Health Center Offers Polio Shots Again

NDSC students are now being given the second chance to have polio shots. The Student Health Center will be giving the vaccine any time during the day for those who have not already started taking them, announces Miss Myrtle Johnson, Head Nurse.

All students who have not had these shots are urged to take advantage of this second opportunity.

Vets Sign Up!

As this short month draws to a close, we once again find claim sheets awaiting the signature of campus vets. Sashay on over to Old Main gentlemen, and make with the "C" number on Feb. 28th.

Gold Star Band To Present Concert

The Gold Star Band, under the direction of William Euren, returned last week from a thousand mile tour of the northwestern part of North Dakota.

The band left Monday morning, February 11, and after a small delay due to tire trouble, played a concert that evening in the new Garrison High School.

The following day, the band entered North Dakota's oil fields, playing concerts in Stanley and Tioga. Wednesday found the band in Williston, and that evening, the final concert was played in Crosby.

Thursday was spent returning to Fargo, in order to be here for the pep convo Friday morning. After playing for the basketball games Friday and Saturday night, the band took a short vacation, but is now preparing for its home concert which will be put on in conjunction with the choir on Sunday, March 3.

In addition to the usual complement of instruments, the band this year has added a box of assorted tin cans, a pound of assorted tin cans, a pound of a half of broken glass, three pails, a suitcase full of auto horns, and a transformer to its assemblage.

Soloists and ensembles are featured between the programmed numbers. Details will be forthcoming next week.

Hultz Reappointed To 3-Year Term On NPAC Board

Word has been received from the executive secretary of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges that Dr. Fred S. Hultz, NDSC President, has been reappointed to a three-year term as a Board Member for the National Project on Agricultural Communicatoins.

The purpose of the project, operating under a half million dollar grant from the Kellogg Foundation, is to study methods of more effective communication of the results of agricultural research to the farm people who make use of the new discoveries.

The project maintains a headquarters and staff on the campus of the Michigan State University at East Lansing. Included on the Board are representatives from the agricultural press, television and radio.

Vets Club Elects To Back McLain

The slate of officers to be supported by the Vets Club in the coming campus election has been released by Simen Lahlum, reporter of that group.

Eldon McLain, recently elected prexy of Sigma Phi Delta, is the Vets candidate for Student Body President. Eldon is a junior in Engineering.

Those men receiving backing from the Vets Club for senate positions are Gilbert Elkin for two year senator and Frank Deibler and Simen Lahlum for one year terms.

Union Director Named To Regional College Union Board

Dale N. Brostrom, Director, NDSC Memorial Union, received word Tuesday of his appointment as Regional Representative of the Association of College Unions.

Mr. Brostrom, who has been director of the NDSC Union since 1953, will head Region 7 of the Association for a term of one year. Region 7 includes North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Central Canada.

"Ugly Olson" Accepts Trophy

Gaylord Olson, sponsored by the Phi Mus, won the Ugliest Man On Campus contest. He received a trophy from the Alpha Phi Omegas at the UMOG dance held Saturday night in the NDSC Field House.

The UMOG contest is sponsored annually by Alpha Phi Omega, a national service fraternity.

The winner is determined on the basis of penny votes cast by NDSC students before Saturday. The voting poll consisted of glass jugs placed in the Union.

All proceeds from the voting and UMOG dance will go to the Crippled Children's Home in Jamestown.

No. Dak.'s Own Elvis Presley Will Highlite Air Force ROTC Talent Show

Bill Jenkins, North Dakota's own Elvis Presley, will be the featured attraction at the Air Force ROTC Talent Show to be held in Festival Hall at 7 p.m. Thursday night.

Jenkins gained the area spotlight when he sang during the recent TV Telethon. He is in the Air Force, and is stationed at Finley Air Force Base.

Master of ceremonies for the evening will be Jim Adelson of KXJB.

A wide variety of local talent will be featured in the show, and cash prizes will be awarded to the top three entries in each of the two divisions. First place winners will get a chance to appear on Adelson's "Panorama" TV show.

The show is sponsored by the NDSC Arnold Air Society and it's auxiliaries, the Air Debs and Sabre Flight.

Gamma Phi's - SAE's Take Sculpting Honors

"Little Lulu" and "from the land of sky blue waters" sum up the themes of the winning snow sculptures in the annual contest staged by Alpha Phi Omega.

The Gamma Phi Betas took first place in the women's division with their sculpture of Little Lulu and her Kleenex box. Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity's interpretation of the theme of the Hamm's Beer advertisement showing a smiling bear and three beavers in the "land of sky blue waters" copped top place for them in the men's division.

Second place winners were the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority with its interpretation of the Heileman's Old Style Lager advertisement, and the Theta Chi's conception of "Alfred Hitchcock Presents".

Snow sculptures this year were based on television characters, and were judged on originality, interpretation of theme, and artistic construction.

NDSC Student Senate Donates $2000 To Student Loan Fund

A donation in the amount of $2,000.00 has been given to the NDSC Student Loan Fund by the NDSC Student Senate it has been announced by Sherwood Barrow, Assistant Business Manager. This amount will be added to the present balance of $5,476.00.

The Student Loan Fund is just one of several funds from which deserving students may make various types of loans during the school year. Since July 1, 1956 to present a total of 72 loans have been made, circulating about 100 times that in money.

Application forms for the Student Loan Fund, which is operated by a Student Loan Fund committee, are available from Mr. Barrow, after which they are acted upon by the committee.

Panhel Council Announces Date For Charity Ball

Panhellenic Council has announced that the Charity Ball will be held in the Student Union Ballroom March 1st from 9 to 12.

First of all a slap on the back to a fellow who perhaps had as much to do with Saturday night's win over the Sioux as anyone (perhaps excepting the referees). The fellow I mean is Bill Euren, not forgetting, of course, the Gold Star Band. If fan spirit has anything to do with player performance we do have to hand much credit to Bill and his merry band.

Now please don't get all hot under the collar about that statement concerning the referees. There is no doubt in this head that the Herd is capable of beating the Sioux any day of the week. But not the way they played Saturday night. The refereeing was nothing but lousy all through the game, but the Bison did get every break in the book in those last few minutes of regulation play.

And the "piddling organizations". Actually, the statement made in this column a couple weeks ago saying that there are "too many of these piddling little organizations" was stated that way merely to try to get some retorts.

What is really wrong with these organizations is the people on campus who feel that they must belong to all of the clubs that they can. It looks so good to have your picture in the annual so many times. And it also looks so good to see all of those activities listed beneath your senior picture.

Another fault of the aforementioned is the tendency of these organizations to think they have to do something big and spectacular during the year. With the school growing as it is it only follows that there will have to be a limit set somewhere on the number of all-school events that can be held during the school year.

There is nothing at all wrong with the existence of such organizations. In fact they are necessary for the employment of spare time and talents of our increasing number of students. It is up to us, as members of campus organizations, to realize the possibilities and limitations of same.

And don't forget to keep your schedule open for 7 p.m. this Thursday night. The place to be at that time is in Festival Hall, where the big AFROTC Talent Show will be held. According to Darrell Reber, big gun behind the show, there will be a great variety of talent on hand.

By Art Lies

All's well that ends well! And the saga of the homeless transmitter has apparently come to an end. Through the efforts of Technical Director Don Grimm and our best friend, Bob Potter, KDSC went back on the air last Saturday.

Coverage is excellent. If you can't get KDSC at 750 on your radio dial, you had better check to see if the batteries are hooked up (not that I think that is really necessary with all the power we have).

Much thanks goes to Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, Erling Thorson, and his crew of electricians who supplied us with a room and able assistance when we were in dire need of both.

We have our own transmitter room (complete with fifteen coat-hooks) in Festival Hall. Looks to me like we'll be having some all night record parties before long.

A first in Campus Radio broadcasting occurred Saturday night when the music and the presentation of UMOG and snow sculpture awards at the UMOG dance was carried over our neophyte station.

By the way, thanks to our eagle-eyed editor who found my copy of last week crammed into the keyhole of the publications office. I thought he'd find it if I put it there. Force of habit, no doubt. (Bender, you rascal, you!)

Be sure to phone your requests, complaints, addresses, and other various juicy information to 5-5623 at KDSC. And don't forget, sometimes it's better to wait in the wings than to spend all your time center-stage. Romeo wasn't bilked in a day, you know!

THE ACADEMY

Students generally confuse knowledge with intelligence. They share this failing with most teachers. Both tend to think that the person who has the ability to answer a multitude of quiz questions is actually smarter than the person who can intelligently use the little knowledge he has at his disposal. Many honor roll students feign great wisdom and knowledge but are really little more than experts at imitation.

Within these hallowed halls they are, the students that will have the greatest opportunity to move into fields that are creative in nature. When they no longer have text book knowledge to fall back on because they are facing new situations that demand new solutions, what will they do? Will their ability to answer quiz questions help them in solving these new problems?

Einstein was not a spectacular student. For that matter, he once flunked a course in lower mathematics. History has set Einstein apart, however, because he learned to think about the facts and figures that others were memorizing for tests. He learned how to intelligently use the knowledge that he had at his disposal in developing new ideas. His creative thinking opened up a whole new era of existence: the Atomic Age.

A student is foolish if he sets his sights on high marks and memorizes mounds of material to pass tests with high marks rather than trying to discover the truths hidden in this material. In like manner, the teacher that demands that his students memorize a great multitude of facts and figures in order to pass his course is false to his profession because he is forcing his students to memorize rather than to think.

Just as surely, a system of schooling that demands a graduated system of marking is bound to turn out a mediocre finished product. The cream of this crop is supposed to be the "A" student, though he may not have any creative ability. The "B" or "C" student may actually know how to use the knowledge he has retained, whereas the "A" student has generally forgotten most of the knowledge that he has memorized. He may have even forgotten his general methods.

Cramming can be effective if the desired end is simply high marks and the student intends to forget all of those facts and figures once he has gotten them on the test paper.

If a student desires to succeed in school, he is generally forced to compete for high marks. This is a false and injurious system. A student should either pass or fail a subject, not be rated against his fellow students on his ability to answer quiz questions.

Consider the high standards of our Medical Schools. A medical student either graduates as a Doctor of Medicine or he is "washed out". He is never rated as an "A, B, or C grade" doctor, nor should he be.

Either the student has an understanding of the subject matter, or he doesn't. Ability to answer quiz questions is so unimportant when rated alongside of an ability to reason.

Socially Speaking . . .

By Jean Anderson

AND BY tonight everybody will have an excuse to play suitcase student for a change and head for the Northland. Let's FIRE UP for the series and really show those Soox how to play ball. At least we don't have hockey games to keep us home!

MANY APOLOGIES are due to Bruce Ness, Sheldon Johnson and John Hamilton, recently pledged to TEKE. This department erroneously listed them as being FarmHousers. Sorry!!

AND WHAT could be a nicer Valentine's Day present than the diamond ring that ATO prexy Mary Bender gave Kappa Karen Skjonsby?

SCHOLARSHIP BANQUET was given by the SPDs. Guests were speaker Professor Hosted and Professor Oakey of the Engineering department.

PLEGDED to SAE are: Bill Henry, John Sawyer, Bill Bartels, Bob Mann and Don Nelson.

A little boy flea took a little girl flea to the pictures. When they came out of the movie, he asked her, "Do you want to walk home, or shall we take a dog?"

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMAS Province convention at the U. of Manitoba in Winnipeg will be attended by Ruth Mortenson and Pat Moore this weekend.

BROMO BOWL next Wednesday. Hustle out and watch the Beauties of ATO and the Beasts of Gamma Phi play a little football on Dakota Field at 4. 'Tis rumored that the passion play will again be the chief strategy. Tickets are on sale from any pledge for 25c, the cause being Hungarian Relief.

NEW PLEDGES at the SPD house are Martin Olson, Dave Rud, Byron Stadsvold, Jim Engbrecht, Ken Tuskind, Bob Baris, Don Moorhead, Jim Ystebroe, Rixon Rafter, Marvin Loll, Dave Hendrickson, Lowell Hanson, Tom Mahler, and Harley Raumin. The pledge officers are: president, Phil Krajeck, vice-president, Joe Neuenschwander; secretary-treasurer, Eugene A. Hanson.

"How can you keep eating at the fraternity house?" "Oh, it's easy. I just take a tablespoonful of Drano three times a day."

ANOTHER Diamond ring for Valentine's Day was given to Bev Lind, Theta prexy, by Pete Gjertson, SAE.

EEK!! Mascot at the Kappa house acquired on the choir trip by Jan Bakken, LaVonne Biel and Susan Eggert is one small white mouse named Van.

Comrade Rudolph was walking down the streets of Moscow when it suddenly began precipitating. "Wife," said Rudolph to his spouse, "it's raining." "No, Rudolph," she corrected, "it's snowing." "Raining." "Snowing." "Silence, woman," roared Rudy, "you know Rudolph the Red knows rain, dear!"

AND Jack Larson, ATO, gave a diamond ring to Bar Hill of Fargo for Valentine's Day.

The new night watchman at the observatory was watching a professor using the big telescope. Just then a star fell. "Begorra," he said to himself, "that fellow sure is a crack shot."

SOME LUCKY GALS were Thetas Wilma Husband, Margaret Smith, Joan Watt, and Carol Soeby, all receivers of flowers on Valentine's Day. And Arlene Hedahl, Mary Anderson, Janis Olson, Annette Erdmann, Claire Ann Walker and Annie Sinner all got great big boxes of candy.

ATO Jim (better known as egg foo) Young put a sparkle on the third finger, left hand, of nurse Gail Bennett of Mino.

PLEDGES at the AGR house now include Bill Bickert, Darrel Reber and Marvin Werner.

SWEETHEART OF SAE, Jean Ann Nelson, passed a huge Valentine of candy around the Gamma Phi house, courtesy of the Brothers.

DID YOU KNOW that Bill Langer is a Sig? He sent the boys at Gamma Tau here on campus the flag flown in Beta marck on Inauguration Day. The honorable senator is an alum of Beta Zeta at NDU.

AND A PLUG for the Air Force ROTC Talent show to be held Thursday. Reports are that it will really be well worth seeing. It will be staged at 7 p.m. Thursday night in Festival Hall, and the talent that has signed up already promises a real good show. Feature attraction will be North Dakota's own Elvis, Bill Jenkins of the Finley Air Force Base.

AND SO bye-bye for this week. See you at the Riv.

To Gregorio . . .

Mr. Editor: I believe this is a good time for me to take issue with Mr. Gregorio of The Academy. He seems to be the type that derives satisfaction from stirring up arguments. Well, he needn't expect any such satisfaction from reading this letter, as I couldn't care less about his trash. I do hope to show how silly he is, however, for the benefit of those who haven't realized it as yet.

I'm not a Rahjah. I don't know any girls, especially the feline type. But I am a conformist. I used to watch television and I heard about sex and liquor once, but this has bothered me endlessly since reading Greg's column.

At any rate, he hasn't found anything right about anything or anyone on campus yet, so if any justification for this letter is needed that should suffice.

He must be working his imagination over-time to come up with comparisons like cats and women, Nazis and Rahjahs, and editorial material and garbage. My imagination doesn't become nearly as exhausted in comparing such methods with those of certain actions in our country who are trying to destroy our Democracy from within.

Everyone knows the methods; get a rabble-rouser to turn one group against another until there is no organized resistance against outside attack. Pit women against men, the student body against the Rahjahs, the dogs against cats, and our boy will have to start, but he can't do it here.

Summing it all up, we find that Greg hasn't found anything good about any of us. One would almost think he's from up north. Since no one can come up to his standards, we must assume that he is perfect. But if he is perfect, why does he have to hide behind the anonymity of three thousand students?

Heaven is perfect. Therefore does he think he is God, to be judging everyone else? I'm anxiously awaiting his next outburst; I need it to laugh myself to sleep at night.

Sincerely, Jerry Gramlow

Rahjah Club Pens A Reply To Attack By Gregorio In Last Week's Edition

Dear Gregorio:
 The Rahjah Club of NDSC has read with interest the Academy's opinion on certain of their activities during the past several weeks and believe The Academy has taken an erroneous view of several of the Club's activities. We offer, therefore, these explanations to The Academy in the hope that the students of NDSC can make a correct conclusion on the subject.

The Academy uses the phrase "moral fiction" in its discussion of the shaving permit sale. If we may coin a similar phrase, these are the "moral facts". Last year shaving permits were initiated by the Rahjahs in the hope that more students would grow beards and thus would get the feeling of belonging to the school. The money was used to help finance the baseball team on its spring training trip, a trip which helped the Bison to go far in the NCAA tournament and which was responsible for favorable publicity for our school.

This year Student Senate came to the Rahjahs and asked if the money might be used to help finance the bringing of a Hungarian student to our campus. We felt this was a worthy cause, and Blue Key and the Vet's Club concurred. Therefore, the three organizations sponsored the permit sales, and all profits went to the fund for our Hungarian student.

Next is the subject of class-breakups. We suspect that few students (also teachers) are struck by terror when "The Mob" composed of Rahjahs and non-Rahjahs descends upon their classrooms. On the contrary happy faces express approval of the action which signals a change in the everyday routine of the pursuit of knowledge. Some students and teachers are outspoken in their criticism of this "childishness", but we wonder whether this is because of disapproval of non-conformity or fear of discipline from a superior.

We believe that NDSC is lacking in tradition, which is as much a part of a school as are its buildings and scholastic reputation, and that these activities will help Old State achieve closer unity between past, present, and future.

The democracy theme of the article was ambiguous for if one examines it closely it can be seen that the last paragraph is in contrast with the rest of the argument. Who is the majority, the Rahjahs or the dissenters from the majority opinion? We feel that the Academy when making future comments should strive to give opinions based on fact, not clever similes.

(Signed)
 THE RAHJAH CLUB OF NDSC

Girls Can Have Freedom If Fellows Have Thirty Pesos

Fellows with extra change in their pocket will have a chance to keep NDAC campus coeds out until 1:30 a.m. March 1.

All girls living on campus, where the doors are normally locked at 1:00, will receive an extra half hour of liberty providing their dates deposit a penny for every minute out after 1:00.

Proceeds of the "penny a minute" night, sponsored by Women's Senate, will go to the Hungarian relief fund in hopes of bringing a Hungarian student to NDSC.

Air Force Grads Receive Orders

Two Second Lieutenants, commissioned at NDSC, have received active duty orders from the Air Force, according to Colonel James E. Bauley, Professor of Air Science. Lieutenant Loren F. Bjornson, and Lieutenant Gary I. Heidlebaugh, will report to Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, this month for further assignment to the first available flight training class.

HOW MANY POUNDS of SIRLOIN STEAK from a 1,000 POUND STEER?

From a 1,000-pound steer, you subtract approximately 400 pounds of hides, hoofs, inedible fats, etc. That leaves 600 pounds of "eatin' meat." But only 8% of this, or around 50 pounds, is sirloin.

That's why you pay more for sirloin than for most other cuts. The price of each cut, you see, is determined largely by how much there is of it and how much people like it.

AND WHAT HAS SIRLOIN STEAK TO DO WITH DIAMONDS?

Just as it takes 1,000 pounds of meat on the hoof to produce a mere 50 pounds of sirloin

SO 46 TONS OF DIAMOND-BEARING ROCK MUST BE MINED TO YIELD A FINISHED ONE CARAT DIAMOND OF GEM QUALITY . . .

It isn't sufficient to ask for a "one carat diamond." You don't buy a pound of meat. You order the cut you want and the price is determined by how much there is of it. That's why you pay more for sirloin.

That is why, too, you see "one carat diamonds" advertised by so-called importers, wholesalers and discount houses at all kinds of prices. Surely they weigh one carat, but there is even more quality difference in diamonds than there is in the various cuts of beef.

You get from a reputable experienced dealer—be he butcher or jeweler—JUST WHAT YOU PAY FOR!

DIARY OF A COED

MONDAY: Prof Pomfritt sprang quiz in English lit this morning. If Shakespeare didn't write Canterbury Tales, I'm back in the steam laundry. . . . Lunch at the house — turkey hash. Question: how can we have turkey hash when we never had turkey? . . . Smoked a good, natural Philip Morris after lunch. Yum, yum! . . . Played bridge in the afternoon. When game was over, Mildred Olliphant stabbed me several times with hatpin. Must learn weak club bid. . . . Dinner at house — lamb hash. Question: how can we have lamb hash when we never had lamb? . . . Smoked a Philip Morris after dinner. Good-O! — no filter, no foolin'! . . . Chapter meeting at night. Motion made to abolish capital punishment for pledges. Motion defeated. . . . Smoked some more Philip Morris. Natural! Dreamy! . . . And so to bed.

TUESDAY: Faculty tea. Spilled pot of oolong on Dean of Women. She very snappish. Offered her a Philip Morris. Still snappish. Offered skin graft. No help. . . . Dinner at Kozy Kampus Kafe — 14 hamburgers. But no dessert. Have to watch waistline. . . . And so to bed.

WEDNESDAY: Got our marks in English lit quiz. Lucky for me Shakespeare wrote Canterbury Tales! . . . Date with Ralph Feldspar. Purely platonic. Ralph wanted to talk about love trouble he's been having with Mady Vanderklung. I said things were bound to improve. Ralph said he hopes so because the last four times he called on Mady she dumped vacuum cleaner bag on him. Smoked Philip Morris. Yummm! Dinner at house — bread. That's all; just bread. . . . And so to bed.

THURSDAY: Three packages from home — laundry, cookies, records. So hungry I ate all three. . . . Quiz in American history. If James K. Polk didn't invent cotton gin, I'm in big trouble. . . . Had afternoon date with Erwin Trull, pre-med. Nice boy but no loot. Took me to see another appendectomy. Ho-hum! . . . But we had Philip Morris afterwards. Goody, goody, gumdrops! . . . Dinner at house. Big excitement — Vanessa Strength announced her engagement. While girls flocked around to congratulate Vanessa, I ate everybody's mackerel. . . . Then smoked a good, natural Philip Morris. Divoon! . . . And so to bed.

...took me to see another appendectomy

FRIDAY: Got our marks in American history quiz. Was dismayed to learn that James K. Polk did not invent cotton gin. He wrote Canterbury Tales. . . . Odd! . . . Lunch at the house — bread hash. . . . Philip Morris after lunch. Grandy-dandy! . . . Spent afternoon getting dressed for date tonight with Norman Twonkey. Norman is tall, dark, loaded — a perfect doll! Only thing wrong is he never tells girl where he is going to take her. So I put on a bathing suit, on top of that an evening gown, and on top of that a snowsuit. Thus I was ready for a splash party, dance, or toboggan slide. . . . So what do you think happened? He entered me in a steeplechase, that's what!

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY: Days of rest, play, quiet, meditation, and — aaah! — Philip Morris! . . . And so to bed.

What this campus needs is an old fashioned beer garden. I'm not kidding, I mean it. A genuine old fashioned beer garden, with palm trees sitting around, a few steins gracing the wall ledges, coarse hard-wood benches, smokey lights, a slow moving four bladed fan, and all sorts of contrasting decor.

All that would have to be served is tap beer, not any bottles or cans. Bottles and cans too often lend another type of atmosphere, not wholly desirable. There could be a juke box with only old time waltzes and slow music, a place for an impromptu combo, and a patio for the warmer months.

This beer garden could be operated on a "private club, non-profit basis". That would keep any capitalistic minded individual from trying to make a killing on an enterprise that has appeal to many persons. Or if a profit is to be desirable, then turn it over to some worthwhile organization.

Just think what it would mean. Any student could come to this place, sit down, have a brew, talk over old times and how things used to be. I don't think there would be any worry about trouble with drunks and obnoxious characters either. There are enough students who like to quietly sip a tall cool one, (and only one), who would discourage any trouble prone individuals.

And you'd be surprised who would grace these hallowed halls too. Many of the prudish and straight laced students would come down off their high horse and partake of the "ole German drink."

Oh, sure, I suppose I will receive a lot of chaff for advancing such an idea as this. Too many people will reel in horror at my audacity for even thinking of such a thing. Well, at least I admit I like a beer once in a while, and I'm not ashamed of it. Wouldn't hurt some of the rest to do the same and come out behind that cloak of self appointed purity and 'fess up. You ain't fooling anybody.

This is only a dream of mine. In all likelihood it will be jammed down my throat with cries of indignation. Well, let people jam. I'm impervious to some forms of criticism.

I still see no wrong in a beer garden on campus. Let's be honest with ourselves, college students will imbibe, why force them downtown. The beer garden has a place on the American Campus.

Religion Stateside By Kay Wollan

Perhaps a reminder is in order to the church groups that news must be in by Monday night if it is to be in that week's paper. Too much news has been coming in too late to be written up.

If you noticed last week's column was better than usual, that was because Dianne Aafedt took it over while I was on tour with the band. Many thanks to her for the job she did.

Well, tonight we go up north and cheer our Buffalo hoopers on to win another duet. We heard a rumor that the NDU Igloosers are happy to be home this week-end—they got lonesome last week-end as their fans were home watching hockey. Too bad—they missed two good games.

Next week, when home and recovered, stop in at the Straus Company, No. 70 Broadway and see the new 4-button Ivy League suits for spring—Kool at $50.00. Also a dazzling new jacket assortment, plain, plaid, and plentiful.

Baby Bison Hit Stride After Slow Start; Ron Schiff Leads Team In Scoring

By Clarence Anderson

After a poor start the Baby Bison appear to have hit their stride.

Although they have a 5-won, 7-lost record, this belies the team's play the past several weeks. The frosh have won four out of their last five games after dropping six of seven games at the beginning of the season.

The team's top performance thus far came last Saturday night in a decisive 62-48 victory over the Sioux frosh.

Coach Cliff Hendrickson stated that he is well pleased with the improvement of the team as a whole.

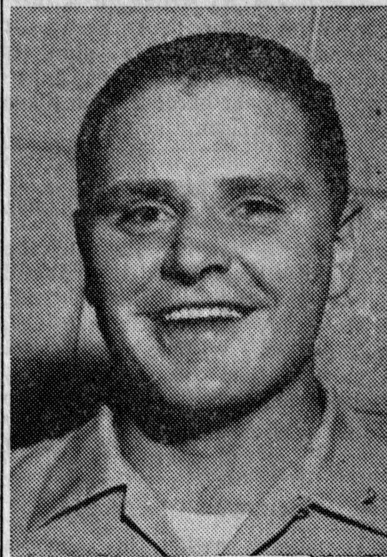

As far as individual statistics go, the honors are divided among four men. In scoring, Ron Schiff leads with 152 points for a 12.7 average per game. Gary Boldenow is runnerup with 112. The third and fourth spots are held down by Ross Fortier and Bill Bartels with 107 and 102 points, respectively.

Schiff also leads in field goals having netted 63. Fortier is second in that department with 50. In free throw production Boldenow leads with 46.

The team has been paced by the guard combination of Fortier and Schiff. Both are undoubtedly varsity prospects for next year. Fortier has turned in a fine job as the floor general and team play-maker.

Most Valuable Player Award Presented To Roger Gebhart

Roger Gebhart

During the half time of Friday night's NDSC-NDU game, the Dennis Drews Award was presented to Roger Gebhart by Dr. Hultz, NDSC President. This award is given annually to the most valuable Bison football player.

The trophy is in memory of a former NDSC athlete, Dennis Drews. Drews was an all conference fullback in 1948. Besides being football captain and the most valuable on the football team, he participated in many campus activities. Drews, a Korean War pilot, was killed in 1954 as the result of an air accident.

Gebhart won all conference honors at guard for the Bison in 1956. He won several letters in high school and led his team to the State Class "A" Basketball Championship in 1953. Roger, a junior in AAS, hails from Wahpeton, North Dakota.

SPORT SHORTS By MAC

This weekend four NDSC seniors wind up their basketball careers with State. Outstanding Bison guard Ken Flynn, Big John Haas, Sylvan Melroe and Howard Heil will be the four retiring from the hardwood. These fellows have left their mark on the sports records here at State.

Tonight the Herd will be gunning for that all-important third win in the series. A win either tonight or tomorrow will give them credit for another conference win and boost their conference standing to third place.

Warren Arman's 24 point outburst in the second half last Saturday night and his 29 point effort on Friday certainly deserves recognition. Bob Brown came through in fine style by sinking a field goal with 20 seconds remaining to tie the game and give the Herd a chance to win in the overtime.

Ken Flynn and John Foss turned in their usually fine games at guard positions.

Cliff Hendrickson deserves a pat on the back for his part in getting the Frosh up for the two games with the Papooses. Ron Schiff gathered in 55 points in two games to lead all scorers.

Teams and Ross Fortier turned in two outstanding games showing his talents as a floor general.

Verne Schanilac will do the honors of finishing up this little page of non-sense with his views on Teammakers.

heard of the Teammakers Club? If so, don't stop reading now because this is meant to clue in the unknowing and clarify things for others.

The Teammakers Club is a non-profit corporation composed of Fargo businessmen, NDSC grads, and grads of other colleges. They organized in 1954 and are long due for some recognition.

Their aims are threefold: (1) To promote enthusiasm for NDSC athletics (2) to assist coaches in finding jobs for athletes (3) to raise money for the aid of athletes mostly through membership fees.

It must be understood that the Club does not recruit athletes but helps them once they get here. It gives them tuition and jobs by soliciting funds and makes Fargo aware of SC goings on in the process.

About 150 boys have been helped since the grant-in-aid program began. Once the student fails scholastically or is dropped from the team all aid is immediately cancelled.

The NDSC Scholarship Committee has given approval to the Teammaker's plans and all activities fall within the bounds of NCAA and NCC rules.

Les Luymes, SC Athletic Director, has labeled the Teammaker as "the lifeline of the entire grant-in-aid program" and "a vital and will be vital as long as the program is in effect". That statement is evidence enough that the Teammakers Club is invaluable to SC.

Presently, Jim Otis is President of the Club, but a new slate of officers will be elected soon.

It should be realized by all that the only school aid our athlete get is through the Teammaker. Considering all the time that is demanded of an athlete it is still not adequate. I don't mean to imply that an athlete should get paid outright, but let's look at it that way.

Every sport demands constant practice and training on the part of the athlete. A couple hours practice, games and roadtrips a cut into the time he could be studying, working or sleeping. An athlete that is financially short will lose out in the hassle and not only deprives himself of participation, but also the school.

Therefore, the Teammakers are doing their best to help our boys get an education and still carry out their athletic interests.

The Club is only in its third year of existence and perhaps is too early to realize any great benefits. However, they will get stronger and more efficient time goes on and soon we'll see just how badly we need them.

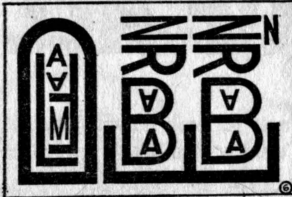

Hats off to the Teammakers, let them be everlastingly known this campus.

I had a (mighty) short chat with the Sioux's star guard, Bing Larson, right after the second game. He was thoroughly downcast and related that the Sioux should have won both games. Oh well, you can't blame him for this thought and I wouldn't mind having a whole benchful of players just like him.

Also saw Jon Haaven sitting before his locker, spooning a jar contents quite readily into his mouth. Maybe it was a shot deadener.

See you in the land of igloos tonight—I won't see much Saturday night.

Bison Trip Sioux For Two Wins In Weekend Clash; Second Game Proves To Be Thriller

Warren Arman makes a break up-court with the ball as Jon Haaven gets set to beat him there. Haaven's efforts were to no avail as Arman gave forth with his best game of the season.

The NDSC Bison gave the fans something to remember last Friday, with a comeback triumph of 81-87, over NDU in their last home game of the season.

The Herd suddenly came to life after trailing by as much as 15 points to tie the score with 22 seconds remaining on a bucket by Bob Brown.

The Herd went to a score 10 points in the overtime, 8 by John Foss, to capture the win.

In Friday's game the Bison handed the Sioux a 73-70, setback on the Concordia Fieldhouse floor. Warren Arman produced his best game of the season scoring 29 points and holding Jon Haaven to 22.

Ken Flynn and John Foss scored 18 and 16 respectively for the Bison. Bing Larson added 14 to the Sioux total.

It was Saturday's game that brought the fans to their feet. The Bison couldn't seem to find

Women Hold Meeting To Organize Rifle Club

An organizational meeting of the NDSC Women's Rifle Club will be held Wednesday, Feb. 27, between 3 and 5 p.m. at the rifle range in the fieldhouse basement. Plans for practice time and future meetings will be considered.

Experience is of little importance in joining the club. Even if you have never held a rifle before, but would like to try it, attend the meeting.

If you care to try a few practice shots on Wednesday, come to the meeting in slacks.

Little Buffalo Split Ball Game Honors With Little Indians

The NDSC Baby Bison split a pair of basketball games last weekend with the University Papooses on the Concordia fieldhouse floor, dropping Friday's game, 75-69, and coming back strong Saturday to win going away, 62-48.

A 32 point spurt by Ron Schiff led the Baby Bison to a 40-32 halftime lead but the bottom fell out for the Frosh in the second half as the U Papooses tied it up with about four minutes remaining and went on to cop the win.

Saturday, Schiff again was the big gun pouring in 23 counters and this time the NDSC Yearings kept the game on ice with some well engineered stalling and fine defensive play in the final minutes of the game.

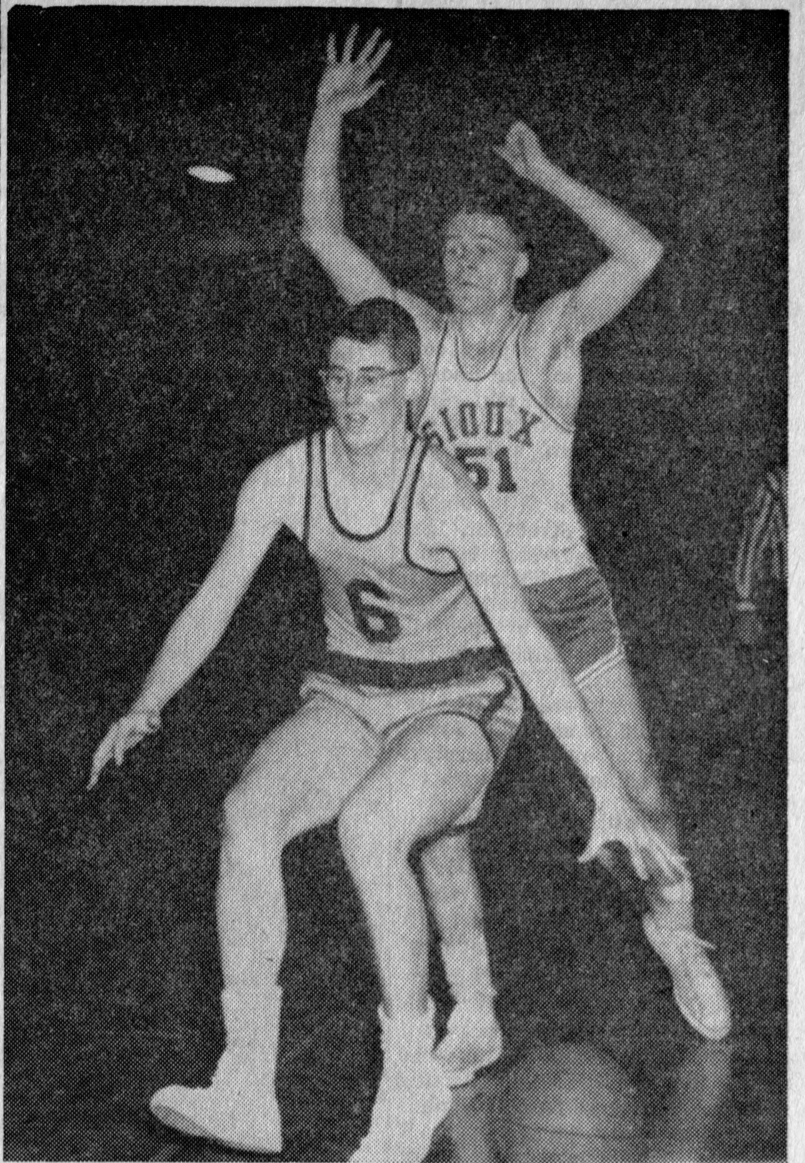

State Marksmen Cop Rifle Match

The State ROTC rifle teams topped teams from UND in a shoulder-to-shoulder match on the SC firing range last Saturday.

Firing 1873 out of a possible 2000, the SC Army ROTC rifle team defeated its closest opponent by 71 points.

In second place was the SC Air Force ROTC rifle team with a score of 1802. UND Air Force total 1706.

High individual score was made by Bruce Cofell, NDSC Army ROTC Cadet from Fargo. Cofell's scores were 97, 100, 97 and 87 in the four points for a 381.

Ron Schiff comes to a screeching halt as an unidentified Sioux player is caught off guard. The Baby Bison split the home games with the Papooses.

Home Ec Students Plan Mpls. Journey

The annual field trip to Minneapolis for Home Economics majors is being planned for March 31 to April 2, 1957. This trip is made to give girls who have chosen Home Economics as a career an opportunity to visit various establishments which employ Home Economists or which supply consumer goods used in the home. Miss Mildred Hawkins and Miss Kathryn Weesner, members of the Home Economics staff, will accompany the group.

The establishments to be visited this year include: Strutwear, Inc., manufacturers of dresses by the section method; the Minneapolis Gas Company which conducts an educational program to provide assistance to homemakers in the use of appliances; the Minneapolis Institute of Art to see the fine exhibit of period rooms; and Southdale to observe modern merchandising methods and facilities.

The trip will be made by chartered bus, and the group will stay at the Curtis Hotel. A fee of $18.50, paid at the time of registration, will cover all costs of transportation, lodging and insurance. Meals and tips will be paid for by each participant.

Reservations for the trip may be made with Miss Hawkins starting February 25. These field trip plans will of necessity be dropped if there is an insufficient number of reservations to fill the bus by March 15.

What's doing... at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

New "high-road" to JET ENGINE FRONTIER in Florida

Heralding important things to come, work was begun in late summer, 1956, on a wide access road in a remote section of Palm Beach County, Florida. At the end of that road, situated northwest of West Palm Beach, a 500,000-square-foot plant destined to be the newest addition to Pratt & Whitney Aircraft engineering facilities is already well under construction.

Here, engineers and scientists will soon be hard at work dealing with new and increasingly complex problems relating to advanced jet aircraft engines. Working in close coordination with men at other P & W A establishments — particularly the company's multi-million-dollar Andrew Willgoos Turbine Laboratory in Connecticut — this newest section of the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft team will face a challenging assignment. They, too, will be concerned with design, testing and development of highly advanced, extremely powerful jet engines which will join a family already including J-57 and J-75 turbojets, currently playing important roles in the growing military and commercial air power of the United States.

The engineering graduate who begins his career at this Florida facility will have the rare opportunity of keeping pace with its anticipated growth. In an organization renowned for development engineering superiority, he will gain invaluable experience working on vital, long-range projects that are a challenge to the imagination.
