Vet's Production "Stalag 17" Set For Thursday Eve

By Bill Buck

Rehearsals for "Stalag 17", Little Country Theater production slated for December 8, 9, and 10, are going on at a furious pace as Chuck Abrahamson, director of the all-veteran cast, prepares the play for opening nite.

Sam Kalainov, adequately taking the part of Sefton, does an excellent job characterizing a completely despicable personality. Schultz, the German guard, is played to perfection by Les Landstrom.

"Animal", played by Jerry Lague, adds a refreshing touch of humor to what could otherwise be a very drab life for the "prisoners". John Kittleson is typically and naturally fashioned for his animation of Stosch, while Tom Brown takes the part of a very convincing traitor, Price.

Edward Martin playing Reed, a ham actor who aspired to break Broadway but was interrupted by Uncle Sam's Greetings, adds a bit of Shakespeare to barracks life.

Holding up the technical end are Monica Savageau and Carol Abrahamson as stage manager and assistant director respectively.

While there is no way of knowing how the green cast will perform when on the stage in front of an audience, rehearsals indicate it's a play that a prson wouldn't miss.

Tickets for the play are now on sale at the LCT ticket office and from cast members. Price of the ducats is 75 cents per person.

Y Cabinet Assembles

YM-YW cabinet will meet at 1321 10th Avenue North tomorrow evening for a dinner meeting at 5:30. SC's Y will also hold their annual tree-trimming party tomorrow night at 8:30. Everyone is invited.

Two Thirds Ballot Necessary To Pass Ag. Honor System

Monday, December 12, is the date set for the student election on the adoption of the honor system in the school of agriculture. Balloting will take place from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Only students enrolled in the School of Agriculture this quarter will be allowed to vote on the proposed measure.

Free coffee and donuts, under the sponsorship of student senate, will be served to those casting ballots.

A 2/3's vote of the students enrolled in the school of agriculture will be necessary to pass the measure. If the student vote is in favor. The measure will be submitted to the College Council for approval.

If approved by the College Council the system will be inaugurated at the beginning of the winter term, 1956 for a period of one year. At the end of one full year's operation another election will be held in which faculty and students may retain, modify, or reject the honor system.

Students may call for a referendum vote on the honor system at any time by presenting a petition to the Student Government signed by 25 per cent of the students in agriculture.

The honor system has been proposed as a means of adding another educational function to the college. Not only may the honor system reduce cheating and improve scholarship, it encourages a strong sense of mutual responsibility, respect and trust among the students on campus and gives students training in the process of self-government.

The proposed honor system was composed by five students and three faculty members. Faculty members on the committee are William Promersberger, Fred Taylor and Ralph Young. Student members are Les Amundson, Don Carlson, LaDon Johnson, Gaylord Olson, and Merlin Ludwig, chairman.

Staff Notes Club Meet

Staff and Note Club will hold a meeting on Thursday, December 8th at 6:00 p.m. in Putnam Hall. The supper will be a smorgasbord. Everyone is requested to bring something for the menu. If in doubt as to what to bring, contact Mrs. Ralph Croal at Putnam Hall. A "pop" concert will follow the supper.

Queen To Be Crowned At Military Ball Tonight

NDSC's annual military ball, sponsored by the two campus ROTC corps, will be held this evening from 9 to 12 in the field-house.

Tickets are currently on sale from members of the two military honoraries, Scabbard and Blade and Arnold Air Society, and at Daveau Music in Fargo and Moorhead, Grand Recreation, and Nels Vogel in Moorhead.

Paul Hanson and his campus orchestra will play for the affair. Tickets for the dance will be 1.50 per person and 3.00 per couple.

Strictly formal, the dance requires either ROTC uniforms or tuxedos.

Feature of the entire evening will be the crowning of the ball queen from among nine candidates sponsored by various groups on campus. The queen will be crowned by college president Fred S. Hultz and presented with the sceptre by last year's queen Sally Anderson.

Candidates for the honor include Janet Monson, sponsored by Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. A

Otterson Pettee Appointed To Head Social Science Dept.

Appointment of Professor Rudolf Ottersen, now associate professor of history, and Dr. Eugene Pettee, now associate professor of economics, at North Dakota State College, as chairmen of the department of social science has been made by Dr. Fred S. Hultz, president.

The chairmanship will work on a rotation basis with professor Ottersen as chairman for a three year term and then Dr. Pettee for a three year term. Rotation after these two terms will be decided by the executive committee of the department and the dean.

This chairmanship was made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Norman Wengert as of January 1, 1956.

Professor Ottersen first came to NDSC in 1923 and received the rank of Associate Professor in 1935. He is married and lives at 815 Ninth Avenue North.

Dr. Pettee has been at NDSC since 1928 and became Associate Professor in 1945. He also is married and lives at 1349 Twelfth Street North.

junior in arts and science from Fargo, Janet is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and is treasurer of Air Debs.

Candidates for Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity is Doroles Hollands, a junior in home economics from Moorhead. Dolores is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Theta Chi's choice is Sandra Benedict, a sophomore from Moorhead. Sandy is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority and Air Debs, Orchesis dance society, and the Bison annual staff.

LaVonne Gerrells, a freshman in arts and science, is the candidate of Sigma Phi Delta fraternity. She is a pledge of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Kappa Psi sweetheart and the pharmics candidate for queen is Gloria Lloyd, a junior in home economics from Bismarck. Gloria was an attendant for this year's homecoming queen, is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, and orchesis dance sorority, and Air Debs.

Candidate of Sigma Chi fraternity is Joan Nelson, a senior from Milnor majoring in home economics. Last year's homecoming queen, Joan was also selected as Campus Cover Girl by the Minneapolis Tribune last spring.

Joan is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, Sigma Alpha Iota music society, Air Debs, Tryota, chorus, Newman club, and is a student senator and commissioner of music and public programs in the student government. Tau Kappa Epsilon queen candidate is Janet Thompson, a senior in home economics from Hillsboro. Janet is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, Tau Beta Sigma, chorus, Tryota, LSA, Guidon, and YWCA.

Ann Whiting, a sophomore in arts and science from Fargo, is the candidate of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Ann is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, treasurer of Orchesis, a member of Air Debs, and is a varsity cheerleader.

Vets Club candidate for queen is LaVonne Biel, a freshman in home economics from Lefor. LaVonne is a pledge of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Military people in charge of the ball include John Burnett, John Larum, Norman Hanson, Loren Bjornson, and Keith Amundson. Larum, president of Arnold Air Society, is general ball chairman while Hanson is president of Scabbard and Blade honorary. Jayne Lee, commander of Air Debs, and Marlys Platz, commander of Guidon, are also assisting in arrangements.

State Ski Club Meets Wednesday

SC's ski club will hold its first meeting of the year next Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the Fireside Room of the College Y.

New officers will be elected and plans will be laid for weekly ski trips to local ski areas next quarter. Slides will also be shown on last year's trip to Alta, Utah and lunch will be served. Sally Schroeder and Keith Amundson are in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

Social Science Dept. Backs Tax Meeting

An income tax conference, sponsored by the social science department at North Dakota State College and the college of business administration at the University of North Dakota, will be held in the NDSC library Friday and Saturday, December 2 and 3.

Dr. Glenn W. Fisher, instructor in economics at NDSC, and Professor R. D. Kopenhaver, head of the accounting department at UND, are in charge of the conference, which is intended for accountants, attorneys and others having a professional interest in income tax laws and accounting. Dr. Fisher will preside over the Friday meeting and Professor Kopenhaver on Saturday.

A sparkling new personality appearing regularly on KDSC campus radio is Ward Dunkirk, a freshman from Fargo majoring in radio and television speech.

Coming from a family of radio people, Ward is the son of radio station WDAY manager and newscaster Jack Dunn. His mother also appears on WDAY as a singer and entertainer. Dunkirk is a pledge of Sigma Chi social fraternity.

"The Breeze and I" is the theme of Dunkirk's Saturday Varieties which is heard every Saturday afternoon from 1 to 1:30. He also has a show every Thursday night from 8:20 to 9 in addition to newscasts.

Listen always for the best in news, music, and sports to KDSC, the campus and student radio station. Remember no commercials at 750 on your radio dial.

Christmas Convo Set

The annual Christmas convocation will be held in Festival Hall on Thursday, December 8th at 9:40 a.m. The Gold Star Band and the NDSC Mixed Chorus will be featured in Christmas selections. Carol singing by the student body will complete the program.

GENERAL VISITS

General John Lentz of Fort Riley, Kansas visited the Army ROTC department on campus recently. General Lentz visited as a representative of the Fifth Army commander on an annual visit to meet with campus officials and observe ROTC training.

Down Here

By Lee Johnson

Vroom-screech and here we are with only two weeks of school remaining, counting finals. Oh, glory for the two weeks of doing nothing which will soon be upon us. Thank goodness for such small favors.

Last weekend revealed that most of the doings in this town actually revolve around the much maligned college students. From Wednesday afternoon on the entertainment spots and the party people of the two cities were left with nothing to do. Even old Weakeyes deserted the ship and fled up into Canada.

Hustle and bustle in the annual office over the weekend. Mel Ostby and his bevy of beauties worked for long hours in a desperate attempt to meet their first deadline. From the long sighs much of their effort must have been successful. The combined office has been deserted since then. Only Bill Baillie and the wondrous Beatty haunt the dingy halls now.

This week the Spectrum is beginning a special feature. Every student will have his name printed in the paper at some point or another this year. Don't dribble all over us with your tears of joy.

Ken Borg, the happy-go-lucky pharminc and elder statesman of Kappa Psi fraternity, is reported suffering from a cold gained at Jim Reipl's wedding last Wednesday nite. Hmmm.

Military ball tonight and the boy soldiers of the campus will strut in all their glory. Ye olde fieldhouse is taking on the appearance of a fancy night spot thanks to many long hours spent by members of the corp of cadets. This is the huge, big formal affair of the quarter so a mass turnout is in order. Paul Hanson and his bugle boys will furnish music for gambling.

Girl's wrestling champion Judy Hammer of Gamma Phi Beta sorority is reportedly calling for applicants to form a fem groan brigade next quarter. Any gal with much extra time and energy for the sport may qualify by contacting Hammerlock Hammer at 9550 or the Gamma Phi house.

Tonight the thundering Herd takes the floor in a sport that SC is notably proficient in. Bison cagers travel into Iowa for a weekend at Drake and Iowa State College.

Several hardcourt buffs are planning to make the trip and there still is room on the highway south. Let's make the contingent sizeable.

Head-grass groveler Arlo Keith Amundson of Sanborn and the Little Country theater reports that anyone interested in an inexpensive and very green lawn may garner same after the soldier squabble this evening.

SC's widely known Mouse River loop club held their annual get-together at the Anamoose Firemen's ball last week. Elected as president of the entertainment society was Bill Hutton.

Guess that about shoots this palaver for this week. Remember the gathering this afternoon. See you all then.

Report Submitted By Honor Committee Gives Student, Faculty Responsibilities

(Ed. note: The following is a resume of the report submitted by the Honor System Committee.)

The honor system is defined as a method of student self government during examinations. It operates as a preventive procedure to prevent or stop cheating as well as to punish those who cheat. Its operation is based on the assumption that a large majority of students are honest and enjoy working in a situation where their honesty and the honesty of others is not in question.

The honor system contributes to the development and expression of moral standards of conduct.

Judicial Authority

The NDSC Student Senate will be responsible for the operation of the honor system. A committee of 5 students enrolled in the school of agriculture, called the Honor Case Commission, will administer the system.

Members of this commission will be selected annually by the Student Senate and the Dean of Agriculture.

Instructor Responsibility

In a typical examination the instructor will pass out the exam and answer questions concerning it. Following this he may or may not leave the examination room, but if he stays it will be for interpretation purposes only and not to proctor the test.

The only supervisory capacity of the instructor shall be that if evidence of cheating is found in exam papers the instructor shall call the situation to the attention of the Honor Case Commission.

Each instructor will be asked to help implement the Honor System by placing examples of his typical exams on reserve in the college library.

Student Responsibility

The responsibility accepted by the students shall determine the success of the honor system.

The following honor pledge will be signed by every student and handed in with the exam paper.

"I have neither given nor received aid in writing this examination."

Instructors shall be urged by faculty members and the Student Senate not to accept papers which have an unsigned pledge.

When a student observes cheating during an exam several possible actions should be considered and the individual will be free to choose the method they deem advisable. The decision to report an instance of cheating to the Honor Case Commission may or may not be made but the student is expected to take such action that he believes to be the most effective way to eliminate dishonesty in exams.

In an effort to stop cheating on the spot a student, who observes cheating in an exam, may stand and address the class, indicating that cheating is taking place and suggesting that in all fairness it should stop. This could be done without singling out any specific individual.

Other methods such as personal appeal, persuasion, and reference to community responsibility may be used.

Action On Cheating

If a student feels an offender should be reported he will forward a description of the incident to the Honor Case Commission. The Commission will then collect evidence on the situation. Witnesses and the accused will be interviewed.

The Commission will then review the case and present a report of the innocence or guilt to the Student Progress Committee of the School of Agriculture. In case of guilt the Commission will also make recommended action.

The Student Progress Committee may approve, reverse or modify the recommendation of the Honor Case Commission following consultation with the student concerned.

If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the Student Progress Committee he may appeal to higher college authorities. If the Student Progress Committee is satisfied that the recommended action is reasonable and if the student does not appeal the decision of the Honor Case Commission, the recommended action will be placed into effect.

All cases of the Honor Case Commission and the Student Progress Committee will be confidential. In the last regular issue of the Spectrum each school year a summary of actions of the Commission will be reported, but names will not be included.

Who Is Affected

The honor system will be on the one year trial basis only in the School of Agriculture. Only students registered for courses in the School of Agriculture will be under the honor system.

Students not in agriculture but enrolled in courses offered in the school of agriculture will be held to the honor system during examinations.

Sigma Alpha Iota National Officer Visits On Campus

Miss Marjorie Stranger, president of Epsilon province, Sigma Alpha Iota, national music fraternity, arrived Wednesday for a two day conference with Omicron chapter. Omicron chapter offers membership to students at MSTC and NDSC who major or minor in music.

Miss Stranger's visit included conferences with the music faculties of the colleges and with chapter officers. Wednesday evening a formal banquet was held at the Elks Club in her honor. It commemorated Incorporation Day.

The program included selections by Joyce Kirkhus, Aina Malta, Joan Nelson, and Barbara Pederson, all of North Dakota State.

New pledges who were represented were Gaye Olson, Carol Senechal, Betty Shipley, Fargo; Ruth Tallackson, and Claire Ann Walker, also all of North Dakota State.

Campus Cutie . . .

This week's SC honey is Genevieve Kovell, the pride of West Fargo and a pledge of Phi Mu sorority.

Proposed Honor System Report Heard; Women's Senate Appropriation OK'd

The student senate, at their regular meeting last Tuesday night, heard a report on possible methods of obtaining appropriations for the women's senate.

The money obtained through the appropriations would be used to pay the Women's Senate's national dues and to cover the expenses of delegates to the group's conventions. It was decided that the women's senate be allowed .15 per woman student per quarter for the winter and spring quarter.

Women's senate must be maintained on the campus in order for the school to obtain recognition from the American Association of University Women.

A report was also given on the proposed honor system for the School of Agriculture. Students in the School of Agriculture will vote on the honor system December 12. If the system is adopted by the students an honor case commission will be selected by the dean of the school of agriculture and the student senate.

The honor system will be on a trial basis in the School of Agriculture, and it will be extended to the other schools on campus if it proves a success. Free coffee and donuts will be served in Morrill Hall during the election.

A motion was passed whereby the student senate will take charge of a send-off rally for the basketball team when they leave Thursday morning.

Invite Nominations For Criss Award; Salk 1955 Winner

Dr. Charles W. Mayo today extended an invitation to people in the Fargo area, through C. T. Tollefson Mutual of Omaha general agent here, to nominate the 1956 successor to Dr. Jonas E. Salk, as recipient of the Mutual of Omaha Criss Award.

Consisting of $10,000 and a gold medal, the award is presented for the outstanding contribution during the year to public health and/or safety.

Selection of the recipient is made by a board of judges headed by Dr. Mayo, head of the famed Mayo Clinic of Rochester, Minn.

Any person who wishes to make a nomination for the 1956 Award may request a nomination blank from Mr. Tollefson or from the Criss Award Board of Judges, Mutual of Omaha, Omaha, Nebraska. Deadline for nominations is March 1, 1956.

The award, largest of its kind in the United States, was established by Mr. V. J. Skutt, president of Mutual of Omaha, to honor the late Dr. C. C. Criss, founder of the company which now ranks as the largest in the world specializing in health and accident insurance.

Dr. Salk received the 1955 award for his work with polio vaccine. Previous winners include E. Earl Hall, editor of the Mason City (Iowa) Globe-Gazette, for his work in safety education; Dr. Howard R. Rusk, New York City, for his work with the physically handicapped; and Doctors Philip Kendall and Edward Hench of the Mayo Clinic for their work in the development of cortisone.

ISA Meeting Set

The Independent Student Association will hold a special meeting Monday evening, December 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the conference rooms 1, 2, and 3, at the Memorial Union. This meeting has been called by the executive council for the purpose of discussing the possibilities of a five or fifteen minute act for Brevities.

Since this planning is of primary importance the committee urges that all interested Independent students attend this meeting.

Stock Companies Workshop Topic

Mr. Edwin Bigelow, instructor in speech, will be the featured speaker at Theatre Workshop next Tuesday evening, December 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the Little Country Theatre Log Cabin on the second floor of Old Main.

Mr. Bigelow's topic will be Summer Stock Companies. His talk will include information on where summer stock companies are, what those in it do, the fun they have, and about life in general during a summer spent with a stock company. Mr. Bigelow may well be considered an authority on this subject as both he and his wife spent several summers in stock.

Theatre Workshop is a group open to any student on campus who is interested in knowing about anything connected with the theatre. The Workshop meets on the first and third Tuesday evenings of every month in the Little Country Theatre. The first Tuesday of the month the group hears a speaker or sees a demonstration; on the other Tuesday they learn by doing some of the activities of the theatre.

Ceylon Student Compares Marriage Customs In Talk Here

By Karen Sluka

How would you like to have your husband or wife chosen for you? If you were born in Ceylon this might very well happen to you. Two weeks ago Chandra Di senyake spoke to students, faculty and friends of the home economics department here at NDSC and told them about her tropical land.

Chandra, who was born in Ceylon, is a graduate student at the University of Nebraska. She is presently working on her thesis which deals with a comparison of marriage customs in Ceylon and the United States.

Ceylon, Chandra's homeland, is a small island off the tip of India that is located 7 degrees from the equator. Crowded into this small island are 8½ million people. The island's climate falls into three groups—a very hot humid coastal area, a moderate mountain climate and a dry plateau area. The island's chief religion is Buddhism but there are also large numbers of Hindus and Moslems.

The Buddhists, of whom Chandra is one, are chiefly of the Singhalese race, the original inhabitants of the island. There is a small group of white Christians who are mainly Dutch, Portugese and English. Each of these groups has ruled the island in the past. Ceylon recently acquired it's independence from England.

Chandra is a homemaker, mother and professional woman all in one. As a mother and homemaker she has two children, one 3 and one

4. Her husband is a lawyer in Columbo, capital of Ceylon, where they make their home. Chandra teaches in a school which gives home economics training to girls after they have finished high school. It is a two year preparatory school for future mothers and homemakers.

Chandra's home economics training was obtained at the New Delhi University. She has been completing her training for the past year and a half at the University of Nebraska. Chandra was able to come to the United States because of a scholarship she received from the Ceylon government. She also added, "I have a wonderful husband who is taking care of our children."

Chandra's thesis deals with a comparison of opinions on arranged marriages, love-marriages and women working after marriage. In Ceylon most marriages are arranged by the parents. The caste system in Ceylon, which seems to be important only at the time of marriage, stems back to the time of the Celonese King. It is very important to the parents that their children marry a person of the same caste.

Chandra did not like this system of arranged marriages and she fell in love. A conflict arose because her suitor belonged to a higher class. After a period of twelve years, the family finally consented to their marriage. From this it is apparent that love marriages are not very common and they can be quite a problem.

In arranged marriages the girl's family makes sure that the man is secure in his employment and in a position to support a wife. The horoscopes of the two people are compared and they should match emotionally, spiritually and sexually. A coldblooded analysis of family backgrounds is also carried on.

If all things agree favorably, then opportunities are created for the couple to get together, of course with a chaperone. If things seem to be going satisfactorily the man sends a formal proposal to the girl. The marriage is never forced; the girl is free to accept or refuse any proposal. The girl always has a dowry when entering into marriage. It is not uncommon for 200 or 300 people to attend a wedding. This will include all the relatives of both sides and friends.

In Chandra's research she found that 90% of the unmarried girls in Ceylon say they want a love marriage and 95% of the girls want to work after they are married. This influence seems to be coming from the western world. The Buddhists tend to be more liberal while the Hindu's carry on the traditional role.

With this increasing change toward love marriages, divorces have also increased. Since the war the divorce rate has risen 300%. The reasons given for the high divorce rate are the war marriages and the University marriages. Another startling fact is that all these divorced marriages were love-marriages.

The reason for this seems to be that people who had nerve enough to take this drastic step of a love-marriage also have the same nerve when it comes to divorce. Couples in arranged marriages feel more tied down and less free to do as they please.

The reason University marriages have failed seems to stem back to the fact that all schools are non-coeducational up to the University level, where there is a coeducational system. The inexperienced girls fall in love with the first boy they meet and get married. They have not had a chance to meet and date many boys. Chandra believes that a major cause of divorce is the lack of training given in family relations.

The western style dress is often worn to school but after marriage the woman always wears a sari. Chandra's display and demonstration of saris was one of the most interesting parts of her visit. She showed how the sari was worn and let everyone in on the secret of how to camouflage figure faults and bring out the good points. Chandra brought 50 saris to the U. S. They vary from 6 to 9 yards long and vary in price from $25 to over $100. The more fashionable you are the more skin you leave bare.

College education is quite limited in Ceylon. Entrance into the University is by exam and whether you can afford it. Instruction in the schools is given in the mother tongue with English as a requirement. There is room for only a small number of people in the university so students are admitted only as there are vacancies.

According to Chandra, one of the main draw backs in Ceylon's educational program is the lack of equipment. After government and import taxes have been added on a piece of equipment, it costs them 2½ times what it costs us. During Chandra's stay in the U. S. she has been trying to find ways to get more equipment for their schools.

We were fortunate to have Chandra with us through the efforts of Miss Weesner and Miss Virgin of the Home Economics faculty. Chandra has reservations on the ship Queen Elizabeth for Feb. 1 to sail for her home. A token of good will and friendship Chandra leaves us with sadness at her departure but with a friendlier and much enriched viewpoint of a distant land—Ceylon.

Formal Affairs Require Special Dress, Only Rigid Rules Govern Assemblages

By Judy Hammer

This article is the first in a series of three which will appear in the Spectrum as an introduction to a forthcoming student union activities board function. This latest offering by the board is a forum which will be held at a later date. The forum will be aimed at acquainting the campus with proper social behavior—to "clue us in" on the etiquette of modern campus living.

In view of the coming all-campus Military Ball, which will be held tonight in the fieldhouse, the subject which was chosen for this issue is proper formal dress on campus. References for this article were taken from a publication called "Campus Cues" by Irene Pierson. Anyone interested in acquiring a copy of this book for an organization or for personal use can do so by contacting Mrs. Esther Tarbell, student union activities board coordinator.

First of all, the basis of all formal dress for men is the tuxedo. A tux costs less than a formal tailcoat and can be worn to more events. The proper attire for a formal affair is a black or a dark blue tuxedo, although in warmer summer or spring weather a white dinner jacket is very acceptable. For campus wear, however, the white dinner jacket is permissible in any season of the year.

Formal men's wear can be rented in Fargo at several places, at very reasonable rates. Above all, though, it should be kept in mind that for a military ball or any military function, your military uniform is as good as any full dress ensemble.

A word to the wise—read invitations carefully, for since the war, many formal parties make dress optional for men. This means that the man may wear a business suit, even though the girl does wear a formal.

For a dance such as the military ball, corsages are the rule, and not the exception. Taste and not price is the prime requisite to be observed in the buying of a corsage. The most expensive orchids in the world would be entirely out of order on a blue or green formal. A corsage within the two to three and a half dollar price range is about right for this type of affair.

From the feminine viewpoint, although there are many different types of formals, there are no longer special materials for any one season of the year. Velvet for winter and cotton for summer is a fine rule to follow, although not absolutely necessary, or closely adhered to. Other materials are acceptable at any time. The question of high

Monica Savageau Receives Word Of Poetry Award

A junior in speech, Monica Savageau received word recently that one of her poems, "After Reading Graham Greene", has been selected by the board of judges to be published in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

The Anthology is a compilation of poetry written by the college men and women representing every state in the country. Selections were made from thousands of poems submitted.

SC's library will secure a copy of the anthology when it is published and will make it available for reading by the students of the college.

Varsity Basketball Squad Opens Season At Drake Today

By Jim Beatty
The NDSC varsity basketball squad will open its 1955-56 season against Drake University at Des Moines, tonight, December 3 and at Iowa State at Ames, Saturday, December 4.

The probable starting lineup for the Bison will be Harold (Zeke) Anderson, center, Jim Akason, guard, Doug Walstad, guard, Gene Gamache, forward and Kenneth Flynn, forward. Number one substitute guard will be Merlin Ludwig. Coach

Chuck Bentson announced that the following men have been selected to make the Drake-Iowa State basketball trip:

Anderson, Zeke; Akason, Jim; Ludwig, Merlin; Walstad, Douglas; Gamache, Gene; Flynn, Kenneth; Haas, John; Brenteson, A.; Gebhart, Roger; Melroe, Sylvan; Heil, Howard; Henry, Darrell.

Bentson said these are two very tough ball clubs. Both Drake and Iowa State have a capable center, Drake has big Will Cerf who totalled 489 points last year and Iowa

State has 6 ft. 8 in. Don Medsker. Bentson also added the outcome of the game will depend a good deal on how well Zeke Anderson and John Haas play against these men.

Freshmen transfers and other first year men who have shown great promise are Darrell Henry, and Howie Hil, a transfer from MSTC who should be able to assist the three starting guards.

Roger Gebhart, who, Bentson remarked, "was a terrific shot" has been slowed down by a little extra weight.

Sylvan Melroe from last year's squad has shown rapid improvement and should be a great help at the forward spot.

John Haas, center, has been showing improvement at the center post.

After the trip south the Bison will open December 10 against Mankato State Teachers College.

Why do more college men and women smoke

than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance—cellulose—found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

- 1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
- 2. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
- 3. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroy's have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
- 4. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip . . . and Viceroy's cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette . . . that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

about the frigid clime, we have no other alternative but to award the fire-up-of-the-week honors to the hardy souls who daily plow the snow from the sidewalks of Ol' State.

A prerequisite for top notch socializers at this top notch social school seems to be at least one top notch social train ride per quarter. It seems that some of the stranded students from the northern part of our fair state invaded the Great Northern railway and enjoyed themselves immensely. Notables among this mellow group were Kerry Murphy of Clothes Closet fame, Jayne Lee and Judy Sherwood—KKG stalwarts, Bill Hutton, the Tau Terror, and last but by no means least, the one and only "Santa Claus" Southam.

And speaking of Southam, that jolly old elf, we have word of a new campus organization being organized under the name of "Navel Reserve". This likely sounding title is attainable only by those of us who are staunch stalwarts of excess obesity.

A plug—attend the military ball—vote for your chick. Tiger Lee Johnson and Brother Bill Buck will be there with their snappy charcoal brown outfits (The Army Needs Men) so why not come out and have a ball.

Campus Toad for the week must go to our buddy Neal Bjornson. Seems the AGR's had a pledge skip before the Interstate dance last Monday night.

And will the "party" who stole Jim Rumpca's shoes last week please call at the Spectrum office to return them?

Anyone with extra steel wool laying around the house will be welcome at the new Theta house Saturday morning. Those girls want to move in in the worst way. (The precednig was a paid political announcement.)—As if anyone gets paid for their troubles around here.

And with that little gem, we bid goodbye for another glorious week on the scene at Old State. And remember—now that finals are semi-upon us, let's see a little Friday club action at the BT today.

Frosh Hardcourt Season Scheduled; I-M Board To Meet

Now that Thanksgiving vacation has come and gone, State's freshman basketball team, under the direction of Cliff "Bony" Rothrock, begins work in earnest as it whips into shape for the coming season. Rothrock, who has been working with a squad of 17 men, plans a final cut sometime this week, bringing the number down to 15.

The frosh will play a five game slate this winter, opening against the MSTC Freshman there on December 10.

Bony is quick to emphasize the fact that no starting positions are set as of now, and that the race for starting berths is wide open. The Baby Bison promise to field a somewhat taller team than last year, with team speed to equal that of 1954. Several guards have been moved to forward to even up the squad, which is top heavy with backcourt men.

If things work out properly and the team gets the backing it deserves from the student body, all signs point to a highly successful season for the Baby Bison.

Intramural men's basketball will start rolling next quarter. All organizations wishing to enter a team must bring a list of the names of their players to the intramural meeting in the physical education building Monday, December 5. No teams will be accepted after that date, so get your team in.

The intramural organization will vote on a bylaw making it mandatory for team representatives to attend the Monday meetings held prior to games. If said organizations do not send representatives, word is that the organizations will forfeit that game.

Cage Coach Seeks Successful Season

Coach Chuck Bentson

Coach Chuck Bentson, Varsity basketball coach who is pictured above, is determined to guide the Bison to another successful season this year. Bentson's main problem will be the pivot spot; that is, to have a tall man on the floor to control the rebounds and to slow down other centers. Zeke Anderson and John Haas will be his answer.

Bentson took a traveling team of 12 down to Iowa this weekend to face Drake Friday and Iowa State Saturday in the opening games of the season for the Bison. Next Saturday, December 10, the Bison will play their first home game of the year against Mankato State Teachers College.

Sibelius Symphony 4, Pianist Featured On F-M Orchestra Program Sunday

The young pianist James Wolfe, veteran of the last war as a naval lieutenant and veteran of three concert tours to Europe and Latin America, will be heard Sunday as soloist in the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra's second concert of the season at 4 p.m. in Fargo High School.

Wolfe will appear in two of the concert's three offerings: in the opening Concerto in D minor for Clavier and Strings, by Johann Sebastian Bach; and in the concluding Rhapsody on a theme by Paganini, of Sergei Rachmaninoff.

Central number of the program will be the Symphony No. 4 in A minor by Jean Sibelius, played in honor of the Finnish composer's 90th birthday next Thursday.

Sigvald Thompson, conductor, said that the Sibelius has probably never been performed here before, although it is one of the composer's most important works.

Rachmaninoff's Rhapsody, composed as late as 1934 and first performed by Leopold Stokowski, was presented last year at NDSC by the Boston Pops Orchestra.

Pianist James Wolfe is a native of Omaha, Nebraska. He sandwiched 4 years of naval service between his bachelor's and master's degrees in music at the University of Michigan and studied under the late Arthur Schnabel. He has appeared widely in this coun-
