

BISON HOPES REST ON THESE MEN

Herd Definite Favorites In Homecoming Battle Tomorrow With University Sioux

By Bob Fisher

Feature of the 1951 Homecoming celebration at NDAC will be the annual grid battle between the North Dakota State Bison and The North Dakota University Sioux.

The game will be played on Dacotah Field Saturday afternoon at 2. A capacity crowd is expected to see one of the most hair raising events of the season.

Bitter rivals since the first meeting, the Bison-Sioux clash is always hard fought all the way. Score does not always tell the story, especially in this series. Regardless of season records and past scores, the game very easily turns into an upset.

The Bison last beat the Sioux in 1949 to the tune of 19-7. Last year the Sioux won 33-0. The Sioux finished the 1950 season with a record of three wins, one loss and two ties to finish second in conference standings.

So far this year, the Nodaks have won one and lost two in league play. Last week the Sioux lost to Beloit 27-7, in a non-conference tussle. Iowa TC and SDS have triumphed over the Grand Forks eleven.

Coach Frank Zazula (Akron U. '40), starting his second campaign as head mentor at the University, faces one of the toughest rebuilding jobs of any coach in the nation. Zazula lost close to sixty players via graduation, service calls, and transfers from last year's varsity and frosh squads.

Nevertheless, the Sioux in pre-season ratings were right behind South Dakota State. The big reason for the high regard shown the Nodaks was the return of two all conference backs, Cy Ducharme and Lloyd (Boom) Hallada. Another regular returning was quarterback Dick Koppenhaver.

The Sioux line is green, but Zazula has the reputation of developing rugged hard charging linemen.

With a 7-7 tie under their belts, the Bison appear to be in perfect shape morally and physically for the encounter. The Jackrabbits beat NDU two weeks ago 21-12, but as I said before previous scores mean nothing in this series.

Starting for the Bison tomorrow on offense will be; Chuck Gronberg and Chuck Thurm at ends. Tackles will be Jack Westgard and Paul Werner. Pete Aamodt and Al Morris get the guard assignment with eveready Ray Paxton at center. In the Backfield, Episito, Noland, Davis and Buckellew will lug the pigskin.

The defensive platoon will feature Dick Sander and Gene Garastick at ends, with Bob Zorich and Bill Beckwith at the tackle slots. Bob Lauf and Paul Werner at guards. Linebackers will be Ray Paxton and Bill Buckellew. In the secondary we'll find Ray Curtis, Tom McLeod, and Benny Noland.

Biggest job the Bison will have tomorrow is stopping Ducharme and Hallada. Hallada was injured two weeks ago but is expected to be in good shape by gametime.

One of the boys to watch on the NDU squad will be Abe Tanaka, speedy 5'4" halfback who's speed is a constant threat. Abe weighs 118 pounds in uniform.

The game may turn into an aerial circus, as each team has a couple of good passers. The Bison are by far the passingest outfit in the loop and are a cinch to rely heavily on their air game. Tossing for the Bison will be Episito and Noland, with Koppenhaver pitching for the Sioux.

The Herd has one of the top pass catchers in the league in Gronberg. The university has a standout flanker in the person of Dick Ryan a soph from Chicago.

NOTICE

The library will be open on Saturday from 11:30-1:30 and following the game for inspection purposes only. Reserve books may be taken out on Friday and kept till Monday.

Bonfire, Snakedance Tonight; Parade At 9:30 Tomorrow

Highlight of the traditional Homecoming pep rally this morning was President Hultz's announcement that classes were dismissed for the remainder of the day in order that student organizations would have time to prepare for Homecoming. The president feels that the holiday will add to constructive Homecoming spirit and result in a bigger and better Homecoming.

Art Bunker, AAS senior presided over the pep rally which included two skits, talks by the coaches, the introduction of the football team, numbers by the band, and cheers.

This evening Rahjah President Gordy Badger will ignite the pile of wood which the freshmen have gathered on old Dacotah field. A regulated snake-dance will form at the bonfire and wind its way uptown.

Float lineup will begin at 8:30 tomorrow morning. Parade Marshal Ken Ward emphasized the importance of units being in their proper places on time. Assistant parade marshalls will be stationed strategically along the assembly route to facilitate formation. No units will be accepted in a position other than assigned to them and units not in place by the specified time will be subject to disqualification.

Over 45 units will take part in the parade. Featured will be Queen Marilyn Hunter and her royal court, ROTC and AFROTC drill teams and marching units, Governor Brunsdale, members of the Fargo city commission and the Board of Higher Education.

Seven bands will participate: The Gold Star Band, the North Dakota University band, and high school bands from Enderlin, Breckenridge, West Fargo, Barnesville, and Fargo.

Registration of alumni and former students will be at 11:30 a. m. tomorrow in the Elks club ballroom. Claude Ebling of White Bear Lake, Minnesota, an executive of the Soo Line Railroad, will be toastmaster at the noon alumni luncheon.

The NDAC Bison will meet the NDU Sioux in the Homecoming football game tomorrow afternoon. Half-time ceremonies will include coronation of the queen, marching maneuvers by the Gold Star band, introduction of visitors, and presentation of awards to winning floats and house decoration entrants and for ticket sales.

Blue Key Tracking Down Trophy Clues

Now Who's Got The Trophy?

Kenny Ketchner

It weighs 80 pounds, stands 22 inches high, is 25,000 times the volume of a nickle, is exactly proportioned to a nickle, and is of dull-cast aluminum alloy composition; What is it? where is it? and it has happened before.

It is North Dakota's best known athletic trophy. It disappeared on Sunday, October 21, 1951. It was stolen at the University homecoming banquet Friday, October 29, 1937. The trophy was stolen that time with a cab driver as the go-between. He answered the call from some unknown person who asked that it be delivered to the fraternity of which the University Blue Key president was a member. It did not show up until the next day during the game. Where was it? At the home of the University president.

This time the beloved Nickle disappeared from the University Sigma Chi Fraternity house. It was borrowed by the chapter to use as a model for a larger nickle replica used in their homecoming parade.

The trophy, according to Prexy Al Monson was last seen on Sunday morning of Oct. 21, and disappeared sometime before noon of the same day. Monson stated that a search of University Fraternity houses failed to dig out the "nickle" but that he had a "pretty good idea where the trophy may be and that members of the club will try to recapture it.

The Nickle, which is sponsored by the Blue Key Service Fraternity, has failed to show-up on this campus after a similar search took place this week in fraternity and sororities houses.

John Murphy, President of the NDAC Blue Key Chapter announced Wednesday that this Chapter was organizing an extensive search for the Blue Key sponsored "Nickle" Trophy which was lost two weeks ago by the University of North Dakota.

Murphy stated that he thought the people responsible at the University should be severely censured for not exercising "due care" while having the Trophy in their possession.

He assured us that Blue Key would do everything in their power to recover the lost Nickle, as one at the 'U' seems to have done anything about finding it.

The search will be conducted by the entire membership of the local chapter and will track down many of the rumors that now exist on this campus.

Dunbar, Bosch Report On Paint Research At Chemistry Convention In Atlantic City

The results of long research in paint chemistry will be reported at national meetings in early November by two staff members of NDAC.

Dr. Ralph E. Dunbar and Dr. Wouter Bosch of the NDAC school of chemical technology will speak in Atlantic City at national conventions of the Federation of Paint and Varnish Production Clubs and the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association.

Dr. Dunbar will report on a project to which the federation has contributed some $8,500 in cash and materials. His papers, "Refractive Index Measurements" and "Chemical Changes in Paint Films with Aging," deal with more than 3,000 analytical determinations on measurements.

In his research Dr. Dunbar was assisted by two NDAC graduate students—Robert Ludwigen of Fargo and Wesley Page of Souris.

Dr. Bosch will report on "Styrenation and Esterification of Tall Oil," a project in which he was assisted by NDAC graduate student Richard B. Drubel of Staten Island, N. Y.

The federation has financed 31 paint research projects over the country with NDAC being assigned two. The results of these projects will be analyzed by a national committee of six with Dr. Dunbar named as one member. Dr. W. O. Lundburg of the Hormel Institute at Austin, Minn., is chairman.

While at Atlantic City, Dr. Bosch will report to the Shell Chemical Corporation on research which is being sponsored at NDAC by that organization.

The NDAC Paint Alumni Club will convene at the same time. NDAC is one of the few schools in the country which offers a curriculum in paint chemistry. "The demand for trained personnel in this field contributes to 100 percent placement of our graduates," said Dr. Dunbar.

Commander Hayes To Interview Men, Administer Tests

Lieut. Comdr. B. C. Hayes, of the Minneapolis office of Naval Officer Procurement will be at NDAC on Wednesday, October 31, to interview applicants for commissions in the Naval Reserve and to administer Officer Qualification Tests to academically qualified candidates.

Applications for Officer Candidate School are now being accepted from college graduates and from students who are to graduate within 120 days, in the following categories: Unrestricted Line for General Assignment; Unrestricted Line for General Assignment in the Aeronautical Organization; Supply Corps.

Civil Engineers Corps; Restricted Line for Aerological Duties, for Naval Intelligence, for Communication Duties, or Appropriate Duties under the Cognizance of the Bureau of Ships and the Bureau of Ordnance; and Appropriate Billets within the Aeronautical Organization.

Comdr. Hayes will be in Mr. Miller's office in the Administration Building at 9 p. m. on Wednesday, Oct. 31. Students interested in this program are urged to be present at that time.

Architectural Students Enter Local Contest

A commercial subdivision of 100 moderately priced homes is the project for the current North Dakota Architects' Association competition which is open to the architectural students of NDAC.

Student entries will be judged Oct. 30 and 31 by a jury of architects from NDAC and Fargo. Design problems of the subdivision will be discussed at a seminar in the NDAC library on Nov. 15 when models and drawings will be exhibited.

"Although problems in design for the small house have been given much attention, little study has been made of the way in which such houses will look when grouped in number," explained Knute A. Henning, NDAC chairman of architecture and architecture engineering. "A problem in planning a subdivision is to build standardized houses without producing monotony."

The jury of architects which will judge the entries includes S. Marius Houkom, William F. Kurke, Harold E. Bechtel, and Herman Skaret, all of Fargo; and Knute A. Henning, O. Reuben Johnson and George Polk of NDAC.

Regional Institute Gets Microfilms, Historical Pictures

Two contributions of historical value have been added to the North Dakota Institute of Regional Studies collection, according to Dr. G. E. Giesecke, director. The institute has acquired a 35-year microfilmed record of the Dickinson Press and a collection of some 5,000 early-day pictures of Fargo and the North Dakota Agricultural College.

The institute is a research center maintained at NDAC for study of source material on North Dakota and the Northern Plains region.

The Dickinson Press, a daily newspaper in western North Dakota, is the first publication to be microfilmed for the institute. Issues from 1882 through 1917 have been recorded on microfilm and are now on file at the NDAC library, said H. Dean Stallings, librarian.

When officials of the institute learned that P. J. Baseflug, publisher of the Dickinson Press, planned to microfilm his early files in the interests of conserving space, they arranged for an extra copy to be filmed for the institute. Projection equipment at the NDAC library will be made available to anyone interested in seeing these early issues.

The picture collection was given to the institute by the Fargo Chamber of Commerce. That organization had acquired the pictures from David Anderson, former staff photographer with the Extension Service, and had used some of them in the publication marking Fargo's Diamond Jubilee.

The photographs present a 40-year pictorial record of buildings, events and personalities in Fargo and NDAC history. Librarian Stallings said that the pictures would be classified and public displays would be made of them from time to time.

Faculty Members Attend Convention Dean Cerveny Featured On Program

Members of the NDAC faculty returned from an NDEA, North Dakota Education Association, convention in Bismarck on Friday, Oct. 19. Attending the convention which began on the 17th, Wednesday, were approximately 3200 people.

There were 34 general sessions with the first one beginning on Wednesday, Oct. 17 at 7:30 p. m. Dean Cerveny was on the Oct. 18 program for the meeting of the Home Economics section. She spoke on "Current Challenges of Home Economics."

The new officers elected were Roy Swenson, Supt. of Schools in Stark county, Dickenson, was made the new president. Vice-president elected was Levi Larson, Supt. of Schools in Watford City. Miss Grimes was chairman of the math section.

On Saturday, Oct. 20, the executive council of the North Dakota Home Economics Association met. Clara C. Cerveny was chairman, Colleges and Universities Dept.; Majore Lovering, News Editor for the Journal of Home Economic; Mrs. Ella M. Olson, Vice-president, N. Dak. Home Economics Association, and Eunice Kelly, chairman of the Research Dept.

Poetry Book Collection On Display In Library

A collection of rare poetry books on North Dakota and the upper Midwest is on display this week in the lower lobby of the NDAC library.

The books were loaned by Dean and Mrs. H. L. Walster who own an excellent collection of early Midwestern books. The acquiring of such books has been one of their long-time interests.

The books were put on display to mark the celebration this week of National Poetry Day which was observed at the NDAC library with a special program.

Among the books are three by Paul Southworth Bliss including "Poems of Places," "Spin Dance," and "The Rye Is the Sea." Allen E. Woodall is represented by "Dakota Dust" and Grace Brown Putnam by "North Dakota Singing." Work by Clell Gobel Gannon of Bismarck is included in the collection.

According to Librarian H. Dean Stallings, many of the books are collector's items and are no longer available. Consequently, the Walster display is of particular interest to North Dakotans at this time.

Bloch Speaks On Chemistry

Dr. Herman Bloch

The Red River section of the American Chemical Society will sponsor a talk on the subject of "Petroleum Chemistry" to be given this evening at 7:30 by Dr. Herman Bloch in Room 207 of the Chemistry Building.

Dr. Bloch has done research in the synthesis of high octane aviation fuel from natural gas and also the production of chemicals from petroleum, particularly solvent, resins and paints.

He is a graduate of the University of Chicago, having B. S. 1933, and Ph. D. 1936 degrees, and has been with the University Oil Co. since 1936.

Bison Herd To Butter Sioux From 'U'; Hill Says Union Building Starts In Spring

KEN KETCHNER

Let's go!! Let's fire up!! Tomorrow's the big game, tonight's the big bonfire and snake dance, and this morning is the big pep rally. I repeat, the big PEP rally. It all adds up to an unforgettable weekend for everyone, students, alumni, and the group which will have the most fun of them all, the Bison.

With Bill Euren and his fabulous Gold Star Band providing the music for the special convocation, and Bob Fischer popping his usual stale jokes, plus the personal appearances of the coaches and the football team, festival hall should just about sigh her last breath.

Mr. Harvey Jacobson, North Dakota Student. This is especially for you. On Saturday, Oct. 27th, North Dakota State's Bison will BUTTER the Sioux from the University, and I don't mean OLEO either—Bub!

To our honorable alumni, a cordial word of welcome. This is your week-end, make the most of it. Notice the new library, the new Ag-Engineering Building, the new pavement on campus, and the new Bison football team.

Also more good news for you Alumni. Mr. Glen Hill, chairman of the Student Union Building Campaign, has nothing but good news this week. He says, that bids will be let in early February, and if construction material is available, actual construction will begin on the building in the spring.

While most of the necessary portion of the $600,000.00 is raised or in sight, Hill reports that additional donations are still being accepted. Why not, on your tour of the campus, stop in at the Mathematics office and talk over the NDAC Student Memorial Union situation with him.

Another interesting report has been filed with this department during the week and it concerns none other than Mr. Ace Cyrno Grant. According to Ace's present plans, he will be moving to South America soon to start construction on a new plant which he will operate. Ace, good luck and may God speed you on your way.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Moberg. The new sister for little Billy has been given the name of Claudia Jean. Moberg is our famed geography instructor and men's residence hall manager.

Blunder of the Week
The Sigma Chi chapter at the University reported last week that the Bison-Sioux Nickle had disappeared from the basement of their chapter house sometime between early morning and noon on Sunday, Oct. 14. It must be a very smooth operating boy's club that wouldn't notice someone walking out with a 22-inch trophy complete with its stand.

The Theta's were honored the other evening, or early morning by the harmonious singing of several anonymous gentlemen. The songs weren't very spicy and the culprits got away with no difficulty, but one clue has turned up. Be on the look-out for a dark, drab green ford. Style: Tudor. Year: '37'.

Student of the Week...

Quite, reserved, on campus, but on the football field one of the most vicious line backers in the conference are words that inadequately describe Ray Paxton of Georgetown, Illinois. Ray, a sophomore majoring in Physical Education is the only man in the Bison lineup that has gone 60 minutes of every game. Graduating from the same High School and incidentally living in the same block as Coach "Mac" Wenskunas, Paxton will be one of the "bonecrushers" to watch Saturday afternoon.

Little Man On Campus

"Don't forget now, we let'em intercept this one."

Letters to the Editor

As an upperclassman I am adding my voice to the plea issued by a freshman in last week's Spectrum. Both of us believe there is a need for more campus spirit.

However, the frosh and I are interested in two different kinds of pep. The greenie taking bonehead English proposes that the student body be injected with a serum enabling them to make noise at a football game. After a few illustrative paragraphs you will find out what kind of pep I think is needed.

Men dress up in Flash Gordon costumes, they run back and forth after part of a pig's hide and the crowd hollers like the proverbial Indian when one man reaches a couple of white vertical sticks. These antics arouse my curiosity. To satisfy my curiosity I go to football games to discover meaning behind these capers.

Two Spectrums ago an article headlined "Staff Students Plan To Observe Poetry Day Next Monday" was featured on the front page. At the meeting three students showed; the other ten present were faculty members, gray haired beings and one alum.

If it is true college is a "community of scholars in search of truth" then why aren't students curious to know what poetry is about, in addition to football, of course. It might be that poetry contains more "truth than football."

Mr. Freshman, students at least go to football games, so you shouldn't worry if they don't make quite as much noise as you'd like. Few students even come to events which deal with intellectual and emotional self-expression. Why don't you start on this more important job?
Dorothy Morrow

Bradley Wants Answers About Trophy

To the Editor:

What I want to know is this! Just exactly how fouled up can one institution get?

O. K., lets have some answers to these questions. (1) Who was responsible? (2) Why were such irresponsible people responsible? (3) Why isn't some definite action being taken? (4) Why was the trophy lent out in the first place? (5) Who lent it out?

So far no one has answered any of these questions! Everyone knows about it, but no one seems to be doing anything about it and as far as the University is concerned, no one seems to care whether or not anything is done about it!

It is my consciences that the students on this campus feel very warmly, very dearly about such a honored, respected and cherished award as the famous Nickle. If our respected brothers of the north country cannot, and will not feel this way, then I suggest that the trophy be placed in the custody of a group which will provide and care for it with all due respect.

Furthermore, I believe that the responsible group should be officially reprimanded, and public apology made to all concerned, the students of NDU, the students of NDAC, and the people of North Dakota.

Wally's Wanderings Husbandry Division Expects Goat Load

By Wally Swenson

Wandered over to the Arnold Air Society's sweater dance the other night and was impressed by the fine showing everyone made. Makes you realize that good things arn't always kept in plain sight. Congratulations "Cat". I think that the Arnold Air Society is an organization to watch in the future. They are really rolling.

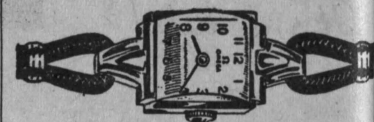

The latest rumor has it that Sam Catchem has been seen peeling potatoes over at the Theta Chi house. Been paying all your fines fellows?

Have been hunting for someone who is an authority on parking lots. I would like to know if the plaster sand that has been sprinkled so thickly on our Minard Hall lot will really produce a hard surface or are we still going to lose automobiles out there. Last year it was boulders. Someone told me that the Animal Husbandry Department was expecting a shipment of mountain goats from Higher Sloblovia and that they were planning on pasturing them on the parking lot. My suggestion is that they change the order to camels.

By the way, if any of you new students have been wondering about the traffic and parking regulations on the campus since we have our new pavement, they are the same as last year.

Want to congratulate whoever is responsible for paving and the acquisition of it. It improves the appearance of our campus about 200%. Every student I have talked to has commented on how nice it is and how wonderful it will be in the spring not to have to wade in mud and slush just to cross the street. This school is really going places.

Good going Team: :::: We are all proud of you. You should have heard the cheers that went up at a dance Saturday night when the announcement was made that you tied SDSC. You have what it takes We know that. Go to it tomorrow.

L.S./M.F.T.-Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco

By Bob Fisher

This is the big weekend. None other than our annual big Homecoming. Bison Master-Sioux Disaster is the cry echoing throughout the campus.

The North Dakota University Sioux are in for a tough Saturday afternoon. Our Bison, with revenge in their minds and fighting spirit in their hearts will be out to massacre the Sioux tomorrow in the biggest battle since Custer's Last Stand.

We can, we will, we must beat the U. Students, let's make this a homecoming the likes of which have never been seen in the history of North Dakota.

All the alums and people of Fargo are with us. This is the game of the year as far as you're concerned.

Tonight is the big bonfire. All freshmen should get together in groups and build a big pile of wood on the old football field. When this pile of wood is set ablaze freshmen beanies are thrown into the fire and burned. Oh happy day, freshmen, no more beanies.

Also on tap tonight is the snake dance. Always a lot of fun and a chance to really express your joy and enthusiasm as the column of students snake their way down Broadway.

Saturday morning is the big parade. Beautiful floats, bands, beautiful girls, clowns, and monkey business are the feature attractions.

At 2 p. m. the kickoff is scheduled for this all important homecoming game. Get out your racoon coats, pennants, and flasks and be prepared for the greatest game of the 1951 football season.

At halftime, Marilyn Hunter will be crowned 'queen' of the Homecoming. Royalty, celebrities, and marching bands will feature the crowning ceremonies.

Last but not least will be the Homecoming Dance at the field house. Hal McIntyre and his crew will supply the music while you, the students of NDAC, will be dancing on a cloud of fond memories of the 1951 Homecoming weekend.

ON OTHER CAMPUSES

Forty wrestlers have reported to coach Dave McCusky for the opening day of practice at ISTC. The Teachers have one of the top wrestling teams in the country.

Tomorrow is Hobo Day at South Dakota State. The SDU-SDS tussle will be the main event and should produce the conference champion.

Johnny Bright, the leading ground gainer in the nation suffered a broken jaw last Saturday on an illegal block and will be lost to Drake U. for the rest of the campaign.

SD State Eleven Ties Fighting Herd In 7-7 NCC Fray

The giant killers of NDAC have again done the impossible. South Dakota State was knocked off the list of unbeaten untied teams last Saturday night by a fighting band from North Dakota State.

The mighty Jackrabbits had all they could do to stop the rejuvenated Bison with a 7 to 7 tie. From the very beginning the Herd was in command and not until the final quarter was almost over did the bunnies tie the score.

On the second play after the kickoff, State's pride and joy, Benny Noland scampered 50 yards to score for the Bison. Noland slashed off right tackle, cut to the left and then upfield toward the distant goaline behind beautiful blocking to register six points. Frankie Espisito added the extra point from placement.

The next two periods were scoreless, with the Bison stopping the rabbit backs in their tracks. NDAC played flawless defense against SDS in a complete reversal of form from the week before.

Big Bob Lauf, playing his first game at his new position of defensive guard, spent more time in the Jacks backfield than did most of the enemy backs. Wenskunas tried four tackles on defense and they proved to be tough customers to the South Dakotans.

Late in the fourth period, the rabbits moved to the Bison 1 yard line from where Pete Retzlaff slammed over for the SDS touchdown. Dick Craddock booted the point after, and the score was tied.

The Bison tried two field goals that were very close, but unsuccessful. Once an Espisito pass trickled out of the receivers fingers as he stood all alone in the end zone. A light drizzle fell throughout the contest which hampered the Herd passing attack considerably. As it was, the herd completed 10 out of twenty passes attempted.

No serious injuries were reported, outside of general bumps, bruises, and cuts.

According to South Dakota papers, the Bison were not rated a ghost of a chance of holding the score under 40-0. The citizens of Brookings tried to rattle the boys by telling them what a powerhouse they were going to face.

The Bison entered State Stadium definite 40 point underdogs, but by playing determined, tough, rough football they came home with a moral victory.

That picture of me on top of the column is an untouched, untinted photo taken without my knowledge.

The victory made it 3 straight in loop play for the Coyotes. This week they face mighty South Dakota State.

IOWA TC Trounces AUGGIES

Augustana's Dennis Erie dashed 80 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter of a game with ISTC. But could not keep pace with the determined Iowans as they tallied 10 times to win 67-7.

After Erie broke away with one 24 seconds of the game gone, Steve Bekich converted. Arnold Paulsen third string fullback, scored twice for ISTC on a 98 yard dash.

Also scoring two touchdowns were Leland Crew, Pat Halgan and Bird Rainbow. Bill Paulsen and Ralph Capitani tallied one each. Jim Wachenheim kicked six points and ran for another.

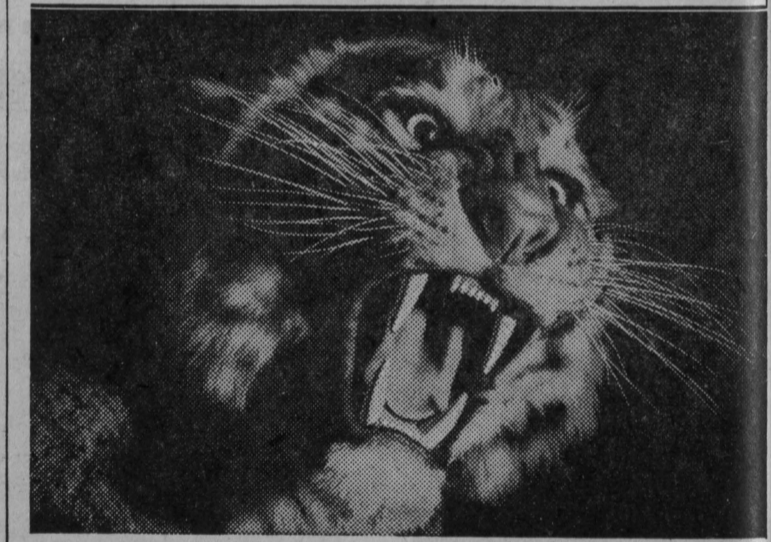

Beloit Beats Sioux

Beloit College of Wisconsin defeated a thoroughly outclassed NDAC eleven at Grand Forks last Saturday 27-7.
