Mrs. Davis To Be Alumni Queen

Mrs. John Davis, wife of the governor of North Dakota and a graduate of NDSC will be crowned the first Alumni Queen of NDSC during the halftime ceremonies at the SC-UND football game at Dakota Field tomorrow afternoon.

E. Maine Shafer, president of the Alumni Association will crown Mrs. Davis after the Governor has crowned Jean Ann Nelson as the Homecoming Queen.

Mrs. Davis, an SC grad, is an alumni of the local chapter of Kappa Delta. The active and alumni members of the sorority are sponsoring an open house with Governor and Mrs. Davis as special guests. The open house will be held after the game tomorrow afternoon.

Governor Davis will participate in NDSC Homecoming activities both in Bismarck and in Fargo. While in Bismarck this morning, he will light the torch which will be run from the capital city to Fargo. He will be on hand during the parade tomorrow morning to officially welcome the final runner of the marathon as the torch is brought to the reviewing stand.

President and Mrs. Hultz will honor the Davis' at a luncheon in the Student Union at noon tomorrow. The State Board of Higher Education, the Alumni Board, and members of the college administration will be invited.

Governor and Mrs. Davis will have divided loyalties during the game tomorrow, since the governor is a graduate of the University and Mrs. Davis is a former Stater.

FM Symphony To Present Concert

When the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra presents its first concert of the season Sunday in Fargo High School at 4 p.m., three local musicians will be soloists.

They are Isabelle Thompson, violin; Erling Linde, flute; and Nancy Harris, piano. Their solo performances will be in J. S. Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 5, in D major.

The program will open with Shubert's popular Unfinished Symphony No. 8, in B minor. Concluding number will be one of the most widely enjoyed works of Richard Strauss, Don Juan.

Conductor Sigvald Thompson says of the Don Juan that it is virtuosic writing, difficult for the orchestra, but easy to listen to.

Soloist Isabelle Thompson is head of the violin department of Concordia College, concert master of the orchestra, former fellowship student at the Juilliard School of Music, N. Y. City, and member of the Peoria Symphony and the Firestone Orchestra.

Nancy Harris, instructor in piano at Concordia, also attended Juilliard, as well as the Yale School of Music and the Cleveland Institute.

Erling Linde, who leads the orchestra's flute section, took his master's degree in music at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and teaches in the Moorhead public school system.

Seats will be reserved until 3:50 for members of the Orchestral Association.

YM Membership Drive

The YMCA is sponsoring a membership drive. This drive is in effect as of this date and will be completed by October 31. The membership fee is $3.00, which will enable the students to use all the facilities furnished by the Y. To close out the drive on October 31, there will be a dinner meeting of all Y members.

UND Vets' Club's Old Covered Wagon To Arrive Sat. "Fargo Or Bust"

By Norm Cruse

"Westward Ho, the Wagons", or better yet, "Southward Ho, the Wagon".

That cry and the cry of "Fargo or Bust" will be the ones around which the UND Vets Club will rally when they start their trek from Grand Forks to Fargo in a Covered Wagon. This trek is in conjunction with the UND-SC football game and Homecoming parade. Out to break the old pioneer record set by the O. L. Johnson family on their way from Fargo to Grand Forks in 1876, the Vets Club will go the other way on this record breaking run.

One team of horses will be used to pull the Conestoga wagon on the trip. The Vets left from the UND Student Union at 4 p.m. Wednesday and they hope to arrive in Fargo in time for the Homecoming parade tomorrow morning.

Six men will "go all the way", and as the pioneers of old, they will camp in the open each night. They will be dressed in the garb of the past era and armed with the weapons of that time.

The wagon will travel in the ditch along the highway whenever possible and on the side of the road when it can't ride the ditch.

Along with the cry, "Fargo or Bust", another motto will be, "save the horses, the men are expendable."

New Bison Court Addition Going Up

A new, 19-unit building, at Bison Court, NDSC, is under construction by the John T. Jones Construction Co., Fargo, North Dakota, to replace Silver City which was destroyed by the June 20th tornado.

Gary Reinke, assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds, states the new units are basically constructed the same as the two, 20-unit buildings, built last year at Bison Court.

Two bedrooms and the single bedroom with study, are the two types of units available. They are unfurnished except for the stove and refrigerator, steam heat is furnished by the college power house.

The new building is built primarily for the use of married faculty members.

KDSC On KVOX

Listen to KDSC campus radio over KVOX, 1280 on your radio dial Friday and Saturday nights from 11:00 to 1:00.

Freshmen Grin—Beansies To Burn!

"Yea, no more green beansies for us!"

This and many other happy expressions will be the words of the NDSC freshmen Friday evening as they attend the annual homecoming pep rally and burn their beansies at Dakota Field.

The pep rally will start at 7:30 with school yells led by the cheerleaders. A pep band will be on hand to play school songs. A bonfire will be lit wherein the freshmen will throw their beansies. Following the bonfire a snake-dance will be held. This event is sponsored and conducted by the Rahjah Club.

While the freshmen watch the beansies go up in smoke the second annual NDSC Torch Marathon—from Bismarck to Fargo—will be taking place. Twenty students will be taking turns carrying the torch. The completion of the torch run is expected to concur with the start of the homecoming parade in downtown Fargo Saturday morning.

IE'S Hold Meet

A meeting of the Industrial Engineering Society was held Oct. 9 in the Student Union.

Featured at the meeting was the nomination of candidates for officers. Also discussed was the entry which the organization will place in the Homecoming parade.

The next meeting will be held October 23. Election of officers will take place at this time.

Debate Team To Battle Britishers

The first debate of the season, an international debate, will be held at 8 p.m. Oct. 21 in Festival Hall.

Two NDSC debaters—John Pancratz and Don Schreder will battle two students from Cambridge University in England on the topic, "This house deplores the modern preoccupation with material progress." The Britishers will argue the affirmative; the NDSC team will take the negative.

"Boiled down, the topic means that the British team will be against money, and our squad will be for it," said Dr. Gerald Philips, NDSC debate director.

The Cambridge students are David Ritchie Fairbairn and James Neil Crichton-Miller. Both have been president of the Cambridge Union Speech Society and are now doing graduate study.

They are touring western United States this year, debating at 35 colleges and universities.

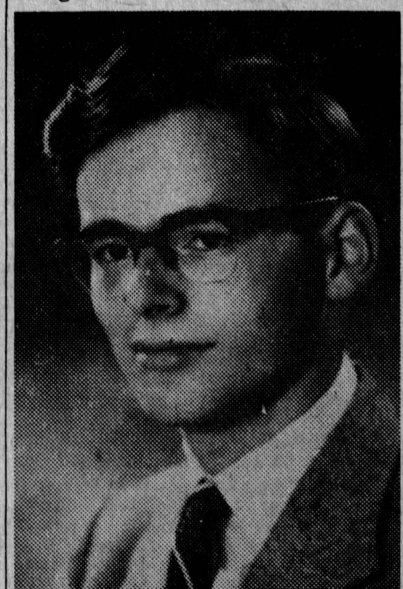

The NDSC debaters are undergraduates. Pancratz, a three-year debate veteran, is a senior majoring in electrical engineering.

Schreder, a sophomore speech major, will be debating in his first major collegiate match.

Spectators at the NDSC-Cambridge debate will decide who wins.

A questionnaire will be distributed and the judges will determine the victor from the audience's answers.

Students will be admitted free by presenting activity tickets.

Alumni Activities To Include Dedication Of Finnegan Hall

Among the highlights of the Alumni Association's activities at the 1957 Homecoming was the dedication of Finnegan Residence Hall this morning at the annual Pep Convo.

LCT To Present Hansel And Gretel

"Hansel and Gretel", written for the stage by Madge Miller, will be the first in the current season of children's plays to be presented by the Little Country Theatre.

The production, directed by Susan Wheeler, will be given for the children of the area Nov. 2 and 9. There will be two performances daily, beginning at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The cast will include: Darrel Tompkins, Shirley John, Karen Edinger, Mary Eresman, Marcia Seland, and Mary Jo Coats.

Kids, Keep Fingers Off Nickel Trophy

Two years ago, at the Bison-Sioux game at Homecoming a scene was produced by State Students that left a bad taste in the mouth of many people. An attempt was made to steal the Nickel Trophy when it became evident that the Sioux would claim victory.

In the process of the theft, a convertible (borrowed) was damaged. This, along with the other discontentment, did not add to the prestige of the college.

If we can't win the trophy by fair and square means, then it is not to our advantage to have it at all. If the trophy is stolen by either the University or us, it will be detrimental to the reputation of Blue Key fraternity. Also, the trophy could be broken in the meantime. Let's leave it alone.

This housing unit is a remodeled portion of Dakota Hall which is used to house NDSC athletes. It was dedicated to Charles Casey Finnegan who was Director of Athletics and Physical Education at NDSC from 1928 until 1955.

The presentation was made to Mrs. Finnegan by representatives of the Alumni Association.

Other alumni activities on tap for the weekend include the annual reunion at the Fargo Elks Club tonight at 9:00 p.m. Dr. Hultz, SC president and several state dignitaries will be special guests at the reunion. Alumni registration will be held in the Union Friday afternoon and Saturday.

Arman To Start Torch On Way

Warren Arman will start the torch on its way from Bismarck for the SC Homecoming marathon. The marathon will start at 10 a.m. Friday when Gov. Davis will light the torch.

It is planned that there will be 40 runners. Twenty running from Bismarck to Jamestown and the other number from Jamestown to Fargo.

The runners are scheduled to arrive in Fargo at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, just in time to lead the parade. The parade will include 22 floats, ten high school bands, ROTC units, NDU band and the NDSC Gold Star Band.

Scouting Around

... Neal Bjornson

As this paper goes to press SC students and alumni are looking forward to the big celebration of the fall quarter—Homecoming. The annual Pep Convo will kick things off on campus this morning at 8:40, and the torch marathon will leave Bismarck at 10:00. By the time this paper reaches the readers both these events will be history and everyone will be thinking of the last touches on the floats and house decorations.

Seems as how some of the University of North Dakota football fans were perturbed last week when they took their seats at Memorial Stadium for the UND Homecoming game and their first look at the gridiron revealed NDAC in rather large letter in lime on the turf. It made a rather impressive sight, but a bit of doubt enters this writer's mind as to who committed the foul deed.

The greater share of the NDSC students refer to their school as NDSC, not NDAC. It seems a little doubtful that any fired up Stater would use those letters. Could be a shrewd Igloo Technologist trying to fire up some action of a simliar variety down here this weekend.

Might be interesting.

The parade, game, dance, open houses, and other activities this weekend will probably leave the student body a little tired, so Monday night an entertainment of a different nature will be available at Festival Hall. The Lincoln Debate Society, represented by John Pancratz and Don Schreder, will clash with a debate squad from Cambridge University of England. The topic, "This House Deplores the Modern Preoccupation With Material Progress," deals with man's constant struggle for wealth. The SC orators will support the seeking of a buck, while the Englishmen will take the opposite stand. Admission is free to all SC students.

"Inherit the Wind", first LCT production of the current season will open for a four night run Wednesday night. This is the first amateur presentation of the play which enjoyed a long and successful run on Broadway. The setting of the drama is a well known court case in which the right of an instructor to teach evolution in the public schools is debated.

A little late for comment, but all the Milwaukee Braves fans on campus should be happy now. Have to go along with that man Stengel when he says the best team won, but wait till next year (where have I heard that before), the Yanks will be on top again.

You have probably noticed that we have a new social editor this week. Jean Anderson was stricken with the flu so Clark Schenkenberger came to the rescue. Clark is the handy man around here. His title, managing editor, means that he does a little bit of everything—in addition to writing "Did You Know". Get well quick, Jeanbo.

Let's get out and back the Bison tomorrow. Help the team get the Big Nickle back on campus.

Student Lists Doubts As To Attitude Of Collegians Towards Their Freedoms

By Jon Diemert

As an American student I begin to wonder about myself and my fellow students when I hear how students in Poland are fighting for their freedom.

I am first struck with the tranquility and womb-like protection which our American colleges provide for us. We seem to become obsessed with our 10 a.m. coffee hours and the grand manifestations of our local sports. If these and many other obsessions are temporary and superficial they are probably harmless. But to the extent that they seep into our modes of thought and behavior they become subtly stultifying.

I wonder how many of us would fight in defense of freedom (it sounds almost archaic!) But under all our layers of conformity and comfort is there a spark that would ignite if our freedoms were threatened by totalitarian actions? It is difficult to predict, but I believe each of us should give it some thought.

"Y" Holds Fete For UND Cohorts

Want to meet the "Y" members from the University?

Then attend the noon luncheon to be held Sat., Oct. 19, after the homecoming parade. Tickets may be obtained at the "Y" office located in the library. All students are invited.

The program will be focused on the "Y" goals, which are spiritual, intellectual, and social growths. Attention will also be given to the "YM" programs and projects.

On Oct. 31, a special dinner program on the "Reformation" will be held at the library at 6 p.m. The discussion will be led by Father Durkin and Rev. Arnie Kvaalen.

The "Y" sponsors a devotional service every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Putman Hall.

Thursday, the "Y" sponsors a noon faculty luncheon in Ceres Hall "The Organization Man" is the title of the fall series of discussions.

Berns Will Address Educational Fraternity

Dr. Karl H. Berns, assistant executive secretary of the National Education Association, will speak in the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School at 4:00 p.m. Oct. 22.

He will discuss new developments in industry and education at a meeting of the local chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary education fraternity.

"Dr. Berns is an interesting and able speaker," states Dr. Hale Aarness, chairman of the department of education and psychology. "We hope that everyone will try to attend the discussion."

Berns received his B.S. degree in education from Kent State University, and M.A. from the University of Akron, a L.I.B. from William McKinley Law School and a Ph.D. from Ohio State University.

Kappa Psi Alums

Kappa Psi alumni will hold their fall meeting this Saturday. A dinner meeting at the Rex Cafe in Moorhead will be held at noon.

All alumni are invited to attend the meeting and enjoy homecoming events following it. Open house will be held at the new frat house after the game. Reservations are to be made with Tom Pettinger, secretary of the alumni chapter.

Does College Wreak Havoc On Personality?

College students are often overheard saying, "Am I ever a different person since I came to college."

One student put it this way, "When I came to college I put away my high school ways and became an adult". Then one looks around our campus and wonders if they really have changed.

You still see some high school cliques sticking together. "Hey, kids," the upperclassman is sometimes tempted to call, "make new college friends now."

It has been said that college days are the best days of your life. There is a qualification though. To make them the best days of your life you must make new friends, get new interests, and grow out of that high school rut.

There is still another problem on campus. That is marked by all the lights in the dormitories on week ends. Fellows seem to think that they never have a chance to meet the girls. One fellow said, "Why don't the girls ever have dorm parties any more?"

Back to this matter of meeting and making friends both male and female. Do you know the kids that sit around you in classes? How many meetings have you gone to where you've taken an interest in new faces? Talk to people any time or any place just watch it they'll like it and you'll like them.

Final Homecoming Plans Discussed At Last Regular Senate Meeting

Final plans for the 1957 Homecoming were discussed at the last regular Senate meeting before the festivities become a reality.

Reviewing plans for the parade, George Schwartz, parade marshal, reported that the reviewing stand will be erected in the parking island on Broadway between NP and Main Avenue. Schwartz inquired about the possibility of obtaining assistant marshals from among the senate members.

Gene Price, publicity director, reported that the banner which was to be put up over Broadway in downtown Fargo has not been put up due to the lack of sufficient facilities. It was suggested that he check into the possibility of putting the banner up at the college gate at the corner of 13th Street and 12th Avenue.

Price stated that cooperation has been excellent from local radio and television stations and that more TV time will be available later in the week. The Bismarck-Fargo torch run will be covered by one of the local radio stations and progress reports will be broadcast periodically.

Beva Fegley announced that anyone interested in selling tickets for the dance or taking tickets at the door the night of the dance should contact her at the earliest possible time.

In reporting on the torch run Fred Flanders stated that Harold Schafer of Bismarck will again sponsor a supper for the runners Thursday evening in Bismarck. Schafer will also provide a breakfast for the group before they leave the capital.

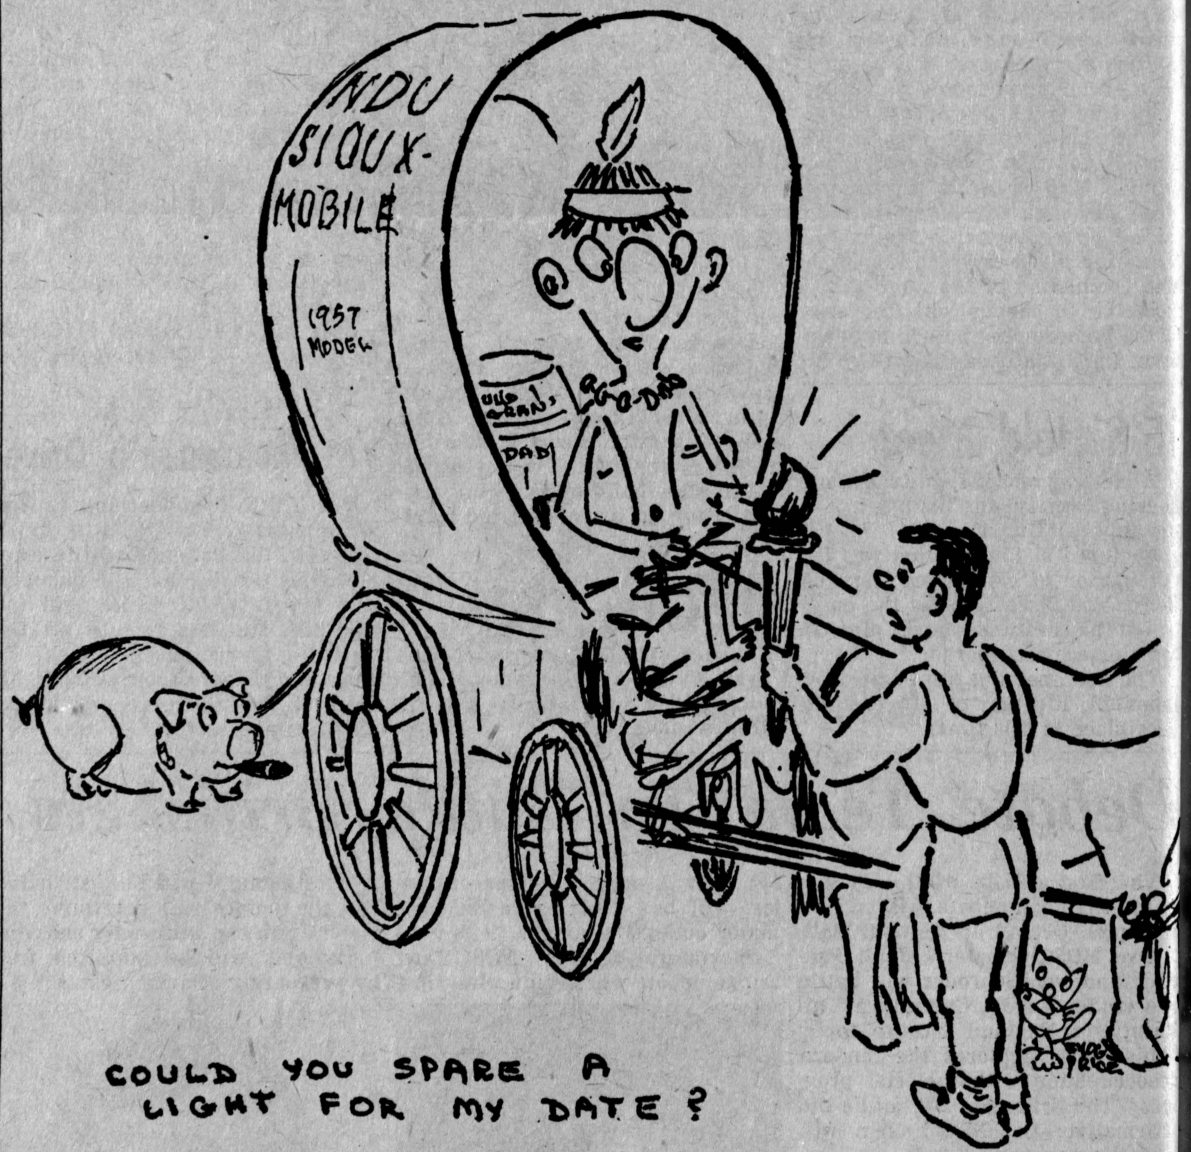

The torch should arrive in Fargo about the time the parade starts down Broadway. It will lead the way as far as the reviewing stand where it will be placed for the remainder of the parade. Following this it will be returned to the campus and placed in the Student Union until game time when it will be taken to Dakota Field. At the stadium, a large cauldron will be lit and will burn during the game.

This completed the order of business for the evening and Senate adjourned until their next regular meeting Oct. 29.

YMCA Takes Fun To Stockbridge Hall

The YMCA recently transferred their recreational facilities to Stockbridge Hall. These facilities include ping pong and pool tables. They should be operational sometime during the coming week.

The hours at which these facilities can be used by the students will be announced later. There will be a minimum charge for all non-members.

Engineers Convention

Five NDSC engineers attended the National Tau Beta Pi convention held last week in Madison and Milwaukee, Wis. They were: Anthony Hoffman, George Struchynski, Eugene Linhart, Harvey Fiala, and David Durin.

Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering society, opened its 52nd annual convention in Madison, on Oct. 10 and then moved on to Milwaukee where the session ended on the 12th.

The convention handled national business and this year a new Executive Council was elected.

Gamma Delta Meet

Gamma Delta Regional Convention will be held November 8-10 at Grand Forks. Myrth Weiser is the representative to the Nominating Committee. George Senechal is of the Resolutions Committee.

For the first time on the NDS campus, Gamma Delta has a bowling team in league bowling. Team members are: Roland Senach, Fred Boeshans, Harley Schlichting and Jim Cook.

Gamma Delta meetings are held every Sunday evening from 5 p.m. They include supper, a topic and recreation.

Socially Speaking ... By Corky

This week, the Social news comes from Corky, nee Jean Anderson. Jean contractd a case of Sputnikitis, better known as flu and thusly, is unable to elaborate on the prat and patter about campus.

Governor and Mrs. John E. Davis will be guests at an open house to be held after the Homecoming game Saturday at the Kappa Delta sorority house, 1261 13th St. N.

Mrs. Davis is an alumni from Sigma Psi chapter of Kappa Delta sorority here at NDSC where she spent her college years.

The pledge class at the Sigma Chi house elected Errol Bong to be their president. Lance Moberg, Kenneth Swanson and Don Erickson are vice prez, secretary and social chairman, respectively.

SAE lads serenaded an honor to Joyce Ericksmon, KD, queen attendant and fiance of alum Hank Trangsrud. Caroline Slinde, Theta, and SAE sweetheart, also received the same honor for being attendant to the queen.

Some Tekes, twelve in number, from the U. of Manitoba, paid the local TKE house a call last Sunday. A tour about campus filled out their visit before they returned to Canada.

And Tekes again. Gary Nelson pinned a Kenmare lass, Shirley Gravesen.

Many exchange dinners this past Monday night. Thetas and Sigma Chi, AGR's and Alpha Gam's, KD's and the Farm House all switched seats at the dinner table.

Farm house alum, Ardon Herman and Audrey Olson, NDSC Botany secretary recently announced their engagement. Congratulations.

Kappa Alpha Theta added Gloriann Heib and Norma Carlson to their pledge class. The Kappa Psis and SAEs serenaded the Thetas Monday night and introduction of pledges went around. Lotts a fun.

New actives and new pledges for the Farmhouse boys. Stephan Johnson and Henry Singer were initiated into the ranks Sunday. Vernon Boeshans and John Dawson took their place in the pledge line.

Phi Mu sorority lists some new names to their pledge roster also. Marilyn Banks, Janice Melby, Charlotte Talten, Mary Wallum and Peggy Wood are the gals due to reside at the 12th Ave. sorority.

The pledge class also chose for their officers Carol Hersog, pres.; Joy Fliginger, vice pres. and chaplain; Lylia Piper, secretary; and Diane Jaff, social chairman.

Coffee went around the parlor at the Theta Chi house from 4-6 last Tuesday. Nice break for a rainy afternoon.

I'd like to put in a plug for Jean right about here. This social writing may look easy, but it's anything but that. She does a swell job. To take a lot of pinnings, pledgings, activeings and what not, and make it look like something on paper just ain't what it's cracked up to be. Then add serenading, engagementings, and coffee hourings... egad!! Jeanbo, shut off the bubbling machine and return.

Then of course there is the Homecoming this weekend. I won't say much about that, except that there will be open house at all the sorority and fraternity houses on Saturday. Prior to, and following the game. I may stand to be corrected about the hours, but at least the fact has been mentioned.

It seems the residence halls and dorms will be open to visitors also. Matter of fact, the whole blame campus will fling wide the doors. Come join the crowd.

SUAB Plans Full Agenda

Student Union Activity Board has planned a full agenda for the coming week with something to fit everyone's interests.

Starting off the weekly calendar is the regular Monday night dance in the Union ballroom. The Billiards Tourney will also get under way Monday. All participants are asked to contact the Union office by October 31.

From four of six, Tuesday afternoon, movies will be shown in the Union ballroom to commemorate United Nations Week. These movies are, "Workshop for Peace" and "U. N. in Korea". Special guests will be foreign students from Concordia, MSTC, and our own campus. Dr. Lee Hestel will introduce the foreign students. No admission will be charged. A coffee hour will follow.

Included in this Year's series of popular films is "The Snakepit", whose story evolves around the problems of the mentally ill. It will be shown Wednesday at six-thirty in the ballroom. Admission is 25 cents.

Weekly dance lessons will continue Thursday afternoon in the ballroom.

At five, Thursday afternoon, a mass meeting of all SUAB members and committees will be held in conference rooms 1-2-3. Students who would like to serve on the SUAB committees may secure applications from the Union office.

Hayride Featured By LSA And WF

Hay rides were the main attractions for the Lutheran Student Association and the Wesley Foundation students on the SC campus on Friday and Saturday nights respectively.

About 40 students attended the LSA hay ride, and about 30 attended the Wesley Foundation ride.

Reports from some of the students who went on the rides showed that the usual hay fights, singing, and throwing each other off the racks were the main features.

After the rides, devotion was held at the Student Union conference rooms for the LSA students, and lunch and recreation at the First Methodist Church for the Wesley students.

4-H To Meet

The College 4-H Club will hold their recreation meeting next Friday, October 25, at 7:30, in the Union Ballroom. This is to be a Halloween party. All 4-H members are welcome.

All former 4-H members are invited to attend the meetings, which are held every first and third Thursday of the month in the Student Union.

Asian Flu Rampage Not To Campus Yet

The Asian flu virus, which has been giving our country a scare, has not yet been diagnosed on the SC campus. One case of flu that has the possibility of being the Asian variety is under observation at the present according to Myrtle Johnson, chief nurse at the SC health center.

"The difference between the more common stomach flu and the Asian variety is the virus contracted," she says. The latter flu results from a virus that was brought over here from Asia. Although it is more severe than the flu we are familiar with, the mortality rate is very low unless complications set in with colds, pneumonia, and other diseases.

The danger of Asian flu lies in your remaining up and about if you have it. "The cure ordered in most cases is isolation and a complete bed rest," said Miss Johnson. "The usual period in bed is about 10 days."

Few cases of Asian flu have been reported in the Fargo area so far, but it is expected to hit Fargo and our campus, Miss Johnson said. It usually hits the grade school children first and works on up to the high school and college levels and the adult population.

The health center is preparing for the flu and has ordered a supply of drugs. Miss Johnson said The Spectrum will be notified when the drugs arrive.

"The seriousness," Miss Johnson says, "is that the Asian flu is nearly always found in epidemic proportions." Ten days means a big loss of school or working time, a loss most people can't afford.

CLOTHES MAKE THE BMOC

Last week we passed along some fashion hints for coeds. Today we will do the same for college men.

The most important thing to remember, gentlemen, is to dress with verve, with dash, with inventiveness. Don't be imprisoned by the traditional conservatism of men's clothing. Brighten up your appearance with a single earring, or a cavalry saber, or a gold derby.

Guard Against Gaudiness

However, guard against gaudiness. If, for instance, you are wearing a gold derby, do not also wear a cavalry saber. This is too much. Wear a dagger instead, or, for formal occasions, a bowie knife.

Let us turn now to a persistent rumor that a garment called the "suit" is on the verge of making a comeback. Some of you older students may remember this "suit." It was an ensemble consisting of a jacket and trousers, both of which—this'll kill you—both of which were made out of the same material!

The last "suit" ever seen on an American campus was in 1941—and I ought to know because I was wearing it. I was an undergraduate then, and in love—hopelessly in love with a beauteous statistics major named Harry Sigafos. (She is one of the two girls I have ever known named Harry. The other one is her sister.)

I loved Harry madly, though her expensive tastes were the ruin of me. Bit by bit I sold off my belongings to pursue this costly courtship—first my books, then my clothes, until finally I was left with nothing to wear but a "suit". One night I came calling for her in this garment and she, of course, slashed me across the face with a riding crop and sent me from her door.

I slunk home and lit a Marlboro and sat down to think. I always light a Marlboro when I sit down to think, for their good mild flavor is a great aid to cerebration. I always light a Marlboro when I don't sit down to think, too, because Marlboro is my favorite cigarette, and I know it will be yours, too, once you make the acquaintance of that filter, that flavor, that flip-top box. As the man says, you get a lot to like with a Marlboro.

Well, sirs, smoking and thinking thus, my eye happened to fall on an ad in a campus newspaper which said: "WIN A COMPLETE WARDROBE! Touhy's Toggery, the campus's leading men's store, announces a contest to pick the best-dressed man on campus. The winner will receive absolutely free a complete new wardrobe!"

Struck by a sudden inspiration, I took pen in hand and wrote a letter to Mr. Touhy of Touhy's Toggery: "Sir—I see by the paper that you are giving a complete new wardrobe to the best-dressed man on campus. What a ridiculous idea!

"Obviously, to be the best-dressed man on campus, you must first have a lot of clothes, and if you have a lot of clothes, what do you need with another wardrobe?"

"Touhy's Toggery should give a new wardrobe to the worst-dressed man on campus. Me, for instance. I am an eyesore. There isn't a crow in town that will come near me. Three times this month the Salvation Army salvage truck has picked me up. Esquire has canceled my subscription.

"I submit that a vote for me is a vote for reason, a vote for equity, a vote for the American way!"

With a flourish I signed the letter and sent it off, somehow feeling certain that very soon I would be wearing a complete new wardrobe.

And I was right—because two weeks later I was drafted.

Always fashionable, always correct for any occasion, is the bright red and white flip-top box of Marlboros, made for your pleasure by the sponsors of this column.

A 75-lb. Bonus For Winners Sat.— Famous And Prized Trophy

By Lyle Baker

Since 1937 the University of North Dakota Sioux and the North Dakota State Bison have been feuding about a 75 pound hunk of aluminum alloy cast in the form of the "buffalo-Indian head nickel." This is the fabled Sioux-Bison Nickel Trophy, subject of intercampus raris, police sleuthing and headlines.

Because the two teams perfectly symbolize the faces on the nickle, it was originated by the chapters of Blue Key, honorary service organization, on both campuses in 1937. Since then it has gone to the victor of the annual Sioux-Bison grid contest.

Pranks surrounding the trophy occurred the very first year the trophy was presented at NDU. After a "sneak preview" of the trophy the night before the game, it was spirited away by an unidentified student posing as a member of the UND Homecoming committee. John C. West, president of the school found it several days later on his front step.

After the game in 1938, which the Bison won, the now famous nickel again disappeared. This time the big coin was found in an SC building by a janitor.

In 1951, the trophy attracted considerable state and national publicity. Two weeks before the game, the trophy disappeared from a fraternity house that had borrowed the nickel to make a replica of it. The fraternity conducted a search for it, but no success was had. Both chapters of Blue Key searched their campii for clues, but none were forthcoming.

Three nights before the game, the president of the NDSC Blue Key chapter received an anonymous phone call revealing the hiding place of the trophy. It was found unattended.

Since then, the trophy has been kept under lock and key in the athletic departments of the two schools.

Two counterfeit nickels turned up in 1953, but despite the resulting confusion, the official coin went to the winning team.

The Sioux hold a 12-6 edge in the battle for the trophy.

Officers will be elected and a constitution for the group discussed. All interested amateur radio operators are encouraged to attend.

Did You Know? By Corky

Stewart Jefferies was attending a small college in the upper Midwest. He was a first quarter senior in a field of Agriculture and was an average student. Jefferies had served two years in the army, and as a result, was a bit older than his classmates. It made him slightly envious to see all his buddies leave college and take good jobs. It was with this thought in mind that made Jefferies reach a momentous decision in his life.

He stopped into the Placement Office one day and signed for a number of interviews with several agricultural firms. The day for his interviews arrived. And Jefferies was very prompt and dressed with the utmost of care.

It was not only in dress that Jefferies was careful. He answered all the interviewer's questions with care also. You see, Jefferies never once disclosed that he WAS NOT a graduating senior that year.

Stewart Jefferies did not lie. He told no falsehoods. He just answered the questions in such a way as to not reveal his college status. And the company representative never directly asked Jefferies if he would be graduating in June.

Jefferies pleased the interviewer and was given the job. Now his fearsome wait began. What if the company should check with the college for some reason or other and discover that he still had two quarters of college left?

His fears were relieved in due time, as he reported for his job and began to fit into the company. Days, months and years went by. And Stewart Jefferies gained prominence in the company.

He achieved the acme of success and was made president. Stewart Jefferies was riding high and served the firm with his heart and soul.

Then one day, a clerk in the personnel department was making a check of some records, when he found that all employees of the company had been cleared as college graduates, except one, Stewart Jefferies.

A long distance phone call, a few hasty words, and the world of Jefferies was laid before him. His almost forgotten secret had been revealed. Now what? I'll leave this question to you, the readers. You may all have varied opinions as to the disposition of Jefferies.

But, a question, before I leave. Do you think this could ever happen, or has ever happened? How about it? Neat trick, no?

Ground Breaking Ceremony Sets Off Work On New Lutheran Student Center

Ground was broken Sunday, Oct. 13 for a new $134,000 Lutheran Student Association Center on the NDSC campus.

The Rev. Arne Kvaalen, campus pastor, turned the first shovelful of earth in a ceremony attended by directors of the local Lutheran Student Foundation, members of Lutheran churches in Fargo, and a delegation of NDSC students.

Others taking part in the ceremonies were Mr. P. J. Onstad, former president of the local and state board of directors of the LSF, Mr. Eugene Paulson, president of the board of directors of the NDSC LSF, Mr. Bill Gehrke, chairman of the building committee.

The new structure will be on the same campus location on the corner of 13th and 12th street which the LSA has occupied for many years. It will be a split level brick structure featuring a sunken lounge to accommodate 50 students surrounding a circular fireplace, a multi-purpose room which can be used for meetings or as a dining room, kitchen, four offices, a library, small chapel for private meditation, a classroom, a headquarters room for LSA and an apartment for a housemother or married couple who will serve as hosts. Lovik, Mathre and Associates of Northfield, Minn., designed the new center.

The building is being financed by a grant from the National Lutheran council as part of a $3,000,000 student center program conducted by the council. Excavation was scheduled to begin Monday, Oct. 14.

T. F. Powers is the general contractor for the building which should be completed in 9 months.

"A great man is one who plants a tree knowing that he himself will never sit under its shade". These are the words of Mr. Onstad as he expressed his appreciation of the work which has been put into the center by men who will never see its fruition.

"Snake Pit" Movie To Be Shown To State Students Next Week

Spectacular and exciting are two words that can best depict the next feature movie the "Snake Pit," to be presented to SC students, October 23.

Sponsored by the Creative Arts Committee of the Union Activities Board, this movie is the second in a series to be shown. The movie will be shown in the Union Ballroom starting at 6:30 p.m. Admission is twenty-five cents.

The movie concerns the personal history of a young mental patient who underwent the harrowing experience of life in a mental institution and whose despair and illness are overcome by psychiatric treatment and the love and faith of her husband. The shocking conditions of over-crowded mental institutions are given documentary treatment.

Starring Olivia deHavilland with Mark Stevens in the supporting role, this 20th Century Fox movie gives the grim study of a mental patient.

Fascinating and exciting, the "Snake Pit" has been acclaimed as an academy award winner.

Local Car Club Schedules Auto Show; Custom Jobs And Rods To Be Shown

A unique auto show is scheduled for Fargo-Moorhead Oct. 26 and 27, according to Erlyn Carlson, vice president of the Toppers Custom Car Club.

The show will feature customs, rods and conservative customs, Carlson said. It will be held in the old Butler Machinery building at 13th street and Seventh avenue North in Fargo.

A "custom", according to Carlson, is an automobile which has had certain changes in body styling to achieve a different or distinctive appearance. A "rod" may or may not have had body alterations but the engine has undergone modifications which make it faster and improve its efficiency. A "conservative custom" has had minor alterations in body styling.

Purpose of the show is to promote the sport of owning and operating reworked cars and to inform the public of the benefits and advantages to be derived from such a hobby.

Carlson pointed out that many persons feel that all young people who rework and drive customized cars are delinquents. "Actually," Carlson states, "members of the Toppers have an extremely good driving record, and in fact cannot be members if they have a serious traffic violation on their records."

Doors will be open from 10 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 26 and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 27.

Where You From? Check The Institute

How many students know their ancestry?

If you are interested you may find it in the North Dakota Institute of Regional Studies which is on the second floor of the library.

The Institute collects anything of historic value, such as old newspapers, files, letters, diaries, organization and business records, lists of first settlers and early photographs. The Institute helps preserve such records rather than have them lost.

The specific aims of the Institute are:

- To provide a center for research.
- To stimulate research into the region's resources and culture.
- To encourage artistic representation of life on the plains.
- To assist in disseminating results of significant work.

In 1952 the Institute sponsored a Local History Interest Day for people with interest in their heritage.

One of the Institute's successful projects is the annual scholarship granted to two people who will make further studies of the area and its early settlers.

The Institute also has published five books and a number of pamphlets which have had wide distribution.

The Institute was founded in March, 1950, by librarian H. Dean Stallings, president of the board, and a number of faculty members.

Fargo Students Attend Baptist Youth Conclave

Five Fargo students attended Baptist Youth Fellowship convention at Minot, N. D. NDSC students were: Pat Turner, Monte Benson, Delbert Nelson, Donald Nelson, Sharron Oxenrider. The state wide Baptist Youth Convention was held Oct. 11, 12 and 13.

The Immanuel Baptist Church of Minot was the scene of the annual convention. A banquet was served by the local church Saturday night.

Ruby Enander, an NDSC graduate, showed slides of her trip to Haiti. Miss Enander gave diplomas to the new Girl's Fellowship Guilds in North Dakota.

The old LSA house is shown just before it was moved to its new location to make way for the $134,000 structure which will replace it.

Home Ec Girls To Spend Field Trip In Test Kitchens

Seven home economics students who are studying institutional management and Miss Lorissa Sheldon, of the foods and nutrition department will spend Oct. 21-22 in Minneapolis on a class field trip.

Purpose of the trip is to give students insight into job opportunities for home economics graduates with majors in foods and nutrition.

On the agenda of tours is the cafeteria at the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., the food service department of the University of Minnesota hospital, the General Mills test kitchen, and the home service department of the Northern States Power Co.

SC Stock Judges Leave For Contest

The NDSC Senior Livestock Judging team left Wednesday for Kansas City, Mo., to compete in the national college judging contest at the American Royal Livestock Show.

Teams from many large colleges will compete at the Kansas City contest on Oct. 19. The NDSC team will have several judging work-outs in Iowa and Missouri before they reach Kansas City.

The NDSC team, coached by Professor Merle Light, was selected from the top men in last Saturday's judging contest held at NDSC's campus. The members of the team making the trip are: Robert Cook, Robert Lewis, LeRoy Odegard, Dallas Heidt, Howard Schmid, Floyd Askim, Lynn Howe, and Howard Lahlum.

SC Communication Classes See Presses Roll At Forum Plant

Students in NDSC communications classes watched the evening edition of the Fargo Forum roll off the press every day last week.

Verne Nies, instructor of communications, conducted tours of the Forum every afternoon Monday through Friday. Students in agricultural communications and journalism attended. The tour included visits to the business, editorial, and mechanical departments.

This was the first tour of a modern newspaper plant, for many of the students. It was planned to give them a better understanding of writing for a newspaper and the subsequent editing and printing process.

National Teacher Exams To Be Given Across The Nation In February

The National Teacher Examinations, prepared and administered annually by Educational Testing Service, will be given at 250 testing centers throughout the United States on Saturday, February 15, 1958.

At the one-day testing session a candidate may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in professional information, general culture, English expression and non-verbal reasoning; and one or two of eleven optional examinations designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter to be taught.

The college which a candidate is attending, or the school system in which he is seeking employment, will advise him whether he should take the National Teacher Examinations and which of the optional examinations to select.

A Bulletin of Information (in which an application is inserted describing registration procedure and containing sample test questions may be obtained from college officials, school superintendents, or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey.

Completed applications, accompanied by proper examination fees, will be accepted by the ETS office during November and December and in January so long as they are received before January 17, 1958.

Home Ec Students Participate In Program

Six North Dakota State home economics students took part in District Future Homemakers of America leadership clinic held at Buffalo, N. D., on Saturday, October 12.

Beverly Lloyd, Doris Folstrom, Marilyn Marschke, sophomore; Ruth Folstrom and Elaine Carbert, seniors, were leaders of group discussions on the topic "How to Plan and Use Local Projects to Carry Out the Four FHA Goals." Nancy Fredrick, another senior also attended.

SC Students Attend National FFA Meeting

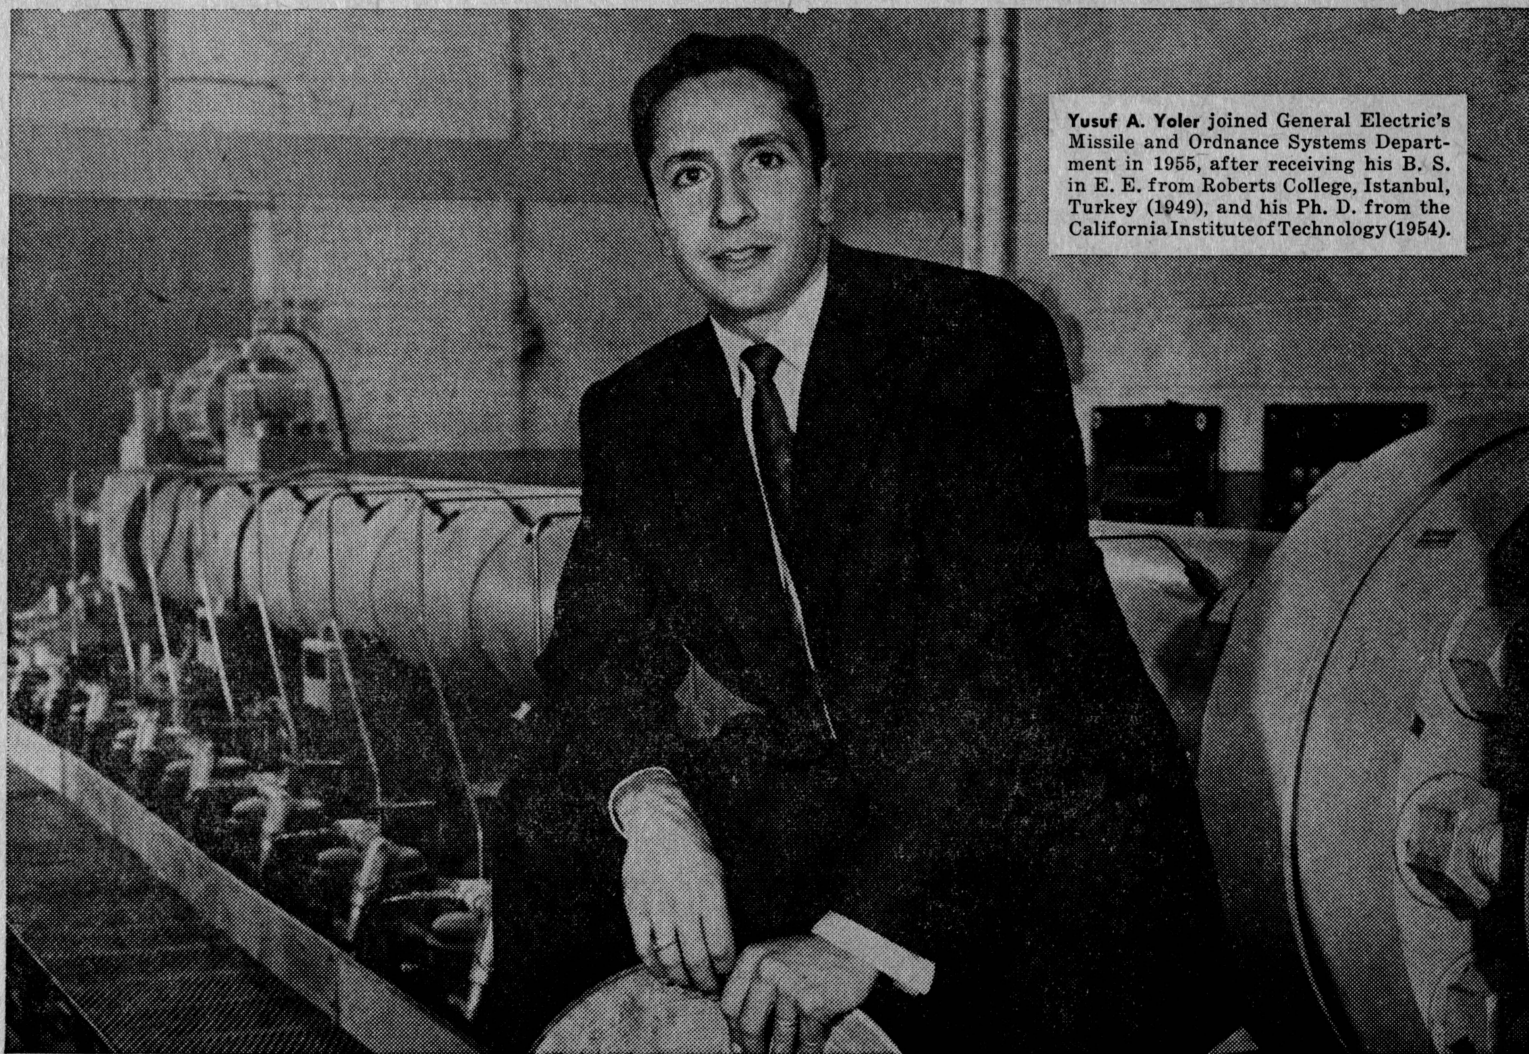

Wayne Reardon, and Lowell Anderson, freshmen at NDSC, participated in the National FFA livestock judging contest at Kansas City yesterday.

Other members of the team are Jerry Peters, Carson; Eugene Kiel, Wahpeton; and their coach, William Well, Medina, an SC graduate.

The boys won the opportunity of placing as the top four in the state contest last June and will now represent North Dakota in the national contest.

The group will judge seven classes of livestock consisting of breeding cattle, sheep, and swine and market cattle, sheep and swine.

The team is sponsored by the North Dakota State FFA Association.

Yusuf A. Yoler joined General Electric's Missile and Ordnance Systems Department in 1955, after receiving his B. S. in E. E. from Roberts College, Istanbul, Turkey (1949), and his Ph. D. from the California Institute of Technology (1954).

"In a big company, a young man can get to tackle big jobs"

"The thing that has impressed me most in my two years at General Electric," says 28-year-old Yusuf A. Yoler, manager of Aerodynamics Laboratory Investigations, "is the challenging opportunity open to young people here. My field is guided-missile research — the nation's top-priority defense job. Because of the scope of the company's research and development program, I've had the opportunity to work with technical experts in many related fields. And I've seen at first hand the responsibility which General Electric has given to younger men — proof to me that in a big company a young man can get to tackle big jobs."

The research being done by Dr. Yusuf A. Yoler is significant not only to himself, but to General Electric and the security of the nation as well. At present, the company is participating as a prime contractor on three of the four long-range ballistic missiles programmed by the U. S. government. Yoler, who is playing an important role in this work, directed the design and development of the world's largest hypersonic shock tunnel — a device which will "test-fly" missile nose cones at speeds over 15,000 mph.

Progress in research and development — as well as in every other field of endeavor — depends on how well young minds meet the challenge of self-development. At General Electric there are more than 29,000 college graduates, each of whom is given the opportunity to develop to his fullest abilities. In this way, we believe, everybody benefits — the individual, the company, and the country.

Sports Of All Sorts

... by Clarence Anderson

I wonder how many students really understand the sport of cross country. Many frown on it as just a lot of running! Others may consider it as conditioning sports or track. Actually, it is both of these, yet a lot more.

True, it may lack the glamour of football or basketball. A cross country star will probably never get the headlines that an outstanding back or hardcourt center receives. But, the sport involves most of the characteristics common to almost all sports. It takes stamina, endurance and perseverance. The spirit of competition is just as intense in cross country as in any competitive sports.

Most people lack full knowledge of the sport. Actually, the rules of the sport are very basic and simple. Usually, the teams are composed of five men. The race is run over a rearranged course, often a golf course. The nature of the course rugged terrain. Frequently, the course is planned so as to include hills, gullies, bridges and open country. Distances range from one and a half miles to six miles. The usual distances are between two and three miles.

Scoring is based directly on the positions of finish. The squad with the lowest point total wins the meet. One point is awarded to the winner of the race, two for second and on down to ten points for tenth place.

Conditioning for the sport involves distance running, sprints and exercises. Prior to a meet, the members of the squad will vary their training between sprints and running distances of greater length then will run in the meet. Some schools use cross country as a conditioning sport for track. This provides a means, in the fall of the year, of keeping shape for the track season in spring.

NDSC and the University are the only schools in the state who offer cross country as a separate sport. Both schools have only recently inaugurated the sport.

This weekend will see the renewing of one of the oldest rivalries in these parts when the Bison and the Sioux meet on the gridiron. The Bison must be considered as the underdog but past performances mean little in a rivalry such as this. Piasecki and company definitely have a good crew. The fact that they led the North Central Conference in five departments as of October 11 verifies this. But these games have a knack of producing the unexpected. Remember the Braves were the underdog, too.

There is no reason why the stands shouldn't be completely full this Saturday afternoon. The University students will be down here in full force. There will be a tremendous number of alumni on campus. A large number of the people of Fargo can be counted on to attend the game. What about the over 3000 students on this campus? After the parade and numerous other methods of firing up student enthusiasm should be running high. This will be the last home game for the 1957 NDSC football team. Let's back them all the way Saturday and show them that the many long hours of practice weren't unappreciated.

Bison Show Progress In Montana Game

Coach Bob Danielson had little to say about State's 26-7 defeat at the hands of Montana State. He felt some progress was shown and that the team did well to hold the Bobcats as well as they did.

However, Danielson also felt the second half of the Montana State game was the poorest overall showing the Bison had given yet this year.

Danielson was displeased with the defensive game, especially. Heretofore, the defense had performed admirably under the increased pressure imposed upon it by a faulty offense.

Danielson felt the Bobcats simply outclassed the Bison. In general, it was the Montana players who were outstanding, not the recruits from all over the nation.

As for the Sioux, Danielson summed it up in a few words, "We're expecting a lot of passes. They have, in Piasecki, the best passer I have ever seen. He doesn't miss very often. And the constant threat of their running attack opens up the defense and makes their running game that much more effective."

Fresh Basketball

Freshman basketball practice is scheduled to begin October 23, according to Chuck Bentson, varsity coach for the Herd. Candidates are to bring their own shoes. All other equipment will be furnished by the athletic department. Cliff Henrickson will serve as coach for this year's Baby Bison.

NCC Race Now Led By South Dakota State; Key Games This Week

South Dakota State moved out ahead of the pack in the North Central Conference race by virtue of their resounding 53-21 triumph over North Dakota University. The Jackrabbits scored freely to spoil the Sioux Homecoming.

South Dakota University remained in second place by knocking previously unbeaten Morningside 27-6. In the other conference game, ISTC moved up into title contention by defeating winless Augustana 54-12.

NDSC succumbed to Montana State 27-6 in the only none-conference game of the weekend.

The South Dakota State-South Dakota University game looms as the big one this weekend. The winner will move into undisputed possession of first place. The game will be played at Brookings, home of the Jackrabbits.

In other games this weekend, the University of North Dakota travels to Fargo to meet the Bison and the Morningside Maroons play host to ISTC. The latter is a battle for survival in the title picture of the NCC.

North Central Conference standings as of Oct. 18 are:

	W	L	T	Pct.
South Dak. State	3	0	0	1.000
South Dakota U.	3	0	1	.875
Morningside	2	1	0	.667
ISTC	2	1	0	.667
NDU	1	2	1	.375
NDSC	0	3	0	.000
Augustana	0	4	0	.000

Distance Runners Drop Two Meets

The NDSC cross country squad dropped two meets this past week. Oct. 10, Concordia edged the Bison harriers 17-19 and on Oct. 12 the Sioux outlegged the Bison 18-37.

The Concordia meet was run over a mile and a half course at El Zagal Bowl. Bob Williams of NDSC captured first place in the meet with a winning time of 8:35. Harold Shattuck and Mel Werth finished fifth and sixth, respectively.

Notice

Veterans who can still get into their uniforms are wanted for the Veterans Day parade on November 17th.

Contact Dick Herman at 38 Bison Court (2-5573) after 5:00 p.m.

North Central Conference Is Scene Of Two Traditional Gridiron Conflicts

Two of the oldest rivalries in the North Central Conference will be renewed this Saturday. The South Dakota State Jackrabbits entertain the Coyotes of South Dakota University and the Bison play host to their arch rival, the University of North Dakota Sioux. Both games are usually marked by strong intrastate rivalry.

The game at Brookings will have a decided bearing on the outcome of the North Central Conference race. Both teams are undefeated, with only a tie marring the Coyotes' record.

The NDSC-NDU contest probably will have little bearing on the NCC race but the game will be just as hotly contested as the Jackrabbit-Coyote tangle. This will mark the 62nd time that these two teams have met on the gridiron. The Sioux have emerged victorious 38 times and the Bison have won 20. Three games have ended in ties.

The Bison will be looking for their first victory over the Sioux since their 14-13 thriller in 1952. Last year, the Sioux won 14-7 in their homecoming.

In spite of injuries which have riddled the Sioux line, they will field a team that leads the nation's small colleges in yardage gained by passing, and leads the NCC in total offense, individual kickoff returns and passes completed.

To compensate for this, the Sioux will be matched against a team which leads the conference in pass defense and is second in total defense. The Bison have allowed their opponents only 16 yards per game via the air and an average of 180 total yards per contest.

The Sioux lost several valuable men from last year's sixth place team. Gone are Little All-American guard Steve Myhra, all-conference end Jerry Ryan, tackles Dean Lenaburg, Garvin Stevens and Dick Burnett, along with guard Gil Gessner. Backs lost through graduation include Dick McBride, Rodney Webb, Ted Camrud and Lou Tomasselli.

However, the Sioux coaching staff has done a creditable job in building a strong squad this year. Their offense centers around their great quarterback, Steve Piasescki. Backfield mates with Pike include Jim Jarrett, Don Stueve and Howard Grumbo.

The line is based offensively on ends Art Malo and Bob Herrick. Injuries have caused numerous substitutions in the rest of the line. Hausauer, Wolfe, Voigt and Leach have been among the mainstays.

Saturday's game will mark the debut of Sioux head coach, Marv Helling, in the Bison-Sioux series. The same is of course true for Bison head coach, Bob Danielson.

The Sioux roster includes 19 sophomores, six juniors and eight seniors. There are eight returning lettermen. The Sioux are not an exceptionally heavy team, with only five men over the two hundred pound mark.

Intramural Bowling Groups Attack Lanes

Four intramural bowling leagues began play October 8. Individual high game for the week was rolled by Myhre of SAE No. 2 with a 219. High series was rolled by Barnum of Kappa Psi No. 1 with a 550 total.

Four I-M Teams Are Undefeated

SAE No. 1, Coop, SAE No. 2 and SPD remain as the undefeated teams in the intramural football leagues in play through Oct. 10. SAE No. 2 and SPD have each been tied once and have played one game less than the other.

Results of games last week were:
Bracket A:
Coop 6; AGR 0.
SAE No. 2 12; Theta Chi 9.
SPD 13; Sigma Chi 12.
Bracket B:
ATO 19; Farmhouse 0.
Kappa Psi 6; TKE 0.
SAE No. 1 24; Student Union 6.
