BREVITIES READY FOR CURTAIN

175 NDAC Students Participate In Show

Final touches are being placed on the Bison Bervities show this weekend as the varsity production was pronounced "about ready to go" by director Walt Christensen.

Over 175 students from all sections of North Dakota will participate in the annual NDAC Bison Brevities, when it is presented at Festival hall April 17, 18, and 19.

The 1951 Bison Brevities will be the 20th production sponsored by Blue Key fraternity which uses proceeds from the shows to further campus projects. Money from the last two shows purchased a radio-phonograph for the student lounge of the NDAC Library, $500 went to the North Dakota Institute for Regional Studies, and $1,000 to the Memorial Student Union. In addition the fraternity each year awards two scholarships for a full year's tuition to a master freshman and junior.

Director for this year's show is Walter Christensen of Kenmare, senior in applied arts and sciences, who has been active in Little Country Theater productions. The '51 Brevities will show various eras of the past 60 years, as correlated to the 60-year founding of NDAC.

Opening the show will be Gamma Phi Beta sorority with its carnival and beach scene at Atlantic City titled "On the Boardwalk." Theta Chi fraternity will give "Moods in Music", a record album showing the 60-year evolution of musical entertainers. Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority will turn the century in the Diamond Horseshoe night club with its "Gaslight Gaities."

The Independent Students Association will present a "George M. Cohan Medley" featuring Gene LaMuro of Fargo and Carole Kirkhus of Wyndmere. Kappa Kappa Psi will give the life of Dangerous Dan McGrew in a "Bedtime Story."

A dozen judges will review the Brevities with four watching each performance. Names of the judges as released by judging chairman Jack Murphy, are: Roy Johnson, Fargo Forum; Ken Kennedy, WDAY; Charles Burke, KFGO; Bill Lanier, Jr., attorney; Dr. Katherine Cater, MSTC; Mrs. Ethel Schultz, Moorhead Jaycee Revue; James Hetland, businessman; Mrs. Stanley Cowan and Mrs. Anker Ericsson, club women; Mrs. Barbara Oliver, Mrs. Paul Airheart, and Jim Baccus, Fargo Community Theater.

The Big Apple dance will be revived at Festival hall when Alpha Gamma Rho gives its "Mood of the 30s. Satiring radio detectives will be Alpha Gamma Rho's "Bruce Boyning, Super Sleuth". The familiar "Sound-Off" will be captivated in the Alpha Tau Omega act which depicts life in 1951. The act, directed by Paul Erickson of Fargo, will also introduce two original songs by Erickson which Bison Brevities directors say show great promise.

Erickson Composes Bison Brevities Music

Three songs featured in the Bison Brevities show at NDAC April 17-19 will be the work of J. Paul Erickson.

An NDAC senior, Erickson will direct the production act that will include his music. Making song writing his hobby, he has produced nearly two dozen sets of words and lyrics.

The Fargoan is a graduate of Central high school and is past secretary of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity at the college.

"Major Barbara" Film At College Y Tonight

The full-length movie, "Major Barbara", will be shown at the Methodist Student Rooms at the Y on Friday, April 13, at 7:30. This play by George Bernard Shaw was made into a movie by J. Arthur Rank. It features an all-star cast including Rex Harrison.

I-F Elects Officers

Intrafraternity Council elected new officers at their meeting of March 28. Replacing Sigma Chi George Noonan as president is Tom Gagnon of Kappa Psi. Other new officers are: Gordon Christian, SPD, vice president; Jim Schrimpf, Sigma Chi, secretary; and Ozzie Twedt, SAE, treasurer.

Pfeifer New FFA Prexy

The NDAC Collegiate Chapter of the Future Farmers of America recently elected Gene Pfeifer as new president of the organization. Other officers elected for the coming year are: Howard Gordon, vice-president; Kenneth McKoy, secretary; Jack Barke, treasurer; and Darell Welson, reporter.

Dixon On Trip

Professor H. S. Dixon, chairman of the electrical department, left last week for Washington, D. C. to confer with federal authorities concerning research and development projects that this institution might undertake in cooperation with federal agencies.

NOTICE

Student elections will be held next Wednesday from 9 until 4:30. Polls will be located in Science and Morrill halls.

"Players" To Present Melodrama May 1, 2

The cast of the mellerdrama, "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room," has been announced by the director, Betty Ackerman. The play, which will be presented by the play production class of Mr. A. G. Arvold, will be given May 1 and 2 in the Little Country Theater.

The cast includes Bill Humphery in the part of Mr. Romaine; Don Stewart as Simon Slade; Dick Thompson, Willie Hammon; Paul Seaborn, Sample Swichel; Kenny Ketchner, Hervey Green; Gordon Badger, Frank Slade; Bob Janson, Joe Morgan; Jean Bolmeier, Mrs. Slade; Connie Jacobson, Mrs. Morgan; Virginia Arneson, Mary Morgan; and Marilyn Biggs, Mehitable Cartright.

Between acts, several special numbers will be given. Walt Christenson is to read "The Murder of Dan McGrew"; Marlowe Jensen will give "The Cremation of Sam McGee," and Janet Schwer will present the reading, "Curfew Must Not Ring." In addition, Art Bunker and Paul Borman will do their own special interpretation of the "Highland Fling."

Ann Hook heads the business managership, Margaret Cooper is script girl, and Janet Schwer is in charge of make up.

CORRECTION

The name of Ricky Temple, first violinist, was omitted from the orchestra in last week's Spectrum. Ricky is the son of William Temple of the NDAC bacteriology department.

NOTICE

Starting tomorrow, April 14, the Reserve Library will close at 1 p. m. Saturdays. Anyone wanting reserve books after that hour should call for them at the main circulation desk.

The function of the writer in our society will be evaluated by Edward Rosenheim, University of Chicago humanities professor, at 9:40 a. m., Monday, April 23, in Festival hall. His lecture constitutes the last word in the series "The Arts in Our Industrial World," which has been presented this year at NDAC.

Rosenheim's practical experience with the problems of both the writer and the publisher, his thorough academic background in contemporary literature and his platform ability combine to qualify him exceptionally for his discussion.

Currently, Rosenheim is working on "The Satiric Method of Jonathan Swift." He also is a candidate for the Ph.D degree at the University of Chicago where he is an examiner and assistant professor in the college of humanities.

Rosenheim has had published criticism and literary studies in such publications as Poetry: A Magazine of Verse, and Common Cause. He also has written a study concerning Themiseul Saint-Hyacinthe, the 18th Century French satirist.

Hesselbach, AFROTC Instructor, Promoted

M/Sgt. William E. Hesselbach, instructor in Air Force ROTC here, has been discharged from the service at Offutt AFB, Nebraska, to accept an appointment as Warrant officer junior grade in the USAF. He will return to duty at NDAC.

Mr. Hesselbach, who arrived here in September 1950, has spent more than eleven years in the service. During that time he served in Europe, the Pacific, and the Canal Zone. He resides with his wife, the former Doris Safgren of near Moorhead, and two children at B-3, North Court.

Director Announces Cast Members Chosen For LCT "Hamlet"

Cast members for the May 17, 18 production of "Hamlet" at the Little Country Theater have been announced by Miss West, director. This five-act tragedy by Shakespeare is being sponsored by the Edwin Booth dramatic club.

Hamlet will be played by Walt Christianson of Kenmare, a senior in AAS. Guen Gertrude and King Claudius will be portrayed by Janet Schwer, AAS senior, and Harold Janneck, Agr. sophomore. The role of Horatio, friend to Hamlet, will be taken by Donald Stewart, AAS senior.

Augie Aamodt, senior in AAS, will portray Polonius, Lord Chamberlain. Leartes and Ophelia, son and daughter to Polonius, will be played by Marlowe Jensen and Margie Heger, both sophomores in AAS. Other cast members will be announced next week.

Saddle-Sirloin Club Elect Clark Prexy

Richard Clark (Ag-Jr) from Forest River was recently elected president of the NDAC Saddle and Sirloin club. Other officers elected were: Robert Velure, vice-president; James Mathews, secretary; David Kaspari, treasurer; Wesley Martin, reporter; and Duane Lemmon, historian.

Professor M. L. Buchanan, animal husbandry department, is the club advisor.

Posin To Address IRC

Lunch will be served and all interested persons are invited to attend.

North Dakota Future Homemakers Open Sixth Annual Convention Here Today

NDAC campus is the site of the North Dakota Future Homemakers of America's sixth annual State Convention this weekend. The convention theme is, "Each one of us counts in a Democracy."

There are 82 chapters of Future Homemakers in North Dakota with a total membership of 2,376. During the past year all of the chapters have participated in state and national projects. These include observance of UN Day in October, and National FHA week in November; participation in the world Christmas festival, and correspondence with Japanese high school girls.

This morning's program included welcome messages by President Hultz and Dean Davy of the Home Economics school. Miss Lucille Horton, professor of home economics education, assisted by Tryota club members are making arrangements for a campus tour this afternoon.

Chemical Society Plans Meeting For April 16

The final spring meeting of the Red River Valley Section of the American Chemical Society will be held in Room 207 of the Chemistry building at 7:30 p. m., Monday, April 16, according to Dr. R. E. Dunbar, national councilor of the organization. The guest speaker will be Dr. Harold G. Cassidy, of Yale University, speaking on the "Nature and Use of Chromatography." The meeting will be preceded by a group dinner in the Ceres hall private dining room at 6 p. m.

The local section has a membership of nearly 100 chemists from various parts of the Valley, and individuals are expected to be present from Grand Forks, Moorhead, Valley City, Jamestown, Ellendale and other cities. The meeting should be of considerable interest to many students and is open to the public without charge.

Seminar Next Thursday

Baldur H. Kristjanson of the agricultural economics department will speak on "Bargaining Process in The Farm Rental Market" at an ag econ seminar at 4 p. m., Thursday, April 19, Room 215, Morrill hall.

During the afternoon Thorfin Tangedahl of Bismarck, child welfare consultant, will make comments at the film showing of "Life at Camp Grassick". As part of the tour the Intersorority Council has planned a social hour for the Future Homemakers between 3 and 4 p. m.

In the evening a dinner will be held at the Gardner Hotel, with Eileen Kressin, Wahpeton, serving as mistress of ceremonies. High lighting the dinner program will be the conferring of the State Homemakers Degrees, honorary memberships and installation of the 1951-52 state FHA officers. Beverly Widdifield, president of Tryota College Home Economics club will welcome the FHA'ers with Lois Cullen, Sheldon, responding.

Miss Pearl Dinan, dean of women, will bring greetings from NDAC. Wallace Vance, Williston, state FFA president, will speak to the FHA girls in behalf of the State Fture Farmers. Marjorie Heger, NDAC student will read "The Waltz". Musical numbers by Jackie Brekken and Phyllis Hans, NDAC students, will also be a part of the dinner program.

Following the dinner NDAC girls will be hostess to a pajama party for the Future Homemakers in Dakota hall. Mrs. Eunice Manning, social director of Dakota hall and Miss Lucille Manning, will direct the entertainment.

Local chapter presidents will have breakfast together Saturday morning and discuss their responsibilities as leaders. State public relations chairman, Joan Herr, of Wishek, will preside at the Saturday morning session. The district FHA presidents and 1951-52 officers will present the McCall Teen Tog Wardrobe as part of the morning program. JoAnne Johnson, NDAC student, will play a piano solo for the morning program.

The main feature of Saturday's program will be buzz session discussions on "How can FHA'ers Develop Democratic Leadership." Under the direction of Miss Evadine Parker, assistant professor of home economics education, FHA women will have small group discussions. Those members who will serve as buzz session leaders include Marion Lyness, Fessenden; Dorothy Roberts, Hettinger; Janet Rydholm, Grafton; Wilma Severenson, of Jamestown; Mary Jane Osterburg, West Fargo; and representatives from Mayville and Devils Lake chapters.

The convention will close with the annual business session at which time Barbara Craven of Carrington, will accept the gavel as the 1951-52 state FHA president.

Tryota, home economics club with Viola Vessler, Wishek, and Donna Wohl, Lidgerwood, as chairman, have assisted in the arrangements for the state convention. Misses Mildred Hawkins and Mildred Schmidt are co-sponsors of Tryota.

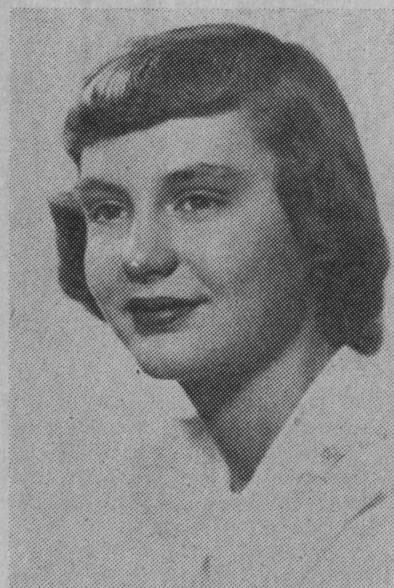

Making the plans for the State FHA convention are Miss Majore Lovering, state FHA adviser, Miss Helen Hoermann, Jamestown, assistant state FHA adviser, and Christine Finlayson, state supervisor of homemaking education.

Aptitude Tests Now Available At Old Main

The "Bulletin of Information" on the Selective Service college qualification test scheduled to be given May 26, June 16 and June 30 is now available at the dean of students' office at NDAC.

The information bulletin contains detailed instructions on eligibility, application procedure, list of examination centers, and a description of the test with sample questions and answers. It is important that all students desiring occupational deferment read this bulletin.

Students eligible to take this examination must be regularly enrolled, full-time students (at NDAC he must be carrying 12 hours of credits. He must also be a registrant under the Selective Service Act who intends to request occupational deferment as a student, and must be under 26 years of age.

The test at NDAC will be administered by Carl Schmidt, director of personnel, on May 26 at the Field house, and on June 16 and 30 in the Chemistry building. In order to apply to take the college qualification test, the registrant must obtain a post card application from any Selective Service local board. These applications will be available after April 12.

ONE DAY SHIRT LAUNDRY SERVICE Serving the College Folks For 20 Years

First item of business: apologies to Mr. Reed, of Reed's Cleaners, for untoward remarks in the SCORE of April 6. I looked before I leaped, to quote an old cliché. Mr. Reed is in business to make money—and who isn't? Most of his customers come to his establishment in cars. And when they find the parking space filled, they naturally go someplace else with their cleaning. So you see, he can't operate with student and faculty cars in front of his building for hours, and in some cases, days on end. How about the students and faculty showing a little more consideration for the businessmen located around the AC?

Mr. Moberg's class furnished a medium-sized yak this week. Mo was trying to get the class to tell him the name of an important mineral mined in Vermont—marble, of course—with little success. As a desperate hint, he finally asked, "What do little boys usually play with in the Spring?" From halfway back in the room came the answer, "Girls!" Ask a silly question . . .

The "Cavalier Daily" of the University of Virginia came up with this one about a tremendously boring prof a few weeks back: "His every lecture is like an 800-mile train ride through Texas in July, with a hot wind coming back from the engine, and 16 cars full of sheep between." Now, aren't you glad you attend NDAC?

The linotype operator has managed to foul up royally for two weeks in a row now, and even gave us that new word "ushed" last time. For the benefit of those who don't spik Ciranaician fluidly, I'll translate the April 6 misprint, which should have read, "I didn't slip, I wasn't pushed, I was drafted." Oh—funnier the other way, huh? Well, if this gets fouled up this week . . . ! (Note to lino operator: Consider that a threat.)

Choice item from a survey to be published in the Spectrum next week is the fact that only 8 out of 45 male students preferred dating sorority girls. "With men who know females best, it's non-sorority girls, 37 to 8!" (Watch for this poor man's Kinsey Report next week.)

Saw Bob Fisher over in Erv Kaiser's office last Tuesday muttering dire threats against Sam Catchem. I think he's planning to trap the King of the Open Road in an elephant pit that has been secretly dug behind Old Main. Ool-Ool must have received a traffic ticket from Sam. First Empty Williams and now Ool-Ool Fisher—the motorcycle king is having a rough time.

Why I'd like to be Sport's Editor (ha!) section: After a careful perusal of John (Pilch) Mashek's new "Shot in the Dark" column last week, Rod Fercho suggested a new title—"Trash With Mash." It's still "Shot in the Dark", by the way.

Prexy George L. Cross of the University of Oklahoma said it: "We're working to develop a university the football team can be proud of."

Couldn't pass up these two jokes from the March issue of the "North Dakota State Engineer":

Legs by Steinway
Body by Fisher (not Joan)
Necks by The Hour

Coed—I'll stand on my head or bust!

Phy Ed Teacher—Just stand on your head—we don't ask too much.

ROTC Air Force uniforms are so darn expensive, Buck Lamb went and had himself sprayed with blue Kem-Tone. Has his legs pressed every Monday before general assembly.

Fact dug out of a humor magazine—after some darn careful research: Sorority girls (especially . . .) become almost completely fed up with sex at the age of 93.

Anti-Truman dept.: L.S.M.F.T. — Lord save me from Truman. And the marine who said Harry would never have to worry during a wartime food shortage—he can always eat his words. Replacing the Missouri Waltz as Harry's theme song is "I'm Just Mild About Harry." I'll finish up again with another risqué poem:

Little Miss Muffet
Decided to rough it
In a cabin quite old and medieval.
A rounder espied her
And plied her with cider,
And now she's the forest's prime evil.

Student Commission Minutes

April 10, 1951.

President Freeh called the meeting to order. The roll was called. Colliton was absent. Jim Dower was present as a visitor. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Jim Dower reported from Alpha Phi Omega on record sales. Fifty four albums have been sold and orders received for twenty-two more. A repayment will be made when $500 has been received.

Freeh reported on the meeting of the Traffic Board. In the future traffic violations will not be recorded on a student's transcript. A report was given on paving to be done on campus. Discussion was held on Student Union parking.

Discussion was held on ball rooms and an auditorium for the Student Union.

Lunde gave the report of the committee for the Student Commission dinner. The dinner is to be held at 6:30 April 24 in honor of the new Commission.

Christensen gave a report on elections and presented a list of twelve names for election judges. Eight were selected: Virginia Lidstrom, Lois Fitzloff, Zoe Nelson, Joan McKenzie, Elizabeth von Ruden, Ken Maetzold, Fred Brandt and Jim McManus. Christensen will select three of these to serve as judges for the election.

Discussion was held on past Commission work and the booklet to be presented to the new Commission to guide them in future work. Meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
ROBERT OURADNIK.

Big news this week is the initiation of pledges into active ranks by the Greeks. The Tau's now boast 14 wearers of the ATO cross. Congratulations to John L. Sullivan and John Brunsdale of Fargo; Marvin Leintz, Lincoln Valley; Raymond Sharkey, Towner; Robert Vaselenko, Williston; John Retzlaff, Jamestown; Robert Witherow, Denver, Colo.; Richard Thompson, Minot; Charles Gronberg, Bismarck; Paul Pratt, Gardner; Erwin Samuelson, West Fargo; Irvin Meyers, Towner; Lyle Fugleberg, Mayville; and Donald Johnson, Minneapolis, Minn.

Wish more groups would have coffee hours—Phi Mu's had a java hour on Wednesday from 4 to 6.

The boys in blue (Arnold Air Society) will hold a formal dinner dance at the Moorhead Country club tonight beginning at 7:30. Sharing the spotlight tonight is the Newman Club term party at the beautiful KC Hall from 9 to 12.

Friday and Saturday NDAC will act as host to the FHA convention.

Today is Friday the 13th so beware of black cats, ladders and men in blue uniforms. He has a small vehicle with three wheels and a shiny badge.

Tonight Theta Chi's are celebrating their Founder's Day banquet at 7. Dean Dolve is guest speaker.

New Initiates in the Joy boys are Richard Hill, New Salem; Carl Berg, Worcester, Mass.; Richard Engvoll, Worcester, Mass.; Byron Lysne, Harvey; Warren Frank, Detroit Lakes; James Anderson, Fargo; and Wesley Tossett, Lansford. Thirteen members of the NDAC chapter of Theta Chi attended the Theta Chi Regional Conclave in Minneapolis last week.

Ruth Goebe, Marilyn Meier, and Beverly Sellend now call the red, buff and green house (AGD) their home. Congratulations on pledging.

SAE's entertained Alpha Gams at a social from 4 to 8 on Wednesday.

Mrs. Harry Riddle of Bloomington, Illinois, Zeta province president of Kappa Delta sorority will be the guest of the local chapter of KD on this campus next week. Atea in her honor will be given next Tuesday at the sorority house.

Phi Mu has five new initiates since last Tuesday when ceremonies were held at the First Baptist church. Actives are Marilyn Carlson, Patricia Kepner, Phyllis Knight, Marian Lysengen, and Faye Wenber. A slumber party at the chapter house tonight is being given in honor of new actives, pledges, and new officers. Donna Bender, Darlene Giving, and Ardyce Sjaarstad pledged Phi Mu April 4.

Gamma Phi Beta initiated eight girls into the active chapter last Sunday. This was followed by a breakfast and group attendance at the Presbyterian church. Proud wearers of the crescent are Pat Christensen, Sharon Cooke, Betty Lou Danielson, Margery Johnston, Betty Lou Kerr, Janet Olson, Karol Kay Peterson, and Genivieve Wild. A dinner for the actives was given by the pledges last Thursday.

SAE aded five new actives with the initiation of Walsh Conmy, Fred Carolan, Joel Bjorgan, Thor Hertzgaard, and Curtis Erickson. Congratulations!

Pat Akre, Marge Anderson, Joan Hutter, Joan McKenzie, Peggy Murphy, LaVonne Bergren, Karen Johnson, Pat Puckering, and Carol Jordheim proudly wear the Kappa Key as a symbol of their new active status.

SPD Buzz Barr recently married Marian Lueck from Lidgerwood. Sigma Phi Delta's new pledges include Don Grommesh, Charles Keogh, and Dewey Albers.

Letter To The Editor

This letter, written by two professors, is a protest to the aptitude test given under the new draft law discussed in last week's editorial.—Ed.

We feel the plan of Selective Service to defer college students on the basis of high test scores calls for critical comment. There is not the slightest doubt that rural students, at least those without easy access to books and newspapers most of their lives, would do relatively poorly on this type of examination.

It has been shown that performance on the standard types of "intelligence" tests can vary considerably with differences in social environments—probably as much as 20 points. This is not due to differences in native intelligence but to differences in the kind of vocabulary acquired. A student who grows up in a home where vocabularies are limited or goes to a very small high school simply does not enter the test with as adequate equipment as the youth reared in a more favored community. Yet, assuming equal motivation and natural capacity, the country boy normally would "close the gap" after a period of training.

The obvious, but not easy, solution would be to construct a test employing questions in which the vocabulary is equally familiar to all social classes—or as much so as is humanly possible. The sample questions printed in the newspapers April 4 fail to indicate any such attempt.

The net result is to leave the whole system under a cloud. We do not argue with the view that the supply of scientists and experts must be maintained, although some people have questioned the proposed system of doing it on democratic grounds. We do question the method of selection.

LOUIS FOURT,
COURTNEY B. CLELAND,
Assistant Professors.

The SPECTRUM shares your sentiments, gentlemen, but you barely touched on the defects of this system. For instance, a high school graduate could write the test and pass it, supposedly indicating some amount of gray matter. But what is to prevent that student from sluffing off in college, barely staying in the upper portion of his class as prescribed by law, simply because he prefers college to the army.

However, the effects of this test may not be as great as anticipated since they are used "merely to advise local draft boards." Should the Universal Military Training bill, which is now before Congress, pass, this test would undoubtedly be discarded. At any rate, the test wouldn't maintain college enrollment at present levels.

Engineering Graduates Accept Positions

Melvin Forthun of Fargo and Lowell W. Syverson of Ulen, Minn., have accepted engineering positions in Ohio and Michigan, according to A. W. Anderson, chairman of the mechanical engineering department at NDAC.

Forthun, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Forthun, has gone to Akron, O., where he is an engineer with the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. Syverson has accepted a position as experimental test engineer in the Muskegon, Mich., plant of Continental Motors, Ind. Both are winter quarter graduates of NDAC.

Berry, Fashion Expert, To Present Style Show

Miss Olive Berry, college fashion advisor for the Simplicity Pattern Company of New York City, will present a style show called "Symphony of Spring Fashions" at the Little Country Theater at 4 next Friday. The program is under the auspices of the NDAC Clothing Department. Students, friends, and the general public are cordially invited to this show.

Alpha Zeta Elects Murphy Chancellor

Dacotah chapter of Alpha Zeta has selected new officers for the fiscal year. They are: John Murphy, chancellor; Duane Johnson, scribe; Lloyd Peterson, treasurer; Kenneth McCoy, chronicler; Charles Mode, censor; and Howard Brooks, guide.

Retiring officers are Carl Amstrup, Donald Flatau, Russell Lorenz, Marvin Jensen, Rolf Berg, and Carl Ekstrom.

Coombs Wins ASME Essay Recognition

Chadwick Coombs, (ME-Sen) won the ASME annual paper contest with his report on "A Study in Economics; The Abell Single Valve Engine." Coombs will present his paper at the regional ASME convention in Chicago May 7 and 8.

Oliver Hauge (Adm. Eng-Sen.) won second place with his paper on "The Hydro-Electric Aspects of Garrison Dam."

Migratory Birds On Display At Library

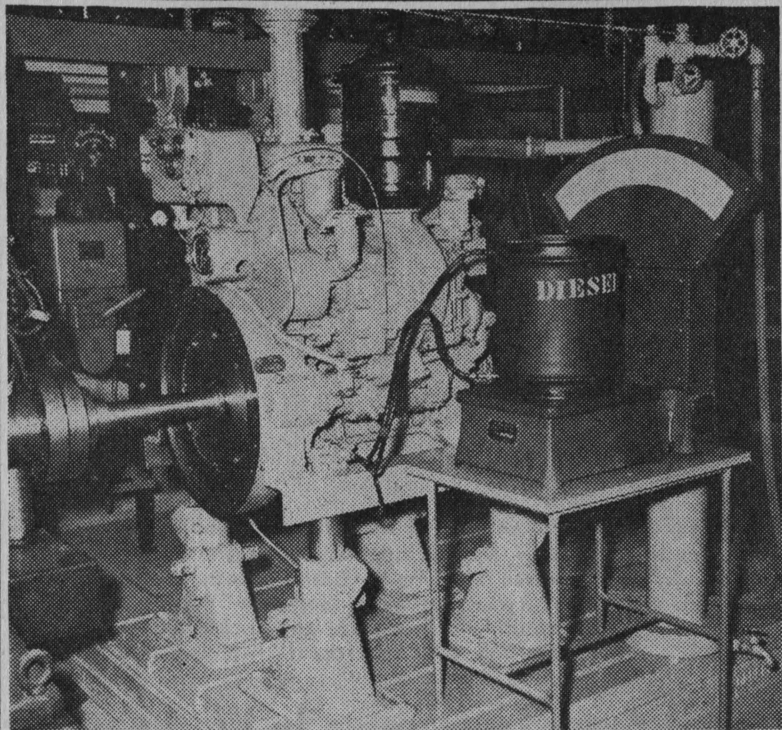

Birds other than the Robin Red-Breast show signs of spring. This is proved in a display of migratory birds now arriving in Fargo during the spring trek north which has been arranged by J. Frank Cassel, assistant professor of zoology at NDAC.

Cassel has tagged the various species according to those who arrive in April and come to stay all summer, and the transient birds that come in April but migrate still farther north. The display also shows current reports on arrival dates which have been determined by Dr. O. A. Stevens, professor of botany, who has long been a bird-spotter.

Among the transient feathered visitors in Fargo during April are the White-throated sparrow, Tree Sparrow, Slate-colored Junco, Brown Creeper, Rusty Blackbird, Fox Sparrow, Golden-crowned Kinglet, Wilson's Snipe, Yellow-bellied Sapsucker and Myrtle Warbler.

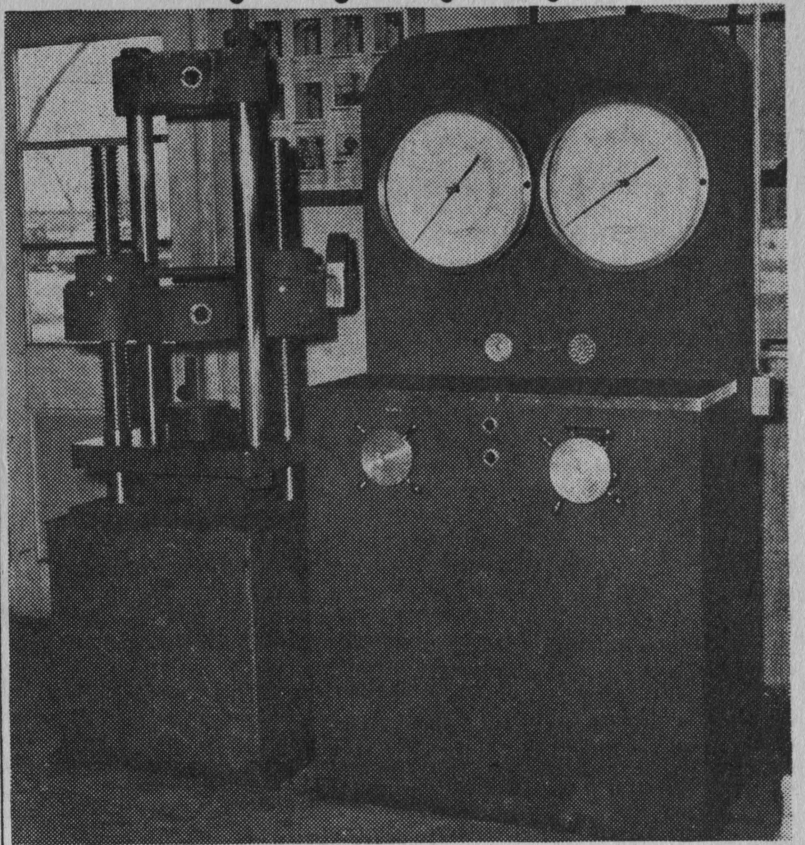

Interested visitors may see the display at the south end of the first floor of the NDAC Library. The zoological collection included in the room contains over 500 birds and mammals.

Engineering Departments Get New Test Equipment

A new Diesel test engine has been installed in the mechanical engineering department's internal combustion engine laboratory, according to A. W. Anderson, chairman of the NDAC department.

The new engine, a three-cylinder, two cycle, General Motors Model 371, develops 85 horsepower at 2000 rpms. It is used commercially in tractors, buses and power plants. The unit at NDAC has been installed on the mechanical engineering department's 150 horsepower dynamometer so that students may run tests to determine its power and economy under closely controlled varying conditions.

Two new testing machines for use in tests of the compressive and tensile strength of samples of various metals and woods have been added to the NDAC materials testing laboratory.

The machines, built for NDAC by the Young Testing Machine Co., of Bryn Mawr, Pa., are hydraulically operated with capacities of 60,000 and 120,000 pounds. The 60,000 pound machine can handle small columns up to 42" in length, such as materials used in aeronautical structural applications and bridge construction.

The new machines supplement existing equipment of the material testing laboratory and can be used for student instruction or thesis research work.

At the Miami University of Oxford, Ohio, all students must record their marriages in advance. If student is under legal age, he must file the written consent of his parents with the notice of marriage. If both persons concerned are attending Miami or living in Oxford, they must establish residence together. Failure to comply with these rules will result in expulsion from that institution.

Vogelsang Heads ASME

At a recent ASME meeting, Donald R. Vogelsang and Richard J. Bayley were elected to replace two March graduates, Melvin Forthun, chairman; and Alan Eid, secretary.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Maurice Jones of Fargo. Mr. Jones, whose hobby for the past several years has been the reloading of rifle shells, gave a lecture on the history of the art. He followed with a demonstration on reloading a .30-caliber rifle shell for the First Baptist church of Oxford, following the trend of fraternities to make initiation activities constructive instead of destructive. This practice was also carried out by the ATO's at the University of North Dakota, when they whitewashed the walls of the city jail.

From the University of Alaska comes the news of the most active organization in that country. It holds no conventions or initiations, has no officers or leader, collects no dues, and has no roster. Any individual arriving there automatically becomes a "pledge". The name of this organization is the Fraternity of Old Time Alaskans.

A SHOT IN THE DARK

AROUND THE CIRCUIT

Several North Central Conference teams resumed intercollegiate activity during the past week. With spring football, track, baseball, golf, and tennis capturing the spotlight, the NCC activity looms big for the future.

Most teams have limited their workouts to indoor practice, mainly because of the inclement weather conditions prevailing in the northwest area. If we have a repeat of last spring's sloppy Field and Stream, it could hamper the future of spring sports in the area.

The South Dakota Jackrabbits, definitely stressing all sports, swung into high gear in all phases. Fourteen lettermen from last year's conference champions have reported to Ralph Ginn for grid drills. Ginn plans on six weeks of workouts with the emphasis on fundamentals.

According to Ginn, the biggest problem calls for filling the shoes of Herb Bartling, outstanding Split-T quarterback. Also the absence of all conference center, Howard Amen, presents quite a vacancy.

56 men reported for baseball tryouts at the Bunnie stronghold. Head Coach Erv Heuther needs adequate battery material to supplement his overall strength in the other seven positions. The State baseball schedule hasn't yet been published.

The Jacks opened their track campaign with a win over St. Thomas and Macalaster in a triangular tiff at Minneapolis. Ten letterwinners from last year's NCC titlists give Jim Emmerich a strong nucleus.

From down Sioux City way comes an extensive spring program report of Morningside's Maroons. Football has been cancelled to allow players to participate in track or baseball, and to achieve higher scholastic ratings.

Track skipper George Allen depends on frosh and sophomore talent to carry the squad through the cinder season. A miler, "Red" Heuton, and a high jumper, Johnny Boice, look like powerful contenders in their specialties.

After slating a ten game schedule, Coach Joe Broom expects to field an all veteran team for the coming contests. Broom's main strength rides with a talented mound corps.

Augustana and South Dakota University have also picked up the tempo for the spring season. The Vikings, always a tower of strength in tennis, has extended their activities. With a good crop of returning experienced thin-clads, the Coyotes appear set for an outstanding track crew.

THE THING — GAMBLING

When reknowned gambler, Frank Costello, took the stand during the Kefauver investigation and muttered, "gambling should be legalized," he touched off more fireworks. Although, this didn't apply specifically to the sporting world, it can be interpreted as such.

After the final three of City College of New York's basketball team had been booked on accepting bribes, the situation looked hopeless. Gamblers probably approached many more athletes than could be imagined. About the only remedy to the sitnking problem is to take basketball and other intercollegiate sports away from the big arenas and put the game back on the college campus.

As a prominent New York sports scribe put it, "the highlight of the basketball season was when it was over". How true he was. If the gambling and betting scandals spread to other fields, what then? The only conclusion would be disaster.

At the outset, one could foresee trouble when Junius Kellogg, Manhattan center, reported a fixer confronting him with a "do or die" proposition. The gamblers' strategy is to keep the game within a certain point spread unlike the one set up by the national Betting Commission or local bookies. When a top-heavy favorite like CCNY beats a weak sister by a couple of points after being favored by twenty, some gambler makes a terrific haul.

Let's hope the difficulty straightens itself out before further scandal blackens the future.

HERE 'N THERE

It was certainly a pleasure to watch Dave Torson in action during the Red River Valley Tourney. Davie shows the same class he displayed during his spotless two year performance for the Bison. On-lookers still wondered why Torson didn't give pro ball a fling before launching his coaching career. In this writer's opinion, any professional team could use a performer like our Dave.

The Fargo Forum's annual events, the Red River and All-City meets, provided good entertainment for anyone not sick of basketball. Hillsboro and the Concordia Screwbocs captured the respective titles.

Kaiser Tutors Track Trio

Cinder Crew Impressive In Workouts As Kaiser Points To Good Season

North Dakota State's cinder squad is looking better and better every day, now that everyone except the pole vaulters have gotten out of doors, reports track mentor Irv Kaiser. With a nucleus of five letter winners and a fine contingent of freshmen, the Bison may surprise this year. But the power in the conference is in the South—the two SD teams appear loaded.

Kaiser reports he is pleased with the way the entire team is shaping up, especially the freshmen, and calls the pole vault prospects "the best ever".

Impressive so far: Fred Carolan, freshman flash, and Bud Rydstrom in the 440. Gerry Goetz, Grafton miler, probably one of the hardest workers. Fargo's Loren Oliver has done well with the discus and should improve in the dashes. Ev Harrison and Dick Brown, former Fargo high stars, are the only hurdlers out. Don Fougner is ineligible, so the brunt of the burden in the weight department will fall on the shoulders of Bob Kubas. Bob O'Neill, letterman javelin specialist, is out to repeat his feat of two year's back—winning the state intercollegiate title. Chuck Gronberg's bum knee is coming around satisfactorily, which will be a big boost to the vaulting crew. Norris Johnson still hasn't reported for the vault. Ron Pitsenbarger is passing up competition this spring.

The first meet for the Bison will be the Sioux Invitational Relays at Grand Forks on April 27. May 5 is open, but Kaiser is trying to work something in for that date. May 11 the thinclads will be at Bemidji. The NCC meet is May 19 at Cedar Falls, Iowa. The State Intercollegiate meet is on May 30, rounding out the season.

I-M Meeting Called For Monday To Slate Season

Intra-mural sports director Irv Kaiser announced late this week that there will be a meeting in room 204, Monday at 4:15. This meeting at the field house has been called by Kaiser to arrange the intramural program for the spring quarter.

The dues and rosters for all softball entries are due. Kaiser hopes to clear this business as soon as possible. All fraternal and independent associations are eligible for the I-M softball loop.

Kaiser hopes to discuss the possibility of arranging a baseball slate for this spring. In the past baseball has been kept at an intercollegiate basis, but if enough interest prevails the diamond game may be added.

Wenskunas Calls Spring Grid Drills; Kick-Off Planned For Monday

By BERARD MASSE

Spring football drills for the Bison gridgers will begin on Monday. Practice sessions are slated daily for four o'clock. Workouts will continue for approximately four weeks. An inter squad game is planned for the last week.

Head coach Mac Wenskunas, former Illinois line star, is anxious to have a look at prospects for next season. Bernie Krueger and Dennis Drews will assist Wenskunas. Krueger, like Mac, performed for the fighting Illini. Drews was an outstanding fullback for the Herd several seasons back.

A meeting was held Monday for all interested footballers. Wenskunas was quick to indicate that anyone who wants to try out for the football team is invited.

The list of candidates who have definitely indicated they would be out is as follows: Lettermen from the 1950 season include ends Bob Jones, Chicago; and Sam Vranish, Ironton, Minnesota; tackle Bob Zorich, Wakefield, Michigan; backs Bennie Noland, Hopkins, Minnesota; Jim Hitter, Park Rapids, Minnesota; Orville Overboe, Hillsboro; Ray Curtis, Chicago; Dean Morford, Brainerd, Minnesota; and Tom McLeod of Cavalier.

Reporting from last season's strong freshman squad are ends Chuck Gronberg, Bismarck; and Ron Zatkoff, Hamtramck, Michigan; tackles Bob Lauf, LaMoore; Burt Hutton, Towner; and Bob Vaselenko, Williston; guards Marty Kroninger, Devils Lake; and Bob Menninger, St. Louis, Missouri; backs John Nicka, Chicago; Jack Werlein, Berwyn, Illinois; Bill Buckellew, Georgetown, Illinois; and Marty Davis, Hammond, Illinois. In addition, Bob Riley, a transfer from Utah, will also report. Riley is from Boston, Massachusetts.

More members of the Bison varsity and freshman crews are expected to answer Wenskunas' call. John Mashek and Roger Huizenga, both varsity linemen, have shifted their talents to baseball this spring. Quite a few others have been working out with the track team.

Several New Candidates Report For Bison Nine; Squad Still Trains Indoors

Some 28 baseball aspirants reported to Coach Packy Schafer Tuesday in the initial, formal meeting of the team. Schafer was joined by Chuck Bentson, who will act as assistant during the campaign.

Although the team has been confined to indoor workouts, Schafer expressed hope that his charges will be in full swing by next week. Several players already have a week's training under their belt, so "getting into shape" was the order of the day from the two mentors.

Schafer greeted many new faces during the first scheduled workout. Pitching, which definitely lacks depth, picked up with the arrival of five possibilities. Kermit Quanbeck, a McVillage lad with independent experience, should help. Doug Boling, McClusky; Don Anderson, Fargo; Don E. Anderson, Fullerton; and Ted Stensland, Brooklyn, New York, also have added their names to the mound corps. Dan Murphy of Bordulac and Don Sheldon of Wheatland will try out for first base. Roy Huizenga and Jerry Friedman have been mentioned as initial first sack probables.

Don Dietrich of Hurdsfield joins a group of talented vets for the keystone spot. Kenny Rustad of Abercrombie, who played third for that town in the North Dakota Amateur tourney, lends strength to the hot corner.

Lyle Fugleberg, who was a reserve on the Mayville state champ nine, seeks an outfield post along with Byron Mitchell. A welcome addition to the Bison fold is Bob Hlavac. The Lonsdale, Minnesota, flychaser, impressed last year with his smooth style.

Hlavac boasts numerous years of amateur experience.

The players named above represent additional candidates to be linked with those named in last week's Spectrum. Any additional baseball talent should report to Coach Schafer as positions are definitely open.

The situation of the playing field represents quite a problem to the Bison nine. The playing field serves as a parking lot during football and always receives a beating during the winter months. Bentson hopes to play the Gorman league games in Barnett field if arrangements can be made.

Since Barnett field will be undergoing a face lifting job, Bentson said the field may be unavailable. In that case practice sessions and games remain on the playing field north of the field house.

Local Banquet Features WAA Rating Problems

Dr. Rachel Brant met with men and women physical education groups at a banquet in the Graver hotel on Monday, April 9. They discussed problems in women's sports and also measures which must be taken in order that our local rating boards may confer national ratings on basketball, volleyball, and softball officials.

Dr. Brant is field representative of the National Section of Women's Athletics, whose headquarters are in Washington, D. C.

Net Schedule Drawn As Tennis Hopefuls Prepare For Season

Track coach Irv Kaiser reports ten names on the list of prospects trying out for the AC tennis squad. The ten are: Jose Iranzo, Caracas, Venezuela; Adelbert Knevel, St. Joseph, Minnesota; Art O'Connor, Brooklyn; Jerry White, Riverdale; Ray Mork, Jamestown; Ed Boerth, Bismarck, and Dick Palon, Jim Schrimpf, and Bob Wright of Fargo. Kaiser has tentatively appointed Professor John Oakey as the netters' coach.

A few indoor drills have been held, and several of the squad have been working out winter kinks on the Island Park courts. When the weather permits, daily workouts will be held at the Island Park location.

Berths are wide open, with no letterman competing. There was no tennis team last year due to the inclement weather. Inside tracks are expected to go to Iranzo, who could be the ace of the squad, and Boerth. Eddie was state junior champ in 1949, and with partner Bob Higgins took the junior doubles crown, edging Palon and Schrimpf in the finals. The latter pair have been doubles runners-up for the past two years. Palon was a finalist in junior singles both in 1949 and 1950.

The team will compete in at least five meets, the first of which will be on the 27th of this month at Grand Forks. Matches with our cross-town rivals, MSTC and Concordia, are also scheduled. May 11 at Bemidji, May 19 at Cedar Falls for the NCC meet, and May 30 at NDU for the state meet are the remaining dates.

Kaiser again urges any budding Jack Kramers to sign up in his office at the Phy Ed building.

Date Changed For Laker Hardwood Attraction

The Fargo Downtown Quarterback Club has announced a switch in dates for the game between the Minneapolis Lakers and the NBA All-Stars. The Lakers will play two games on April 21, instead of one game on April 16, as originally planned. The matinee will be a shortened affair for grade and high school students and will feature a basketball clinic given by the members of the Minneapolis team. Tickets are now on sale for both contests.

The Lakers, who have dominated pro basketball for the past four seasons, were thwarted in their try for a third successive NBA championship by the Rochester Royals, who dumped the Minneapolitans three games to one in their best-of-five playoff series.

All Time, All Amercian Football Eleven Picked By Nation Wide AP Canvas; Dream Team Results

By JOHN MASHEK

During the past two weeks the Associated Press carried on a nationwide survey to determine the all time All-America football team. The result would put the greatest eleven of all gridiron history in one unit.

Picked as first team ends were Don Hutson of Alabama and Bennie Oosterbaan of Michigan. Hutson, one of the sweetest pass receivers ever to don a uniform, performed for the Crimson Tide in the middle thirties. Don went on to the sport via the pro ranks. His pass catching and place kicking records leave one awed.

Carrying the colors of Michigan, Bennie Oosterbaan rightly deserved the honor. He was a tower of strength on defense for the Wolverines edition in 1925-27. Bennie's forte was his devastating downfield blocking.

At tackle spots, Wilbur "Fats" Henry and Bronko Nagurski gained the nod. Henry, a Washington and Jefferson block buster, will be remembered for his punt blocking and a knack of diagnosing the opposition's plays.

Bronko Nagurski of International Falls, Minn., made the crew. One of the physically strongest men of the game, the Nag played at Minnesota in the late twenties. When the Gophers needed a few yards, Bronko ran from the fullback slot and literally bulled his way over the other team.

Bobby Suffridge and Pudge Heffelfinger plucked off the guard positions of the dream team.

Suffridge, rock-ribbed Tennessee pull out guard, led the plays in his own savage way for three years, 1938-40. Although not an especially huge man, Bob constantly thwarted enemy line plays to add to his prestige. However, his offensive blocking will keep southern folks talking for ages.

At 83, Pudge Heffelfinger is the oldest man to receive the honor. Old Pudge played for Yale in the 1890's. As sports scribes remember him, he was all over the field on every play. His ability as a squad leader earned him numerous awards.

German Shulz, another Michigan great, participated in the game with the ferocity his name would leave one to believe. His line backing left the opposition helpless, as he stopped literally anything sent his way. Shulz wore the Maize and Blue through the 1905-08 campaigns at center.

There was little doubt in the pollsters minds of the backfield picks. Walt Eckersall, 145-pound Chicago dynamo, snatched the quarterback role. Eckersall, according to the writers of the 1900's did everything with the pigskin but eat it. He remained in the lineup on defense, performing equally well.

Harold "Red" Grange and Indian Jim Thorpe walked away in the halfback race. The "Gal-loping Ghost" that was Grange, is best described as the wrath of the twenties. His deceptive running and ability to use his blockers broke open each and every contest. Grange's long runs for the Illini started colleges into buliding the huge stadiums of the present day.

The Carlisle Indians presented a one man team on the field in the personage of Jim Thorpe. The old master never had a bad day during his stint from 1910-12. A true triple threat, Indian Jim ran and passed the opposition dizzy.

Rounding out the mythical eleven at fullback is Ernie Nevers, the Stanford battering ram. Not only could Nevers smack the line for precious yardage, but also he could circle the ends with a halfback's speed. Ernie was the rage of the Pacific coast in the early twenties.

Wartchow Attends Phy Ed Group Conference

Miss Beatrice Wartchow, associate professor of women's physical education, returned April 7 from Des Moines, Iowa, where she attended conferences of the Central Association for Physical Education of College Women, and of the Central District Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.
