

Freshman Week Proclaimed Huge Success

Election Of Freshmen Class Officers Climaxes A Successful Freshman Week

All hands together is the sign offered by the officers of the 1956 freshman class. Ron Schiff, Carol Finstad, and Ken Pettapiece are showing everyone by this sign that they intend to work together with the whole freshman class and lead it on to greater heights.

Climaxing Freshman Week was the election of freshman class officers, which was held in Festival Hall Friday, Sept. 21, 1956. Kent Sack presided over the elections. Elected to the office of presi-

NSC Students Attend A Congress; Pfeifer Named Regional Officer

Four students represented NDAC at the 9th National Student Congress which was held at the University of Chicago August 21-31. Attending were Beverly Pfeifer, commissioner of NSA, Karen Edinger, Micky Jordan, and Clint Sparks, all members of the NDAC Student Senate.

900 students representing over 300 colleges throughout the country attended the congress. Also students representing national student unions from 27 foreign countries were observers at the congress.

A wide range of topics were discussed. Among these were segregation in the public schools, academic freedom, the role of the foreign student on the college campus, campus personnel and orientation programs, etc.

One of the highlights of the congress was a panel discussion on the problem of segregation. Members of the panel were Autherine Lucy, the Negro student who was expelled from the University of Alabama; Walter Flowers, who was student body president at Alabama University at that time; the present of the student body from Columbia University; and a student representing the national student union of Indonesia.

LCT Looking For "Beanied" Talent

"Beanies bar nobody" is the word that goes out from The Little Country Theatre. A chance to swing into a lively campus activity awaits those of you with red blood coursing through your veins. Hoist your bewildered body up to the second floor of the Administration building at 4 p.m. or 7 p.m. (Tues.) or tomorrow for a crack at some fun.

Foreign Service Seeks Interested Individuals

A representative of the Department of State will be on the campus all day Tuesday, October 9. The purpose of his visit is to discuss with student groups and individuals opportunities for a career in the U. S. Foreign Service.

This service seeks individuals with background work in Economics, Administration or Accounting together with those whose major courses of study include History, Political Science, Languages and International Relations. The second Foreign Service officer written examination will be held on December 8, 1956. Additional information and applications may be secured at the Placement Office.

Vets Notice

All veterans who have enrolled at NDSC for the first time this quarter must sign up at the business office for veterans benefits by Sept. 30. This include all freshman and transfer veterans. All other veterans will sign up Oct. 30 for both the months of September and October.

Senate Sponsored Freshman Week Marked By Enthusiastic Participation

"The first student government sponsored Freshman Week drew to a successful close Friday night at the inauguration of the three freshman class officers," said Bev Pfeifer and Don Schwartz who were co-chairmen of the event. "With the enthusiasm shown by the freshmen we are certain next year's orientation will show even greater results."

The first event held for the freshmen during the week was a pancake supper held for the men councilors and their councilors. This is the first year that a counseling program had been set up for men, and it included just freshmen living in the various men's residence halls. John Haas was chairman of the event and it proved very successful.

Thursday night the freshman class was entertained at a Fun Fest held in Festival Hall. Joyce Eriksmoen was chairman of this event. During this time the Frosh were "beanied" under the direction of Jack Larson. Don Schwartz "beanied" his sister LaVonne on the stage, and the rest of the freshmen "beanied" themselves. All freshmen were told by Jack Larson that they have to wear the beanies until homecoming and the freshmen took a vow to this effect.

Later in the evening Hal Miller acted as master of ceremonies for a question and answer period and freshmen performed various acts.

Friday morning the freshmen convened in Festival Hall in their various groups (Maynard Helgaas was in charge of this) and the various upper class group leaders introduced themselves. Following the annual Senior Staff-Blue Key convocation, the freshmen were taken on tours of the campus. Sylvan Melroe was in charge of the tours.

Also during the day the freshmen met in the union to hear talks on the various student organizations on the campus. This part of the program was conducted by Duane Swenson.

The freshmen convened Friday evening in Festival Hall to conduct the elections of their officers. Kent Sack presided over the elections. Following the close of elections the freshmen were entertained at the Inauguration Ball held in the ballroom of the NDAC Memorial Union.

Early this week a meeting of the orientation committee and the three freshman class officers was held to discuss the program, its fault, and improvement which can be made next year. Also various projects which the freshman class might undertake were discussed.

Met. Opera Tenor 1st Convo Presentation

A Metropolitan Opera tenor and a report on life in a primitive tribe in India will mark extremes in the year's varied all-college convocation series, according to F. G. Schoff, chairman of the Convocation Committee. Important athletic rallies and Hal Holbrook, famed impersonator of Mark Twain, are other features.

Lead-off figure is Albert da Costa, young tenor whose voice won him big-time roles at New York's Met, world's greatest opera house. He'll sing for AC students in early October. Colin Jackson, from the staff of the British Broadcasting Corporation, will speak on world affairs at a later fall term event.

The Homecoming rally and the annual Christmas Sing, with both Gold Star Band and AC Chorus on tap, complete the quarter's schedule. The Dates:

Fri., Oct. 12—Albert da Costa
Fri., Oct. 26—Homecoming Rally
Thurs., Nov. 8—Colin Jackson
Tues., Dec. 11—Christmas Sing

All convos are at 9:40 a.m., and this schedule of morning classes is followed on convo days: (note that there are only five minutes between classes):

1st hr.—8-8:45
2nd hr.—8:50-9:35
Convo—9:40-10:25
3rd hr.—10:30-11:15
4th hr.—11:20-12:05

If You Are Able—We Are Willing—

College YM-YW Slates Party Tonite

The College Y is sponsoring a YW-YM College Mixer tonight at 7:30. The party will take the form of a combination YM-YW meeting.

Kicking off the evening will be a big-little sister election party by the YWCA. Later in the evening the YW will join with the YM for a dance in the auditorium.

A special program for all freshmen men will be held at 8:00 p.m. in the main lobby of the Y. This meeting will feature introduction of YM officers and an explanation of the aims and purposes of the organization.

New Cheerleader Tryouts To Be Held

Commissioner of Athletics, Gene Stockman has announced that cheerleader tryouts will be held in Festival Hall at 4:00 p.m. October 4.

Two new cheerleaders will be chosen to assist the present cheerleaders, Jean Ann Nelson, Karen Edinger, Pat Larson, in their duties.

Stockman urged all students who are interested to try out for the positions. The locomotive cheer and the song "On Bison" will be used for the tryouts. The present cheerleaders may be contacted for help in learning the song and the yell.

Campus Radio Director Previews Coming Year at State; Predicts Standout Year For Athletics, Other Activities

By Jack Larson

What's up? Well, for one thing, I know that this year's student enrollment will be up over last year's record breaking 2400 for the fall quarter. Something else quite startling seems to be new. That is a new Bison football team. So far the Bison have beat the past two seasons records in the number of games won.

Many things will be new this year and many of the old activities that pop up year after year will have a new twist to them, but as far as a basic pattern goes, certain events will undoubtedly come and inevitably pass.

Freshman orientation week has already passed and wasn't it fun! This year's freshman week has surpassed any that I have ever seen or heard about. New and different sessions to take up the freshman's leisure hours and confuse them were expertly planned and carried out with most of the credit going to the student senators with help from Senior Staff and Blue Key.

Freshmen, let's take a look at what you can expect to encounter during the following three quarters.

For the men, you will soon have a taste of military training as the ROTC programs are soon to get underway. Then for the industrious few, work in extra-curricular activities is bound to come up. The Bison Annual, Spectrum, and Campus Radio, to mention only a few, are seeking new talent.

Whoops! Forgot to mention that you gals have been participating in sorority rushing. By this time you will have made your choice whether or not to go Greek, but whatever your decision I know you will be happy here at State, either as an independent or in any one of the six sororities.

Men, the fun of fraternity rushing is now upon you. Make good use of the facilities offered to you by the Greeks during these next two weeks.

Well, the Bison now have only two football contests left at home, one of them being homecoming. Homecoming is one of the biggest events in a college career. Work to plan this festival has been underway for some time now and you can be mighty pleased to hear that Jules Herman will be playing the homecoming dance. It isn't too far in the future when work will begin on the various house decorations and floats for the big Saturday, but before then we will have to elect our queen to reign over us. This is something really big, perhaps something greater than you have ever experienced before.

The Little Country Theater, State's drama center, is already planning their first production. Some real entertainment is in store for all students who take in these plays on the top floor of Old Main.

Getting back to the football theme again, this year most of the loyal Bison backers will be journeying to Igloo Tech in greater Grand Forks for the ancient rivalry of the "nickel series". This is our year to gain the coveted coin.

Each year the lyceum series provides some really great talent for student viewing and listening. To begin the year we can be thankful for the efforts of Dr. Walsh in obtaining the famed Dave Brubeck for late October. You need not worry about the lack of entertainment at State because various leading groups sponsor "big name bands" during the year. Groups such as Ray Anthony, the Commanders, and harlie Spivak constantly appear on our dancing schedules.

The college's only "strictly formal" dance of the year is going to be staged the 7th of December this year. The Military Ball, set for Pearl Harbor Day, always seems to bring out the best in everyone. Dignitaries and brass from all parts appear at this shindig. We elect another queen for this event as excitement again climbs.

December brings us many things besides a vacation and the end of fall quarter. Blue Key, national honorary fraternity, finds this a good time to select a few more outstanding junior and senior men for their ranks. The Bison will again take to the hardwood as coach Chuck Benton's cage men prepare for a tough season. These games in the field house never make a weekend dull.

The beginning of the new year and a new term will show freshmen something new again. About this time the announcement of what seniors have been selected for Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities. The new men's dormitory should be ready for occupancy now too. Another wonderful addition to State's physical plant.

Winter quarter also brings a couple of girl ask boy events. The Spinster Skip and the Charity ball are always a lot of fun. Girls chasing boys on this campus is a good switch too.

Bison Brevities, perhaps the year's highlight, pulls into view as sorority-fraternity combinations begin practicing their hopeful acts for try-outs. Tears of glee and grief are intermingled now.

Late January brings Greeks into action again with the inter-frat ball. A Model Man is chosen here and Dewey Swenson, last year's Model Man will be on hand to control the activities.

During the winter months skiing enthusiasts at State have opportunities with the ski club to partake in this sport. A short drive from F-M can bring some fun on the hickory sticks.

Tours over the state by the Gold Star Band and the State College Choir take place sometime in February. Members of these two groups and the residents of the towns they visit all seem to have lots of fun and the publicity for the college is tremendous.

March, besides making me another year older, is also the time that Saddle and Sirloin produce the "Little International". A real big event for the Ag students and spectators as well as the selection of a queen. Saddle and Sirloin's selection of a man to their Hall of Fame is a great honor to an outstanding agriculturist.

Basketball again, and this time it's against the hopeless, Sioux again as the four game series begins in late February. Two games will be played at each school on successive weekends. Fun and frolic are on tap both weekends in addition to the contests.

The middle of March brings heated politics to the Campus as students vie for the positions of senators and student body president. During these weeks of campaigning you will see many new faces as some crawl out of their holes to run for office and much coffee is being bought while "deals" are cussed and discussed.

You must be beginning to think that all we do around here is go to parties, banquets, and balls because March is also the time for the Lettermans ball and a new queen and the Engineer's ball and the selection of St. Patrick.

Please don't get the wrong impression. "Students" do manage to squeeze classes, studying, and exams in someplace.

April brings out the talent in all of us for a three night run during Bison Brevities. More need not be said about this because a thorough initiation to it will be available come spring.

Spring makes the college start turning over new leaves. Seniors are preparing to graduate and begin turning over their positions of importance to worthy underclassmen and these responsibilities are exchanged for greater ones upon completion of school. New editors and business managers of the campus publications are selected. A new Station manager and Program Director of Campus Radio is also found along with the newly elected presidents and other officers of all the Greek organizations.

The campus architects go wild with their costume ball called the Beaux-Arts Ball in late April closely followed by an influx of high school seniors on the campus as Blue Key sponsors "Senior Day".

Baseball takes the spotlight in May athletic-wise, as the Bison compete in the Steve Gorman League and look forward to a spring training trip. Spring Sing gives us a chance to clear our throats about the same time.

Shortly before the spring quarter closes, Blue Key and Senior Staff hold an honors day convocation at which many thousands of dollars of scholarships and the like are awarded. The highlight of this event is the announcement of Blue Key's "Doctor of Service Award" to some outstanding person in the State of North Dakota. Last year's award went to Bill Euren, director of the Gold Star band. Senior Staff announces the selection of their new members at this convocation also. A highlight in these girl's college career.

The last week of school finds us poring over the many pages of the Bison Annual feverishly trying to find our picture and those of our friends. The announcement of the outstanding and most representative seniors is now made by the Annual.

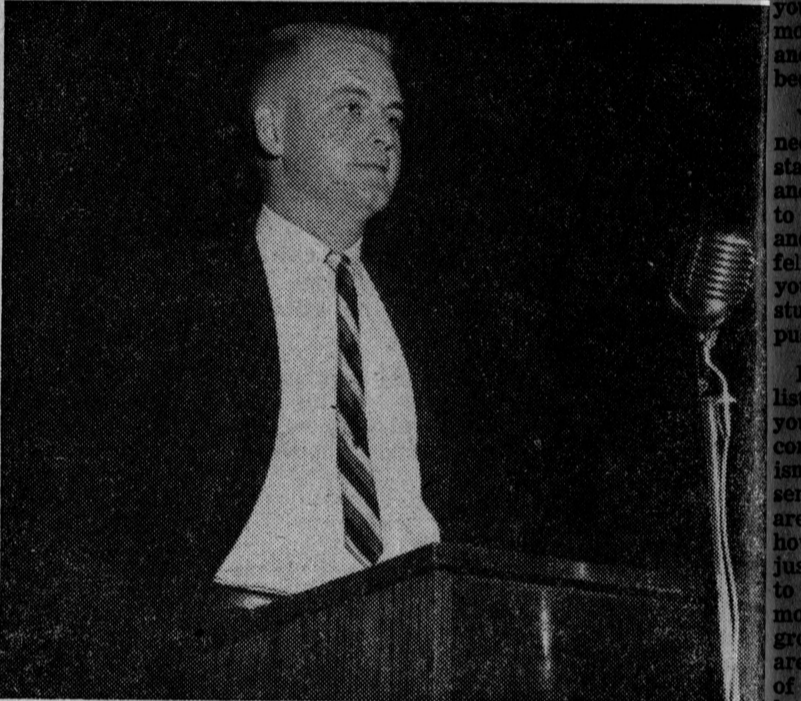

Commencement exercises close the college book for most seniors and also signals the start of final examinations for underclassmen. Fond farewells are exchanged in various manners and students leave State in every direction with mixed emotions.

This will give you somewhat of an idea of what to expect during the next nine months here at North Dakota State. I expect it to be a real good year and from all indications it will be. May I leave you with just one prediction. "THE TOAD SHALL RISE AGAIN".

New Fashions For College Men

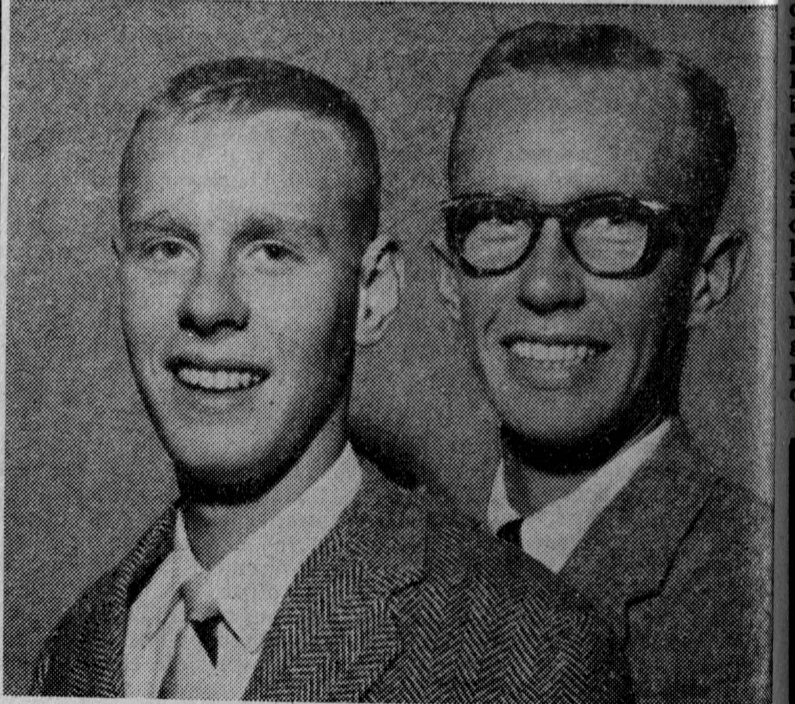

The hat is due for a revival as standard college wear, says PLAYBOY magazine in its September issue, which also predicts a return (believe it or not) of the double-breasted suit for the smartly dressed Man-About-Campus. Both items which had become virtually extinct, are now considered quite "shoe" by the avant garde on Ivy League campuses. "Shoe" is a new expression which describes the well dressed college man. The very "shoe" senior pictured above is wearing a narrow brim sport fedora and a sparrow tweed single-breasted suit.

Pictured above are college President Fred S. Hultz and student body President John "Tip" Miller as they addressed a convocation of freshman and transfer students in Festival Hall last Wednesday. Hultz and Miller, in effect, spoke for the faculty and students respectively in welcoming the new students to NDSC.

Dewey and Larry Sez . . .

Welcome home loyal Bison, new and old, for the 1956-57 school year. It is certainly heart warming to see the thundering herd piling up these fabulous wins on the gridiron, isn't it? The cheering stands deserve a pat on the back also. They've been doing a No. 1 job of showing the team we're behind them 100%—3 down, 6 to go. Let's keep that old State proverb in action and "Go Go Buffalo". This year as in years previous the Straus Co., 70 Broadway, has just what you need to wear at the ball games to keep comfy these cool fall evenings, and to look at the dances after the games. In fact, the Straus Co. can outfit you college men for any occasion, day or night, warm or cold, dress of leisure, and it is the job of the two of us, Larry & Dewey Swenson, to see that you have the opportunity to see our Kool Kampus Kiothes. So remember, anytime you're in need of a piece of clothing from sox to overcoats stop in and see Dewey and Larry at the

There is a whirl of fall leaves. Sentiment and rush week are over. The dust settles, the smoke clears, and there sits our Typical Freshman with a Bison Booster button proudly displayed on his chest, a stack of books at his feet, a seemingly endless list of assignments in his hand, his bearded beanie on his head, and a dazed, bewildered look in his eyes. He made his place on campus—and the way to his first quarter's classes, gained a whole new circle of friends, and joined or decided to join more organizations than he will ever be able to attend.

Yet, our Typical Frosh has forgotten one thing. A well-rounded education includes more than eating, sleeping, working, and having fun. There's a fifth very important factor—our spiritual lives. We often go to church and youth group meetings is a habit that's easily broken when the student is on his own. The college has no employees whose job is to wake you up and pack you off to church on Sunday morning. You're on your own—it's awfully easy to stay in your church has foreseen these needs and provided on or near the college campus organizations and foundations whose job it is to help you in your religious life. They often provide Christian fellowship with other students of your denomination. These are your closest religious groups on cam-don't think it's necessary to contact these groups since most of you have received literature or contacts from them already. It's hard to find the group representing your denomination. They're looking for YOU. Perhaps, however, you haven't yet realized what these groups can mean to you. They're just a little bit more than the church youth groups you had at home. They're first of all, a wonderful way of meeting people and gaining a group of close friends. They provide a lot of good fun and recreation in many parties, picnics, and fun events. For many of us, they are a means of associating ourselves in a group—a very vital need of every human being. Perhaps their most important job, however, is helping us to maintain contact with God during our college career. There are study prayer groups designed to help us to learn and really to know our God and some of the basic concepts of religion. There are chapels and meetings where you may get a "spiritual lift" by singing a few hymns and listening to the Word of God. The counselors and pastors employed in these groups are always willing to give us a helping hand in our problems. In these and many other ways the religious groups help us to maintain that precious contact with God during our college days.

It would be impossible now to give the program of every religious group on campus. If you are interested, ask some upperclassman about the group supported by your denomination or inquire at the YMCA, but by all means, find out. These groups are anxious to have you as a member, and you will gain many rich experiences by participating in them.

Memorial Union Board Head Urges Students To Use Facilities Wisely

By Gordy Kepner

Stiated at the center of the NDAC campus is a large, modern building which has been appropriately called the crossroads of the campus. This of course is the Union.

Your Union plays a leading role in a majority of the activities in which students participate. Dances, banquets, organizations and their meetings, movies and the recreational facilities available are only a few of the activities brought about by the Union and its committees.

It has been aptly said, that, "the college union is the center of the development of the individual student." Through working and associating in union planned activities the individual is given numerous opportunities for development. Such things as social grace, leadership opportunities, fellowship and cooperation, help the student acquire an understanding of life which can be gained nowhere else.

We have used the phrase "your union," and perhaps a word of explanation would be appropriate. The union actually belongs to you. Every student has a hand in its support. At registration time you pay a union fee. This money goes towards paying off the bonded indebtedness that was incurred to build the union. The union receives no support from the state and is set up to be self supporting. This means that the union is the responsibility of the students and everyone shares equally in this project.

This brings us to the important subject of how we conduct ourselves and care for our union.

The union can be likened very nearly to your own home. It offers you many of the conveniences you would find in a home and serves as a gathering place for friends. By observing the common rules of courtesy, and using the training provided you in your own home as a basis for your conduct when in the union, you can make a definite contribution towards making our union one we can really be proud of.

It is always true, however, that a certain few will be found who disregard their home training. They are responsible for such inconsiderate acts as: taking food into lounges and recreational areas, careless handling of cigarettes and ashes, using abusive language, and damaging union property.

The responsibility must rest squarely upon the shoulders of the students. If they, the students who derive the advantages from using the union, will cooperate and make a sincere effort to observe the few rules of behavior set up, it would certainly result in a better union and a definite decrease in these undesirable acts.

The decision is up to us. Are we capable of accepting the responsibility or must we be constantly reminded of our errors. Cooperation is the keynote which must guide our efforts. A fine union is a reflection on the students who use it. Our union has resulted in a number of activities being made available that previously had never been here before. The union has also resulted in the spreading of good will throughout the area due to the fine facilities which we have here. Your help is needed if we are to maintain this fine position.

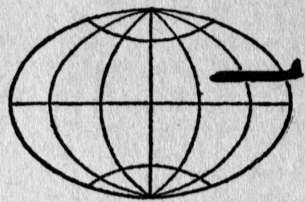

Will you give it?

OLD GOLD'S GREAT NEW GAME

A total of 24 puzzles will appear before the Christmas holiday. Get started now in Old Gold's exciting new game for college students only.

Here are the Official Tangle Schools Rules! SAVE THEM!

1. PRIZES (a) P. Lorillard Company, the makers of OLD GOLD CIGARETTES, will award a total of 86 prizes, valued at more than $15,000—to college students in the United States in accordance with the following Official Rules. (See complete list of prizes.) (b) This game will consist of twenty-four (24) monogrammed puzzle drawings to be published in this and other college newspapers; three puzzles each week for eight weeks, and a series of tie-breaking puzzles, if needed, as outlined in rule 2. (c) Contestants must arrange the scrambled letters from each of the 24 monogrammed drawings so that they correctly spell the name of a certain American college or university. In the scrambled drawings there are no superfluous letters, no distortion of letters, and no letters are left out to confuse or mislead entrants. A clue will be furnished with each drawing to help identify the correct answer to the puzzle.

2. (a) The person complying with all the rules of the game and solving the highest number of puzzles correctly will be declared the winner of the first prize, a 40-day tour of the world for two persons—the winner and another person of his choosing or, at the option of the winner, the first prize shall consist of $5,000 to be paid to the winner. The person complying with all the rules of the game and solving the second highest number of puzzles correctly will be declared the winner of the second prize. In like manner, the winners of the remaining 84 prizes will be determined. (b) In case more than one person solves correctly the same number of puzzles, the prize tied for, and as many subsequent prizes as there are persons tied, will be reserved and those so tying will be required to solve a set of tie-breaking puzzles, to determine the order in which the reserved prizes will be awarded. Each of the tie-breaking puzzles will be comprised of scrambled letters forming the names of either one, two or three American colleges or universities. Clues with each puzzle drawing will indicate whether the puzzle contains one, two or three schools to be identified. If, after solutions have been submitted to this second set of puzzles, a tie or ties still remain, those tied will be required to solve another tie-breaking puzzle. Accompanying this tie-breaker will be an official list of American colleges and universities. From these, contestants will make up a list of schools and colleges in accordance with instructions to be given at that time. The contestant earning the highest score in so doing will be awarded the highest of the prizes tied for. The next highest prize will be awarded the contestant earning the second highest score and so on down through the reserved prizes that have been tied for. These tie-breaking puzzles, if necessary, will be mailed to each contestant.

P. Lorillard Company reserves the right (only in the event of further tie or ties) to require contestants to solve as many tie-breaking puzzles under supervision, and without assistance, as are necessary to determine a single winner for each prize.

3. NOTE (a) When entrants have completed solutions to the complete set of 24 initial puzzles, which are to be published three per week in this paper, the solutions are to be printed or typewritten by the entrant in the answer space provided on the puzzle (or a reasonable facsimile). The complete set of 24 puzzles must be answered, neatly trimmed and enclosed in an envelope, flat and not rolled and addressed to:—Tangle Schools, P. O. Box 26A, Mount Vernon 10, N. Each set of 24 puzzles must be accompanied by a wrapper from any type OLD GOLD CIGARETTE package—(REGULAR, KING-SIZE OR FILTER KINGS) or a reasonable facsimile thereof. (b) More detailed instructions on the mailing of completed sets of puzzles will be published later. No Solutions are to be sent in separately. Save the puzzles and your solutions so that they may be submitted as a complete set at the end of the game. Entrants are not limited as to the number of complete sets of Solutions. However, each set must be submitted individually, and only one prize will be awarded to any one entrant. (c) After the deadline for mailing solutions, the correct answers to all 24 puzzles will be published in a single issue of this paper. ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER DOLLAR

Today I begin the third year of writing this column for Philip Morris Cigarettes, and I am merry in my heart.

I am merry for several reasons. First, because I am being paid.

Not, let me hasten to state, that an emolument was necessary. "Sirs," I said a few days ago to the makers of Philip Morris, who underneath their dickeys are as friendly as pups and twice as cute, "Sirs," I said to this winsome assemblage, "there is no need to pay me for writing this column. If I can introduce America's college men and women to Philip Morris's natural tobacco goodness, if I can inaugurate them into the vast sodality of Philip Morris smokers and thus enhance their happiness, heighten their zest, upgrade their gusto, magnify their cheer, broaden their bliss, augment their glee, and increase their PQ—"

"PQ?" said the makers, looking at me askance.

"Pleasure Quotient," I explained.

"Ah!" said the makers, nodding their sweet, shaggy heads.

"If," I continued, "I can do these splendid things for the college population of America, there is no need for money, because I am more than amply repaid."

We wept then. I am not ashamed to say it. WE WEPT! I wish the wisecracks who say big business is cold and heartless could have been there that day. I wish they could have witnessed the deep, croaking sobs that racked the gathering, the great, shimmering tears that splashed on the boardroom table. We wept, every man-jack of us. The makers wept. The secretaries wept. I wept. My agent, Clyde Greedy, wept. We wept all.

"No, no!" cried one of the makers, whose name is Good Sam. "We insist on paying you."

"Oh, all right," I said.

Then we laughed. The gloom passed like a summer shower. We all laughed and chose up sides and played stoop-tag and had steaming mugs of cocoa and lit plump, firm, white cigarettes, brimming full of natural tobacco goodness. I mean Philip Morris, of corris!

Refreshed and exalted, we returned to the business at hand. "Now then," said one of the makers, whose name is Merry Andrew, "what will you write about in your column this year?"

"About students and teachers," I said. "About classes and cutting. About eds and coeds. About Greeks and independents. About the important issues that occupy the supple young minds of college America."

"Like what?" asked one of the makers, whose name is Tol'able David.

"Like how to finance a full social life without a revolver," I replied. "Like how to wear Bermuda shorts though your knees look like brain-coral. Like how to double-date in an MG."

"And will you," asked one of the makers, whose name is Peter-Sit-by-the-Fire, "from time to time say a pleasant word about Philip Morris Cigarettes, which are now available in two sizes—Regular in the familiar Snap-Open Pack, and Long Size in the new Crushproof Box?"

"Crazy kid!" I chuckled, pushing my fist gently against his jaw. "You know I will."

And we all shook hands—silently, firmly, manlily—and I left, dabbing at my eyes with my agent, and hurried to the nearest typewriter.

The makers of Philip Morris take pleasure in bringing you this uncensored, free-wheeling column each week during the school year—and also in bringing you today's new Philip Morris, packed with natural tobacco goodness, lip end to tip end.

In My Opinion . . .

By Hal Miller

The trend toward apathy in school spirit on our fair campus seems to have been brought under rather abrupt control through the work of a few individuals—both students and faculty members.

That elusive and nebulous thing—school spirit—suddenly became a matter of importance during the student election two years ago. A fellow named Ludwig, with whom most of you are familiar, won the election and worked very hard to improve the school spirit, particularly in connection with athletics. His work was not entirely in vain, but the nature of the 1955 football season discouraged his efforts in a great measure.

At this point a big "hats off" to Jack Larson, Tip "Little Pres" Miller, and Dewey Swenson. Second only to the new Bison grid men, this trio can take a lot of credit for the rise in spirit and school pride that we have seen of late.

With the advent of Les Luymes, Leo Duetsch, et al, the fortunes and attitude of the football team have taken a quick turn upward, proving that there is more to athletics than mechanics.

Any objective observer will agree that the spirit at basketball games is good, and very little fault can be found in that field. It would seem to reasonably follow, then, that the school is not lacking in spirit; but had been justifiably discouraged and disheartened with the Bison gridiron fortunes of late.

School spirit is derived in all cases with a pride in your school and all the phases of life and activity represented on your campus. The pride must come first. No one can be an enthusiastic loser.

Short flashes—The Student Senate, Blue Key and all the other campi organizations taking part in the freshman orientation program are to be congratulated. For the first time in our long experience, there is a possibility that the freshmen will start classes with a knowledge of what they're doing.

Next Week—A discussion of sorority rushing . . . See you then. Hal Miller

Socially Speaking . . .

By Jean Anderson

TIME ONCE AGAIN to catch up on all the summer's activities—socially speaking, that is. Staters seem to have been kept busy over the past three months . . . so read on.

FIRST OF ALL congratulations to all the new sorority pledges. Early rushing seems to be the answer to many a problem . . . and the 65 honeys are, well, as Gerry Bender, editor of this noteworthy publication says, the freshmen girls get better looking every year.

THETAS did well for themselves over the summer. Three of the dwellers of the most modern came back with what every girl comes to college for. Engaged are Wilma Husband and Martin Burley, SAE who is now attending UCLA. Jeanne Sinner is engaged to Keith Hopkins, a Lambda Chi and graduate of Colgate University in New York. Pinned last spring and now also engaged are Roberta Enger and Jack Southam, Kappa Psi alum now pushing pills in a local apothecary. Among those who took the fatal step were Joan Stammen, reigning queen of the famed Little International and sweetheart of Sigma Chi, and Gene Hartman, one of the brothers. They were married on August 26th. Congrats and our best.

ACTIVES at the SAE house are Elroy Wagner, Dennis Helgoe, Curtis Johnson, Phil Theil, Jerry Hendrickson, Roger Helgie, Max Cramer, Dale Hegerberg and Dave Anderson. SAEs serenaded the new Gamma Phi pledges on Monday night and even brought some rushees along.

PINNED are Bonnie Adams, Kappa, and Jerry Monson, ATO.

MARRIEDS are Marjorie Kovell, Phi Mu, and William Loschke, a prof at the U. of Wisconsin, and Arlene Simonson, Phi Mu, to Robert Sussex of Hope, North Dakota.

MORE MARRIEDS are Janet Monson, Kappa, and Dick Pratt, Sigma Chi. The Pratts are now residing in Bainbridge, Ga. And Ann Whiting, Kappa, and Merle Ludwig, past president of Theta Chi and the Student Body were married this spring and are now in Modesto where Ann is attending the U. of Cal. and Merle teaching. Another Kappa, Helen Larson, who graduated from this fair institution last spring, was married to Bill Watkins, SAE, this summer. Again congrats.

PINNINGS were a popular pastime this summer . . . Alpha Gam Dorothy Scott is wearing the TKE pin of John Brockmeier; Yvonne Johnston, Alpha Gam, is also wearing a TKE pin, that of Marvin Hage, and Helen Nelson, Alpha Gam alum, is pinned to Bob Myhre, SAE about campus.

PINNING OF THE SUMMER is that of Orlo Hjelseth, SAE, to Janice Anderson, Gamma Phi.

NOW TO THE AGRs . . . Clark Schenkenberger, one of the local Spectrum crew, is engaged to an eastern gal, Patricia Balok, a Penn State graduate. Roger Anderson will be married tomorrow to Margie Schwartz of Dickinson; Ronald Tolstad was married to Billie Ledbury this summer, as was Don Peterson to Diana Scouler, who is now attending NDSC.

TOMORROW will find Jane Brush, Gamma Phi, and Harvey Lillestol, Kappa Psi alum, becoming Mr. and Mrs. Jane passed candy Monday night in honor of the event and was serenaded, kissed and presented with red roses by Kappa Psis.

ANOTHER Gamma Phi-Kappa Psi couple soon to become Mr. and Mrs. are Audrey Brekke and Alan Schumacher. Scuhie is a pharmacist in Billings, Montana, where they will make their home after Nov. 16th. He will long be remembered around campi as being a tremendi guy, also she a tremendi gal.

KAPPA DELTA Janice Kearny is Chuck Huntley's sweetheart of Sigma Chi. They were pinned last spring.

BACK AGAIN are Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fogel, nee Joanne Willert. Mike is doing grad work in Chem and Jo can be found by any industrious frosh teaching library science in the local spot of learning.

MORE PINNINGS are those of KD Susan Wheeler to ATO alum Don Zimmerman and Margie Cobb, Gamma Phi to Duane Paulson, Theta Chi.

FORMER PRESIDENT of Sigma Chi Lorne Lorenz and KD alum Sandy Maier were married this fall and are living in Kinston, North Carolina.

The only way to beat the Yanks is to put Benson in charge of their farm program. Bye now.

Herd Wins 2nd Start; Top Concordia 12-7; March 99 Yards For Winning TD

By Beetle

The North Dakota State Bison brought cheer to the hearts of all loyal supporters last weekend as they fought their way to a 12-7 victory over the arch-rival Concordia Cobbers. For the Bison, the win was a big one, as it marked their first in several years against the cross-river foes, and the second win after one of the longest losing skeins in the nation.

The Herd had little trouble moving the ball in the first quarter as they moved steadily downfield after the opening kickoff left them 39 yards from the Cobber goal. The turning point in this series of plays came when, during a situation that found the Bison in good scoring position with fourth down and five, quarterback Lynn Parkel ran the ball down to the one yard line on a bootleg play before being forced out of bounds. On the following play, fullback Charlie Hyde exploded through the line to score the touchdown that brought cheers from the surprisingly large crowd of Bison rooters. The try for point failed when the pass from center went wide.

The Cobbers were unable to penetrate the tight Bison defense which exhibited drive and fight unhead of in Bison teams of recent years. It was not until the second half, when a mental error on the kickoff gave the Minnesotans the ball on the Bison 27, that the Cobbers were able to move with any effectiveness. When given this opportunity, they were able to capitalize on it immediately, as but three plays were needed to bring the first Concordia score, Arnold Porkkonen dashing into the end zone standing up from the 16. Roy Nellermeoe's kick from placement gave the Concordians the extra point that put them ahead of the Herd 7-6.

The Bison were stopped twice in possible winning drives, and for many, the ballgame was all but over when, with but five minutes to play, Concordia's Curt Gabrielson punted out of bounds to the Herd on our own one foot line.

But, in a quick succession of plays, State hopes rose, as the Bison began to move up the field with gigantic strides. On the first, and probably most important play of the series, the hard running Hyde took the ball in his own end zone and scampered 22 yards upfield to pull his team out of the danger area. The Herd was aided at this point by a 15-yard piling penalty against the Cobbers, placing the ball on the State 38. At this point, Parkel connected with a pass to end John Campagna which was good for 24 yards, and placed the ball well into Cobber territory. From there, there was no stopping the charged-up State club, as they ground their way to the winning touchdown in seven plays. Once again it was Hyde for the score, as Charlie bucked over

Bison Roll to 25-0 Win Over Valley City Teachers; End Loss Skein

The 1956 edition of the NDSC football team began its season with a bang as it rolled to an impressive 25-0 win over Valley City State Teachers in the schedule's lidlifter at Dacotah Field.

The outcome of the contest was never in doubt as Sophomore halfback Dean Sharp took a handoff from quarterback and raced 54 yards for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage. By the first quarter's end, the game's pattern was set, as the Bison, utilizing backfield speed to run ends almost at will, scored three times to lead at the first stop 19-0.

For the Herd, quarterback Lynn Parkel, Sharp, and halfback Wayne Wall stood out in the backfield, while tackles Bob MacDonald and Herman Nagel and end John Campagna stood out in the line, the latter making a trick catch in the end zone to bring the Bison's second touchdown. On defense, the play of linebacker Dick Tschider was outstanding as the quarterback-turned center showed remarkable ability in diagnosing plays.

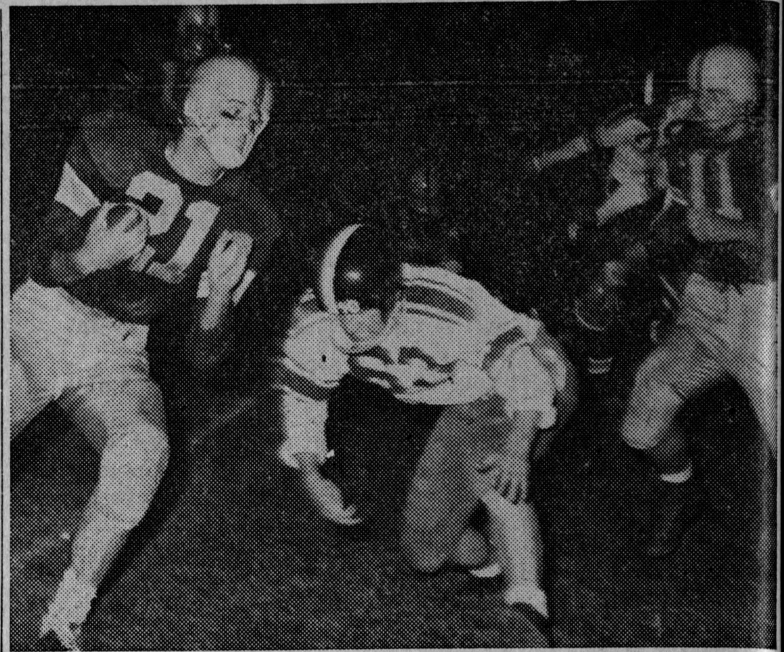

For the Bison, the win snapped a 14 game losing streak, dating back to their last win against Morningside in 1954.

from the one to give the Bison the victory with but one minute of play remaining.

The game was clinched when the Herd recovered a Concordia fumble on the first play from scrimmage after the kickoff.

For the State team, it was a satisfying team victory, as they pulled together with a solidity seldom shown by a home team on Dacotah Field. It was, also, a tribute to a fine job done by head coach Les Luymes and his assistants who, taking the reins on extremely short notice, molded the club into a fine unit.

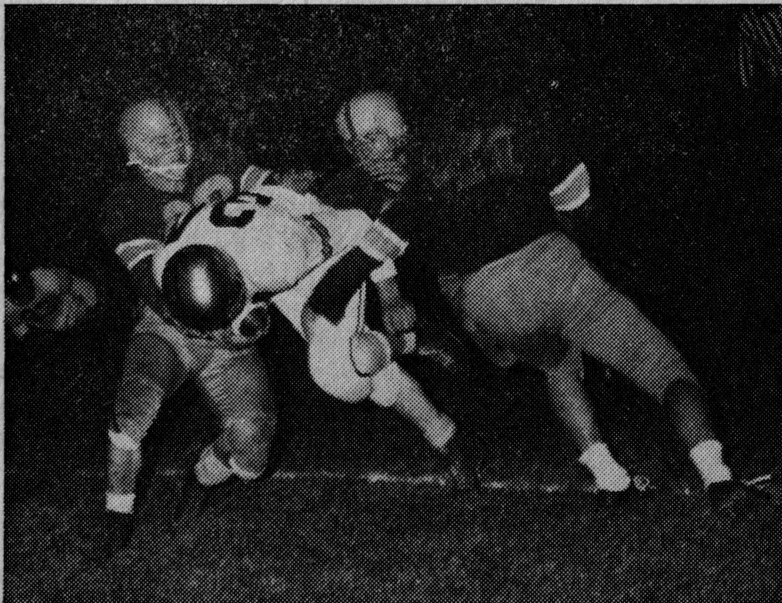

To pick a single hero for the game would be virtually impossible, as the entire Bison squad performed well. The running of Hyde, the play-calling and leadership of Parkel, and the fine defensive work of Campagna and the entire Bison line deserve plaudits, however, and it would not surprise us a bit to see several State performers among the candidates for the NCC All-Conference team.

Bison Stampede Augustana 42-7 To Win Conference Opener; Victory Result of Outstanding Team Play

State's fired-up footballers continued in their winning pattern last Saturday night as they rolled to an impressive 42-7 victory over the Augustana College Vikings. The game, played at Dacotah field before a large but not overly enthusiastic crowd, was the conference opener for both teams.

The Bison had no trouble scoring, as a total of six players got touchdowns, and scoring was distributed over all four quarters.

It took just three plays after the opening kickoff for the Herd to open scoring, as soph halfback Dean Sharp cut through tackle behind good blocking, reversed his field, and outraced the entire Augustana secondary to score standing up. Marty Kalnins booted the extra from placement, and the Bison were on the way.

The second touchdown came later in the first quarter as Parkel scored on a keeper play from the four, after Friede's recovery of a Viking fumble gave State the ball in opposing territory.

Three plays after the start of the third period gave the Herd possession of the ball on the 25. A run by Wall gave State a first down on the 13, and on the next play, he went into the end zone and old reliable Kalnins kicked his third placement of the evening to put the local boys ahead 21-0.

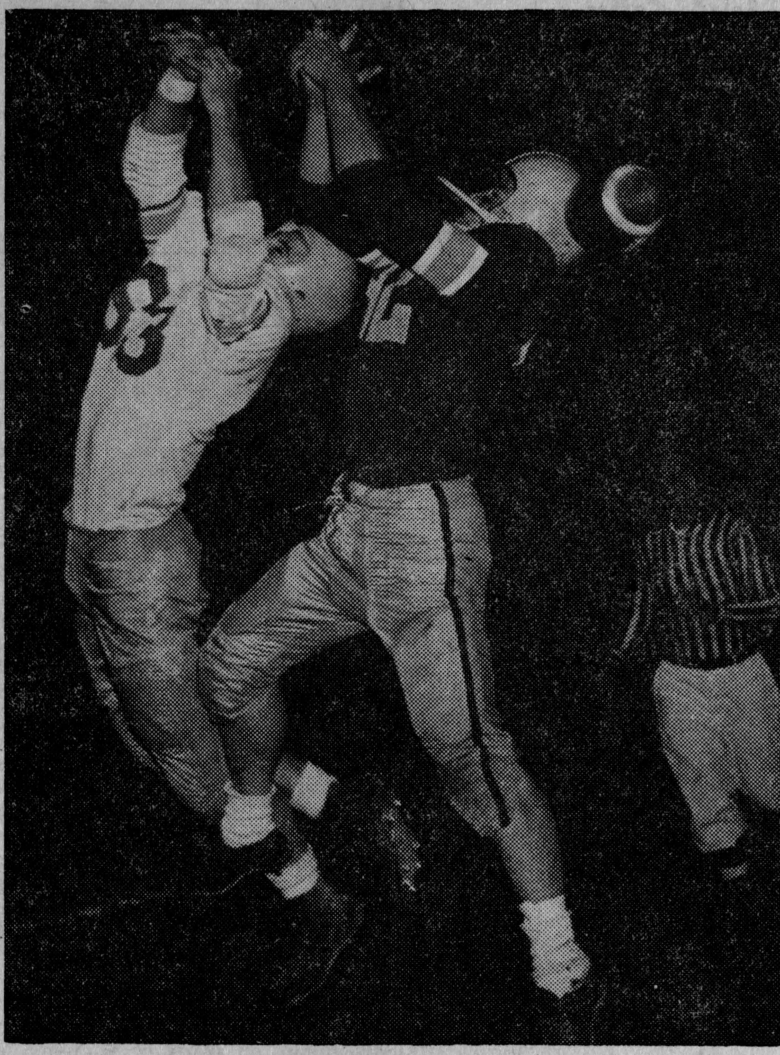

The Augustana score came in the third quarter on a long pass from Nelson to Jones, the play covering 53 yards. Nelson kicked the point, and the Bison were ready to take over again.

The Bison scored again in the third period when, after Parkel's punt put the ball in possession of Augustana on their own 9, State and Don Basche recovered a Viking fumble on the two. One play was all that was needed, as Gordon Friede lugged into the end zone. The boot was true once again, and State led 28-7.

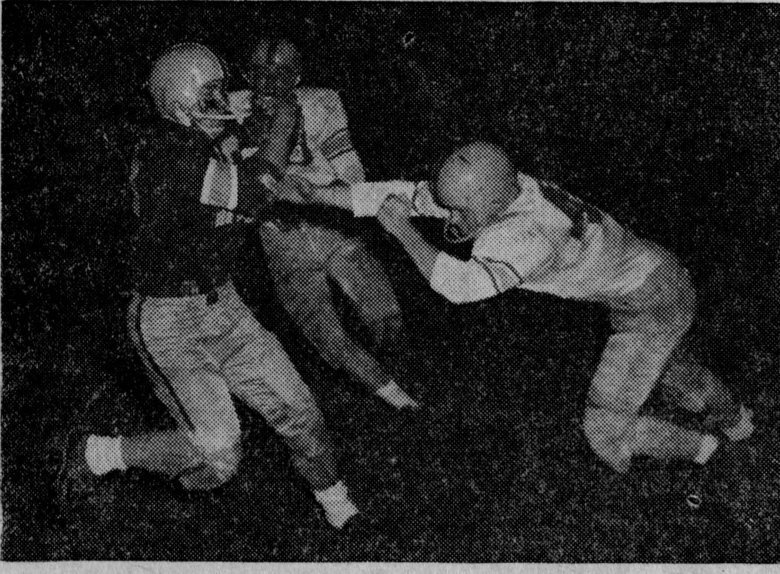

At this point, coach Les Luymes began to substitute freely, and the reserves showed their worth in rounding out two touchdowns on their own. The first of these last-quarter scores came as Bison quarterback Don Backley winged a 31 yard pass to end Marv Miller in the end zone. Another successful Kalnins placement brought the score to 35-7. The Herd closed off scoring with but 50 seconds remaining as fullback Dick Kjelland intercepted a tricky bobbling pass and hustled to the 2. It was Kjelland again for the TD, and the extra point to write FINIS to one of the real free-scoring games in recent Bison history.

In many ways, the easy Bison victory did as much to illustrate Augustana weaknesses as State strong points, but the tipoff may well lie in the fact that Herd scoring was so well balanced. With the return of Large Marty Kalnins to the lineup, the Bison are once again blessed with a dependable placekicker—a glaring weakness in earlier season contests.

Once again the win was a team victory, as the entire lineup performed well. The running of backs Sharp, Hyde, Wall, and Friede, coupled with the cool, sure field-generalship of quarterback Parkel gives the Bison as strong a ground attack as any in the area, and the Herd line, improving with every skirmish, seems to have strength and depth enough to more than hold its own in conference play.

Follow the leader might describe the action in this shot, as State back Gordon Friede and an unidentified Augustana player grope in vain for the elusive pigskin on an obviously incomplete pass play. The whistle-blower, right on the spot, hustles up to cover the play. (Photo by Gillespie)

It's Friede again as the little Bison speedster endeavors to elude the clutches of two determined Augustana tacklers. Fortunately, the Herd was able to escape often enough to pound out a 42-7 win over the outclassed Vikings. (Photo by Swedlund)

CHIPS

By Buffalo Bill

As we return to school this year, we at the Sports department of your college newspaper find ourselves faced with a pleasant, if perplexing problem. It seems that, in the short span of the year we have been at the desk, we have had absolutely no opportunity to report a winning Bison football game, and this season, faced with a modest win streak such as the Herd has begun to carve out for itself, we discover the happy dilemma to be indeed to our liking.

The fine spirit and punch thus far exhibited by the revamped Bison squad is, for the large part, due to the fine work of new Athletic Director and Head Football coach Les Luymes and his assistants Don Helf and Leo Deutsch. Taking over on short notice after the sudden resignation of former coach Del Anderson, these three men have transformed the Bison from a lethargic group of college athletes into a fine spirited football team. Bolstered by the coming-of-age of last year's fine freshman team, and the return to campus of several former Bison footballers, the club has rolled to a hitherto unheard of three and nothing record, with their position of North Central Conference doormat apparently discarded. That the Herd is on top of the conference with but one conference game played is a fine thing, but student-fan cooperation is much in demand if our team is to go on to an over-all winning season.

Of the first three games played, the Concordia contest was the only one which showed anything resembling real school spirit, largely because of the large body of Concordia students in the South stands.

State rooting power has shown no real reason for criticism in recent years, for seldom has a student body stood behind its teams so staunchly in the face of defeat. Yet this season, with reason for cheer so evident for the first time in several seasons, fire is definitely lacking.

The crowd at last weekend's Augustana contest, while large, was almost completely void of genuine, honest-to-goodness spirit. The blame for this type of support cannot be laid to any one organization or group, as it is clearly the problem of the entire student body.

A reversion to form is in order, and this writer feels that as the din and furor of the multi-first-week rushing and registration activities subside, the campus will find itself in at least one respect and rediscover some of the lost volatility. Older and wiser faculty heads may frown upon the water-tower painting, tug-o-war, nickel-stealing type of activities, but it cannot be denied that these "outlandish pranks" serve their purpose.

Football prospects at '01 State are finally looking up. Let's keep them that way.

Here are just a few words from the I.R.C., the Inter-Religious Council, on campus. For those of you who are not familiar with the I.R.C., a brief explanation of the purpose of this group is in order. The Inter-Religious Council, as its name implies, is composed of student delegates from all of the religious groups on campus. The Council sponsors events which are supported by all religious groups and in this way unites these groups toward one end; namely, stimulating interest in the groups themselves and emphasizing the necessity of religious activity in every student's life.

would again urge you to remember your religious life while you are here in college. Many things can be found in this area which will be found nowhere else. Only in this area of life can you find the spiritual guidance which we all need and only here can you find peace with your God. Whether you be freshmen or upper-classmen, new students or old, these things are very important. Again, welcome to you who are new students and may the best be yours.

SUAB Sponsors Dance Lessons In Ballroom

Dance lessons are now being offered by the student union activities board. The lessons will be held at 4:00 p.m. in the union ballroom on Tuesdays for freshmen and at the same time Thursday afternoons for upperclassmen.

A fee of $3.00 will be charged for 6 lessons. Instruction in the foxtrot, rumba, samba, and jitterbug will be offered.

Barb Rockwood, Joan Tomlinson, Karen Edinger, Lloyd Larson, Arvid Vassenden, and Orlo Hjelseth will serve as instructors for the group.

All those interested in taking advantage of this opportunity can register for this course at Mrs. Tarbell's office in the student union.

Among the events which are sponsored by the I.R.C. are the pre-church breakfast in the fall, which many of you attended, and a Religious Emphasis Week during the winter months. We, of the I.R.C., extend to you new students, whether you be freshman or transfer students, a hearty welcome to our North Dakota State campus. We hope you will enjoy your stay here, whether it be for one year or for a longer period. There is a great amount of activity on our campus and we hope that you will engage in as much as you can without letting your academic goals suffer too much.

As president of the I.R.C., I
