Piano Team Guests Of F-M Orchestra At Final Concert

A two-piano team of guest artists, 250 added string instruments, Russian, French and English compositions,—these will be the attractions when the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra, who will appear at convocation Wednesday, present its final free concert of the season Saturday evening, May 1, in the Concordia College Gymnasium. Sigvald Thompson will conduct.

The duo-pianists will be Julianne and Ralph Wallin, instructor and professor of music at Minot State Teachers College, who will be returning to the scene of their undergraduate training in music, before they earned their masters' degree at the Sherwood Music School in Chicago. In the last two years they have been heard frequently in concert work.

They will perform in the Concerto in D minor for two Pianos, by the French composer, Francis Poulenc, first performed as late as 1932. The piece is said to have been written strictly for entertainment, and shows a serious modern composer disporting himself among Parisian music-hall tunes.

The 250 added string instruments, to be heard in the concert's final number, will be played by public-school music pupils from Fargo, Grand Forks, Minot, Williston, Dickinson, Stanley, Bismarck, Riverdale, and Jamestown. All the orchestra teachers of the Fargo public schools are assisting in the arrangements.

Open to the public without charge, the concert will conclude the first day's activities of the North Dakota Federation of Music Clubs' 17th Biennial Convention and Music Festival.

throughout the present department.

The family life lounge on the north side of the building faces the large entry-way window overlooking the mall. Phi Upsilon Omicron, national home economics honor fraternity, Beta alumnae from this campus are completely furnishing this room which is to be used for teas, informal meetings and social activities sponsored by the staff and students. This lounge is to be furnished in contemporary modern with many pieces of furniture and fabrics being imported from Sweden.

A small conference room for use when outsiders, such as school representatives are on the campus to interview the students for positions and for other small conferences, as well as a cloak room and women's washroom are also located on the second floor. The design laboratory and education laboratory are on the west end of the floor.

Foods and nutrition laboratories, staff offices, a dining room and a small kitchen occupy the third Equipment from lab D in Ceres Hall is being moved into position in the new building.

The structure is made of red brick and large white concrete blocks which outline each of the three floors. The large plate glass window and doors on the front extend from the second floor to the floor of the entrance in a stately fashion.

Entering the door you will find a lavish use of colors. According to Mrs. Olson, Dean of home economics, a general plan was used throughout in selecting the colors. Generally you find a cooler color on the south side and a warmer color on the north side. Colors such as dusty green, Sahara or a cocoa avacodo, a deep, dull green, and flamingo will be found in the corridor. The dusty green, sahara, and avacodo is used on the side corridor walls while the flamingo is used at the end of the corridors.

The foods laboratories are very bright and cheery with Hopi red, Swedish red, and the use of platinum. One laboratory in particular has two Swedish red walls and two platinum walls. These walls will be made less intense and more beautiful with the addition of new cupboards and sinks.

To the student touring the building now, an incomplete picture is gotten because the entire effect won't be complete until the building is entirely finished.

A new addition to the home economics department is a Child Development center. A nursery school will be included in this laboratory, thus enabling students to have child observation on campus rather than at the Fargo Nursery school in south Fargo.

Another venture will be the remodeling of the large lecture room, Ceres A, to be made into a suite of offices for the State Vocational Home Economics education department.

Wall paper used in the meal planning dining room is called "Ducks and Grass", this paper is being used on two walls and is in shades of brown and green.

Draperies are being hung in the offices and in the meal planning room. Blackout drapes will be hung in the assembly, home furnishing laboratory, design laboratory and second floor classrooms. These will be used when showing films. All windows facing east have frosted glass to allow maximum light without the use of drapery.

wearing through the fibers.

Climaxing years of waiting, dreaming, and hoping is the new Home Economics building which will be opening on our campus this June in time for the summer session of school.

Three modern, fully equipped floors make up the new home economics building. Separate staff offices are also located on the respective floors. Equipment to be used in the building has been ordered and most of it is on campus and was placed in storage because the floors were not finished at the time of arrival.

Art, equipment, and the textile divisions are located on the first floor along with the assembly room. Consuming the entire width of the east end, the assembly room has a small stage on the end to facilitate style shows, cooking demonstration and lectures. Directly behind the stage is a small preparation room with a range and tables to enable some preparations to be done behind the scenes. Folding curtains divide the assembly room in half for smaller groups.

Experimental equipment is the outstanding feature of the textile laboratory, among which are the Scott tensile tester to test the amount of pulling a fiber can endure before breaking; the abrasion tester, to record the amount of abrasion a fabric can stand before

The launder-ometer and fade-ometer test washability and fade resistance, respectively. Another special feature of the textiles laboratory is the conditioning room, which is a small room adjoining the lab closed off by double doors to insure correct temperature and humidity in the room for testing certain qualities of fabrics. An ample storage closet also adjoins the room.

Three offices for the art staff are located on the south wall. A cloak room, men's washroom and women's washroom are joining the corridor in the center of the building.

Practical experience in use and care of household equipment and appliances will be gained in the equipment laboratory, in which both large and small equipment are featured. Storage space is provided for small equipment such as toasters and electric mixers.

Separate laboratories for crafts and home furnishings share the length of the west wall. Special equipment in the crafts room, besides new birch finished table desks, and built in cupboards are a potter's wheel, kiln, polishing motor, and weaving looms of various types. The entire art department will be moved from its present location in Minard Hall to its new home in the Home Economics building.

Convenient Cabinets

Housed on the second floor is the dean's suite, the clothing and the education laboratories along with their respective offices.

Two clothing laboratories located on the east wall of the second floor are equipped with new sewing tables, each which has two machine heads that may be folded under to provide a flat table surface. Individual drawers, called 'tote trays', for each girl's sewing equipment are housed in a section of the corridor's south wall. Several makes of sewing machines will be in use in the department compared to the one make used floor. A meal-planning kitchen adjoins the dining room located in the south east corner. A rat laboratory will house rats on which various diets may be tried, and tests conducted in relation to the effect of nutrition.

Offices for the staff of the foods and nutrition departments look onto the mall. A washroom, student dressing room, and a lecture class room are all on the north side of the corridor. Three foods laboratories, equipped with modern appliances and cupboards offer experiences in use of different makes and types of appliances.

College Professors Hold Many Gripes Against Students

(ACP)—At the University of Toledo, Ohio, the Campus Collegian's inquiring reporter sought students' and faculty members' pet peeves. Here are some of the results:

"Teachers fail to realize that they have been teaching the same subject for a number of years," says one student. "They think we should know as much as they do in a much shorter time."

"For the most part," complains an English professor, "it is the lack of curiosity which I object to. Students are not interested in learning just for the sake of knowing something. Everything must have a practical application."

Another professor terms "laziness" his pet peeve. "College students are the only people in the world," he says, "who pay for something and then do their best to cheat themselves out of it."

IN A PIG'S EYE

(ACP)—Students at the University of Rhode Island were touched when they spotted a little piggy bank resting in front of the cash register at the student canteen.

In front of the bank was a sign saying, "Save your Piggery! Donate to the Piggery Reclamation Fund." Though there is no such fund—at least not at the University of Rhode Island—students contributed $2.

expert into a human being.

The production has been highly proclaimed and was nominated as one of the year's Ten Best. It has been called practically perfect by Time magazine, and it was also very well received by its own author.

Shaw, who supervised the production, said "I am going to teach Americans one of the things they don't know—how to put English drama on the screen. Every word will be written by me. Not the least regard will be paid to American ideas, except to avoid them as much as possible." Wendy Hiller and Leslie Howard are the leading stars of the film.

The showing will be at 2:30 in the afternoon and again at 7:00 in the evening at Festival Hall. The admission price is 50 cents per person.

SAI Holds Musicales; Installs New Officers

Sigma Alpha Iota Musicales was held at Putnam Hall April 21, according to Margery Johnston, chairman. Appearing on the program were Barbara Crank, Nancy Kaiser, Gretchen Muehlenbein, Marilyn Miller, Mildred Holstad, Janice Levenson and Nellie Kenzie.

Also performing were four new initiates. They are Patti Jones, Barbara Pederson, Joan Nelson, and Nancy Eagle. Nellie Kenzie was hostess with Marilyn Miller on the committee.

New officers installed at a recent business meeting were Sonja Blegen, president; Gretchen Muehlenbein, vice president; Nellie Kenzie, secretary; Nancy Kaiser, treasurer; Jocelyn Kirkhus, sergeant-at-arms; Patti Jones, chaplain; and Barbara Pederson, editor.

Joseph Pulitzer, who made his money out of newspapers and left part of it to encourage literature, once declared that accuracy is to a newspaper what virtue is to a woman. It was a girl reporter, however, who pointed out that the statement was inaccurate.

"A newspaper," she said, "can print a retraction."

Piano Artists, F-M Symphony Perform For Convocation

Modern music for two pianos and orchestra will feature the convocation concert for AC students by the F-M Symphony Orchestra Wednesday morning, April 28, in Festival Hall. Ralph and Julianne Wallin, duo-pianists from Minot, North Dakota, will be soloists in a concerto by the 20th century French composer Francis Poulenc.

Led by its permanent conductor, Sigvald Thompson, the orchestra will also play portions of a Tchaikowsky Symphony.

"Poulenc has always liked French music-hall tunes," said F. G. Schoff of the Convocation Committee; "and he has written some highly successful musical comedies. This concerto is a sophisticated mixture of popular Paris tunes, modern dissonance, and just plain good writing."

Contrast will come, according to Schoff, with the playing of the slow movement and finale from Tchaikowsky's most popular symphony, the fourth.

This will be the orchestra's fourth convocation appearance since the war. The biennial campus concert has become one of the most popular convocation attractions.

Composed of a nucleus of local professionals plus skilled amateurs and students, the F-M Symphony is recognized as a central element in the musical life of this area. It gives five regular concerts each season, and its members cooperate in various projects by local choral groups: the annual presentation of "The Messiah," for instance.

Its final regular concert this season will be a feature of the annual meeting of the North Dakota Federation of Music Clubs. An estimated 250 string students from the grade school level up will join the orchestra for a mass performance of Vaughan Williams' "Concerto for Strings."

Spys Reject Russia To Serve Prison Terms

(From the Minnesota Daily)

Six Michigan Communists convicted of conspiracy for the overthrow of the government have chosen to serve prison sentences rather than live in Russia.

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard told the defendants they had been "convicted of the greatest offense of which a citizen could be found guilty," but offered to change his jail sentence within 60 days if any of the American Communists decided they want to go to the Soviet Union.

It's strange how those who support the theory think the practice leaves so much to be desired.

McCarthy's Boxing Compared To Probes

(By Ivan Kaye, sports editor of the University of Michigan Daily)

Two decades ago there appeared on the campus of Milwaukee's Marquette University a young amateur boxer whose unorthodox style drew the immediate and prolonged attention of the local fight fans.

The student, from nearby Appleton, would begin each contest by rushing from his corner and raining blows on a usually very surprised and flustered adversary. It was his custom to swing wildly, hoping that somewhere he would strike a weak point and thus incapacitate an opponent.

His style was colorful and seldom did one of his bouts lack excitement. He was, in fact, acknowledged to be a real crowd pleaser.

There was, however, a calculated method behind the plan of attack which to onlookers might have seemed haphazard. The sudden onslaught with punches being thrown from all angles and with great rapidity was almost guaranteed to bewilder the average college boxer.

Today, 20 years later, Joe McCarthy is still swinging wildly; still raining blows from all angles in the hope of striking an adversary's weak point.

The stakes are much higher now, however, since national publicity attends each of the Senator's exhibitions in the arena of political pugilism; but the philosophy behind his combative method is unchanged.

Only one thing kept Joe McCarthy from becoming an outstanding collegiate boxer—the fact that his unorthodox style was strangely ineffectual when used against any opponent who had experience.

Last week, riding the crest of an impressive knockout string, achieved at the expense of the inexperienced, McCarthy tried the modern-day verbal counterpart of his college roughhouse treatment on an "old pro"—radio commentator Edward R. Murrow.

. . . Once again, displaying the usual tenacity, he emerged a decided second best.

Russians Swarm To View Lenin, Stalin; Communist Monsters Honored In Death

Editor, Minnesota Daily by Dean Schoelkopf

(ACP) — Like a modern Mecca, the tomb of Lenin and Stalin on Red Square in Moscow daily attract thousands of Russians who come to view the mummified bodies of their former leaders.

From all over the Soviet Union they come to visit the red marble mausoleum that stands next to the Kremlin wall. What motivates them — curiosity, reverence, duty — it is impossible to tell.

They stand in line for hours in the icy Moscow weather to make their pilgrimage. Like a great black snake, the double file of visitors winds for blocks down out of Red Square past the Lenin museum.

Police stand all along the line at 25-foot intervals to maintain order. When the tomb is opened, late every afternoon, police completely encircle Red Square. We were pleased when our guides told us we could enter the mausoleum, for few Americans have been inside since Stalin was placed there Nov. 17, 1953.

About 4 p.m. on a dull, gray day, our group moved through a double police cordon to the head of a double line that had begun forming six hours earlier. Half an hour later a police officer stepped to the head of the column and paced us slowly up Red Square to the front of the tomb. About 50 feet in front of the entrance he stopped, and an armed officer moved to the head of the column.

As the clock on the Kremlin tower struck 4:45, the officer began to pace the column forward through a double column of soldiers with fixed bayonets. We went through a little iron grill gate, up a few steps and into the tomb. It was warm inside, and the smell was something like that of decayed flowers. In the crypt itself, soldiers with fixed bayonets stood all around.

Lenin and Stalin lay side by side in completely enclosed glass cases. Lenin was on the left, dressed in a plain military style jacket with no decorations.

At his feet and head were bronze wreaths. He looked thinner than he appears to be in photographs. His body seemed well-preserved, although he has been in the tomb since 1924.

Stalin looked just as does in his portraits — steel gray hair and mustache, military tunic with two gold medals and many other service ribbons on his chest and a single silver star on a gold epaulet on each shoulder. His body, too, seemed completely lifelike.

The line of visitors moved slowly forward, and two minutes and 38 seconds later we stepped out a side door into the palor of Moscow dusk. The tour continued past graves of revolutionary heroes, but for us it was an anticlimax. We had been frankly awed by something we had never expected to see in our lives, and none of us spoke until we were almost back to our hotel.

Later we were to see the house where Stalin was born in 1878. It was at Gori, a little village about two hours drive from Tbilisi in central Georgia. But even if our trip had not included a visit to the Moscow tomb or the Gori birthplace, we could not have escaped the Stalin legend.

We saw Stalin in hundreds of poses. In the factories he was pictured standing among the workers. On the farms he was shown standing in the wheat fields. In the schools he was depicted holding children on his lap.

Lenin was a close second to Stalin in number of pictures and statues. If you looked on one wall and saw Stalin, you could almost be sure of finding Lenin on the opposite.

Only rarely did we see pictures of Malenkov, and all we saw of Lavrenti Beria, one time head of the secret police, was an empty nail on which a picture had been hung at Stalin University in Tbilisi and his likeness in a subway mosaic — which our guide denied was Beria.

This was the last match for the Bison before the national tournament.

First Vail

Jesse Vail

Jesse Vail, new assistant football coach, has arrived in Fargo and has begun his duties during spring football.

Vail was assistant coach at Battle Creek, Michigan, High School this past season. Previous to his employment there, he was well-known for his work at Ishpeming High School in Michigan. He is a long-time friend of head football coach Del Anderson.

Spring Grid Practice Begins With 27 Men

Monday, April 19th, the NDS football team started their spring football practice for the 1954 season. Coach Del Anderson announced that 27 men had appeared for the first workout.

Anderson says that the team has good spirit, and they are very eager to get going, but that most of them are out of shape. He says that many of the boys are over weight and suggested that the use of rubber shirts will get most of that off.

Tuesday's workout was light, consisting merely of motion pictures, and talking by the coach, but Wednesday again turned back to more labor for the boys, and Anderson was able to get a better look at the squad.

Coach Anderson stated that most of this week would be spent on fundamentals such as stance and running techniques. Much time will be spent on ball handling due to the fact that Anderson plans to change the style of play for the team.

The new look in the team play will be either the regular T formation or the split T formation. Anderson is not sure just yet which one he will be able to use. He does state though that development is very possible.

The only lettermen that are in school and have not shown up for practice as of yet are Don Patterson, Bob Noland, and Dale Wallentine. Wallentine is out for track and won't be able to go out until it is over.

NDAC Baseball Season Opens Tuesday; Student Support Needed To Bolster Team

by Hal Miller

The first baseball game will be played on the Fieldhouse diamond starting at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon. Coach Chuck Bentson has been hampered greatly in practice by the lack of really good weather since the squad moved outdoors.

Students seem to enjoy watching the football and basketball teams. At least, quite a number turn up for the home contests.

But, for the spring sports, little interest has been shown in the past. Only a handful attend the baseball games, and few more witness the tracksters.

These teams are representing the school just as are the football players and the cagers. Let's give them support. A big crowd for the home opener Tuesday would be a good start.

The half-hearted school spirit at State is bad, and is steadily growing worse. Less pessimism and more work are all that's necessary for a strong athletic system here. It shouldn't be too difficult.

QUICKIES — New head football coach Del Anderson traveled to Devils Lake Tuesday for the purpose of speaking to the area high schools.

The time has come for a rather generous-sized rebuilding program, and high school grid talent in the area will be receiving overtures from colleges in and out of the area.

The Bison football team is lacking thus far in depth, especially. The hunt for talent in the tri-state range is an important one. It will eventually tell whether a rebuilding program is possible or not.

Anderson, in speaking to the high school people, will stress the importance of a higher education, and the part that athletics plays in college life.

The result of the North Dakota University Invitational was fairly heartwarming. The Bison thinclads racked up twice the score of our good puck-chasers from Igloo U, and rather ran away with the entire meet.

The squad is not nearly as deep as would be desirable, but it is definitely strong with experienced men. Dale Wallentine, who incidentally was the individual scoring leader of the meet, will be tough in the hurdles and broad jump.

Del Moore, the boy who played second fiddle to Ron Thompson of the Sioux last season, will be in the drivers seat this spring in the dashes. His brother, Don, is strong in the broad jump.

Jim Brogger in the distances and Gerry Goetz in the middle lengths are two standbys that picked up a lot of points last year.

Guy Enabnit in the hurdles will be pressing Wallentine for the top spot in that category all season, and Gene Gamache will be a threat in the high jump.

The whole picture looks pretty bright. We can look for a stronger Conference title contender this year.

Set you next week. It's been real.

Herd Pin Slappers Win 10, Drop 7

The Bison bowling team in its first season won 10 games while dropping 7 and toppled the Sioux keglers of North Dakota University 6 games to two.

The Bison, coached by Gordy Teigen, competed in match play against some of the toughest city league teams in Fargo. Grand Barber Shop, Al's Sport Shop, and United Electric were among other Bison opponents. Against this top-flight competition, the Staters won four games while dropping five.

Teigen, who is also manager of the Student Union lanes, was pleased with the teams showing in its first year on campus.

Quarterback Important Problem In Practice Sessions; Switch To Split T In Fall Likely

by Hal Miller
Pictured above are six of the experienced gridgers from last season's squad. Four of the six are participating in spring practice.

Dale Wallentine and Guy Enabnit are out for track and will be under the disadvantage of learning the new system this fall after the switch is made this spring. In rebuilding a team such as the Bison of last year, fundamentals are important. Coach Del Anderson is stressing perfection in basic play, which should help to build a smoother functioning team.

Herd Nine Plays First Game Tuesday

The North Dakota State Bison baseball team is preparing for its opening game Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 on the home field.

They have been handicapped by the weather thus far this spring, but Coach Chuck Bentson did hold an intra-squad contest this week.

Bentson set the lineups for the two teams as follows:

THE BLUES

- Dale Serum, c
 - Doug Walstad, 1b
 - Bob Johnston, 2b
 - Jim Akason, ss

Teigen Announces Singles Tournament

Anyone interested in competing in the college singles tournament should contact Gordy Teigen at the Union Lanes. As soon as sixteen have entered a date will be set.

Practice will consist of drilling on ball-handling in the new style of play, and such things as techniques in stance and running. The spring practice session will be in preparation for a night intra-squad contest with actual game conditions.

One of the biggest problems to face Andersun thus far is the lack of an experienced quarterback. Jim Wold and Dana Hill are the top candidates for the important spot. Both are sophomores.

One of them will replace one of the great small college players, Frank Esposito, whose passing was a threat to any State opponent. It is doubtful whether an individual performer of Esposito's stature can evolve through the spring sessions, but if team play is improved, a big stumbling block in the way of success will be removed.

Coverage of spring practice will be complete on Del Anderson's

Kent, Tyson Roll 1032 For Doubles Top Score

Don Kent and Ed Tyson rolled a 1032 in the college doubles tourney on the Memorial Union lanes Wednesday to win the event by 17 pins over Chuck Gulland and Bob Hughes who rolled a 1015.

A trophy was awarded to the winners.

Vermillion, S. D. — The University of South Dakota has inaugurated a new climax to spring football drills—a game between the varsity and the alumni.

Coach Harry Gamage has announced that the first game of what he hopes will be an annual event will be played at 7:30, Monday evening, May 3, at Inman Field.

Herd Track Team Wins NDU Indoor Invitational

The Bison track squad had its first workout of the season and turned it into a track meet victory. The Herd won the five-team NDU indoor invitational track meet on April 15th.

In scoring twice as much as the closest competitor, the Sioux, NDAC scored in every event. The Bison gathered 58 1-12 points while runnerup NDU scored 29 1-12 points.

The Bison won 8 of the 11 events and tied for first in the pole vault.

Dale Wallentine was high scorer with 12 points by capturing firsts in the low hurdles and broad jump and took third in the high hurdles. Jim Brogger, also of the Bison, won the one and two mile events to add 10 points.

Del Moore of the Herd ran the 60-yard dash in 6.4 seconds, a time which is considered very excellent. In the broad jump, Wallentine leaped 21 feet 2 inches, which is almost 5 inches better than the distance that won the North Central Conference Meet last year.

- Other scores for NDAC:
- 60-yard dash—1. Del Moore; 3. Conzemius
 - 60-yard low hurdles—1. Wallentine; 2. Enabnit
 - 60-yard high hurdles—1. Enabnit; 3. Wallentine
 - 440—3. Goetz
 - 880—1. Shelver
 - 1 Mile—1. Brogger
 - Two Mile—1. Brogger
 - Broad Jump—1. Wallentine; 2. Del and Don Moore (tie)
 - Shot Put—1. Schwinkendorf
 - High Jump—3. Gamache (tie)
 - Pole Vault—1. Brown (tie)

aspirants who will conclude their maximum 20 spring practices with this game.

Chuck Stetson, all-NCC linebaker in 1952 who is handling the alumni team, has indicated that a representative team will be organized.

Players still in school who will be available for action include all-NCC and Little All American tackle Ordell Brasse, the 6-4, 215 pounder from Mitchell, who recently signed a pro contract with the Baltimore Colts; all-NCC halfback Ralph Polenz, Milwaukee, Wisc.; and all-NCC guard Marv Rist, Centerville, an assistant Coyote coach last fall.

Others on the list include guards Bob Otto, Watertown; Stan Siegel and Jim Delfs, Sioux City; Jack West, Mitchell; tackles Bob Curry, Sioux City, and Jim Prins, Vermillion; ends Duane Brunick, Vermillion, and Al Hammer, Garretson; center John Lohre, Vermillion; and halfback Ken Andree, Watertown.

Graduates who have indicated a desire to play include center Dick Day, presently an assistant coach at Mitchell; Little All-American tackle Lt. Bob Jennings, guard Lt. Bill Brick, and halfback Phil Treick, all of Ft. Riley; and guard Al Miele, Sioux Falls.

Other alumni are being contacted and the list of players is expected to grow steadily.

Grand Forks, N. D. — The 1954 edition of the University of North Dakota track and field team — untested and untried — will get its first taste of competition here Wednesday night, April 14, in the UND Indoor Invitational meet.

Scheduled to begin at 5 p.m., the public will be admitted FREE, according to UND Athletic Director and Track Coach Glenn (Red) Jarrett.

Only five lettermen will be on hand for the event that includes entries from North Dakota State, Concordia College, Moorhead Teachers and Bemidji Teachers.

Jarrett believes the meet will be "wide open" and says UND's track outlook is only "hopeful because of some excellent freshmen personnel."

Sioux lettermen who have been working out indoors for the past three weeks include Walt Gilsdorf of Valley City, a high jumper; Karl (Bud) Swenson of Devils

Lake and Jim Sauer of Grafton, both javelin-heavers; Gerry Linseth of Watford City, a miler; and Jack Behl of Morris, Minn., broad jumper. Dan Slemmons, winner of the Staté College Meet pole vault last spring, a transfer student from Ellendale Normal, has been working out as a pole vaulter and cleared the bar at 11-feet to cop that event in last week's UND Inter-Class Meet in the Fieldhouse.

Varsity prospects have been dimmed considerably by the absence of four outstanding lettermen candidates, two of whom are spring-footballing and two who are not competing this spring. They are NCC 440-yard dash champion Myron (Mike) Lempe of Cavalier and Dick (Dynamite) Ryan of Chicago, a middle distance runner, both participating in spring football. The others are Al Williamson of Grand Forks and Don Bennett of Crookston, Minn.

Freshman candidates working out include Gary Rath of Jamestown, high-point man in the Inter-Class meet last week with firsts in the 60-yard high hurdles and high jump and third-place winner in the pole vault, Denis Holweger and Glen Muir of Inkster, Bob Jarman of Larimore, Sig Silness of Warren, Minn., Ted Camrud of Buxton, Bob Lothian of Winnipeg, Dick Granger of Grand Forks, Bill Shortridge of Calvin, Denis Russell of Edmonton, Alberta, John Hopley of Binford, John Senger of Rugby, Bryan Backstrom of Cando and Gary Pearson of Minot.

Other meets on the Sioux schedule this spring include the Aberdeen (S.D.) Relays April 24, the UND Outdoor Invitational May 1, North Dakota State Outdoor Invitational May 8, State College Meet at Valley City May 15 and the North Central Conference meet at Sioux City, Iowa, May 22.

Glenn Jarrett, University of North Dakota Director of Athletics, Tuesday revealed that Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, 1954 NCAA hockey champion, would not play North Dakota on its western trip next December.

Paul S. Graham, RPI Director of Athletics, in a recent letter to Jarrett said, "the lateness of our December hockey playing date at Minnesota makes it impossible for us to play North Dakota on this trip." The RPI hockey team meets Minnesota in a two-game series shortly before Christmas on the Minnesota ice.
