

UND Veterans Club Endorses NDSC Name Change; Asks U For Support

The largest student organization at the University of North Dakota—the UND Veterans Club—has endorsed the proposal to change the name of North Dakota Agricultural College to North Dakota State University of Agriculture and Applied Science.

And the UND vets are asking all UND faculty and students and all North Dakotans to support and work for the NDSC name change.

The club, which represents about 900 UND students, passed a resolution supporting the NDSC name change last week. There was only one "no" vote.

The resolution emphasized that employment opportunities for all graduates of North Dakota colleges would be increased by the NDSC name change, because the change would elevate the status of higher education in North Dakota.

The UND group agreed with the NDSC student body that NDSC is actually a university and that its name change should reflect the scope of its educational offerings. In a letter to the UND students newspaper, Al Rogness, commander of the Vets Club, said:

"Many people outside the Upper Midwest still consider North Dakota a state where the Indians run wild and where white people walk behind oxen . . . it doesn't help dispel this impression when NDSC, the second largest institution of higher education in the state, has a title that connotes rade school status, when actually that institution qualifies to be titled 'university.'" Rogness added:

"UND graduates will have available more job opportunities if NDSC becomes NDSU. A company job recruiter will go into an area where he has an opportunity to contact a large number of students in the shortest possible time. With two universities 80 miles apart there will undoubtedly be more job recruiters attracted to Grand Forks, Fargo, and North Dakota."

Prof. Stoa Receives Blue Key Award For Outstanding Contributions To SC

Prof. Theodore E. Stoa, agronomist, and professor and chairman of agronomy at NDSC, was awarded the Blue Key Doctor of Service Award May 8 for his outstanding contributions to NDSC and North Dakota.

The award, made annually by the Blue Key national service fraternity at NDSC, was presented to Professor Stoa at NDSC's Honors Day Convocation by James Feeney, president of the fraternity.

Feeney referred to Professor Stoa as "a dedicated researcher, scientist, administrator, advisor, teacher, and public servant—a man who has contributed much to NDSC's international reputation in agriculture." Feeney added:

"His many research papers and published articles on crops and new varieties of grains provide a constantly flowing fountain of practical information for the state, nation, and world. North Dakotans seek and respect his opinions and judgments."

In a special ceremony after the presentation, Mr. Stoa's portrait was hung in the new Doctor of Service Picture Gallery on the second floor of the NDSC library. The gallery contains portraits of all recipients of the award.

In great demand as a crops expert and judge, Mr. Stoa has been invited twice to be a judge at Canada's Royal Agricultural Fair. For several years he has been one of five grain judges at the International Grain and Hay Show in Chicago.

He is chairman of the North Central Branch of the American Society of Agronomy and a member of the North Central Region Seed Distribution Committee and the North Central Committee on the Introduction, Multiplication, and Preservation of Germ Plasm. He is state chairman of the Corn Plasm Preservation Committee and Seed Distribution Committee.

NDSC Staff Members Back Mill Levy With Plan Designed To Raise $1,200

NDSC staff members are behind the "One Mill" levy for providing additional facilities for North Dakota colleges and the University.

Vets Notice

All vets can sign up for their GI bill when exams are over. For graduating seniors, this will be Saturday, May 24. Undergraduates are to sign up when they finish their exams.

To prove it they are going to try to raise $1,200 to help the informational program of the "Special Committee on Higher Education" which is pushing the campaign for the constitutional amendment.

A faculty committee met Monday under the chairmanship of Dr. A. Paul Adams, chairman of the bacteriology department. Adams said that solicitation of every administrative and faculty employe on campus will take place next week.

Dr. Adams said he expects the solicitation will go over quite well. "After all," he said, "if we expect the taxpayer to provide students with adequate facilities we should demonstrate our faith in the future of education by backing the mill levy 100%."

Other committee members are Dr. Harold Klosterman, chairman of agricultural chemistry; Miss Lorissa Sheldon, associate professor of foods and nutrition; Mr. Ed Anderson, associate professor of electrical engineering; Mr. Marion Richardson, chairman of industrial engineering; Miss Matilda Thompson, dean of women; Dr. F. L. Minnear, professor of chemistry; Mr. Glenn Hill, chairman of the mathematics department; Mr. Richard O'Neil, instructor of pharmacy, and Verne Nies, instructor of communications.

From the Editor's Desk

By Loretta Struble

The end of the quarter is near and here, as at probably every college everywhere, students are getting panicky. They are trying to complete projects and term papers they have been postponing all quarter. They find with dismay that finals are only a week away.

You hear comments like "I just don't know where the time went." "It can't be the end of quarter so soon!" "Where do you suppose I left my No-Doze pills?"

Cheer up fellow sufferers, just think of the nice long summer ahead . . . lolling on a breeze cooled beach . . . which brings us to another subject.

The weather! It's been too nice for studying, too conducive to picnics.

It seems that seniors girls may be discriminated against next year—rumor is they will have to live off campus . . . seems sort of silly, but probably is a result of our growing pains. Concordia has apparently had this problem. They have the sophomore girls live off campus. Makes sense from the point of view of the greater activity of the juniors and seniors.

Transportation will be a problem, we feel, since probably not enough housing may be available close to campus. Not all NDSC coeds drive.

Congratulations to the faculty and administrative staff for the fund drive in support of the one mill levy for college buildings. A united front certainly will help, particularly when students and other members of the college community pull together.

Next year's Senior Staff has been chosen. Congratulations. You have important jobs to do, and some capable people to succeed.

Next issue will be our last this school year. So if you have a letter to get off your chest, or a pinning to be aired, better get with it. Let us know.

Letter to the Editor

To The Editor:

Is our campus being cluttered with activities? It is my opinion that there are too many activities taking place each quarter.

The true value of each activity should be judged by the group before actually organizing. These activities are truly becoming a problem and I feel that many of them should be cut down and some should be cut completely. These poor activities are taking too much student time for their true worth, and causing too many students averages to "Go down the drain".

Some of these extracurricular activities are excellent and are doing much good. They give the student much enjoyment, satisfaction and pride, as well as giving the college excellent publicity. An excellent example of a "Good Activity" is Bison Brevities. It does much to publicize the college and it also gives enjoyment to the student. An activity of this caliber should not be eliminated. Each year Blue Key should plan a bigger and better program and gain publicity throughout the tri-state area.

Let's eliminate a few of our less important activities and concentrate on our scholarship and outstanding activities.

Sincerely,
Bruce Ness

Only Girl In School Of Agriculture Tells Reason For Her Major

"I want to be able to raise Quarter Horses, Aberdeen Angus and manage a farm—but most of all, to raise horses," is the reason Lesley Taylor gives for selecting her unusual major at NDSC.

Lesley is the only girl in the School of Agriculture, where she is majoring in agricultural economics with a minor in horticulture.

Previous to attending NDSC, Lesley went to school in Detroit Lakes, Minn., and St. Joseph's Academy and Hockaday School in Dallas, Tex. During the nine years she spent in Texas schools she developed an avid enthusiasm for horsemanship.

Lesley's hobby is raising and training Quarter Horses. She refers to it as more of a livelihood, as her interest is limited to training horses for contest events and professional showing. Les is one of the few girls her age qualified as a professional horse trainer in roping, cutting, reining and barrel racing.

Lesley owns five trained Quarter Horses that she has shown all through North Dakota, South Dakota, as well as Texas, Arizona, Colorado and many other states, since she was 16. Her horses have been named Grand Champion and Reserve Champion at the Fargo State Fair, first and reserve champion at the St. Cloud Shows and have placed in shows all over the country.

Les spent last summer in Europe and is anxious to get back into the show ring with her horses this June. Her summer is filled with horse shows every week-end from June 1 until school starts again next fall.

She will show at the Kansas City American Royal, the Denver Horse Show, the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show, as well as all over North and South Dakota. She takes the horses on the road with a ¾ ton pickup and trailer, spending three or four days at a time at the shows.

Les is a freshman at NDSC and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Olson of Detroit Lakes, Minn.

Clinic Aids Children With Speech Defects

A summer speech clinic aimed at helping children who have speech defects will be held at North Dakota State College June 9 through July 19.

Children will be seen individually and in small groups for three or four periods each week, according to Dr. Gerald M. Siegel, director of the Speech and Hearing Clinic at NDSC.

Contemplated fees are $30 for each child. Housing will not be provided on campus.

Persons desiring more information should contact Dr. Siegel at the Speech and Hearing Clinic, NDSC, Fargo, N. D.

Looking at State . . .

By Don Schreder

Attention all Staters: The Bismarck Mandan Shopper has just released an editorial this week IN FAVOR of the controversial name change. It seems that in other parts of the state more and more people are beginning to favor changing the name to North Dakota State University. Meanwhile, back in Fargo, it seems that more and more of the Staters are slipping back in the old grind of just not caring.

Unfortunately, this 'not caring' attitude is not confined to the issue of name change. It appears that the vast majority of the students are assuming the roles of high schoolers, to wit: when something new and different is introduced, the students flock to back and support it, but as soon as the newness wears off, the students cast away all interest, just as the high school adolescent changes fads or a little child discards a new toy.

Last week this column hinted that it was perhaps detrimental to the college to have so many adolescents running loose on campus, wearing 'cow paths' hither and yon, with loose abandon, across the campus. This column further stated that comments were welcome. None appeared. If my opinions are wrong, show me.

Page TWO. With the end of the 1958 spring quarter, a flurry of activity is noticeable about campus. Last minute corrections on term reports are typed in, the library swarms with students gleaning facts for the reports due in a few days, but which they had put off until now, and here and there one can hear complaints about the heat. They say that the reason the southerners are less ambitious than us Yankees is because its so hot down there. The temperatures of the past week are proof that heat can affect the desire for doing anything but lay around.

And yet, regardless of what the weather is, everybody gripes. The Army claims that people just ain't happy unless they gripe. Judging from the tones of voice, and the expressions on the faces of some Staters, I'd say off hand that this may be true for the Army, but not for civilians. (By this time you are probably wondering what this has to do with anything . . . if you figure it out let me know).

Page THREE. I must admit that I had one complaint on last week's article, but this was verbal and after several assorted mixed drinks on the part of the complainant. (I happen to be a teetotaler and was merely in the place to absorb a little music). The complaint went something like this: Your column is no good, sounds too much like another Socially Speaking or something. Why doncha prin' sumthin' sensible? End quote. Well, that's a good question I suppose, and deserves an answer. My answer is something like this: Much of the time there is not enough doing on campus to write about; when there is, the gripe is that you're merely re-hashing old hash. So since you can't win, where are you but out on a limb . . .

Last minute thought . . . the rain of this week has helped the grass start growing on the 'cow paths' that infest the campus. So let's all try to keep our big feet on the sidewalks where they belong.

Armed Forces To Stage Big Blast

There will be a firing of an atomic blast demonstrator at Hector Airport Saturday, May 17, at 3 p. m.

In the forenoon there will be a parade of military units from the Army ROTC, Army, Army Reserve National Guard, Naval Reserve Navy, Marines, Air Force ROTC Air Force, and Civil Air Patrol.

Several military units will have displays at the airport during the day. There will be nine air planes from the Air Force and Navy available for public inspection. Other units to have displays at the airport will include the Civil Air Patrol, Army, and Navy Recruiting Air Force ROTC, Army ROTC, and a Red Cross first aid station.

Starting at 1 p.m. open houses will be held at the Naval Reserve Training Center, at the Army Reserve Training Center, and North Dakota Air National Guard at Hector Airport.

A $300,000 art collection made during World War II and the Korean War by artists in the service also will be open to the public. This exhibit can be seen Monday through Saturday evening of this week at the NDSC Memorial Union.

New Animal Nutrition Center Replaces Old Barns After Years Of Planning

Ten years of planning are going to be reality for the Animal Husbandry Department at NDSC this year as bids for the new animal nutrition center will soon be called.

Dr. M. L. Buchanan, chairman of the animal husbandry department reported he hopes the new center will be ready sometime this winter. Richard Witz, agricultural engineer at NDSC, stated that June 5 was the date for opening the bids and that work should start soon after that. Work has already begun on water mains to the building site.

The coming of this new unit will mean the end of an era at the college.

The last of the barns will disappear from the campus proper. Some have said, "It's about time," but will be with a touch of nostalgia that some of the staff will see the old barns go.

The structure (actually there is a number of buildings) will have studies in physiology of sheep, beef cattle, and hogs, new feeding principles, pig development, and pilot work with animals such as mice, rats, rabbits and guinea pigs. There will also be space for hay and feed storage. Very little work will be done with dairy cows since the facilities for milk handling will be absent.

The center, which will cost approximately a quarter of a million dollars will consist of a main building 84'x40'x14' high, an addition for feed storage 60'x40'x14' high, a wing 90'x40'x18' in height. In addition to this will be a hog barn 160'x26', a sheep barn 170'x28' and two cattle sheds each 188'x18'. All buildings will be of concrete block construction. There will be approximately 25,000 square feet under the combined roofs of the buildings.

The new highway which will be built to by-pass the city of Fargo will cut the new building site off from the rest of the barns.

This poses somewhat of a problem, however, the state has agreed to build an over-pass connecting the location. Dr. Buchanan pointed out that the unit will be placed back far enough so it will provide an attractive appearance from the road.

"... AND THEN WE ALL WENT HOME AND PUT ON OUR FATHER'S OL' BASEBALL UNIFORMS."

Socially Speaking . . . By Janet Kippen

Greek Week is about over with only the Big Picnic this evening left. The festivities went over with a bang again this year. Due to the slight dampness there was a dull thud as far as Tuesday activities went, but the Mock Olympics went on undaunted by mud, water and sludge Wednesday. It was a week of crazy fun for the Greeks—the unscheduled events topping the list. The interfrat crew that went serenading the dorms Monday night was having the time of their lives! Janell Leetun, Theta, and AGR Les Breitbach reigned as the first Athena and Apollo of Greek Week. Well, as I said, now that the Greeks are nearly through celebrating being Greek let's take a look at the more serious side of college life: socializing!

recent engagement. AGR Warren Jamison has pinned Nancy Stone of Cooperstown.

SOCIAL PHARMICS on campus, better known as Kappa Psi, made two stops on sorority row Monday night to give out with their Sweetheart song—once at the Kappa house for the new sweetheart, Sharon Stevenson, and one for their honey of last year KD JoAnn Garaas.

EVERY GIRL A QUEEN was the theme of the KD's as they honored their seniors at a banquet last Thursday at the Silver Moon, since they heartily believe no girl should leave the ivy halls of college without a title of some sort. They bestowed all variety of honors upon the gal.

ALUM STATUS is now held by seven Alpha Gam seniors. They are Rose Mary Leup, Shirley Peterson, Judy Hunstad, Nancy Frederick, Nancy Thompson, Anna Mae Davis and Joan Cantwell.

SAY IT ISN'T SO! — that Tom Schmallen was in the Bison Room for ONE HOUR AND TEN MINUTES last week! Miracles do happen! — that the fellows on the rooftop of Dinan Hall Monday night weren't bird-watching! — that senior girls over 21 may be required to live off-campus next year! — that sweethearts are bustin' out all over. Congrats to Carol Olson, Sweetheart of Tau Kappa Epsilon and Sharon Stevenson, Sweetheart of Kappa Psi. The SAE's are still keeping everyone in suspense — Audrey Paul, Jan Anderson and Sharon Campbell are the gals vying for the honor. Rumors are out there are birthday parties galore this weekend!

Well, Staters, if you're planning anything spectacular in the way of socializing, pinning, engaging, riots, mob violence, (on second thought, let's leave that for the Venezuelans!), you better get in high gear. The Spectrum goes to press for the last time of the 57-58 school year on next Tuesday. I'll be expecting something stupendous now!

Sports Of All Sorts

By Roger Lutz

After a fairly impressive pre-orth Central Conference season and a strong start against the University of North Dakota, the baseball team journeyed south to the Diamond of South Dakota State and ran into a brick wall. They carried a 2-0 Conference record with them and after three games with the Jackrabbits their record was 3-3. The overwhelming scores of these games prompted me to visit Coach Chuck Bentson and ask him what the trouble was.

He pointed out that the boys were merely having a bad week-end. He said that weak hitting, poor fielding, and all around bad support couple with a hard hitting South Dakota team spelled the defeats for the Bison. He said that the pitching in the games was adequate enough but errors broke things up and set up the losses. Bentson felt, however, that the team would bounce back to better form in coming games. He said that this South Dakota team would probably be the team to watch in the conference.

I asked him if he had praise for any single player and he said that he has as good a keystone combination as he has ever seen. Composing this two man combination in the infield are Curt Johnson, who plays shortstop, and Phil Ruud, who plays second base.

Bentson pointed out that the loss of Don Thayer at first base would be a costly one. Thayer dislocated his ankle in a game a few weeks ago.

The team is at St. Cloud today. They will finish up tomorrow at Grand Forks with a double header.

The tennis team was beaten after a string of three or four wins. Grand Forks came out on top of a state meet which included six schools. Following very close behind the Sioux for second place were the Bison. Jamestown College was third in the match.

Larry Dodge continued his winnings ways as he again walked off with singles honors. He has not been defeated in any of his singles matches since the start of the season and he has provided the spark and the points for much of their success. Jack Bergene and Errol Quick combined to win their first doubles match but they were defeated in their second game.

Coach E. E. Kaiser said that a dual match with Jamestown College is pending for this weekend. The match will be played at the Island Park Courts.

Before I end this column I would like to put in a word of praise for the track team. There aren't many boys on the team but those that are representing our school are doing a pretty terrific job. True they haven't won any matches, but to come out on top of some of the matches that they have entered would take a top notch team composed of many more men than we have. The fellows, especially the freshmen, have been placing in more than their share of meets considering the competition, and they have brought this school a certain amount of prestige. For this and for the good work of coach Tom Neuburger I think they should be congratulated. Tomorrow the team will go to Sioux Falls, South Dakota for a meet.

UND Wins Track Honors At SC Meet

Jamestown was the site of a track meet last Saturday in which the University of North Dakota Sioux rolled to their fourth straight North Dakota state college track meet title. Other schools participating were North Dakota State College, Jamestown, Valley City, Dickinson, Minot, Mayville, Bismarck J. C., and Wahpeton.

Jim Clow, freshman from SC looked very good in the pole vault event as he captured first place. He came very near to setting a new state pole vault record as he cleared the twelve foot mark with a very good effort, but his hand caught the bar on the way down and he had to settle for his previous record.

Another Stater who looked very good according to coach Tom Neuburger was Bob Williams. He was the only freshman to place in the one mile and two mile runs.

Jerry Erck, another freshman, showed terrific competitive spirit in one of his hurdle races as he got out of stride on the third hurdle. He then regained his poise and poured on the steam sufficient enough to garner a second place.

Dave Kearney earned the praise of coach Neuburger as he placed in the 880 yard run. Neuburger said this was his best effort of the year.

Gary Tomasson of the varsity accomplished a feat which he had been unable to do in previous meets this year. He tossed the javelin 184 feet 7 1/2" to capture first place in the event and he also beat University rival, Reopelle.

ATO Wins Track Awards

The intramural track meet was held May 6 and 7. Alpha Tau Omega fraternity walked off with top honors as they racked up a total of 65 points. Capturing second place honors was Sigma Alpha Psi with 49 points. Student Union took third place with 28 points, Coop managed a fourth place with 4 points and Sigma Chi got a fifth place with two points.

In the softball league there is a three way tie for second place in one of the brackets and a playoff is necessary to select a team for the finals. Already in the playoffs are the ATOs, the LSAs and Farmhouse teams. Battling for the fourth playoff position are the AEs, the Kappa Psis and the Coops.

Here is a summary of points scored so far by the various outfits in the tennis division. Leading the pack currently are the SAEs and the Theta Chis with eleven points each. Following these teams are the Kappa Psis with 8 points, the Coops and the Sigs with 7 each, the ATOs with three, the Theta Chi No. 2 and the IEs with two points each, and the SPDs have one point.

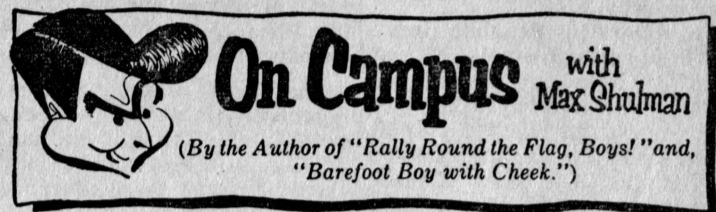

UND Wins Golf Meet

One stroke meant a loss for the North Dakota State golf team last Friday. The University of North Dakota totaled 399 strokes to edge the Bison by one putt in a five school match. MSC came in third with a 413 total, Bemidji was fourth with 439, and Concordia was fifth with an even 450.

Dick Monson had the lowest score for the Bison as he fired a 63. Behind Monson were Don and Kurt Kristofitz with 79 each. Wiley Briggs had an 80 and Bob Gudding had an 86.

Moorhead State College won a six school meet at Bemidji on Saturday. Coming through with a second place was NDSC, just four strokes behind the winners. The University of North Dakota captured third place in the meet as they fell three strokes behind the Bison. Concordia was fourth, St. Cloud was fifth, and Bemidji was sixth.

Don Kristofitz was medalist in the match with a blazing 69. Curt Kristofitz and Wiley Briggs each had an 83 for the Bison, Bob Gudding fired an 84, and Dick Monson had an 86.

THE GREAT CAP AND GOWN CONTROVERSY

It will soon be cap and gown time again, so let us, without delay, take up the vexing question: which side of the cap should the tassel hang on?

For many years the practice was to hang the tassel over the front of the cap. This practice was abandoned in 1948 when the entire graduating class of Northwestern University, blinded by tassels hanging in their eyes, made a wrong turn during commencement exercises and ended up at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center where, all unwitting, they were inducted into the submarine service for five-year hitches.

Let us take up the Vexing Question:

There is a growing body of opinion which holds that the tassel should be worn on the same side you keep your Marlboro Cigarettes on. Thus a quick glance will show you where your Marlboros are and save much time and fumbling.

This makes a good deal of sense because when one wants a Marlboro, one wants one with a minimum of delay. One does not relish being kept, even for a second, from the heaps of joy, the barrels of pleasure, the scads of content, the loads of glee, the lumps of ecstasy, that one gets from that filter, that flavor, that flip-top box.

There is another group, small but vocal, which insists the tassel should hang over the back of the cap. The tassel, they say, is a symbol like the bullfighter's pigtail, signifying honor and courage.

They are wrong. Bullfighters wear pigtails for only one reason: to keep the backs of their necks warm. Do you have any idea what a draft a bull makes when he rushes past you? A plenty big one, you may be sure.

In fact, upper respiratory infections, contracted in the wake of passing bulls, is the largest single cause of bull-ring fatalities. I have this interesting statistic from the Bullfighters Mutual Insurance Company of Hartford, Connecticut. Incidentally, Hartford, the insurance capital of America, is a delightful city and well worth a visit if you are ever in New England, as northeastern United States is laughingly called. Try to make your visit in spring when the actuaries are in bloom.

But I digress. We were talking about what side to wear the tassel on. An ingenious solution to this problem was proposed not long ago by Humboldt Sigafos, perhaps better known as "The Quoit King of Delaware." An early forbear of Mr. Sigafos was granted a monopoly by King George III, on all quoits manufactured in Delaware. Somehow this royal patent was never rescinded and from that day to this, every quoit made in Delaware has been a Sigafos Quoit.

Well sir, Mr. Sigafos suggested that the way to solve the great tassel controversy was to starch the tassel so it stood upright and hung on no side of the cap at all. But I'm afraid that sly Mr. Sigafos was only seeking to broaden his market because after graduation, what can you do with an upright tassel except hurl quoits at it?

© 1958 Max Shulman

The makers of Marlboro have no opinion about what side to hang your tassel on. But with cigarettes, they say firmly: Stay on the light, mild, tasty side... with Marlboro, of course!
