Six men have declared their in-| commissioner of campus affairs,

The six are Clint Sparks, Jim McGuire, Duane Swenson, Don Schwartz, Kerry Murphy and John "Tip" Miller.

The president of the student senate presides at all meetings of that body, however he has the right to vote on an issue only in the event of a tie. He may present issues and information to the senate for discussion and debate at any time, and it is the duty of the president to serve as a liason man between the administration and the student body.

The president appoints all commissioners on the student com-mission. These commissioners may be chosen from the members of the senate or they may be from outside the group.

In addition to the presidential post there are thirteen senate All students must present their tentions of seeking the one year vacancies.

FAMOUS LAW CASES: NO. 1-GRANSMIRE vs. MIDDLE ATLANTIC BUS AND DRAY CO.

Gransmire, the plaintiff in this celebrated case, lived with his daughter Ernest and a canary named Whirlaway on Elm Street in Cooch, Delaware. The Middle Atlantic Bus and Dray Co. started operating a bus line on Elm Street. The passing buses caused a cut-glass chandelier in the Gransmires' living room to begin tinkling. The chandelier tinkled in the key of E-flat. This so unnerved the canary, Whirlaway, whose key was C-sharp, that the poor bird moulted out of season, caught a chill, and died untimely.

Ernest, Gransmire's daughter, was herself so unsettled by the death of the canary that she flunked her final exams at the Boar's Head Beauty and Barber College, where she had been a promising student, majoring in bangs. Now removed, willynilly, from the skilled labor market, Ernest found work carrying a sandwich sign for the old Vienna Chow Mein parlor.

Here she met a bus-boy named Crunch Sigafoos. Although Crunch was not especially attractive - he had, for one thing, a large bushy tail - he was always clean and neat and kept his shoes shined, and after a decent interval, he and Ernest were married.

Ernest soon learned that Crunch's large bushy tail was not as anomalous as she had supposed: Crunch was a werewolf. After a while Ernest got sick of staying home at night while her husband went prowling about, so she asked him to change her into a werewolf too, which he did with an ancient Transylvanian incantation. Then, together, the two of them would lope out each night and meet a lot of other werewolves and maybe kill a few chickens or hear some book reports or just lay around and shoot the breeze.

Meanwhile, Ernest and Crunch's landlady, a miser named Mrs. Augenblick, noticed that Ernest and Crunch never used their room at night, so she, in her greed, started renting it to transients. One night a Mr. Ffolliett stayed there. In the morning while brushing his hair, he took a bottle that looked like hair tonic out of the cabinet, poured some, and rubbed it vigorously into his scalp. Unfortunately, it was not hair tonic, but a bottle of glue which Ernest had bought to mend a model airplane that Crunch had given her for their paper wedding anniversary.

As a result of Mr. Ffolliett's grisly error, he was unable to remove his hat and was, therefore, barred from his usual occupation which was lecturing to women's clubs. He sued Mrs. Augenblick, who sued Ernest, who went to her father, who sued the Middle Atlantic Bus and Dray Co. who had started the whole horrid chain of events.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said the defense attorney in his opening address, "this case, though very ramified, is covered by law. Indeed, every facet of life is covered by law. Law governs the homes you live in, the cars you drive, the food you eat. Even the cigarette you smoke is strictly regulated. The gentleness, however, is Philip Morris's own idea. Out of their vast experience as tobacco people, out of their profound regard for the astuteness of your palate, the makers of Philip Morris have evolved a gentle, new cigarette, with a taste as mild as a May morn, as subtle as gossamer, as welcome as money from

Exercise Your Right To Vote In Campus Election Next Week

Once again student elections are almost upon us and the siren call goes out to all members of the student body to participate in the election of your student government.

Under the new system of electing student senators there is little chance of any genuine clique candidate being elected. Each person elected to the student government this year will be on his or her own individual merits.

Six picked men are campaigning for the office of the presidency of the student body. Each of them is well-qualified for the job and the position will not suffer if any one of the six is elected.

But, the central fact remains that this student government election can be the most interesting and representative in the history of the college. Excellent candidates are running for each of the offices with the avowed intention of broadening the scope of student government and bringing its actions before every student.

Now, the decision rests on the shoulders of youthe student body of North Dakota State College. To make the election effective you must turn out in force. The goal this year is for one hundred percent of the student body to vote.

Let's not say at once that that figure is impossible. Get out to the polls next Tuesday and Wednesday. Make the student elections the best ever.

fered suspense and drama in the up to stellar capacity. Little Country Theater's present production, "The House of Ber-narda Alba". The three act tragedy directed by Edwin Bigelow, features a cast of fifteen coeds including several L.C.T. newcomers.

Most of the action revolves around the widow of a landlord in southern Spain, Bernard Alba, whose favorite pastime consists of dominating her five unmarried and frustrated daughters.

Jayne Lee chalked up an exellent performance playing the difficult title role. Her characterization of cold, harsh, straight-laced Bernarda left little to be desired.

With their usual competence, playing the roles of Martirio, Maria Josefa, and the servant, re-

Lisa Duckstad and Sigrid Halldorson, in the roles of Amelia and Adela, two of Bernard's daughters, handled themselves with the polish and poise of Equity veterans. The other two daughters, Magdalena and Angus-tias, were played by Marilyn Ellis and Hildegarde Dittus. Teresa Draeger was cast as Bernarda's outspoken servant, Poncia.

The cast was rounded out by Kathryn Sundquist, Jane Kanel-los, Joan Cantwell, Arlene Olson, Myrna Dittus, and Beth Turner.

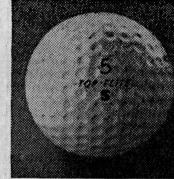

Throughout the play, the simplicity of the Spanish country folk is epitomised by unornate costumes, a rather barren set, dolefully beautiful background music, and occasional tolling of the bell in the nearby church.

College Choir, Band Kampus Klues. Present Combined Concert Sunday

A combined concert will be presented by the North Dakota State College Gold Star Band and the NDSC choir on Sunday, March 11, at 4:00 p.m. in Festival Hall on the NDSC campus. Both the band and choir have just returned from successful concert trips throughout the state.

The Gold Star Band, under the direction of William A. Euren, associate professor of music, was first organized in 1904 by the late Dr. C. S. Putnam. The band has a long and splendid record of achievement in the field of military and concert music.

The personnel of the 100 piece Gold Star marching band and the ROTC military bands at the college comprise some 140 instrumentalists, and the personnel of the Gold Star concert band is selected from the above organizations and includes students from all the various departments on the NDSC campus.

William Euren, who in his college days was cornet soloist with the Gold Star band and assistant to Dr. Putnam, has served as band director at NDSC since 1948. He has also directed the American Legion Boys State and the Future Farmers of America bands for the past seven years, in addition to directing the Fargo Elks and El Zagal Shrine bands. For a number of years he has been a member of the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra.

The sixty voice mixed choir, under the direction of Ernst Van Vlissingen, chairman of the department of music, will present a program of sacred and secular music. First organized by Mr. Van Vlissingen in 1939, membership in the choir is determined on a compteitive try-eut basis with a limitation of about 55. The choir has received much recognition for their splen-did work and variety of music.

Coming to NDSC in 1934, Mr. Van Vlissingen not only heads the music department at NDSC, but directs the choir, men's glee club, teaches methods courses, trains students for solo work and is active in Fargo music circles.

Admission is 50c and tickets band and choir members.

Vasey Lists Requisites Of Teachers For Tryota

"A basic understanding of human behavior" is a major requisite which school superintendents look for in interviewing appli-cants for teaching positions, as pointed out by Mr. Vasey, super-intendent of Fargo Public Schools when he spoke to Tryota Tuesday evening, March 6th.

Tryota, the professional Home Economics organization invited Mr. Vasey to speak to the group as a school administrator to prospective teachers.

Mr. Vasey stated his views of what qualities he looks for in a new teacher, gave clues on what to expect in an interview with superintendents, and answered questions which arose from the group.

SAE staved off a last minute surge by the determined ATO's to win the championship of the Men's Intramural League here Tuesday night. The score was 54-51.

Down six points at the third quarter break, the ATO's pulled to within one point with one minute to go. A pair of free throws iced the game for the SAE's, however.

Lervold played an outstanding floor game for SAE. Braaten of SAE was high scorer for the evening with 15 points. Stover and Miller scored 13 and 12 re-spectively for the winners. Lang was high for ATO with 14, followed by Steffan with 12.

Had the ATO's won the championship would have been decided in a playoff, since the SAE's were undefeated in the tournament.
