiating. And someone forgot to turn up the volume on the PA system - not a sound penetrated to the bleachers. John Paulson should give a few lessons.

I was disappointed in the half-time ceremonies. Jack Stafne told me the two bands were to march to opposite ends of the field, lower instruments, and charge. It didn't come off, sad to say.

The poor man's Jimmy Duarante was at it again - after the game I saw Jack Schwer in Whiteie's, spearing olives out of martinis with his nose.

Professor Stevens Is Noted As American Bee Expert

By ORVILLE OVERBOE

Forty years identifying and studying obscure species of bees—and not the honey kind—has resulted for Dr. C. A. Stevens of the NDAC botany department in being one of a dozen men in America versed in the knowledge of these obscure insects.

And in his many boxes of mounted specimens, and his several books of notes, he has detailed identification of approximately 1,000 specimens of the pollinating insects. A pin is stuck through the insect, which suspends it about an inch from the bottom of the box. Each pin has three different labels in very small type. The upper one has the locality and date of collection, the second one has the name of the flower on which it was collected and the third, the catalogue number by which the individual specimen is identified.

Dr. Stevens is most interested in native bees, and confines his study mainly to them. He first became interested in bees while he was at college. A classmate of his was studying bees and Dr. Stevens began the study mainly for a hobby. Upon leaving Kansas for his work in North Dakota, he gave away the collection he had started, and started another shortly after his arrival here. To this time approximately 300 different species of native bees have been identified in North Dakota.

Catching native bees is not the easiest task possible. Dr. Stevens has caught many species of his collection very near home. One day he went to a flower plot not far from the NDAC campus and spent most of the day catching 25 different species.

Dr. Stevens is widely known for his research work in the field of pollination, and corresponds with several national authorities on the subject. Last year he transferred his entire collection, which consisted wholly of native bees and a few specimens of wasps, to the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

What is the value of this collection? It has been proven that bees are very valuable as pollinators. In an observation test, a field opened to bee pollination produced 22 times as much legume seed as a field which was bees. As yet, no disease has been found which is spread because of bee population.

To Dr. Stevens, his work with native bees is a remembrance of many hours of hard work and long, tedious hours of observation. He has partly accomplished his ambition for research has gratefully released the information of his studies to the world.

Sioux Gridders Stampede Bison By 33-0

The Scoreboard

By JOHN HESSE

The way things went during the first half of the big tussle up at Grand Forks last Saturday, it appeared that it might be another one of those things. The Bison did some of the best blocking, and far and away the best tackling of the season, or at least the best that most Fargoans have seen.

Hesse

I have heard that they looked better when they played Iowa State Teachers college, but anyway, they looked pretty terrific during the first thirty minutes of play up at NDU.

But then we come to the second half. It was just another case of the Bison letting down at the wrong time, and the opposition taking advantage of the calm to go to town.

This isn't the first time that the Herd has been guilty of such play. Time and again over the past three years, observers have seen it happen. This year it was more noticeable than before.

Even during the one win that the team copped this year, the MSTC game, the boys seemed to suffer a let-down, which allowed the Dragons to score their lone counter of the evening.

There is no doubt in my mind, even with the comparison of scores between the Bison and South Dakota State and the Bison and the Sioux, that NDU at present has best team in the conference.

FROSH WIN AGAIN

Lest any doubt had arisen as to the relative merits of the frosh teams of the two schools, the Yearlings dispelled them with a handy 40-7 romp over the hapless Paposes to make it two in a row. The first game was close in comparison to Friday night's route, but even then Chuck Bentson's charges let everyone know who's boss in the freshman football department.

The question that has been put to me, as well as to many other Bison followers is, "Why can our freshman team win over theirs consistently, and yet our varsity lose to theirs year after year?"

Frankly, this year and last were the first time that our Yearlings came into any sort of note as an undefeated freshman eleven. This year we have many of the last year's frosh playing varsity ball, many of them as starters.

However, this year, the Sioux had a fine nucleus of experienced ball players, and anybody who wanted to crack the varsity, much less land a starting berth had to be pretty terrific. On the other hand we have the Bison with a very small nucleus of lettermen and some reserves with very little experience. It wasn't too tough for a sophomore to make the team, although he had to show that he had it to make the starting eleven.

This year our frosh should bring up some rough opposition for the boys that are holding down the starting positions right now on the varsity. With any sort of a break at all, the freshmen, and transfer students ought to make Mac Wenskunas very happy come 1951.

Perhaps it sounds like the old story all over again, but the Bison team is still in the process of rebuilding. It is taking a long time. Longer than most people would want to wait. The fact remains, that during the long losing streak, the Bison were under a pair of different coaches, both of whom had to start with a loser for raw-material.

Well, both of them started from scratch, and perhaps Mac Wenskunas hasn't done as poor a job as the record may show.

MASH NOTES DEPT.

I hear tell that I've been taking a bit of a beating from the better boy journalists on the Dakota Student, official organ of the university. Really fellows, I didn't think that you'd bother with little old me. I'm really flattered that I'm so popular up there. I'm so happy that somebody reads this besides my mother.

I think that those boys must sit up all night thinking up nasty names to call the members of the Spectrum, the Spec itself, and our college here. I don't see how they do it. I mean it's the same old stuff that has been floating around for as long as anyone can remember.

Perhaps if the newspaper staff up there would expend as much time and energy on promoting something worthwhile such as a new winter sports building as they do thinking up dirty digs for NDAC consumption, it would be put to much better use.

Theta Chi's Crush ATO's In I-M Final

By JOHN L. SULLIVAN

The 1950 Intra-Mural touchball playoffs, climaxing an exciting season, began last Tuesday with four first-round games.

The regular season play was concluded last week. The undefeated Theta Chi's took first place in Bracket I with four wins. Running second with three wins and one loss were the boys from ATO.

In Bracket II, first place ended in a three-way tie among Sigma Chi, Kappa Sigs, and the SAE's. Sigma Chi won the flip for first place and the Kappa Sigs defeated the SAE's for a playoff berth.

Tuesday night's games saw the Theta Chi's keep their perfect record with an 18 to 6 triumph over the Kappa Sigs. The ATO's rolled over the Sigs by the same score, 18-6.

Wednesday night the championship game was played but the score was not available at press time. The Sigs also played the Kappa Sigs for the consolation berth.

With the closing of the touchball season, the Intra-Mural program turns its attention towards bowling, basketball and volleyball. Bowling will probably start sometime next week, if everything goes right; basketball and volleyball a little later on.

A point system was adopted at the last I-M business meeting for the traveling trophy, which is to be awarded to the organization having the highest number of points at the end of a specified time.

Points are to be awarded on the basis of a certain number for games won and lost, playoff berths, meeting attendance, and number of participants involved. Also there will be a negative number of tallies given for forfeits and such.

THETA CHI'S TRIUMPH

Last minute reports late Thursday afternoon reported that the Theta Chi touch football team took the victory from the defending champion Alpha Tau Omega squad. The Theta Chis regained the title after having relinquished it to the ATOs last year. They also held the title in 1947 and 1948.

Herd Shines In First Half Against Rival NDU Eleven

By DAN CHAPMAN

(Ed. Note. This week, we asked Dan Chapman, former Spectrum editor and sports editor, now a student at North Dakota university to write a guest article for his paper. Dan, now a special correspondent for the Fargo Forum, accepted the assignment, and sent his story to us from Grand Forks.)

Grand Forks, N. D.—The North Dakota university Sioux, now perhaps the best football team in the North Central conference, decisively whipped the NDAC Bison here last Saturday, 33-0.

The game won't even rate as a moral victory for the Herd, who were outclassed in every department over the full route.

But for the first 30 minutes of the game, during the first half, the Bison played the mighty Sioux to a standstill and might have gone into the intermission leading 7-6 but for a Herd fumble on the Sioux 19 in the waning stages of the first half.

An interception of a Bison pass by Mark Foss, Sioux end, in the opening minutes of the second half smothered the last flickering hope of the Bison. Foss ran the touchdown after the interception and converted to make it 20-0.

After that it was just a matter of time. Sioux reserves played much of the second half.

Shortly before the first Sioux score, the Nodaks had been stopped cold after having made a first down on the Bison 5. The Bison worked their way out to the 25 before a fumble set up another Sioux chance. Lloyd (Boom) Hallada, bruising Sioux fullback, scored from the 7. Foss' kick was wide.

A pass play from Benny Nolan to Tom Gagnon and an off-tackle slant by Eino Martino gave the Herd a first down on the 20. Nolan passed to Duane (Grut) Anderson to the 17. But on the next play Sioux guard Ralph Neinas broke through to nail Nolan before he could get the ball away and when Nolan fumbled, Neinas recovered to blot out the only Bison threat of the game.

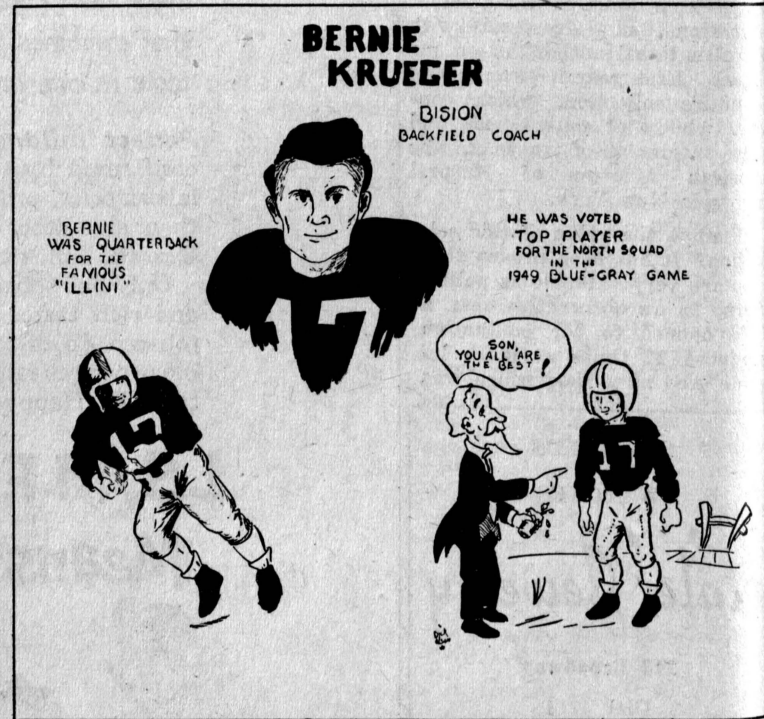

The Sioux then marched to their second touchdown, paced by Hallada, Al Heising and Cy Ducharme. Ducharme got the score from the 15 and Foss converted.

In the second half, Foss' score and two touchdowns by Herb Claffy, one a 93-yard gallop, hoisted the score to 33-0.

Two outstanding features of the game for the Bison, aside from the improved blocking and tackling, were the kicking of Eino Martino and the defensive work of Vern Freeh, Bison guard.

Twice Martino's kicks were within the Sioux 10-yard line and all afternoon he astonished NDU fans, long-used to the brilliant Herb LeMoine, with his masterful boots.

Yearlings Triumph Again . . .

Bison Frosh Rip Papooses, 40-7

A promising NDAC freshmen squad overwhelmed the North Dakota University frosh eleven, 40-7, in a contest there Friday last which was one of the opening attractions of the University's annual Dad's Day celebration.

The Bison line was instrumental in downing the Sioux. It outrushed the NDU forward wall consistently. The Yearling backs, too, seemed faster than those of their northern rivals. The offense of the locals used to advantage both a passing and rushing attack. They gained 249 yards on the ground and completed three out of five passes for 61 yards via the aerial route. The NDU squad ran for 155 yards and connected on five out of sixteen tosses for 30 yards. But in first downs the story was different; the U earned nine compared to eight for the Bison.

An NDU kick into the wind that went out-of-bounds on its own 22 yard line laid the groundwork for the first Yearling touchdown. In eight plays the Herd scored. Fullback Bill Buckelew went through right tackle from the 6 yard line to rack up this first TD. He then kicked the first of four successful conversions. The next touchdown was almost assured when the Bison line blocked its opponent's kick on the NDU 44 and end Ron Zatkoff managed to nab the resultant fumble on the Sioux 7.

A five yard penalty brought the ball back to the 12. From there quarterback Martin Davis passed to Halfback Wally Conmy for the tally. This gave the NDAC team a 13-0 advantage at the end of the initial period. During the second quarter neither team scored but midway in the third canto the AC counted seven more points. The U again kicked out-of-bounds; this time on its own 40. Davis passed to halfback Walt Puetz for the touchdown and Buckelew booted the extra point. This left NDU on the short end of a 20-0 score at the end of the third quarter.

The Redmen soon discovered that they hadn't seen anything yet. The Bison went on to add three touchdowns in as many successive tries from the scrimmage line in the final period. The scoring spree started when the U lost the all on downs on the Bison 17. Conmy then tore to the NDU 36. On the next play he went the rest of the way to reach end zone pay dirt. The Bison received their next opportunity when a poor NDU pass from center gave them the ball on the Sioux 8. Brewster scored on the first play. Not so good kicks were rapidly becoming habitual on the part of the Grand Forks gridders. They booted out-of-bounds again; this time on their own 43 yard line. The Bison repeated their performance immediately previous as Brewster again ran for a touchdown on the first play.

The old adage, "Its always darkest just before the dawn," then applied to the Sioux. They got things rolling for their first counter on the kickoff following this last Bison tally. North Cornforth, former Shanley High athlete, took the kick on his own 2 yard line and then lateralled to Barry. Barry kept going until he was stopped by the safety man on the NDAC 47. Two plays later the Sioux advanced the ball to the 38. From there Milo Norwick, NDU quarterback, went around end to the six. Norwick then pitched to end Ron Burgess, a former Midget star, on the 3 yard line. Pass interference on this play brought the ball to the 1 yard line. Norwick then scored on a quarterback sneak. Norwick retained the lime-light as he passed to Dick Ripley for the extra point. Final score, 40-7.

Bison Journey To Glendive To Oppose Montana State

By IRV LETOFSKY

The look is grimly to the West for Bison gridiron rooters tomorrow.

Coach Mac Wenskunas' unhappy Herd ventures to Glendive, Mont., tomorrow night to meet the Montana State Bobcats of Bozeman.

The tilt is played in Glendive under the auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce there.

For the past several years, the Bison footballers have faced the Bobcats without success. Last season the Herd lost, 28-7.

The Bison, who were taken in hand last week, 33-0, by up-state rival North Dakota university, close their third straight dismal grid season Nov. 11 against the Coyotes of South Dakota university at Vermillion.

Coaching the Bobcats for his first season is Johnny Mason, who was graduated from Oklahoma A&M in 1925. He was assistant coach at the University of Colorado and served as athletic director and head football mentor at Colorado School of Mines.

Mason was greeted this season at Montana State by 14 veteran lettermen.

The Bobcats, who run off a single-wing formation, won only two and lost five games last season.

The Herd took a breather Monday afternoon. Only injury sustained in the Sioux-Bison fracas was Benny Noland's banged-up toe. X-Rays were taken early in the week to see if the toe was broken.

Otherwise the Bison are in good physical condition.

Noland Tops Herd In Passing and Total Offense

Benny Noland, sophomore quarterback, tops the lists of total offense gainers at State with a total of 388 yards in six games. Benny also leads in the passing with 28 completions in 64 attempts for a total of 406 yards.

Ray Curtis, junior quarterback and fullback, has attempted 36 passes and completed 14 for 135 yards.

Leading the Bison in punting is Eino "Lefty" Martino with an average of 33.2 on 40 punts in six games. Following Noland in total offense is Jim Hitter, sophomore halfback, with 249 yards rushing in 65 tries and 57 yards in pass receiving for a total of 306 yards.

Clarence Becker, junior halfback, and the leading scorer with 24 points, has 145 yards in 29 rushing tries and 94 yards in pass receiving for a total of 239 yards. He leads in average gain with five yards a try rushing.

Martino, the only senior in State's backfield is fourth with 173 yards in 52 rushing tries and 51 yards in pass receiving for a total of 224 yards.

Duane "Grut" Anderson, sophomore end, leads State in the pass receiving with a total of 19 catches good for 241 yards and 2 touchdowns. Dale Peppel, also a sophomore, has caught 6 passes for a total of 98 yards.

Basketballers Drill For Hamline Game Set For Nov. 25

Coach Chuck Bentson's varsity Bison basketball team has been drilling daily in preparation for its season's lid-lifter just three week away, Nov. 25, against the rugged Hamline university Pipers at St. Paul.

Returning from a surprising 1949-50 Bison aggregation which won 12 and lost 10 and engineered a 6-5 record in the North Central conference, are only two lettermen, Jack Cavanagh and Bob Grant.

However, along with three non-letter-winners from the varsity and a host of Frosh team prospects, Bentson anticipates the forthcoming of several members of the football team after the grid schedule closes Nov. 11.

Evans Issues First Freshmen Cage Call

Freshman basketball aspirants were given their initial call for tryouts Thursday afternoon.

Hopefuls swarmed the Field house yesterday as the opening drills for the Frosh team began under Coach Norm Evans.

Dennis (Bubby) Drews, the former Bison basketball and all-conference football star, will assist Evans with the newcomers.

The schedule will be announced later.

Jackrabbits Overrun SDU, 54-28; Are Still Among Unbeaten Teams

South Dakota State's Jackrabbits copped the 1950 North Central conference football title last Saturday by drubbing South Dakota university, 54-28.

The fans didn't have long to wait for a score as Bill Gibbons pranced 75 yards to score after receiving the opening kickoff for the Jackrabbits.

With blood in their eyes against their heated State rival, the Coyotes roared back for 14 points within three minutes. But then the University took a back seat to an inspired State crew.

Midway in the opening period Gibbons did it again, this time on a 41-yard journey. The Bunnies recovered a Coyote fumble to set up a Herb Bartling to Don Bartlett pass for the touchdown.

From there on it was all State as they racked up a 33-14 score at the intermission.

Panthers Cop
Meanwhile the Iowa State Teachers Panthers edged Morningside at Sioux City, 13-7, in another conference tussle.

Morningside tallied three times but two were called back as the result of penalties.

Roger Miller scored both touchdowns for the Teachers. The first one came on a 3-yard plunge and the second on a pass from Bud Rainbow.

At Sioux Falls, Augustana overcame a first half 7-0 lead by Northern Teachers of Aberdeen, 34-7, in a non-conference contest.

The Aberdeen eleven tallied on a desperation pass in the closing minutes of the half.

But the Vikings turned the second half into a rout. Thomssen scored twice and Al Paulson, Bob Johnson, and Hatch tallied one apiece.

Bison to Glendive

The Bison, who lost to NDU Saturday, 33-0, venture to Glendive, Mont., tomorrow to face the Montana State Bobcats. They conclude their season next week with an NCC tilt at Vermillion against SDU.

In two conference games, SDU tests Iowa Teachers at Cedar Falls, Ia., and NDU travels to Augustana at Sioux Falls.

Omaha university comes to Sioux City to face the Morningside Maroons while conference titlist South Dakota State attempts to complete its undefeated ranking at Wayne university of Detroit, Mich.

CHURCH NEWS

LSA

The Rev. Richard Evanson will be the guest speaker at the regular "Quest" meeting of the LSA Sunday, November 5th, at 5:30 p.m. in the college "Y" auditorium.

Rev. Evanson is serving as youth pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church in Moorhead.

An LSA choir will also be organized Sunday at 4:30 p.m. under the leadership of Barbara Paulson.

A 9 o'clock Bible study breakfast will be held Sunday morning under the direction of Jim Onstad of downtown Fargo.

Hi-Noon Focus held every Monday through Friday includes "The Mind's Adventure", "Doctrine Digest", "Campus Comments", "Guest Chaplain", and "The Gospel in the News" at its 12:30 meetings. Lunch is also served at 12 o'clock noon.

Another Bible cell has been added to the present four. Ten girls were present at the first cell study in the Dakota hall lounge. Evelyn Tuff, counselor, is a reference person for the group. Regular cell studies will be held every Thursday evening from 9:30 to 10:30 p.m.

The LSA Clothing drive is now underway. Help is needed for canvassing and collecting. All those interested in service are asked to contact Leo Benz, chairman.

An all-college roller skating party at the Fargo Arena will be held Friday, November 3rd. Transportation will be provided from the LSA Center at 7:30 p.m. The skating will be followed with a program and lunch in the Center.

JOHN ROBINSON CLUB

The John Robinson club will meet Sunday evening in the Plymouth Congregational church at 6:30 for a fellowship supper and meeting.

The discussion will be led by Jack Wenberg. Rubin Landsiedel will lead the devotions.

A hayride is being planned for Nov. 12.

NEWMAN CLUB

There will be no Newman club meeting Sunday evening. The NDAC Newman club has been invited to Valley City to hear Father Cowley from the University of Minnesota talk at a supper to be put on by that club.

The supper will begin at 5:30 and cars will leave from the chapel early so there will be time to get acquainted with some of the Valley City students. If you have a car to take take to Valley City or if you want to go come to the Chapel and sign up.

"EASIEST TEST IN THE BOOK"

Everybody's doing it

COMPARE CHESTERFIELD WITH ANY OTHER CIGARETTE!

BEFORE YOU SMOKE THEM

...you can tell Chesterfields will smoke milder, because tobaccos that smell milder smoke milder.

AFTER YOU SMOKE THEM

...you have no unpleasant after-taste.

WHILE YOU SMOKE THEM you get more pleasure than any other cigarette can give you—that's why millions of smokers say: THEY SATISFY.
