Budewig Named New Home Ec. Dean

Miss Caroline Budewig is the newly named dean of the school of home economics, according to NDSC president Fred Hultz.

Coming to NDSC from the George Peabody college for teachers in Nashville, Tennessee, where she was associate professor of home economics, Miss Budewig has previously held positions at Simmons College, the university of Wisconsin, the university of Minnesota, and Texas State college for women.

A native of Texas, Miss Budewig received her bachelor's degree at the Texas State college for women, her master of science degree from the university of Minnesota, and has completed her academic work towards her doctor's degree in the home economics education at the George Peabody College for Teachers.

Dean Budewig replaces Mrs. Ella Olson who has been acting dean of the NDSC school of home economics for the past year.

Spectrum Pickups

The Spectrum may be picked up at the following points around campus; the library foyer, Minard hall, Morrill hall, student union, pharmacy building, Ceres hall, chemistry building, and both the old and new engineering buildings.

Summer Synopsis

(News in brief of the summer happenings at NDSC).

Dr. Clifton Miller, chairman of the department of pharmaceutical chemistry, attended the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies school of radioisotopes techniques.

NDSC Enrollment Nears 2000 Mark; 600 Freshmen Help Swell Numbers

NDSC will complete freshman registration tomorrow morning, to complete preparatory work to the 1954 fall term. An estimated 730 new students will swell enrollment to near the 2000 mark, according to director of admissions and records Merle Miller.

Of the total, about 600 are new freshmen, with the remainder transfer students.

The freshmen will register tomorrow morning at the library with the following schedule in force: initials S to Z will register at 8, I to R at 9, and A to H at 10.

This morning sophomore students are registering in the library from 8 to 12; and this afternoon transfer students will enroll.

Tonight at Dacotah Field, the Bison will entertain the Augustana Vikings in the first North Central conference football game for both schools. The game is at 8.

Following the game, an all college dance sponsored by the student union board of activities will be held in the union ballroom.

Tomorrow evening a "get acquainted party" will be held at the union, sponsored by the student government, Blue Key, and Senior Staff. The party begins at 9 p.m.

Induction Convo Set For Freshmen

Monday morning, preceding the beginning of classes for the term, the annual induction convo will be held to welcome all new students to NDSC.

Sponsored by Blue Key, national service fraternity; and Senior Staff, honorary for women; the convo is held each year initiate new students at NDSC.

With Dorothy Lund acting as master of ceremonies, the program will begin with an invocation given by Ken Moxness.

A vocal selection, the "Blind Plowman" will be presented by Ronald Smith.

Gary Hart is to present the main address of the convo, to be followed by the recitation of the NDSC creed to be repeated by all new students with Dorothy Lund as leader.

To close the program, all students will sing "Yellow and Green", with Ernest Van Vlissingen directing.

Kickoff Hop Tonite

The annual kickoff hop to welcome new freshmen will be held this evening after the NDSC-Augustana football game at the student union ballroom, sponsored by the union activities board.

One of the features of the hop will be a style show for the women students, sponsored by the Store Without a Name in Fargo; and a style show for men being held by Straus Clothing.

Both shows will feature the newest in college clothes for the coming year and all modeling will be done by college students.

Women's Senate Begins Counseling Service In Dorm

A new counseling system has been set up in women's residence hall under the sponsorship of Women's Senate. The system is for the purpose of helping freshmen and transfer students adjust to college life, helping solve problems of living with a large group, and organizing dormitory life.

The counselor meets her freshman counselee who lives in her corridor when she arrives and guides her through her first year at NDAC.

The counselors are working with Mr. Schmidt, director of the Personnel Dept., Dean Dinan, and Mrs. Piers, housemother. The counselors were selected by a student-faculty committee.

They are: Lois Cullen, Carol Hanson, Marlene Pfeifle, Jo Anne Willert, Elaine Geiszler, Jane Haas, Barbara Vaughn, Janet Thompson, and Dorothy Ryan.

As yet no counselors have been selected for Ceres Hall.

President Welcomes Students

For all A.C. students the 1954 school year opens as one of great opportunity. The harvest from our farms and ranches is in. The finances of our State are satisfactory. We have nearly 400 producing oil wells in North Dakota and promise of almost unlimited future production. The business opportunities growing out of these situations are many and varied and should present a real challenge to young people who now are completing their educational careers.

As students at NDAC this Fall, you will have made a fine start towards taking advantage of the chance which is offered in these times to gain a foothold on life's ladder. No one can possibly miss the air of hopeful optimism which prevades our campus as this new school year begins. If we all try hard to our jobs as citizens, as students, as partners in the world's greatest democracy, then will this optimism continue to be warranted and our lot be happier thereby.

As students you are urged to take your course work seriously, to grasp the full advantage which your college training offers every day, and to so live your daily lives that you may have no sad regrets twelve months from now when the 1955-56 school year rolls arounds. Best wishes to each of you.

Sincerely,
FRED S. HULTZ
President

To The Frosh

It is the policy of most college newspapers around the nation, during the first issue, to devote some space to welcoming new students to the college.

That is not quite what we plan to do in the next few lines. However, to all incoming freshmen. . . always remember that college is just what you make it.

NDSC is a grand place to live and study during the four years of college life allotted to most of us. If you keep that in mind, the years will pass like hours.

Take part in things, become a member of the college family as soon as possible. Learn to stand on your own two feet and grow up. But most of all, have fun, study hard, and enjoy life.

Down Here . . .

By Lee Johnson

Greetings to all of you old Staters and wary newcomers. Here we are back at the old grind for another school year. After a summer out in the cold world, it's good to be back in the shelter of NDS for a few more months.

Time does fly. A few months ago, it seems like a week at the most, we were all glad to get away from the books and breathe the air of summer. Now some few of us are glad to be back where the faintly musty air of learning and the glistening social swirl beckon once more.

The old campus looks right sharp and modern with all its new lawns, walks, and landscaping, doesn't it? It has changed considerably during the two short years that the kid has been tramping the ground around the area.

Speaking of new additions to the school, one of the most outstanding is State's new-look football squad. Look for a season of ups and downs from this year's Herd; but there should be much fun and gaiety around the campus when the troops do pull a game out of the basket. Let's back the squad to the hilt, soon the Bison will be the thundering Herd of old.

Guess that's about it for this time around, except to all you new frosh. . . welcome and get into the swing of things. It's all a ball.

By Renee Baker

Well, STUDENTS, here we go on another year of studies and work, studies and parties, and studies and just plain college life.

Much has happened since school let out last spring. Many, many, and many more people got themselves engaged, pinned and married. It'll probably take weeks to find out all the latest info, but here's the first installment.

SECRET MARRIAGES

. . . last spring included the marriage of Lorry Bye, Theta, and Bruce Hanes, SAE. They were married April 15, but the news didn't get out until June 15th.

. . . secretly married in February were LouEtta Hanson, Alpha Gam, and John Anderson, SAE. They let it be known in June, also.

AGR's

. . . married and engaged this summer numbered quite a few. Marv Meyers and Ann Marie Rietan wed Sept. 4, the same day Jeanne Hoge, Alpha Gam, and Dennis Bergren took their vows.

. . . Ed Vasey and Joyce Lorenz, Theta, are now engaged.

. . . As are Larry O'Keefe and Marjorie Stabesto.

. . . Sam Delvo and Marlene Gumble will be wed Oct. 5.

REMODELING

. . . are the Sigs.

WED IN AUGUST

. . . were Elizabeth Von Ruden and Larry Hilden, Kappa Psi.

GAMMA PHI-SAE

. . . team now engaged are Patti Jones and Jim Hitter.

NOW IN ALASKA

. . . are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jester, nee Beverly Stegge. They were wed in July.

EMPLOYED AT YELLOWSTONE

. . . this summer were Wes Rae, Sonia Swanke, Don Zimmerman, Pat Thompson, Allan Tschida, Darlene Trottier, Kay Donovan, Glenn Smith, Ardis Christenson, Bev Lind and Gretchen Muehlenbein.

ALSO MARRIED

. . . Jo Klevberg, Theta, and Christie Barke.

. . . Katie Dosworth, Kappa alum, and Fred Brandt.

. . . Jerome Nissen, Kappa Sig, and Jane Pris Preuss, Theta.

. . . Harriet Amble, Theta alum, and Harry Swanke, Kappa Sig.

. . . Maxine Brown and Larry North.

VOWS IN NOVEMBER

. . . will be for Ann Larson, Kappa alum, and Bob Lauf, SAE alum.

College Offers Many Opportunities To Those Who Seek Niche On Campus

Fresh from high school, college seems like a different world to the average freshman. That's just what it is; but anybody looking for a niche on campus is sure to find something among the multi organizations at NDSC.

Some of the groups are strictly professional, like Saddle and Siroloin, or any one of the numerous engineering groups that exist at the college.

For the man or woman who likes to combine his school work with a social or religious outlook, many fraternities, sororities, and various religious groups wait to accept him or her.

Then of course, there are the strictly extra-curricular activities like the Spectrum and Bison annual in the journalistic field. The Spectrum and Bison offer an outlet for the creative talent of anyone, and for people who just like to keep their hand near the pulse of campus life, the Spectrum and Bison fill that requirement, too.

On the dramatic side is the Little Country Theatre, each year producing a complete program that ranges from opera, to tragedy, and light comedy. Whether you may be a budding actor or actress, or just happen to like the burning expectation of curtain time, the LCT awaits you all.

Campus radio, perhaps the newest group on the campus has openings for anyone who likes to hear his own voice. Announcing, engineering, script writing; all is part of the life of a Campus radio staff member.

For the athlete or the athletically inclined, a complete sports program awaits you at NDSC. Varsity football, basketball, baseball, track, golf, and tennis furnish opportunities for any person to represent the college in top-flight competition.

Probably many of the freshmen played in high school bands or sang in glee clubs or a cappella choirs. NDSC has openings for any musician in either the Gold Star band or the choir.

If you dance, Orchesis modern dance society offers an outlet for your talent and self-expression.

Whatever it may be; social, vocational, intellectual, dramatic, musical, or journalistic, NDSC has a place for students to expend their excess energy.

Oglethorpe Myopia's Thoughts While Vacationing; Predictions Of Moment

By Hal Miller

It's been a summer they tell us, and the World Series is almost upon us, but we must have missed the warm weather back there somewhere. We do remember a fairly nice weekend, but they happen in January.

Enough griping. It's nice to be back, and still vertical most of the time. Football has decided to take the spotlight now, but we're not going to fight that this week. It's easier to talk about vacation.

Our friend, Oglethorpe Myopia, had a dilly time as he took a trip around the country on a good-will tour for organized baseball.

He watched the interest grow in the pennant races everywhere as the five-times-champion New York Yankees grew nearer and nearer a second place finish — their first under Manager Casey Stengel.

Oglethorpe noted with a smile on his mercenary pan that the Milwaukee paid attendance soared to a new record, the second time in two years that the new entry had broken a standard for turnstile turning.

Also of wide interest was the battle between the New York Giants and Brooklyn, and the fans didn't let it subordinate itself to the Willie Mays vs. Duke Snider controversy.

More ink was spilled over the young outfielder from Birmingham, than the McCarthy hearings. Our buddy Oglethorpe found it increasingly difficult to find a magazine not mentioning a story about the "real" Willie Mays. Ogie thought the whole thing was a bit premature, but still interesting and as engrossing as the player himself.

Mr. Myopia checked carefully into the millions of rumors concerning the efforts of Minneapolis, Kansas City, Los Angeles, et al; to acquire a major-league franchise in the form of the Philadelphia Athletics or somebody. Nothing arose in a tangible manner, however, and the A's are still hanging tough in the City of Brotherly Ability to stay away from the ball games.

Television and radiocasts of major league games still remained a source of great irritation throughout the minors, things getting a bit tense financially in spots.

Oglethorpe also found time to stop by the British Empire games at Vancouver last month for a little less than four minutes and catch the race between John Landy of Australia and Roger (I'm shrewd) Bannister of Oxford (Size 10).

It was a medical experts nightmare as both men did what doctors had proven impossible many years ago — they ran 5280 feet in less than 4 minutes. Not one, but both, mind you whipped the old standard with ease. Ease was third, three and a half chariots behind.

Bison Lose Opener To Concordia, 12-0

The North Dakota State Bison football team went into their first contest of the season against arch rivals Concordia at Dacotah Field Saturday.

The Cobbers scored twice while stopping the Herd to grab the win by a 12 to 0 count.

The Bison lacking both experience and depth made errors in fundamentals which will be corrected when the squad has a couple of games under its belt.

One pass play from Jim Wold to Glenn Hill covered 36 yards for the offensive highlight of the game for the Herd. Many chances to score were stopped in mid-drive by the alert Cobber line.

It was the first contest for both teams. Last year, the Bison nipped the lefse-chompers, 7-6.

Pinsetters In Demand

The bowling lanes at the Memorial Student Union are open and anyone wanting to set pins see Gordy Teigen, the manager.

Teigen has landed Minnesota University and Wahpeton Science for bowling matches for the State team this year in addition to the University series.

Bison Meet Augustana In Opening Conference Contest At Dacotah Field

The North Dakota State Bison meet the Augustana Vikings tonight at Dacotah Field in the first North Central Conference game for each squad.

The Bison took the contest between the two teams last season in their final game, but Coach Del Anderson expects the Vikings to be much improved over last year.

Augustana is a better balanced team both in the line and in the backfield and the game should be a close one.

The Bison gridders number 27 including seven lettermen going into the North Central Conference race.

The lettermen are Glen Hill and Paul Werner, co-captains, Emil Zueger, Pat Vickers, Dale Wallentine, Clarence Becker, and Don Patterson.

Strategy Conference

NDSC Offers Learning, Traditions, Social Life To All

By Lee Johnson

North Dakota State College is not just a learning factory or a social focal point, though some of the new students may come onto the campus with such thoughts in mind.

The state college has been a fixture in Fargo since way back in the early 1890's. During that time it has grown from a small agricultural school to one of the outstanding colleges of its size in the country.

The school of chemistry, though it is the smallest educational unit on campus ranks right at the top in the nation and the world.

Pharmacy is another ranking department on campus. The NDSC school of pharmacy rates among the top half dozen schools of its type in the nation.

NDSC engineering graduates are welcomed with open arms by most of the industrial concerns and business enterprises around the world.

Arts and Science, the second-ranking school in size on campus, has a large number of departments, offering a myriad of courses to the new student.

Of course we must not forget the school of agriculture. Long the mainstay of the campus, the school is no longer the largest in size; but it is still vitally important to the college as a whole.

Faculty Club To Hold Picnic Tomorrow Nite

The NDSC who's new faculty club is scheduled to hold a "get acquainted" picnic at the Oak Grove park shelter house tomorrow night, September 18, at 5 p.m.

The picnic is an annual event sponsored by the club, composed of wives of faculty members new to the staff either this year or last, according to club president Mrs. Lillian Callenbach.

Families attending have been requested to bring either a hot dish, salad, or dessert, in addition to silver, table cover, and dishes. Coffee will be furnished.

Additional information may be obtained by calling 2-4950 or 2-5767.

Last but not least is the NDSC school of home economics. The training school of most of the northwest's home economists, the school ranks high for quality around the nation.

And then athletics; let us not forget our football and basketball teams.

Although football may be more or less in the doldrums at the present time on the campus, take heart. The squad is in the midst of a gigantic rebuilding job under the astute leadership of new coach Del Anderson.

Soon again the Bison grid squad will be following in the proud footsteps of the 1930's that saw the Herd take on and defeat such powerhouses as Minnesota, and the great Bison squad of 1946.

For the past several years, the Bison basketball squad has been one of the most ferocious in the conference. Under the able tutelage of Chuck Bentson, the Herd has steadily become the one team to be feared year after year in the North Central Conference.

Yes, NDSC is quite a college. It has a tradition of fine scholarship, athletic prowess, and friendship that goes back over 60 years.

As each new student enters the gates of the school for the first time he should remember that it is up to him or her to contribute to maintaining the fine traditions of the college for future students.

Homecoming Queen Contest Rules Change

At a recent meeting of the Student Senate, a new plan was devised for the selection of the Homecoming Queen of NDAC. The new rules call for one candidate from each of the six sororities on campus plus one from Ceres Hall and one candidate from the New Womens Dormitory. The resident hall candidates may not belong to a sorority.

The new procedure will limit the number of possible candidates to eight. Under the old system any organization could sponsor a girl; and, because of this, it was necessary to hold a preliminary elimination to choose the eight leading candidates out of which the students elected the queen and her attendants.

Under the new plan, fraternities will not sponsor the girls, as such is to be done exclusively by the candidates organization.

NDSC's 1954 homecoming has been scheduled for October 16.

The parade will be held on Saturday morning, with all judging taking place at that time. All organizations are urged to enter either a float or a car in the parade.

Organizations which entered the parade last year will receive entry blanks for this year's event. Any other group interested in entering should call parade marshal Gary Gibbons at 2-1632 or 2-3158, or address correspondence to him at 1303 13th Street North.

The deadline for entries is 5 p.m., October 8. Floats entered after the deadline will be subject to disqualification.

A prize of ten dollars plus two tickets to the 1954 homecoming dance will be given to the NDSC student who submits the best entry for the homecoming theme contest.

The winning theme will serve as the motto for the NDSC's homecoming this year.

The theme contest will close Friday, October 1 at 6 p.m. All entries should be left at the office of the student union director.

NDSC's Bison will face the Jackrabbits of South Dakota State for the annual homecoming football game this year.

Paul Hanson To Play At Dance Tomorrow

Stag or drag, lets turn out to renew old and make new acquaintances with your fellow students.

Welcome, Freshmen

By Norman Reinke

On behalf of the Spectrum I would like to take this opportunity to welcome the freshman class of 1954 to the campus of North Dakota State College. But let's also reflect a few moments on what brought you to our campus and why you have elected to devote the next few years of your life to the pursuit of a higher education.

What is a freshman? The majority of us consider a freshman as a new and somewhat bewildered student whose class card lists primarily 100 courses, and whose main activity seems to be the pursuit of Bison booster buttons and the avoidance of freshman beanies. These may often be genuine characteristics, but a better definition is found on a somewhat higher plain.

A freshman is exactly that—a freshman. A new student entering our generally ivoryless domain prepared for a four year battle with the forces of education. His weapons are aptitude, tenacity, and time. Success or failure in his quest depends directly on the manner in which he uses these weapons.

The next few weeks could well be the most important period of a freshman's tenure at NDSC. In this time he will probably establish the basic pattern of study habits he'll use during his entire college career.

When a freshman has developed the twin habits of attendance and attention, when he has learned to divide his time properly between the book and the ball; he is well on the way to success in his search for education.

Why is a freshman? What forces have brought this large body of men and women from different parts of the state and nation together to form the freshman class of '54? They know the individual hopes and aspirations that motivate them. But individual desire is not enough to establish such a group. Each new student has a quiet, but very conspicuous partner helping him to attain his goal. This partner is the State of North Dakota. The contributions made by each partner are easily recognized.

The freshman contributes the time. North Dakota furnished the money, the plant, and the instruction. Seem unfair? I think so. But if you, the individual freshman, will extend yourself to take full advantage of all that is offered you, and apply yourself to the best of your ability, the State of North Dakota will be satisfied.

Introducing The 1954 Bison

Pictured above are this year's entry in the North Central conference football derby from North Dakota State. Hampered by lack of numbers and injuries, the Herd may not sweep to the title this year; but the tremendous spirit that they show promises much for the future.

Sherwood, Baker Represent AC At NSA Congress

Representing NDAC at the seventh annual National Student Association Convention at Iowa State College in Ames, Iowa, this summer were Judy Sherwood and Renee Baker. They were sponsored by the Student Senate.

The convention, which was attended by 500 students from the United States and countries from abroad, discussed problems and policies concerning students in relation with the school, administration and other schools.

Among the topics discussed included segregation in colleges, academic freedom, student's rights, exchange with Russia and other countries from abroad, rights of the student press and travel.

NSA, at their sixth annual Congress endorsed for passage a bill to enable students to make more than $600 a year and still be deductible as dependents of their parents. The lobby group of the NSA took the amendment to Washington, where it was introduced to various Senators and Representatives and was later passed by both groups.

NDAC is in the Minnesota-Dakota region. Other schools in the region include Augsburg College, Carleton College, College of St. Benedict, College of St. Catherine, College of St. Thomas, Concordia College, University of Minnesota and St. John's University.

Lily Pons Concert To Open Season's Lyceum Series Tonight In Fieldhouse

By Keith Amundson

Lily Pons, one of the finest musical attractions ever to appear at NDSC; will open this year's lyceum program tonight with a concert at the fieldhouse at 8.

All students who did not receive tickets to the concert during registration may do so by presenting their activity tickets at the Little Country Theater office today.

One of the greatest coloraturas of all time, Miss Pons has had a long and brilliant career spanning more than a quarter of a century.

She began singing quite by accident during the first world war, and since then has come to be one of the most widely admired musical personalities of all time.

Since making her American debut in 1931, Miss Pons has taken the nation by storm. She has opened the season of the Metropolitan Opera several times and has broken many concert attendance records.

During world war two, Miss Pons entertained American troops all over the world and thus brought her magical voice to the ears of people all over the globe.

In the past few years, Miss Pons has devoted her time mainly to concert tours and has made several appearances with the San Francisco opera company.

Miss Pons' appearance here in Fargo holds great promise for the music lovers of the campus and area. How often is it that a great star known the world over appears in Fargo-Moorhead?
