

Harp Quintet Here Dec. 2

The Angelaire

The Angelaire, a harp quintet, will present a concert at Festival hall Tuesday, Dec. 2, at 8:15 p. m. Students will be admitted on activity cards to this final number of the Lyceum series for the fall term.

Coached by Carlos Salzedo, this quintet has won a reputation for its musicianship, charm and arrangements. They have made recent appearances on the Paul Whitman and Frank Sinatra television shows.

The Angelaire try to arrange their programs to appeal to concert-goers of every musical taste. The programs range from Bach and Handel to original compositions for the harp by Salzedo and special arrangement of the songs of Richard Rodgers.

The five girls formed their quintet in 1949. Virginia Werner, leader of the Angelaire, initiated the idea of a harp quintet and is also responsible for many of their arrangements.

Elyse Yockey, a jazz enthusiast, has arranged some of their popular numbers. A harp soloist since she was 15, Nanette Norton has also studied the piano, the cello, and the flute.

Marian Harding was a dancer but now confines her talents to her fingers. She also created the designs for many of the Angelaire's gowns.

Carol Baum, who began her harp studies at 11, has been an assistant instructor to Salzedo. She gives solo recitals and was the featured soloist at a concert with the Stradivarius String Quartet.

Menotti Opera Choice For NDAC Production

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," a modern Christmas opera by Gion Carlos Menotti, will be staged at the Little Country Theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 9 and 10.

"Amal and the Night Visitors," the first opera commissioned especially for television, was given its world premier by the NBC Television Theatre on Christmas Eve, 1951, under the direction of Menotti. Starred in the cast were Chet Allan and Rosemary Kuhlmann.

Gion Carlos Menotti is the outstanding contemporary composer of opera and music drama. "The Medium," "The Consul," and "The Old Maid and the Telephone" are some of his works.

The opera will be under the direction of Dr. Frederick Walsh, chairman of the speech department, and Ernst Van Vlissingen, head of the music department. The Architecture department and the Physical Education department will also assist in the production.

Military Announces 6 Queen Candidates For Dec. 5 Dance

The Military Ball, first formal event of the season, has been set for Friday, Dec. 5, from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. at the Field house. Paul Hanson with his 14 piece orchestra and new vocalist will provide the music.

Selection of the queen will be made by those attending the ball. Each person will use his ticket as a ballot, write the candidate's name on the ticket and leave it at the door. In previous years the queen has been chosen by a group of photographers.

Plans for decorations are being drawn up by the decorations committee and the architect department. Emphasis this year is placed on suitable arrangements for seating.

Assisting co-chairmen, John Dean and Ed Boerth, are Donald Powell, decorations; Robert Neninger, concessions; John Rosenberg, Irwin Meyers, printing; Michael Herbst, publicity; Darrell Bjornson, ceremonies; and Mancur Olson and Niles Fletcher, clean-up. What's On Our Mind

NDAC Maintains Democratic Ideals

The campus of NDAC remains an oasis of relative freedom in a society which is becoming more definitive and less free. Hardly a day passes without a reference, in some newspaper or periodical, to a curtailment or restriction of freedom suggested by some pressure group, or placed on one group by another.

Colleges and universities have recently become more and more the objects of internal and external attack. When mutual suspicions and antagonisms are fostered in such institutions where common trust and intellectual freedom are essential, those institutions cease to function as free agents in a democracy of free people.

NDAC students should consciously realize and evaluate the measure and meaning of the freedom they possess. When other college publications had to ignore or by-pass the national campaign because of administration policy, the Spectrum was free to discuss national issues in its editorials and student letters.

When other schools were prevented from discussing issues and candidates, we were allowed free discussion and debate, and campus organization like the International Relations club and the college 'Y' were encouraged to invite speakers of divergent opinions and parties to speak to the students, when other schools were kept from making public declarations, we had a mock election and the results were reported on the radio and in the public press.

We have had no orgies of witch-hunting or book-burnings here and, as a consequence, are helping to maintain and promote some of the bastions of freedom: freedom of access to knowledge, freedom of inquiry, and freedom of choice. Only by keeping the first two intact can we maintain the last.

Democracy grows by comparison and only by studying and understanding other systems can we learn to evaluate and appreciate our own. If the price of liberty is eternal vigilance then let us be vigilant against all who would rob us, whatever the guise they effect. We should, however, stop and give thanks for the freedom we here possess.

Student Senate To Sponsor Grid Banquet, Agrees To Finance Nickel Trophy Case

The special meeting was called Nov. 13 to consider the possibility of a banquet honoring the NDAC football team. President John Dean presided. Patricia Carlson, secretary to the Senate, and John Schacker were absent.

After discussion Richard Wenberg moved that the student government sponsor a banquet honoring the football team and that it be held at 6:30 p. m. Nov. 25. Nickolas Westman seconded the motion and it carried on a voice vote.

Thomas Monteith moved that the banquet be held and provided by the Ceres hall cafeteria and David Kaspari seconded this motion. The motion carried. Richard Froeschle was appointed to check on the availability of the cafeteria for that evening and it was generally agreed that $1.50 be the maximum price of the meal.

President Dean appointed Richard Wenberg program chairman for the event, placed Elvin Isgrig in charge of invitations, gave Nickolas Westman responsibility for ticket sales, asked Merle Nott to handle publicity, and requested Richard Froeschle to help make arrangements for the dinner.

Merle Nott reported on the cost and desirability of a display case for the "Nickel" trophy. President Dean suggested that Blue Key might pay one-half of the expenses of such a trophy case.

Joann Johnson moved and Richard Wenberg seconded a motion stating that the student government pay one-half of the cost of a display case for the "Nickel" trophy which would have all sides not used for support made of plate glass. The motion was adopted.

The excessive absences at Commission and Senate meetings were considered. Clark Erwin moved that hereafter the possible recall of

President Hultz To Address Farmer's Union

This afternoon at Bismarck, Pres. Fred S. Hultz will address the state Farmer's Union convention. Pres. Hultz will speak on "The Agricultural College in North Dakota's Farm Economy."

In part President Hultz will say, "The college can be helpful to North Dakotans with aid in farm production problems and with training of young people through programs of research, extension, and teaching."

President Hultz will contrast the development of the Farmer's Union with that of the college. "There is, however, one major difference in the two organizations. You are responsible only to yourselves . . . while the college is the ward of all the citizens of our state."

"College curricula has often shifted emphasis," he will point out, "stressing at one time ideas, and in another era, things." "At the AC things take precedent," he will remark. "We surely are first of all a vocational and technical college."

"However, . . . we are recognizing that ideas about people . . . are becoming increasingly important as equipment which our young people will need to get along . . . and to maintain that mental balance and poise so essential to success."

President Hultz will also discuss the problems of finances for maintaining the research and teaching programs, teaching staff, and buildings to house classrooms and laboratories.

Other topics to be covered in the speech include a comparison of North Dakota's expenditures for education as compared with other states and an outline of the cash contributions of the College to the state.

According to Hultz's speech only 11 states in the union appropriated less money for building improvement than North Dakota.

Hultz's speech closes with the comment, "The cash benefits from wheat improvement only from the plant breeding . . . amounts to from 20 to 30 million dollars annually, are sufficient to pay double the cost of a" higher education in North Dakota every year."

Fitz Picks Six; Noland Top Scorer

by Sam Lowe

Due to a severe lack of athletic events during the past week, this column will be devoted to absolutely nothing except scraps from here 'n' there.

Basketball is progressing as well as can be expected at this stage of the game. Scott Thayer has been working out sparingly with the rest of the crew.

The Bison will concentrate on ineight with John McDermott, Don Fougner, and Grut Anderson working the pivot spot. For ball handling and versatility they have the Ferchos and Thayer from last year and a couple of newcomers from last year's B team.

The football team will be honored at a feast next Tuesday. The tickets cost the price of a dozen cups of coffee and the banquet starts at 6:30. These guys did a bang-up job on the grid this fall so it wouldn't hurt to have a few of their loyal fans attending the affair.

Mass cuts have become common passtime at Old State now that deer hunting has opened. The snowfall on Tuesday put high hopes in the hearts of all the big game hunters while a few of the fellas have already bagged their dears (Spinners Skip) so they sit around the fireplace and brag.

This column pulled a boner last week when it forgot to mention Chuck Thurm for all-conference honors. The big Chicago end improved almost 100 percent from last year and was the main target for Frank Esposito's throws. Thurm hauled down 40 passes this fall. With apologies.

The Old State eleven did all right for themselves on Fitz's all-city team. End, Chuck Thurm; tackle, Bob Lauf; guard, Bob Nenninger; center, Ray Paxton; quarterback, Frank Esposito, and halfback Bennie Noland all gained first team honors

The rest of the mythical team is composed of end, Paul Simonson; tackle, Cliff Lingen; guard, Dave Rostad, and fullback Don Kerlin, all of Concordia, and Ronnie Nosen of MSTC. Bison given honorable mention are end, Gene Garastick; tackle, Paul Werner; halfback, Dale Wallentine, and fullback John Sowa.

The scoring of the Bison football team went something like this: Bennie Noland with 54 points led the pack, John Sowa had 24, Frank Esposito had 19, of which 13 were points after touchdowns, Dale Wallentine tallied thrice for 18 counters, Chuck Thurm also finished up with 18, and Don Fougner, Bill Beckwith, and Chuck Gronberg all carried the ball across the lime stripes once for their lone 6 points.

The Bison scored 153 points while the opponents tallied 174 points. (When the Herd lost, they really lost). These statistics are taken directly from THE BOOK OF IT'S IN THE . . . fame.

See by the press releases that Al Carew, that elbowy lad from ISTD, is back again to lead the Panthers in their quest for the conference crown. Also returning is Jack Rolinger who shot that deadly over-the-head shot last winter.

Who says it's a man's world. The girls basketball and volleyball games are getting a bigger write-up than the male sports this week.

Volleyball Ends With 3 Sororities After Trophy Banquet To Honor Gridders, Nov. 25

by Judy Sherwood

Girl's volleyball nears its final play with three teams still in the battle for the trophy. The semi-final games and possibly the championship game were played last night in the NDAC Field House.

The final game was to be played if the contest was narrowed down to two teams in the first round of this week's play. In the event that two teams still remain in the race after the second round, the championship game will be played on Thursday, Dec. 4.

At the time the paper went to press, the standings were:

Standings	Wins	Losses
Gamma Phi Beta	2	1
Kappa Kappa Gamma	2	1
Ceres-Dakota	1	2
Kappa Alpha Theta	1	2
Phi Mu	1	2
Kappa Delta	0	2

The Alpha Gam - Gamma Phi game could well decide the contest providing the Kappa's lose at least one of their games. If the Kappa's win both their games played this week, they will enter competition for the championship spot.

The 1952 Bison football squad will be honored at a banquet Tuesday, Nov. 25, in the Ceres hall cafeteria. Members of the Student Senate and Student Commission are sponsoring the affair in honor of the football record during the past fall.

Since the regular football letters have not yet arrived, the players will be presented with certificates from Athletic Director, C. C. "Casey" Finnegan.

High school and college coaches from the immediate area have been invited to the banquet. Local sports writers and sportscasters will also be invited.

Due to the lack of space, there will be only 100 tickets on sale for the banquet. Tickets may be purchased at the NDAC Bookstore for $1.50. The banquet will start at 6:30.
