From Brevities Past

1936 Brevities Author Farm Bureau Director

(Ed. Note—This is the fourth in a series of stories about NDAC alumni who have figured prominently in past Bison Brevities productions.)

The 1936 Bison Brevities titled "Be Yourself" flowered from the pen of Jim Baccus, now information director for the North Dakota Farm Bureau.

Baccus modestly refers to the '36 varsity show as a "happy-go-lucky mish-mash".

The 1937 AAS grad graduated from Jamestown high school and at NDAC was active in Blue Key, Gold Star band, LCT, Kappa Kappa Psi, and was on the Spectrum staff.

Since receiving his college degree he has done journalism, radio news, publicity, fiction, radio scripts, news commentary, plus many lyrics, playlets, songs and poems. Baccus feels some of his oddest writing assignments included the writing of greeting card verses and prayers for radio broadcast.

During World War II, the Fargoan did information, orientation, and publicity work for the Air Corps special services. One of his radio scripts, entitled the "American Soldier", won an all-army award.

Baccus was news director for WDAY and later was publicity director for NDAC before taking his present post with the Farm Bureau. He is president of the Fargo-Moorhead community theater. Baccus is married and has one daughter.

Sammy Kaye Releases New Theta Chi Song

Sammy Kaye has made an impromptu contribution to the Theta Chi Dream Girl dinner dance, to be held at the Moorhead Country Club on Feb. 16.

His recent release, "My Dear Little Girl of Theta Chi"; will be an added feature of the music of Don Auman's orchestra. The highlight of the formal will be the award of Dream Girl of Theta Chi to one of the coeds representing an NDAC sorority.

The 'Joy Boys' are not unfamiliar with their famous fraternity brother, as he was their guest at dinner in 1948 preceding his appearance in Fargo. At that time he honored them at his concert by playing "The Dream Girl of Theta Chi" of which he is the composer.

These six girls were selected by their respective sororities to compete for the title of Theta Chi Dream Girl. Gathered here around the piano at the Theta Chi house are: Mary Fran Broderick, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Joan Fischer, Alpha Gamma Delta; Barbara Snyder, Kappa Alpha Theta; Bev. Ingwolson, Phi Mu; Virginia Arneson, Gamma Phi Beta; and Mary Holmgren, Kappa Delta.

The three-story pilot plant can be used to conduct any large scale experiment and has space available for equipment and future experiments.

A large crane can carry five tons of equipment to any spot in the plant.

Trap doors in the floor are equipped with automatic guards for protective purposes. Two means of escape are provided in each laboratory on the second floor, as precaution against fires or explosions.

Fresh air is distributed throughout the second floor corridors, to remove any gases that may penetrate throughout the plant. Fire blankets, fire hoses, deluge showers and first aid cabinets are also provided.

Engineer Club Stages Annual Machine Show

The maintenance building was the scene of the Agricultural Engineering club's annual machine show. Students, farmers and visitors stopped in to see the machines demonstrated by club members.

Some of the interesting demonstrations were; a self propelled swather which is manufactured in Fargo, a tractor mounted snow plow, a butane burning tractor, weed and insect sprayers, and a tractor which was designed so that the operator can change the wheel spacing without leaving the seat.

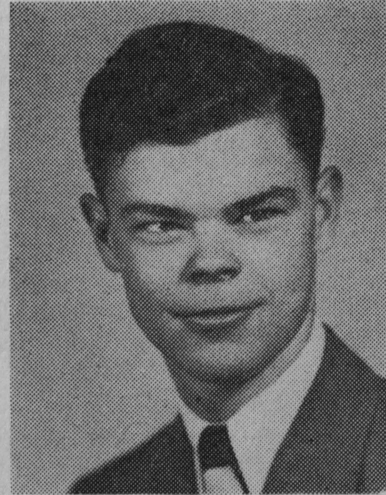

In addition, there were several farm structures and wiring displays. One of these showed samples of the various grades of lumber and explained the uses of each. Another display showed a type of yard light switch which makes it possible to control the light from any building on the farm. There was also a display of several different types of wire for use in farm wiring.

The home economics building was inserted at $450,000, down $100,000 from the original request.

The appropriations committee also added $45,000 to the budget for construction of a greenhouse for the AC experiment station.

Tryota-Saddle & Sirloin To Meet Next Tuesday

Camp Miniwanca, a summer camp near Shelby, Mich., will feature the annual joint Tryota-Saddle and Sirloin meeting next Tuesday (Feb. 13) at Festival Hall at 7 p.m.

The Danforth fellowship sends a freshman boy in agriculture and a freshman girl in home economics from each land grant college in the nation to a two week session at camp each summer. In addition a junior boy and girl are chosen to spend two weeks in St. Louis, Mo., previous to camp. There they gain working knowledge of St. Louis' industries.

Harold Blume, a senior in agriculture, who received one of the Danforth fellowships last summer, will act as moderator in a panel discussion on Camp Miniwanca. Life at camp is divided into four phases—religious, physical, mental, and social—and four former campers, Don Piepkorn, Wayne Ditmer, Rolf Berg, and Carol Jean Smith, have contributions to make to each phase.

To make Camp Miniwanca live before the eyes of the members of Tryota and Saddle and Sirloin a skit has been written on a typical day at camp. In addition to those on the panel all other NDAC students who have ever been to Miniwanca will take part. They include: Maynard Krause, Bert Berg, Russell Lorenz, Betty Gordhammer, Leland Sturlaugson, and Curt Norenberg.

Square dancing, a tradition at these joint meetings, will precede the panel discussion and skit. A lunch of coffee and doughnuts will be served afterwards.

Commission To Hold Constitution Forum

Several discrepancies in the Constitution of the Student Body of NDAC have been brought to the attention of the Student Commission in recent months. In its efforts to improve student government on the campus the commission has assumed the responsibility of rewriting the constitution.

It will not be a hit or miss proposition and it will not be completed in a hurry. A committee appointed by the president of the commission has been studying the document for the purpose of determining what can and should be done.

A thorough reading of the articles and by-laws will reveal many inadequacies, possible mistakes, and duplications of responsibility. It will also reveal that such an undertaking should not be delegated solely to a committee of three. Therefore it is the desire of the committee that all students be given the opportunity to participate in formulating a new constitution.

Accordingly, an Open Forum has been arranged for Wednesday, February 21 at 4 p.m. It will be held in the student lounge of the library. All students are urged to attend and to bring any and all suggestions for improvement.

Only with the complete cooperation of the student body can the commission succeed in accomplishing its goal. —R.A.J.

"Just what experiment are you guys doing anyway??"

The Ballpoint

By BOB JOHNSON

An inhuman blow was struck this person during the past week. It seems no one wants to be queen of a darn thing. Almost no one anyway. Just one fellow brought his friend to me with the necessary 5 bucks but she had to be declared ineligible. The ring in her nose was becoming but the judges were forced to say "No." Said he, "Well I thought I'd try. Said she, "Moo-o-o-o."

Anyway, I wasn't let down completely. The Sigs came through with another typical trick. They weren't content only to have the money from their "Furniture fund" sales, they made sure the radio, etc., stayed close by, too. And it was all legal. Harry Bristol said it was. Yes he did.

Since Fitzloff didn't get enough news this week to fill her own column she passed what there was of it on to this one.

Item 1. Kappa Psi's and their dates will travel by dog sled to the Moorhead Country club tonight to celebrate the end of mid-term week. A dinner dance, the evening promises food, fun, and fine music.

Item 2. Supposed to mention something about the Charity Ball here. But what can one say about the ball? Something trite, perhaps, like "See you there." That's enough.

Item 3. The SAE's plan to burn their mortgage a week from tonight. (This could wait till next week.) Anyway it is an accomplishment they can be proud of. (Didn't know Gold Seal Wax had a new competitor.) Regardless, the firebrand will be touched to the document at the fraternity's winter term party at the K. C. hall. Formal. Tony Williams and ork.

Item 4. ATO's are having a record party this afternoon from 4-7:30. Anything will do—33, 45, 78, etc. Got a fine new turntable from the mothers club for Xmas you know.

Item 5. Should mention the game perhaps. Or better yet the officials. On second thought the less said the better. Understand the radio has been making nasty remarks about us lately. Ha!!!

Item 6. (this is getting monotonous) Last of Fitz's notes concerns Steve Canyon's compatriots. He got some new brothers according to the hen scratching on this piece of paper. They are Dean Morford, Ted Stensland, Bob France, and Andy Lindvig. (Andy is the one who hung a radio on his girl last Saturday.) Not to be forgotten is a new pledge, Tom Cornforth. I won't say you made a mistake, Tom, but if you ever get the irons off your leg come around and see the rest of the campus.

The Score

by JIM SCHRIMPF

Thanks to Robert Runice for insulting Johnson for me last week. Nice to know you missed me, Bob. I'll try to make up for it this week. That "double decker laying house" is in need of a good laying flock. Think you fellas over at the ATO house could spare a few? The Gamma Phi's have already donated a couple of old setting hens. And for the Ballpoint's information those square windows were made that way so guys like Johnson could stick their punkin heads out for air. No sense putting a square peg in a round hole.

I'm waiting to see how Ballpoint gets out of the Queen contest deal. Must be going over big—saw grandpa J. heading across the river with a stack of five dollar bills (no queens, tho) and a we gleam in his eye. Back to that coke and phosphate parlor? (Bob Runice please take noe.)

Well, the last hoey-bucket has been rolled into retirement until next year's barnyard follies (Little International) get under way again. And so far as I could find out, the star of the show was Margaret Grothe who waited all day for some eggs from a pen of fowl Roosters. No yolk.

That little notice in the Spectrum about Sweetwater Grant willing to go out with "almost anything" has brought him a deluge of invitations to the Chastity Ball. And a few members of the BB team prompted me to say that Rod (So what's a girl?) Fercho is willing to go with "almost anything."

Speaking of Sweetwater, Miss West is practically on bended knee begging him to take over the lead in "Cyrano" after witnessing his acting in the Morningside game. Bob was almost as funny as the referees. By the way, the score was: Anderson, 30 Domek, 26. That's fouls. It's getting so that the officiating spoils the game for the spectator—the only ones having a good time last Monday were the referees, and they didn't see too much of the game.

Sigs lost another pledge this week—it happened while working on the new house. Pledge No. 1, who carried a perpetual blank stare, was wielding a sledge, and Pledge No. 2 was holding a spike. The latter was giving directions. "Now I'll put the spike on the beam, and when I nod my head, you smash it with the hammer." Pledge No. 1 did exactly what he was told.

The ATO's have been doing some private entertaining with "home" movies. From what I hear, the exclusive screenings are on their way toward replacing the Alvin. Now if they can only find a good pit drummer.

Nomination for biggest couple on the campus: "Green Giant" Pease and "Little Mouse" Twedt. Johnson, can you top this?

Final item: (from Will Jones) The Wald-Krasna movie producing group sent a notice to chambers of commerce around the country stating that it was in the market for a new movie locale. The wire from Fargo boasted about our "colorful country clubs and eye-appealing cocktail lounges." Come again? Well, if they ever want to do a "Lost Weekend" over again, they know where to go!

College Fashion Show Features Spring Styles

By MARGERY JOHNSTON

Smart spring fashions were modeled by NDAC coeds at the annual Little International style show. Appearing in clothes for every occasion the girls displayed many of their own products as well as garments from Fargo stores.

Navy is sailing into view as the number one color for spring, 1951. Carol Jordheim was pert in a navy wool dress featuring a series of belt pockets. A studded belt, leather heels, and a hat, all red, were selected by Carol as colorful accessories. Styled to serve a double purpose is the rayon crepe dress of navy and white check modeled by Joan Fischer. A dressy jacket flattered by a white collar may be slipped off to reveal a simply styled dress.

"A plus" in designing goes to Lois Andren and Janet Kiefer who appeared in their own prize winning creations. Lois fashioned hers of beige wool, trimmed with black velveteen. An accordion pleated skirt headlines Janet's dress of purple wool. Another seamstress displaying a flair for designing was Mary Ann Bystol who appeared on the stage in a charming jersey dress of luggage brown. Highpoints of the frock are the fashion wise dolman sleeves and the black velvet piping on collar and buttons.

Suitable for school or dates is Iona Dalzell's wool crepe jumper of a campus favorite, banker's gray. A long sleeved melon blouse will complete a fashionable school outfit.

Colleen Rawson was a crowd pleaser in a smart coral satin frock which she designed herself. A dainty shoulder bolero may be removed to display Colleen's touch of originality, for surrounding the simple round neckline are a series of concentric circles. Another elaborate creation is Marlo Barnick's silver and black cocktail suit set off by black velveteen trim.

Baby blue is popular for lounging robes; this pastel shade was selected by Lois Mallick, Mary Ann Bystol, and Norma Seefeldt. Chinese flavor was added by several through the selection of coolie coats, characterized by the high neck, frogs, and side slits.

A stunning climax was provided by Lois Andren, appearing on stage in an elaborate formal of electric blue taffeta. Horizontal tucks fashioned the bodice while a straight front was contrasted by a flowing train in the back.

Students Express Opinions Of Cut System

Question: In your opinion what do you think would be an ideal cut system?

Ralph C. Boehm, Pharm-Sr., Mandan: "Actually, I don't think there should be any cut system that would cause a student to receive a lower mark because of cuts. Generally, a student can't afford to cut classes. If he does, it is his own tough luck as he is hurting himself and no one else."

James R. Plemel, Agr-Sr., Starkweather: "If a student wants to 'sleep in' some mornings or go home for a couple of days he should be permitted to do so without penalty. However, the school sets the rules and we have to abide by them or take a chance on having our grade reduced."

Roberta Hartwell, HE-Sr., Fargo: "I think an ideal cut system would permit upperclassmen to have free cuts while freshmen and sophomores should be watched more closely."

James Gompf, AAS-Sr., Fargo: "The system used in most schools here at NDAC seems to work quite well. The first three are free—after that the grade is knocked down unless the absences are excused. It is hard to say what would be best, but this way seems as good as any."

Georgia Museum Gives Insect Display To AC

Mr. P. W. Fattig, director of the Museum, Emory University, Georgia, has donated a collection of insects to NDAC. Dr. Richard L. Post, Curator of the NDAC insect collection reports that the 1196 specimens are valued at $239.20.

The insects are pinned and authentically determined. This donation will be on exhibit in the entomology display cases in Morrill hall during the month of February.

Faculty News

H. Dean Stallings, librarian, returned from the American Library Association convention in Chicago last week. While attending the convention he was called on to give an illustrated lecture on our college library. The lecture was entitled, "An Economical Library for a Technological College". It was based on an imaginary tour of the library and was illustrated by a series of 35 colored slides.

The general consensus after his lecture was that for $400,000 we, as a college, received a million and a half dollars worth of building.

Dr. P. J. Iverson, chairman of the NDAC department of education, and Dr. Ernest V. Estensen, professor of psychology, attended a two-day conference of the North Dakota Association of School Administrators. The meetings were held Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 5 and 6, at Bismarck. Superintendents and principals of North Dakota schools are members of the association.

YW 'Heart Sisters' To Reveal Identity

On Valentine's day each YWCA member will reveal her identity to her Heart Sister for whom she has been doing favors since last Wednesday (Feb. 7). Secret Heart Sisters are appointed yearly within the YWCA, and each day for one week prior to Valentine's day they remember one another with favors or small gifts. Phyllis Herbison, Phyllis Wyum, and Doris Tallackson made the appointments this year.

Cabinet members of the YMCA will entertain YWCA cabinet members at a dinner in the Y at 5:45 p.m. next Wednesday (Feb. 14). The area and Geneva conferences will be discussed.

Sixty-five students danced at Jack King's square dance class Jan. 31. These classes are sponsored weekly by the YMCA and YWCA.

BISON-DRAGON MELEE BEST TILT HERE IN MANY MOONS

The Bison and the MSTC Dragons put on one of the best basketball shows here in many moons.

Intermingled with questioned-officiating, hot and cold shooting, and the mixed emotions of both participants and fans, the thrilling tussle was climaxed by Art Bunker's winning free throw after the regulation 20 minutes ended with a 60-60 deadlock.

The Bison side of the packed Field house chorused before the start of the second half a loud tribute to the long refereeing career of 'Dirty' Ernie Anderson with a song of the same name.

Ernie, the "hard-hearted villain in the striped jersey", even popped a smile at the fans' efforts. He probably realizes that the crowd still doesn't understand that "To err is human," as Shakespeare once wrote.

The Dragon followers were mightily grieved at the outcome after their fighting cagers failed at the brink of success. Yet the Bison fans took the win in stride, few failing to see that it could have gone the other way.

FINALLY GET PROS HERE

It took a long time but the Fargo Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Quarterback club have succeeded in efforts to bring a regular professional basketball game to Fargo.

The Sheboygan Redskins and the Waterloo Hawks square off Thursday eve at 8 at the Field house in one of the features of the Jack Frost winter carnival.

Student tickets have been on sale at the Bookstore at a reduced price—and at a first-come-first-serve basis. Only 200 ducats have been set aside for NDAC students, so if you don't have a ticket by Tuesday, you'd just as well forget about going.

The two pro teams are leaders in each of their divisions, and both rosters are studded with all-American stars. The tilt will count in the league standings so it should offer some measure of excitement.

'ELBOWS' ART GETS NOTICE

Bunker, lanky Bison pivot man, probably rates with Morningside's Dick Wiedenfeld as possessing the conference's sharpest elbows, if you can believe the Collegian, South Dakota State's weekly newspaper, which had the following quib about the Bison's 80-64 win over the Jacks:

"Art 'Elbows' Bunker NDAC center, took scoring honors with 24 points. . ."

And the Collegian goes on to say, "A glance at the personal foul column is proof enough that the game wasn't a tea party." You don't say, Georgie.

'NOTHER PERFECT WEEK LIFTS PICKING RECORD TO 27-6

The Luck of the Irish in five predictions last week raises this scribe's predicting record to 27 right and 6 wrong.

This week will see Iowa Teachers suffer their second loss in the conference but regain the loop lead with a win over Augustana in what should prove to be a close battle on the Viking floor. Morningside will take over the NCC lead next week, as the Tutors take the dreaded North Dakota trip.

The Bison to club SDU and S. D. State to beat ISTC tonight; NDU to down SDU, ISTC to have trouble but defeat Augie, and Morningside to bump Omaha university Saturday; Omaha to top Augustana Monday; Morningside to edge S. D. State in a terrific battle at Brookings Tuesday; and Augustburg to tip Augie Thursday.

The Bison have gone along with us so far, even in their losses. Come on you Bison!

HARD-UP-FOR-COPY DEPT.:

An interested reader with reputable insight in the Bison-Sioux feud recently mailed this writer a letter on the poor conditions at NDU.

He says: "The Dakota Student sports editors along the years are a notoriously degenerate lot. They drink too much, assault innocent young girls, kick hell out of dogs, and they have taken great pleasure in calling other sports editors obscene names over great distances.

"I knew one once that used to throw rocks at children too.

"But as the late Robert Benchley once so aptly put it, 'No one that hates dogs and children can be all bad.' Maybe we should try to understand."

ALL-CONFERENCE CAGE QUINT WILL BE LOADED THIS SEASON

Before this season is forgotten, the sports writers will be choosing their all-conference teams. But this year there will be a lot of gripes due the many top performers in the conference.

But one thing sure, the all-NCC teams will be chosen, as usual, from the offensive standpoint. Here are the best prospects:

Augustana—Jim Gremmels (Augie's only hope).

ISTC—Dick Garth, Bill Peterson, and Howard Pigg.

Morningside—Dick Wiedenfeld, Bob (Red) Norris, and Doug Gresham.

Bison—Bob Grant, Don Fougner, and Art Bunker.

NDU—Chuck Wolfe and Fritz Engel.

S. D. State—Don Bartlett, Herb Bartling, and Dave Aaberg.

SDU—Dale Roberts and Earl Dean.

The NDAC Bison hockey sextet meets Concordia in the first round of the Jack Frost Winter Carnival tournament Thursday. The tilt will also count in the league standings.

The Bison are not scheduled in Tuesday's play.

The second round of the tournament will be held Friday night, with the finals slated Sunday. Trophies will be awarded for first and second place winners.

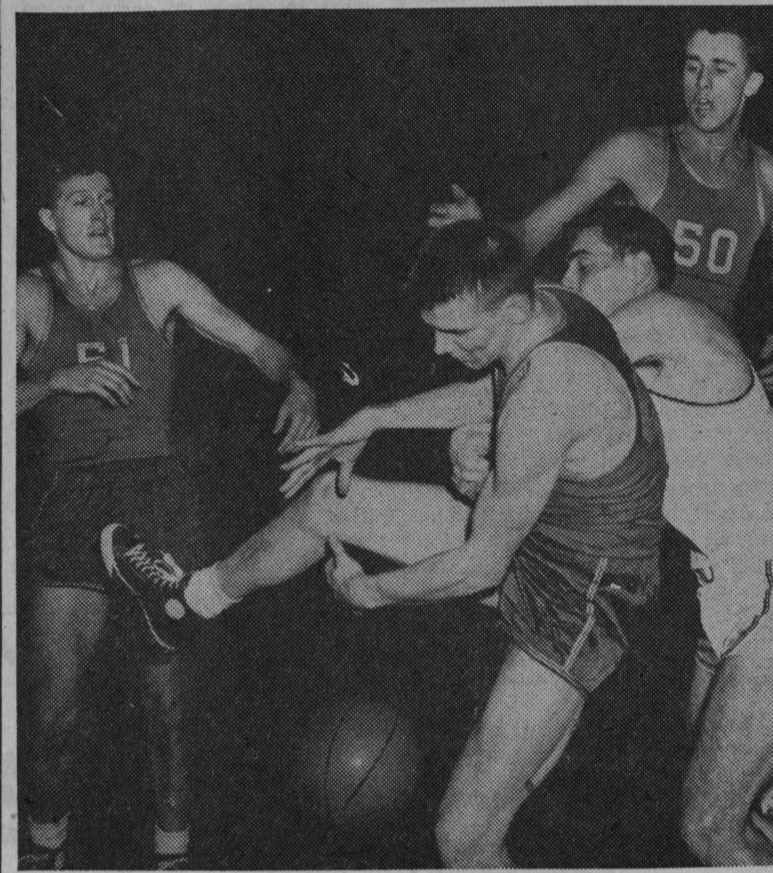

It was announced last week that the strong Grand Forks Amerks amateur team had entered the tourney to complete a six-team event.

The team has been scheduled to play at Detroit Lakes Sunday, Feb. 18, but the game may be postponed.

In last week's play the Bison were to face Cook Sign Co. and MSTC.

On Feb. 1, Cook sign handed the Bison a 10-0 loss, the fourth of the season for the Herd.

Bisonmen Seek Revenge Tonight From SDU Quint At Field House

IT'S 1-2-3 O'LEARY or maybe this S. D. State player is trying to kick the ball away from the Bison's Jack Cavanagh in the Jan. 29 80-64 NDAC win. Herb Bartling (left, No. 51) looks shocked. No. 50 is Jim Combellick.

South Dakota university smooth-passing Coyotes beg the dangerous northern swing the North Central conference basketball race as they face the Bison at the Field house tonight at 8.

The Coyotes meet NDU Grand Forks Saturday in an attempt to improve their 4-3 NCC rating, good for third place.

The Coyotes, who own a 67-50 victory over the Bison at Vermillion on Jan. 19, are the only quintet in the loop to beat low Teachers.

SDU thus far holds a 10-9 wo lost record, which includes losses to Iowa State, Dubuque, Nebraska, and Lawrence Teach of Detroit.

Last season the Herd split games, losing the first at Vermillion, 58-45, and winning the Fargo meeting, 61-39.

Coyote coach George DeKlo was hurt by the loss of stellar Johnny Diefendorf who graduated. The brilliant Coyote forward last year set five conference scoring records.

Top men in this season's outfit are Dale Roberts, Harvey Hanson, Don Schwartz, Earl Dean and Don Bruce.

Some top reserves that just joined the squad are 6-4 Dick Day and 6-1 Dick Black.

SDU won a tie for third place in the loop last season with a 7-1 record, the same as Morningside.

The Coyotes beat Huron college 69-54, and NDU, 64-61, to earn the right to play in the NAIB tournament at Kansas City, only to lose the opener to East Texas Teacher 55-54.

Attendance Above Par At I-M Meeting As McGeary Eligibility Is Questioned

Representation at the Monday meeting of the Intra-Mural board was above par. The attendance was due to the heated issue of the eligibility of a player on the Letterman's Club team in the I-M basketball league.

NOTICE

E. E. Kaiser, track coach, sent word out today that any and all students who are interested in track and field are to meet in Room 204 in the Field house at 4:15 Wednesday, Feb. 14.

Clink McGeary, former Bison football star and now a professional gridder with the Green Bay Packers, is enrolled here with six credit hours in order to complete his degree.

Several of the board members pointed out that the catalog indicates such students are unclassified and "not eligible to partake in any extra-curricular activities to which the eligibility rules apply."

Clink, representing himself, brought to the board's attention several contradictory statements in the student handbook.

McGeary will remain eligible to participate, and the issue has now turned to the matter of the contradictory points in the by-laws.

The success of the I-M bowling league, directed by freshman Wally Conmy of Fargo, suffered somewhat by the loss of three teams.

The Dorm team and the Kappa Sigs are tied for the lead. Each have won 15 games in 5 matches. The Kappa Sigs are third with 9 wins in 3 matches, and the Student Body and the Co-ops have won 7 games each in 2 matches.

Peppel All-State Cager . . .

Dale Uses Talents At Football Too; Jerry Is No Stranger At Basketball

By JOHN L. SULLIVAN

Dale Eugene Peppel is one of the few Bison basketball players who also uses his athletic talents on other field. Dale won his first AC football letter last fall by his steady play as a Bison end and will undoubtedly add a basketball numeral this winter.

Dale began his career as a basketball player in his freshman year at Fessenden, N. D., high school. Dale starred at both center and forward for four years, adding many laurels to a rapidly-growing collection.

He was one of the proponents of the axiom "A good offense is the best defense," and his offensive ability was never questioned. He was probably the most prolific point-getter in his state high school bracket.

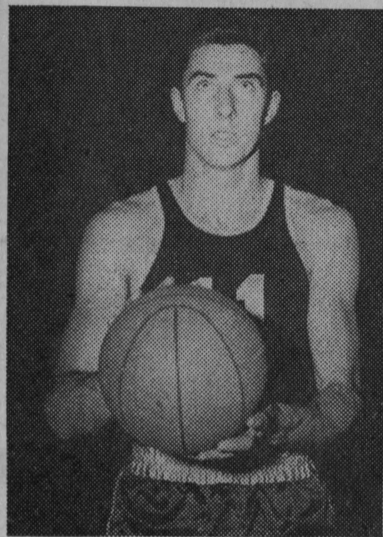

Dale was an all-state player in 1949, all-district 3 years, and all-conference 3 years. He almost equaled those accomplishments in football as an end and a halfback.

Dale is a reserve guard on the Bison quintet at the moment but once he gains further confidence and masters the Bentson type of ball, NDAC will have gained immeasurably.

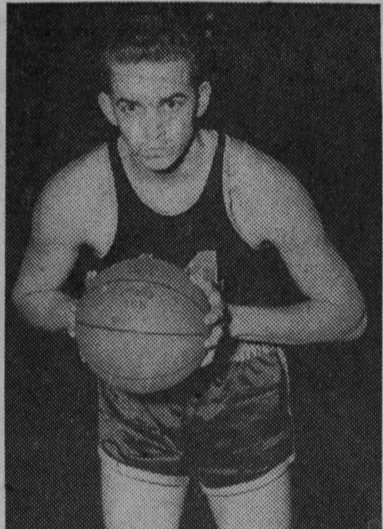

Because Dale was at the offensive positions of center and forward those years in high school, breaking into the starting lineup at the strange guard position is no mean job.

Dale is 19 years old and enrolled in administrative engineering. He has signed up in advanced ROTC and will be back in school again next year.

Dale is frequently seen with his favorite companion, a former coed here and a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, Beverly Ring.

Freshman Netters Top Dragon Reserves, 45-33

Coach Norm Evans freshman basketballers defeated the MSTC reserves, 45-33, in the Bison-Dragon preliminary.

Big Bob Lauf scored 15 points to lead the scoring. Loren Oliver and Lyle Fugelberg had 9 each and Roger Berseth had 7.

The final Frosh games will be with the NDU frosh here on Feb. 23 and at Grand Forks on March 2, both preliminary to Bison-Sioux contests.

Maroons Hand Bison 62-54 Loss

By JOHN MASHEK

Morningside, using an effective fast break offense, came from behind to hand the Bison their first loss on the home floor this season. The Maroons were hard-pressed for the 62-54 win that dumped the Herd to the cellar in the North Central conference with Augustana Monday.

(S. D. State whipped Augustana Tuesday, 62-52, to shove the Vikings into the conference cellar. The Bison thus took over sixth place.—Ed.)

jumped to a 7-0 lead on Dick Wiedenfeld's underbasket work before Rod Fercho put the Bison on the score board with a free toss. Don Fougner picked up the slack, scoring beautifully on twisting drive shots to knot the count at 10—all.

Bob (Sweetwater) Grant found the range from deep on the floor and the Aggies pulled ahead 15-11. The Bison were hurt considerably at this stage when Art Bunker drew his fourth personal foul and had to be replaced.

The score did a tipe-rope act as the two teams matched basket for basket with some uncanny accuracy. The Bison retained the lead most of the while and stayed ahead at the intermission, 32-30, on Jack Cavanaugh's last second one hander.

A third quarter lapse spelled doom as the Iowans fast-broke the Bison dizzy. Morningside went ahead, 35-33, on Red Norris' layup.

Then Doug Gresham asserted himself to break the back of the Herd. The curly-headed Winnipeg flash, who played even better the more riding he took from the partisan crowd, hit from all angles to bring the count to 48-38. The Bison couldn't quite recover from the sudden spurge of Gresham and his mates.

Morningside lost the services of Wiedenfeld and Jim File in rapid succession. Bunker returned to the floor and soon drew his fifth personal. Morningside, in fact, played better with high-scoring Wiedenfeld on the side-lines. The Maroons decided to play a semi-stalling game.

Baskets by Bob Hipke, Fercho, and Jerry Geisler made it 51-48. Fougner and Geisler were banished via the foul route and Ray Berry of the visitors followed suit.

Grant's long swisher and Hipke's charity toss made it 52-51 and bedlam broke loose in the stands. Baskets by Norris and Gresham sealed the decision for the now completely-stalling Morningside five.

The last few minutes were hectic ones with the Bison fumbling numerous chances to pull the game out of the fire. The Maroons won going away as the Herd frantically attempted to break the stall.

Gresham led the visiting crew with 19, while Wiedenfeld had 18 tallies. Grant and Fougner, who shone throughout the first twenty minutes, flipped in 18 and 13, respectively. Fercho and Norris played outstanding floor games for their teams.

Herd Warriors Shade Dragons, 61-60, As Bunker Scores Winning Free Throw

Art Bunker flipped in a free throw after the regulation time had expired to give the Bison a hard-earned 61-60 victory over an inspired Moorhead Teachers college basketball team at the Field house Feb. 1.

The hard-driving Dragons failed to survive a desperate Bison comeback attempt after the Moorhead quint had racked up a 27-16 half-time lead in what looked like the upset of the season.

It was the sixth straight Dragon loss and the second setback at the hands of Coach Chuck Bentson's Herd this season.

The Bison led 3-2 in the early minutes of the tilt, but the undermanned Dragons fought back with speed and sharp shooting and built what appeared to be an insurmountable lead.

Although the Dragons held as much as a 13-point lead in the second half, the Bison, paced by Bob Grant's stellar play, caught the Dragons at 42-all with 7:06 minutes remaining. The score was tied at 44-all but the Moorhead team built up a 6-point margin from there, and looked like shoosins for a win.

The Dragons led 60-59 as Bunker stole the ball from Bob (Whitey) Roysland near midcourt with four seconds remaining in the fray and drove down layed up the ball as time ran out. But the officials nullified the basket and awarded two foul shots on Roysland's infraction.

Bunker made the first toss but missed the second. The second try bounded off the basket and the two teams fought for the rebound. A jump ball was called and Bunker was fouled during the scramble as the four seconds ticked off.

Grant made 19 points, 18 in the last half, to lead the scorers. Bunker had 15 and center Bob Hedstrom topped MSTC with 16.
