ried air and an absorbed expression, a bundle of old clothing under on arm and a clip board with a long list of "Things To Do" under the other—you may be fairly certain that he is Leo Benz, chairman of the annual LSA Clothing Drive.

Leo is a senior from Dunn Center, N. Dak., and is enrolled in agricultural engineering at NDAC. Always active in Lutheran student activities, Leo, this year, was meted the task of heading the annual clothing drive.

Leo is taking the words of the Rev. L. M. Larsen, president of the Fargo-Moorhead Lutheran Pastors Union, seriously when the later stressed the importance of the drive by stating, "Every car-

Arnold Air Society Will Initiate 54

Fifty-four members will be initiated into the Bernard F. Bennison squadron of the Arnold Air society tonight at 6:15 in the Town hall of the Gardner hotel.

Following the ceremony a banquet will be held at which Dr. C. H. Klakeg of the Veterans hospital staff will speak.

Betty Lou Kerr will give reading for the group. Piano and vocal selections will also be heard.

Tomorrow morning members of the organization are scheduled to fly to Rapid City AFB, S. D. to inspect the construction of the B-36 type runways and hangars. Other base facilities pertinent to the advanced cadet's study of air installations also will be viewed.

Diabetic Drive Set For November 12-18

The National Diabetic Detection drive will get underway next week. Tuesday, Nov. 14, and Wednesday Nov. 15, have been assigned to the college for student checkups. All students interested may report to the Student Health Center between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. on these two dates.

All students other than those who had physical examinations this fall are urged to report for a checkup.

If you see a fellow with a hur- load gathered here will help thousands over there". It is Leo's task to co-ordinate the efforts of Luther League representatives of the eight participating Fargo-Moor-head churches with those of the NDAC, MSTC, and Concordia LSAs. Frequent meetings of these representatives have been held the past week to discuss zoning and various other problems.

> The project is being backed by the Lutheran Brotherhood Federation of Fargo-Moorhead which has offered its services. In addition to the churches of Fargo-Moorhead, all interested churches in the state are also taking part.

> Members of the drive have started their house-to-house canvassing during the past week. The drive will go into completion at the end of this month in order that shipment can take place by December 2nd. The clothes will be shipped by rail to Lutheran World Relief.

> Leo states that the need is pecially great for warm clothing. bedding, blankets, and shoes. All contributions, however, will mean much to those who have so little. It is also requested that the clothes be cleaned beforehand.

> Collections can be left in the Lutheran student center or will be picked up by the workers. Dial

Historic Stone To Be Installed In Student Union

A stone from the White House in Washington will add an historic touch to the NDAC Student union it was announced this week.

The building material has been made available because of the remodeling of the presidential mansion. Available only to public institutions, the stone was procured through the efforts of Rep. Usher

Union board president A. Glenn Hill said that the stone will probably be incorporated in a fireplace located in the student lounge. Hill stated that several other features besides the White House stone are being planned for the Union building.

Giesecke To Direct '51 Summer School

Dr. G. Ernest Giesecke, dean of the school of applied arts and sciences, has been appointed acting director for the 1951 summer session at NDAC, President Fred S. Hultz has announced.

Dean Giesecke will fill the position left vacant by the resignation of Dr. Ray T. Wendland, professor of chemistry, who is recuperating from a serious illness.

In addition to his duties as dean, Dr. Giesecke is director of the North Dakota Institute for Regional Studies which was established in March by the faculty of the arts and sciences school.

He came to the NDAC campus Aug. 1, 1949, to replace the late A. E. Minard as dean. A native Texan, Giesecke took his undergraduate and graduate work at Stanford university. He spent a year at the University of Marburg, Germany, on a fellowship awarded by the Institue of International Education.

Library To Install Microfilm Equipment For Periodicals

to be more efficient is planning to install microfilm equipment for periodicals to conserve much needed storage space.

Mr. Stallings pointed out the practicality of having microfilm equipment in the new library. Aside from saving storage space, it will also conserve money over a period of years, and some out of print volumes can be obtained which prove valuable for history.

The micro cards will be filed much the same as the cards in the card catalogue are, so they will be accessible to the students.

The library can obtain microfilm copies of periodicals by subscription to the regular paper edition, which is received monthly or quarterly, and then subscribing to University Microfilms for a

The Editor Reports . . .

The Associated Collegiate Press convention held in Chicago last weekend was a success as representation was better than anticipated. A total of 613 delegates from 261 publications representing 169 schools from 35 states attended the convention. Of the 613 delegates 93 were from yearbooks, 156 from newspapers, and 12 from magazines. The Bison and Spectrum editors represented NDAC.

Outstanding speakers and experts in all phases of college publications led roundtable discussion on every aspect of newspaper and yearbook publication for both editors and business managers. The discussions brought out many problems and headaches on every publication, and without exception we had plenty of them,

Most of the problems were the same. The primary dilemma of the majority of newspapers was in securing a staff. STAFF—another small word with a big meaning.

Many schools encouraged students to join their newspaper staffs by offering them from one to four credits, depending on their staff gone but I bet a lot of people don't remember Roy or his horse Trigbut also increased initiative within the staff.

Such a system would be impractical here because of the fact that of Dale Evans advertising the from 4 to 6. there is no journalism department to speak of at this college. There show proves what the public went are four journalism courses, totaling 12 credit hours, listed in the to see College Catalog under the English department. However, NEITHER the courses NOR the credit hours count toward a major or even a minor in English to say nothing of a possible minor in journalism ALL of the school represented had a minor in journalism at least! The increased enrollment this quarter in these few journalism classes should be evidence enough of the interest in journalism on this campus. Somebody-wake up! This school needs a journalism department and a minor in journalism. A journalism department would solve the staff problem and a

This is going to be the most successful season that the Bison have had for a couple of years.

Although two victories aren't very much, it's better than no wins at all.

There wasn't too much comment before the Herd made its westward trek to Glendive. Nobody knew any too much about the Montana State club, and it was thought that the Bobcats would have a powerhouse as they have had for a number of years.

Well, the Wenskunas crew showed the 'Cats that they could be a team to be reckoned with, and handed them a handy 27-0 trouncing. The boys must have been fired up for the occasion, as they came roaring through to hold a 21-0 halftime lead, but on this occasion, the Bison didn't let down on this occasion.
