

Thirty-three NDSC Seniors Named To Who's Who

Military Ball Initiates Formal Dance Season; Ball Queen Will Be Chosen

Next Friday night, December 7, the NDSC military students will stage the first full scale formal dance of the season as the Military Ball kicks off at 9:00 p.m. in the Fieldhouse.

The dance, sponsored by Scabbard and Blade, Arnold Air Society, and their auxiliaries, Guidon and Air Debs, will feature the music of Paul Hanson and his orchestra and the crowning of the Queen of the Military Ball.

The queen will be elected by those attending the dance, and the voting will take place at the dance. Queen candidates and their sponsors include: Sandra Benedict, Alpha Tau Omega; LaVonne Biel, Sigma Chi; Karen Edinger, Vet's Club; Pat Moore, Kappa Psi; Joan Antwell, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Lane Wendreau, Sigma Phi Delta; Jean Ann Nelson, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Anita Nellerhoe, Theta Chi; and Sonja Scott, Alpha Gamma Rho.

President Fred S. Hultz will crown the queen at approximately 10:30 p.m. A full military escort composed of advanced cadets from both the army and air force ROTC units will accompany the queen and her attendants to the crowning ceremonies.

The dance is formal, and any type of military uniform, ROTC, reserve, national guard, or other military uniform, or a tuxedo will be in order. Corsages will also be the order of the day.

Barrett Johnson, Commander of Scabbard and Blade, is chairman of the dance committee. Wally Hegg, Arnold Air Society Commander, is vice chairman, and these men are assisted by members of their organizations and Air Debs and Guidon.

Tickets are on sale from all members of Scabbard and Blade and Arnold Air Society at a price of $3.00 per couple.

College Debaters Cop Series In Tussle With Manitoba University

The Lincoln Debate Society at NDSC has just concluded a successful series with the University of Manitoba in Winnipeg. The University of Manitoba, six time winner of Western Canada debate teams, was undefeated in American competition up to the NDSC series.

On Nov. 15, the NDSC negative team consisting of Duane Enger and Leonard Fromson were defeated on the proposition, resolved: That the United States discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries.

On Nov. 16, the negative team of Bob Brake and John Pancratz picked up the decision on the proposition, resolved: That the British parliamentary system is preferable to the American congressional system. This put the teams in a deadlock.

On Nov. 23, Ruth Mortenson and Jane Kanelos took the decision in Winnipeg on the proposition, resolved: The woman's place is in the home. This clinched the victory for the team.

The rivalry will be continued next October with a Buffalo Head trophy going to the winner.

Radio Donated To Health Center

Alpha Phi Omega, NDSC Boy Scout fraternity, recently presented the Student Health Center with a radio. The Health Center announces that the radio will be available to students who are required to spend more than 24 hours in hospitalization there.

College Who's Who Spotlights Campus Cross-Section Of Outstanding Seniors

It was announced today that 33 NDSC seniors have been named to the 1956-57 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The students selected were named on the basis of their contributions to campus living, leadership, scholarship, and their probable value to their future communities.

Those named, their home towns, and activities include: Gerald Bender, Cooperstown. Gerry is an agriculture major, a member and pledge trainer of Alpha Gamma Rho, Editor of the Spectrum, and a member of Blue Key. Joyce Berg is a home economics major from Bottineau, a member of Gamma Phi Beta, Senior Staff, and Kappa Delta Pi. Joyce is president of Phi Upsilon Omicron.

Ronald Brandvold is a mechanized agriculture major from Bottineau. He is president of Alpha Gamma Rho, a member of Blue Key, Inter-frat council, and is reported of ASAE. Marvin Duncan from Calvin is another agriculture student. He is president of Alpha Zeta, active in LSA, and is a former regional officer in that organization.

Janet Fagerland, president of Alpha Gamma Delta, is a home economics major from Rolla. She is a member of Senior Staff, Phi Upsilon Omicron, and Kappa Delta Pi, and holds offices in all of these organizations. Bruce Farnum hails from Fargo and majors in chemistry. He is president of A Phi O, and a member of Sigma Phi Delta, Scabbard and Blade, Kappa Kappa Psi, and the YMCA.

Terry Ann Frank is another Fargoan in the school of home economics. She was a homecoming queen attendant and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, Air Debs, and Phi Upsilon Omicron. Reggie Gorder, Bison annual editor, comes to us from Bottineau and will graduate with an agricultural major. He is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho, Blue Key, Kappa Kappa Psi, Saddle and Sirloin, and the Gold Star Band.

Gene Gross, an engineer from LaMoure, is president of the Rahjans and ASME, and a member of Sigma Phi Delta, Arnold Air Society, Blue Key, and Tau Beta Pi. John Haas, an agriculture student from Mott, is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho, Blue Key, Kappa Delta Pi, Saddle and Sirloin, Student Senate, and plays varsity basketball. John is also president of the Collegiate FFA chapter.

Another Haas, this one Sandra, comes from Lidgerwood to major in home economics. She is president of Kappa Delta and Senior Staff, and a member of women's senate, Guidon, Kappa Delta Pi, Phi Upsilon Omicron, and Tryota. Maynard Helgaas, who will manage the 1957 Bison Brevities, majors in agriculture and is from Beltrami, Minn. Maynard is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho, Blue Key, Student Senate, Saddle and Sirloin, and the Collegiate FFA Chapter.

Jerome Herman presides over interfraternity council, majors in pharmacy, and travels here from Beulah. He is a member of Kappa Psi, Blue Key, Rho Chi, and the Pharmacy Club. Wilma Husband is a home economics major from Hensel. A member of Tryota, Phi Upsilon Omicron, and Senior Staff, Wilma is vice president of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Little Country Theatre

By Fred Emery

Since Bernardine has returned to her former illusive self, and The Three Bears have wisely hibernated for the winter, the theatre personnel is concentrating its efforts on O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elms". The results should be a wonderful show.

Larry Flink, a newcomer to the CT, accepted a real challenge when he decided to direct Eugene O'Neill's prize-winning play "Desire Under the Elms" for the quality and content of an O'Neill play rarely surpassed. This play is a real Americana, and it will be a terrific experience for everybody involved—including the audience! Carol Olson, Delayne Halverson and Don Schreder will tackle the leads. Two other important roles will be filled by Raymond Meinhardt and Wayne Baragry with minor roles handled by Jerome Peterson, Dave Stellmach, Bruce Ness, Bunny Simons and Martie Connolly. See this one December 6, 7, & 8.

George (The Greek) Poletes will cast for "Ten Nights In a Bar-room" Monday, Dec. 10 and Tuesday, Dec. 11. And from what I hear even the tryouts should be exciting. George is predicting a real explosion, and warns all musicians and actors to be on guard for this one.

Did you know that you can buy four seats for any one show or single seats for any four shows for two bucks, and that these same seats would cost you three dollars at the door? That clue being my good deed for the day I would like to remind all season ticket holders not to hold, but to use them!

Gloria Lloyd Tops Field In "Make It Yourself With Wool" Contest

Gloria Lloyd was selected winner of the Fargo district "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest at the NDSC Home Economics building Saturday.

Miss Lloyd modeled a black and white tweed coat with velvet collar and a rose dress to match the coating lining.

The contest, which is nationwide, has three divisions—sub deb, junior and senior—the latter two being competitive on state and national levels.

Miss Lloyd and the second to sixth place winners will represent this district at the state contest where they will compete for a try at national honors.

Other winners are Gloria Reseland, second; Carolyn Pierce, third; Bonnie Adams, fourth; Maureen Steigman, fifth and Darby Driscoll, sixth.

Pfeifer Named To National Executive Committee of NSA

At a meeting of the Minnesota-Dakota Region of NSA held at the U. of Minnesota at Duluth November 16-18 Beverly Pfeifer was appointed to represent the region on the National Executive Committee of the United States National Student Association (USNSA).

Each of the 19 regions of NSA throughout the country is entitled to one member on the NEC (National Executive Committee). Regions who have over 40,000 students in their membership are entitled to two members on the NEC. The Minnesota-Dakota region membership reached the 40,000 mark this fall.

Bev is vice chairman of the Minnesota-Dakota region and is NSA coordinator at NDSC. She will attend a meeting of the NEC at the University of Chicago Dec. 26-31.

Jim Greeno, chairman of the Minnesota-Dakota Region and president of the All University Congress at the University of Minnesota is the other representative from this region.

Attending the region meeting in Duluth were Jane Higgins, Clint Sparks, LaVonne Schwartz, Gailon Sundseth, and Bev Pfeifer.

Discussions were held on Leadership Training, Travel, Public Relations and the Student Press, International Programing, and Curriculum and Course Evaluation.

A resolution was passed by the 105 delegates from 22 colleges in Minnesota and the two Dakotas commending the Hungarian students on their efforts for greater freedom in their country.

ISA Skating Party

The Independent Student Association is sponsoring a roller skating party tonight. The session will begin at 8 o'clock at the college "Y", and will adjourn later to the Fargo Arena where the skating party will take place.

SOME MORE LITTLE STORIES WITH BIG MORALS

First Little Story

Once upon a time there was an Indian brave named Running Bear who had a squaw named Giggling Water. Giggling Water was sort of a mess, but she sure could make beaded moccasins. Every day she whipped up a brand-new pair of beaded moccasins for Running Bear which were so gorgeous that all the Indian maids on the reservation grew giddy with admiration.

Well sir, Giggling Water got livid about all the girls making goo-goo eyes at Running Bear, and one night she told him so. Then he got livid too, and they had a terrible rumble, and he slapped her on the wrist, and she started crying like crazy and moved out of the wigwam and went home to her mother and never came back.

"Good riddance!" said Running Bear, but he soon found out how wrong he was, for the Indian maids were not really interested in him, only in his moccasins, and when he stopped showing up with a new pair every day, they quickly gave him the yo-heave-ho, and today he is a broken man, sitting all alone in his tepee and muttering ancient Ute curses.

MORAL: Don't fight the hand that beads you.

the students did not take that lying down

Second Little Story

Once upon a time there was a sweet old gentleman named Nathan who ran a tobacco counter at a large American university. All of the students loved him dearly, and they used to come over whenever they could to buy Philip Morris Cigarettes and chat with Nathan, both of which were highly satisfactory pursuits. The Philip Morrises were highly satisfactory because they are full of natural goodness that is friendly and humane and soothing and no small consolation in this strife-ridden world of ours. Nathan, like Philip Morris, was also full of natural goodness that was friendly and humane and all like that.

Well sir, the students smoked Philip Morris and yocked with Nathan, and everything was lovely. Then one day the university decided to fire Nathan and put in a cigarette vending machine instead.

Well sir, the students did not take that lying down, you may be sure! They organized a monster rally and went over to prexy's house and made fiery speeches about good old Nathan and how they loved him.

Well sir, prexy was no fool, and when he saw how heartbroken the students would be if Nathan went, he decided that the wisest course was to keep Nathan and cancel the cigarette vending machine. This he did, and they all lived happily ever after.

MORAL: Better Nate than lever.

Third Little Story

Once there was a lion, which was a very quiet lion. In fact, the only time it ever made a sound was when it had a toothache.

MORAL: When it pains, it roars.

© Max Shulman, 1956

Philip Morris, sponsor of this column, would like to point a moral too: Nothing ventured, nothing gained. Try a pack of Philip Morris, and win yourself a heap of pleasure!

After enjoying the long Thanksgiving week-end the staff of KDSC, Campus Radio is back at work filling the air of our campus with delightful sounds. The chill late autumn air is keeping more people some evenings and the listening audience of the station is growing. A continuity director has been appointed for the station. Lance Johnson, freshman in AAS fromergus Falls, Minnesota has the job of trying to mold the talent available into the best possible program schedule.

Station Manager Jack Larson says that applicants for the position of assistant play-by-play sports announcer should contact him no later than Friday afternoon, November 30. He also states that the NDSC-Concordia game will not be broadcast over KDSC because it is the first game of the season, and should have complete support of the student body in person.

Rumor has it that the infamous Saturday Night Massacre and "Boirree" may return to the air. A small sample of what it offers was heard by Saturday evening listeners two weeks ago. This program has also solved the dilemma of dorm residents who wish to call requests but don't want to waste a dime in the process. For details, stay tuned to KDSC, 750 on your radio dial.

Arvid Vasenden comes to us from Fertile, Minn. and majors in pharmacy. Arvid is a member of Kappa Psi, the KDSC staff, Rahjah Club, and the Student Union Activities Board.

These seniors were selected by a committee of faculty members and students and the selections of this committee were approved by the national Who's Who committee.

What's doing...at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Working engineers . . .

may continue study to earn Master's degree

Ambitious young engineering graduates today want to be in two places at the same time. They want to be employed as quickly as possible, working daily at a job that offers promise of a rewarding career. They also want to be in the classroom, pursuing advanced studies they know to be so essential to real professional achievement.

Recognizing the many significant benefits to be gained by that two-fold ambition — benefits that accrue both to the individuals, personally, and to the company employing them — Pratt & Whitney Aircraft has developed an extensive graduate fellowship program. Within easy commuting distance of P & W A facilities, working arrangements have been established with graduate schools at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, University of Connecticut, Trinity College, Yale University, Northeastern University and New York University. Similar arrangements with several other universities are pending final approval.

At each school, the qualified Pratt & Whitney Aircraft employee is able to take courses — within specified areas — leading to a Master's degree. A tuition-refund plan makes it possible for successful degree candidates to obtain this advanced education tuition-free.

In this era of advancing technology, the world's foremost designer and builder of aircraft engines has taken a far-reaching step to assure its engineers and scientists of the opportunity for personal growth . . . growth that is so beneficial to employee and company alike.

Did You Know? . . .

By Corky

Around this time of the year, the age-old problem of buying Christmas gifts faces the rank and file of "human beans."

"What can I get that girl?" "What should I buy for my guy?" It gets to be a perplexing problem right. And so, since everyone else has a gift suggestion list, I too shall contribute to the never ending list of ideas.

Let's take the fairer side of the ledger first. Since most girls have everything, the trick is to get them something unusual. A diamond ring is always nice, of course you must make it understood that this is just a gift, and not an engagement ring.

If you really want to please her, get her a dozen late passes from her dorm house mother. Be sure to specify dates for these passes though, cause you don't want to be in town when she has them. If you are, you'll have to take her out on a date and dates cost money.

Find out what courses she will be taking next quarter, and surprise her with a set of old notes and lab reports. Makes college a lot easier for that sweetheart.

Or you might get her a paper corsage. Then she will always be ready for formal affairs, should you ever decide to take her to one.

All girls like to be spoiled, so show about calling her every night from now till Christmas. Reverse the charges of course. And after the Merry Holiday is over don't bother to dial her again. You have accomplished your purpose, she is spoiled. As a matter of fact, she will probably be like poison (to you).

That should give you fellows some hints. Above all, when you present your honey with your gift, do it with the attitude that you have spent your last living dime on her and you expect nine cents change.

For the girls, it is equally easy to buy a remembrance for the swain in your life. Get him a half dozen laboratory fee cards for some economic courses. That will give the poor guy a chance to meet some other girls. After all, he is human.

Or you could go down to his local draft board and volunteer him. He would remember you a long time for that little gesture.

Clothing always pleases a man. So troop down to a local men's shop and get him a pair of cuff links. Also purchase a box of band aids. Without shirt, he has to have some way to keep those cuff links on.

If he smokes, set yourself about the task of gathering snipes. The gutters downtown should afford a good variety of brands. Try to keep the length below one-half inch. Those sizes usually indicate the better brands because they have been smoked down so far.

To really show the guy that you care, you could present him with your last month's food and housing bill. This will really please him, because not every girl would think of doing such a thing, or have the nerve to do it.

Don't you fret over gift problems this year. All you need is a little ingenuity and gall and your gift problem will be over, for many and many a year. Who would want you around after following suggestions like these?

Tryota Initiates New Members

Tryota, home economics club of North Dakota State College, initiated new members Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 6.

In a candle-light service each new member received a membership ribbon and signed her name in the membership book.

The service was led by Joan Cantwell, president, Roberta Johnson, vice president and Karen Ritchie, secretary.

Warning "Don'ts" For Colleges That Expect Surplus Students

Within the next five years it may be necessary to hold college classes on Saturdays to take care of the additional students who will be attending universities by that time. High school students should be used to that procedure, because they will probably be on a six-day week before the colleges.

In making this prediction, Dr. H. J. Sheffield, director of admissions and registration at the University of Southern California, said that by using Saturday as a school day, enrollments can be expanded by as much as one-fifth. He sounded the following warning "don'ts":

"Don't offer fewer personnel services and less individual help to students simply because there appears to be an endless supply with which to replace your drop outs.

"Don't push your part-time student, or students who belong to some other marginal category, out of your school without considering them individually. Realize that many of our best citizens have worked their way through college at advanced ages and in considerably more than the usual four years.

"Don't limit your enrollments to the number you can accommodate in your present dormitory space. Investigate governmental and other housing plans that will make possible added enrollment.

Don't expand your enrollment to a point where you cannot offer a sound academic program. Recognize that it is easily possible to do too little for too many.

"Don't be misled into a belief that the problems of admissions, enrollment and retention will be confined to undergraduates.

Religion Stateside By Kay Wollan

Looks like everyone forgot about me over the weekend. There wasn't very much news turned in. Remember, all news must be in Monday night if it is to go in the next Friday's column.

LSA

Tonight will find the LSA'ers enjoying roller skating from 10 to 12 p.m. Meet at the house at 8 for games and fellowship before going to the arena. Sunday the schedule starts at 9:30 a.m. with Bible study. At 5:30 p.m. there will be a supper followed by a discussion led by Professor Cy Running of Concordia College on the topic "Religious Art and Architecture." This should prove to be a very interesting discussion. Also, don't forget the noon luncheon and chapel during the week and church services at Festival Hall Sunday morning at 11. Everyone is welcome at any of these events.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Cars will leave from the college Y at 6 p.m. Sunday for the regular meeting of the Canterbury Club at Gethsemane Cathedral. The program will feature a talk by Dr. Walsh of the speech department on his own theory of "Religion and Dramatics." This has proven very interesting. Plans will be made for the joint meeting with the Canterbury Club of Grand Forks which will be held on December 9. All Episcopal students on campus are cordially invited to attend this and all other meetings.

IRC

Committees for Religious Emphasis Week have been appointed. The chairmen of each committee are: Publicity, Richard Tonn; Class Rooms, Tony Hoffman; Evening Programs, Margaret Platt; Coordination, Beva Fegley, and Convocation, Delbert Nelson. The theme chosen for the week is "Search for God," and the week will begin January 28. This year the Union is to be used as the center for many of the meetings such as the Y Coffee Hour and the informal talks.

COLLEGE YMCA

Recently added to the recreation and lounging facilities at the College "Y" was a new Zenith Television.

The last discussion group on Evolution and Christianity is scheduled to be held in the Fire-side Room December 5, 1956.

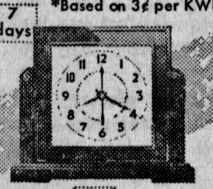

Beva Fegley New College 4-H Prexy

Beva Fegley, a sophomore in Home Ec from Berthold, N. Dak., was elected president of the College 4-H Club at a recent meeting of that organization. Gerald Gerntholz was named to fill the vice presidential spot.

The club decided to put on a TV show sometime this quarter. The program directors are Myrth Weiser, Janice Dislevy and George Senechal.

Air Societies Hold Initiation Ceremony For New Members

Initiation was held Tuesday night, Nov. 20, for the new members of Air Debs and the Arnold Air Society.

Lieutenant Colonel Gloria Lloyd presided over the candle light ceremony for the Air Debs initiates. She was assisted by Shirlene Schnell and Janet Saba. The initiates received the rating of Second Lieutenant.

Arnold Air Society initiation was conducted by their president, Wallace Hegg. Colonel J. Baluey gave a short talk on the purpose and accomplishments of the Arnold Air Society. The color representation of their flag was explained. A brief history of outstanding men in aviation was also read.

A banquet followed the ceremony. Colonel Biggs gave an after dinner speech which centered around Thanksgiving. He stated that we should all be thankful that we are Americans, and if we have any doubt of this fact in our minds we should reread the preamble to the Bill of Rights. His speech brought the program to an end.

EP Expose Shows Humored Audience

By Janet Brudvik

Elvis Presley, teen-age idol, drew mixed response from a theatre audience here last week as he sang, screamed, and squirmed through "Love Me Tender," his first movie role.

Laughter rocked the theatre when Elvis first appeared on the screen as a young southern boy, plowing behind a horse. Screams followed as he spoke his first lines. At times the audience was so noisy that the actor's words could not be heard.

When Elvis began to sing and sway there were a few passionate sighs, but mostly a shocked silence.

After several songs the audience began to laugh at his antics. The laughter continued as Elvis, tough and dangerous, beat his wife and shot his brother. The last reaction was tears and scornful laughs as Elvis was shot, died and was buried while a super-imposed picture of Elvis sang the title song, "Love Me Tender".

Bison End Season With Fine Display Of Pigskin Magic To Tie For Fourth

The Thundering Herd closed out its season in fine style last weekend, as it came from behind in the final minutes of the contest to nose out the ISTC Panthers in a 19-13 thriller.

The win came on a flurry of passes in the closing seconds of play to provide a genuine Frank Merriwell finish to the 1956 State football season. With the score against them, 13-6 and deep in their own territory, the Bison erupted with an unbelievably fast pair of touchdowns in the last minute of the ball game to pull the win out of the fire.

With 1:28 to play, quarterback Lynn Parkel uncorked a pass which Gordon Friede took on his own 14 yard line, and the little halfback outdistanced the Panther secondary to score standing up, the play covering 86 yards. The try for point failed, and the Bison were still in trouble with the score 13-12.

But in the wild scramble which resulted from the Iowan's fumble of an onside kickoff, State came up with possession of the elusive pigskin at midfield, and opportunity knocked for the second time. Dame Fortune's nod was not allowed to go unnoticed, as the eager Bison siezed the chance and clicked again in the air. On the second play from scrimmage after the recovery, Parkel hit Big John Campagna from the 25 and the hard-working end lugged it over for the final score. The successful try for point was all but forgotten in the scramble, as the ball game was all over but the shouting.

The win for the Herd brought their season's record to five wins and four losses, for a fourth-place conference finish—considerably better than in recent years, and certainly higher than the most fearless of sports-writers dared predict.

Beginning the year with an easy 25-0 win over smaller Valley City State Teachers, the Bison followed with a surprising and highly satisfying triumph over cross-river rivals Concordia to the tune of 12-7. The State gridders then romped over first conference rivals Augustana 42-7 for an unprecedented three staright, raising Herd hopes to a new high.

The bubble broke, however, when, on the next weekend at Dacotah Field, the Morningside Maroons drove to a touchdown in the closing minutes of play to thwart Bison tie aspirations, stopping the Herd win streak with a 10-3 victory.

It was at this stage of the game that the age old Bison Bugaboo, The Injury, began to make its crippling presence felt, as successive injuries to halfbacks Dean Sharp and Wayne Wall, fullback and leading ground gainer Charlie Hyde, and quarterback Parkell all but wiped out the club's starting backfield.

The next Saturday is one State backers would like to erase from the record, as the mismatched Bison took a financially beneficial jaunt South to serve as warmup cannon fodder for the potent U of Missouri Tigers. The score was a demoralizing 42-0, the North Dakotans on the short end, and the Missouri game took its expected toll of the already injury-ridden Herd, leaving the Bison coaching staff tearing its hair in preparation for the season's big game with NDU.

Unfortunately, the Northern Soox had just too many horses for the tired Bison patchwork lineup, as the Indian group pulled away in the second half to stop the Bison 14-7.

But on the following Saturday, the Herd rose to its finest hour, to cop the Homecoming contest with a 26-9 triumph at the expense of the South Dakota State Jackrabbits. Once more color showed bright in the cheeks of State Students, as the Herd was seemingly back on the track to success.

Instead, the Luymes Men went down to defeat on their next outing, as the fine edge they had so nobly achieved for the Homecoming contest wore off, and they bowed to an outplayed group of SDU oyotes. The loss, knocking the Herd out of second place contention, was felt sorely, as the Bison rolled up a staggering offensive edge on the SoDaks only to lose the contest on fumbles.

This brings us up to date of the aforementioned Iowa contest and the end of the current season. For the once again Thundering Herd, who showed intermittent flashes of gridiron brilliance, it may be said that they lacked only the numbers necessary to convert a mediocre fourth-place finish to a conference championship. Often lacking the numerical strength to scrimmage, the outlook may understandably have looked gloomy at best for the thin wall of Bison gridders.

A quick glance at final conference statistics shows the "fourth place" NDSC team to be at or near the top in a number of vital facets of team play. Finishing number one in total defense, records show that only Missouri was able to score more than two touchdowns against the "bandaged" defense often used by the Herd, and it took a last game surge by one of our Southern rivals to unseat the SC club from a conference first in offensive scoring totals.

All three conference losses were the fault of a distinct tendency on the part of Bison ball carriers to fumble, or the inability of potential pass receivers to hold on to the ball.

Bentson Names Starters For Season Opener With Concordia Saturday

The Bison varsity basketball team will make its initial appearance of the current campaign tomorrow night at the fieldhouse when it meets the cross-town Concordia Cobbers. For the Bison, the contest will serve as a warmup for their forthcoming eastern trip and the North Central Conference opener, early in December.

For the past week, coach Chuck Bentson has been in the process of making the final squad cut, pairing the club down from 21 to 15 members. The probable starting lineup for the Concordia tussle will find Ken Flynn and soph John Foss at guards, Warren Arman and Howard Heil at forwards, and John Haas in the center slot. Other squad members who will see action are guards Charlie Hyde and Bob Brown, center Slim Williams, and forwards Lyle Hui-zenga and John Campagna.

The Herd cagers have been hampered by late reportees and class conflicts which have kept practice sessions at a minimum, and should have early season troubles due to lack of actual varsity experience. The squad as it appears to date should have plenty of height, with the proposed starting lineup averaging 6'3" and plenty of bench height available.

The Concordians, on the other of this height in order to successfully cope with the speed of the Bison attack.

Bentson believes the team to be progressing satisfactorily, and with the exception of several late reportees should be in fair condition, will field an almost entirely veteran squad with plenty of height and depth. The Cobbers could, conceivably field a forward wall scaling a shade under 6'5", although indications are that they will be forced to sacrifice some tion for tomorrow's opener.

Frosh Cagers Open Season Against Cobbers

The 1956-57 edition of the NDSC frosh basketballers will make its debut Saturday night at six when they tangle with the Concordia freshman squad in the Cobber-Bison varsity preliminary at the SC field-house.

The Baby Bison have been practicing for several weeks, and cuts have been made, pairing the squad down to a workable number in preparation for the season's play.

According to coach Cliff Henricksen the final starting lineup has not been determined at the time of this writing, but men that have showed well in practice and should see a great deal of action in the Cobber contest are: Gerry Bergene, Portland; Bill Bartels, Brown, Minn.; Ron Schiff, Sherwood; Don Knutson, Fargo; Wayne Studahl, Maddock; and Loren Swenson, Kindred.

Indications are strong for an exciting ball game between the rival frosh club, and the contest should afford an excellent view of season's and future basketball prospects.

Three NDSC Co-eds Qualify In College Beauty Queen Contest

Three North Dakota State College girls have just qualified as entrants in a College Beauty Queen contest now being conducted throughout the nation by a leading cosmetic manufacturer. The girls are Margaret Benedict of Moorhead, Sally Schroeder of Fargo and Helen Woltzel of Gardner.

One of these girls will be selected by popular vote among friends and students on the campus, to represent North Dakota State College. All votes for your choice must be postmarked no later than midnight, December 15th, 1956. Here is our chance to prove the most beautiful college girls in America attend North Dakota State College. If you really want to help, we suggest you contact your choice and assist in their vote getting campaign.

This contest is sponsored by Campana, in conjunction with their national advertising program featuring their new Moisture-Miracle Make-up, Solitair.

You can vote for the girl of your choice by simply addressing a postal card to Campana, Batavia, Illinois, voting for her as the Solitair College Beauty Queen and sign your name.

Three Bison Get All NCC Honors

In a recent meeting of coaches of North Central Conference member schools, a 22-man All-Conference Squad was named for the 1956 football season. Named to the mythical power team from the Bison are guard Roger Gebhart, center Dick Tschider, and end John Campagna. End Don Basche, quarterback Lynn Parkel, and halfback Dean Sharp rated honorable mention to the all NCC team. Due to the late announcement of the choices in relation to the Spectrum deadline, details and pictures will follow in the next edition.

NDSC Campus Not Lone Recipient Of Student-Rated Polio Shots

A growing movement for campus vaccinations against polio in colleges and universities throughout the nation was reported today by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Increasing numbers of academic institutions are providing Salk vaccine for their students and young faculty members as part of an over-all program aimed at increasing immunization of the nation's most susceptible individuals, said Basil O'Connor, president of the March of Dimes organization.

Seventy-five of 136 colleges responding to letters from the National Foundation reported student vaccinations have been scheduled and 56 had already started the program, Mr. O'Connor said. Their plans varied but, in general, students and faculty members were being offered the vaccine for a nominal charge as part of the health service of the institution. In many instances, young college employees and their families are included; often priorities are given to young married couples among students, faculty or employee groups with children under five years of age.

"The age group comprised of teenagers and men and women in their twenties has been largely unvaccinated to date, although more than 43,000,000 persons have received at least one shot of vaccine," he declared. "Most of those already started on the series of three shots are children. Many millions of young people remain unprotected, and polio incidence—though down this year—continues in the hundreds each week."

"It is heartening, therefore, to find college authorities cooperating in an effort to start the series of three shots at this time, for immediate protection and so that full immunization — with three shots of vaccine over an eight-month period — may be accomplished before the 1957 polio season."

A communication from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis reported that first injections of Salk vaccine had been given to every member of the brigade of midshipmen, totaling 3,796, except for a few where immunization was not indicated.

At Stanford University of California, a vigorous campus vaccination program is being supported by "an enthusiastic committee of students" serving the Stanford University Health Service, and the cooperation of the local chapter of the National Foundation.

Medical authorities at Vassar College in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., noted that a high percentage of incoming new students already had received two shots before arrival and reported that plans were well under way to encourage total vaccinations within the format of the regular college health facilities.

Among the colleges that already have inaugurated their vaccination programs are Harvard, Brown, Princeton and Yale Universities, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, University of California, University of Denver, University of Miami, University of Chicago, University of Indiana, Kansas State College, University of Massachusetts, University of Minnesota, University of Rochester, University of North Carolina, University of Pennsylvania, University of South Dakota and the University of Virginia.

Goedert, Asleson Attend NASA Convention

Douglas Goedert and Herb Asleson, fifth year students of architecture, attended the second annual convention of the National Association of Students of Architecture held at Washington, D. C. November 19, 20, and 21.

The nationwide student organization is sponsored by the American Institute of Architects and has as its basic aims the assistance in bringing about a deeper understanding between the professional architect and the architectural student; the provision of channels for the interchange of ideas between students, schools, and countries; and the attempt to bring about a better understanding of architecture and the profession by the potential students and the general public.

HERE'S A STICKLER!
IF YOU HAVE A LUCKY,
WHAT ELSE DO YOU NEED?
(SEE PARAGRAPH BELOW)

IF YOU'VE GOT a Lucky, you've got it made. That's 'cause you just can't beat a Lucky for taste. Luckies are made of fine tobacco—light, naturally good-tasting tobacco that's TOASTED to taste even better. In fact, you'll say Luckies are the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked. What more could you want? Oh, the answer to the Stickler! If you're in a light plight, what you need is a Match, Natch!

"IT'S TOASTED" to taste better!

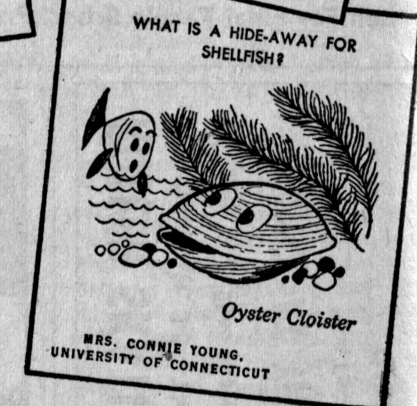

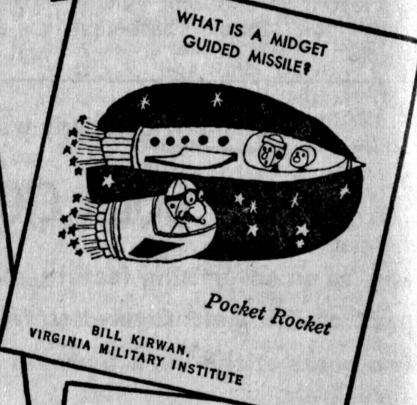

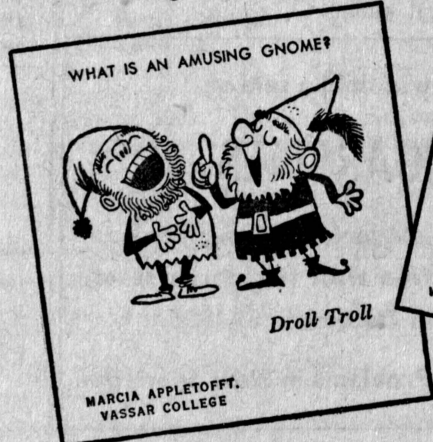

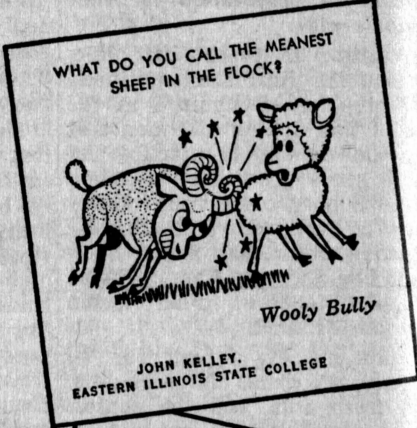

DON'T JUST STAND THERE...
STICKLE! MAKE $25

Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) They're so easy, you can think of dozens in seconds. We'll shell out $25 for every stickler we use—and for hundreds more that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.
