Committee Formed To Fight Cheating

Last Tuesday afternoon, April 20, a few people from the Student Senate and others met with AAUP (Am. Assoc. of Univ. Prof.) to discuss the problem of cheating on exams. The student government for the first time has given endorsement to the growing movement. WHAT'S MORE, THE PROFESSORS ARE BEHIND THIS MOVEMENT ALSO!!

The AAUP heard what the students had to say and discussed quite frankly their part in the matter. A group of the professors will work closely with the students on this project because they believe we students want to stop cheating on exams.

This movement is no haphazard idea, no hit and run thing. The movement for test honesty is growing fast, it's infectious and will not stop. It was felt last quarter that many of you students wanted to see the cheating stopped. Exam honesty was at a low ebb last quarter. How about this quarter?

Certain students think we are basically honest and the professors think so too. Let's show them we have some grey matter instead of slippery tricks.

Lund Selected Prexy Of College 4-H Club

A meeting will be held in the latter part of May to plan next year's program.

Circle T Theatre Presents Comedy

Oscar Wilde subtitled his satire on society, "The Importance of Being Earnest," "a trivial comedy for serious people." The occasion for the arpeggio of nonsensically earnest observations on marriage, money, and romance, to name a few, is the pre-nuptial goings-on of Algy and Cecily, played by Charles Abrahamson and Pat Thompson, and John and Gwendoline, played by Keith Amundson and Lois Stewart.

The brilliance of the dialogue has made "The Importance of Being Earnest" a universal favorite since it opened on the memorable St. Valentine's Day, 1895; it has placed Oscar Wilde in the company of Moliere, Congreve, Wycherly and Goldsmith.

To prove that "classics" are not dull, note Mr. Wilde's observation on romance: "I do not know whether there is anything particularly exciting in the air of this part of Hertfordshire, but the amount of engagements that go on seems to me considerably above the proper average that statistics have laid down for our guidance."

The Circle T Theatre of NDAC will present Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest", staged by Frederick G. Walsh, May 10 through 15, 1954, at 8:15. All seats are reserved; admission is seventy-five cents.

Students Petition For Geology

The sudden discontinuance of the geology major at NDAC by action of the Board of Higher Education and the resultant termination of the Department of Geology and Geography has caused widespread concern among students in many schools within the college.

Interested students have met during the week to make plans for concerted action with the hope of gaining reinstatement of the geology major as well as of the Department of Geology and Geography.

The following petition has been prepared and is being circulated by students registered in various departments of NDAC who are interested in the continuance of the Department of Geology.

SAMPLE

Whereas we, the undersigned students of NDAC, are cognizant of the following facts:

1. That the geology major in the Department of Geology and Geography has been discontinued without adequate warning by action of the State Board of Higher Education.
2. That the geology major was abolished even though this field has become of extreme importance to the economy of the state since the discovery of oil.
3. That twenty-six students have been left without coursework sufficient for graduation in their chosen field.
4. That past graduates have expressed deep concern over the fact that a department and the status of their degrees have been placed in jeopardy.
5. That a certain amount of duplication of courses with other colleges is essential if any of the colleges are to maintain their academic standards and fulfill their duty towards their students.
6. That geology and geography are important disciplines in themselves and that advanced geology and geography courses should be available to all students within the college.
7. That the morale and attitude of students and faculty has been shaken by this action which threatens the stability of all departments.

Be it therefore resolved that we, the undersigned, urge a full public clarification of the issues involved and the return of the geology major to the Department of Geology and Geography with full and strengthened status.

"Anyone Can Run A Successful Farm" Speaker Declares At Ag Econ Seminar

Have you ever longed to have a place in the country, wake to the bright rising sun from the call of the rooster, grow your own food, to be able to have your own farm? At some time or another, you might of had that longing to go "out on the farm", but you had to give the idea up, for what did you know about farming? You were a "city slicker", how could you ever learn to run a successful farm when you perhaps, had never even been on a farm?

The answer to your longing has been solved, you can be a successful farmer, even though you have never been on a farm! 20th Century science has made your wish possible. The science which will make you a successful farmer, is known as Farm Management.

"Farm Management, is the science which combines the resources of a farm, to the operation of a farm, to obtain the greatest net income for the operator."

Here's what would happen, as you bought your farm in the country: You would hire a professional Farm Manager, and he would come out to your farm, and look it over. He would advise you, on all things, with regard to the resources of labor, land, equipment, buildings, working capital and to problems of markets, weather, insects, and the like.

All you would need to do, is follow his instructions, and you would be a successful farmer, with a pleasant place in the country. To make sure that your instructions are going smoothly, the Farm Manager, would visit you frequently with his advice.

Pete Wasche, a professional Farm Manager, explained the technical operations of Farm Management, at the weekly NDAC Agricultural Economics Seminar.

When You Join

The "Men Who Measure" . . .

When you leave school as an engineer and join the ranks of the "men who measure," you'll want the most accurate and durable measuring tapes. Lufkin Chrome Clad Tapes ARE the most accurate and durable because their markings are bonded to the line and protected by multiple platings of metal that also protect the fine steel in the line. This all-metal line is longest wearing — it won't crack, chip, peel — is easiest to keep clean — is most rust and corrosion resistant. Chrome Clad Tapes are the choice of engineers the world over.

Whether you're running a survey, building a bridge or a building, railroading, road building, mining or drilling — there's a Lufkin measuring tape exactly right for the job.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

An event of general interest took place at the last regular meeting of the NDAC Chapter of the American Association of University Professors, April 14.

A delegation of students, headed by Mr. Walt Flugel and ably supported by representatives of the student government, effectively demonstrated its capacity for moral leadership. This group won the respect of the large number of professors in attendance and earned the support of all who are concerned about putting an end to cheating.

These students have given a good deal of thought to the matter — creative thought. And they have a plan for action.

The plan calls for joint effort on the part of students and professors, but its real promise lies in the fact that the initiative has been taken by the students themselves. Its details are to be worked out through the cooperation of a student committee and the Student Relations Committee of our local AAUP. The outline looks promising indeed.

I feel that the entire student body should take pride in these young men and women and give them every encouragement. This is an urgent matter. The opportunity is now at hand to deal effectively with a problem which is the concern of students and teachers alike.

On behalf of the NDAC Chapter of the American Association of University Professors, I wish to express our appreciation to the student body for inviting our cooperation.

Respectfully yours,
B. H. Kristjanson

Students Model Latest Fashions

Six scenes comprised the home economic's department style show presented at the Town and Gown meeting of the Faculty Women's Club Thursday, April 22.

The setting for all the scenes was formed by a large abstract picture frame through which the girls entered on the stage. After modeling on the stage each one walked down the table high, carpeted, ramp which extended into the ball room. Carol Jordheim assisted the girls down the steps at the end of the ramp.

Margaret Anderson narrated the show, with the script carrying out the Fashionrama theme. Ila Langseth provided the background music with selections also carrying out the theme of the revue. Vocal solos by Jacolyn Brekken and Patricia Knott supplied brief musical interludes between scenes.

Approximately one hundred fifty home economics students participated in presenting the style show.

What's On Our Mind Let's Grow Up

Spring has struck NDSC a hard blow, even though the weather may not seem to agree.

Picnics are swarming all over the countryside and the time for enjoyment is at hand; but along with all the college fun comes a little childishness, too.

Enjoyment has its place in the life of a college student; but we all must remember that with growth comes certain responsibilities. Everywhere we go and in everything we do, we are representatives of NDSC.

The time to cut loose is during the spring; but there are always definite places and times set aside for the letting off of steam. When a party is going on, fine have a good time. But, when the party is over, please let's not carry a bag of tricks back into town.

Recently a stop sign was carried off from the corner of 13 Street and 15 Avenue north and deposited behind a barrack in the vets' housing unit. Whether or not a State College student pulled the prank is not known, but city officials look with great disfavor on tricks of this sort.

Whether or not one of us made off with the stop sign is not up for discussion here. What should be mentioned is that SC students were suspected of the trick and that in itself is bad enough.

Each and everyone of us should strive to the utmost to keep the name of NDSC clear and above any suspicion of tricks of this kind.

Vandalism has no place on a college campus, or among college students. Either in fun or with malicious purpose, the vandal pranks almost often backfire with disastrous results.

Remember, enjoy yourself where having fun is the order of the day. Don't forget however, that picnics belong in the country; not in the city.

F-M Symphony Closes Season At Concordia

A note of spring freshness and modernity will mark the close of the concert season for the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra when it makes its final appearance Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the Concordia College gymnasium, on the eve of National Music Week, which begins the next day.

Two of the three numbers to be presented will be modern. In one of them will be heard a young two-piano team from Minot. From a number of North Dakota towns will come public-school youngsters to swell the some 200 string instruments that will augment the regular orchestra under Sigvald Thompson, director.

The change from Fargo Central High School's auditorium to the Concordia College gymnasium has been made to accommodate not only the enlarged orchestra but the large audience expected at the close of the first day's activities of the biennial convention of the North Dakota Federation of Music clubs.

The duo-pianists Julianne and Ralph Wallin will be heard in Francis Poulenc's Concerto in D minor for Two Pianos, a lively piece by a composer who has done much of his work for the musical-comedy stage.

The public-school string players will be heard in the Concerto Grosso for String Orchestra of Raiph Vaughan Williams, first performed in 1950, and expressly to accommodate various degrees of musical proficiency to the performance of a composition directed to mature musical tastes.

Harlow Berquist, director of music in the Fargo Public Schools, and R. D. Brown, principal of Agassiz Junior High School have been in charge of the young string players.

The concert, open to the public without charge, will begin with Tchaikowsky's Symphony No. 4 in F Minor.

LSA Center Dedication Set Sunday; Future Plans Call For Many Additions

Dedication of the new Lutheran Student House will be held Sunday May 2, at 1201 - 13th Ave N. Official Dedication Services are being planned for 7 p.m., with Dr. Loyal Tallackson, president of the North Dakota District of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, as guest speaker. Also included in the program will be Official Greetings from the college, and the Lutheran Student Foundation.

Open House is being planned for 3-5 p.m. Sunday afternoon to which all students and faculty members are invited. Mesdames S. W. Russel, R. Otterson and E. B. No. 11 will pour.

The recently purchased Lutheran Student House has undergone remodeling in the past few months. This accomplishment is the first milestone in an extensive program being planned, which includes prospects for a Chapel and larger meeting rooms to better serve the needs of students at NDAC.

Pastor John Schultz is the full-time pastor in charge of student work on this campus, with Mrs. Othilia Hauge, serving as Counselor to both NDAC students and students at Moorhead State Teachers College.

Case of the dry "oil" well

Not at all unusual, you say? But this well was purposely drilled that way! In fact, precautions were taken to see that the well wouldn't contact oil-bearing sands. It was to be a vital part of an elaborate waste-disposal system built into one of Du Pont's new plants near Victoria, Texas. It is an example of the unusual engineering problems which Du Pont technical men encounter.

The "well" itself is almost a mile deep—4900 feet, to be exact. Waste fluids from the plant are forced down this well, to be absorbed by non-oil-bearing sands—far below the level of any surface water. Piping near ground level is in the form of concentric shells, and fresh water is delivered to the annular opening around the waste pipe. Furthermore, the water pressure is higher than that of the fluids in the waste section. In this way, any leakage in the pipe system causes fresh water to enter the surrounding sands (or the inside waste system) and prevents objectionable materials from reaching the sands at surface levels.

Other interesting procedures are used throughout Du Pont's many plants to guard against river pollution. For example, scientists were asked to make a complete marine-life census on one river before a plant was built nearby. The company wanted to be certain that no waste would be discharged which would challenge the natural pattern of marine life.

Throughout the Du Pont Company, wherever there is a need for the services of technical men, there are varied and interesting problems that present a challenge to engineering skill and imagination.

Now available for student ASME chapters and other college groups, a 16-mm. sound color movie—"Mechanical Engineering at Du Pont." For further information, send post card to E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. (Inc.), 2521 Nemours Bldg., Wilmington 98, Delaware.

Coyotes' Track Coach Enthusiastic Over Thinclads Showing In USD Event

Vermillion, S. D. — University of South Dakota track coach Dan Lennon, the man you seldom see without a smile, was beaming broadly after watching his thinclads win the college section of the USD Invitational meet here Saturday for the sixth straight year.

"I counted the points over and over again and still couldn't believe it," mused Lennon in bewilderment of his team's showing against such a force as Omaha U. which had doubled the Coyote point total in an earlier meet this season.

But being a realist, Lennon knows the USD trackmen are in for rougher sledding this week when they compete in the Corn Palace Relays in Mitchell Thursday night and the Iowa Teachers Relays in Cedar Falls Saturday.

The biggest obstacle in the Mitchell event is, of course, the South Dakota State thinclads, the defending North Central Conference champions. In Cedar Falls they will encounter the host ISTC squad and a flurry of others.

"We don't have a great team this year," said Lennon "but I think we can give everyone some trouble."

He praised the efforts of three senior trackmen — Jumpin' Jim Tays, Gettysburg; Jim Gardner, Philip; and Dale Plooster, Sioux Falls.

Participating in their final USD Invitational, Tays broke the high jump mark with a leap of 6 feet 2 inches, Gardner, who also won the two mile run, set a new mark of 4:35.5 in the mile, and Plooster broke the pole vault mark with a 12 foot 2 inch effort.

The Coyote mentor also had praise for his sprinters who are headed by Keith (Lefty) Gross, Bridgewater, who won the 220-yard dash in the sparkling time of :22.5 and finished second in the 100-yard dash last Saturday; Bill Hauck, Aberdeen; and Mickey Henderson, Philip. Hauck may be side lines this week with a pulled muscle.

If continued improvement is shown in the forementioned performers along with others on the squad, the dismal prospects that preceded the USD Invitational last Saturday would be brightened considerably.

Emmerich Concentrates On Aberdeen Relays

Brookings, S. D. — After capturing honors in three different meets last week, the South Dakota State college track squad set its sights on the Aberdeen Relays in Aberdeen Friday and Saturday.

The Jackrabbits may send a team to the Drake Relays this weekend but Coach Jim Emmerich plans to concentrate on the Aberdeen event.

Emmerich's defending NAIA champions fared well everywhere they went. On Thursday, the Yellow and Blue thinclads captured five firsts, numerous seconds, thirds and fourths, and set one record while competing in the Corn Palace Relays. The record came in the mile relay when Vermayne Bertram, Mitchell; Don McCaskell, De Smet; Russ Nash, Academy; and Jack Pearson, Madison, toured the distance in 3:28.5 to lower the mark more than two seconds.

Other team firsts came in the 440-yard relay and the sprint medley while individual winners were Al Pfeifle, Beresford, in the 100-yard dash and Arlin Patrick, White, in the mile run.

Then on Saturday, a four-man crew accompanied by Emmerich attended the Kansas Relays and picked up a first and a third in the two college relays events. The State quartet composed of McCaskell, Patrick, Pearson and Nash took first in the distance medley and third in the two-mile relay.

That same day a four-man crew competed in the West River Relays at Rapid City and managed to come back to school with two firsts, two seconds, and a new record. Jule Moravec, Rapid City, copped the record as he heaved the shot 43'6 while John Popowski, Aberdeen, captured first in the high hurdles. Al Kaiser, Hot Springs, tied for second in the high hurdles and placed second in the broad jump.

State's milers lived up to expectations at the Corn Palace when Patrick came in first followed by Leo Hammrich, Ipswich, and Bill Fairley, Gayville. Emmerich held his top duo in the event—Nash and Pearson—out of the race and let them work on the relays.

The Jackrabbits hold three individual records at the Aberdeen Relays and two team records. Individual records are in the mile, shot put and discus and team records are in the mile relay and the 440-yard relay.

Most Valuable, Most Improved Players Will Be Chosen After Spring Practice

by Hal Miller

The Bison football team will elect a most valuable player and a most improved player of the spring practice session at the terminus of drills.

Del Anderson announces that a spring game will be played under the lights near the end of spring practice. The exact date has not yet been set.

Anderson says that the team needs polishing, but that they have expressed a real desire to play the game, and are picking up the new type of practice blocking very quickly.

Among the outstanding players have been Glenn Hill and Bill Skrei who have been showing promise of becoming great pass receivers, and Tom Wold and Dana Hill, the improving young quarterbacks.

Floyd Wagner has shown well at the center post in drills and Pete Brewer in the line has also been outstanding.

Emil Zueger has been the fastest charging lineman thus far. Other fellows who have showed well are Tony Haberlach, Tom Gates, Bob Zuklic and Clint Kopp.

Del Anderson has a new football show aired over KDSC Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 8:45 on which he makes comments on the improvement of the squad, holds interviews and tries to acquaint Bison fans with the style of football which they'll be seeing next year.

Wednesday, Anderson had an interview with Jesse Vail, the new assistant coach, and three football prospects.

Brookings, S. D. — Coach Erv Huether's South Dakota State college baseball team opens the 1954 season this weekend with three games on the road in as many days.

The Jackrabbits tangle with Morningside Thursday at Sioux City, Iowa, and follow with Friday night and Saturday afternoon contests with Omaha university.

Holes at key positions caused by the loss of veterans cause the State coach to call his team a "question mark." However the 1954 edition may show up as a better hitting than last year's club which won six and lost four while fielding may be doubtful.

Hardest hit by losses is the infield where Huether has looked for replacements at three positions. Gone are Bob Lanphere at second, Lien Marso at short and Duane Welch at third. To complicate the picture Jerry Zins, Nicollet, Minn., who won a letter at second last year, has been out of action because of an appendectomy.

Other major losses were Porter Howard, promising pitcher, George Hillberg, slugging outfielder, and George Milfs, veteran hurler.

On the brighter side, the Jacks have ace chucker Bob Ehrke, Grotton, and Don Nehowig, Fargo, N. D., to bolster the pitching and Terry Waba, catcher from Watertown, and leading hitter on the team last year as a freshman.

Gail Wicks, Carpenter, will anchor the infield at first base while mainstays Curt Olson, Renner, and Jack Zimmer, Montrose, are again patrolling the outfield.

Ehrke, Olson, and Zimmer will be seeking their fourth major letters and Wicks is after his third after winning two major and one minor award.

Apparently earning the nod around the keystone sack are Dick Steiner, Ortonville, Minn., at second and Deane Antoine, Flandreau, at short. Third base is still a tossup with Charles Broz, Wagner, Don Snyder, Conde, and Norm Varns, Colton, all in the running.

Snyder will probably be the utility man on the club. He won a letter last year as an outfielder but may be called on to catch as well as play in the infield. Steiner also may take a turn behind the plate.

Other games on the schedule which Huether calls even tougher than those of recent years are:

- May 1—Morningside at Brookings
- May 3—Gustavus Adolphus at St. Peter, Minn. (doubleheader)
- May 8—Buena Vista at Brookings
- May 15—Mankato Teachers at Brookings (doubleheader)
- May 21—Iowa Teachers at Brookings
- May 22—Iowa Teachers at Brookings

Quanbeck Or Holm To Start Opener For Herd

The North Dakota State baseball squad were to have opened their season Tuesday against the defending champion MSTC Dragons. Due to weather complications featuring a high amount of saturation of the field, the game was postponed.

Coach Chuck Bentson will welcome the needed time for conditioning his team for the season ahead. The Bison have been kept indoors during most of the practice sessions because of the weather.

Bentson has stated that either Kerm Quanbeck or Morrie Holm will be the starting hurler in the Herd's opening game. Other pitchers are Dick Joos, Gerald Larson, Clarence Niskanen, and Jim Lowe.

The loss of Pat Vickers at first base through ineligibility, has caused a shakeup in the infield.

Doug Walston is now on first base, Bob Johnston at second, Dick Stewart at third and Jim Akason at shortstop. Frank Mollner, a new addition to the pitching staff is expected to help the Bison considerably.

The backstop situation is solved with Dale Serum and Jerry Peckscamp. Both are strong hitters and are steady behind the plate.

When practice started this spring, 36 men were out for the diamond sport, but only 24 remain.

Fargo Exchange Club Gives SC Documents

A permanent exhibit of 28 authentic reproductions of American historical documents known as The Freedom Shrine will be presented to North Dakota Agricultural College by the Fargo Exchange club.

The exhibit will be formally dedicated at Festival Hall, April 30, at 7:30 p.m., according to Fred Fiechtner, Exchange Club president. It will be placed on permanent display at NDAC.

Robert Vogeler, well-known American businessman who was held prisoner by the Hungarian communists, will give the dedicatory address.

All but one of the reproductions, which include the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights, were made by photographic experts of the National Archives, Washington, D. C., working directly from the original documents.

The reproductions have been permanently mounted and protected against all forms of deterioration.

Freedom Shrines are being established in communities throughout the nation by local Exchange Clubs participating in the project inaugurated and developed by the National Exchange Club.

3-D Movie At Union

"There Goes Your Reputation", a film in 3-D, will be shown May 11 at the Memorial Union. The film produced by Owens Illinois Glass Company is being sponsored by the Pharmacy Club.

It will be open to the public.
