1594 Cast Ballots In Student Vote

Peutz Tops Presidential Field As Record Number Select 1958-59 Student Government

Cy Peutz has been chosen the new Student Body president by power of the ballot. A decisive margin of over 200 votes carried him into the presidential chair as 1594, approximately 51% of the students, went to the polls.

The totals of the presidential race are as follows: Peutz, 837; Bill Lantz, 605; and Sharon Shepard, 143.

Peutz established an early lead in the tallying, and when the totals of the Union polling booth had been recorded, he had posted a lead of 100 votes. From that point on, Peutz was never threatened and went on to carry the campus voting places with increasing margins.

Lantz carried the Chemistry building vote, but this was not enough to head the lead Peutz had built up.

The eight persons named to the one-year senate seats include: Jim Austin, Harold Shattuck, Lyle Baker, Mike Wickstrom, Bruce Ness, Duane Enger, Charles Huntley, and Bob Walker.

Two year senators are Noel Estenson, Jerry Stockman, Larry Swenson, Jim O'Keefe, Bob Mann, and Sharon Mische.

The measure which asked the students whether they favored raising the activity fee .25c was defeated 968 to 552. The money derived from such a raise was to have been used to support debate activities on the campus.

The opinion poll regarding the name change won overwhelming approval as 1389 students cast "yes" votes as opposed to the 106 "no" votes. Eighty-seven students indicated they were undecided on the matter.

USNSA Proposes US-Russ Student Editor Trade

Exchange of five editors of youth and student newspapers has been proposed by the U. S. National Student Association to the Committee of Youth Organizations of the USSR. The Soviet youth group has said it will respond soon.

Tentatively, the exchange would carry United States editors to the Soviet Union in April for a month's visit; the Soviet group would spend the month of May here.

Larkin indicated that his Association's policy on USSR exchange has favored year-long academic exchanges as "a more fruitful approach to understanding" than short range tourist schemes. Claiming that a shorter program is more appropriate for student and youth editors, he pointed out that editors are accustomed to new situations and can get to the core of issues quickly.

This is USNSA's first Soviet Exchange program in the eleven years since its founding.

Last summer USNSA conducted a summer student program in Poland through its educational travel subsidiary. Larkin stated that the Polish program will be repeated this summer.

Beards To Be Judged Tonight

NDSC beard growers can return to the daily routine of scraping the hair from their face Saturday. The judging of entries in the Beard Growing Contest will take place prior to the Sioux-Bison game tonight.

Beards may be entered in any of four categories; the best trimmed, most unusual, shaggiest, and the best try.

The judges panel will be composed of barbers from the Fargo area. Trophies will be awarded to winners in each of the above groups.

The judging will take place in the side room at the Concordia Fieldhouse at 6:15. The room will be marked.

Government Takes Office March 18

Installation of the new student body president and senators will take place at the Installation Convo in Festival Hall, Tuesday, March 18, at 9:40 a.m.

All old senators and commissioners are reminded to be in attendance as well as the newly elected members.

At this time the Student Senate and President for the 1958-59 year will officially take office.

Mill Levy Will Provide Building Funds

Robert L. Crom, NDSC communications director, has been named general chairman of the Special Committee on Higher Education, the steering committee in the campaign to secure passage of the one mill levy which will raise funds for buildings on the campuses of North Dakota.

The levy will be on general property in the state, and will not provide all the funds necessary for the expansion programs necessitated by the anticipated increases in enrollment in the next ten years.

A meeting of college presidents, faculty and student representatives was held in Bismarck Tuesday to outline plans for the campaign and organize the various committees which will be necessary to handle the program. Crom, President

Hultz, and Neal R. Bjornson represented SC.

It was pointed out that the tax increase will amount to approximately one dollar per year per capita. The total would be between $600,000 and $700,000 annually. The measure would be in effect for 15 years. The average tax increase on 160 acres of land would be one dollar and .80 on houses in the urban areas.

The funds raised by this measure would be used to supplement, not replace, present appropriations for college building at the state supported institutions. However, if the measure were to be defeated, the legislature could interpret such action as a mandate by the voters of the state that they feel enough money has been spent on college expansion.

The drive for funds to support the campaign has been progressing, and all institutions attending the meeting Tuesday reported that they have received pledges for the amounts asked for from civic and alumni groups. The drive for student contributions on several campuses has neared completion.

The actual drive on the NDSC campus will begin this weekend and continue through the first weeks of Spring Quarter. Any individual or organization wishing to contribute to the fund at this time can do so by mailing the contribution to Campus Fund Drive, The Spectrum, State College Station, Fargo.

The drive will also be conducted during registration. The NDSC quota has been set at $1500 or approximately .50 per student.

Burglary Try Falls Short At Old Main Business Office

The Administration building had a late caller Tuesday night, when an unidentified person attempted to break into the vault in the Business Office.

Signs of a vain attempt were left behind when the burglar was apparently frightened from the scene by a janitor. A complete set of tools ranging from gas masks to crowbars were found by authorities near the vault.

Webb Candidate For Fraternity Award

Byron Webb of Montevideo, Minn., has been nominated for the Balfour Award by the North Dakota State College chapter of Sigma Chi national social fraternity.

The award is the highest undergraduate honor given annually to the most outstanding member of the active chapters within the fraternity. It is based on scholarship, personality, fraternity service, and student activity.

Webb, a senior in pharmacy at NDSC, is the Sigma Chi 1958 Bison Brevities director and has been vice president and secretary of the fraternity.

He is president of the Lutheran Student Association, vice president of the Rahjah Club, ROTC cadet battalion commander, and a member of Student Senate. After being graduated, he will be commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the Medical Service Corps.

parently frightened from the scene by a janitor. A complete set of tools ranging from gas masks to crowbars were found by authorities near the vault.

The would-be-thief knocked the dial off the vault door and then went to work on the wall along side the vault. He had ripped the plaster from the wall and was making progress on the brick barrier when he was scared off by the janitor.

In his haste to leave, the burglar left behind his tools and escaped from a window. A set of footprints was found beneath the window, indicating a one man job.

Entrance was gained to the building by breaking the lock on the south door and forcing the door into the Business Office. The attempt occurred between the hours of 2:00 and 6:00 a.m.

Union Teams Trip UND In Contests

Last weekend the Memorial Union bridge and billiards teams won their competition with the teams from UND. The bridge competition was won with NDSC winning 10½ games out of 14. The billiards score was 205 to 125. Those on the winning NDSC team were Gordon Kepner, Bob Conklin, and Jim Brand.

Tomorrow there will be return matches here in the Union. Bridge competition is slated at 1:00 p.m. in Meinecke Lounge; chess at 1:00 p.m. in the Dining Lounge and the Billiards match will be played at 3:00 p.m. in the Game Room. Spectators are invited.

Scouting Around

... Neal Bjornson

I started to write this misled bit of literary tripe while sitting in the lobby of the state capital in Bismarck. I was waiting for one of those committee meetings to come to a grinding halt. Too awhile. Anyway, while seated there contemplating what to write, this blonde sidles up.

I'm back in Fargo now. Election returns are still coming in, and the new Student Body President Cy Puetz has just been declared the winner. Congratulations. By the time I leave this office tonight I should be able to extend the same wishes to your new senators.

Big time last weekend. Soox got a little lucky Friday night, but the Herd came through and gave them a preview of what is ahead with that little tussle Saturday evening.

Couldn't make the Northern trip, but word reaches these ears that the Rahjahs answered the challenge of the Golden Feather last Saturday and beat them at their own game—hockey. Final score, 6-1. Would be fitting if Rahjah selected a sport more fitting to the abilities of the Igloo Technologists for this weekend. My suggestion would be hopscotch. Soox, bring your own chalk.

Guest columnist this week is Charles Sakariassen, co-editor of the literary idiosyncrasy known as the Dakota Steward. He is merely breaking the ice for the barbarity which is to engulf our fair campus this weekend. Probably few of the inmates of Upstate Abnormal will traverse the mileage between Grand Forks and Fargo this weekend. Reasons for this? First of all, the recent warm weather has limited travel in the area of Igloo Tech—dogsleds just won't cut it over the bare ground. Secondly, the Aboriginies of the North have a hockey series this weekend.

Switching to the sober side of the picture for a bit, we have learned of the incident in which a few individuals turned lumberjack last weekend and cut down one of the large signboards which advertise the University. We might ask, "Now Who Would do a Terrible Thing Like That?" to quote an old song title. SC students have come in for the greater share of the suspicion thus far. Both Student Senate and President Hultz have advanced their regrets in regard to the matter, and it is unfortunate that such an incident, whether perpetrated by State supporters or not, had to occur.

This is the last issue of the quarter, and as soon as finals are finished most of you will be scattering to the four winds for a few days of rest and relaxation far removed from the books. Don't forget about the name change. Petitions will be available for your signature during Spring Quarter registration, but that is not all you can do. While at home, talk to your parents, your neighbors, and anyone who will listen. Tell them the reasons behind the proposed change, let them know what the school has and that it truly does deserve the designation "North Dakota State University."

While you're talking about the name change, you might throw out the subject of the one mill levy. This measure will provide for the construction of much needed buildings on the campuses of all schools in the state.

Can't be here to see the Soox take it on the chin this weekend. Have to let Corky take care of Sak and that Steward crew. I'll check the points of interest in Minneapolis. Don't sweat the finals. Should've stayed in Bismarck with that blonde.

Did You Know . . . By Corky

A congratulations to the new Student Body president and senators. You now have a brand new title and job. You asked for it; go to it with the best of luck. You are now a public servant, so serve, darn ya, serve!!

But what of the defeated candidates? Whence do you go from hither? Back into an apathetic hole to scowl with disdain at the campus which defeated you? Or are you going to offer your talents and ideas to serve the campus over which you have been pouring campaign promises lately?

You did make a lot of promises, didn't you? And many were similar to the platforms of those who have been elected. Now, it would seem most natural to carry the similarity further and give the elected members some support in fulfilling these ideas. And I'm sure they wouldn't turn down any offer of help.

Keep it in mind. Just because the polling booths closed doesn't mean your duty to the student body has closed too.

Seeing all the mug shots, posters and cartoons plastered on walls, windows and woodwork this past week reminded me of an outdoor summer art show in Greenwich Village. Wish I had the cash that was spent on materials for campaigning.

I wonder, and so have a lot of other people, but wouldn't a centrally located bulletin board in the Union prove to be just as effective for such campaigning? The Union seems to be the hub of campus traffic. A large bulletin board for the purpose of displaying posters and related material should, I think, reach the majority of students at least once a day.

Much money is spent on literature and propaganda for candidacy of various kinds ranging from Queenships to UMOC. A great percentage of this money could be saved, and also the loss of pictures and posters could be cut down with usage of such a bulletin board.

With the possibility of an enlargement of the Union, I would say this is an idea for some enterprising young senator to advocate and carry through.

Elsewhere in this issue is a guest column of Charles Sakariassen, co-editor of the "Dakota Student" from the University. "Sak" and myself are old army buddies, having entered the service of the nation back in 1953.

Strangely enough, our lives have paralleled closely down through the past four years, all the way from girls to gracious attempts at writing. See me for all the ribald details, or read my autobiography on the back of a discarded Marlboro cigarette pack. I don't know what brand "Sak" smokes. Perhaps he rolls his own.

Scholarships Open To Students With Taste For History

The North Dakota Institute for Regional Studies announces several scholarships for the academic year 1958-59.

The Young Memorial Award, given by Mrs. Shorey Cameron in memory of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. George M. Young, provides for the payment of $100 to an advanced undergraduate or a graduate student of any school at NDSC for an original investigation relating to the history or government of North Dakota.

Mrs. Jessamine Slaughter Bur-gum of Arthur, N. D., offers a $100 scholarship to an undergraduate or graduate student of any school at NDSC for research in any phase of the historical program of the Institute during 1958 and 1959.

The North Dakota Institute for Regional Studies offers an award of $100 to an undergraduate student in the school of AAS, who will be in school for the year 1958-59, for research in any of the many phases of history, culture, or resources—biological or physical—of the Northern Great Plains.

Students interested in the scholarships should talk to staff members, in the appropriate field, for advice and recommendations. Applications must be submitted before March 4, 1958, to the office of Dean Russell, school of Applied Arts and Sciences.

Campus Radio

Here I sit, surrounded by two-hundred eighty pounds of yellow paper for our United Press teletype machine, and no machine is in sight at this writing. It is planned, however, that the machine will be installed by the time you are reading this column. Whence cometh our great luck? From the Lucky Strike people, of course! (See the ad on the back page of this tabloid).

All is well here at the Campus Radio station this week. By masterful strokes of his soldering gun, our technical director (Kasson by name) has repaired the various bits of equipment and our satellite is now feeding full power to the inhabitants of Stockbridge Hall. It's rumored that the fellows can even pick us up on their electric razors—such is the pleasure of life.

The "Tri-college Radio Network" is also in full operation and you can hear programs from the colleges in Moorhead the first four days of the week from 7:00-9:45.

KDSC will take auditions for newscasters during the first week of school in the Spring quarter. If you are interested, contact the program director, Dave Bragg or the news director, Lance Johnson, for the necessary information.

"Good Listening Dept."—Jim Lund and his "Smokedreams" show on Thursday nite at 9:45. Real fine music and the right blend of pertinent chatter. Along the same line, a new record from the Capitol people with the band of Stan Kenton has the intriguing title of "Tequila". Listen for it on your student station at the top of the nation, KDSC—750 on your radio dial.

Notice

State students are asked to use the north gate at the Concordia fieldhouse for the "series" games tonight and tomorrow night. This will ease the congestion and facilitate access to the State rooting section. Remember, that's the north gates.

Sak's Life On Campus . . .

(Charles Sakariassen, co-editor of the Dakota Student from the University, is a guest columnist this week. "Sak's" column is part of a gentlemen's agreement between editors of the Spectrum and Dakota Student to exchange columns during the Series fete.)

Igloo Tech, my foot! Man, you've never seen GF so warm! (and just between you and me, neither have I. I certainly don't know what happened to cause the untimely temperature rise last weekend, but it was probably due to all you downstate subnormal students who hit the old town and set it on fire. Because of it, it's rumored that our hockey team will play Michigan Tech on roller skates tonight.

But the matter at hand is basketball, and as some of you may have realized the UND barnburners are in town to resume the buffalo hunt. You can be sure Fargo will be "Flaming" just as bright as G. F. was last week.

Ahh, series time—brings back fond memories. Sparring sessions in the back of the Flame, table hopping at the 5 Spot, late evening chow at the frat houses, broken glass on the stairway of the FM, honeys in secluded corners, coffee at the Union, games at the Concordia gym, honeys in secluded corners, morning tomato juice at the Hasty Tasty, honeys in secluded corners—ah, yes, series time. What a blast!

For the past month U students have talked of nothing but going to good Ol' Silo Lodge. Where else in the world do sorority girls grow beards in a campus-wide contest?

As usual the kiddies of the Spectrum staff are challenged to a contest by a similar group of malcontents from the Dakota Student office. We'll meet you on the carpet at 3, Friday afternoon. Any spectators interested in watching the match of the century may secure tickets from Johnny.

And as usual the Soox are going into the second half of this series hands down favorites. Coach

Louie Bogan has said that Warren Arman's pogo stick will not be allowed on the floor this week, and they've taken Jerry Kingery's roller skates away, so we won't have any more trouble with them. Of course our Indians still eat little bison for breakfast, so hold your hats when we hit town.

Things are back to normal up here. Emil has swept the last hanger-on out the back door, making about fifteen trips to the bank and put out the Air Wicks to rid the stomping grounds of the Manure Mecca dis-stink-tion.

But what a crazy, mixed up weekend it was. All the parties the people and the activity was up there and I ended up in Fargo Sunday morning! My respects to the boys of Theta Chi who poured me into a sack Saturday night. I don't think I thanked them when I left. In fact, I don't think I woke up until I got back to G. F. But I'll be back down this weekend. Ugh, not again!

Hey, (or should that be hay?) what happen to our sign? First it's our covered wagon and now a sign. Ain't you kiddies ever going to grow up? Of course, we have no proof of exactly what did happen, but a few clues such as a little manure and some hayseed was found at the scene of the crime. And it's quite a coincidence if it just happened on that particular weekend.

There's talk up here about burning a few of your haystacks, chopping down a silo or two or letting the cattle loose in the oats. But we're going to try to act a little more mature about it. I doubt if we'll do anything more drastic than wiping the grease off your plow shares so they'll get rusty.

But, be that as it may, we're all looking forward to invading your pastures, greeting old friends and meeting new ones. We'll see you later on in the afternoon. Then, remember: "You can change the name, but the smell's the same."

Letters To The Editor . . .

Dear Sir:

For the past three weeks a movement has been in evidence on this campus and this self-same movement received the backing of the Student Senate. The movement I speak of is our proposed name change.

However, as is the case on this campus regarding a majority of things, the students of our fine school have adopted the same philosophy for this push as they have so ably done for other progressive measures. This is the "let George do it" attitude.

Well, the "Georges" of our school have done it and the progress of the name-change now lies with you, the student. If you want to sit back and watch the goings-on fine and dandy; that's up to you. But if you are actively interested in the proposed change then the time to act is NOW!

The opportunity for you to show your interest is going to be provided you on the proverbial "silver platter" during the registration for the Spring Quarter. At this time you will have the opportunity to sign the student petition requesting the name be changed to North Dakota State University. This petition will then be presented to Dr. Hultz who will in turn present the same to the State Board of Higher Education with his recommendation. It is most imperative that we get as many signatures on the petition as is humanly possible because the move is student originated.

Please bear in mind that the purpose of this letter is not to bring pressure to bear on anyone. Sign only if you feel you want the name changed, and after you have considered all the arguments pro and con. I feel that if you will do this, the petition will have over three thousand signatures expressing the desire of the students of NDSC.

For those of you students who would like to push this to a greater extent, there will be located in the Student Senate office, for your use over the quarter break, brochures for distribution in your own home towns and especially to the editors of your home town newspapers. Use these wisely and use them to promote the name-change. May our motto be "I is for NDSU, is you?"

Sincerely yours,
Joe Koebensky

Socially Speaking . . . By Jean Anderson

NO NEED to say FIRE UP! for the last weekend of this year's great and glorious series. Games at Concordia and parties everywhere. By the time this reaches you, the number one pep convo of the year should have all duly inspired for the funnest time of the whole year. And who knows . . . this may be just a good start for picnic season.

WHO WON the Snow Sculpture?? Haven't heard a word from A Phi O.

ON TO the social news at hand.

A PINNING! Yeah, bol Alpha Gam pledge Francis Ricketts passed the candle Monday and announced her pinning to SAE Duane Enger. Maybe spring fever will help out in the romance department on campus.

FIRST MONDAY of the new quarter Panhel is holding a tea in Meinecke Lounge for all girls interested in going through spring rush. The hour is four to six and registration will be at this time.

A psychiatrist is a man who, when a beautiful girl enters the room, watches everyone else.

WHAT! ANOTHER PINNING! Yep. SPD Jim Engbrecht hung his pin on Shirley Merck of Fargo.

"Do you realize that I actually don't know who I am? I was left on a doorstep."
"Gee, maybe you're a bottle of milk."

A PICNIC. I knew it was bound to happen. KDs and Kappa Psi got a head start last week. Of course, it was in the basement of the KD house, but picnic games (I wonder??) were played and marshmallows were toasted, et al.

KAPPA PSI pledged John Gustafson from Fergus Falls.

A customer sat down at a table in a smart restaurant and tied a napkin around his neck.

The manager called the waiter and said, "Try to make that man understand as tactfully as possible that that's not done here."

The waiter approached the customer and said, "Shave or a haircut, sir?"

KDs fed a few hungry Kappa Psi last week. Fellas claim they weren't right at the WUS carnival . . . and that was fun.

SAEs again. Pat Murphy is engaged to Patti Graham of Fargo.

Guess the parties this weekend are all taken care of—see you at the Series.

SCIENCE MADE SIMPLE: NO. 2

Though this column is intended solely as a vehicle for well-tempered drollery, the makers of Marlboro have agreed to let me use this space from time to time for a short lesson in science. They are the most decent and obliging of men, the makers of Marlboro, as anyone can tell from sampling their product. Only from bounteous hearts could come such a lot to like—such filter, such flavor, such flip-top box. The filter works; the flavor pleases; the box protects. Who can resist such a winning combination? Surely not I.

Today let us take up the science of medicine, which was invented in 1066 by a Greek named Hippocrates. He soon gathered around him a group of devoted disciples whom he called "doctors." The reason he called them "doctors" was that they spent all their time sitting around the dock and shooting the breeze. In truth, there was little else for them to do because disease was not invented until 1477.

After that, doctors became very busy, but it must be admitted that their knowledge of medicine was lamentably meagre. They knew only one treatment—a change of climate. For example, a French doctor would send all his patients to Switzerland. A Swiss doctor, on the other hand, would send all his patients to France. By 1789 the entire population of France was living in Switzerland, and vice versa. This later became known as the Black Tom Explosion.

Not until 1924 did medicine, as we know it, come into being. In that year in the little Bavarian village of Pago-Pago an elderly physician named Winko Sigafos discovered the hot water bottle. He was, of course, burned as a witch, but his son Lydia, disguised as a linotype, made his way to America where he invented the Mayo Brothers.

Medicine, as it is taught at your very own college, can be divided roughly into two classifications. There is internal medicine, which is the treatment of interns, and external medicine, which is the treatment of externs.

Diseases also fall into two broad categories—chronic and acute. Chronic disease is, of course, inflammation of the chron, which can be mighty painful, believe you me! Last summer my cousin Haskell was stricken with a chron attack while he was out picking up tinfoil, and it was months before the wretched boy could straighten up. In fact, even after he was cured, Haskell continued to walk around bent over double. This went on for several years before Dr. Caligari, the lovable old country practitioner who treats Haskell, discovered that Haskell had his trousers buttoned to his vest.

Two years ago Haskell had Addison's disease. (Addison, curiously enough, had Haskell's.) Poor Haskell catches everything that comes along. Lovable old Dr. Caligari once said to him, "Son, I guess you are what they call a natural born catcher."

"The joke is on you, Doc," replied Haskell. "I am a third basemen." He thereupon fell into such a fit of giggling that the doctor had to put him under sedation, where he is to this day.

But I digress. We were discussing medicine. I have now told you all I can; the rest is up to you. Go over to your med school and poke around. Bring popcorn and watch an operation. X-ray each other. Contribute to the bone bank . . . And remember, medicine can be fun!

Meier, Summer Smoke Jumper In Forest Service, Tells Of Experiences

How does it feel to jump out of a plane 1000 feet up?

"It is a strange and errant feeling until the shock of the chute opening brings you back to reality," says James Meier, NDSC student, who is a smoke jumper as Missoula, Montana, every summer for the Forest Service.

Jim started jumping the summer of 1955. His training lasted four weeks, during which he learned how to fight forest fires, jump into the fire area and, the most important thing, how to jump with a parachute from an airplane.

"The first jump is the easiest because you really don't know what to expect. The second and third jumps are the hardest," said Jim, and you never do get used to the first 70 foot fall before the chute opens".

There were 120 jumpers in the outfit with Meier and most of them were college students.

The job pays well with lots of overtime, Jim says, but it is a rough and rugged life, requiring great endurance.

You may be on the fire line from 20 to 30 hours without sleeping. Jim also added, "Then you have to walk out of the fire area until you can be picked up by trucks which may mean a 15 or 25 mile hike".

Jim said that 90% of the fires are caused by lightning. The smoke jumpers main purpose is to jump into the fire area and try to control it until more men can walk into the fire area and take over.

When asked why he became a smoke jumper, Jim stated, "My brother was a jumper and he liked it so I thought I would try it, but I wouldn't want to make a career out of it. It's too dangerous."

Nielson Gives Views On College

The Junior College has a definite place in the education system.

That is the opinion of Paul Nielson, NDSC senior in engineering and a graduate of Bottineau School of Forestry, one of the state's junior colleges.

The junior college is a good place to start your college career because you get a good background in the basic subjects, Nielson states.

He believes if he hadn't started in a small college he wouldn't be in college today.

To back this line of reasoning he said if he had been in a larger college he would have become so discouraged with the unfamiliar life at college he would have quit.

But because of the small enrollment he became well acquainted with the student body and staff and that was enough to give him courage to continue.

Why, For Paper Clothes

By Barbara Helt

Have you ever been the victim of "wash day blues"?

If you haven't chances are that you are one of the fortunate few who doesn't wash clothes. Picture yourself without any clean clothes. After debating with yourself, you decide that it is time to wash clothes. You have one hour until the next class to get this monthly chore done. You arm yourself with soap, bleach, starch, and, of course, your musty duds and a radio.

While passing the desk you stop some of your unmentionables, but a waiting male guest graciously picks them up for you.

Arriving in the wash room you put your clothes down on the floor. Hurriedly you fill the wash machine with water. After inserting your dime and plugging it in you get an unexpected shower because you forgot that the automatic drain hose was on. You close the door, put your clothes in, and start mopping up.

A friend comes down to keep you company. She is anxious to tell you the latest gossip and spills her bleach bottle on the way over, adding a strong aroma to the room. She is sorry, but you explain that the clothes are white enough and you really didn't need it.

After much jerking and pulling you get the clothes through the wringer and luckily you lost only a few buttons.

About this time you are putting your bedspread through the wringer and it very stubbornly keeps coming up for you. Elvis doing a back and roll on the radio only adds to the confusion.

You miraculously find an empty washer, but opening the door, you are met with a blast of cold air. This doesn't shake you up any more, since you are hardened into expecting anything. Calmly you hang your clothes up, shifting someone else's around to accommodate yours.

You wipe your wet hands and comb your damp hair, which has been straight by now, and head for class hoping the instructor won't decide to give a pop test.

Sticklers!

TAXI DRIVING, at best, is a checkered career. Some days, nothing seems to click—including the meter! Traffic crawls, motor stalls, horns beat, bumpers meet. What a moment to reach for a Lucky—and discover (horrors!) you're fresh out. That's when the most genial driver turns into a Crabby Cabby. And why not? He's missing the best taste going... a cigarette that's light as they come. Luckies are all light tobacco—good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. Try 'em yourself. And step on it!

Herd Drops 1st-66-58

The North Dakota State Bison as a result of a very sad night were tripped up by a well oiled, fast moving University of North Dakota five Friday night, as they went down to a 66-58 defeat. It was a night when the Sioux could do no wrong and the Bison could not get rolling. It was the opinion of many that this game was one of the best University efforts so far this year and considering the way the Bison played, an eight point margin at the end of the game might indicate the Bison as having the better team. A slender University lead of 34-32 at the half time mark opened up a little more in the second stanza but the Herd, despite their many troubles, kept pretty well in contention most of the way. A 4 point deficit with four minutes to go gave a slim hope to a Bison retaliation but stalling tactics on the part of the Sioux drew enough fouls to wrap up the game. Warren Arman piled in 26 points as he collected 9 of the Herd's 19 buckets. Bobby Brown was the only other SC player who managed to hit the double column. He notched 13 counters. Fine shooting by the Sioux told the final story as they fired at a 44.6 clip, which is good shooting in any game. The Bison could only manage to convert 31.7% of their shots.

Bison Even Up Series Trouncing Sioux 73-56 With Balanced Scoring

A balanced scoring attack and a superb rebounding job by sophomore Jerry Kingery combined with an all around well played game on the part of the North Dakota State Bison to prove too much for the University Sioux, and the annual Bison-Sioux series evened up Saturday as the Herd romped to a 73-56 victory. A complete reversal from the night before in the mechanics of the two teams found the Bison dominating the whole game with their effective ball handling, shooting, rebounding, and terrific defensive effort. At no time in the game did the University five threaten the Bison cause, and an early tie at ten all proved to be the only time the Sioux equaled the Bison scoring. Good ball control and tremendous rebounding gave the Bison forty shots at the hoop in the first half and the range was found enough times to give the Herd a dominating 17 point halftime lead, and for all practical purposes the game was on ice. In the second half the thundering Herd had no intentions of folding, as they raised their shooting percentage, chalking up 15 of 34 field goal attempts. A Bison lapse midway through the second half triggered a University desperation plunge in an effort to overtake the Herd, but after narrowing the margin to 8 points, the Bison put a halt to this attack with a counter-attack and unleashed a barrage of buckets which completely smothered the Sioux and gave the Bison their 17 point win.

Warren Arman led the Bison cause as he poured in 24 points and played a standout game. Jerry Kingery, Dick Faught, and John Foss each added 14 points to the balanced attack.

Coach Chuck Bentson was very pleased with the efforts of his ball team in their complete reversal of the previous night. Fifty seven rebounds and 40% shooting told the story for the victorious Herd.

This game deadlocks the series and the stage is set for the two games this weekend.

Arman Sets Record

Warren Arman, NDSC varsity center, has achieved the distinction of setting the most records of any basketball player in the history of the school. In addition, he may set three more in this weekend's frays against the UND Sioux.

Included in those he has already set are: most free throws in one game (14), best free throw average for one game (14), best field goal average for one game (.786), most points in a season (377), most field goals in a season (139) and most field goals in one game (12). Arman needs only 18 rebounds to set a new record for the most rebounds in a season, and is very close to setting new standards for the season free three percentage and season points per game average.

A small man for a center by college standards, the 6'4" senior attended Bismarck JC before transferring to NDSC last year. He was outstanding in basketball for St. Mary's of Bismarck.

Warner Suggests Rattlesnake Hunt As Boredom Cure

Are you bored with present day sports?

Try rattlesnake hunting, says Marv Warner, a junior in general agriculture from Carson in south western North Dakota.

Marv states all it takes is a little interest, much courage, and a sunny fall afternoon.

This type of hunt must take place when the snakes come out to sun themselves.

The rattlesnakes return every year, it seems, to their "den" area of holes in which they were raised. This area usually covers about 150-200 yards in diameter and is generally located on the south side of a small hill or knoll.

You walk into this area with high rubber boots and a shotgun. The high boots are preferable worn loose causing many folds in the rubber thus protecting the leg from the poisonous snakes. As you walk into their sunning grounds Warner says, the area "comes alive" with hissing and buzzing the "rattlers". Usually, once you find a spot, hundreds of snakes are around on all sides. A steady shot with enough courage to stand, and shoot until he decides he has had enough.

Marv tells of the pheasant hunter who accidentally walked into such a den.

He had his gun loaded and carried a few extra rounds. After succeeding in firing these shells and yelling like mad, his buddy drove into the middle of the snakes and rescued the nearly frantic hunter.

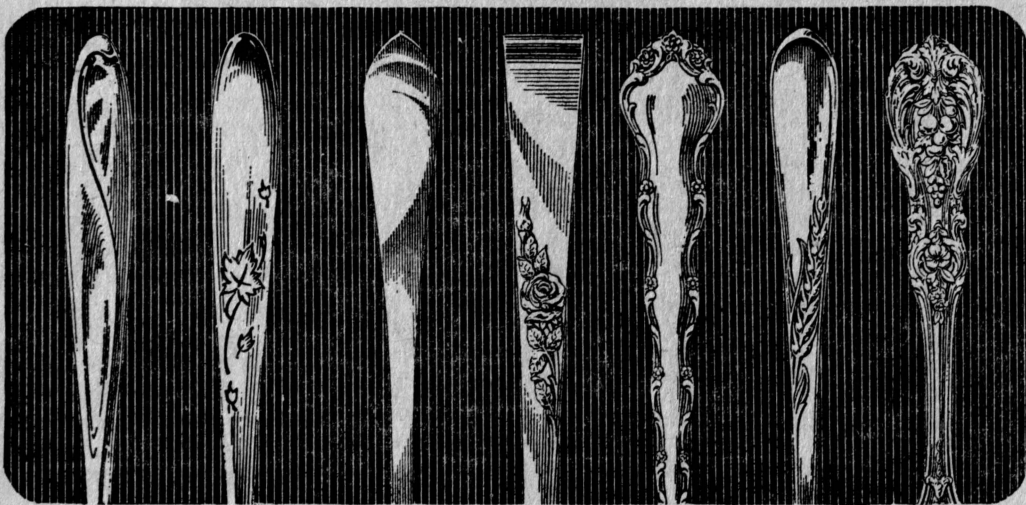

So if you would like a sport that will bring many a wild dream Marv suggests a rattlesnake hunt in the "Great West River Country."

Sports Of All Sorts

... by Clarence Anderson

A little bit on track before I get started on the current topic of basketball, namely the U Series. Coach Tom Neuberger announced that training and workouts for the basketball squad has now gotten underway. Several men have already begun workouts. Anyone interested in track competition this spring is asked to report to Neuberger's office in the Fieldhouse as soon as possible.

Two seniors take the court for the Bison for the last time this weekend. The men playing their last two games for the Herd are captain Warren Arman and guard Bobby Brown. Arman, pushing hard for the top spot in the North Central Conference scoring race, has already set numerous State College individual marks for the past two seasons.

Brown, not really coming into his own until this year, has been the spark of the Bison in several games this year. His top college game came against the Morningstar Maroons here Jan. 18, when he picked up 27 points and contributed heavily to the Bison victory. Another high point in Brown's collegiate career was when he fired a field goal in the second game of last year's series which tied the score and sent the game into overtime, thereby setting up the Bison victory.

Let's show our appreciation for these two men as well as the rest of the Herd over at Concordia this weekend. These guys put a lot of time into NDSC basketball and the Herd's season record for the year is hardly credit enough.

Congratulations to Warren Arman on the numerous records he has already set here at State. Best luck in the two remaining games.

Now on to the "U" Series. I hardly feel capable of rambling on about these games as I was one of the few who remained behind as the Herd headed north to the strange wonders of Sooxville. Several points I wish to make however:

1. It sounds like, from the discussion around school this week, there are a lot of weekenders in the crowd but not all of these went to the games.

2. Congratulations to the wireless setup up north. Nothing like a hockey game for good listening. The half-time score was in by nine, but, oh, for a long second half. Quarter after ten and still no score.

3. Now the shoe is on the other foot and the Series is down here. The Bison pick up what little home floor advantage they may have at Concordia and down go the Sooxs for two more losses. However, it ends happily(?) and the Bison and the Sioux tie for fourth in the North Central Conference.

Just remember to stagger in through the north door over at Concordia. Lot less confusion that way.

Bemidji Wins Meets

Bemidji State College won five firsts and scored 98 points to win the first Moorhead State College invitational wrestling tournament last Saturday.

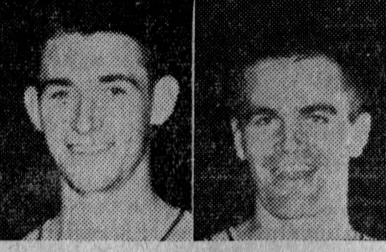

Valley City took second with 52 points followed by Concordia with 44, Moorhead State with 36, Minot with 26 and NDSC with 22.

Despite his team's poor finish, NDSC wrestling coach Tom Neuberger had words of praise for his wrestlers. "We turned in a good performance," Neuberger said. "We were hampered by an injury to Bob Hammer, our 130 pounder, who was in scoring position when he got hurt." Hammer was expected to be ready again this week.

Larry Van Sickle won a first in the 147 lb. division.

The Bison meet Montana State here this afternoon at 3:00 and Macalester at 2:00 tomorrow.

Possible Sioux Starters For Series

Monson Vinger

Keller Larson

Hokanson

Pictured above are the five men likely to draw starting assignments for the North Dakota University Sioux this weekend. These are the nucleus of the team which is battling for fourth place in the North Central Conference and a sweep of the four game series with the Bison. Either team winning three of the four games is credited with a two-game sweep in the NCC standings.

Throughout the season the Sioux have been noted for their defense and their rebounding, holding down second and third, respectively, in the official conference standings.

The Sioux are led offensively by forward Bob Hokanson with a 13.6 point per game average. Other members of the squad frequently hitting in double figures include Monson and Larson.

The closeness of the Sioux and the Bison was further emphasized by the statistics of the games last weekend. The Bison shot at a 39% clip from the field as compared to 37.8 for the Sioux. In free throw percentages the Bison held the advantage 52 to 66. In total scoring the Bison again held a narrow lead, 131 to 122.

MY CLOSEST SHAVE by Pat Flaherty

1956 Indianapolis Speedway Winner

"My closest shave was at Indianapolis in 1953," says Pat Flaherty, 1956 Indianapolis winner. "The track temperature that day hit 125° and the exhaust fumes hung right down on the speedway. I was going into the north turn at 130 mph when the fumes got me. I blacked out, hit the outside concrete fence, and skidded along for 120 feet. The car was demolished, my helmet was torn off, my safety belt broke—but I didn't break a single bone!"

Mech Eng Graduate Solves Auto Problem

What kind of a car will Howard Nelson, NDSC graduate student in mechanical engineering, come up with?

"A home-made Thunderbird" is what Howard thinks he'll have when he assembles all the parts. His ingredients so far are a 1948 Studebaker body, 1942 Plymouth chassis and a 1946 Ford engine and transmission.

Mechanics has always been his hobby. The first car that he "customized" was a Model T Ford.

He has worked on his "Thunderbird" sports car for eight months and plans to have it finished this summer. Lack of time, definite plans and money are my main problems," says Howard.

If you answered "No" to all questions, you obviously smoke Camels — a real cigarette. Only 6 or 7 "No" answers mean you better get on to Camels fast. Fewer than 6 "No's" and it really doesn't matter what you smoke. Anything's good enough!

But if you want to enjoy smoking as never before, switch to Camels. Nothing else tastes so rich, smokes so mild. Today more people smoke Camels than any other cigarette. The best tobacco makes the best smoke. Try Camels and you'll agree!
