Rhodes Grants Open For Study At Oxford

The 1958 Rhodes Scholarships held at the University of Oxford in England are open for competition for male seniors of NDSC. The value of such a Rhodes Scholarship is 700 pounds a year, which is equal to $1960 in American exchange, and it usually is given for 2 years study at Oxford.

Some definite quality of distinction, whether in intellect or character, is the most important requirement for this scholarship. More detailed information about the Rhodes Scholarships and application forms can be obtained from Dr. Leo Hertel, Minard 227. The completed application forms must be filed with the Secretary of the Committee of Selection for the state not later than November 5, 1958.

The scholarship will be awarded annually to a sophomore in the School of Pharmacy.

Hultz Addresses Faculty At Roundup; Cites Importance Of Name Change

"The NDSC name change is of greater importance to us than anything to be considered now or for a long time ahead," stated NDSC President Fred S. Hultz to more than 300 NDSC faculty members and wives at the annual Fall Roundup in the Fieldhouse.

"In this day and age of science we have become great sticklers for accuracy," he said. "To refer to our institution as an agricultural college is about as great a misnomer as can be arrived at."

Pointing out some advantages of the name change for North Dakota, he urged the faculty to support the student campaign to change NDAC's legal name from "the agricultural college at Fargo" to the North Dakota State University of Agriculture and Applied Science.

The issue will be Amendment Number 4 on the ballot for the general election, Nov. 4.

Dr. Hultz mentioned there was a whispering campaign going around that North Dakota cannot support two universities. He said that this was an attempt to dodge the issue, because the citizens of North Dakota have been supporting two universities, in fact, for many years and they are entitled to two universities, in name.

Dr. Hultz also summarized measures of progress at NDSC in recent years:

★ Evaluation of physical assets is $16,604,245, an increase of more than 10 million dollars in 10 years.

★ Student enrollment has doubled during the past six years and is expected to reach 3,300 this winter.

★ Research conducted by the agricultural experiment station has improved the stability and agricultural productivity of the state.

★ Eighty-five per cent of all farm in the state are adopting annually one or more of the procedures recommended through the adult education program of the extension service. Additional thousands are taking work in vocational agriculture and home economics under the sponsorship of the NDSC schools of agriculture and home economics.

★ Services include diagnostic work in veterinary medicine, soils analysis, economic reports, and the production advisory services offered by many departments and divisions in engineering, pharmacy, chemistry, and the arts and sciences.

★ Among recently established educational programs are the graduate school and the institute for regional studies, which conducts a varied program dealing with people as people.

★ The campus beautification program brings plaudits from many sources.

Dr. Hultz said that two important future problems are salary improvement and space for classrooms.

The NDSC Fall Roundup, which includes a potluck supper, is sponsored annually by the NDSC Faculty Woman's Club to welcome new staff members and their wives to the institution.

SC Eng. Prof To Have Book Published

A book of poetry written by an NDSC English professor will be published by the North Dakota Institute for Regional Studies Sept. 25th.

Titled One Squeaking Straw, it is the second poetry book by Richard Lyons, NDSC order librarian and assistant professor of English. His first, Men and Tin Kettles, was published in 1956.

His new book contains poems written about seasons of the year in North Dakota and the Upper Midwest. Many of the poems originally appeared in magazines such as The New Yorker, Detroit Poetry Journal, Furioso, Kenyon Review, and Discovery.

Lyons came to North Dakota from Ohio in 1950. In addition to writing poetry, he paints and makes prints. His exhibits have appeared regularly in the Ohio Printmakers' traveling exhibitions and in the Annual Exhibition of Paints at the Library of Congress.

Copies of One Squeaking Straw may be obtained from the North Dakota Institute for Regional Studies, State College Station, Fargo, N. D. The cost is $1.00 each.

The institute was founded by staff members of the NDSC School of Applied Arts and Sciences in 1950 to encourage a many-sided study of the history, resources, and future plans of the northern plains region. The institute also encourages writers and artists to interpret the region.

Dr. K. C. Wu To Address Students At First Campus Convo Next Monday

Backed by 20 years of experience, Dr. K. C. Wu, former Governor of Formosa, will address SC students on the role of the United States in the Pacific at convo Monday, September 29, at 9:40 a.m. in Festival Hall.

In 1954 Dr. Wu was expelled from the Kuomintang cabinet by Chiang Kai-shek because of liberal criticism of its policies. A month later the Associated Press commented that "it will hurt Formosa. Dr. Wu had the respect of too many people . . . and was a man who has held positions of great trust for 20 years without a serious mistake."

Dr. Wu served his country well as mayor of Hankow, mayor of Chungking, acting minister of foreign affairs and minister of information, mayor of Shanghai, and governor of Formosa.

Born in central China in 1903, Dr. Wu was educated in the United States, receiving a B. A. degree from Grinnell College, Iowa, M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Princeton, Colorado and Cornell Universities.

And it's back to the old grind, again . . . Classes have been in session for almost two weeks now . . . It doesn't appear to have affected the unionizing as yet. There is always a crowd in the Bison room . . . Apparently no one has any studying yet . . .

Just got word that Homecoming stickers are available. These would look pretty sharp on all of the cars on campus . . . They will be distributed among the students . . . so how about being a driving advertisement for NDSU Homecoming . . .

Sophomore, junior and senior pictures for the annual are to be taken by October 10 at the Ham Gillespie studio. Don't forget to have yours taken . . . if you do, you won't be included in the Bison . . .

Sunday afternoon the new LSA house will be dedicated. The dedication service will be at 3:00 p.m., with open house from 2 to 10 p.m. Dr. A. N. Rogness, president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary, St. Paul, will be the main speaker. This is your chance to go over and see the new LSA house . . .

Fire up for the Name Change! Everyone has heard this many times . . . and they wonder, what can I do? There is something that the students can do to help. The Name Change committee needs student help on several important projects. If you are interested, drop in at the Name Change headquarters in the room adjacent to the Communications office. Every little bit of help will be appreciated . . .

The Bison hit the road for the first time this week when they travel to Ames, Iowa, for the game against ISTC, Saturday. The Herd is currently on top in the NCC. Let's hope they can keep rolling . . .

The theme for the Homecoming parade has been announced. It will be "Time to Change". This should do a lot to boost the efforts of the students to change the name of our college.

Senate Gets Underway With Meeting Tuesday

The first meeting of the school year for the NDSC Student Senate was called to order by Student Body President, Cy Puetz, Tuesday, September 18. The 7:00 meeting was held up until 7:25 when a sufficient number of members for a quorum were present.

The first order of business was a suggestion by Puetz that a board be set up to work in connection with the Non-aggression Pact with UND. Appointments will be approved at the next meeting.

Progress reports from the Homecoming committees were presented. Committee heads are: publicity, Gene Price; uptown decorations, Larry Swenson; parade marshals, Jim Austin and Jim O'Keefe; tickets, Mike Wickstrom; queen selection, Beva Fegley; and band, Bill Lantz.

The discovery that we are sharing the Oct. 11 date for Homecoming with Concordia was discussed. We will have a combined parade with our neighbors from Moorhead. Our group will head the parade, however.

A request for funds to be given Tau Beta Sigma to cover the costs connected with serving refreshments to the visiting bands after the parade was approved by the senate.

A critical discussion of the Freshman Orientation Program entailed. The freshman response to the Fun Fest was not an active one to say the least. There was one volunteer from the freshman class. A suggestion for years to come in this department was to have the entertainment prepared and put on by upper classmen.

The barbecue did not receive even fair response from the freshmen. There were about 300 people present and preparations were made for an anticipated 700. As one senator put it, "we fed the whole campus, EXCEPT for the freshmen."

Senator Swenson suggested the organization of a Student Government Evaluation Committee to check the adequacy of the student government program. The suggestion was deferred for discussion until winter quarter at which time it could receive its due time for discussion.

A motion that would remove a member of a commission if he or she has three unexcused absences from the meetings of said commission during a quarter was passed. The commissioner is to report the absences and the senator in question will then be replaced by Puetz or someone he wishes to appoint.

Two of the freshman class officers—Norm Wolseth, president, and Dave Lamski, vice president—attended the meeting.

Pharmacy Graduate Program Expands

NDSC's graduate program in Hospital Pharmacy, started two years ago with one student, is operating at near capacity this year as five students are taking the two-year course.

The course is divided into two sections—a 12-month internship at a Fargo hospital, and a year of course work. Only three students may take the internship work each year.

Three of the students—Floyd Wagner, Byron Webb, and Wallace Geck are presently taking their 12-month internship work. All are graduates of the NDSC School of Pharmacy.

Marine Band Appears At Concordia Oct. 27

What is recognized as one of the world's finest musical organizations will give two concerts on the Concordia College campus, Moorhead, Minnesota, Monday, October 27—the United States Marine Band.

The 160-year-old band will appear at the Concordia auditorium at 8:00 p.m. The afternoon program, according to director Lt. Col. Albert F. Schoepper, is especially designed for young people while the evening program will feature overtures, novelties and the ever-popular marches.

The band leaves its official duties in Washington only once a year to make the concert tour, which this year covers 8,500 miles and 63 cities.

The band is sponsored in Moorhead by the Concordia College Artists' Course, this year beginning its 34th year.

Wagner is working at the Veteran's Administration Hospital; Webb is interning at St. Luke's Hospital; and Geck is completing his internship at St. John's Hospital. Each of the hospitals provide a $2,860 stipend for the students during their internship.

Students beginning their course work in hospital pharmacy this year are Lynn Parkel, and Lt. George Sommers. These students will begin their internship next year.

Marvin Malmberg was the first student to start work in the program in 1956. He received his masters degree this year with a major in Hospital Pharmacy and he has accepted a position as personnel director and chief pharmacist at St. Ansgar's Hospital in Moorhead.

Two Army Men Appointed To NDSC Campus

Captains John D. Horner and Douglas E. Christensen, both regular Army officers, have been appointed to the NDSC department of military science, according to President Fred S. Hultz.

Captain Horner, a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a graduate of Carnegie Tech, comes to NDSC from the post of Assistant Army Attache at the American Embassy in Saigon, Viet Nam.

Captain Christensen recently completed the Advanced Infantry Officers Course at Fort Benning, Ga. He is a graduate of South Dakota State College.

PARKING PROBLEM? WHY, I REMEMBER WHEN A FELLOW COULDN'T EVEN WALK ON THIS CAMPUS...

Socially Speaking . . .

By Janet Kippen

Hello again! Well, the Big Green Bison Team has already notched two successive wins under its belt, and is on its way for many more. Three cheers for the turnout at the game Saturday night and the mounting enthusiasm you collegiates have been showing the varsity. This may not be the biggest social news of the week, but it rates mentioning in my book! Knock 'em dead on the road this week-end, Bison.

Taking a casual look from the perch here on the top of the Union, let's see what we can dig up for news. I see SUAB is again sponsoring the Dancing Lessons in the Union. Come on up for a free whirl at 4 p.m. every Thursday to get in the swing of things. Coming up this evening is the annual SUAB dance for all interested and interesting college students. 9:00 p.m., Union Ballroom.

The new Lutheran Student Center will be dedicated Sunday at 3 p.m. That's at the corner of 12th Street and 13th Avenue North.

The Gamma Tau chapter of Sigma Chi are proud of their two new initiates, Dwayne King and Vern Marschke. Also proudly wearing the Sigma Chi pin of George Comstock is Darla Gay Witty, of Minot State. GPB Sharon Helland now has claimed the active badge of Sigma Chi Don Hanson.

From the halls of Tau Kappa Epsilon word has been received of budding romances. Engaged are Clayton Hanson to Lucy Schmeling; Herb Mittelstadt to Diane Blessum; Charlie Peterson to Margie Bosserman; Ed Hamer-nik is pinned to KAT alum Arlene Hedahl and pledge Mel Atkinson was married to Shirley Erickson this summer.

James Engbrecht, SPD, is engaged to Shirley Merck of Fargo; Carol Senechal, Stater, is pinned to SPD Dave Hendrickson. Married list now includes Susan Fredeen, GPB, and SPD Bob Eggan; SPD Seth Twitchell and GPB Beverly Neilson; Wayne Anderson, SPD, and Delores Gunderson of Concordia.

New initiates of Tau Kappa Epsilon are Peter Vrem, Bob Botton, Jerry Lingen, Don Hausauer, Darrell Remsing, Waynard Terres, Peter Solberg, Erling Tranby, Howard McCullough, Eugene Stumvoll, Don Enno and Rodney Rivinus. Chuck Otteson was installed Historian of the chapter.

The Theta Chi's were out serenading the new sorority pledges Monday night. While making the rounds, they stopped at the Gamma Phi house to sing to Linda Lewton, pinned to Miles Freitag as of this summer. At the Kappa house there was the special song and roses for Dream Girl Beth Bohnet.

Also out wooing the sorority pledges with song were the SAE's. Did you pick up your 1958 Bison Annual last spring? If not, contact Sharon Shepard and plead your case.

From across the room I hear Pat Larson's voice saying, "Remind all the sophomores, juniors and seniors to have their pictures taken for the annual at Ham Gillespie's studio in Moorhead. If you are a member of a frat or sorority, you will need two glossy prints, one for the class page and one for the social group. Deadline, ABSOLUTE-LY, October 10." You stand reminded.

As I gaze on the weekly publications of the Dean of Students of office, titled Weekly Calendar, I see it lists under Saturday, September 27, "no events scheduled." Now, isn't that the truth, gals?!

Speaking of girls, I think the author of this weekly monologue lost a few of her friends of that gender after making the remark about fellows dating frosh girls, in last weeks Spec.' Anyway, I've heard some repercussions! So, I shall recant. Or rather, I shall reconsider and mention for the benefit of those coeds not fitting the beanie wearing variety: The Freshmen always manage To get the biggest rush— But fellows, please don't leave The upper-classmen in the dust! Be seeing you.

Ceres, Dinan Girls Receive Extra Leave Because of Good Deed

Ceres and Dinan Hall girls donated one hour of their time to the Name Change Committee Wednesday and Thursday night. The girls helped with one of the many projects that the Name Change Committee is working on.

In appreciation of the girls work Dean Thompson and AWS granted Ceres and Dinan Hall girls an extra half hour leave Oct. 11. One girl was over-heard saying after the leave was announced, "my Homecoming date had better appreciate that extra half-hour because I really worked for it."

Through these efforts AWS encourages women student to realize the need for supporting the Name Change.

HOW GREEN WAS MY CAMPUS

Don't tell me: I know how busy you've been! I know all the things you've had to do in the opening days of the school year—registering, paying fees, finding lodgings, entering a drag race, getting married, building a cage for your raccoon. But now, with all these essentials out of the way, let us pause and join hands and take, for the first time, a long, leisurely look at our campus.

Ready? Let's go!

We begin our tour over here on this lovely stretch of green-sward called The Mall. The Mall, as we all know, was named in honor of our distinguished alumnus Fred Mall, inventor of the opposing thumb. Before Mr. Mall's invention, the thumb could not be pressed or clicked against the other fingers. As a result, millions of castanet makers were out of work. Today however, thanks to Mr. Mall, one out of every three Americans is gainfully employed making castanets. (The other two make croquet wickets.) Mr. Mall is now 106 years old and living in seclusion on a sea cliff in Wellington, Kansas, but the old gentleman is far from idle. He still works twelve hours a day in his laboratory, and in the last year has invented the tuna, the cuticle, and lint.

But I digress. Let us resume our tour. At the end of The Mall we see a handsome edifice called The Library. Here books are kept. By "kept" I mean "kept." There is no way in the world for you to get a book out of the library . . . No, I'm wrong. If you have a special permit you can take out a book, but stack permits are issued only to widows of Presidents of the United States. (That lady you see coming out of the library with a copy of Girl of the Limberlost is Mrs. Millard Fillmore.)

Next to The Library we see the Administration Building. Here one finds the president of the university, the deans, and the registrar. According to ancient academic usage, the president is always called "Prexy." Similarly, the deans are called "Dixie" and the registrar is called "Roxy." Professors are called "Proxy" and housemothers are called "Hoxy-Moxy." Students are called "Algae."

Diagonally across The Mall we see the Students Union. It is a gay mad place, frankly dedicated to the fun and relaxation of we undergraduates. Here we undergraduates may enjoy ourselves in one of two ways—with filter or without. We undergraduates who prefer filters, prefer Marlboro, of course. Oh, what a piece of work is Marlboro! The filter filters, the taste is smooth but not skimpy, mild but not meagre.

We undergraduates who prefer non-filters, prefer Philip Morris, of corris. It is a natural smoke, a clean smoke, a flavorful, zestful, pure and peaceful smoke . . . Now hear this: Philip Morris and Marlboro each come in a choice of two packs—crushproof Flip-Top Box or the familiar Soft Pack.

So now, as the setting sun casts a fiery aura over the spires and battlements of our beloved campus, let us hie ourselves to our tobacconist's and lay in a night's supply of Marlboro or Philip Morris, and then let us, lowing, wind slowly o'er the lea to our dormitories and sit upon our army surplus cots, spent but content, and smoke and dream and hark the curfew toll the knell of parting day. Aloha, fair campus, aloha!

Student Describes Life In Formosa

"The people of America are very kind and generous and willing to help others" states pretty Eleanor Shih, a foreign student from Kaohsiung, Formosa, who is doing research work in the Department of Cereal Technology at NDSC.

Miss Shih is thrilled with the beauty and progress in America. She said that Formosa has subtropical weather, many beautiful beaches and mountains, and lots of tall palm trees. Formosa is an island of 36 thousand square miles and a population of 10 million people. The people of Kaohsiung have never seen snow; but Eleanor has seen it when she lived in Peiping, which is in the northern part of China.

Because of lack of room and hard entrance exams many of the young people in Formosa do not go to college. Very few girls take up home economics, most of them go into literature or science. Boys enroll in medicine, science, or engineering. The governmental policy is that everyone be required to attend primary school, which includes 6 grades, 6 years of middle school and 4 years of college.

Dancing is prohibited in Formosa schools, but they do have extra-curricular activities. All of the students study very hard.

"Every girl in Formosa has to make a lace table cloth if they want to get married," said Eleanor, as she displayed the cloth she had made.

The native apparel includes clothes made of cotton, silk, or nylon for general wear and satin gowns for special affairs. Their garments are hand made and symbols are frequently found on the clothing.

Chopsticks are used in her country, but silverware wasn't entirely strange to her because she had eaten in American managed restaurants in Formosa. Her people eat rice instead of bread and drink tea instead of water. Milk is found on the breakfast table, but not at any other time.

Eleanor comes from a family of five. Her mother teaches literature in a middle school and her father is an engineer. Her four years of college were spent at Taichung, Formosa.

Observations From The Lily Pad

By Ralph Kennedy

Ever know anybody who seemed to exist in a different world? Kinda quiet, reserved, even timid. One who looks and doesn't see; or listens and doesn't hear. The kind of person who sits in a crowd and is still all by themselves. Most of them are like that, but there are a few exceptions. In fact, the persons who I am thinking of are exact opposites—they're a crowd all by themselves. They aren't as quiet, certainly not reserved, and more weird than timid.

These people seem to have a language all their own. It only fringes ours. Words have different meanings, I guess. Take for instance this quote, "Mr. Bee, with piano keys on his knees—if you please." Goofy, isn't it? Think that's bad, stick around, it gets worse. The same slim Jim who mumbled the above is full of such phrases, or whatever they are.

It's stretching the imagination, but suppose our friend had a date. Just feature the typical way he would talk, as she comes to the door, when he calls for her.

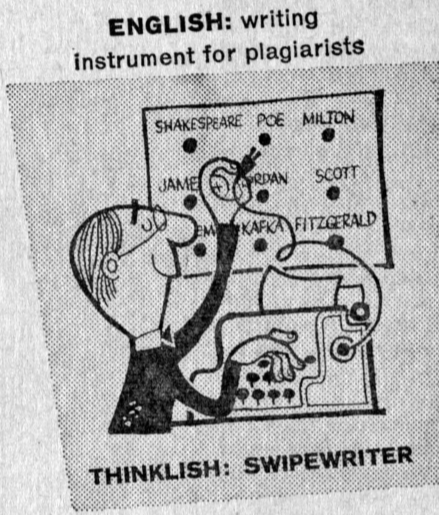

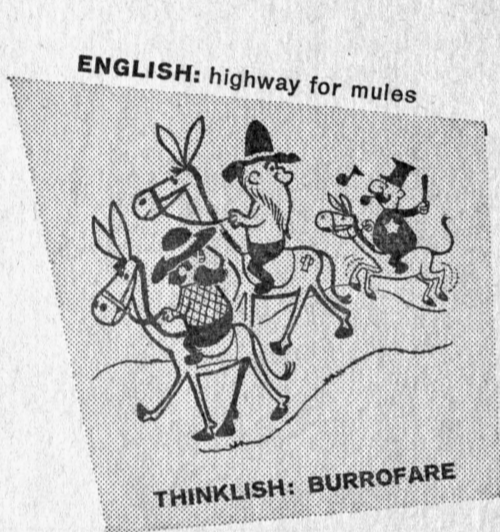

"I'm an ace from outer space—I'm flying and I ain't lying—I'm gonna put you down baby—gonna be your Daddy." Ridiculous isn't it. Apparently the guy feels pretty high-good, of course. Aside from a different language, I've noticed a few other traits, which would indicate his existence in a different world. Slimo doesn't walk, he strolls, cat walks, shuffles, or spins down a side walk. A typical maneuver is a series of gyrations of the arms and legs, a quarter turn to the left, a three quarter spin to the right, and with knees bent and head and shoulders forward, coming to an abrupt halt. The whole show lasts for about nine seconds, covers about six square feet of ground, and terminates in a bar or stanza of "You Send Me". Forward progress isn't great, maybe a foot or two. This is one type, I have one other in mind.

This one isn't quite as noisy or graceful. In fact he approaches the quiet, more reserved space traveler. It's more like a gap than a space.

Funny thing about this guy. He used to be fine—but suddenly went AWOL.

Seems this bum used to have a penny. He got a lot of fun out of throwing that penny around. Really lived it up. Riding on top of the world. Then one day he lost his penny. Never been the same since. He goes around mumbling about his penny. Some times he sings a little song about a poor old hound dog. At the end of the song the dog winds up with a bullet in its head. Cheerful, eh? Now and then I've observed our blue Dull sitting by himself, a slight smile on his face and apparently thoroughly enjoying himself. I always figure he's reminiscing about the old days when he had his penny. You know, I'll bet this woesome joker would give fifty cents just to have that fool penny again.

Any way you look at it, it takes all kinds. Why, I don't know. It's just that some guys are like that; weird.

Bureau of Useless Information

All hail!
And welcome once again to the North Dakota State edition of the Bureau of Useless Information publication. The Bureau has already slipped into its place here on campus with its successful radio show, heard Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 9:30 on KDSC—750, and we here on the editorial staff are proud of the small contribution we have been able to make in bringing you weekly reports of local activities of interest. It now gives me a great deal of pleasure to turn the meeting over to Miss Matty Cadaver, directress of the Bureau Morgue, and Quartermaster Committee, who will introduce this week's guest, Miss Cadaver.

Thanks, Ernie. And, ladies and gentlemen, it is now my honour to present for your kind attention a reprint of the now widely-read article taken direct from the personal diary of Miss Patricia Larson shortly after her untimely demise. As you know, Miss Larson perished in a hitherto-unrevealed hot-rod accident just north of Kansas City, and her few remaining earthly possessions were attached by the local courts until just recently. So we present to you, the American public, this revealing insight into a personality fast taking its place in historical oblivion. Miss Larson.

Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores—you must have your picture taken by October 10th if you want to be included in the '59 Bison Annual. Ham Gillespie has been appointed the official yearbook photographer, and only portarits taken by him will be accepted. Call Gillespie Studio, CE 3-6197, today and make an appointment.

Costs are $3.00, which includes the glossy prints needed for the yearbook.

Remember, if you belong to a Greek organization, be sure to tell the photographer to make two glossy prints.

If you had your picture taken at Gillespie Studio last year, you may use the same glossy.

Thanks for those words from the past, Pat. Your valuable Bureau certificate will be awarded posthumously and added to the ever-growing Larson Memorial Museum.

Homecoming activities and news of necessity curtail the length of our report this week, but the Bureau wishes to publicly announce its hearty support of the Name Change, and will take a personal interest in the carrying out of this year's theme, "Time to Change." Until next week, then, this is your Science Monitor, Sterling O. Bench, urging you to tune into the ever-popular Bureau radio show, and closing with our syndicated "Gem of Worthless Wisdom":

"White gold is pure gold whiten- ed and hardened by adding nickle."

Bison First In Conference Standings By Winning Over Augustana, 30-28

The North Dakota State University Bison went into their first conference game last Saturday night against the Augustana Vikings and came up with a terrific victory. The score, which was 30-28, did not indicate how close this game really was. Going into the final minutes, the Bison had a 30-8 lead and it seemed as the game was wrapped up.

The Vikings, in the fourth quarter—no one will forget quickly—changed doubting minds, and a Bison lead melted very quickly. Two fast touchdowns brought the margin to within eight points, and Bison followers found themselves squirming in their seats. Augustana tried an on-side kick and were successful. The Bison defense, somewhat shook, couldn't cope with the fired up Vikings and their final touchdown was pushed across with only forty five seconds remaining to be played. This brought the Auggie eleven to within two points of the Bison score and the all important extra point rule took its toll. As every State follower knows the try failed when Dick Faught stopped an end run.

So much for the gory Viking highpoints, now let's look at the details of the game.

The first quarter didn't prove too much for either team. The Vikings managed an offensive attack, but couldn't make anything of it. Things began happening in the second quarter. Quarterback Ross Fortier began mixing up the plays and the Bison offensive was on the move. Several quick plays moved the ball to the Viking 30 yard line. Hard driving Curt Quenette, who by the way displayed terrific speed and finesse in the game, scooted around his right end and completely dazzled Viking defenders for the score. Fortier tossed a perfect pass to end Bill Bartels for the two point conversion.

Augustana came right back though, catching the Bison defense completely off guard. Quarterback Jim Luce, who showed a terrific passing display throughout the game, tossed a long pass to his end and the Bison had a hard time stopping the play at the Bison 8 yard line. Coach Bob Danielsen commented on the speedy defensive move of Wayne Wall on the play, as he had to cut across the field to tackle an Auggie and prevent a score. Augustana scored a few plays later and made good the conversion and the score was knotted. Pat Rosatti, who did not show up in the Concordia game came in at left half, and he and Gary Ahlgren led the way for the next counter for the Bison. Continued runs by the speedy Bison backfield moved the ball to the Viking 17. A perfect Fortier to Jerry Kingery pass caught the Vikings flatfooted and the score was 14-8. Pat Rosatti zig-zagged through the Viking ranks and scored the conversion standing up.

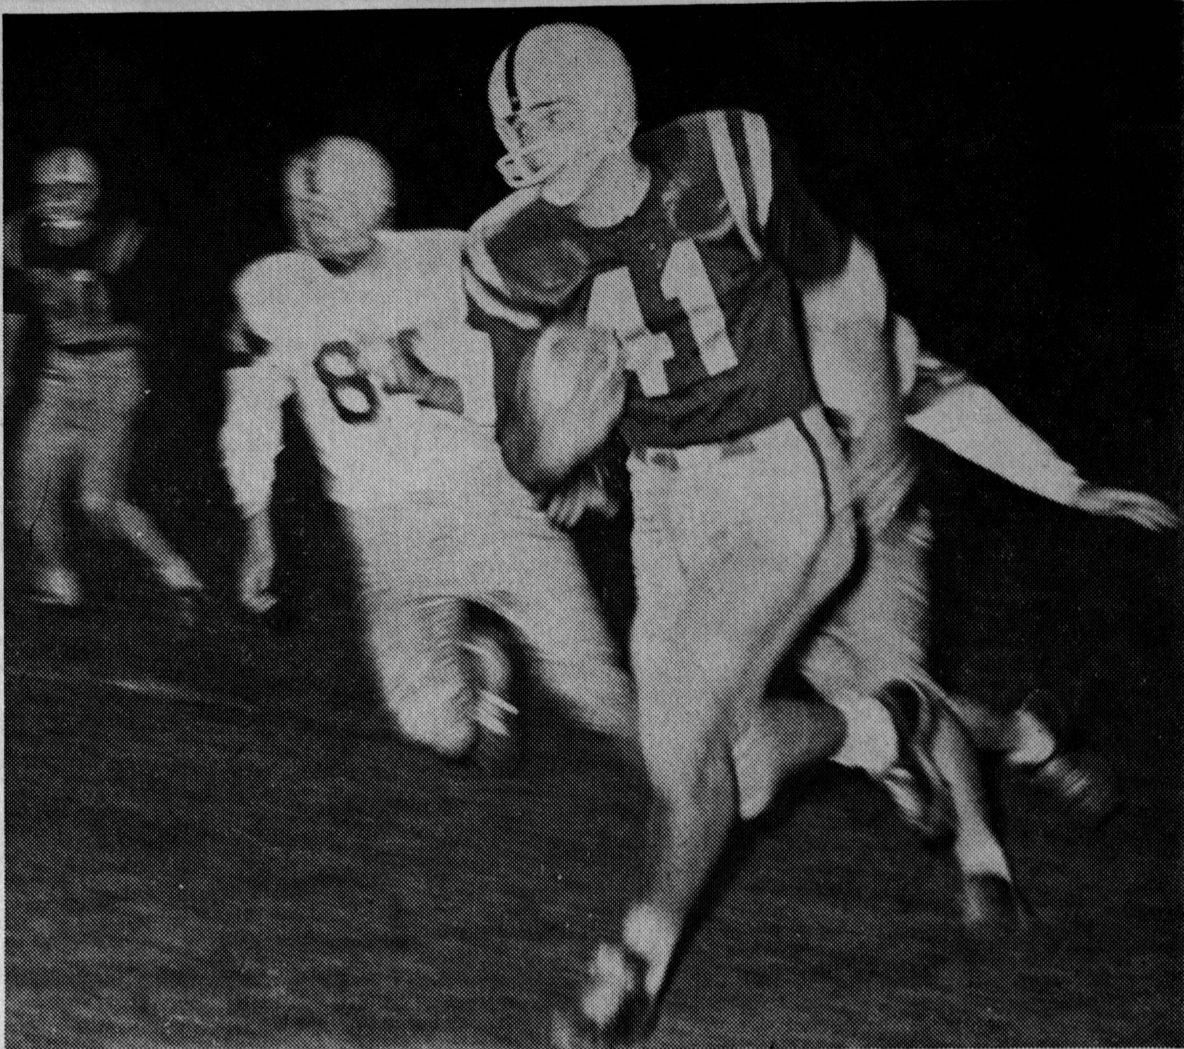

Augustana took their turn with the ball but a Bison defense forced a punt. The Bison run-back put the ball on the 42, and several fine runs by the Bison backfield set up the next scoring play, a one yard plunge by fullback Quenette. The extra point conversion was foiled however and the score was 24-8.

Again the Vikings tried to muster up an offensive drive but the ball became too slippery for them and guard Bob Kovich flopped on a Viking fumble on their own 8 yard line. Paul Shultz moved for the score from the 5 two plays later. Once again the extra point try was stopped and the score stood at 30-8.

Quarterback Luce of Augustana and a new found driving backfield started making trouble for Bison defenders. Danielsen had his second team in at the time and the new offensive of Augustana forced him to reinstate his regulars five plays later to put a stop to this nonsense. Things went wrong for the Herd, and the fired up Vikings were not to be stopped before they had pushed three successive touchdowns across the line.

A few injuries were sustained throughout the course of the game, and although none of them were serious, some of the players may miss the next game. Jerry Kingery twisted his ankle and missed some action but he was back in the game after a little rest. Gary Boldenow injured his shoulder in the action and may miss the next game. Dick Dougherty also sustained an injury to his ankle and his condition for the next game is also questionable. Bob Kovich, who was also injured played almost the entire game on a bum ankle. Coach Danielsen pointed out that the only lineman in good health was Keith Schlucter who is usually used as a utility guard.

Pictured above is half-back Gary Ahlgren being chased as he runs back a kick-off along the sidelines of the field. This was the second run-back of the evening by Gary. The other was a punt return. The Bison team, under the direction of Coach Bob Danielson, now hold first place in conference standings by beating the Auggies, 30 to 28.

Cross Country Team Holds Meet

This afternoon at Mikkelson Field the runners of the cross country track team will hold their first meet against Moorhead State College, Mayville Teachers, and possibly Valley City Teachers College.

Running for the Bison will be captain Bob Williams, Harold Shattuck, George Comstock, Bob Bower, Oddvar Helgeson, Marvin Jensen, John Luoma, and Gary Groter.

Coach Tom Neuburger expects the boys to run exceptionally well. October 4 marks the next scheduled meet which will be a tri-college affair in Moorhead against MSC, and Mankato Teachers College.

Tryouts Set For Oct. 3

Are you interested in being a cheerleader? Cheerleading tryouts will be the third of October. Two positions of alternate cheerleaders will be filled at this time.

Any freshman or upperclassman is eligible for the position providing she is in good academic standing.

This year a new system of electing the cheerleaders is going to be tried out. The Rahjah club will be the judges. It was felt by the Commission of Athletics that the Rahjah club would be better qualified to elect the cheerleaders since they are a representative of the student body. Members of each fraternity and a member of the Independents belongs to the club.

A point system will be used in picking the cheerleaders. They will be judged on—among other things—pep, enthusiasm, appearance, athletic ability, and gracefulness. Certain criteria will be set up, and each cheerleader will be judged on the same points.

A practice session has been set up for Tuesday, September 30, in the Union Ballroom. Wearing apparel is sportswear of any kind. If another session is desired it will be scheduled at that time.

The alternates will be used at anytime during the year when a regular cheerleader will be unable to cheer at an athletic event.

Sports Of All Sorts

The NDSU Bison are presently on top of the North Central Conference as a result of their victory over the Augustana Vikings last Saturday. Of course, it might be mentioned here that these were the only two conference teams in action, but the fact remains! A rather large crowd of Bison fans saw a game which will not be forgotten for a long time. The twenty points scored by the Vikings in the final period almost spelled disaster for the Bison who had built up a 30-8 lead in the first three quarters. Many people are still asking themselves what happened?! Of course, the victory counts just as much as if it were a slaughter, which most people thought it was going to be. Many lessons were learned and much work is being done on Bison defense in preparation for tomorrow night's game against ISTC.

Shabby pass defense caused panic in the Bison ranks in that crucial fourth quarter, and victory almost slipped from the Herd.

I asked coach Bob Danielsen, to name an outstanding lineman and, as usual, he could not pick one outstanding man as it was again a team effort. He did point out that Don Remillong has been doing exceptionally well at his guard spot. Remillong has been holding back and in doing this he isn't in the limelight too much but his work has nonetheless been outstanding, according to Danielsen. Tom Egan also received the praise of Danielsen at center position.

I think everyone will agree that the Bison backfield showed a good performance last Saturday. Pat Rosatti did a good job at right halfback position, and Danielsen plans to use him quite often. Wayne Wall, who starts at right half, also deserves much praise.

Bowling Leagues Start At Union Nov. 7

Eight new $64,000 Brunswick automatic pinsetters are awaiting the arrival of the league bowlers, states Gordon Teigen, manager of the Union Bowling Lanes. League activity will start Nov. 7 in the new Memorial Union Bowling Lanes.

Mr. Teigen says that these are the only lanes in North Dakota with automatic pinsetters which charge only thirty cents a line for league bowling. Most of the other lanes are charging forty-five cents a line.

According to Teigen, a new policy is going into effect this year. After the students in league bowling have established an average they will be classified with others in the same average range. A different range group will be competing for the high game award each week.

Any organization can enter a team in the league, Teigen says. Independents can go together, form a team and join the league. All teams are to bring their roster of members to Teigen before Nov. 6.

The bowling schedule is as follows: Tuesday 5 p.m.—Engineers League; 7 & 9 p.m.—Intramural Bowling; Wednesday 5 p.m.—Women's Athletic Association; Thursday—5, 7, 9 p.m.—Intramural Bowling.

Between Wall and Rosatti, the Bison should have a pretty strong right half spot.

Fullback Curt Quenette came through with his usual good performance and of course, we can't leave out Gary Ahlgren, who provided a terrific drive from the left half spot. This new Bison backfield gave a performance last Saturday night that shows much hope in future games.

Quarterback Ross Fortier, handled most of the signal calling and displayed a good passing arm. Fortier completed five out of nine passes and it was this passing that set up much of the Bison scoring. Bob Danielsen said of Fortier, "He can always be counted on to get the job done." Reserve quarterback, Lloyd Larsen, made several appearances and did a commendable job. Danielsen pointed out that Larson is a good competitor, and can always be counted on to give Fortier adequate relief.

Tomorrow the Bison will tangle with ISTC, there. The teachers have a new coach, a new system, and several new faces in the player ranks which add up to a somewhat promising, somewhat questionable outlook for 1958 at ISTC. The new coach is Bill Hammer, who came to the Iowa School from the University of Oregon. He succeeded the late C. L. "Buck" Starbeck, head coach at ISTC since 1936. Hammer converted his team from a single wing to a T formation squad during spring practice. Hammer has 14 lettermen returning, with experience at most positions. Their big problem is the center position, with quarterback and ends running a close second. They have an improved backfield, with more speed. This could be hard to take because they were a fast team last year. ISTC is one of the top teams in contention for the NCC crown this year.

One belated note about Augustana; last year, the Bison-Viking game was cancelled because of an outbreak of flu at the South Dakota school. In the series record, which began in 1946, the Bison have won six games, the Vikings five, and one game was a tie.

The UND Sioux dropped their second straight game last weekend. Their opponent was Montana State and the score was 15-8. Montana State (our homecoming opponent) is rated as very strong this year and the Sioux did very well in this game.

Could be two rough opponents for the Bison in coming games. ISTC won their game last week against Mankato 25-0. South Dakota State bowed to Marquette in their game but considering the team and the score which was 18-7 this game shows another strong NCC team. The South Dakota University Coyotes defeated Northwest Missouri State, 22-8 last weekend. Morningside had little trouble in their game against Omaha, as they garnered a 28-0 victory.

So much for the action in the NCC. Tomorrow will see many more conference games being played. Augustana will tangle with SDU; Morningside takes on UND, and the Bison journey down to Iowa to take on ISTC.

A word about the on-side kick which was questionably successfully performed by the Vikings in the fourth quarter of the game. The kicking team must kick the ball at least ten yards before they can recover it. If a member of the opposing team has possession of the ball before it covers ten yards and fumbles, the kicking team can recover the ball. This is what happened in Saturday's game. There was some question as to whether the Bison had possession of the ball, but coach Danielsen had no comments about the official's decision.

Two boys working out with the team this year are not eligible to play but are expected to provide much punch next year. The two are Mike Kinsella from Kansas State and Mike Kreutz from Arizona State.

Intramural Season Starts Off Year With Lots Of Spirit

Last Tuesday marked the opening of the intramural football season. Sigma Ipha Epsilon tangled with Theta Chi, and Kappa Psi took on Tau Kappa Epsilon. On Wednesday the Coop's battled Alpha Gamma Rho, and SUAB took on the SPD's. Finally on Thursday, the Sigma Chi's went against the ATO's and Coop played Kappa Psi. Due to deadline of the paper the results could not be posted.

As of today, the program has eleven teams. One more team is needed to round the roster to twelve teams. The men's dorm is not represented, so let's get on the ball and get that last team in.

All people interested in tennis or golf, see intramural director, Irv Kaiser, sometime early next week.

The intramural program is good, as it gives the boys who do not play on varsity teams a chance to run off some of their excess energy.

Army Flight Training

The XIV U. S. Army Corps headquarters has earmarked 50 spaces for students interested in the Army's flight training program in six colleges and universities in the five-state Corps area for the academic year 1958-59, it was announced here today.

The spaces will be distributed as follows: six each to the University of Minnesota, State University of Iowa and the North Dakota State College; seven to South Dakota State College; 10 to Iowa State College; and 15 to the University of Wisconsin.

The Army's flight training program is offered to senior Reserve Officers Training Corps cadets only during their senior year, and is in addition to the regular Army ROTC course.

To qualify, the candidate must first pass a rigid physical examination and then spend 71 extra-curricular hours in flight training.

The student spends 35 of these hours in ground work, and the remaining 36 in the air, flying small single-wing Army-type aircraft in the 65-200 horsepower range.

The Army Aviation Training Program has as its scope to train the student in basic ground and in-flight fundamentals of presolo, solo and cross-country flying which meet the minimum requirements of the Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA).

The flight program trainee, after his graduation from college with a second lieutenant commission, and dependent upon required Civil Aeronautics Administration approval, will take a basic course of instruction in his combat branch of service. He then may apply for enrollment in the Army Aviation School at Fort Rucker, Alabama.

SAE's Winners

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity came out on top in the first intramural football game of the season by winning over the Theta Chi fraternity, six to nothing.

The only touchdown of the night was made by Curt Johnson when he intercepted a Theta pass and ran for a touchdown.

Intramural Program Offers Variety Of Student Sports

What does the intramural program have to offer students? It provides a wide variety of sports and games.

A student can take part in football, basketball, softball, volleyball, bowling, tennis, golf, track, ping pong, and billiards.

First, he must join a team. Teams are organized by fraternities, residence dorms, service clubs, school or department clubs, and independent student body groups.

Any student who is not a varsity letterman or presently on a varsity team is eligible. Letters winners or varsity members are ineligible to compete in both varsity and intramural programs of the same sport.

An intramural board, composed teams, sponsors the sports program. This board meets every Monday at four p.m. They award trophies to winning teams and, in certain sports, to high scoring individuals. A three dollar fee from each team finances the program.

Did you know that at one time Prof. Arvold, the founder of the Little Country Theater on this campus, devised a scheme to cement good relations with the University by planting lilacs along highway 81 between here and Grand Forks. Each school was to plant in Hillsboro where there was to be a ceremony to celebrate. If you smell sweet aromas as you drive up to a U game you can credit it to a man's love for flowers and his spirit of good will.

DOLLARS FOR DRESS

Those crisp dollar bills that put you through school are very important. That's why money spent for room, board, and clothes should be thoroughly considered before being invested.

We at the Straus Company make it a point when ordering new clothing to think of the purchaser in getting clothing of the best quality at moderate prices. We try also to stock clothing which is always new and in keeping with dress on campuses the nation over.

The Student Union Activities Board sponsored, during its Student Union Week, the annual fall style show. The clothing there shown can all be found at the Straus Co. and we think you'll agree is some indication why our store has the reputation of being fashion leaders.

Those of you who attended the style show had a chance to meet two of our new college representatives, Don Shifflet from Concordia and Danny O'Hearn from NDSU.

Won't you stop in soon and let us show you how concerned we are in your "Dollars for Dress".

Something For Nothing

Campus spirit has indeed improved with the success of our gridders on the field of battle, even if they were only squeaky victories. The team played a spectacular game which proved to be every bit a crowd pleaser. Plenty of action on offense and a lot of scoring put spice into the game. The Vikings were no pikers when it came to thrills. They sure cooled the Bison off during the 4th quarter, and with the help of number 44 and some spectacular passing and running plays they put the fans in a real frenzy. If it hadn't been for a couple of good breaks and a determined effort to squelch extra point tries, the Bison would have missed the boat again. I wonder how many of the fans noticed how hard the running and tackling was in the game. It was a lot better than against Concordia. I think the Bison show that they are getting better but they still have to do better than they did to extend their winning streak.

Another thing I noticed while I was making a fool of myself acting silly and cheering on dear Ol' State was that many of the students just didn't know how to give the cheers and songs properly, without stumbling over the words.

It could be that all the fans were freshmen and didn't know them yet or that upperclassmen just haven't bothered to learn to use them. There is a certain amount of excitement generated during thrilling play which naturally makes it easy for cheerleaders to get fans to yell. A good example was the excellent effect given off when everyone stamps their feet. The Herd rolls again! I wonder if this same thing can be generated by the fans themselves.

Suppose the students all sat in a reserved area instead of scattered about, or that the fraternities and sororities sat together where they can feel a more common bond, or maybe the Rahjaks would sit in a group like the old club did. Maybe this would help in generating some of that old college pep. The Rahjaks and cheerleaders try to do a good job but nothing happens if the student body isn't behind them.

The real matter lies with you; do you sit down or ignore the crowd when there is a cheer going on? Then you're one of many who dispel the electricity of the game. You might say it's childish, silly, or embarrassing to display such emotion over a simple game, but if you've been studying much during the week, it would do you good to blow off a little steam once in a while and enjoy it. We ought to make it feel natural to be proud and happy, and yes, noisy about the Bison.

One of the other signs of the lack of school spirit is the fact that the freshmen discard their beanies so soon. What! No school pride! Concordia wears their beanies everywhere. That's school pride! But were not Concordia? Yes, but we go to North Dakota State, the best school around, because we say so, if nothing else.

There is still one more possibility to explore. How about somebody crawling out on a limb and writing some good cheers and songs. Something simple to remember and very clear and effective to hear from across the field. Something new for the new name. What? Me write? Try it! Send it to me. You might provide the spark to something great.

The spirit at games should be more than a weekend project; it ought to be full time pride in a good school and a good team, win or lose. For those who've got the spirit, good! Keep it up. Those of you who haven't, think about it.

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE - BUT TODAY'S L&M GIVES YOU-

Four field goals in one game by a man who'd never kicked one before! Bobby Conrad himself said, "I never kicked a field goal in high school or college. In fact, I never even tried." But the amazing Texas A&M back broke two All Star records by booting four three-pointers, including one for 44 yards, as the 1958 college stars upset the Detroit Lions, 35 to 19. Conrad is now a Chicago Cardinal.
