McLain Chosen New Student Body President

Barnabas Rad (center) arrived on campus last week to begin studies here under the Hungarian Refugee Student plan. He will audit courses here this spring and enroll in a regular course next fall. He is flanked by Ron Brandvold and Dewey Swenson on the left and Tip Miller and Bev Pfeifer on the right, who met Barny when he came to Fargo.

Scabbard And Blade Society To Be Replaced By National Army Set-up

Dakota Company of the Association of the United States Army has received its official organizational charter from the national group, and will soon be organized as the newest organization on the campus.

The AUSA chapter will replace Scabbard and Blade as an organization for advanced Army ROTC cadets.

The Association is an organization composed of civilian and military personnel throughout the na-

Three groups of dancers from Archthesis, the national dance organization on campus, will perform on KXJB television this Friday afternoon.

"Bali Ceremonial" is the title of one of the dances. It is a primitive-type of modern dance done to the record "You and You Alone" by the Three Sons. Dancing in "Bali Ceremonial" will be Myrna Dittus, Marilyn Strobel, Marilyn Jensen, and Janice Anderson.

The girls are doing their own choreography with the help of Mrs. Anderson, instructor in modern dance.

Union Addition Is Approved; Work To Begin In Spring

Merle Nott, memorial union board president, announced Friday that approval has been granted by the state legislature for a loan to build an addition to the Student Union.

Nott stated the bill enabled the Union to borrow $100,000 from the bank of North Dakota for an addition to the Bison room to be built on the north side of the present facilities.

Union officials are meeting in Bismarck today to draft the necessary provisions for the loan.

Plans call for the completion of architectural drawings and the signing of building contracts this spring with completion in time for school next fall.

The approval of the loan came a week ago last Wednesday along with other college appropriations.

When the final ballot was counted last Tuesday night Eldon McLain emerged victor in the three way contest for student body president. Twelve new members for the coming year's Student Senate were named.

Prexy-Elect Offers Blanket Thank-You

To The Student Body:

I wish to take this opportunity to extend a sincere word of thanks to the members of the SC Vets Club who so ably accomplished the technical details of my campaign. Also a word of thanks to my opponents for conducting their campaigns in an upstanding and a gentleman-like manner.

A special thank you goes to all who voted for me in the past election. Regardless of what certain people think of this office, it is still a big job with many responsibilities. I shall do my best to uphold your confidence in me. Thank you again.

State College Heifer Takes Top Trophy At Winter Show

In the judging Wednesday NDSC walked off with many other top honors. In addition to the grand champion Shorthorn heifer, SC also had the reserve champion Angus bull and grand champion Hampshire ram.

NDSC also scored in the sales Thursday and Friday. Another Shorthorn heifer was named grand champion Shorthorn sale heifer and later sold for $630. A Columbia ram consigned by NDSC was top-selling ram at $162.

In what has been described as the best Winter Show to date, the NDSC cattle, under the supervision of Bob Magill and Clint Kopp, placed high in most classes.

Eldon McLain

puts five freshmen into senate. Two sophomores and 5 juniors make up the rest of the new senators.

Another interesting note to the returns is that half of the new senators are girls. This brings the male-female ratio of student senate to nine girls and nine boys.

The presidential race remained close between Schwartz and McLain right up to the finish, with Monson bringing up the rear all evening.

The senate race was a close one all the way, except for Schnell and Nelson, who led their respective departments from start to finish.

Coeds Are Delegates To Athletic Conclave

Six WAA members from NDSC will attend National Womens Athletic Association convention at Lincoln, Nebraska, April 15-18.

Judy Haga and VelRae Neeb are official delegates. Unofficial delegates are Rose Birdsall, Karen Cornell, Mary Ellen Fehr and Claire Kinsler. The convention will be held at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb.

The biennial convention is to give students information and provide learning experience of new sports and sports methods. It also presents new methods for teaching sports and general information for better WAA organizations.

Henning Speaks To Arch. Eng.

Professor Knute A. Henning, chairman, department of architecture at NDSC, spoke before the spring meeting of the South Dakota Chapter of the American Institute of Architects in Watertown, S. D., this week.

Professor Henning spoke on the topic "Architectural Education." He is a charter member of the North Dakota chapter of the American Institute.

Greetings again from behind the desk. First of all congratulations and the best of luck to McLain and to the new senators. Hope you have a good year in your newly acquired positions.

A few weeks ago there appeared in The Spectrum an article concerning this spring's baseball program, with a reference to last year's spring training trip.

In that article it was stated that "the trip last year cost approximately $3,000", and that "any trip this spring would be of a less extensive nature."

Some question was made as to the validity of the cost given for last year's trip, and upon investigation I found that it was an erroneous statement.

The actual cost of last year's southern trip was less than $750. And another interesting note is that this money was not supplied by the college. In fact, the college made some $130.00 on the deal.

Bony Rothrock, who was then coach of the baseball team, was in charge of the trip, and showed me figures to prove that he had raised over $800.00 in the form of individual contributions and donations from local businessmen, as well as contributions from Student Senate, Letterman's Club and other campus organizations.

Bony and his boys over at Concordia are planning the same trip that the Bison took last spring. Hope they do as well as our boys did.

Don't have anything else to say this week, so I will proceed to write another few inches of nothing. Only three or four more issues of this here thing and I will retire in lieu of a new Spectrum Editor. Have really enjoyed serving on the paper for the past year, but it sure will be nice to step down and enjoy picnics and all that rot this spring.

So have a ball on your quarter break, and come back ready for a spring chock full of parties, banquets and balls. Goombye.

State Students Air Varied Opinions Concerning Gregorio's Recent Attacks

By Bill Baillie

Gregorio, whatever you think of him, stirs up student comment on the NDSC campus.

In a recent campus-wide poll, SC students were asked, "Just what is your opinion of the Gregorio column?"

Answers ranged far and wide, from "I dig him the most," to "Have a banana."

Following are several excerpts, pro and con from the poll:

BOB THOMPSON, freshman, AAS: "I think he accomplishes his purpose if he'd just study his subject more — he generalizes too much. It's definitely an asset to The Spectrum."

JIM HARVEY, grad., Chem. "—just trying to get an article in the paper, so he writes controversially. There are purely personal reasons for The Academy. Any coward can knock something, but it takes a man to try and change things."

COLEEN KANDT, senior, AAS: "I think it's the best thing that's happened to The Spectrum since Hal Miller quit."

SYLVAN MELROE, senior, Ag.: "He's rather blunt, and he makes unqualified statements."

DON GRIMM, sophomore, EE: "The whole idea of bringing controversial subjects up before the student body is stimulating. Everywhere you go on Friday you hear discussion on these subjects. I personally think some of his ideas are screwy, but articles of this type eventually make for a more well-informed student body."

LYNN PARKEL, junior, Pharmacy: "I like it. I believe that Gregorio's articles are really making people think."

PETE GJERTSON, senior, EE: "I think it really wakes the readers up."

MYRTH WEISER, sophomore, HE: "I think him to be just a little narrow. I don't agree with many of his articles—especially the one dealing with the ISA."

A tally of these and other comments gathered in the poll resulted in a split student body, with 46% favoring the articles, 43% against them, and 11% undecided.

Campus Radio is going to enlarge its facilities over the coming quarter break. When the spring quarter begins, we will have teletype service, a complete television studio, hook-ups with a national network, and facilities for handling personal appearances on our campus of nationally-known TV personalities. In order to accomplish this, KDSC is going to take over the entire second floor of the Memorial Student Union.

None of the above statements are true, but doesn't it make a DANDY story?

In the world of reality, this column's absence last week was caused by the excess of election news. I wasn't mad at anybody.

Talking Book Makes Grief Known; Wonders Where Brothers, Sisters Are

Have you seen any of my missing brothers and sisters lately?

Many of them have disappeared and our guardians, the librarians, just don't know where to look for them. Perhaps you could help.

You see, I am a book and I live at the NDSC library with about 116,000 of my brothers and sisters. We enjoy living in the freedom and convenience of the open stacks, but unfortunately, many of us disappear each year. Could it be that the open stacks contribute to the disappearance?

Recently, after the library had closed for the night, we books held a council meeting to discuss the situation. We decided that the books and magazines are taken from the library without authorization by well-meaning students.

We believe that the students intend to return the borrowed items, but unfortunately many never do. We also learned that one of our brothers in the encyclopedia section is currently missing. Needless to say, we hope for his quick return.

Categories showing the largest losses are sex (shy about checking out the books?); athletics (particularly coaching), and hypnotism.

Did You Know? By Corky

"The time has come, the walrus said, to speak of many things; of shoes, and ships, and sealing wax, of cabbages, and kings."

'Tis the end of the quarter, and it is indeed difficult to think of some worthwhile topic to discuss, praise, criticize, or just plain chew the fat on.

The student elections are over, the winners congratulated, and the ballot boxes again laid away to collect dust for another year.

Greek elections have taken place, and everyone is or is not surprised at the identity of the new president of any one particular group. Students are struggling along in this, the final week of the winter quarter, and are awaiting the foreboding exams. At the same time they are attempting to set up a schedule for the spring quarter, that will give them the maximum time for doing things other than going to classes.

Thoughts are turning to the outdoor sports of golf, tennis, picnics and other forms of monkey business (Love included).

That winter wardrobe of clothes is losing its' attractive force for the sartorial perfectionist. It is a period of frustration. The winter clothes are too heavy and the spring clothes are too light for the changeable weather of March. Fly not yet, 'tis but the hour of transition.

The seniors are beginning to realize their brief but glorious fling at college life is drawing to a rapid close. They have but one quarter in which to impart to their successors all the knowledge and wisdom they have acquired. It is now or never for them, if they wish to leave their mark for posterity's sake.

But one must eventually run out of nonsense, and so, as the old saying goes: "Onward, onward, oh time in thy flight," so I'm going too.

We leave you now, to return another day, ready or not.

Marriage Course Could Have Merits On State Campus

To the Editor:

Have you ever heard of a course in marriage preparation and personal relations?

The University of Minnesota has a department that gives counseling and offers credit courses on these subjects.

College students, especially girls, have long talks about the adjustments needed for marriage and the possibilities of furthering their careers after marriage. Some students feel there is a need for education in such personal relations, so a number of colleges have tried to meet this with just such a department.

What do more students at NDSU think about a human relations department on their campus? Many have said that they would be willing to work for it.

(Author of "Barefoot Boy With Cheek," etc.)

NOW YOU CAN BE YOUNGER THAN SHE IS!

It's a scientific fact that girls reach emotional maturity earlier than boys. For this reason freshman girls decline to make romantic alliances with freshman boys.

Thus, the freshman boys are left dateless, and many's the night the entire freshman dorm sobs itself to sleep. An equally damp situation exists among upper-class girls. With upperclassmen being snapped up by freshman girls, the poor upper-class girls are reduced to dreary, manless evenings of Scrabble and home permanents.

There is a solution for this morbid situation — a very simple solution. Why don't the two great have-not groups find solace with one another?

True, there is something of an age differential, but that need not matter. Take the case of Albert Payson Sigafoos and Eustacia Vye.

Albert Payson, a freshman in sand and gravel at Vanderbilt University, was walking across campus one day, weeping softly in his loneliness. Blinded by tears, he stumbled upon the supine form of Eustacia Vye, a senior in wicker and raffia, who was collapsed in a wretched heap on the turf.

"We could get a third and play some one-o-cat."

"Why don't you watch where you're going, you squirt?" said Eustacia peevishly.

"I'm sorry, lady," said Albert Payson and started to move on. But suddenly he stopped, struck by an inspiration. "Lady," he said, "you're miserable because you can't get a date. So am I. So why don't we date each other?"

"Surely you jest!" cried Eustacia, looking with scorn upon his youthful head and body.

"Oh, I know I'm younger than you are," said Albert Payson, "but that doesn't mean we can't find many splendid things to do together."

"Like what?" asked Eustacia.

"Well," said Albert Payson, "we could get a third and play some one-o-cat."

"Bah!" said Eustacia, grinding her teeth.

"All right then," said Albert Payson, "we could go down to the pond and skip some stones and maybe catch a few frogs."

"Ugh!" said Eustacia, shuddering her entire length.

"How about some run-sheep-run?" he suggested.

"You are callow, green, and immature," said Eustacia, "and I will thank you to absent yourself at once!"

Sighing, Albert Payson lit a cigarette and started away.

"Stay!" cried Eustacia.

"Was that," she asked, "a Philip Morris you just lit?"

"What else?" said Albert Payson.

"Then you are not immature!" she cried, clapping him to her clavicle. "For to smoke Philip Morris is the very essence of wisdom, incontrovertible proof that you know rich, natural pleasure from pale, poor substitutes! Albert Payson, I am yours!"

And today they are married and run one of the biggest wicker and raffia establishments in Blue Earth, Minnesota.

Study Tips Offered To Help Students Face Final Exams

Do you know how to study? With final exams beginning, students start cramming. This could be eliminated if they had a basic system for studying. You should try to develop some good study habits now and practice them for spring quarter. Here are tips from several "How to Study" guides:

Study in one place. Pick a room that's quiet and make sure you have good light and ample work space.

Study at the same time every day. Eliminate the temptation of TV and the gang's hangout by setting a special time to study and sticking to it.

Have all your reference books handy. Along with your text and library books, keep a dictionary always at hand. Get into the habit of looking up the pronunciation and meaning of words that you don't know.

Study alone. Once you've been over your lesson by yourself it's okay to go over it with a friend, but do the real digesting by yourself.

Keep legible notes. Write clearly so that anybody could read them.

Make an outline of your lesson. Make a clear brief digest of what you're studying. It will come in handy when you're reviewing for exams.

Take time out to relax between subjects. Stand up and stretch, blink your eyes to rest them or take a short walk to ease the strain.

Understand why you are studying... that the more you know, the more you understand, the better student you will be.

Bowlers, Muddy Feet, Dirty Ash Trays, None Of These Can Outshine Money

Did you ever stop and think how you and your fellow students appear in the eyes of a Union employee?

Let's find out! First, take the fellows who work in the bowling alley. To the pin setter a bowler is nothing more than a machine which frequently fires a ball down the alley to set the pins flying. The pins have to be picked up and set up and the ball returned only to have the tireless bowler knock them down again.

The fellow behind the desk? He is a patient man who dispenses shoes and takes money. He firmly believes that bowlers are completely illiterate when it comes to reading signs such as "Please Return Balls To Racks."

Across the hall is the bookstore. These people put up with a quarterly rush of student who demand to be waited upon instantly. They have the never-ending chore of stocking shelves and keeping things in order.

Now let's meet employees of the Bison Room; girls in checkered dresses and the fellas in not too white uniforms.

To the dishwasher the people out front are nothing more than a group that takes delight in dirtying dishes. He sees them as people who use cups as ash trays and ash trays to hold mounds of rolled napkins. He sees a customer as a person who loves to pack firmly into coke glasses the napkins that wouldn't stay in the ash trays.

never-ending line of special plate orders or coffee drinkers.

They too believe that college students cannot read, especially when it comes to signs about stacking dishes.

They see students as people who use napkins to doodle on or when they get tired of using napkins they use table tops. They loathe the people who constantly spill coffee and keep tables in a mess.

To janitors, students are people with perpetually muddy feet, persons who don't know how to use ash trays or take delight in smearing up windows.

People who work in the Union who are not students view the daily throng a little less cynically. They see students as people who are paying for and will own the building and whose interest makes the Union the success that it is.

Why, you ask, do the student employees work here if it's so aggravating?

The answer? Simple! Payday comes the first of every month!

Iowa State College Daily Reflects On Student Springtime Relationships

(ACP)—Spring seems to have come to Iowa. This editorial from the Iowa State College Daily, Ames, Iowa, reflects some thoughts on the subject.

With the coming of spring a student grows restless. He dreams of picnics, golf, and panty raids. He is the first to put on Bermuda shorts, to sport a summer tie and whistle at the girls.

That's a college student. And give him a few more hours of daylight and the promise of added hours to come and he can suddenly organize parties or sleep longer than anyone.

His darkest thoughts are brightened by thoughts of an approaching weekend. The cold war, Middle East situation, graduation and active military duty are intangible objects hidden in the lengthening shadows of longer days.

Suddenly he feels better. Examinations aren't so important. Dates are easier to get. And the student gazes out the window dreaming—about monkey business.

And after all is done and said, we must conclude that the anthropologist is right—man did stem from the small version of the ape—commonly known as the monkey. We conclude that this explains the monkey business that occurs on the campus every spring.

What's doing... at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Professors practice what they preach... and vice versa

Following a practice of twenty years, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft will again welcome a group of college professors as members of the engineering staff during the coming summer months.

Last year our "summer professors" represented colleges from coast to coast. They tackled important projects in such diverse fields as instrumentation and vibration, combustion, compressible flow, and materials development. Despite the limited time available to these men, they made significant contributions to our overall effort.

Though it was to be expected that both the company and the participating professors might benefit directly from such a program, the sphere of influence has been much broader. The many students who are taught by these professors during the college year are sharing the ultimate benefits... profiting from lectures that are sparked by the kind of practical experience that can be gained with a recognized industry leader like Pratt & Whitney Aircraft.

Byron Webb Elected President Of LSA

Pat Webb, a junior in Pharmacy and a member of Sigma Chi fraternity was elected LSA President at the annual business meeting Sunday, March 3, at the Lutheran Student Center.

Other new officers elected were Joan Tangen, first vice president; Jim Oster, second vice president; Harold Brattland, treasurer; Noel Estenson, study secretary; Carol Tuntland, service secretary; Clara Feikert, publications director; Arlen Dahlen, recreation; and Dale Lundby, chapel director.

Herrick Elected The Top SUAB Member

Mary Herrick, freshman in Home Ec. was elected SUAB Committee Member of the Month of February. Mary is a 1956 Shanley High School graduate from Fargo, and a pledge of Gamma Phi Beta. Mary is responsible for many of the posters and much of the publicity for SUAB activities on which she has worked hard and has done a fine job.

Several "summer profs" voluntarily spent part of their time conducting refresher courses for P & W A's young engineers.

One assignment involved a comprehensive survey of equipment for the expansion of high-altitude test facilities in Willgoos Laboratory, the world's most complete, privately owned jet engine lab.

Technical contributions were varied. Worthwhile assistance was given in vibration and instrumentation studies.

Student Critic Hails LCT Production As Interesting And Entertaining Drama

By Kerry Murphy
"The Plough and The Stars", a play written by Sean O'Casey and directed by Dr. Frederick Walsh, is showing at the Little Country Theatre tonight and tomorrow night.

The story is based on life in a Dublin tenement house shortly before and during the Irish Easter Rebellion of 1916.

The play opens with talk of war and we find that Nora, in a selfish move, has destroyed military orders in an attempt to keep her husband, Jack, away from the fighting; however, he eventually receives his orders and leaves anyway.

There is constant bickering and arguing among the characters concerning their patriotism and beliefs. Bessie Burgess is the disrespected Protestant who sees little good in the fighting and often makes derogatory remarks concerning it and the people involved.

Act III brings us up to the Easter Rebellion of 1916 and takes place in front of the tenement house. Jack, after going through some fighting, returns and finds himself warding off his wife in an attempt to get back to the struggle.

After a perfunctorily performed love scene between Jack and Nora, Jack scoots through the tenement and goes back to the futile war for independence.

In Act IV, the final act, the mood changes from that of humor and chauvinism to one of tragedy. Nora has become hysterical after losing her baby, and Mollser, the daughter of Mrs. Gogan, has died from consumption.

Patricia Connelly, playing the part of Nora, finally comes through with some mood setting acting—something she failed to do earlier, and Bessie Burgess winds up as a "good woman" but dies in an effort to protect Nora from the danger of an open window and the bullets of a sniper.

Monica Savageau plays the part of Bessie Burgess and does a good job of it. She creates mood when it should be created; portrays an angry drunken woman when the time calls; and does an impressive job of dying shortly before the final curtain.

Irony comes forth in the final act when Peter Flynn and Fluther Good, two enthusiastic outspoken patriots, hide themselves on the top floor of the tenement house and play cards to pass the time while there is still fighting going on below.

Peter Flynn, Nora's uncle and an old soldier, is played by Frederick Emery. The uncle, a fiery old man, is quick tempered and fidgety (perhaps too fidgety), and believes he is constantly being "thwarted and tormented."

Fluther Good is portrayed by George Poletes. Poletes plays the role well. He depicts Fluther as a conscientious carpenter, a heated arguer, a rebellious freedom seeker, an alcoholic, and a coward afraid to fight.

Poletes and Emery give the play most of its humor.

Little can be said about the acting of the Irish soldiers. They speak without an Irish brogue, they put too much emphasis on articulation—thus the lines lose their effect, and they remind one of actors seen in high school performances.

O'Casey shows the troubles of the futile war and spreads pity and laughter throughout the whole play. Despite some long speeches and an inclination toward some propaganda, the play is constantly interesting and entertaining.

Ruth Mortenson Named '57-'58 Kappa Prexy

Ruth Mortenson, a junior in AAS from Barnesville, Minn., is the new president of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. She succeeds Monica Savageau.

Pat Moore was elected vice president; Sonja Oimeon, corresponding secretary; Maureen Stegman, recording secretary; LaVonne Biel, treasurer; Janet Brudvik, registrar; Janice Brudvik, pledge captain; Karen Lenaberg, marshal; Sharon Stevenson, house chairman; Lorraine Hanson, scholarship;

Ruth Mortenson, Panhellenic senior; Janet Brudvik, Panhellenic junior; Karen Edinger, social chairman; LaVonne Schwartz, public relations; Lois Williams, membership; LaVonne Biel, music chairman; Janet Kippen, activities chairman; Janet Brudvik, chaplain.

ROTC Cadets Seeing Class From Teacher's Point Of View

Have you ever been in an instructor's shoes?

The Air Force ROTC Cadets are getting a chance this quarter to exchange places with an instructor. From now on they may be more sympathetic.

Part of the Air Science III course is entitled "Instructing in the Air Force". It teaches cadets the principles of preparing and presenting lectures and demonstrations. This is necessary because every officer may be called on to do this some time during his career.

Every cadet must present a lecture during a regular class period. He is graded jointly by the instructor and cadets on the basis of interest, organization, and manner of presentation.

NDSC guard, Ken Flynn will participate in the Minnesota-Minnesota basketball game to be played in the Concordia Fieldhouse Saturday night.

This is the preliminary before the exhibition game between the Harlem Globetrotters and the Philadelphia Spas.

Other members of the local team are Jon Haaven, NDU center, Bill Quenette, Concordia forward and Dale Serum and Ken Reitan, of MSTC.

These men served as captain or co-captains of their respective teams for the past season. Rounding out the All-Star squad are Phil Kieselbach of MSTC and Ray Falls and Arnold Porkkonen of Concordia.

The opposition will be made up of seniors from the '56-'57 University of Minnesota basketball team.

Included in this group will be Gopher starters Jed Dommeyer, Dave Tucker, Buck Lindsley and George Hanson.

The preliminary game is scheduled to get under way at 7 p.m.

Three Records Shattered In NCC Play This Past Season

Only three records were broken by North Central Conference cagers during the 1956-57 season. No new marks were added during the final week of play.

This is a meager production compared to last season when a wholesale assault brought down 12 records of the 20 on the books.

The lone individual mark to fall went to Jim Sutton of South Dakota State who shot a .524 clip on field goals to snap his own standard of .521 set last season.

Two team records went down the drain as North Dakota University collected 719 rebounds for an average of 59.9 per game. The Sioux also held the former marks of 666 and 55.5 set in 1954.

Jon Haaven, North Dakota's scoring and rebounding ace, failed by one rebound in his efforts to add the league titles in rebounding and average to those he holds in scoring. He snagged only nine in his final game at Iowa Teachers to give him a total of 198 and a 16.5 average. The records of 199 and 16.6 are held by Del Nicklaus of Iowa Teachers. In 1954 Haaven set scoring marks of 315 points and a 26.2 average.

Haaven and Sutton shared the individual statistics titles, each capturing two for the season.

Haaven took the scoring crown with 251 points and a 20.9 average.

His nearest rival in scoring was Jim Daniels of South Dakota university who tallied 230 points for a 19.2 average. Sutton and Kent Hyde of South Dakota State with 223 and 212 points joined with Ken Flynn of North Dakota State with 202 in making more than 200 points.

Haaven had a wider margin in rebounding. Runnerup was Hyde with 158 rebounds and a 13.2 average while third place was held by Keith Warner of Morningside with 152 and a 12.7 average.

Sutton was far ahead of his closest rivals in winning the titles in field goal and free throw accuracy. His .524, made on 77 of 147 attempts, was followed by Jim Daniels' .486 on 87 of 179 tries. In third place was Hyde with a .479 mark compiled on 70 successful shots in 146 attempts.

Sutton's margin in free throw shooting was even larger. The nation's leader in this department made 69 of 77 charity tosses in league play for an .896 mark. Dennis Filliman of Iowa Teachers was second with .811 on 43 of 53 attempts and Morningside's Don Poppen was third with 49 of 61 for a mark of .803.

Aside from North Dakota university's record-breaking efforts in team rebounding, all other team titles went to the conference co-champions, South Dakota State and South Dakota university. The Sioux were followed in rebounding by North Dakota State with 663 for a 55.3 average.

South Dakota State led the loop in offense, field goal accuracy and free throw shooting while South Dakota U. claimed the best defensive average.

The Jackrabbits tallied 953 points for a 79.4 average while the Coyotes were second with 929 and a 77.4 average. On defense the positions were reversed with the Coyotes allowing 762 for a 63.5 average and the Jacks following with 767 points allowed for a 63.9 average.

In field goal shooting South Dakota State made 320 of 775 shots for a .413 mark while the Coyotes were second with a .400 clip on 342 of 854 attempts.

State was successful on 313 of 448 free throw attempts for a .699 mark while Iowa Teachers was second with .677 on 237 of 350 shots.

New Grid Mentor To Meet Students

NDSC students are reminded of the football meeting coming up Monday, March 18. It is to be held in Room 204 in the Fieldhouse at 4 p.m.

This meeting is open to all of the football players and to anyone else interested in playing football.

Coach Bob Danielson is holding this meeting as a means of getting better acquainted with the football situation here. Here's a chance to help in promoting our team. Only through complete student cooperation can our athletic department organize and plan accurately for next year.

A large turnout at the meeting and high student interest will make our new coach's job much easier. Danielson is expected to arrive here to take over his new duties March 13. Athletic director Les Luymes indicated that he will be given a free hand in organizing the football program.

Last fall, our football began its rebuilding program. No one can deny that Les Luymes and his staff did a terrific job. Jumping from a winless season to a 5-4 record takes a lot of doing in any league.

With most of the team returning and the addition of some outstanding freshmen, the outlook for next fall is bright. With a year of North Central Conference competition behind them our fine crop of sophomore and junior lettermen must certainly be considered as NCC title contenders.

However, the team isn't without problems. One big problem is the replacement of Dean Sharp, NCC honorable mention halfback, who is presently in the Air Force.

We also have to have the same high team spirit which was very evident in last year's team. Certainly we can't have that with low student body interest in our team.

Only with a good football program and solid student body support can we bring in the type of freshmen next fall who will keep our team well up in the NCC standings in years to come.

Chevy is America's "hot" car -officially!

Chevrolet Wins Coveted Manufacturers' Trophy at Daytona Beach as "best performing U. S. automobile"!

Want facts about performance?

Then look at the official figures from NASCAR's* internationally famous Daytona Beach competition for stock cars. Here's what you'll find: Chevrolet, in two weeks of blistering competition, proved itself as America's Number One performance car. Nothing in the low-price field could touch it.

No other car, regardless of price, scored such a sweep. And Chevy walked away with the famous Manufacturers' Trophy, hands down!

The 1957 Chevrolet is, by all odds, the most astonishing performer ever produced in the low-price field. Best of all, this superiority isn't limited to just a few extra-cost high-performance models. Every type of Chevy—from the six-cylinder models right up to the 283-horsepower "Super Turbo-Fire" V8's, from the single-carburetor V8's with Powerglide to the stick-shift "270's"—is a championship car.

Spectrum Sports Scribe's Selection For All-Conference Team Is Flynn

Hello people. Last week my friend, Mr. Lubenow, the sports editor of the Dacotah Steward made a few crummy remarks about the selection of the Rajah award winner.

He charged and we quote: "Flynn did not win the award, it was an outright gift. The only award he received was the Fitzgerald award"

Lubenow, you really have nothing to gripe about. The voting was very close and Flynn came out the winner. You seemed to think that Heaven should have been the unanimous choice of the judges.

You were quite extreme in criticizing Mr. Fitzgerald of the Fargo Forum for voting for Flynn but made no mention of the man who cast his vote for Soox guard Bing Larson.

How can you blame Fitz for the outcome of the selection when it is clear that none of the three men were unanimous choices?

Your burst of hot air was uncalculated for and only proved how ridiculous you can be.

I wish to take nothing away from Haaven. He is perhaps the greatest ball player the NCC has ever seen. He broke both the rebounding and the scoring records during the season. Though he was valuable, he was not valuable enough, as he was outscored in two games and his team lost three games. Furthermore all he did in the series was score and he was obviously being fed.

Scoring is only half the game.

Flynn scored consistently during the series, his floor play and defense were outstanding, and he was on the team that won three out of four ball games.

It was close we agree and if Haaven had won the award I don't think anyone would have raised a big storm. But I think that there can be little doubt that Ken Flynn deserved the Rajah award.

Time has come to choose an all-conference basketball team. Having reviewed all candidates carefully, and having consulted several experts I have reached the following conclusions.

Players selected for the team are Ken Flynn, North Dakota State; Jon Haaven, North Dakota University; Jim Sutton, Kent Hyde, and Dal Eisenbraun, South Dakota State; Jim Daniels, Cliff Daniels, and Jim Truelson, University of South Dakota; Keith Warner, Morningside and Del Nicklaus,

Gamma Phi Beasts Romp To Victory Over ATO Beauties

A smashing tackle by Kay Keyes sent the Gamma Phi Beta Beasts to victory last Wednesday in the annual Bromo Bowl classic. Kay, 5'2", tackled Allen Brenteson, 6'5", captured the ball and the Beasts went on to a 14-7 victory over the Beauties of Alpha Tau Omega.

The game, played in a sleet storm in packed Dakota Field, is the 15th in the series played on this campus.

Ken "Cuddles" Cornell, coach for the Beasts, when asked by the press for a statement, said "It was our turn to win anyway, but the girls showed great enthusiasm, and boy, can they kiss!!"

Mighty Mary Meckstroth, coach for the Beauties, claimed that there were too many girls on the field at one time and took unfair advantage of her players.

Iowa State Teachers; Honorable Mention: John Foss, NDS; Bing Larson, NDU; Don Popen, Morningside; Clayton Kiewel, SDU; Frank Stotts, ISTC; Merlyn Smith, SDS and Bruce Haroldson, Augustana.

Intramural Season Nears Conclusion

The final rounds of intramural basketball play found the SAE's and ATO's battling it out. Fred Stover and his boys came out victorious in the contest.

Dean Kleven is the ATO matched against Fred in the jump ball, and in the background is ATO Marv Bender and SAE Lloyd Larson. The referee is Don Basche.

Bison In Steve Gorman League Race; Sioux Are Contemplating Withdrawal

NDSC will again field a team in the Steve Gorman Trophy Baseball League this spring.

This announcement was made last Saturday as members of the area intercollegiate baseball loop met at the Fargo Elk's Club to discuss plans for the coming season.

League commissioner Stan Kostka of Fargo presided over the meeting. The eight-team circuit will include NDSC, MSTC, Concordia, Wahpeton, Valley City, Jamestown, Mayville, and NDU.

NDU baseball coach Harold (Pinky) Kraft said that the Sioux may be forced to withdraw from the league unless the group revises its ruling on players who have signed contracts to play organized baseball. The league permits players who have signed professional contracts to compete one year after being released.

Kraft told the delegates that his team must comply with NCAA rules which do not permit member schools to use players who have signed pro contracts, nor to play against teams that use them. NDU will not act until the matter comes before the NDU athletic board this week.

The league likewise will be unable to make a schedule until the Sioux decision is announced. A scheduling committee of Chuck Benton of NDSC, MSTC's Larry McLeod, and Al Meyer of Mayville, will meet later to draw up the season's slate.

Lyle Moe Named New AGR Prexy

Lyle Moe, a junior in Agricultural Education from Corinth, N. Dak., was elected president of Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity Monday night. Moe began school at NDSC in 1951, served in the army in Alaska in 1954-55-56 and returned to school in the spring of 56.

Other officers named in Monday nights election are Neal Bjornson, vice president; Curt Nelson, secretary; Ron Mehrer, house manager; Les Breitbart, pledge trainer; Bob Knudson, alumni secretary; George Schwartz, social chairman; Jim Austin, usher; Howard Schmid, reporter; Clarence Anderson, chaplain.

The new officers will take over their positions at the beginning of the spring quarter.
