BISON HOMECOMING UNDER WAY FOR FULL WEEKEND

JoAnn Garaas Reigns As Queen; Kearney, Christopher, Attendants

By Warner Johnson

Miss Jo Ann Garaas, KD, has been selected Queen for the 1958 Homecoming. Her attendants are Janice Kearney, KD, and Janet Christopher, AGD. Queen Jo Ann will be crowned during the halftime at tomorrow's game.

The pep convo this morning kicked off one of NDSC's largest annual events—the Bison Homecoming for 1958. For more than a week the campus has been busy making preparations. The Homecoming Queen's banquet for Queen Jo Ann Garaas sponsored by Senior Staff was held last night in the Memorial Union ballroom. All week long NDSC students have been building floats in enclosed, out-of-the-way places for tomorrow's parade. Tonight, the Rahjah bean-burning bonfire will be held in the Student Union parking lot followed by an ambling snake dance to places unknown and unthought of. The alumni of NDSC—back for the occasion—gather together tonight for a banquet and an alumni dance. During all these events, the school spirit will soar for a big burst of energy in tomorrow's game against the Bobcats from Montana State College.

At 8:30 tomorrow morning, 20 floats will be assembled for the parade. About 25 cars and their dignitaries fall into line at 9:00 and the parade moves out at 9:30. The governor's fire relayed by runners from Bismarck will head the parade. Jim Austin and Jim O'Keeffe, parade marshalls, say that the combined Homecoming parades of NDSC first, followed by the Concordia College homecoming parade, will make it a big affair, as it moves through Fargo's Broadway. The floats will be judged following the parade and trophies will be presented to the winning men's and women's groups during the game halftime.

KEARNY

In true tradition—student body president, Cy Puetz has bet his pants on the game. This bet will be collectable immediately after the game is over. Will he leave the field with two pairs of pants or none at all?

Tomorrow night will top off the festivities with the Homecoming dance and Paul Hanson and his orchestra. Queen Jo Ann Garaas, her parents, and Miss North Dakota will be presented in a formal ceremony.

QUEEN JO ANN

Enrollment Record Set; 3250 Students Enter NDSC

A record breaking 3250 students enrolled at NDSC for the fall quarter 1958, reports the Office of Admissions and Records. This figure compares to 3063 students enrolled last year at this date—an increase of 187 students.

The Freshman class, as in the past years, is the largest, with 958 students. The breakdown is 731 men to 227 women.

The Sophomore class follows, with 624 men and 118 women for a total of 742 students.

The Junior class totals 662 with 546 men and 116 women. The Senior class shows 516 men and 78 women for a total enrollment of 594. There are 148 students in the Graduate School.

Largest enrollment is in the School of Engineering with a total of 1210. The School of Applied Arts and Sciences follows with 801 students.

The School of Agriculture is 3rd in size with 543 students enrolled. The School of Home Economics has 306, Pharmacy 259, and Chemistry a total of 131 students.

Blue Key Urges Vote

Blue Key members have distributed 5000 name change post cards for NDSC students to address to home town voters.

The cards urged a yes vote on the fourth amendment on the election ballot November 4. This amendment concerns changing NDSC's name from "the Agricultural College at Fargo" to "North Dakota State University of Agriculture and Applied Science."

Lyceum Series To Open Oct. 15; Pianist First Feature

Now on his fifth coast-to-coast concert tour of the United States and Canada, David Bar-Illan, pianist, will appear at NDSC Festival Hall Wed., Oct. 15, at 8:15 p.m. to open the annual NDSC lyceum series.

Bar-Illan's career was launched in 1953 when he received the Coronation-year medal in England. After playing two recitals in London, he was engaged for his first American tour which culminated in an enthusiastically received recital in Carnegie Hall. He was hailed by the press as "one of the most brilliant pianists of his generation."

The young pianist has played more than 150 recitals since his debut, and has chalked up a phenomenal record of re-engagements. His orchestral appearances during the 1955-56 concert season included the first performance of the Piano Concerto No. 2 by Robert Starer (which was dedicated to Bar-Illan by the composer) in collaboration with Thor Johnson.

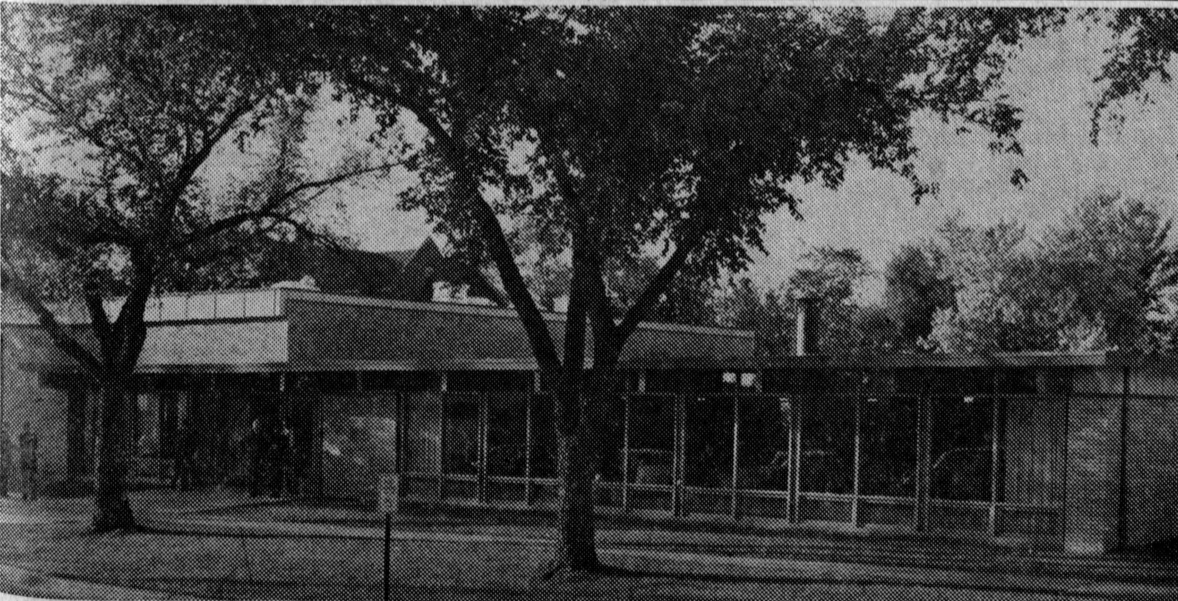

Bar-Illan, who was born in Israel in 1930, received his primary musical education in Haifa, his home town, and after appearing in recitals and with orchestra in Israel, he made his first trip to the United States as a scholarship student. He interrupted his studies a few months later to join the Army of Israel during the War of Independdence, then returned to America and was graduated by the Juilliard and Mannes Colleges.

In the past four years Bar-Illan has appeared regularly in Europe as well as in America. His recitals in London, Paris and Amsterdam, and his five appearances as soloist with the Liverpool Philharmonic brought glowing press and exceptional tributes from audiences who stood to cheer him.

Pictured above is the new LSA house which was dedicated at services Sunday, Sept. 28th. The completely modern building was recently completed. It was financed at a cost of $164,500 by the National Lutheran Council. $20,000 additional funds will be needed to furnish the building.

From the Editor's Desk

By Loretta Struble

To the alumni of North Dakota State, welcome home. The college has missed you and can never be quite the same without you around. However, for a while, relive the days of your college life.

For many of you, there have been great changes here at State. Still the college retains much of the tradition of other days.

There are still football games, coffee breaks, bonfires, and gab sessions. The college crowd changes little from year to year, although the faces may be different.

Get acquainted with the new things on campus and help revive the old things that need so much to be reborn.

Again, welcome home.

Homecoming time is a very important part of the student's year. Many students have devoted a lot of time and worked hard to make this weekend one that will be enjoyed and remembered for years to come. Help make this a successful weekend by participating in the activities that are set up for you.

Congratulations to Homecoming Queen JoAnn Garaas and her attendants, Janet Christopher and Janice Kearney. May your reign be happy and successful.

Don't forget to back the Bison in tomorrow's game with the Montana State Bobcats. They have a tough opponent and need all of the support they can get. So . . . Fire Up! Let's see you all at the game, cheering the Herd on.

IVCF To Discuss Rabbi's Bible Views

"A Rabbi Views the New Testament" will be the topic of the next Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship meeting, Thursday at 6:45 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge of the NDSC library.

Rabbi Richard Leviton of the Temple Beth El Synagogue, Fargo, will be giving the talk.

IVCF is an interdenominational organization which seeks to investigate the claims of Jesus Christ and to consider His challenge to today's college and university students.

This quarter NDSC's chapter of IVCF is studying the book of Hebrews, taking one chapter at each meeting.

Dr. Frank Cassel, faculty advisor, and Mark Reeve, president, urges everyone to attend Thursday night for an enlightening view of the New Testament.

Dr. Christian Visits H. Ec.

Dr. Johnie Christian from the Home Economics Education Service of the Office of Education in Washington, D. C., has been on the campus this week visiting in the School of Home Economics.

While here Dr. Christian has conducted a supervising teachers' conference Monday, and spoken to Tryota, Home Economics Club, Tuesday evening, about her experiences in Africa. Dr. Christian spent the past year in Tanganyika under the auspices of the United Nations.

SAUB Offers Varied Student Activities

The Student Union Activities Board has decided to schedule regular Monday night dances beginning at 9:00.

The SUAB plans to sponsor a Christmas card contest again this year. Students are urged to submit entries. The chosen card will be used as a pattern for the Union holiday greetings. Entries will be due in the middle of November; a cash prize will be awarded to the best entry. More details will be given on this in the near future.

Are you one of the many "suitcase students" who are in abundance on our fair campus? If you are trudging home because of a lack of excitement, best take a stroll through the Union on weekends. This building is for the students, so let's make use of it.

Also, if you find spare time on your hands, we can use your talents on one of our SUAB committees. There are many openings on each committee which we are anxious to fill. We would appreciate your coming into the SUAB office on the main floor of the Union and applying for membership.

Dr. Hultz Qualifies Some Reasons

Why SC Needs Proposed Name Change

GREETINGS:

More than a quarter of a century ago, Bison fans gave impetus to a proposal which now will culminate when North Dakotans go to the polls for the November 4 general election.

Some time during the early 1920's Bison supporters began to refer to our teams as "State." On November 4, 1958, North Dakotans will have the opportunity to make that name official when they vote on a constitutional amendment to change the institution's name from "the agricultural college at the city of Fargo" to "the North Dakota State University of Agriculture and Applied Science."

There are many reasons why this name change is in the best interest of North Dakota.

It will describe accurately the program of a North Dakota institution of higher learning where education is truly "university" in type and scope. A university is defined as an "institution of learning of the highest grade, having a college of liberal arts and a program of graduate studies, together with several professional schools, and authorized to confer degrees." North Dakota State qualifies in every category!

The name change will add prestige and accuracy to the diplomas of thousands of graduates in Engineering, Chemical Technology, Pharmacy, Home Economics, and Applied Arts and Sciences, as well as those in agriculture.

The name change will emphasize the dignity of agriculture, the farmer, and the ranchman. In practically every other state, agriculture has first-rate university status. Certainly North Dakota agriculture deserves university status through the name, "North Dakota State University of Agriculture and Applied Science."

A name change will make it easier to attract high quality teachers and research workers for whom the title "university" is very important.

The student body and alumni association have emphasized, in their name-change campaign, that we are, right now, a university and have been for many years. Thus, the main purpose of the name change is to designate by the proper name.

It should be emphasized that the name change does not involve added costs to anyone, or any changes in the institution except a change in name. It does involve fair play and the confidence of North Dakotans in the agricultural research, state-wide extension services, and teaching offerings of an institution serving the basic economy of North Dakota.

That's why a "yes" vote on November 4 is of the utmost importance to everyone who has a stake in North Dakotas future.

Sincerely,
 FRED S. HULTZ,
 President

Socially Speaking . . .

By Janet Kippen
FIRE UP! The big weekend is at hand! Midst the float building, the fever of queen elections, the fraternity house decorations, and the general rush rush rush of Homecoming week, dont forget to save a few Rah! Rahs! and on Bisons! For the Herd!

FRESHMEN! Your day of salvation has arrived! A sequel to the traditional beanie capping ceremony has been arranged for this evening, to be known henceforth as the "Beanie Burning Ceremony." All freshmen are expected to attend; the Rahjahs will be storming through the dorms tonight at 6 p.m. so when you hear the cowbells clanking and the sirens blowing, grab your beanie, and join the big snake dance to the bonfire! Anyone caught WITH a beanie after the ceremony will be properly taken care of by the RAHJAHS!

The Homecoming Dance—9:30 p.m. at the Fieldhouse with Paul Hanson doing the musical honors. For a small price, you too may join the party.

What I'm wondering is if the Dinan Hall girls got those 20,000 Name Change letters addressed and mailed, so they get their extra 1/2 hour for tomorrow night.

NEW INITIATES at the KD house: Jo Anne DeGier and Janet Freeburg; AGD house: Jackie Roth and Ramlene Olson; Kappa house: Jan Olson, Cheryl Larson and Alice Sorenson.

IN THE LINE OF SERENADING the AGR's and Kappa Psi's visited the KD, Theta and Kappa Houses. The SAE's hustled their pledges over to the Kappa and Gamma Phi houses for a round of introductions. The Kappas were also visited by the ATO's, who presented Gloria Mickelson with roses and the Sweetheart song in honor of her recent engagement to Jim Maetzold.

GIRL MEETS BOY at the dinner table. Yes, the merry round of exchange dinners have commenced. Having Monday night dinner together were the Thetas and TEKES, the Alpha Gams and Theta Chis, the Kappas and Sig Chi's, the SAEs and members of Gamma Phi Beta and the AGR's and KD's.

PICNICS ARE still holding their own. I wonder if the Kappa's and AGR's, and the Gamma Phi's and Theta Chi's are going to be the record holders for the last picnic on campus this fall?

Candy passing was in order for Peggy Comstock, KD, when she announced her engagement to Julius Berreth of Idaho Falls, Idaho. A similar ceremony took place at the Theta house when Adra Severson honored her engagement to Bob Rehn.

Oct. 4 was the wedding day of former Stater Margaret Allen, KAT, who married Tom Rothschilder of Mandan.

RESULTS of pledge elections: Phi Mu, Cathy Jents, president; Margaret Larson, vice president; Gloria Lider, secretary. Alpha Gamma Delta, Margaret Gludt, president; Gail Gilbertson, vice president; Pat McLean, secretary; Connie Solberg, treasurer; Faye Thompson, chaplain; Patty Schutt, scholarship; Jack Daugherty, activities; Kathy Maxwell, song leader; Susie Thorkelson, program chairman. Kappa Alpha Theta, Toni Woodmansee, president; Phyllis Gill, vice president; Bea Warner, secretary-treasurer; Jean Jackson, song leader; Linda Erickson, social chairman.

FARMHOUSE pledges include Lorren Jordre, Jim Albers, Ronald Jordre, Paul Tix, Delmar Larson and Arden Hagnott. Pledged to SAE were Norm Walseth of Fargo and Marlin Coleman of Bismarck.

Traditional? slumber? parties were held at the Alpha Gam and KD house last weekend.

Signing off for now—and FIRE UP!

Sheep View Dinan Hall; Girls Dislike "Guests"

"Get out! Get out!" were the cries of distress that awakened the Dinan Hall girls early Saturday morning when one room had some unexpected visitors.

Two sheep were hurled into the first floor. This caused a commotion until the caretaker was able to come and carry them away.

How Well Do You Walk? This Ability Affects More Than Appearance

How you walk affects more than your appearance. It can influence your grades, your enjoyment of life, your health.

According to an article in the Reader's Digest, you walk at least two or three miles every day without realizing it—around the campus, between classrooms, to the car and back. You're usually aware of where you are walking, but rarely how.

Author Myron Stearns quotes New York University professor Dr. Lu Sweigard on walking posture:

"An ideal walk is easy, graceful and rhythmical, with no waste motion. You step straight ahead, using the whole length of the foot. Hips, chest and head should be in a straight line, erect or slanting slightly forward."

Listening to the way others walk can help in improving your own walking rhythm. You will notice that few people walk with any liveliness. Most of them shamble along in a listless, uneven gait.

"Presently," writes Stearns, "you will find yourself listening to your own walk and making it more rhythmical, more alive and enthusiastic."

Learning new walking habits requires concentration and patience. But the rewards are well worth the effort. A better walk will pay off in terms of better muscular development, more attractive appearance, improved health and a feeling of well-being.

"The greatest reward of all, however, is the sheer joy of walking," says the author.

The article, "Step Lively!" is condensed from "Family Herald."

Miss Matilda Thompson Attends AAUW Regional Program Planning Conference

Miss Matilda Thompson spent last week end in Minneapolis where she attended a regional program planning meeting of the American Association of University Women. Representatives from 5 midwestern states—Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota and North Dakota met for the conference.

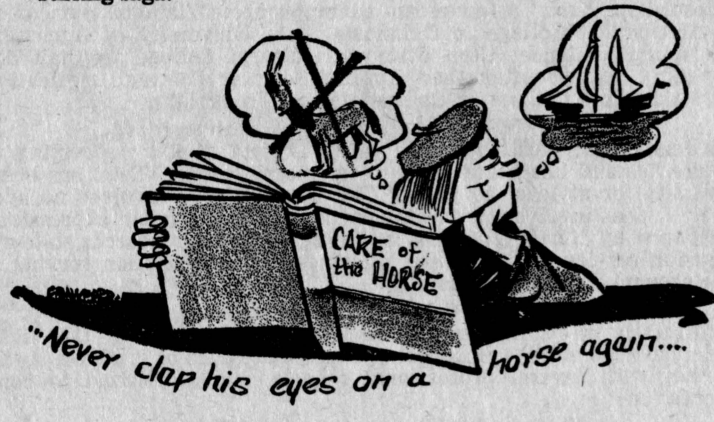

As of now graduates of NDU, NDSC, and Jamestown College are eligible for membership in the AAUW.

SAIL ON, SAIL ON!

I suppose October 12 is just another day to you. You get up in the ordinary way and do all the ordinary things you ordinarily do. You have your breakfast, you walk your ocelot, you go to classes, you write home for money, you burn the dean in effigy, you watch Disneyland, and you go to bed. And do you give one little thought to the fact that October 12 is Columbus Day? No, you do not.

Nobody thinks about Columbus these days. Let us, therefore, pause for a moment and retell his ever-glorious, endlessly stirring saga.

Christopher Columbus was born in Genoa on August 25, 1451. His father, Ralph T. Columbus, was in the three-minute auto wash game. His mother, Eleanor (Swiftly) Columbus, was a sprinter. Christopher was an only child, except for his four brothers and eight sisters. With his father busy all day at the auto wash and his mother constantly away at track meets, young Columbus was left pretty much to his own devices. However, the lad did not sulk or brood. He was an avid reader and spent all his waking hours immersed in a book. Unfortunately, there was only one book in Genoa at the time—Care of the Horse by Aristotle—and after several years of reading Care of the Horse, Columbus grew restless. So when rumor reached him that there was another book in Barcelona, off he ran as fast as his fat little legs would carry him.

The rumor, alas, proved false. The only book in Barcelona was Cuidar un Caballo by Aristotle, which proved to be nothing more than a Spanish translation of Care of the Horse.

Bitterly disappointed, Columbus began to dream of going to India where, according to legend, there were thousands of books. But the only way to go to India was on horseback, and after so many years of reading Care of the Horse, Columbus never wanted to clap eyes on a horse again. Then a new thought struck him: perhaps it was possible to get to India by sea!

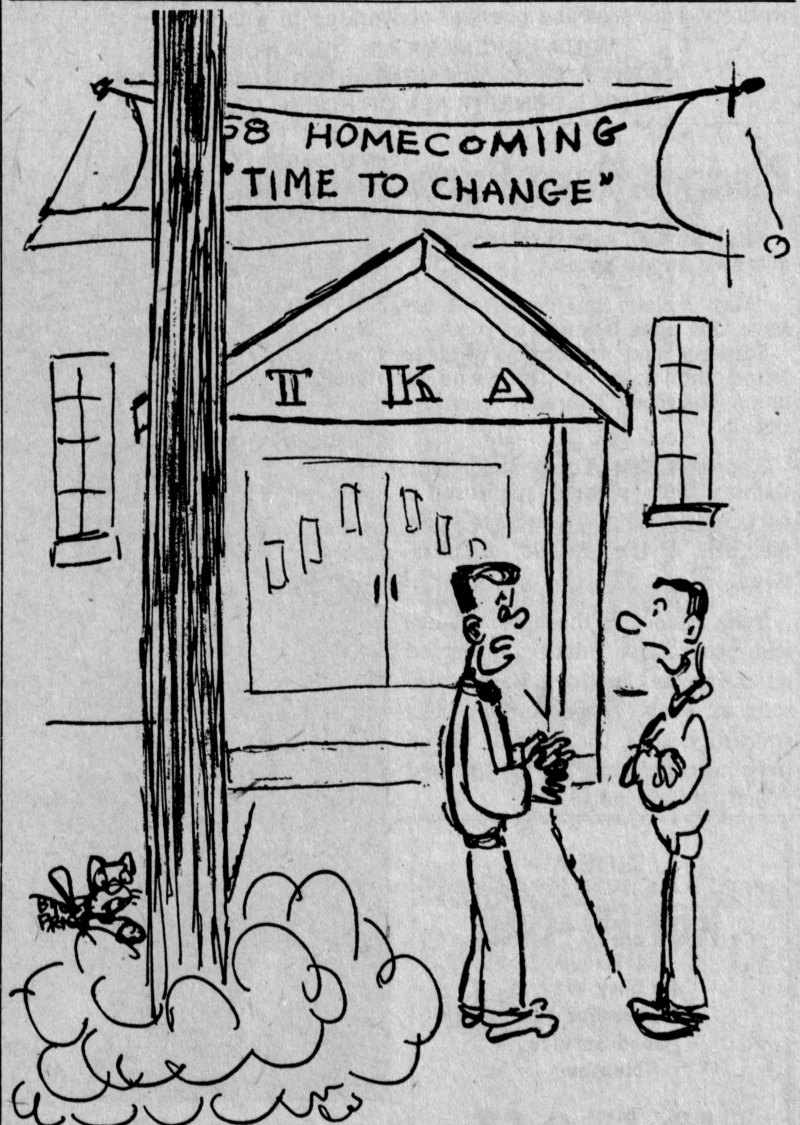

Fired with his revolutionary new idea, Columbus raced to the court of Ferdinand and Isabella on his little fat legs (Columbus was plagued with little fat legs all his life) and pleaded his case with such fervor that the rulers were persuaded.

On October 12, 1492, Columbus set foot on the New World. The following year he returned to Spain with a cargo of wonders never before seen in Europe—spices and metals and plants and flowers and—most wondrous of all—tobacco! Oh, what a sensation tobacco caused in Europe! The filter had long since been invented (by Aristotle, curiously enough) but nobody knew what to do with it. Now Columbus, the Great Discoverer, made still another great discovery: he took a filter, put tobacco in front of it, and invented the world's first filter cigarette!

Through the centuries filters have been steadily improved and so has tobacco, until today we have achieved the ultimate in the filter cigarette—Marlboro, of course! Oh, what a piece of work is Marlboro! Great tobacco, great filter, great smoke! And so, good friends, when next you enjoy a fine Marlboro Cigarette, give a thought to the plucky Genoese, Christopher Columbus, whose vision and perseverance made the whole lovely thing possible.

© 1958 Max Shulman

And thank Columbus too for Philip Morris Cigarettes, for those who want the best in non-filter smoking. Philip Morris joins Marlboro in bringing you these columns throughout the school year.

OF COURSE, IT WASN'T SUPPOSED TO DO THAT! WE JUST LOST CONTROL...

Examine The Case For - Agriculture - Accuracy - Fair Play

SIXTEEN QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON THE NAME CHANGE FOR NDAC!

1. What is proposed?

To change the name from "the agricultural college at the city of Fargo" to "the North Dakota State University of Agriculture and Applied Science."

2. Who will decide?

On November 4, 1958, the citizens of North Dakota will vote on Constitutional Amendment Number 4, which will officially change the name. Earlier this year, 20,000 North Dakotans signed a petition placing the name change on the November ballot.

3. Who is sponsoring the name change?

The NDAC student body inaugurated the change. They have the solid support of the alumni association and the administration. NDAC students have suggested the change since the early 1920's, when they began referring to NDAC's athletic teams as "North Dakota State." The current proposal represents the culmination of all previous efforts.

4. What is the reason for the name change?

NDAC deserves a name accurately describing the scope of its educational offerings. At NDAC, education is truly "university" in scope and practice.

5. Is there wide support for the name change?

As of July 1 the following have voluntarily announced their support: Farm Bureaus in Eddy, Ransom, and Dunn counties; the North Dakota Council for Agricultural Education and Research; the North Dakota Pharmaceutical Association; the North Dakota Veterinary Medical Association. There has been fine editorial support from The Farmer, regional agricultural magazine published in St. Paul; the Ransom County Gazette; the Mandan Pioneer; the Fargo Forum; and the Bismarck-Mandan Shopper.

6. What was the action of the Board of Higher Education on the name change?

The Board suggested that the name change be decided by a vote of the people.

7. Have many other agricultural (federal land-grant) colleges changed their names?

Almost all of them. A few recent examples are: Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College to Oklahoma State University of Agriculture and Applied Science; Utah State Agricultural College to Utah State University of Agriculture and Applied Science; Colorado Agricultural and Mechanical College to Colorado State University.

8. Can North Dakota afford two universities?

This really isn't pertinent since North Dakota is now supporting two universities and has been doing so for many years. NDAC has been a university for at least 50 years. The name change involves no added costs. It does involve fair treatment, and will serve as an expression of confidence by North Dakotans in the agricultural research, state-wide extension service, and teaching offerings of an institution serving the basic economy of North Dakota.

9. What is the definition of a university?

A university is defined as "an institution of learning of the highest grade, having a college of liberal arts and a program of graduate studies, together with several professional schools, and authorized to confer degrees."

10. Does NDAC meet these qualifications?

NDAC meets ALL of the qualifications. NDAC is recognized as an institution of the highest grade. It is fully accredited by the nation's top accrediting agencies. All NDAC's schools hold the nation's highest accreditation rating. NDAC has a college of liberal arts—the School of Applied Arts and Sciences, where students can study English, philosophy, mathematics, speech, music, physical education, natural and social sciences, languages, education, psychology, communications, library science. NDAC has five professional schools: agriculture, chemical technology, engineering, home economics, pharmacy. The pharmacy school is the largest in the five state area of North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, and Nebraska. The chemical technology school produces more accredited chemists with the B.S. degree than does Michigan State, Notre Dame, the University of Chicago, Yale—in fact more than any other school west of the Mississippi, with only two exceptions. All six schools at the AC have graduate programs and offer both undergraduate and graduate degrees. So, NDAC is a university!

11. Aren't most NDAC students studying agriculture?

No. Only 17 percent of NDAC's 3,100 students are enrolled in agriculture. The other 83 percent are majoring in other areas. A breakdown showing the percentage of students in each NDAC school follows: The School of Engineering—36%
The School of Applied Arts and Sciences—22%
The School of Agriculture—17%
The School of Home Economics—10%
The School of Pharmacy—9%
The School of Chemical Technology—4%
Special students—2%

12. How does the present name affect students not majoring in agriculture?

It is unfair to those students, because the name "NDAC" on their diploma does not recognize their training. A prospective employer who is not acquainted with the breadth of training provided by the AC might think that an engineering major, for example, had received restricted training, and that would be unfair. NDAC is not a trade school, as the name "AC" implies. Lawyers don't graduate from dental colleges, and preachers don't graduate from medical schools. And it certainly doesn't serve any purpose for pharmacists, chemists, engineers, and home economists to graduate from an "agricultural college." A name change will add prestige and accuracy to the diplomas of thousands of graduates in engineering, chemical technology, pharmacy, home economics, and applied arts and sciences, as well as those in agriculture.

13. What will be the effect of a name change on service to agriculture, the farmer, and the rancher?

The effect will be a very healthy one, because the name change will emphasize the dignity of agriculture, the farmer, and the rancher in North Dakota. The title "university" will give agriculture its highest possible status. In practically every other state, agriculture has had university status for years. Because North Dakota is one of the nation's leading agricultural states, agriculture most certainly deserves university status here through the name "North Dakota State University of Agriculture and Applied Science."

14. Will the name change affect the status of higher education in North Dakota?

The proposed change will raise the standing of higher education in North Dakota. As someone put it recently, many people outside the Upper Midwest still consider North Dakota to be a state where the Indians run wild and other folks walk behind oxen. It doesn't help to dispel this impression when NDAC, one of the largest institutions of higher learning in the state, has a title that suggests trade school status when that institution actually is a university. North Dakota needs the prestige and recognition resulting from two universities.

15. Will the name change affect employment opportunities for college graduates?

Yes. Employment opportunities for graduates of all North Dakota colleges and universities should be increased by the name change. A company job recruiter will go into an area where there is opportunity to contact a large number of students in the shortest time. With the recognition of two universities there will undoubtedly be more job recruiters attracted to North Dakota.

16. Will the name change affect administrative matters at NDAC?

The name change will simplify administrative matters. The name "university" will make it easier to attract high quality teachers and research workers, who seek the prestige of working in a university.

YOUR NOVEMBER 4th "YES" VOTE ON CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR WILL BENEFIT ALL OF NORTH DAKOTA.

In addition to the planned work there were speedboat rides and evening fun that lasted into the morning hours.

Pledges Have Party

"Has anyone seen my shoe? It's a brown suede pump."

"May I claim my dance? I believe this shoe belongs to you."

Sorority and fraternity pledges found this scene at the student union ballroom Thursday evening, Oct. 2.

Kappa Alpha Theta and Alpha Gamma Delta pledges sponsored a party designed to acquaint new members of the Greek organizations.

Such mixers as the broom dance and progressive dances provided much fun and laughter. Each house sang a song representing their fraternity, thus, the evening ended in "who could sing the loudest and make the most noise."

YM-YW Conference Held Last Weekend At Lake Tobiason

"Is Wholeness Possible" was the theme of the YMCA-YWCA District Fall Conference last weekend at Lake Tobiason near Hatton, N. Dak.

According to the main speaker, Reverend Laurel Lindberg of Elim Lutheran Church, Fargo, many parts are needed to make up the wholeness of man. Knowledge and enthusiasm are not sufficient but with direction make up total man.

Other topics discussed pertained to vocations. Reverend Lindberg stated that many people want employment and the pay check rather than work which requires abilities. The majority are more interested in getting than giving.

Discussion were followed with a question and answer period.

Participating members were from North Dakota State, North Dakota University, Valley City State Teachers, Jamestown College, Ellendale College, and Moorhead State College.

Recreation consisted of dancing, crafts, and social hours.

Civil Service Commission Now Accepting Applications For Gov. Jobs

The Civil Service Commission is now accepting applications from college juniors, seniors, and graduate students for the first written test under this year's Federal Service Entrance Examination. The test is scheduled for November 15 and applications will be accepted through October 30, the Commission said.

The examination is designed to help fill the government's yearly need for more young people of college caliber who have the potential to develop into the top managers, technicians, and specialists of the future. Positions filled through this examination are in a variety of occupational fields and are located throughout the United States.

As a result of recent congressional action, starting salaries for jobs filled through the examination have been raised. The salaries are GS-5—$4,040 per year and GS-7—$4,980 per year with a few positions being filled at GS-9—$5,985 per year. In addition, the Commission is placing a premium on quality and providing a bonus for it. College students who possess or are candidates for the bachelor degree and who demonstrate their potential by scoring high in the written test and have a high scholastic standing, may now be considered for positions at the GS-7 grade instead of only at GS-5 as in the past.

Under the Federal Service Entrance Examination approximately 5,000 persons are appointed each year to entry-level career positions in the Federal Civil Service. Five additional tests will be held this school year. Dates scheduled are January 10, February 14, March 14, April 11, and May 9, 1959. The written tests are given at more than 1,000 examination points scattered throughout the United States.

For additional information, potential applicants may obtain Examination Announcement 170 from their college placement office or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Ever meet a Doubting Thomas?

A college senior once remarked to a Bell System interviewer: "A telephone career must be a mirage. I hear talk about fabulous training, fascinating work, grade-A job security, and rapid advancement in management. Sounds a bit too rosy. What's the real story?"

The interviewer knew mere talk wouldn't sell a skeptic. So he showed him some "profiles" of recent college graduates who had enjoyed that fabulous training, had worked at intriguing jobs, and had won early management promotions.

Our once-skeptical friend has been with the Bell System 3 years now—and is currently supervising the work of 55 people.

We've converted a host of Doubting Thomases. Whether doubtful or not, you'll learn a lot about rewarding telephone careers by talking with the Bell System interviewer when he visits your campus. Also read the Bell Telephone booklet on file in your Placement Office, or write for "Challenge and Opportunity" to:

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE!

Our Homecoming theme this year provides some excellent copy for Straus advertising for fall. What more subtle way have we for telling you gentlemen to Dress Right—You Can't Afford Not To.

While working on your floats why not be dressed comfortable in some corduroy or polished cotton slacks. Taking a crew neck wool sweater and slipping it over a cotton Ivy-League shirt with a pair of desert boots will make any college man a much more valuable working man because he is comfortable. COMFORT in clothing has become as important as Bridgette in Bardots.

Stop in and see Dan O'Hearn and Larry Swenson at the Straus Co.

Your responsibility in education is to your school and your school's present needs are a name change and a one mill levy on state taxes. This need in turn—becomes yours.

Eight New Automatic Pinsetters Modernize Alleys In Memorial Union

"NDSU has the finest bowling alleys in the state," in the opinion of Gordon Teigen, manager of the Memorial Union Bowling Lanes. "In fact we are one of the few colleges our size that has automatic pinsetters in the bowling alleys." Eight automatic pinsetters, costing approximately $8,000 each, now are in use, according to Teigen. These machines were designed by the engineers of the Brunswick Corporation, manufactured and installed by the Otis Elevator Company. It took nine men five days to install the pin setters. Mechanic in charge of the machines is James Herlick. He attended a special school last summer to learn how the pinsetters work. A lot of the trouble with the machines can be eliminated states Teigen, if the students wouldn't "horse around". During Christmas vacation the interior of the lanes will be painted, Teigen stated, and as soon as funds are available, a soundproof ceiling will be put in to eliminate the present noise.

Pictured above are the new Brunswick Automatic Pin Setters which are now in operation in the new addition of the Memorial Union. The setters cost approximately $8,000 each.

Ford Foundation Grant $800,000 To Foreigners

Approximately forty scholars, scientists, and intellectual leaders from Asia and the Near East will come to four American universities in the next five years for study and direct experience with American scholarship and culture.

A grant of $800,000 has been made by the Ford Foundation to cover the cost of an inter-university visiting scholar program. The four universities participating in the program are the University of California, the University of Chicago, Columbia University and Harvard University. At the request of the other three institutions, the University of Chicago will serve as coordinator and disbursing agent of the grant.

Each of the universities will select two visiting scholars each year, the invitations being coordinated to assure a balance in various fields of study. The visitors will come in approximately equal numbers from four regions:

India-Ceylon; the Near East and Pakistan; Southeast Asia, including the Philippines; and the Far East, including Japan, Korea, Hong Kong, and Taiwan. The grants will provide for foreign travel, maintenance, and travel in the United States. Wives of the scholars will be invited, and children will be allowed to accompany their parents.

The visiting scholar program is designed to bring intellectual leaders from Asia and the Near East to the United States. It will operate through invitations initiated by the universities rather than by applications by the candidates.

NDSU Veterans Housing Units Relocated During The Summer

Five NDSU veterans housing units and the North Court maintenance building were moved during summer recess.

The five units, representing 15 two-bedroom apartments, were moved from along 13th Street North about two blocks to the west between E Street and Stadium Trailer Court.

The 20 by 100-foot housing units were moved in their entirety, while the maintenance building was broken up into two pieces and each section was placed on a separate foundation.

Actual moving of the buildings, which began about July 1, was contracted to Roggensack House Movers of Fargo at a cost of $800 per unit. The work of constructing cement foundations, sidewalks and installing sewers and such was done by the NDSU Maintenance staff under the direction of Bob Thorson, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Thorson estimates that the overall cost of the move will be in the neighborhood of $15,000, with the finances coming out of the NDSU Housing Fund. No appropriations were received from the state.

Several reasons have been rumored for the move, however, pressure from some residents on the east side of 13th Street seems to be the driving force behind the venture. The appearance of the wooden frame buildings has long been criticized by some of the home owners along the opposite side of 13th Street.

Other factors may have contributed, but under pressure from the few people concerned, the college agreed with the Fargo City Commission to move one unit a year until all units had been moved off 13th Street. Thorson, however, convinced NDSU officials that moving one building a year would be more costly and the move was completed by Sept. 1 of this year.

The units had previously been within the city limits of Fargo when they bordered 13th Street. They have now been moved into the jurisdiction of Reed Township, along with the rest of the North Court housing project.

Reed Township has requested the city of Fargo to annex the part of NDSU campus containing North Court, according to Thorson. The reason presumably is that the votes of the 160 families living in the North Court units could dictate township policy in an election that saw a full turnout of students.

Thorson said that the actual moving of the units was delayed until July 1 to allow the greatest number of families to move out of the 13th Street units. The families living in those units after school had recessed were forced to move into other North Court units while the move was completed. They were later allowed to move back into their original unit if they chose.

Newmanites Will Be Guests At LSA

Following Father Hovda's talk, there will be group discussions by members of both religious groups. Lunch will complete the evening's program.

By Roger Lutz

One or two momentary lapses spelled the difference between victory and defeat for the NDSC Bison last Saturday night as they dropped their second straight NCC tilt to the Morningside Maroons, 12-0. Coach Bob Danielsen had praise for the Herd even though they didn't win. "Everything was improved over last week's game with ISTC," commented Danielson. "They did leave a few holes now and then, and the Maroons took advantage of them."

Neither team was able to build up a strong offensive, but a long completed pass and a blocked kick paved the way for the Morningside scoring.

The Herd started the game like a team that was really going places as left halfback, Wayne Wall, gave the fans a show of fancy running for some gains, but two pass interceptions in the first quarter stopped any Bison threat.

According to the statistics the Maroons didn't dominate the game. Each team managed 11 first downs, and the Bison gained more total ground than Morningside, but the score didn't register for the Herd, who have a 1-2 conference record.

Jerry Kingery, end, sustained a hip injury early in the game and played with this handicap through most of the first half. He will probably miss tomorrow's game with Montana State.

When asked to pick out a few outstanding players of last Saturday's game, coach Danielsen cited Bill Bartels for his all around good game at end. Bartels made a sensational catch in the waning seconds of the first half to put the Herd within spitting distance of the goal, but time ran out before the Herd could push the ball over. If the Bison could have scored on that series of plays, the outcome of the game would have been different. Don Remillong and Wayne Wall also received the praise of coach Danielsen for their efforts in the game.

I thought it was interesting that in four games, the Bison have been penalized only six times, for a total of 56 yards, while Bison opponents have drawn 16 penalties for 146 yards.

Bison Listed In Two Nation-Wide Statistics

Prior to last Saturday's game with Morningside, the NDSC's football squad was listed in two nation-wide statistical categories compiled by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Curt Quenette, Bison fullback, was rated 11th in yards gained rushing among the nation's small college performers. Quenette carried the ball 46 times for 266 yards, or an average of 5.8 yards a carry.

Bison punters had an average of 43.2 yards a punt, which was the ninth best small-college average in the nation, as compiled by the NCAA. Quenette had punted five times for the Bison and Paul Schultz had booted once.

Bison Drop 12-0 Decision To Maroons

By Dewey Olson

The NDSC Bison will be trying to better their .500 football record here Saturday when they meet the Montana State Bobcats in State's homecoming feature at Dacotah Field.

This is a must game for the Bison who have dropped two straight after opening with victories over Concordia and Augustana.

NDSC dropped a 12-0 decision to the Morningside Maroons here last Saturday to fall to a 1-2 mark in conference play.

The roughly contested battle could have gone either way until Morningside's right tackle, Joe Hansen, blocked a State punt on the Bison 9 and set up a touchdown with 9:55 remaining in the final quarter to ice the decision for the Sioux City eleven.

It was the 15th win for Morningside in the series. NDSC has won 12 and two resulted in ties.

Morningside had Curt Quenette, State's fullback who led the conference in scoring and rushing until Saturday's game, well bottled up throughout the first three periods. Senior halfback Wayne Wall managed to take up the slack with an outstanding offensive display in the first half, but the whole Bison backfield appeared to bog down in the final half when NDSC netted 34 yards on the ground.

The Bison returned the opening kickoff to their own 20 and marched to the Morningside 47, largely on the hard line smashes of Wall. NDSC ground out a pair of first downs on what appeared to be the start of a sustained drive, before Elmer Menage intercepted a State pass and returned it to the Bison 40 to end the threat.

Bill Bartels, who turned in an outstanding performance for the Bison at the right end spot, recovered a Maroon fumble on the NDSC 30 to slow a Morningside scoring threat.

Quarterback Ross Fortier combined with Gary Ahlgren and Wall for two first downs by passing, to direct the Bison to the Morningside 25. The third passing attempt in the series landed in the hands of Morningside's Mike Owen, who returned it to the 27 and the Maroon's launched their own aerial attack from there.

Two short passes by Morningside quarterback Jerry Ehwegen and a 13-yard spurt by Menage rang up two first downs, to the Bison 33. A 15-yard penalty put Morningside back to the NDSC 48, but second string quarterback Larry Selgelid, unleashed a pass to Menage that covered 45 yards to the 2 and set up the first Maroon counter.

Play was concentrated between the 30-yard stripes throughout most of the second period, with the Bison moving to the Morningside 2 before time ran out in the half. Lloyd Larsen had flipped a long, high pass to Bartels, who made a sensational leaping catch and drove to the 6 before being pulled down. Wall hit the line for two yards, but the Bison were stranded there when the buzzer sounded.

Hansen's play on the blocked punt put the Maroons into scoring position on the 7. Selgelid hit Jerry Block in the end zone with a jump pass on the third play from scrimmage to end the game's scoring.

The Maroons threatened to score again late in the quarter. After taking over on downs from the Bison, sophomore halfback, Dale Traver, cracked off 23 and 10 yards before being shaken up on a play that forced him to leave the game, with the ball on the NDSC 9.

The Bison took over on downs but Menage intercepted his second pass of the evening to pose another threat to the State defense. Morningside moved to the 35 with two minutes left before Quenette intercepted a Maroon pass, to end the rally.

SC Bowling Underway

The NDSC Intramural Bowling Leagues began their season Oct. 7, at the Student Union lanes. Gordon Teigen may be contacted for reservations for your league.

The Engineers League started off at 5 p.m. Tuesday with the Classic and Major Leagues at 7 and 9 respectively.

Convo Starts '58 Homecoming

Homecoming activities were launched this morning at 9:40 with Jim Lunde and Tom Joyal as MC's for convocation. President Hultz addressed the student body and wished all good luck in the following festivities. Various yells were led by cheerleaders and Rahjah club. The queen and her attendants were introduced along with the football squad.

Rahjahs will lead a snake dance starting at 6:30 p.m. tonight. They will cover the campus making stops at dormitories and fraternal organizations. Students are asked to join the rally which will terminate at the Memorial Union parking lot with a bon fire. Freshmen here's your chance! Burn your beanies!

South of the 50 yard line, bleachers are being reserved for the students for the Saturday game at 1:30. p.m.

Saturday's Homecoming Game To Pit Bison Against Strong Montana State

Tomorrow afternoon is the big homecoming game with the Montana State Bobcats. It is pretty well agreed that the Bison are going to have trouble with this strong team. They have practically their whole last year's team, which is mostly underclassmen. They run most of their plays from a split "T", which will be backed by a speedy backfield and a good passing quarterback. Their line will make our line look pretty small. They will have 1,452 pounds of brick wall, as opposed to 1,373 pounds of Bison muscle. Draw your own conclusion as to what we are up against. To help in your calculations, you might want to know that the Bobcats have lost two games in the past three years. Need I say more? I will. This Bobcat team has terrific depth. Coach Danielsen commented that one has a hard time telling the first team from the third one. They do everything well. Nuff said!

Homecoming Will Feature Torch Run

By Dean Forseth

This year, as in the past, the NDSC Homecoming festivities will be kicked off by the torch run from the state capitol in Bismarck to Dacotah Field. This annual event was initiated three years ago and has proven to be a great success. The publicity it receives and the enthusiasm it builds up for the game are a valuable asset to the college and the students.

The 40 man relay team is headed by Jack Simonieg, Commissioner of Campus Athletics, and Tom Neuberger. The run is broken up into two legs, each consisting of twenty men. The first leg will run the torch from Bismarck to Jamestown where they will be relieved by the second group, completing the trip to Fargo.

The distance of approximately two hundred miles will be broken up into one-half mile lengths, which will be run alternately by the men. Each man will run about five or six miles. Upon arriving in Fargo Saturday, the members of the second leg will lead the Homecoming Parade. The grand finale will be the entrance into Dacotah Field, which starts the game with Montana State.

The first leg of the team left yesterday for Bismarck where they will stay at the Prince Hotel. They were guests last night of Harold Shaffer at a banquet in their honor. This morning at 10:00 the torch was lit by one of the officials of North Dakota, who wished the college good luck with their Homecoming festivities and sent the boys on their way.

Mandan

I'm looking forward to the excitement and the anxiety which goes with the preparation for the game.

I anticipate going to the game, of course, and attending the dance and getting a chance to see all of last year's grads.

I plan to go duck hunting all weekend.

I'm looking forward to seeing the Bison beat Montana State and to have a good time at the dance.

I'm going out with one of the best looking freshman girls on campus.

Frat Plans Project

Alpha Zeta has started plans to interest prospective students in NDSC.

The idea is to select two slides from each department in the school of agriculture about job openings in the field. There will be a short description with the slides, with each department head, describing the jobs open to graduates. These slides will be made into a film, available to county agents and vocational agriculture instructors. This will enable young men to get a better picture of the jobs open in the agricultural field.

Jim Oster, active member of Alpha Zeta, has been appointed as head of the committee. Work will begin on the project next week.

Tenney FFA Speaker Farmhouse Members Attend Purdue Meet

Dr. A. W. Tenney, U. S. Office of Education agent to the central region, was speaker at the first regular meeting of the NDSC collegiate chapter of Future Farmers of America, Oct. 1, in Morrill Hall.

About 43 members heard Dr. Tenney discuss qualities of a successful agricultural teacher. "You must have faith in the future of farming—with a faith born not of words, but of deeds," said Tenney. He pointed out ways in which the collegiate FFA members, as future agricultural teachers could prepare themselves for teaching.

Gerald Puppe gave a talk on the objectives of the collegiate FFA and Charles Rust reported on the Homecoming float. Carl (Bucky) Haas was named to supervise the soft drink machine, located in the basement of Morrill Hall.

"The changing agricultural picture" was the theme which challenged 10 local FarmHouse Fraternity members who attended the national FarmHouse fraternity conclave at Purdue University, Oct. 24.

Some 264 members from 19 chapters at leading state colleges pondered the challenge. Because of decline in agricultural enrollments at the campuses generally, ways were sought to increase an interest in agriculture.

The delegates were presented with an hour of music from the famed Purdue Glee Club Choir. They also attended a fraternity dance in Purdue's new $9 million Union building.
