Feeny, Murphy, Business Managers; Bismarck Editor Addresses Banquet

By Bernard Altenburg

Four new men were named to head the business and editorial ends of the Bison annual and the Spectrum at the first renewal publications banquet held last Tuesday evening at the Graver hotel.

Named to shepherd fortunes of the Bison annual for the 1956-57 school year were Reggie Gorder, editor; and Kerry Murphy, business manager. Both the new chiefs were active on the annual during the past year.

Leading the way on the Spectrum for the coming year will be Gerry Bender, editor; and Jim Feeny, business manager. Bender served as sports editor of the Spectrum during the winter quarter while Feeny was advertising manager.

A member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity, Gorder is junior in agriculture majoring in ag education. He is a native of Bottineau and for the past year was managing editor of the yearbook. In addition Gorder is a member of Blue Key service fraternity and worked as assistant manager of the Little International Livestock Exposition.

Kerry Murphy served as advertising manager of the yearbook during the past year and before that was ad salesman. He is the newly elected president of Theta Chi fraternity and formerly was treasurer of that group. Murphy is also a member of Blue Key service fraternity and is assistant manager of the Clothes Closet in the student union. He is from Harvey.

On the Spectrum side of the ledger Gerry Bender is a veteran of the Army and while in service worked on several newspapers. For the past two months he has worked as sports editor of the Spectrum. Bender is a junior in agriculture from Cooperstown. He is a member of Saddle and Sirlain and has taken part in the Bison Brevities. A member of Alpha Gamma Rho social fraternity, Bender is the newly elected pledge trainer of that group.

Feeny is a sophomore engineer majoring in Industrial Engineering and Management. Recently elected to the student senate, Feeny also served for a year as a page in the U. S. Senate while still in high school. During the past year Feeny has worked as advertising manager of the Spectrum. A member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, Feeny is a resident of Fargo.

These four students are the publications chiefs for the upcoming school year. They were elected in secret ballot by the student board of publications at its last meeting during the winter quarter. In most cases they will assume office sometime late this quarter.

Publications Banquet

Approximately seventy staff members, deans, advisors, and special guests were on hand for the first renewal of the publications banquet. Special feature speaker of the evening was John Hjelle, editor of the Bismarck Tribune who spoke on "Opportunities In Journalism In North Dakota".

Hal Miller, a member of the board of publications and widely known on campus for his humor, served as master of ceremonies and introduced special guests.

In the main address of the evening Mr. Hjelle stressed the lack of trained agricultural journalists in North Dakota. He added that the farmers of the state deserve to be served in the fullest measure possible by the newspapers and that included in this service should be some technical coverage that would be of actual interest to them in their vocation.

Hjelle declared that colleges such as Nodak State should include somewhere in their curriculum a program for training ag journalists. He mentioned that it seems amazing what a lack of competent people there are, yet county agents in the state seem highly capable in their weekly newsletters.

Throughout his address Hjelle emphasized that any newspaper must keep its readers informed. "An informed public is impossible to mislead and hard to lead," stated Hjelle.

According to Hjelle no people entering the field of journalism should expect to get rich, but he emphasized that newspaper work can furnish as comfortable a living as any other occupation. "Newspaper people must realize that there is as much monetary reward at the top of their profession as anywhere."

Hjelle traced the history of journalism down through time and stated that the earliest newspaper people were those who passed along information by word of mouth.

He mentioned the opportunities still existing in North Dakota for all types of journalists in newspapers, radio, and television.

In addition to the address by Hjelle the editor of the Bison annual, Mel Ostby introduced members of his staff and also announced the new heads of the yearbook.

Spectrum editor Lee Johnson also introduced staff members of the paper and announced the new editor and business manager.

At the banquet the retiring editors of the Bison and Spectrum and the two business managers, John Dewey and Peter Mark, respectively, were presented with cigarette lighters by the board of publications for their services on the two publications.

Merle Nott, public relations director of the college, presented Mr. Hjelle with a Bison trophy emblematic of initiation into the fraternity of State boosters.

Spectrum Seeks Help From Students

Although new production heads were recently elected to head the Spectrum for the coming school year, we still need the help of all organization's reporters. Because of lack of editorial help we must depend on much organizational news to come from the members.

Remember — if you have any news you would like to appear in the paper—just drop off a note at the publications office, or dial 9550.

Inundation Dooms SC Campus Unless Concrete Action Taken

Once again the wonderful spring of the prairie has come to North Dakota and with it came high winds, mud, slush, sleet, hail, and a general feeling of discontent. In what must rank as one of the worst springs in a long time the campus of North Dakota State College suffers in muted silence.

Plans of picnics, class cutting, loafing, and all of the thousand and one other activities usually associated with the joyous return of fair weather have been shelved and some ski buffs are still out in force. Just when is this thoroughly miserable season going to end. Watch for the population of the state to lose a few more people after graduation this spring. Other parts of the country just look too attractive after facing seven or eight months of winter.

Which brings up the usual poor condition of the parking lots. As usual the gravel strewn wastelands have become swamps to entrap the unwary driver or the casual parker. A sea of mud and water greets the eye in all of the parking reserves and yet no measures seem to be taken to improve the situation.

Year after year complaints rain down upon the college authorities and some stopgap moves are always made. Still, as soon as the frost begins to leave the ground each spring, the parking lots sink into their usual unusable state.

Students of the college are in the habit of driving to class. In addition large numbers of instructors motor to the campus each day. Something should be done so that the parking areas are at least passable. Someday a car may disappear and never be found again.

More remarkable the streets of the campus seem to have a remarkable ability to collect mud and water. Fast moving vehicles manage to thoroughly drench the throngs of students who walk along them each day and yet few, if any, tickets seem to be issued for speeding.

However, this year something has even come along to edge out the parking lots and streets for number one campus nuisance. Once again the grand lake on the mall of the student union is forming, furnishing a sizable deterrent to traffic across the area and also inconveniencing students housed in the dormitories. Solve one problem and another one rears its head.

The Spectrum hardly feels qualified to offer sound suggestions for improving the usual soggy situation on campus, but something should be done soon or the entire college may be washed away.

Olympic Team Needs Everyone's Help

Late this year the United States will engage the other nations of the world in the 1956 Olympics and as usual the U. S. is favored to win the track and field events. Our only opponent, and the one we don't want to lose to, is the professional Russian contingent.

Again, as usual, the United States team is short of funds for training and for travel. All people are called upon to help support the effort and the students of SC should be no exception.

While the Spectrum hardly feels track and field events should be reduced to the status of team effort, the Olympic committee deserves our support. Let's shake loose with a little money and contribute to back your 1956 Olympic team.

Spring Thaw Turns Campus To Aquatic Playground For SC

By Siggyboomboom

Vast lakes of shimmering water greeted the bleary eyes of Shabby Shagmouth as he stepped from the student union one morning recently. The entire mall was covered with water and planks furnished the only media of entrance to many of the structures facing the quadrangle.

From the midst of the lake the flag fluttered bravely and it presented the only sign of life in the entire heart of the campus. Only the wildly lashing waves of water stood ready to greet Shabby as he prepared to head for the dormitory.

Just as Shagmouth started into the forbidding mass of water a boat came gliding across from behind the women's dormitory. Comfortably escouenced in it was a good friend of the average college student, J. Fred Slush, jovial collegiate boatman and wrecker driver. Slush piloted his boat during the annual spring mess.

With only a minimum of effort Slush moved his small craft up to the front step of the union and seconds later Shabby was laying in the bottom of the boat, safe from the prying eyes of those who dwelled around the swamp.

Slush casually maneuvered his way past the tall fields of sawgrass, mud-encased planks, among the pumps that sought frantically to drain the old millpond, and past struggling students desperately seeking to find some island of haven in the swirling sea.

Huge alligators snapped at the small boat, but Slush blissfully disregarded them. After a short sightseeing trip that took in the flooded parking lots, filled with islands made by sunken cars and by numerous marooned residents of the campus area, Shaggy was deposited safely at his home on the room of the men's dormitory.

On the roof of the dormitory hordes of residents of the building splashed about in ankle deep water, still no complaint were heard. Classes were going on on surrounding rooftops and the entire campus seemed to be moving about its business as if there were no floods.

Suddenly from one corner of the dorm roof a hoarse shout rose up. Immediately the denizens of the sanctuary crowded to crane at the excitement and watch in wonder as a gang of men began to load the water from the lake into tanks and haul it way.

"Well," muttered Shabby to himself: "Maybe our picnic season isn't ruined after all!"

"Color Craze" Theme For Beaux Arts Ball

April 27 has been set as the date for the annual Beaux Arts Ball. Color Craze will be the theme of the 1956 affair.

The event, sponsored by the architecture department, is a costume affair. Prizes will be awarded persons wearing the most imaginative and original costumes.

Architecture students are designing and building background decorations in keeping with the color theme.

Well, vacation was wonderful but even the glorious days of loafing fall out of fashion after a short time. For some peculiar reason it seems good to be back in school. Perhaps it could be that sooner or later spring will be here. Picnics and many afternoon sessions of laying on the grass are

Marriages Highlight Vacation Social News

By Karen

What wonderful weather for picnics and our so called spring. Evidently picnics will not get off to their usual early start unless there are those among us who like to sit in slush. I have had one report of a picnic, however. It seems as if the people involved had a grand old time as they supposedly celebrated St. Patrick's Day with a picnic. It's a good thing we're not all Irish!

The news is very sparse this week which is very surprising for a week of vacation. Usually marriages, pinnings and engagements multiply readily.

We do have two marriages that took place over vacation. March 24 was the wedding date of Marlys Pautz, Alpha Gam, and Del Hlvinka. The marriage took place in Mayville.

Married on March 28, despite all odds, were Joline Well, Theta, and Neil Bowles, AGR. It would be nice if one could foresee North Dakota weather, wouldn't it.

Joyce Tucker, Alpha Gam, and Tom Pettinger, Kappa Psi, were pinned over vacation. Engaged over vacation were Gay Olson and Paul Kloster, Theta Chi, who is a former SC student and is now attending the University. Engaged before vacation were Corrine Johnson, KD, and Jim Boyer.

For any of you with a sweet tooth, the KD's have the answer. They are sponsoring a "Kappa Delta Kandy Sale" featuring home made candy in all flavors, sizes and shapes. For prompt service, ring Sue Wheeler or any KD's at Women's Residence. Speaking from experience, it's really good.

Escaping North Dakota's beautiful wather was Gayle Fitzloff, Gamma Phi, when she flew to Las Vegas to see her fiance' John McDermott, former SC basketball player.

Monday evening a "Welcome Back" danc was staged in the Union Ballroom. The attendance was few and far btween. Those not there certainly missed out on some very cute favors.

just ahead! Hurrah!

At State

Bison Brevities are just around the corner and the entire campus is in a frenzy. Fraternities and sororities, at least those lucky enough to make the big variety show, are spending busy hours polishing routines, preparing costumes, slapping together props and scenery, and generally going mildly insane. April 18, 19, and 20 are the days for the big event and time is slightly short. Here's hoping that the show is spectacular.

Our belated congratulations to the new student body president, John Ernest "Tip" Miller. As all of you know, the blond engineer from Underwood won in the runoff election in a landslide. Now we can all get ready to pitch in and help build some tennis courts. Man, ain't spring wonderful.

Unpleasant people to the north of this fine city didn't enjoy quite as long a vacation as we more fortunate ones. Still, they didn't have to shiver in fear over the results of finals during two-thirds of the vacation period. Wouldn't it be simpler if each instructor posted the final grades before the campus was evacuated for vacation each year. Just a thought in passing.

Apparently the editorial in the Spectrum of three weeks ago aroused some little interest. Make no mistake, my sympathies lie entirely with the Negro peoples of the South. But, in relieving their lot we must walk slowly. After all there are many entrenched interests in that section of the country that must, and cannot be overthrown in a day. Then, we in the North should be mindful of our own hidden segregation practices. Let's clean house at home before we stick our noses in other people's affairs.

Down off the soapbox and into the sports whirl. Bony Rothrock and his Bison baseball brigade are cutting a wide swath through the Southland. This is probably one of the greatest goodwill maneuvers ever pulled off by old State. I hope the diamond marvels return home and sweep the Steve Gorman race. Should be a few major league scouts on hand for some of the games, too. Mr. Morris Holm seems to have the stuff that big league pitchers are made out of.

During the interval between papers the North Central Conference picked its all-conference team and for a day the name of Jumpin' Gene Gamache was missing. It seems peculiar that one of the top players in the league for the last three years should be skipped in his senior year. Wonder just who does the voting for that poll. I'll bet that some coaches voted solidly for their own men and missed other players. All seems fair in love, war, and sports.

In sort of a wrapup the point has been raised in the past few days over the lack of interest in track and field in the United States. We'd like to urge all of you to follow the scheduling of track meets involving the SC contingent via the Spectrum and try to take in at least one of them. Track meets are probably one of the most engrossing spectator sports in existence. While you're at it, how about shaking loose a few shekels for the Olympic fund. They could use some help.

That's all for now. Hang loose and have fun. See you downtown this afternoon.

Alpha Gamma Rho To Host Officers School On Weekend

Epsilon, NDSC's chapter of Alpha Gamma Rho, will be host chapter for the fraternity's annual Midwest province officers training school this weekend. The school is scheduled to begin tomorrow morning and will end at noon Sunday.

Paul K. Breese, national grand treasurer, will be the national officer in attendance. T. H. Fenske, Midwest province counsellor, will serve as the presiding officer for the school. Twenty-three actives from chapters at the University of Minnesota, Iowa State College, and the University of Nebraska will be in attendance along with the faculty advisors from these three chapters.

The school will officially open Saturday morning at 7:30 as Mr. Fenske outlines the plans and objectives of the school. Following this Larry O'Keeffe will outline the pledging and pledge training program of the NDSC chapter. Breese will then give the group a talk on the basic requirements of a sound financial program for a fraternity.

Completing the program for Saturday morning will be a talk by Gil Stafne, charter member of Alpha Gamma Rho at NDSC, who will speak on fraternities as a part of campus life.

Following the noon recess Don Schwartz will outline the meats program now in use at Epsilon. Clyde Challey, an alumnus of Epsilon, will follow Schwartz with an outline of alumni relations and fraternity publications. After these discussions the school will break down into groups for more intensive work.

Saturday evening the visiting members, advisors, and officers will be entertained at a party and dance in the student union ballroom.

The Sunday session will begin with a breakfast at the chapter house. This will be followed by the Alpha Gamma Rho ritual, which will be followed by discussion of the ritual. Mr. Fenske will address the group on current problems which face Alpha Gamma Rho, and Breese will end the school with a summary of all events and meetings which took place during the sessions.

Eugene Rott is general chairman of arrangements for the school, Gerry Bender is in charge of entertainment, and Kenny Thompson is in charge of housing and meals for the group.

Four Members Of NDSC Ski Club Spend Vacation On Slopes In Utah

Four suntanned members of the NDSC Ski Club arrived back at old State for another quarter after spending spring vacation skiing at Altha, Utah.

The four gluttons for punishment who made the 2700 mile round trip were: Bill Rudd, freshman in eAAS; Denny Wilson, senior in EE; Jon Holcombe, senior in pharmacy; and Arv Vasenden, junior in pharmacy.

The four left Saturday morning after finals, and arrived at Altha

Sunday morning in time to get in five days of solid skiing in powder snow.

The mountain runs were 6800 feet long and had a vertical drop of 1800 feet. Temperatures in the area ranged between 40 and 70 degrees above so T-shirt skiing was in order.

Altha, Utah is seventeen miles from that fabulous Salt Lake City, home of Brigham Young of national notoriety.

Peruvian Lodge was "home" at the cost of ten dollars a day. This included room, board, and ski tow ticket. The cost of transportation came close to fifteen dollars each round trip.

SC Grad Will Speak At Founder's Banquet

Laverne Freeh will be the main speaker as the AGR's hold their annual Founder's Day banquet in the South Room of the Gardner Hotel Friday, April 13 at 6:30 p. m.

Feature event of the evening will be the recognition of the alumnus of Alpha Gamma Rho selected by the members of the NDSC chapter for outstanding service and contributions to both the fraternity and the state of North Dakota.

Freeh, a graduate of NDSC, is now teaching vocational agriculture at Linton, N. Dak. He will share the speaker's slate for the evening with M. L. Buchanan, faculty advisor to the chapter. Henry Solberg will serve as master of ceremonies. Lynn Howe is in charge of arrangements.

HUSBANDS, ANYONE?

It has been alleged that coeds go to college for the sole purpose of finding husbands. This is, of course, an infamous canard, and I give fair warning that small and spongy as I am, anybody who ever says such a dastardly thing when I am around had better be prepared for a sound hiding!

Girls go to college for precisely the same reasons as men do: to broaden their horizons, to lengthen their vistas, to drink at the fount of wisdom, to trail their fingers in the main currents of American thought. But if, by chance, while a girl is engaged in these lofty pursuits, a likely looking husband should pop into view, why, what's wrong with that? Eh? What's wrong with that?

The question now arises, what should a girl look for in a husband? A great deal has been written on this subject. Some say character is most important, some say background, some say appearance, some say education. All are wrong.

The most important thing — bar none — in a husband is health. Though he be handsome as Apollo and rich as Captain McCutchen, what good is he if he just lays around all day accumulating bedsores?

The very first thing to do upon meeting a man is to make sure that he is sound of wind and limb. Before he has a chance to beguile you with his wit and charm, slap a thermometer in his mouth, roll back his eyelids, yank out his tongue, palpate his thorax, rap his patella, ask him to straighten out a horseshoe with his teeth. If he fails to pass these few basic tests, phone for an ambulance and go on to the next prospect.

If, however, he turns out to be physically fit, proceed to the second most important requirement in a husband. I refer to a sense of humor.

A man who can't take a joke is a man to be shunned. There are several simple tests to find out whether your prospect can take a joke or not. You can, for example, slash his tires. Or burn his "Mad" comics. Or steal his switchblade. Or turn loose his pet raccoon. Or shave his head.

After each of these merry pranks, laugh gaily and shout "April Fool!" If he replies, "But this is November 28," or something equally churlish, cross him off your list and thank your lucky stars you found out in time.

But if he laughs silverly and calls you "Little minx!" then put him to the next test: Find out whether he is gentle.

The easiest, quickest way to ascertain his gentleness is, of course, to look at the cigarette he smokes. Is it mild? Is it clement? Is it humane? Is it balm to the palate? Does it minister tenderly to the taste-buds? Does it coddle the nerve-ends? Is it the perfect accompaniment to today's easier, breezier living? Is it genial? Is it bright and friendly and full of dulcet pleasure from cock-crow till the heart of darkness?

Is it, in short, Philip Morris?

If Philip Morris it be, then clasp the man to your bosom with hoops of steel, for you may be sure that he is gentle as a summer breeze, gentle as a mother's kiss, gentle to his very marrow.

And now, having found a man who is gentle and healthy and blessed with a sense of humor, only one thing remains: namely, to make sure he will always earn a handsome living. That, fortunately, is very simple. Just enroll him in Engineering.

SC's Women's Senate Receives IAWC Recognition

The women students of NDSC were officially recognized as members of I.A.W.C. at the Easter Regional Intercollegiate Association of Women Students Convention held at Indiana University in Bloomington, Indiana, March 28-31.

Delegates representing North Dakota State's Women's Senate were Jo Ann Johnson of Fargo and Janet Fagerlund of Rolla.

The convention consisted of business meetings and workshops on the many phases concerning women's activities such as finance, programing, and standards.

The theme of the convention was Building 3-D Women. The three Ds were the homemaker, the career woman, and the citizen. The outside speakers spoke on the three phases of the theme. Miss Blanch Dow, president of Cottey College in Missouri, spoke at the banquet; Mrs. Marguerite Zapoleon, from the Department of Industry and Trade in Washington, spoke at an afternoon meeting; and the last evening was topped with a talk by Miss Emily Kinbrough, author of "Our Hearts Were Young And Gay".

The Eastern Region includes all states east of North and South Dakota and as far south as West Virginia. There were about three hundred delegates representing about fifty-five schools present at the convention.

Sunday, April 8, will be the date for the first Newman club meeting of the spring quarter. 7:00 p.m. is the time, and the meeting will be held in the Newman Chapel.

It was a close game until the sixth, when the Bison defense fell apart and Arkansas scored seven runs.

Warren Gullickson and Ron Zottnick collected two hits each for the Bison.

The Bison dropped the first of two scheduled games to the Memphis Naval Air Base by a score of 11-4.

Sports Ed Predicts Pennant Race

By Gerry Bender

Just back from a grueling vacation, and already here we are keeping you folks all happy with another edition of Ye Olde Spec.

And in a good mood is the sports department, too, after the fine showing of the baseball team on the southern trip. Looks as if the Bison may leave quite a mark on the Gorman League records this season. And wasn't it considerate of the Sioux to join the league just in time for Old State to whip them?

The latest news from the football department is that spring training will get into full swing this week.

Line coach Jesse Vail stresses that everyone who is interested in playing football should get out and try it this spring. Whether you have previous experience or not, let's get out there and try it, as everyone gets a chance in spring training.

Instructors Water Safety Course Will Begin April 9

MSTC will sponsor their annual Water Safety Instructors course beginning April 9 and running through April 27.

The course consists of 30 hours of instruction. The last 15 hours of the course will be under Evan Thompson, chapter representative of the National Red Cross, from St. Louis, Mo.

Class meetings will be held at MSTC. In order to qualify for the course a student must be 18 years of age and have a valid Senior Lifesaving Certificate. Any person now holding their water safety instructors certificate and wishes to renew it, can do so by taking only the last 15 hours. There is no charge for the course, and any student from the three colleges is eligible to register.

Class will start on Monday, April 9 at 7:00 p.m. at MSTC.

runs. Doug Walstad, Rudy Maras and Ron Zottnick poked out two hits each for the Bison.

Seventh Game

The last game of the trip put the Bison above the .500 mark with a 6-3 win over Creighton University of Omaha.

Gary Smith led an 11 hit Bison attack with three hits.

Bill Thomas went the route for the Bison to pick up the win.

The time of the year has come for yours truly to stick his neck out and do a little picking of major league pennant winners. Not much strain this spring, however, as there is no doubt that the Yanks will again walk off with the American League pennant. Detroit and Boston will make it hot for Mantle and his crew, but not quote hot enough.

Then there is the National League. This head hasn't been able to figure out why, but there is the National League. In view of the many Dodger injuries during spring training, we pick the Braves to come out on top there.

Incidentally, Mickey Mantle will hit over .335 and win the American League home run title. He will also be named MVP of the major leagues. In the National League Willie Mays will do likewise.

Perhaps you don't agree with me, but if you don't you're wrong!!

Best we realize just what the baseball team has done for Old State, and also for the state of NoDak. You know, that the Purdue team belongs to the Big Ten Conference. Perhaps the first time SC has defeated a Big Ten team. Seems we once beat the U of Minnesota in a bucketball contest.

Coach Rothrock reports that all six teams the Bison played on the trip are anxious to play host again next year.

On the way south the team worked out at Boys Town, Nebraska. The entire gym was at the disposal of the team.

The team wishes to express their deepest thanks to all who made the trip possible, and hope to see it carried on through the years.

A look at intramural sports shows volleyball and ping pong bowing out and softball on the way in.

Kappa Psi and Theta Chi met Wednesday night in the final playoff in the volleyball department. The outcome of the playoffs is not known at the time of this writing.

Playoffs in the ping pong department will take place next week. Participants are not yet known.

An organizational meeting will be held for intramural softball at the fieldhouse Monday at 4:15. All organizations wishing to enter a team are urged to have a representative at the meeting.

"Could It Be?"

A noted psychiatrist described "rock and roll" music as a "communicable disease" and another sign of "adolescent rebellion."

Dr. Francis J. Braceland, psychiatrist-in-chief of the Institute of Living at Hartford, Connecticut, called rock and roll a "cannibalistic and tribalistic" form of music.

"It is insecurity and rebellion," Dr. Braceland said, "that impels teenagers to affect "ducktail" hair-cuts, wear zootsuits, and carry on boisterously at rock and roll affairs."

(Our only comment on this claim would be one made by the eminent musician Sammy Kaye. According to the widely-known and admired bandleader, "Rock and roll is simply a phase through which our national musical taste is passing today." We don't know but it would seem that the fine musician, Kaye, should know a little more about music than the eminent psychiatrist. Make your own choice.)

Wahpeton Science, NDU Vie For Lead

Wahpeton Science	3	1
NDU	3	1

The NDSC Keglers will complete their bowling schedule this weekend with a postal match with Dickinson Teachers College. A win would give the herd a 4 and 4 record in state college competition.

The mythical league title will probably be decided when NDU and Wahpeton Science meet in a pair of matches.

SC Students Invited To Sioux Spring Prom

The Student Council of the University of North Dakota extends a special invitation to all NDSC students to attend their 1956 spring prom.

The theme of the prom will be Land of Oz, and the dancing will take place in the student union ballroom from 9:00 to 12:00 midnight. Charlie Spivak, continuing his tour of the state, will provide music for the evening's dancing pleasure.

The prom will be semi-formal and a special request has been made to eliminate the wearing of corsages. Tickets will be on sale at the door for $2.50 per couple.

Chief topic of discussion at the meeting will be ways and means of solving problems created by the increased enrollment in the colleges and universities of the country.

Heading the discussion staff will be Dr. George Selke, Minnesota conservation commissioner. A former president of St. Cloud Teachers College, Selke has also served as chancellor of the University of Montana. During World War II he was employed by the War Department.

Additional problems to be discussed will be: admission standards, class sizes, extra-curricular student life, and the necessity of specialized study because of heavier enrollments.

The conference will open at 9:00 a.m. with Dr. Selke giving the keynote address. Following Dr. Selke's talk the group will swing into a panel discussion on "Who Should go to College?" Several college registrars and admissions officers will serve as panel members.

A banquet will be the feature of the evening program with A. Lachlin Reed, Director of Industry-Education Relations for the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company as the guest speaker.

Following the banquet the group will again go into a panel discussion of "What should be the function of each type of college in the light of increasing enrollments?" Presidents and deans from several colleges in the Minneapolis area will serve as panel members.

F-M Symphony's Final Concert Sunday Features Composition by Former Fargoan

"Young Artist of the Year" is the designation under which Jeaneane Dowis will appear at Purdue University ten days after her performance here as guest soloist with the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra in its final concert of the season in Fargo High School Sunday at 4 p.m. The concert will be free.

When Jeaneane Dowis was graduated from the Juilliard School of Music in New York City, she was granted the Carl Roeder award as the pianist "most outstanding in talent and achievement." A number of other awards had come to her earlier.

Miss Dowis made her concert debut only two years ago in the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C. She makes her second return appearance there as soloist this spring.

Her booking agents, in their publicity, make something of the fact that she is performing with the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra.

She will perform Sunday in Edward Grieg's "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in A Minor, opus 16". Grieg wrote the piece when he was 25, not much older than Jeaneane Dowis. In its exuberant energy and romantic lyricism, the Concerto is said to breathe the composer's love of his native Norway.

Opening number of the concerto will be Beethoven's "Symphony No. 4, in B flat, opus 60," which has been called one of the most sun-drenched and idyllic of his creations.

As the fourth composition to be performed this season of composers connected with Fargo-Moorhead, Conductor Sigvald Thompson has chosen the "Symphonis Breve" of Daniel Moe.

Moe is the son of the Reverend J. M. Moe, Concordia College teacher of religion who for a quarter of a century was pastor of Fargo's Olivet Lutheran Church.

Daniel Moe spent his school years in Fargo until his graduation from Concordia. Director now of choral music at the University of Denver, he has written about 40 compositions, among them an opera.
