Gus XVII Stars . . .

'Fargoans' To Play For Spinster Skip

"The Fargoans" will provide the music tonight for the Spinster Skip from 9-12 at Festival hall. ND-AC co-eds will be in the driver's seat for the evening as they call for their dates and trot them off to the Skip sponsored by Senior Staff.

The ladies on the campus will illustrate proper dating technique by bringing their dates a corsage (onions are more popular than orchids this year) gallantly helping him on and off with his coat, and paying the bills.

Gus XVII the traditional roasted turkey, will be given away as door prize. Tickets may be purchased at the Dean of Women's office or from members of the Senior Staff.

Senior Staff members are Maxine Hanson, Peggy Armstrong, Lois Daggett, Junette Hill Keating, Betty Gordhamer, and Beverly Widdifield Edam.

YMCA Schedules Evensong For Tuesday

Home Ec Students Plan Radio Show

"Your Home" returns to the air this month when the home economics department at NDAC renews its broadcast over radio station KFGO. The program is aired weekly on Saturday mornings from 11 to 11:30.

Each weekly program features a review from student "home reporter," a guest interview, a musical number and special news from the home economics field. Music from the NDAC record album, "Music Over the Prairies," will open and close each broadcast.

Miss Emily Reynolds, NDAC instructor, is chairman of the planning committee for the programs. Other committee members include representatives from the home economics staff Tryota Club, the student body, Phi Upsilon Omicron undergraduates and alumnae and the Fargo Home Economics Club.

The program for tomorrow will include a piano solo by Donna Wohl of Lidgerwood and talks on holiday centerpieces and simplified table service. On November 24, Nancy Smith of Fargo will tell of her summer experience at a Navajo mission and Frances Kapuscinski, NDAC art chairman, will discuss children's art.

Miss Reynolds reports that the committee has geared the broadcasts to the slogan "Home Economics Educates for Living." Mail surveys indicate that "Your Home" has been received by a large listening audience in previous years.

Rahjaks To Award 3 Prizes For Yells

Here's the student's opportunity to strike it rich. The Rahjah club is offering cash awards for new and original pep yells submitted by students. Three prizes, $5, $3, and $1, will be awarded for winning entries.

Contest deadline is Tuesday, November 27. All entries should be submitted at the Dean of Student's office on or before that date.

Members of the Rahjah club will judge the contest. All entries become the property of the Rahjah club. Contest winners will be announced in the Spectrum.

YM Cabinet To Handle Lost & Found Articles

The YMCA cabinet this week voted to establish a central bureau for handling all lost and found articles at the college, according to Don Piepkorn, YMCA cabinet secretary. Any article found on the campus may be turned in at the Y office and claimed there by its owner. This central office will simplify the lost and found work which has previously been distributed among several college offices, said Piepkorn.

The traditional NDAC Thanksgiving Evensong will be held in the auditorium of the College YMCA, Tuesday, November 20, at 7:30 p. m. Under the direction of Bill Reuter, YM secretary, committees have been set up to contact a speaker.

Special music by NDAC students will high light the program which is designed to give thanks to God through song and prayer.

Of special importance this year is the decision to actively express our thankfulness by beginning a clothing drive for under privileged children of Korea. The offering taken at the Evensong will be used for the sending of Korean Care packages.

All who desire to help are asked to take this Thanksgiving vacation as a chance to bring clothes from home. All types of warm clothing and blankets will be appreciated and may be turned in at the College YM lobby anytime after Thanksgiving YM and YW groups will pack and send the packages to Korea.

Groups participating in the Evensong are the Baptist, Congregational, Lutherans, Methodist, Presbyterians, YWCA and YMCA.

Class Officers Topic Up For Discussion

An open forum concerning the question "Should Class Officers At NDAC Be Abolished" will be held in the YMCA auditorium next Monday evening November 19, at 8:30. This open forum will be conducted by the Student Commission, which has been discussing the question for the past two weeks.

Anyone interested in speaking in favor of the class officer system should contact Bob Ouradnik or Ed Boerth. A small attendance and little interest will be an indication to the Student Commission that there is no need for class officers and therefore they will be abolished.

Edwin Booth Initiates At Sunday Ceremony

Edwin Booth honorary dramatic society, initiated five new members at an evening ceremony last Sunday at Mr. A. G. Arvold's home. Marlowe Jensen, president, presided over the ceremony.

At a business meeting following the ceremony production plans for the melodrama, "Gold in the Hills", were discussed. Jensen appointed a play-reading committee to select the winter term all-school play. Members of the committee are Marjorie Heger, Wally Swenson, Walt Christenson, and Miss West.

Lehman Wins Post On National Magazine

Grace Lehman, AAS, won a post as a college board member for the Mademoiselle magazine. The nation-wide contest chose girls to write several articles for future editions. Miss Lehman has assignments for January, April, and June.

Topics for the members are suggested in the Mademoiselle. If her articles are printed Miss Lehman has a chance to act as a guest editor for the September college edition. As a guest editor she would spend a month in New York.

was killed in an airplane crash at Austin, Texas last Friday, November 2. The plane crashed as he attempted to take-off in a F-51 fighter.

Stenehjem was president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers of this campus, treasurer of the YMCA, and a member of Sigma Phi Delta fraternity. During World War II he served with the marine corps.

Stenehjem was a member of the 178th fighter squadron of the North Dakota Air National guard which was federalized last May. The squadron is stationed at Moody Air Base, Laddosta, Ga.

Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters and two brothers. The funeral is today at St. John's Lutheran church in Hatton, North Dakota.

"Silence, She has disgraced us. She shall never darken my door again and we shall never look upon her face. Not a word! Go!" Such is the dialogue from "Gold in the Hills" or the "Dead Sisters Secret".

"Gold in the Hills" or the "Dead Sister's Secret" has everything—the honest father, a bar room scene, little Nell, a villian and a mortgage. All the essentials of a good hiss and boo drammer are present.

Margaret "lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine" Anderson plays Nell. Ed "I will save her" Johnson is Nell's hero. Johnson is of the speech department. Joe McNellis from Detroit Lakes is Richard Murgatroyd, a dastardly villian.

In supporting leads are Jacolyn Brekken, Hawley; Dick Goodman, Milton; Grace Lehman, Enderlin; Gilbert Nelson, Bisbee.

Others in the cast include Glen Berg, Felton; Dwight Bowman, Ashley; Loretta Brown, Fargo; Marilyn Hunter, Fargo; Rhoda Israelson, Christine; Mayo Kucera speech department; James Norby, Fargo; Robert Miner, Bluffton, Ind.; Eugene Osiecki, Fargo; Danny Posin, Jr., Fargo; Wesley Rae, Minnewaukan; Wallace Swenson, Columbus; Arlene Tiegen, Genora.

The Bowery Girls are Joan Marquart, Harwood; Gloria Morris, Webster and Betty Lou Kerr of Fargo.

In the second of many specialty acts are programmed. This bar room scene has been expanded into a variety show. Joan Marquart, Gloria Morris and Loretta Brown all warble. Ed Johnson vocalizes on "Sweet Marie" and the "Sunshine of Paradise Alley". Betty Lou Kerr does a tap dance to one of the songs.

Constance West directs this Little Country Theatre presentation which opens here Nov 28. "Gold in the Hills" will play at the veterans hospital Nov. 29 but will return to this campus Nov. 30. Robert Dietz, music department, is in charge of the play's music. Script girl is Loretta Brown.

Arnold Air Society Initiates 43 Cadets

Forty-three advanced Air Force ROTC cadets were initiated into the Bernard F. Bennisson Squadron of the Arnold Air Society at a formal initiation banquet last night at the Gardner hotel. At the same time 28 NDAC women were initiated into the Air Debs, Arnold Air Society auxiliary.

Guest speaker for the banquet was George Roulon, state adjutant of the American Legion. Entertainment for the group was provided by the Arnold society-Air Deb mixed chorus, piano solos by Margie Johnston, and a comical act by Mike Holt.

Arrangements for the banquet were made by Cadet Capt. Robert Ripley and Cadet Lts. Kenneth Ketchner and Robert Greuel.

Cut System Too Compulsory For Students

To the editor:

Why is attendance at classes so compulsory at NDAC? It seems to me that college students should be given the responsibility of attending classes as they see the need. If they are not conscientious enough about their college work to attend classes they will also lack responsibility in their future vocations.

I feel that there should be no limitations to the number of classes a student could cut. He would think more thoroughly before skipping a class than he does when he knows he has three cuts.

With a limited number of cuts most students take all they are allowed whether they can afford to skip class or not. If no restrictions were placed on the number of classes cut, students would have to decide for themselves whether they could afford to cut.

Sometimes it is necessary to take time from one subject to spend on another. This decision should be left to the student.

Bonita Pederson

(Ed. Note: One of our policies is to promote liberalization of the rules and regulations which more often hinder the student than help him. The class attendance system could very well be liberalized in the Arts and Sciences curriculums. In the engineering curriculums, the change would be a debatable point. Witness the tremendous success of the liberal system at the University of Chicago. Data shows that when compulsory attendance was eliminated there, the percentage of class attendance actually increased. We will discuss this topic more fully in the near future.)

New Year's Day Is Holiday Not Workday

To the editor:

Yes, it's the same this year, the same as it was last year and the year before and I don't know how many years before that. Classes for the winter term at NDAC start on January 2, and as a result students must return to Fargo on New Year's day. I always thought that January 1 was set aside as a holiday, not as a day to pack up and go back to work.

To me, missing New Year's day at home at the end of a joyful Christmas vacation is just like sitting down and eating a wonderful meal and then having to leave just as the cake with nice thick frosting and ice cream covered with chocolate sauce is being served for dessert.

Maybe the administration has a good reason for starting classes on January 2, but why isn't January 3 just as good? I realize it's too late to change this year's schedule, but wouldn't some of Mom's good home cooking taste good on the first of January, 1953?

Richard Clark

(Ed. Note: It certainly would Dick! And why isn't January 3 just as good?)

NDAC Needs Auditorium, Not Ballroom

To the editor:

What this campus needs is an auditorium. Festival hall has good acoustics, but no raised floor; the field house, which has neither the seating nor the acoustics of a good auditorium, is used for other activities such as basketball at least part of the year.

I believe that the plans for our new student union building should include provisions for an auditorium.

The present plans provide for a ballroom. An auditorium is not practical at the present because of the prohibitive cost. A solution to this problem would be to build the ballroom with provisions for making it into an auditorium when the situation would permit.

In my opinion we are more in need of an auditorium than a ballroom.

Darwin Schaubert

(Ed. Note: An auditorium would certainly tend to increase the quality and quantity of aesthetic education on this campus. Student Union Board members tell us however, that plans are well advanced towards initiating construction, and hence will be subject to little or no change. There is a definite place for an auditorium at our school and a little more pressure from all of you that are interested in seeing one built would at this time contribute much in changing the minds of dogmatic SU Board members.)

Public Receives Best Lyceum Seats

To the editor:

Why, yes, why I ask do we students at NDAC get the poorest seats at Lyceums when the general public is seated in the choice positions? After all these programs are sponsored by our school. We too pay for the privilege of going. The present seating arrangement is discouraging attendance.

This isn't all I dislike about Lyceums or more specifically I mean the ventilation system in Festival hall. This point was brought out vividly at the "Don Juan in Hell" production when Charles Laughton in similar words said it was hot as hell in here. As for seating I propose that the students be given the seats on the right half of the main floor and rear balcony and the general public those on the left. This line of demarcation would go all the way back to the wall. After that let students and public fight over the remaining seat holders.

As for ventilation, perhaps opening some windows would help. This is just a theory yet, but who knows. There is a first time for everything like some philosopher must have said.

Marvin Holje

(Ed. Note: Another solution would be a new auditorium building. Since many students are in sympathy with you in this matter, you might be able to accomplish something if you would circulate a petition demanding that plans for a new auditorium be included in the plans for the Student Union building program. By presenting this petition to the Student Union Board, with the Dean of Students permission, you would be performing a great service for the college community.)

Student Commission Minutes

The meeting was called to order by President Schnell. Mary Fran Broderick, Ken Ward, Virginia Arneson and Wallace Swenson were absent. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Discussion was held on the public address system to be purchased. The P. A. system will be available to all campus organizations except for competitive purposes at a $5.00 deposit, $1.00 of which will be retained for a service fee. Any damage done by the organization using the system must be compensated for. Merle Nott is in charge of the equipment at present.

Discussion concerning class officers will be held Monday, Nov. 19 at an open forum. The forum will be held at the college YMCA auditorium at 8:30 p. m. All interested students are urged to attend.

Motion to adjourn was made by Ed Boerth and seconded by Bob Groel. Motion carried.

Red Cross Program Needs Blood Donors; Rho's Solve Weather By Playing Chess

By KEN KETCHNER

Thanksgiving vacation starts next week so we'll have to try and cover a couple of weeks all at once. The list of travels for the turkey vacation includes trips all the way from homeward bound Chicago men and Detroit bound Bison to Miami bound Arnold Air Society.

Thursday evening the NDAC Bison basketballers are moving out to Detroit Michigan for the opening game of the 51-52 basketball season and the opposition for the fray is one of last year's top 15 teams, Lawrence Tech. On the same day, several members of the Arnold Air Society will board a plane for warm, sunny Florida to attend a three day national convention. The Miami convo will get under way on Friday and the 1000 man troupe will be housed in the world famous Cadillac Hotel, one of Miami's more popular hotels. Just fair you might say.

The entire Air Force advanced ROTC group and Sigma Chi fraternity are just two of the campus groups that is co-operating 100% with the Fargo-Moorhead Red Cross Defense Program. The drive which officially gets underway on December 3 and runs thru December 7, is recruiting blood donors to replenish the blood supply in the rapidly diminishing stock in the national blood bank.

Anyone over 18 through 59 can donate a pint of blood so why not get on this life saving parade and either pledge as a group or as an individual, but in some manner pledge a pint of blood. Just contact the local Red Cross office and maybe help save a life.

The Alpha Gamma Rho's have the solution for this cold snowy weather. Of course some of the crew can't quite get the swing of the game, and right along that line, Jack Monson usually isn't in the swing of very many things—otherwise the whole house is going chess crazy. With tournaments, and spontaneous matches being played right along, the big player seems to be the German boy, Herman Becht.

The Farm Bureau started off the convention season Monday at the F.M. John Dean attended the Monday session as ATO delegate but the meeting must of got too long and strenuous for the kid, he had to call it quits around two. Rough duty when one doesn't recognize his own mother—oh well, mental fatigue.

Gus Turkey Given To Spinster Skip Couple Tonight At Festival Hall

Lorrie Brown

By this time I 'spose all the girls have gotten up enough nerve to ask the man of their dreams to the Spinster Skip. It's tonight at 9 in Festival Hall and if I can dig up enough money and collect enough loot to make a corsage, I'll see you there.

That wonderful turkey, Gus XVII, will be given away and who knows . . . maybe even some wonderful girl will ask Ken Ketchner to the ball—who knows—miracles do happen!

On Wednesday, Nov. 14, the ATO's were gracious hosts, as usual, to the Kappas. Also on Wednesday the KAT's were entertained by the SAE's. On Thursday at 4 the KD's entertained the SAE's. Busy week for the SAE's!

Darrell Bjornson was recently elected the new ATO social chairman. Congratulations Darrell!

Professor Glenn A. Walrath was recently elected faculty advisor to Kappa Sigma Chi to succeed Dr. Johnsgaard.

Mrs. Marvin G. Schmidt KAT district president, was a guest at the Theta house last week. Pinnings this week include Paula Swain, AGD, and Byron Lawrence, ATO. Alpha Gam pledge, Pat Ebelhaft is now pinned to Don "Skip" Engle, Sigma Chi from the University of Minnesota.

This Sunday the Sigma Chi's and the Sigma Phi Delta's will each present their pledges in their respective houses. A good ending to a wonderful weekend!

Have fun at the dance tonight, and to whomever wins the turkey, please, may I have just one little bite? Gee, tanks!

Community Theatre Rehearses Comedy; Fargo High Presents Mystery Tonight

COMMUNITY THEATRE

Casting the major roles has been completed for the Fargo-Moorhead of Robert McEnroe's comedy, "The Silver Whistle" to be presented December 3, 4, and 5, at the Benjamin Franklin school auditorium.

NDAC's professor of English Leonard Sackett, will play the zany vagabond Oliver Erwenter, who by fair or slightly foul means brings renewed hope and zest for life to everyone he meets. Jose Ferrer played the part in its Broadway run.

Ione Mettun, as Miss Tripps, who manages a home for the aged, and James McCuekin, as the Reverend Watson, furnish the romantic interest. Mrs. Roy Quamme plays the caustic Miss Hammer. Mr. Paul Airheart, Mrs. Larry Duncan and Leonard Brown, Jack Mc-

Koun, Mrs. H. Keedy, and William Oliver portray other roles.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY

"Arsenic and Old Lace", junior-senior play at Fargo high school, will be presented today and tomorrow, November 16 and 17 at 8:15 p. m. in the FHS auditorium. Miss Barbara Elken is directing the mystery.

Mary Jane Junkin and Sally Sherdahl will be seen in the parts of the two gentle old sisters whose love for charitable acts has taken an alarming turn. Brad Byrnes will play the part of the ne'er do well nephew of the crazy Brewster sisters, and contender for the title of America's biggest murderer.

Assistant director is Mrs. Isabella Colony, while Janice Sargent and Betty Wentz are student directors. Carole Lohn is the stage manager.

NDAC Hereford Wins Prize

National prize winner is Double Donald Domino, 6471747, a yearling Hereford bull owned by the NDAC. This bull placed second in the National Hereford Show held recently at Huron S. D., the first time a college-bred bull has ever received such top national ranking. Previously, Double Donald Domino won first at the North Dakota State Fair. The bull comes from the bloodlines of Donald Domino 26 and is scheduled to be herd sire of the NDAC Hereford her. Paul J. Carlson, NDAC herdsman, exhibits the prize animal.

Mobil Engineering Unit Here Monday

A mobile engineering unit, scheduled to visit Fargo next week, will be open to NDAC students of diesel engineering on Monday, November 12. This "Classroom on Wheels" operated by the International Harvester Company, will be parked at the Northwestern Equipment, Inc., 2800 Front St.

The company invites students to inspect the unit, see the latest designs in diesel equipment.

Reports gathered from the larger colleges in the nation indicate that enrollment this year has dropped and is about 10 per cent lower than last year.

Moore Wins Award From Sears Roebuck

Delbert Moore, an Animal Husbandry major from Forbes, N. Dak. is this year's winner of the Sears Roebuck Foundation sophomore scholarship. This award is made each year to the outstanding sophomore student chosen from the Sears freshmen scholarship winners of the previous year.

These awards are based on scholarship, participation in campus activities, and need.

Library To Buy Records

Mr. Dean Stallings, NDAC librarian, has announced that the profit obtained from the coke machine in the library will be used to purchase records for the library lounge.

Students who desire a certain record to be purchased should inform Mr. Stallings or other library personnel of their choice. In the past records have been selected from the hit parade numbers and this method will be continued unless students indicate their preferences.

Member Of Israel Institute To Speak To Chemists Tonite

Dr. K. S. Spiegler from the Weizmann Institute at Rehovoth, Israel will be the featured speaker of the Red River Section of the American Chemical Society meeting tonight at 7:30. The meeting will be held at the Memorial Student Union at North Dakota University.

Dr. Spiegler is on a tour sponsored by the American Chemical Society, and will spend a month in the Northwest and the Pacific Coast regions. A native of Vienna, Austria, Dr. Spiegler had his high school education there and took his Ph. D. in chemistry in Israel.

He was research chemist in the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company at Abadan where he worked on de-salting of petroleum, and water purification problems from 1944-1946. Recently he has been engaged in studies on the demineralization of brackish water and the reclamation of salts from the Dead sea in Palestine.

Dr. Spiegler was a delegate to the United Nations Conference on Conservation of Natural Resources. A year ago he came to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a special research fellow for the study on iron exchange resins.

Missionary To Address Church Groups Sunday

Reverend Inman U. Tounsley, a missionary on furlough from the Belgian Congo, will speak at a joint meeting of the Wesley and Westminster Foundation on Sunday, November 18.

Rev. Tounsley will tell of his work in his chosen field, plus the need for more people in the mission field and on qualifications for missionary personnel.

The meeting will be held in the Wesley rooms at the college "Y" at 5:30 p. m. Supper will be served.

Dean Mellroy will present slides and the topic "Besides Still Waters" at the Baptist Youth Fellowship on Nov. 18 at 6 p. m. with supper in the Recreational Hall.

Fisher Picks Rose Bowl Contenders

By BOB FISHER

Bowl games and probable all-American teams are the latest in sports gossip as football heads into its final stages.

Of course, the biggest of these bowl games is the popular Rose Bowl game, played every January 1st in Pasadena, Calif. Champions of the Big Ten will face the league winner of the Pacific coast Conference.

I would like to predict the participants and how to bet for the benefit of Art Bredahl ex-Bison basketball star.

Last week I received a letter from big Art who is a Lt. Jg. in the United States Navy. Art wrote from the South China Sea area that he may get to see the Rose Bowl game New Years Day. He has been reading in the Spectrum my humble predictions and wants me to give him the low-down on the game.

Well here is it Arthur: Illinois, champions of the Big Ten, will meet Stanford, Pacific Coast champions, in the New Year's day feature. Illinois will follow suit and properly trim the Indians by about 14 points.

But, Art, don't bet to heavily 'cause I may be a couple of points off.

The North Central Conference has a new football champion as we all know. But, South Dakota University, wearers of the NCC crown, upset many a forecasters predictions.

Almost everyone conceded that South Dakota State would again repeat as champs of the polar league. The championship stood in South Dakota all right, but moved from Brookings to Vermillion.

Congratulations to the members of the Coyote squad on a job well done. You are truly great champions. . . .

Spence Brende, SDU star half-back, took the individual offense title by virtue of a fine performance against NDU.

NDAC had two departments in which they placed first this past grid season. Frank Esposito was the top passer and Chuck Gronberg the best pass receiver.

Latest hockey report from NDU stated that any player punching, striking or clubbing a referee in a contest will be suspended for the season. Getting a little rough on the players this year.

Ken Anthony former tackle at state, is home on leave. Ken is a sergeant in the Marine Corps. When Ken and I played football for the Bison we were the toughest guys on the bench.

Jack McLarnan, Bud Davenport, Bernie Krueger, and Mac Wenskunas are motoring out to the Rose Bowl game between terms. Wonder if they'll stop at Laramie?

A couple of weeks ago you read something about the women of South Dakota State playing billiards. Now I have been informed, the women of Iowa TC are playing field hockey. The weaker sex they call'em.

I haven't received the Dakota Student yet, so I suppose I can't write anything insulting about the poor man's Walter Winchell, Harvey (the nickle stealer) Jacobsen.

Joke of the Week:

Betty Lou Danielson, editor of this scandal sheet was snowed in with me last Tuesday night and still talks to me.

Well, I haven't been thrown out of school yet for my kick about the swimming pool so I guess it must be all right to print my opinions.

But, opinions will not bring the swimming pool to reality. We, the student body of this institution must get together now and fight for the completion of the pool.

Think of what it would mean to us to go swimming right on campus. We could start an intramural swimming program, and yes, even take swimming lessons because we feel we're too old to be embarrassed by taking lessons downtown.

As I stated last week, you will be approached on this matter shortly. Think about it, and be prepared to give your opinion on the matter.

Only three days of school next week, so look on the Sunny Side this week end.

Intramural Sports

Spring-like weather enabled the intramural football championship playoffs to get under way last week. In elimination contests, the Sigs beat AFOTC and the Theta Chi's won from the Kappa Psi's to advance to the championship round.

However old man winter again stepped in, the day before the big game to hold up the title contest once again. The Sig's and the Theta Chi's are both undefeated and boast strong clubs.

Action on the matter will be left up to the board of intramural athletics.

The intramural volleyball league got under way last Wednesday night. Several contests a week are scheduled with the winning team to receive a trophy.

Gym Open Saturdays

According to C. C. Finnigan, Director of Athletics, the gymnasium will be open to all college students on Saturday afternoons until 5 p. m.

Basketballs will be available at all times. They are in the west ticket booth. Only requirement is that the balls must be returned when not in use.

Special IM Bulletin

Despite a bitter snow storm, the Theta Chi's beat the Sigma Chi's 6-0 to take the intramural football crown for the second straight year.

Rather than postpone the title contest, the two teams chose to play last Wednesday afternoon. The game had already been called off once.

The Theta Chi's put together a strong ground attack, built around the running of Bob Hlavac, Jack and Dave Lees. The line play on both teams was tough and vigorous.

Early in the contest, Chick Cornforth, Sig back, was injured and removed to the hospital.

Bison Cagers Travel To Detroit To Play Powerful Lawrence Tech Blue Devils

The 1951-52 cage schedule gets under way November 24th when the Bison tangle with powerful Lawrence Tech. The contest will be played in Detroit Michigan at the Coliseum.

Lawrence Tech's Blue Devils will undoubtedly be the toughest team the herd will meet all season. Last year, the Devils boasted a record of 20 wins against 3 defeats.

Tech was invited to play in the National Invitational Tournament at Madison Square Garden, last season.

The Blue Devils coach Don Ridler, expects to better last years record this season. Biggest loss to the Devils was through the graduation of big Jim Stepler, captain of last years aggregation.

Ridler, however will introduce Werner Killen who towers 6-8, in the opener against the Bison. Looking fast, and in terrific shape, is Tech's bid for all-American, Blaine Denning.

Meanwhile sophomores and freshmen will fill in to give Tech one of its greatest teams.

The Bison have been practicing daily since mid-October, and appear to be well along. A scrimmage last Wednesday evening against MSTC proved the herd will be a tough contender.

Coach Chuck Bentson has 10 lettermen back from last years squad. They are; Bob Grant, all-conference forward; Red and Rog Fercho, Ozzie Twedt, Don Fougner, Art Bunker, Dale Peppel, Jim O'Connor, Gerry Geisler, and Jack Cavanaugh. Rog Hui-zing, a reserve last year is slated to see duty also.

According to Bentson the forward wall will be made up of Fougner and Grant at forwards with Bunker at center. Peppel and Cavanaugh are pushing these three for starting berths.

The guard posts are manned by O'Connor and Rod Fercho, with Geisler, Scott Thayer, Rog Fercho and Twedt breathing down their necks.

Bob Lauf Bison footballer has looked good at center, and will see a lot of action as he gains experience. Another newcomer Walt Fogel, who is a good shot is also slated to see a lot of duty.

The November 24 meeting with Lawrence Tech is the lid opener of a 27 game schedule for the herd. November 27 they will entertain the Moorhead Teachers in the first home contest of the season.
