Offer Regular Appointments To Air Force ROTC Cadets

Moore

Hall

Gores

Three NDAC seniors, Cadet Officers in the advanced Air Force ROTC program, have been offered appointments as second lieutenants in the regular component of the U.S. Air Force according to an announcement by Major Robert E. Phillips, USAF, Professor of Air Science and Tactics.

Major Phillips stated that the men, Vernon D. Gores and Marshall W. Moore of Fargo, and Leo W. Hall of Cass Lake, Minn., are possessed of the qualities desired by the USAF in its officers. "They have consistently displayed outstanding ability in leadership and academic attainment, and were selected for this reason", he said.

Gores and Moore, civil engineer majors, have applied for pilot training, and upon graduation in June will be assigned to flight school. Hall, a student in the school of pharmacy, will enter the Air Force Medical Service career field.

Electrical Engineering Department Completes Illuminations Laboratory

The electrical engineering department announced the their new illuminations laboratory has been completed and is now in use.

Preliminary planning of the laboratory by E.E. department staff members, Robert N. Faiman and Edwin A. Anderson, was started over a year ago, with construction being completed last December.

New equipment in the laboratory includes a Bar photometer, Sphere photometer, Lukiesh-Taylor brightness meter, Luckiesh-Moss visibility indicator, and photoelectric illumination meters.

A study of illumination engineering requires ability to use proper laboratory techniques. Although a course in illumination has been offered for several years, laboratory facilities have not been available prior to this time.

Illumination study is required of electrical engineering students in power option. In addition the course has been taken by students from several other schools on the campus. The E. E. department encourages any students interested in illumination to consult them.

The course is being conducted this term by Prof. Harry S. Dixon, chairman of the electrical engineering department.

Don Stewart Is Immune To Stage Fright

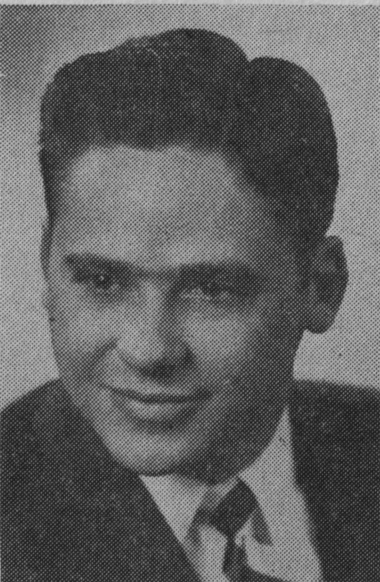

By BETTY LOU DANIELSON

"King of clowns—leave the stage at once," orders Don Stewart as he stalks on stage in the first act of Cyrano de Bergerac. Dressed in French 17th century court costumes Don will play the lead as Cyrano, the famous swordsman with the ugly nose.

This business of acting is nothing new to Don. He portrayed a colonel in the LCT production of "Se How They Run" yast year and a bit part in Peer Gynt. In high school he took part in both the junior and senior class plays.

"I never have stage fright" Don commented as he relaxed at the theatre before rehearsals in blue jeans and an orange sport-shirt. "Before the performance I just don't think of the play. After my first few lines I forget the audience entirely."

Don was born in Tolna, North Dakota and went to school at Towner. After his freshman year at the NDAC he served a two-year hitch with the army medical corps. Don is now a senior enrolled in Arts and Science. "Looks like it will be the army again after graduation," observed Don.

Since Don portrays a feared swordsman he had to take a few fencing lessons. "We learned how to salute and flash our swords a little bit."

Don's an easy-going person with few dislikes. He likes Shakespeare and questioned, while crossing his hands over his chest, "Partying is a pretty good hobby, don't you think?" An ATO, he recently hung his pin on Gamma Phi Mary Carol Twetten.

At for the play he exclaimed, "Cyrano is a beautiful play, the finest I've ever read." His favorite line is in Act II when he explains why he doesn't make friends.

A four day stay at the student health center cut down rehearsal time. Although Don ran a high temperature, doctors couldn't determine what was wrong with him. "They keep taking blood samples from me. Hope I have enough left to carry me on stage."

Architect Head Conducts Survey

Walter A. Taylor, director of the department of education and research of the American Institute of Architecture, Washington D. C., will talk to NDAC students on Feb. 6. This scientific survey includes such items as the vital importance of qualified architects to national defense, draft status of architectural students and the effect on national defense.

Taylor will be honored at a luncheon at Ceres hall Tuesday noon and will address NDAC students at 2:30 p.m. in Room 22 of the Engineering building. His topic will be "What the American Institute of Architects Means to the Profession."

Knute Henning, chairman of the NDAC architecture department, said that Taylor will arrive Monday and leave Fargo Wednesday for the west coast.

Community Theatre To Conduct Tryouts Tonight, Tomorrow

Public tryouts for musical acts interested in appearing in the Fargo-Moorhead Community theater's "Riverboat Revue" will be held Friday evening and Saturday afternoon in WDAY studios, according to William Oliver, director.

Hours Friday will be 7:30-8:30 p.m. Hours Saturday afternoon will be 1:30-4:00 p.m. in the Black building studio, Oliver said.

The tavern revue will be offered for nine performances in Moose hall, Fargo, beginning Feb. 22. Nightly performances will be given, except for Sunday, Feb. 25.

"We have a place for any type of musical talent, vocal and instrumental," Oliver pointed out. "Also we have need for six girls to fill a chorus line. Some singing ability is required, but dance routines will not be difficult."

College acts of all sorts will be welcomed at the public tryouts, Oliver said.

The variety show will include comedy sketches, quartet singing, dancing, community singing, and special numbers by a number of local artists. Refreshments will be served at the tables.

Public sale of a limited number of tickets will be announced soon, Oliver stated.

Professor McClure, who is head of the architecture school at the University of Minnesota and secretary of the Minneapolis chapter of the American Institute of Architecture, is well-known for his contemporary residential and furniture designs as well as crafts. The Minnesota educator is the author of "Study of Architectural Design" which has been adopted as the class text of many institutions offering work in architecture.

He is being brought to NDAC campus by the department of architecture and Kappa Tau Delta honorary architecture fraternity. He will give an illustrated talk on contemporary architecture at 3:30 p.m. in Room 33 of the Engineering building. The general public is invited.

From Brevities Past

Man On The Street, Local Broadcaster Wrote '40 Brevities

Roy Pedersen

(Ed. note—This is the third in a series of stories about NDAC alumni who have figured prominently in past Bison Brevities productions.)

Roy C. Pedersen, familiar to local radio listeners as the "Man on the Street", wrote the 1940 Bison Brevities production, "The Blue Key Turns".

Born in Buffalo, N. D., Pedersen was educated in the Fargo school system and graduated from NDAC in the school of AAS in 1941. He played the comedy lead part in the 1938 Brevities, "Tangerine", and did publicity and dramatic work in the 1939 and 1941 shows.

His campus activities included LCT and membership in Edwin Booth club, Blue Key and Theta Chi. During his college years, he did part time announcing for radio station WDAY and was active in M.C. and dramatic work in the community.

Pedersen served with the 3rd Armored division in World War II. Following the war he joined the staff of WDAY as a time salesman and was recently promoted to promotion director for the station. He is married and has one child.

Stallings At Meeting

H. Dean Stallings, librarian at NDAC, is attending the annual mid-winter meeting of the American Library association at Chicago Jan. 29 to Feb. 3.

Stallings has been picked as one of three librarians to give a talk on facilities during the American College and Research Library building section meeting. His subject will deal with the "Practical Library for a Technological College".

Carnival Tonight Highlights WSSF Drive

Last week's faculty basketball game and this week's campus carnival mark another world Student Service Fund campaign. Since 1943 the WSSF has aided thousands of needy students and schools in war devastated countries with four Christian principles in mind.

The Fund has been administered along sound economic lines, money has not been given outright but rather it has been used as capital to start self-help enterprises, relief was extended without regard to race, creed, nationality, or any other criterion than opportunity and proven need, and fourthly, the Fund has been operated with the view of developing human personal contacts.

NDAC students have contributed nearly $1000 to the Fund in the past three years, and they've gained a lot of fun and entertainment from the auctions, basketball games, and carnivals. Tonight's carnival gives students another opportunity to invest in fun as well as a worthy cause.—R.R.

Library Will Remain Closed During Convos

There have been murmurs of dissent in the past months regarding the policy of the library regarding convocations. The library has, in the past years, remained closed during all convocations. This policy will continue to be enforced according to Mr. Stallings.

The stand of the school is that if the library remained open during convocation it would keep many students away from the assembly.

Pharmacy Students Plan Tour In East

A group of junior and senior pharmacy students are making plans for their annual spring tour of various pharmaceutical industries in the east.

At Indianapolis, Indiana, they will be guests of the Eli Lilly and company, one of the largest pharmaceutical industries in the country. Here they will visit farms where cows and horses are raised for sources of serum.

The trip will last six days and will cover approximately eighteen hundred miles.

On Other Campuses

By ANN BECK

Have you ever wondered what is happening on other campuses? Surprising as it may seem, the average NDAC student knows little or nothing of the activities of other colleges and universities. To counteract this situation here are a few glances into other schools.

At the University of Wisconsin a Professor Howard Gill of the sociology department asked for provisions for romance "free from snooping campus policemen".

However, these privileges were to be extended only to couples on the basis of "their sense of responsibility, maturity of love, and their discrimination."

Furthermore, he suggested areas be set up on campus, plus private visiting rooms in dormitories, to give romantic couples privacy. How about that!

Miami university card sharks gathered together for the Panhellenic "Hoyle Holliday" bridge party. Door prizes, score prizes, and refreshments were featured at the party. There was also a fashion show highlighting the latest fashions modeled by a representative from each sorority.

Profits from this affair went to benefit the foreign students on campus. $1.20 was the admission fee.

For the first time in the history of the University of Alabama a senior mass meeting was held to cast vote as to whether to continue the practice of having commencement speakers. A shorter and more impressive ritual ceremony could be instituted to replace the speaker. This would keep the ceremony within a practical length of time and still leave time to dole out the degrees individually.

union dancing room at U. A. has been approved. The room will be financed by the student union reserve fund, paid by each student at registration. The dance floor would be less expensive than the surrounding night clubs and would serve the entertainment desires of students who do not have cars.

The same college also has a student court which takes care of the traffic violators on the campus. Notices call for attendance in court or payment of the fines imposed on them by the court. Due to the students who defy notice to appear before court, the idea of warrants may be used in the near future.

keting club conducted a survey on the 4,400 non resident students' yearly expenditures. The results of the poll showed the average cost per student was $1,494, 41 per cent of which was used for food and rent. Also, the survey revealed that men spent twice as much money on clothes as women. The survey did not include money paid into the University for books, tuition, and fees.

Letter To The Editor

"I am sure that Mr. Lunde would prefer that I do not delve into the real reasons that the election was protested and also in some of the pre-election activities of this SAME GROUP." This broad statement without basis or explanation of fact, puts my name in jeopardy by easily leading people to imagine things that are non-existent. "Like anything else based upon emotions and attitudes, a misrepresentation was made in last week's letter to the editor."

Nevertheless it is a pleasure to find a student interested enough to comment on my letter of Jan. 19, because the purpose was to arouse the stagnant student interest in school elections. Now that elections are over it has become a dead issue, but I cannot pass without commenting to my critic, Stan Carlson.

First of all I want it understood that I have no grievance with the Student Commission. They are doing their job to the best of their ability, and I think they will go along with me in my desire to give their activities the proper publication in the Spectrum, rather than the bulletin board at Old Main. Maybe we should discontinue the paper and all read bulletin boards, Stan?

The poorly informed Mr. Carlson stated, in effect, that the election was thrown over by a minority group of eight persons; thus imposing on the democratic rights of the remaining 1952 students. I find it quite amusing to believe that we have such a "spirited" student body determined to see the first election as such.

I also happen to know that a petition by a definite number was not necessary so the random number of eight was acquired merely to give it strength. I feel quite certain that the majority of the student body would underwrite the protest if approached. This would involve unnecessary effort when it is clear that even one person has the right to see that the constitution is adhered to. This "minorities" action, I believe deserves credit rather than disparagement for bringing to light a constitution that can be loosely interpreted. It resulted in action to rewrite the document which I'm sure is NOT "an attempt to circumvent the wishes of the majority of the students."

Mr. Carlson sees organizational spirit rather than school spirit, well call it what you may, but I'm happy to at least see spirit in this institution. I realize it would be better for every person to individually rise in protest, but so impractical. I might mention that even spirit at athletic contests is organized and enlivened by an organization.

The election is over, but the constitution is still in need of revision. If Mr. Carlson has any more energy to expend, I suggest that he direct it toward the Bison Boundries booklet which contains the constitution.

Student Commission Minutes

Jan. 30, 1951

The meeting was called to order by Rhalph Christiansen. The roll was called. Freeh was absent. The minutes of the last meeting were read. The correction was made that Dr. Johnsgard had made the request for the identical correction asked for by Pres. Hultz prior to the reading of Pres. Hultz's letter. Biggs asked that the figure $350,000 be changed to $250,000 as the amount accumulated in the Student Union fund. Minutes were approved as corrected. Dr. Johnsgard asked that the secretary present quotes from letters and etc. to the Student Commission before incorporating them in the minutes.

The Military Ball Committee was not present for a report on the Military Ball. Bristol was asked to contact Gilbertson immediately and request a report at the next meeting.

First drafts of the Teacher Evaluation plan as to be presented to the College Council were passed out to members of the Student Commission. Members were advised to read and make note of any changes to be made before the next meeting.

Bob Johnson reported on progress made in revision of the Constitution. Changes are largely contained to the portion of the Constitution referring to the Board of Campus Affairs. Christensen asked that a diagram be drawn up to show division of authority to each board. Christiansen stated that changes in the Constitution must be approved by the College Council and passed by a 2-3 vote of the Student Commission or petitioned by 10% of the student body before the change can be voted on in a general election. Discussion was held on the holding of a Library Lounge forum on elections and constitution change. Discussion was held on getting more qualified people on the boards.

Tewksbury stated that the Board of Music had asked for $150 to help cover cost of the band tour which is to begin February 13. It was decided to wait decision on the matter until McCalley could make a complete report of the finances of the Board of Music.

Tewksbury stated that two applications had been received for the vacancy in the Board of Finance: Jane Shea and Jean Davis. The Board of Finance suggested the approval of Ellen Jane Shea. McCalley moved that the Student Commission approve the appointment of Miss Shea to the senior position on the Board of Finance. Seconded by Bristol. Motion carried.

McCalley suggest that all boards receiving funds from the activity ticket, make financial reports to the Student Commission. Discussion was held on the matter.

Meeting adjourned.

"I'd say something to Professor Snarf, only Lord knows we're not paying our teachers enough."

The Ballpoint

By BOB JOHNSON

With some people still complaining about the 3 buck bite the Military Ball took out of their pockets it might be worthwhile to mention that facts about the same type brawl being held at So. Dak. U sometime in April. Tex Benecke and his boys will play to the tune of 4.80 per duo. Ouch! And they're getting the same fee as Dorsey. Perhaps Vermillion doesn't have a local ballroom to contend with. (OK so we wouldn't have had a big name band etc. etc.)

Rapid Robert Runice came in this week with a small note and threatened all but blackmail if it wasn't printed, so here it is.

Friend Johnson—

Re: your squip last week in Ballpoint about Henry Russell and my red face. Last minute information did reveal that Russell was not an NDAC student but he and his late brother Maurice (an NDAC student) did write the powerful Brevities show of 1933.

My face was never as red as was yours a couple of weeks ago when your antics at an across-the-river coke and phosphate parlor were recounted. (The Score please copy.)

Bob Runice P. S. This letter proves that someone besides Jim Schrimpf reads your column.

Thanks, Bob, for calling my attention to the fact that someone beside the Schrimpf reads my column. As to my escapades, they are mine and not for publication, please.

Understand one instructor, who evidently has trouble holding his students attention, recently went so far as to give a cash award to a student who finally came up with a correct answer.

Poultrymen on campus have been eyeing the almost completed structure over on 12th street. Seems it is just the thing for a double decker laying house what with the little square windows and all.

Because of what was stated in last week's Score, Johnson is now running a "Queen of all the girls who haven't been queen of a darn thing!!" contest. So, men, if your date hasn't been queen of anything yet, submit her picture to me and watch for the results of the contest in next week's paper. A picture of the winner will appear in this column. A registration fee of 5 bucks must accompany all pictures. Fee will be returned to all entrants except the winner. Don't rush please.

According to a local newscaster, an alum by the way, the Little International will feature a Co-ed Milking contest tomorrow night. This I gotta see!!!

Something must have happened to Buddy Schrimpf this week. Honest, Jim, I didn't mean to hurt your feelings.

Industry Needs Graduate Engineers

Under the caption "Shortage of engineers grows critical as the defense program expands", the Wall Street Journal of Jan. 18 carries an optimistic employment forecast for graduation engineers. The article reprinted in full states:

"Industry clamors for design men experienced in plant layout, experimental and testing work. E. I. duPont has a hiring crew roving from city to city seeking 300 men in 16 different fields. This week in Cleveland their drive collided with a campaign by Union Carbide & Carbon for its Oak Ridge, Tennessee plant. Next week DuPont starts recruiting in New York, where Union Carbide has its headquarters.

The U. S. needs 30,000 new engineers annually to replace those who die or retire. But 1951 will be the last year for some time that many emerge from the colleges. By 1954 only 12,400 engineers will receive sheepskins. Student registration in engineering courses has slumped from a peak of 226,000 in 1948 to 83,000 now.

Most companies want experienced men worth salaries of $10,000 per year or more. But even recent graduates can command up to $100 per week."

With a new engineering building slated for construction this summer, NDAC will be in an even better position to play its role of supplying engineers to meet the nation's needs.—R.R.

Social Jottings

By LOIS FITZLOFF

Now that we've been officially labeled as Little Siberia, we can settle down and wait for Spring. Think it will ever come?

Tonight it will be more fun if you go stag to the WSSF carnival dance sponsored by Blue Key. The kissing booth is back for business along with the taxi dance one.

On Saturday there are two big events vying for honors. ATO's have planned a gala dinner dance, very formal, at the Frederick Martin hotel. Also featured that night will be the Little International. I hear that Queen Nola Westman is going to make her grand entrance on a horse. You girls should be interested in the style show to be presented in the afternoon at 2:00.

Pledging Kappa Delta last Monday was Jacolyn Brekken who claims Hawley, Minnesota as her home town. Jackie is a freshman in home economics.

KAT's initiated Lila Jean Lucas, Joan Haberman, and Harriet Amble, all of Wahpeton; Mary Honl of Portland, Oregon; and Jeanine Von Berkom of Powers Lake, North Dakota. A dinner following the initiation was given by their sorority mothers.

SAE's entertained the Thetas at a hard times party Wednesday. Last Wednesday the Thetas got together with the Kappa Psi's.

LaVonne Sommers received Gordon Tollerud's AGR pin. All the women are celebrating the event. ATO's and Phi Mu's spent Wednesday evening together. Phi Mu Orilla McGill went active. Congratulations!

KKG's Mary Pat Murphy and Marlowe Gronberg went active last Saturday. Big news around the Kappa house is the pinning of pledge Joan McKenzie by ATO Ron Grothe.

Gals, better get ready for a big blow. The Charity Ball is coming up Feb. 10 and it's your turn to do the asking.

Pledges from all the fraternities and sororities will be guests of the KD's at a party today from 4 to 6 at the Kappa Delta house.

Buzzy Barr recently hung his SPD pin on Mary Dueck. Eight Sigma Phi Delt's went active and they included Jerry Dickman, Don Wahlgren, Elvin Isgrig, Bill Richards, Dick Turner, Ronald Favorite, Art Stennes, and Al Harth. New pledges are Clarence Rothfusz, Dalton Brightbill, Wesley Hodges, Don Jacobsen, Eugene Lehmann, and Leo Wanzek.

Joe Peltier, SAE, pinned Norma Skunes from Grandin, N. D. More cigars were passed out by Earle Crissman who hung his SAE pin on Fern Hartzell, student at College of the Sequoias in California.

Gene Leupp of Stanton and John Hagen of Reeder pledged SAE recently.

Alpha Gamma Rho's entertained the Gamma Phi's at a supper social hour at their house last Tuesday.

Joining the active ranks at the Alpha Gam house are Joann Johnson, Elizabeth Jones, Paula Swain, Rhoda Israelson, and Dorothy Pederson. They also were together with the AGR's last Friday afternoon.

Good luck on Brevities! With all the practicing scheduled the AC might as well be little Broadway. What a day Feb. 20 will be when tryouts are conducted.

Local card sharks are placing much hope in the materialization of the Student Union building.

Soon NDAC may be able to follow the pattern set by South Dakota State, which is planning whist and pinochle games. NDU is also sponsoring bridge tournaments.

We doubt, though, if intra-school poker tournaments will ever be supported from every faction.

Civil Defense Program Set Up For NDAC

Festival Hall will be bombed on March 5 during the practice run of Fargo's civil defense program.

Under the program NDAC is considered a section and is divided into blocks. North court is divided into 5 blocks, North West trailer court is 1, the school moderns 1, and the school trailers 1.

There will be a warden in charge of each block who will be well acquainted with people and conditions. Each large, steam heated building will be under the care of one or more custodians. Norman Seim has been appointed section supervisor for the campus and will officiate over the wardens and custodians.

In addition to the wardens there will also be a campus utility team of plumbers, carpenters, mechanics, and truck drivers. This team will be mobilized and able to reach any block or building that has been damaged to make the necessary repairs and help speed evacuation.

Fargo Fire Chief, Fred G. Wells, says that local fires will be taken care of by the block wardens and volunteers and sends out an appeal for all men with previous fire fighting experience to turn their names in to him.

Ag Engineers Club Plan Machine Display At LI

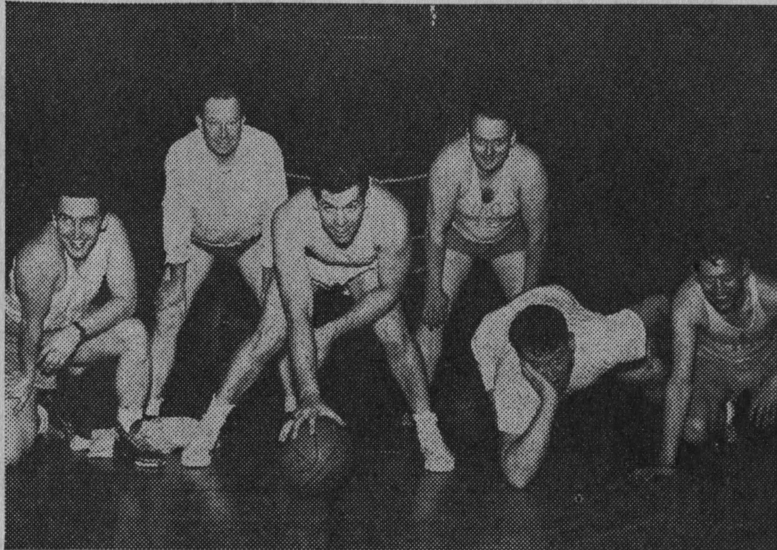

The annual machine show, sponsored by the Agricultural Engineering club, will be held tomorrow (Feb. 3) in connection with the Little International. The machine show will be held in the maintenance building, and will be open to everyone from 1:00 to 5 p.m.

The show will include demonstrations of many modern machines, exhibits of different ideas in farm structures, and also some of the possibilities in farm conveniences.

Ralph Hansen, club president, reports that many new machines will be demonstrated by members of the club. Among these machines will be a liquid petroleum burning tractor, and several types of sprayers. The tractor is of special interest since it burns a gas which is similar to the gas used in household furnaces and stoves, and is often referred to as bottled gas.

It appears that the club is planning an exceptional show, and it should prove very interesting. It will give us an opportunity to see what the agricultural engineers are doing to improve agriculture throughout the state.

Fatmen Defeated 33-28 In Comical Faculty WSSF Game

THE DEFEATED FATMEN, but not defeated in purpose. The above faculty stars were among the celebrated Fat Men who were edged by the Thin Men, around 33-28—no scorebook was kept, so the exact tabulation will probably never be known. The game was held as part of the WSSF drive. The front line, left to right, are Capt. John Augis, football coach Mac Wenskunas, J. Frank Cassel, and Capt. E. F. Poff. Back, Capt. Cecil H. Best and Dick Witz.

Martinson's Donate Gems To Geology Dept.

Martinson's jewelry store recently donated a group of precious stones used in jewelry to the geology museum of NDAC. The polished gems include two blue-green zircons, a red coral, a white fire opal, a blue green fire opal, a natural pearl, and a piece of thompsonite. The fire opals come from Mexico and Australia and are relatively rare.

The unpolished fire opals, garnets, agates, and native gold and silver the same company donated are semi-precious.

THE FARGO FORUM

OFFICIATING MAKES GAME INTERESTING FOR PLAYERS

The basketball officials this season are certainly making things interesting for the players. Seems as if the fans are always griping about something or other, but when the players on the floor looked surprised after some of the calls, you realize how much the whistle-blowers vary.

One time they'll clamp down and call neck-breathing, while other times they don't see the rabbit-punching under the basket.

There have been games at the Field house when the foul totals have been almost unbelievable, yet the game had not been out of control.

The varsity returned from the three-game trip Jan. 19-22 with stories of the rat race at Iowa Teachers.

Here's what Chuck Coyne said in his From The Bench column in The College Eye, ISTC weekly:

The Panther's 50-39 win Jan. 22 "brought back memoirs of the grid season. North Dakota (State) displayed some of the roughest tactics I have seen. . . I even felt that the refereeing left something to be desired."

NOBODY GRABBING ON

Some Bison players told of one incident when six players were on the floor at once during the rush for a loose ball.

And when asked why he'd missed an easy lay-up shot, one player answered something to the effect that he'd been anticipating a Panther hand grabbing onto his arm as he went up for the shot. Nothing happened and the shooter was confused—didn't know what to do.

TOP-NOTCH TILT

The Morningside-Bison tilt Monday should be a top-notch affair.

The classy Maroons will be the best team on the Bison court this season. Five veteran players, including two top-flight stars, are on the Morningside roster, and fans can expect a lot of fireworks.

Dick Wiedenfeld, former all-NCC center, is 6-6 and is being lauded for Little All-American cage honors, according to a conference paper. His scoring has been among the best in the loop, and his bankboarding has been his best weapon.

And from stories around the loop, he has the sharpest elbows, too.

Doug Gresham, the 6-4 forward who became eligible this season, is the finest ball-handler in the circuit. His fancy tactics should make an interesting night of basketball activity here Monday.

Maybe not successful, but interesting.

LAW OF AVERAGE CATCHES UP WITH THREE LOSSES

Lady Luck frowned at this prognosticator last Saturday as the law of averages sent us reeling with three straight misgivings. But we named the Bison upset of S. D. State and the SDU surprise over Iowa Teachers, so it didn't turn out too bad.

The dreaded North Dakota trip for the southern teams in the loop looms for title aspirants. The team that wins both tilts here and at Grand Forks will certainly be in line for the NCC crown.

Now Morningside runs the gauntlet, playing NDU tomorrow eve and meeting the Bison at the Fieldhouse Monday. They will do the trick—they will win both games, although by no large margin.

The previous 3-3 week brings the LIMB score at 21 right, six wrong (not including last night's game with MSTC).

SDU over Augustana (revenge tonight; Morningside to shade NDU and Iowa Teachers to beat S. D. State (at Cedar Falls, Iowa, of course) Saturday; Morningside to nip our own Bison Monday; and S. D. State to defeat Augustana Tuesday.

Only the fact that the home teams have lost twice in 23 conference games leaves us wondering about the Maroon's test this weekend.

The Bison meet Cook Sign Tuesday night at 7 and face MSTC on Thursday eve at the Island park rink.

In games last week the Herd skaters were to play Detroit Lakes and Cook Sign on Tuesday and Thursday.

Cook Sign Co. whipped the Bison, 13-1, Jan. 23, for its fourth straight win. It was the third Herd loss in 4 games.

The Bison will play in the Jack Frost Winter carnival hockey tournament beginning on Feb. 15. The first-round play will also count in the league standings. Second-round play will be held on Friday, Feb. 16, with the finals on Sunday, Feb. 18.

Trophies will be awarded to the first and second place sextets.

The Bison won their second game of the season, downing the Detroit Lakes Rangers, 3-2, Tuesday. Dick Kloubec, Bill Johnson, and Warren Frank scored the goals while George Long had two assists.

Thin Men Defeat Fatties By 33-28 In WSSF Drive Faculty Cage Tilt

First Bowling Revealed In Ancient Paderborn

By BEVERLY THORSTENSON

Bowling was first revealed in the ancient chronicles of Paderborn, telling of the cloisters of Cathedrals.

It was the custom of the canons to have parishioners, in turn, place their pins at one end of the cloister. This represented the "Heide," meaning heathen. The parishioner then was given a ball and asked to throw it at the Heide.

If a hit was scored, the thrower was leading a clean and pure life and was capable of slaying the heathen; if he missed, it meant that a more faithful attendance at services was necessary to better his aim.

At the conclusion of all such tests a dinner was given and the successful "Keglers" were praised and toasted. The failures were encouraged to try a little later on. All of this, according to Pehle, originated as early as the third and fourth centuries.

Today bowling is one of the most popular sports for all age groups. The women students who participate in bowling at NDAC are much enthused with the class. There are 15 girls participating two days each week for one hour.

Miss Beatrice Wartchow is class instructor and stresses the throwing form rather than rolling for high scores. She also stresses spot bowling because the position of the ball as it hits the alley causes the success or failure of the beginning bowler.

Bowling also has grown nationally in the past years. In 1901 the American Bowling congress conducted its first national championship tournament in Chicago. A total of 228,537 games were rolled off during the 62 days of the event.

What is considered by many observers to be the toughest basketball team in the North Central conference comes to the Field house Monday at 8.

Morningside's Maroons, pre-season circuit favorites, face the Bison in the third meeting of the season between the two quintets. The Maroons have won the first two games, at the conference tournament, 65-56, and during a regular season's game at Sioux City, 75-55, the worst licking thus far for the Herd.

Coach A. W. Buckingham's Iowa cagers have piled up an 11-4 record thus far, twice to Iowa Teachers, once to Westmar college of LeMars, Iowa, in a 53-51 upset, and to S. D. State, 68-64, in the tournament final.

The Bison split with the Maroons last season, dropping the first, 58-48, and winning the second, 49-47. The Sioux City team had a 7-5 NCC record last season for a third-place tie in the standings.

Morningside brings here the classiest team in the conference, paced by center Dick Wiedenfeld, who was a 1948-49 all-NCC player, and Doug Gresham, 6-4 Manitoba university of Winnipeg transfer. Gresham is probably the cleverest ball-handler in the loop this season.

Other top performers are Bob (Red) Norris, Ray Barry, Loren Moll, Ken File, and Bob Brock.

Besides attempting to avenge the two previous losses at the hands of the Maroons, the Bison will be out to duplicate last season's winning streak of seven in a late season home stand.

The Bison have won all four home games thus far and have a 6-10 record, 2-5 in the circuit.

Shooters Beat Guard, Lose To S. D. State

One up and one down is the result of the last two matches fired by the ROTC Rifle team.

George Kuffle was high man for the NDAC team as it was defeated 1783-1764 by South Dakota State.

The team won a shoulder to shoulder match with the 178th Fighter Squadron of the Air National Guard. Score: NDAC 1298; Guard 1245.

Next match, other than postal, is a return shoot with S. D. State, this time in the home range.

Fougner Tops Averages

Don Excels In Four Sports; Jim Born On Cattle Ranch

Donald Wayne Fougner, one of the Bison's promising sophomore basketball stars, is quite an athlete. He has excelled in every sport but table tennis, and maybe that next.

Don is 21 and a product of Williston high school where his records and feats are a tradition. Just look at these accomplishments:

• He was named on the all-state basketball team three times by virtue of his high-scoring and defensive feats. Don led the 1948 Coyotes to the Class A championship from his center slot.

• He won all-state football honors twice on the first star eleven and once on the second team. He starred at end in his sophomore year and then won first-team recognition as a hard-driving left halfback in the next two seasons.

• He won the state shot putting trials twice and was runnerup once. He set a state record of 51-5. He won the North Dakota high school javelin throw twice and was second in the discus event once.

• He pitched for the Williston Red Sox baseball entry in the Northwest amateur league and hurled several 5-hitters.

Need more be said but that Don has his eyes set on a physical education major. But, as is the case with many in this time of national emergency, he is "very available" to the draft demands.

ONLY MARRIED BISON

Don is the only married member of the Bison squad. He began his wedded bliss in September with a high school sweetheart, the former Miss Carmen Kinstler of Williston.

Don was graduated from Williston in 1949 and went to Minnesota for a short time in the fall quarter of the 1949-50 year. He played end on the Gopher freshman squad.

He came here the winter term and promptly starred for the frosh basketball team. He became eligible last December and made his varsity debut very auspicious with 19 points against Morningside in the opener of the NCC tournament at Sioux City.

Don has the highest per-game average on the squad, 11.1, just edging Bob Grant who has 10.6. The hard-charging 6-4 forward is one of the top rebounders with Art Bunker.

Observers at Bison road games have marveled at Dons' overhead hook shots and fans will be seeing more of those before many games pass. And basketball is his favorite sport, football following close behind.

He plans to try out for a full-back spot on Coach Mac Wenckunas' football squad next fall.

WYOMING NATIVE

Jim (don't call me Jimmy) O'Connor, although you wouldn't think it to look at the soft-spoken gent, got his start 24 years ago on Wyoming cattle ranch.

But the folks moved to Long Beach, Calif., in 1937 and Jim proceeded to star at Poly high at center. He then went into the infantry, the 25th division, which was in Japan.

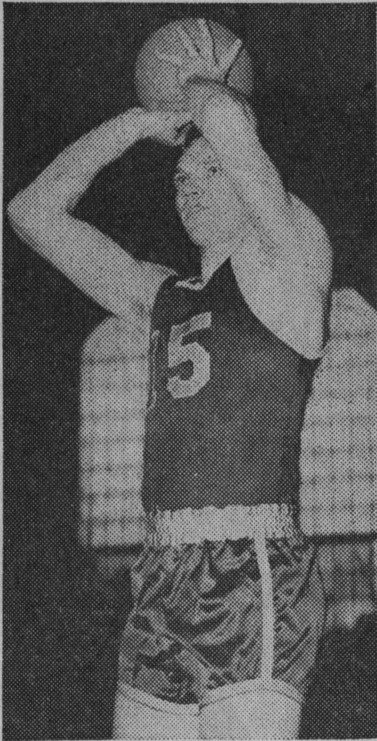

Jim played forward with the division team in the inter-divisional tournament in Tokyo. Gerald Tucker, star on the AAU champion Phillips Oilers was on the 41st division outfit in the journey.

In 1946 Jim played with Long Beach City college and transferred to Wyoming where he met Coach Chuck Bentson.

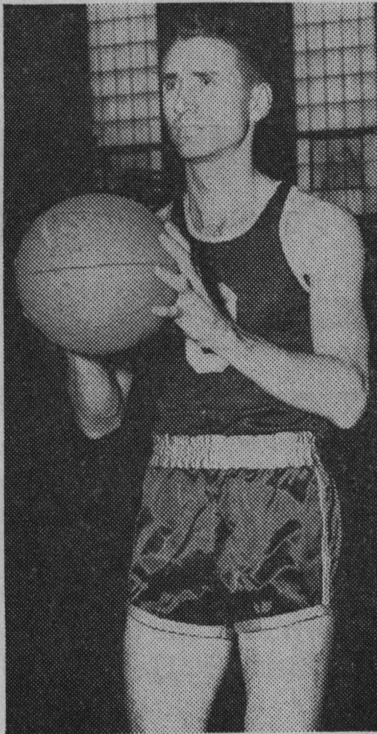

Jim is a junior here and an engineering major. He is enrolled in the advanced ROTC corps.

The 6-4 bespectacled reserve guard has been a tough rebounder for the Bison this season and one of the best two-handed set shots on the squad. He played freshman ball last season.

Netmen Trample S. D. State Five In 80-64 Upset

Coach Chuck Bentson's Bison cagers took an element of anticipation out of the minds of the fans here Monday, as the Herd clicked off an 80-64 win over S. D. State for its second win of the North Central conference season.

The tilt marked the opening of a long home stand, in which the Bison meet the remainder of the conference teams before ending the season at NDU with the Grand Forks half of the four-game series.

Art Bunker, the Herd center who poured through 24 points, tickled the twine with a jump shot to give the Bison a 2-0 opening lead.

The Herd pulled further away, but the Bunnies pulled up to knot the count at 10-all, the only time the Jacks were able to pull up. From there the Bison steadily piled on a 40-26 halftime advantage.

The Sodaks could only pull to within 8 points in the final try, at 51-42 and 64-55. The Bison led by a 16-point margin at 74-58 and at the finish.

Dale Peppel plunked in an 80th point on a free throw attempt just after the final buzzer sounded.

Bunker led the scoring with 24, and along with Don Fougner, who had 16 points, grabbed the brunt of the rebounds.

Rod Fercho, the sophomore who Monday saw his first starting action on the home floor, was easily the best dribbler and passer on the floor. His clever feeding to Fougner and Bunker under the basket was one of the essential factors in the victory.

Bob Grant was stellar in the first half, netting 10 points and sparking the Bison assault with deadly scoring accuracy and floor play. He sat out much of the game because of fouls.

Don Bartlett, whose speed and hard drive-ins kept the Bison defense on its toes all evening, led the Jacks with 16. Guard Herb Bartling, who quarterbacked the Bunnie football team to an undefeated season last fall, was a good play-maker and tallied 12.

The win revenged the 59-47 loss at Brookings on Jan. 5. The Bunnies had won the loop tournament at Sioux City in December and were rated as conference favorites with a veteran aggregation.

Bison Frosh Cagers Drop To Concordia B's

NDAC's frosh basketball team suffered its second loss to the Concordia B team, 58-55, Monday in a preliminary to the Cobber-Gustavus Adolphus game on the Moorhead junior high court.

Lyle Fugelberg, who last season was a varsity member at Mayville Teachers college, plunked in 20 points for the Frosh, and Roger Berseth scored 12.

Arlo Kløver had 12 to pace the Cobbers reserves.

I-M Cagers Hit Stride; 2 Teams Drop From Bowling

By JOHN L. SULLIVAN

Finally some good news for Intra-Mural basketball enthusiasts. Due to the "speedy" work done on the side goals there are now two courts available for I-M games. Games should be coming fast now since the season must be finished by March 1.

Back to the less joyful side of the picture, it seems two more teams have withdrawn from the I-M bowling league. SAE and ATO, both two of the biggest frats on the campus, can't seem to keep enough men available (it only takes five) to constitute a team.

The smaller organizations which are still in the bowling league can take a bow there. Those left now include Kappa Psi, Co-op House, Kappa Sigma Chi, Dorm Aggie Midgets and Student Body 1.

Any more withdrawals would mean the end for the infant I-M bowling league but it looks like the smaller organizations will make a got of it where the big ones have let down considerably.

The basketball standings were compiled this week but are still cluttered with ties since only two games have been played by each team. The schedule for next week is as follows:

Tuesday

Pre-Med. vs. AGR 2 at 8, north court; Sigma Chi 2 vs. Trailer City at 8, south; Co-op's vs. Kappa Psi at 9, north; ATO 1 vs. AC Celtics at 9 south, ATO 2 vs. Theta Chi at 10, north; AGR 3 vs. SAE 2 at 10, south.

Wednesday

'Sabre Dance?' No, Just Practice For 'Cyrano' Play

By JACK JESTER

Parry thrust! Flashing swords seen around the campus recently lead to the question of the week.

Has Al Kapp's Sabre Dance camped at NDAC or has the Cavalier cigarette salesman returned in force.

Contrary to these two lines of thought, the real answer may be found at a rehearsal of the play "Cyrano de Bergerac". Fencing takes a vital part in the play and a general knowledge of this sport is necessary for some of the actors. The men behind the swords are Don Stewart, Walt Christensen, and William Humprey, who are learning their fencing techniques from George Hoenek, a Fargo business man.

If you look into the history of fencing you will find that it is probably one of the oldest games in existence. It sprang directly from the dramatic duels of old and is Germanic in origin. Spain is considered the mother of fencing, for that is where scientific fencing as a sport started toward its present-day form. This was around 1900 and since then its popularity as a sport has grown on this side of the Atlantic.

Reliance is more on skillful deception than upon brute strength; it is a developer of quick movements and timing in which observation is all important.

Colleges and universities came into the picture in 1894 with the forming of the Intercollegiate Fencing association. The east dominates the fencing sport although it is spreading westward and is found in most of the larger colleges of the mid-west.

Who knows, but what someday one might find the art of fencing listed with the sports here at NDAC.

The play will be presented Feb. 7, 8, and 9 in the Little Country Theatre. Over 50 NDAC students will be participating in the all-college play.
