Constructing model airplanes takes a lot of skill and hard work, but it also results in a lot of fun, as any one with the model airplane bug can verify. From l. to r., Duane Hlavinka and Fred Arndt, members of the YMCA Model Airplane club, glue wings for two models together.

Bracelets will be presented to the girl in each sorority with the highest scholastic average for the last three quarters. A similar award to the independent girl with the highest average will be given at Honors Day Convocation.

The scholarship plaque will be presented to the sorority having the highest scholastic average for the last three quarters. Alpha Gamma Delta and Kappa Kappa Gamma tied for this award last year.

YM-YW Sponsors Faculty Fireside

Would you like to get better acquainted with members of the faculty? Here's your chance. The NDSC YMCA-YWCA is sponsoring a series of "Faculty Firesides" with this purpose in mind.

At a Y sponsored Faculty Fireside, you have the opportunity to get acquainted with members of the faculty on an informal level. The plan is as follows: You meet in the Y office (in the library) around 8 on the designated night; then there you go with fellow students to the home of the respective professor and meet with him for a couple of hours. It will give you a chance to see that the members of the faculty are just as interested in getting to know you, as you are in being better informed about them. If you have a couple free hours, give one of these sessions a try. Next Tuesday (April 15) we are going to Professor Rudy Otterson's home. Rudy has been affiliated with NDSC for many years and is looking forward to seeing students at his home.

The following Tuesday (April 22) we will go to the Wouter Bosch home. To those of you who haven't been to one of these sessions, here is your chance.

Notice To Boys Eligible For Draft

College students seeking deferment from the service are urged to contact the Office of Admissions and Records before the end of the present school year, for the office to file the student's status with his local draft board.

At the end of each academic year the office will certify to local draft boards, the class rank of any student, on forms provided by the Selective Service System. Even though the student may not wish student deferment at this time or may not even be classified at this time, it would be to his advantage to have such information on file with his draft board.

This information is certified to the draft board only upon request of the student. Consequently, if he wishes the Office of Admissions and Records to supply this information, he must notify them prior to the end of the academic year.

Remember that it pays to keep the draft board informed on all things and particularly academic standing, if the student expects to need deferment to complete his college education.

FM Symphony Orchestra To Play At Convo

Mixing old and new music in its program, the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra will play for SC students at convo Wednesday at 9:40 in Festival Hall. The 80-piece orchestra is conducted by Sigvald Thompson.

Principal feature will be "The Firebird," ballet suite by famed modern composer, Igor Stravinsky. His "Rite of Spring" had local jazz fans on their toes a few years back for its rhythmic interest, according to F. G. Schoff of the Convocation Committee; and there's some of that style in the "Firebird."

"The War Years," part of a symphony suggested by the life of Abraham Lincoln, will be another item. Composer is Roger Hannay, now teaching at Mayville STC. Music by Francois Couperin, 17th century French master, completes the program.

Now 26 years old, the F-M Symphony has had 20 of them under conductor Thompson. From early seasons of four concerts by about 20 players, it has grown to an organization of 80 professional and student performers, giving 15 programs in the last year.

Besides a regular 5-concert winter season, it offers half a dozen outdoor summer "pops" programs at Island Park pool that draw kids with pop and ice cream cones as well as adults. The last two years it has also given youth concerts in F-M junior high schools. Sponsored by the Women's Association of the orchestra, they were heard by some 3,000 public and parochial school students this year.

Announcement

The management of the Memorial Union's Bison Room has announced that it will offer its services in the preparation of food for spring picnics. An advance reservation of 48 hours is requested.

Dale Brostrom Announces Retirement As Advisor To NDSC Student Senate

Dale Brostrom, director of the Memorial Union, announced his retirement as advisor to Student Senate at the annual inaugural banquet, March 25th. He said he has accepted additional responsibilities, which preclude more time with senate.

For the past seven years Dale has been co-advisor to the Senate.

He started when Student Senate changed from a commission system to a senate system.

He stated that since the change, student senate has made constant progress. Members have assumed more responsibilities, built a better homecoming, started a freshman orientation program, and also started a leadership training clinic.

To Dale, Student Senate is the number one organization on campus. He feels that it is not easy for eighteen to twenty students to do a job which will satisfy 3,000 students, especially when many have poor or indifferent attitudes.

Fun While Working! Jobs Are Available During Summer Mos.

Make this summer a summer to remember. Jobs in community service, national parks and camps, overseas work camps, YMCA and YWCA camps are now available.

You can have your choice of jobs in Chicago, Seattle, South Dakota, New York, Minneapolis and Saint Paul, Fargo, and western United States. You can also work in Europe, Middle East, Africa, Asia, or Latin America.

The types of jobs range from working in orphanages, T. B. hospitals, and industry, to handling handicraft instruction, waiting on tables, or leading study groups.

Some of the voluntary service projects cost you, but other projects will pay up to $300 a month. The question comes to mind, are these services and projects measurable in money?

The experiences gained at camps and work projects are unmeasurable. The people you live with are from different economic backgrounds. Their ideas are different. One gains a broader knowledge while living with people of different religious backgrounds and with different ideals.

For further information on how you can participate in one of these experiences, contact Leo Johnson or Jan Bennisen at "Y" office in the library or call 5-8772.

Student News Bureau Cries For Added Help

The Student News Bureau needs your help! It is in need of new staff members.

Previous experience in writing news stories is not required, but ability to type is helpful, though not needed.

If you are interested in helping publicize the activities and accomplishments of State's students, contact Mary Anderson at 5-1285 or come up to the Publications office, Wednesday evenings.

Vets Notice

The NDSC Vets Club is looking for a student veteran to manage the newly formed group hospital insurance plan, affiliated with Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

All interested Vets Club members are asked to submit written requests for the job to Jack Seelhammer, Vets Club Commander, A-1 North Court, by April 21. All veterans submitting requests will meet with the executive committee on April 22.

The Administrator will be paid at the rate of 20 cents per policy per month.

Spring has indeed invaded the NDSC campus . . . And with it comes the yearly epidemic of spring fever. It shows the students finding excuses to get out of studying . . . gazing off into space . . . marks going down . . .

Once again the halls ring with the old familiar phrase . . . "Let's go on a picnic!" The picnic season is in full swing . . . everywhere students can be seen dragging hampers of food to the local parks.

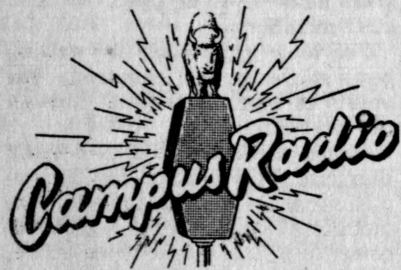

This weekend several NDSC students, myself included, will travel to Gustavus Adolphus College for a regional NSA conference. This should prove to be valuable for the student body, as well as challenging and educational for the individuals attending.

It's mid term time again . . . It looks as if there will be a lot of midnight oil burned next week . . . cheer up people . . . there is still time to raise those grades before the end of the quarter.

We hope to stimulate a lot of letters to the editor and plan soon to have a special heading for them. The only stipulation is that your letters be responsible . . . this doesn't preclude fun . . . and relevant to the campus community. Oh yes, they should be signed, preferably brief and typed. Letters that are too long winded will be trimmed, but not in such a way as to distort the writer's meaning.

It looks like a lot of the professors have been influenced by Sputnik. At least a lot of the old faces are missing this quarter. To be sure, a lot of fellows have gone home to put in crops, but it seems, from where I sit in the middle of most classes, that the top is getting farther away and the bottom closer . . . In any case, it seems to be harder to get an A . . . It's still a democracy . . . you can flunk for three whole quarters before you get the axe . . . or is it only two?

The clock on the wall says it's times to abandon the typewriter for this week . . . See you next time around.

All lonesome people who populate the dorm on Friday and Saturday night, now have a new medium of entertainment with which to pass the time. Yes, old "Campi" radio will be on the air until 1 a.m. From 11 to 1, nice, soft, late evening instrumental type music will be featured. Radio 7-5-0 for the best in weekend entertainment.

And another big feature for the sports fans on campus. By the use of some strong politics, KDSC has received the services of the Spectrum sports' editor, Roger Lutz, for a 15 minute sports commentary show, Wednesday from 6:15 to 6:30. Everything from campus sports to major league baseball will be covered.

Richard Lund and Bruce Hamnes, by displaying exceptional possibilities of becoming top notch disc jockeys, were recently added to the staff of KDSC.

Say, for some real swell listening don't miss the network program from Kobb at Concordia College. The Kobbs send us some real swell selections each night Monday through Thursday from 8:30 to 9.

We have yet to exhaust our supply of records that are given free for the asking. This weekend, be sure to drop up and receive one, and only one, record direct from the files of KDSC.

Don't forget the neat music emanating from the gleaming tubes of KDSC, Friday and Saturday nights.

Snap That Picture! Enter It In The Photo Contest

The contest, open to all amateurs, is being jointly sponsored by the "Y" Camera Club and the Student Union Activities Board. Prizes will be awarded in both the print and colored slide divisions.

More information may be secured from the Student Union offices. The contest closes May 1.

Try A Hand At Writing Win Fame And Fortune

What do you think you would want to know about college life if you were back at the high school senior level, pondering what school to attend and what to study when you get there?

If you think you can answer these questions in a news feature story, the special High School Edition of the Spectrum might be able to use it.

Traditionally, the students of NDSC have published a special edition of the Spectrum, dedicated to North Dakota high school seniors and designed to help them decide to go to college.

This year the Student Publications class (Communications 205) is editing the paper as a special project. Members need stories and photos, which picture representative scenes from NDSC life.

If you would like to try to have your story or a picture you snapped, included in the special edition, submit the double-spaced, typewritten copy and the photo with negative to the Spectrum editor. To insure getting back your photo and negative, be sure to place them in a well-marked envelope.

Not all photos and copy submitted will be included. Funds and space are limited. But the editors want to have the best possible selection when they start assembling the paper next week, for May 1 publication.

You will get a name and home town by-line on pictures or stories used.

Here's your chance to break into print and do it in a way the old high school gang will be sure to see it.

Yes—Spring Has Sprung Field Work Has Begun

Spring is in the air—at least that is the idea one gets after watching the goings-on at the Agricultural Experiment Station on the NDSC campus.

Everywhere you look, you see men scurrying about weighing, measuring, and packaging seed; planning fertilizer trials; drawing plot layouts; repairing and readying machinery; and in some cases just getting excited.

Many decisions must be made as to what is to be planted where and why.

Field work at the station normally begins a little later than the average farmer starts but things will be rolling soon, weather permitting. Numerous tests will be run this summer to try to develop grain, forage, and garden crops resistant to disease, insects, and bacteria. Researchers also seek varieties which will withstand the North Dakota weather, and give man more of an advantage over nature. Tests will be made to find the right fertilizers and plant foods for these crops.

Studies are not limited to field crops but include livestock, too. Animal nutrition trials are being run or being planned for the coming year.

SC Orients Local High School Girls

High school senior girls from five local high school will be guests of NDSC at an orientation program and luncheon Saturday morning, April 12, according to Matilda B. Thompson, NDSC dean of women.

Girls from Fargo Central, Shanley, West Fargo, Oak Grove Lutheran, and Moorhead High will attend the program, which begins at 10 a.m. in Dean Thompson's office in the Administration building.

Various interest groups and tours are planned. The deans of the SC schools will be available for conferences. The luncheon, which concludes the program, will be in the ballroom dining room.

Painting Is Just Pleasant Pastime For Ferris Cordner

Ferris Cordner, NDSC graduate of 1946, is exhibiting his paintings in the college library.

This is the second one-man show that he has put on in Fargo.

The exhibition will last until April 26.

Ferris, whose parents live in Bismarck, works for Bell Telephone Company, Omaha, Neb., as a writer in the public relations department.

By the quality of his paintings, one would think he was a professional painter; but to Ferris, it is just his hobby.

Asked why he paints, he stated, "It gives me a feeling of accomplishment. Take for instance the Eighth Sea. There is a painting I spent 50 hours on. When the result turns out like it did, it gives me a feeling of pride."

Another of his favorites is the Second Tuesday. It is a painting of a boat by the sea, which is brought to life through shades and shadows.

Ferris took up painting after reading an illustrated book by a British painter. He did not like her style of painting and decided he would try his own way of doing it.

A bachelor, he enjoys other hobbies. He likes to play tennis, listen to Hi-Fi, and drive around in his Healey sports car.

YMCA Marks Centennial At St. Paul Conference

The NDSC YMCA will be represented at the North Central Area Council meeting this week-end in St. Paul, Minnesota, by the following people: Clinton Sparks, Morrie Longballa, Milton Matzek, and Leo Johnson.

The North Central Area of the YMCA includes YMCA's from Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, and portions of Montana. Both student and city YMCA's will be represented.

Special feature of the meeting this year will be a celebration, by the Council, of the centennial of the student YMCA. One hundred years ago, the YMCA had its beginning at the University of Virginia.

The North Central Area Student Council will convene after the Area Council closes on Saturday.

Eat Heartily; Discuss 'Image of Man' at Luncheon

One of the more interesting programs sponsored by the NDSC YMCA is their Thursday noon faculty-student luncheons. These are held in Ceres Hall and are open to any and all who are interested.

This quarter, the Y continues to discuss: "The Image of Man". This will be looked at from the viewpoint of a behaviorist, a Mormon, an Athletic Director, an Educator, a Juvenile Commissioner, and others.

All you have to do is go through the line in Ceres Hall Cafeteria and into the private dining room, the west of the cafeteria. Meetings are from 12 noon until 1:15.

Come when you can and stay as long as you want. You can always get involved in a good discussion. A side feature, but important, that is, is the opportunity to get in an informal argument with members of the faculty—if you happen to disagree with them.

Well over two-hundred students and faculty have participated in this program this year. The public at large is also invited and encouraged to attend.

Local Y'ers Travel To Igloo Tech Convo

The YMCA and YWCA will attend the North Dakota spring conference at NDU on April 18 and 19. The conference will start with a Geneva banquet on Friday evening and end at 4 p.m. on Saturday.

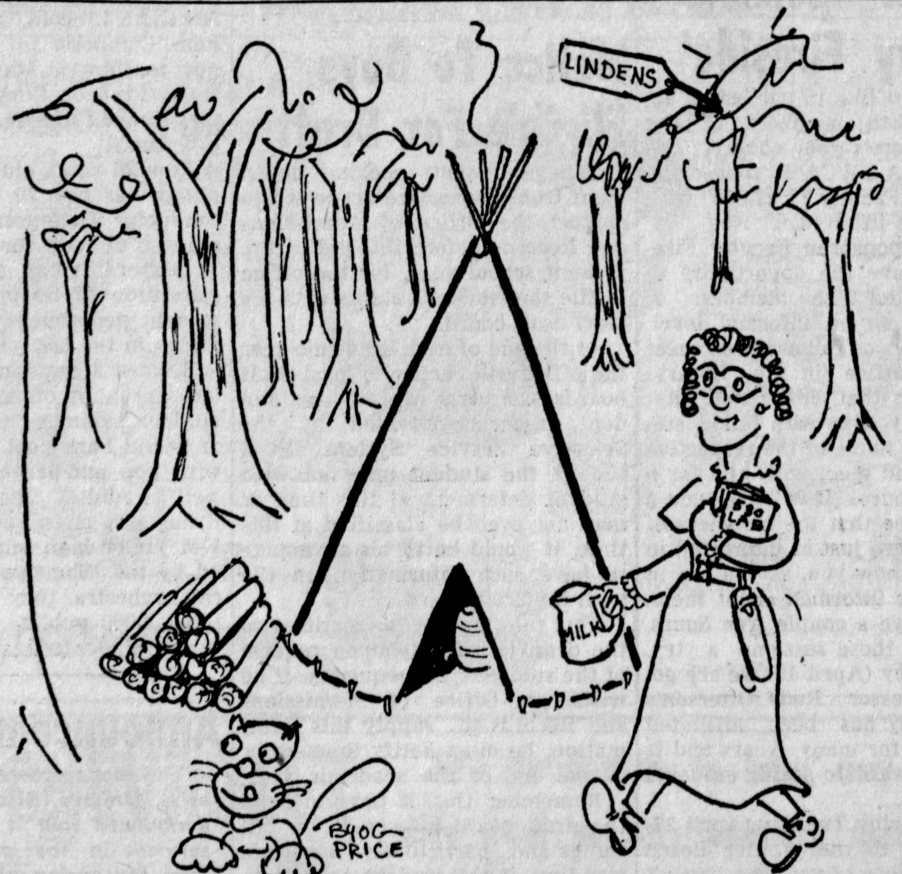

Meetings are to be held in the Student Union. Workshops will include topics of membership and purpose. Rev. Charles Markman will speak on membership and Rev. Leo Johnson on "Our Movement". Housing will be provided for men at Beck Hall and for women Larimore Hall.

Anyone desiring to attend should contact the "Y" office.

DANCE

Music and mystery will prevail from nine to 12 tonight in the Student Union Ballroom.

Free dancing to a "Hernandez Hideaway" theme will provide evening of fun and fancy for students with imagination. The decoration dance is sponsored by SUAB.

Augsburg Band To Present Concert At Concordia Fieldhouse, April 16

The Augsburg College Band will present a concert in the Concordia College fieldhouse April 16. The band is directed by Mr. Mayo Savold, one of Minnesota's most accomplished musicians. Acclaimed as one of the outstanding college concert bands of America, the style of this highly trained group has been compared to the noted professional bands rather than to other college groups. The band will present a program selected from the best literature, appealing to all tastes. Besides classical, its repertoire includes light tuneful numbers, marches, technique and novelty selections.

Known among the state's musical educators to be an accomplished adjudicator, Savold is used extensively at school music contests. He directs the Augsburg College women's chorus and the Nurses chorus at Swedish Hospital in Minneapolis.

The Concordia concert is one of a concert tour throughout Minnesota.

Ritchie Attends A.W.S. Convention

Karen Ritchie, home economics major, attended the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students regional convention at Iowa City, Iowa, as the A.W.S. representative from NDSC, during Easter vacation. "The Silent Generation Speaks" was the theme of the convention. Its main purpose was to consider problems relating to the role and responsibilities of women students in local, national, and international affairs.

Discussions were also held on the values of American college students and their relatively unrestricted opportunities for freedom of thought and personal development. The convention was covered by Mademoiselle magazine.

Shanley High Choir

The Shanley high school acappella choir will present a program of music in Putnam Hall at 5 p.m., Wednesday, April 16.

No admission will be charged.

Guest Of Co-ops

Glenn A. Long, manager of the Farmers Union Marketing Association of South St. Paul, Minnesota, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Co-op House, Monday, April 7.

Mr. Long explained the history of the marketing association and talked about its operations.

"The Farmers Union Marketing Association," he said, "is a cattle selling co-operative, organized and owned by Farmers Union members in the four-state area of North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, and Wisconsin."

He stated that the volume of the Farmers Union Marketing Association has steadily increased since its organization. Today it is one of the larger consignors of livestock for sale in South St. Paul and in West Fargo.

A question and answer period followed Mr. Long's report.

Coed Sums Up All The Woes And Thrills Of Living In Sorority House

"It's a Great Life."
That was the comment given by a Phi Mu when she was asked how she liked life in a sorority house. Life in a sorority house is both exciting and nerve-wracking. Sometimes it is hard to study when the girls are in the next room having a little gab session. Walls aren't always soundproof.
Or maybe you're the only poor soul with a 7:45 a.m. class, when you accidentally drop your hand lotion bottle and wake everyone. Then for the rest of the day the girls are "mad" at you because you disturbed their beauty sleep.

But those wonderful moments when one of the girls comes sneaking in with a new pin or diamond make all undesirable moments fade away. A good many study hours are spent together trying to find out every little detail—Was he nervous? Did he tell you he loved you? A girl reporter can't possibly know all the details about living in a fraternity house. The appearance of some of the fellows on Friday mornings indicates that they don't always get ten hours of sleep every night, either.
Spring and Fall usually makes the fellows less inclined to study and more likely to be out "goofing around." Many times the girls at the dormitories and sorority houses are honored with a serenade in the small hours of the morning.
College life is wonderful and group living adds to the fun, and the education.

Women's Phy Ed Head Sees Phy Ed Benefits

"Physical education for women can be both entertaining and educational," says Miss Beulah Gregoire, head of the women's physical education department.
Many courses in team and individual play are offered to women. Among the individual sports, golf and tennis are becoming popular. Archery, bowling, swimming, badminton, and modern dance are a few of the other courses available. Basketball, volleyball, and speedball are three of the team-type sports played.
Freshman girls are required to take three credits in body mechanics, physical fitness, and rhythms. After completing these hours, the girls may try out for Orchesis, which is a modern dance group.
There is an active Women's Athletic Association on campus. All girls are encouraged to join, for it provides leisure recreation.

Socially Speaking ... By Jean Anderson

WELL, READERS—finally 'tis time to be sentimental and bid goodbye to all you fair scholars. Believe it or not, it was May 4, 1956, that I began my journalistic career as social editor for the Spec. Must be some sort of a record . . . whether that's good or bad, I don't know. But it has been the most . . . fun, and at times work (on those days when there wasn't ONE item of news) My joke books are worn and tattered . . . my best to Max Schulman for all that's been plagiarized . . . but they've often been inspiration!

SO NOW it's on to bigger and better things for old Stat. And the new social spy is Jan Kippen, whom many of you have seen leading cheers. She's neat and will do nothin' but a tremendous job poundin' out stuff and things up here in the Union. So . . . bye for now and my best. See ya 'round.

THANKS for the intro, Jean. Your witty words and shining face will be missed in ye old Spectrum halls. But time marches on, and with the change in staff I managed to grab a position on the staff and now have the honorable title of Social Spy Superior. Look over your shoulders when you are playing games kiddies. I may be there with my little paper pad and pencil, and you'll see yourselves in print next week.

ATTENTION SOCIAL REPORTERS—New copy intended for this column will be in at 4:00 Tuesday afternoon hereafter. All writing must be done by Tuesday evening and I do need an hour or so to get my thoughts organized. In fact, Loretta is standing over me now in a white hot panic. Deadline in 5 minutes, you say?

ORANGE BLOSSOMS BIT was in order for Sally Davis, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Jim Lehr, Theta Chi, as they became Mr. and Mrs. in Wadena March 29.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON SWEETHEART candidates are Sharon Campbell, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Audrey Paul, Gamma Phi Beta, and Jan Anderson, Gamma Phi Beta.

FROM THE HALLS OF ATO word is received that Joe Diemert is now wearing the Maltese Cross of Gay Fox.

MORE ACTIVITY at the Tau house is the election of pledge officers. Don Bischof is president; James Slick, vice president; Dave Anderson, secretary; Lowell Schelton, social chairman. Added to the ranks of their pledge class is Sta Schroeder.

SPRINGTIME DANCING will be featured in the Union Friday evening. A specialty for those spring quarter bank accounts is that this one is FREE. Hop to it, fellows. Don't say you can't afford to date at this rate!

WEEKENDING at the Theta house were former Staters, Sally Richards and Margaret Platt. Sally is now studying at Purdue University, and Margaret is at Queen's College, Charlotte, North Carolina.

SURPRISES at the sororities: Alpha Gam Ardith Hagen announced her engagement to Gene Nelson via the candle passing ceremony. Phi Mu Genny Kovell passed candy in honor of her engagement to Sigma Phi Delta Don Kushe.

FADS AND FASHIONS evident on campus are the white blazers of the Thetas and Kappas and other mysterious looking creatures seen wandering 'round. It is probably a cool campus cat out trying to create a little foreign intrigue in his new trench coat. You just aren't with it at all without 'em nowadays.

CONQUER THE midterm blues with this bit of sad but truthful nonsense.
As I sat alone, dejected, forsaken
A still small voice said, out of the blue,
"Cheer up! Things could be worse
So I cheered up—and sure enough
THINGS GOT WORSE!"

On this note, I bid you a fond adieu. Very much pleased to have this assignment, and I hope you turn often to this column to read what you and your friends have been doing in the way of socializing all week. Now, go out and have some fun this weekend. I'll need some copy come Tuesday. So long for a while.

Harvey Fiala

Harvey Fiala spoke to the ISA members March 31, about the problem involved in getting a satellite into orbit.

Mr. Fiala attended school at SC and has worked with many rockets and missiles. Namely with the IRBM program in their missiles and ordnance department. Work involves complex stress analysis of the stable platform of the inertial guidance system of the Polaris Missiles.

The rocket he is holding was constructed by Peter Kiefer of Caselton. It took first place when entered in the Science Fair at Valley City.

Fiala explained that a rocket needs more gas stations. The gravity and centridical force is so strong it makes the rocket burn more fuel. The fuel is made of powdered sugar and salt petre.

Get Out Your Boats You Fishermen - Season Will Soon Open

Spring Fever has spread through NDSC and now a complication of this disease, fishing fever, has started to take effect on the fishermen of the school.

With motors, boats, and a complete line of fishing equipment on display in the sports and hardware stores, it is easy to remember that big one that got away last year, and hard to remember classes still meet.

The Minnesota fishing season opens May 17 for northern pike, walleyed pike, muskies, and rock bass. Large and small-mouthed bass may be legally taken starting June seventh.

Daily limits are: northern pike, 3; walleyed pike, 6; muskie, 1; large and small-mouthed bass, 6.

A total of 15 game fish may be taken in one day and the possession limit is 20.

License fees are $1.50 for resident and $4 for non-resident.

SCIENCE MADE SIMPLE: No. 3

Once again the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, bless their tattooed hearts, have consented to let me use this space, normally intended for levity, to bring you a brief lesson in science.

They are generous, openhanded men, the makers of Marlboro, hearty, ruddy, and full of the joy of living, as anyone can tell who has sampled their wares. In Marlboro you will find no stinting, no stinginess. Marlboro's pleasures are rich, manifold, and bountiful. You get a lot to like with a Marlboro—filter, flavor, flip-top box, and, in some models, power steering.

The science that we take up today is called astronomy, from the Greek words astro meaning "sore" and nomy meaning "back". Sore backs were the occupational disease of the early Greek astronomers, and no wonder! They used to spend every blessed night lying on the damp ground and looking up at the sky, and if there's a better way to get a sore back, I'd like to hear about it. Especially in the moist Mediterranean area, where Greece is generally considered to be.

Lumbago and related disorders kept astronomy from becoming very popular until Galileo, an unemployed muleteer of Pamplona, fashioned a homemade telescope in 1624 out of three Social Security cards and an ordinary ice cube. What schoolboy does not know that stirring story—how Galileo stepped up to his telescope, how he looked heavenward, how his face filled with wonder, how he stepped back and whispered the words heard round the world: "Let them eat cake!"

Well sir, you can imagine what happened then! William Jennings Bryan snatched Nell Gwynne from the shadow of the guillotine at Oslo; Chancellor Bismarck brought in four gushers in a single afternoon; Enos Slaughter was signed by the Hanseatic League; Crete was declared off limits to Wellington's army; and William Faulkner won the Davis Cup for his immortal Penrod and Sam.

But after a while things calmed down and astronomers began the staggering task of naming all the heavenly bodies. First man to name a star was Sigafos of Mt. Wilson, and the name he chose was Betelgeuse, after his dear wife, Betelgeuse Sigafos, prom queen at Michigan State from 1919 to 1931.

Then the Major Brothers of Yerkes Observatory named stars after their wives, Ursa and Canis, and Witnick of Harvard named one after his wife, Big Dipper, and soon all the stars were named.

Astronomers then turned to the question: is there life on other planets? The answer was a flat, unequivocal no. Spectroscopic studies proved without a doubt that the atmosphere on the other planets was far too harsh to permit the culture of the fine tobaccos that go into Marlboro Cigarettes . . . And who can live without Marlboro?

© 1958 Max Shulman

This celestial column—like the author's more earthy ones—is brought to you by the makers of Marlboro, the filter cigarette with the long white ash. And in all the solar system you won't find a better smoke.

Sports Of All Sorts

By Roger Lutz

Spring athletics are still somewhat at a standstill at SC, since none of the teams have entered into competition since last weekend. The track team will provide the next news as they engage in battle this coming Saturday in Grand Forks. Competing in this triangular meet will be North Dakota State, North Dakota University, and Valley City Teachers.

Last weekend the Bison captured last place in a North Central Conference indoor meet, which was also held in the NDU fieldhouse. Six more meets are slated for the State tracksters after the one in Grand Forks tomorrow.

Gary Thomasson of Fargo is the only letterman working out for the squad. He lettered as a javelin thrower, broad jumper, and relay man on last season's squad, a team that didn't win a match in four attempts.

Golf coach E. E. Kaiser is somewhat optimistic about the coming season due to the fact that he has only three veterans returning. Those who are back from last year's squad are Don Kristofitz, Fargo; Robert Gudding, Fergus Falls; and Wylie Briggs, Fargo, who was a member of the Bison 1955 North Central Conference Championship squad.

Last season NDSC golfers won first in five of the eight matches they entered. Kaiser has scheduled seven matches for his squad this season. The first match will be held April 25, at the Moorhead Country Club. Five teams will compete in the first five matches which run through May 13. These five teams will be from North Dakota State, Concordia College, Moorhead State College, North Dakota University and Bemidji State College.

I thought it might be nice to look at a sketch of the Bison track coach, Tom Neuberger, since he is the newest and youngest member of the Bison coaching staff. He came to North Dakota State last fall and coached the cross-country team. During this past winter he also coached the wrestling team. This was, by the way, the first year that NDSC has competed in either sport. Neuberger attended South Dakota State, where he lettered twice in wrestling and three times in both track and cross-country. He holds several track records at the South Dakota school, and his North Central Conference record in the half-mile still stands. After graduating from SDSC, Neuberger served two years in the Army as physical training instructor and track coach at Fort Benning, Georgia. Neuberger returned to South Dakota State after his Army tour to work on his master's degree, and serve as trainer and assistant track coach. After receiving his master's degree, he did further graduate study at the University of Colorado and the University of Iowa. He now needs only to complete a doctoral thesis for the degree. Prior to coming to North Dakota State, Neuberger was track coach and social studies instructor at Davenport, Iowa, High School.

Faced with comparatively new sports at SC, Neuberger has done a good job. He has had limited and inexperienced material to work with and these new sports will need time to catch hold.

Gold Star Band, Choir Gives Student Fun

Did you play or sing in your high school band or choir? If so, you should continue your music while attending college.

The North Dakota Gold Star Band and Concert Choir offer you that privilege. Both of these organizations need many new members each year.

Band and choir are a good place to meet new friends quickly. They have a less formal atmosphere than most classes, because along with work there is fun and enjoyment for those who like music.

Band and choir play and sing for holiday convocations at school and once a year they go on a one week tour. After they return home from tour, they present their home concert.

The band also leads the Homecoming parade each year and plays at all the football and basketball games. It ends up the year by playing for graduation.

Many hours of work and fun go into band and choir each year. With the assistance of friendly, casual conductors, all who enjoy music—enjoy band and choir.

FM Symphony Orch Features Baritone Louis Sudler For Final Concert Sun.

Louis Sudler, Chicago baritone and business executive, will be guest artist Sunday at the final concert this season of the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra in Fargo Central High School at 4 p.m. The concert is open to the public.

Sudler may sell flats, but as a concert baritone he's sharp—this is a claim made for an artist who is president of one of the Midwest's largest real estate firms, with about 500 employees.

The statistics of his musical career run to much higher numbers. There is speculation about his having been heard by more people in one week than any other soloist in history.

Sudler has sung some 200 professional engagements since his operatic debut with the Chicago Opera Co. in 1945. At his debut the audience acclaimed him, the critics praised—and Sudler is said to have appeared at his desk next morning at 9.

During two seasons with the Chicago Opera Co., it is said, Sudler lived this double life of artist and realtor.

One of the pieces he will sing Sunday is the Lullabye that Ennio Bolognini wrote specifically for Sudler.

He will be heard also in Wagner's "O du, mein holder Abendstern" from Tannhaeuser, Tchaikovsky's "Pilgrim's Song," and Gounod's "Avant de gutter ces lieux."

The concert will open with the gay and humorous "Academic Festival Overture," "Opus 80," of Brahms and close with the "Firebird Suite" of Stravinsky.

The annual meeting of the Orchestral Association will meet for election of officers, for reports and other business immediately following the concert.
