Tradition Of Graduation Is Known Around World

This June, as your parents applaud their favorite graduate, a proud Bantu tribesman in Africa will be painting his!

He will smear the happy lad's face with certain designs that signify the family to which he belongs; a few more dabs will portray the animal held sacred by the boy's clan; and, if the lad has learned his work well, additional blobs of home-made paint will announce his chosen profession—warrior, hunter, craftsman, priest.

Certain Eskimos like their Bantu counterparts, have little use for what we consider formal education. Survival is a more important subject. The boy who feels ready to prove his ability is taken far from home, provided with some rudimentary tools and that queen one-seat canoe called a kayak. His job, too, is to find his way home. He must literally paddle his way to a diploma.

Once he proves himself, he may have a say in family matters and seriously consider the idea of taking a wife.

Gifts Common To All

As diverse as graduation ceremonies are around the world, they all have one thing in common: the graduate receives gifts. These may vary from the small plot of land an Australian aborigine gets upon having proved his prowess to the gleaming portable typewriter with which you may be surprised, but they are all rewards for having mastered the knowledge each culture considers important.

Our own form of graduation goes back to the 13th century, when the University of Paris was founded. Students attended lectures until their teachers felt they were ready to practice the profession of their choice (usually medicine or law). Those pursuing the liberal arts concentrated on a four-subject curriculum known as the quadrivium. This consisted of arithmetic, geometry, astronomy and music. Degrees were conferred only after a student had successfully defended a thesis of his own—in Latin—in public.

One theory has it that the four-cornered quadrivium is still symbolized by the rectangular hat, the mortarboard, that our graduates wear. A more down-to-earth explanation is that the peculiar shape of the hat protected its wearers from rain—a boon to English graduates, who often attended commencement under a lowering sky.

Gowns Have A History

Our knowledge of the gowns worn at commencements is more sure. Originally devised to keep English dons warm during lectures in dark halls, they have been retained in our ceremonies to this day.

Each one is tailored to the degree and subject pursued. Thus, a sleeveless gown is worn by Bachelors of Art or Science; an elbow-length gown may be worn only by men and woman who have earned their Master's degree; the Doctor of Philosophy sports a full-sleeved gown.

The color of the graduate's hood is significant too, and if you know what field of study each color represents, you can tell at a glance whether a man is an engineer, teacher, lawyer, whatever.

For example, purple stands for the law; white, for religion; yellow, for science; green, for medicine; light blue, pedagogy; brown, architecture; lilac, dentistry; olive, pharmacy; drab, business.

Similarly, the hood lining is a tip-off on the school which conferred the degree. If, at commencement, you see a professor wearing a hood lined with light blue and white, you are looking at a Columbia graduate. If his hood is lined with Yale blue, he attended Yale. Lining royal blue and white, with a white chevron? He studied at Duke University. It's all a matter of what color he's sporting.

Which makes you wonder: maybe we're not so different from the Bantu, after all.

Off The Editor's Cuff

By Bob Thompson

Last Monday the Campus Improvement Society (Parliamentary Procedure class) started circulating petitions to demand action by the Student Senate towards building tennis courts on campus. These petitions were taken to the Senate on Tuesday.

Noel Estensen, president of Senate, brought up the matter in a serious tone. As one of the people who attended the session stated, the senators "all laughed." In five minutes senate again delayed action on the matter.

The reasons brought out in the discussion were (1) the petitioners were misinformed, (2) the campus planning committee hasn't designated the land to be used, and (3) the money originally appropriated for the project has been set in a fund.

First of all the petitioners were not misinformed. They, like everyone else on campus, were not informed at all. Secondly, I am of the opinion that property could be acquired for the courts if the senate went about it the right way.

If the senate would take the time to circulate petitions throughout the student body and then take them to the Campus Planning Committee, I'm sure that they would find room for the six or eight courts which are needed. They might even acquire possible locations from the athletic department.

Each student pays one dollar for his ID card. Forty cents of this goes towards the building of the courts. Right now there is about 1100 dollars in the fund. It would cost 6-7,000 dollars to build them, according to Jerry Schnell, Senate Finance Commissioner.

Why couldn't the student body build the courts using borrowed money or bonds just as buildings are built on campus and then take the money from the activity tickets and pay off the debt. It is a sure investment. There are 3,200 captive students here who would insure that the bonds would be paid off.

Doesn't the senate have an obligation to the students to see that the money the students give to the senate is spent as it is supposed to be spent? Here is something that the students could use. Why trot way down to Island Park when you want to play tennis and then find out that you can't because the courts are taken.

This Summer Has Various Meanings For Students On The NDSC Campus

What does summer mean to SC students? To some it means simply the end of classes, to others it is a time to go to a rest home, to still others, it means the end of the good TV programs. Many students look forward to the summer because it means experience in their chosen field, an escape from school-work in a former job, or a completely new adventure. SC students will be doing a variety of things in a variety of places during the next three months.

KD's Kathy Barrett, Doris Folstrom, and Mary Ann Van Sickle are going to Hotel MacDonald at Glacier National Park. Their trio will sing as part of the entertainment there.

Like many other junior men at SC, Wayne Lunsetter will spend the six weeks from June 20 to July 31 at ROTC camp. Wayne will be stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington. He has special plans for the remainder of the summer, since he and Barbara Hylland are setting their wedding date for late in August.

Ona Carlson is going to Mandan to work with an outdoor drama, "Trail West."

Loren Hill and John Bergstrom will take groups of explorer scouts who range in age from 14 to 21 on 10 day canoe trips into the Superior National Forest and across the border into the Quetico National Park. The trip is 100 miles long, 80 miles of which are in Canada. This is Loren's fifth summer as a guide.

Julie Staber will act as 4-H club assistant in Lincoln County, Ivanhoe, Minnesota. "I work with 4-H members on projects, fairs, style shows, and achievement days. I had this type of job last year too and I loved it."

Marilyn Marschke will work in the office of information of the United States Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C. She will be a student assistant in agricultural communications.

Jack Brusich will also be working with communications in the midwest office of the agricultural service in Chicago. "The job will involve correlating midwest market information and sending it out to the Associated Press and United Press wire services," he said.

"I bet I'll kill a billion mosquitoes" said Bob Wehage, when asked what he would be doing this summer. He will be employed by the City of Fargo Health Department. His job will be spraying mosquitoes. His day starts at 7:30 a.m. when he checks the 15 light traps in Fargo to get an idea of where the heaviest concentration of mosquitoes is.

Parents To Get Alumni Review

The Alumni Review is about to change its name and increase its scope and audience. In the future, the publication will be sent to parents of all NDSC students.

In order that the editors of the publication may become familiar with response by parents, students are being asked to mail a copy of this month's Review to their parents. Copies of the publication have been placed next to all Spectrum distribution points.

Future issues of the publication will be mailed to parents as a service of the Alumni Association. The next issue will come out in August, and the name change will go into effect then.

So, pick up an issue of the paper, send it home to your parents, and if you have an idea for the new name, send it to the Alumni Association.

Letters: Fine Work Done During SC Sharivar

Words of commendation and many bouquets are in order for those who worked on the Sharivar committees, and made its initiation a success. The attendance was probably a little disappointing. However, this is nothing to be discouraged about.

We joined the faculty at Iowa State in 1947. Serving nine years at that institution, we saw the Veishea celebration mushroom into a show that rivaled the State Fair. Veishea made Life Magazine around 1955.

Being new in the teaching business, and not having the extent of the Veishea affair adequately explained, we made the mistake in 1948 of giving an examination the day before Veishea. This error got us "honorable mention" in the Ballyrot column of the student newspaper, which afforded our associates considerable amusement. We were told that this qualified us to be a college professor.

It was a pleasure to observe the student-faculty cooperation to make North Dakota State's first Sharivar a success. Next year it will be better and bigger in every way. The start was a good job and well done. Congratulations.

MARION B. RICHARDSON
Dept. of Ind. Eng.

Dear Dr. Hultz:

My sincere and enthusiastic compliments to North Dakota State, its students, faculty and administration.

Sharivar, as far as I am concerned, was an outstanding success. True, there could have been more people on campus the two days, but I am sure in the future there will be.

The main success of the 1959 Sharivar was the outstanding cooperation shown by the students on the NDSC campus. This in itself makes Sharivar an outstanding success.

This showing of loyalty and esprit de corps convinces me North Dakota State College will soon be recognized as North Dakota State University. How could anyone, no matter what their political or sectional feelings are, deny this fine group of young men and women the opportunity to improve an already great institution of higher learning.

I assure you now, the Chamber of Commerce and the businessmen in Fargo will be even more willing to cooperate in the coming years to make Sharivar even more successful.

Application Forms Now Ready For Next Years Student Loans

Students contemplating making application for a loan for the academic year beginning in September should file applications immediately with Dean Mirgain, Chairman of the Scholarship Committee. Application forms are available either in Dean Mirgain's Office or in the Office of Admissions.

Any undergraduate or graduate student is eligible providing he is maintaining good standing in his chosen course of study. The law under which this loan fund is made available provides that special consideration be given to students who express a desire to teach in elementary or secondary school, or whose academic work indicates a superior capacity or preparation in science, mathematics, engineering, or modern foreign languages.

A student may borrow for college expenses in one year a sum not exceeding $1,000.00, and during his entire course in higher education a sum not exceeding $5,000.00. The borrower must sign a note for the loan. The loan is interest free until one year after the borrower ceases to be a full-time student, at which time interest accrues at 3 per cent per year. The loan must be repaid within ten years of the date upon which interest begins. The borrower's obligation to repay is cancelled in the event of death or permanent disability.

The National Defense Education Act further provides that up to 50 per cent of the loan (plus interest) may be cancelled in the event the borrower becomes a full-time teacher in a public elementary or secondary school.

The college scholarship committee presently contemplates reviewing all applications for loans during the month of August in order that awards may be made some time prior to the opening of college in September.

Chairman
Scholarship Committee

Is Patriotism Dead On NDSC Campus?

I noticed in your last edition a picture showing the day of scholastic awards. When the flag was brought into the room not one person is standing. What kind of a school is this when its people have so little respect for the United States flag. I am ashamed to belong to such a group, and I'm sure the exercise of getting to one's feet would do everyone good.

I wonder if the school paper has enough nerve to make a comment on this in the next edition. I will wait and see.

(Editor's Note) Yes, we have the nerve, but I wonder why you didn't have the nerve to sign a letter of good comment such as this. Are you meek?

Student Senate

By Dean

The NDSC student senate voted last Tuesday evening to circulate a petition with the intention of influencing the College Planning Board in the placement of the new girls' dorm.

The decision was made after the report on the situation made by Jan Kippen and Jim Lamont in which they stated that a cross section poll indicated that the majority of the students were against placing the new dorm between Churchill Hall and the Alba Bales house. It is felt that such a location would hurt the appearance of the campus and that a more suitable location could be found.

The College Planning Board feels that the use of this location is inevitable and that the cost of plumbing, sidewalks, etc, would be greatly decreased if the dorm was located in the proposed place. It also felt that the girls would prefer a more centralized location.

The proposed budget, submitted by Jerry Schnell, Finance Commissioner, was rejected as senate felt that a more definite or workable budget was feasible. It will be ready next fall after the finance commission has a better chance to talk to the other commissions and find out exactly what they will need to operate effectively in the coming year.

The insurance committee, set up for the purpose of finding a suitable group insurance policy for the students of NDSC, was given the power to decide the company and under what conditions the program should be put into effect next fall.

This was the last meeting of the senate for the 1958-59 school year.

FOUND THESE QUOTES in a recent magazine . . . they rather show the way my mind has been working about this point, and I imagine many of yours, with term papers and projects due and finals coming up. "I'm glad I don't like spinach, because if I did I'd eat it, and I hate it." Here's another . . . "I feel much more like I do now than I did when I came in."

STUDENTS HAVEN'T been too busy to get pinned though . . . many this week. Sheryl Lohse is now wearing the ATO pin of Bob McDonald. The candle was passed at the Alpha Gamma Delta house by Margaret Gludt to announce her pinning to Bob Boerth.

KAPPA DELTA Kathy Barrett announced her pinning Monday to AGR Mark Ashton and TKE Jerry Kovelenco recently pinned Martha Robideau.

CONGRATULATIONS to the two new fraternity sweethearts, who were crowned last weekend, Jan Melby, new Kappa Psi sweetheart and Joyce Larson, new SAE sweetheart. Both girls were serenaded and presented with flowers. The SAE's also presented Audrey Paul, this year's sweetheart with flowers.

CAROL OLSON pssed candy at the Kappa Alpha Theta house celebrating her engagement to Lloyd Larson, SAE alum.

TERM PARTIES are again the highlight of the weekend. Top of the Mart will be the spot for the Alpha Gam's party on Friday night. Dinner will be at 7 with the dancing later. The Kappa Alpha Theta's will also have their party at the FM hotel. Sautrday is the day and 7 is the time for this annual affair.

TO CELEBRATE their 25th anniversary, the Sigma Chi's held a banquet on Monday night. The outstanding senior award was received by Ed Duin.

DESPITE THE cold last Friday night, the Greek Week picnic was much fun. Talent was displayed quite interestingly at the mock olympics. The SAE's and KD's took the honors.

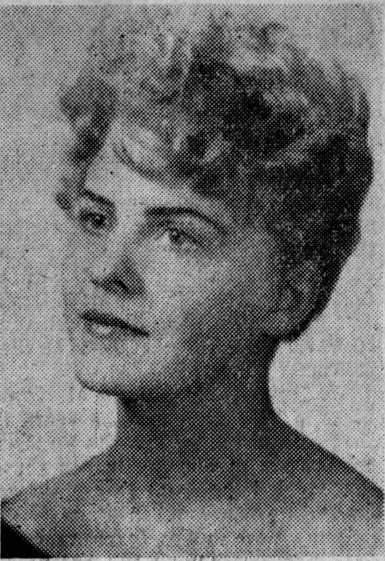

THE ANNUAL Farmhouse Founder's Day banquet was held on Saturday at the Moorhead Country Club. Awards were given to Floyd Albers, most improved man; Lloyd Knight, the active member who did the most to live by the fraternity motto and Dalmon Larson, scholarship award.

IT WAS SENIOR's day for the KD's last night at the Silver Moon. A banquet was served in their honor. Silver spoons were given to the graduates earlier this week at a Mother's Club luncheon.

THE GAMMA PHI's also honored their seniors this week. Silver spoons were presented to the girls, and in their honor, Mrs. Johnson, the house mother, gave the house a gift.

HERE'S SOME wedding announcements for the summer. TKE Clayton Hanson will wed Lucy Schmeling June 8 and TKE Ed Hamernik and Theta alum Arlene Hedahl will tie the knot on June 20. May 31 is the date for KAT Claire Ann Walker and SAE alum Dick Wilson's wedding and June 20 will find KAT Nancy Williams and SPD Fred Arndt listening to wedding bells.

THIS IS IT FOR THE YEAR. As they say on the "Huckleberry Hound Show" . . . Have a better than average type summer. See you in the fall.

Phi Mu, Jan Melby (above) will reign as the Kappa Psi Sweetheart for the coming year. She was crowned Sweetheart at the KP ball last weekend. Joyce Larsen, Gamma Phi Beta, was crowned Sigma Alpha Epsilon sweetheart last week at their formal spring term party.

TILL WE MEET AGAIN

This is the last column of my fifth year of writing for Philip Morris and Marlboro. I have made it a custom in the last column of each year not to be funny. I know I have also realized this aim in many other columns during the year, but that was not for lack of trying. Today I am not trying. I am not trying for two reasons: First, because you are getting ready for final exams and in your present state of shock, nothing in the world could possibly make you laugh. And second, this final column of the year is for many of us a leave-taking, and good-byes always make me too misty to be funny.

For me the year ends neither with a bang nor a whimper, but with a glow—a warm, pleasant, mellow glow—the kind of glow you will find, for example, at the end of a Philip Morris or Marlboro.

It has been in every way a gratifying experience, my five years with the makers of Philip Morris and Marlboro, and I would like to take this opportunity to extend my heartfelt appreciation to these good tobaccoists, to assure them that the memory of their kindness will remain ever green in my heart, and to remind them that they still owe me for the last three columns.

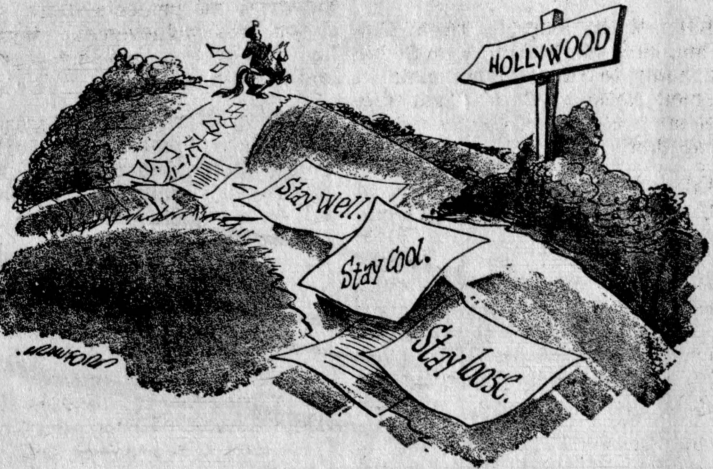

And in these waning days of the school year, let me address myself seriously to you, my readers. Have I trod on any toes this year? Ruffled any feelings? Jostled any sensibilities? If so, I am sorry.

Have I occasioned any laughs? Chuckles? Sniggers? Mona Lisa smiles? If so, I'm glad.

Have I persuaded any of you to try Philip Morris and Marlboro? To taste that fine flavor? To smoke that excellent tobacco? If so, you are glad.

And now the long, lazy summer lies ahead. But for me summer is never lazy. It is, in fact, the busiest time of year. Two summers ago, for instance, I was out ringing doorbells every single day, morning, noon, and night. There was a contest, you see, and the kid in my neighborhood who sold the most bluing won a pony. I am proud to report that I was the lucky winner.

Last summer I was also out ringing doorbells every single day, morning, noon, and night. I was trying to sell the pony.

This summer I am not going to be out ringing doorbells. I am going to saddle the pony and ride to Hollywood, California. What am I going to do in Hollywood, California? I am going to write a series of half-hour television comedies called THE MANY LOVES OF DOBIE GILLIS, and starting in October, 1959, your friends and mine, the makers of Philip Morris and Marlboro, are going to bring you this program over the Columbia Broadcasting System every Tuesday night at 8:30. Why don't you speak to your housemother and ask her if she'll let you stay up to see it?

And now good-bye. For me it's been kicks all the way, and I hope for you it hasn't been altogether unbearable. Have a good summer. Stay well. Stay cool. Stay loose.

© 1959, Max Shulman

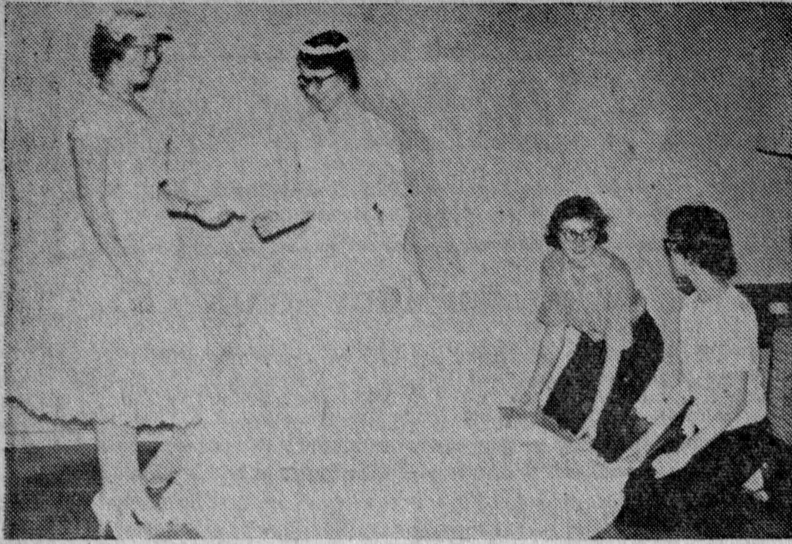

For us, the makers of Philip Morris and Marlboro, it's been kicks too, and we would like to echo kindly old Max's parting words: Stay well. Stay cool. Stay loose.

Co-eds With Wedding Plans Make Their Finery; Some Design Originals, Others Use Adaptions

By Arlene Christianson
The end of the college year brings to mind many things.

To a very select group of girls it means engraved invitations, getting someone to be at the punch bowl, flowers, and a wedding dress. A number of SC coeds are making their own gowns, some of them on their own time and some in a special problems class.

Meredith Moordale designed her own dress. It is a full length princess style gown of silk organza and galoon lace over satin. It ends in a train. She is also making one of her bridesmaid's dresses which will be in pink and of a design similar to her own.

Claire Ann Walker, who is to be married May 31, is making her gown from satin backed crystal-lette. The eight panel full length skirt is fitted from the Empire bodice to the waist.

Nancy Williams made her dress during quarter break. It is floor length of white satin with a mock train. She is also making two attendants dresses as well as a dress for the flower girl.

Carol Folkers bought her wedding dress but is making the three attendants dresses as well as the hats and the aprons for the waitresses. The dresses are street length and of embroidered white organdy over light blue cotton. The hats, a modified picture type, are of blue flowers over a blue net frame.

Pearl Ulshak, who is planning her wedding for June 7, is designing her dress. It is of peau de soie with a lace bodice and back panel. The princess line styling ends in a full length train.

Myrth Weiser's dress is of white cotton satin. She is making the dress in class from a pattern that she has adapted to her own taste.

Janice Fewell is designing her dress of peau de faille. It also has a full length train and a back bustle.

Elaine Willy's wedding suit, which she is making in tailoring class, is of light blue wool. It is semi-fitted and lined. She made the suit out of muslin before cutting the wool in order to be able to fit it better.

Verna Busch is making the dresses for the two flower girls that will be in her wedding on June 6. They are of satin backed crystalette and are styled similar to the bridesmaid's dresses.

Army, Air ROTC Officers Transfer

Three Army ROTC and three Air Force ROTC staff members will be transferred this summer to new jobs.

Lt. Col. H. L. Snavelly is being transferred to Gonsenheim, Germany with the 504 Infantry. He will be replaced by Lt. Col. G. W. Mithel who will be coming from the Seventh Division in Korea. He will arrive about the middle of July.

M/Sgt. Louis Schur is being transferred in June and Sgt. Charles E. Hurst will be leaving with the 28th Division for Germany.

From the Air Force side Col. James E. Bailey is being transferred to Beale AF Base in Calif. He is being replaced by Col. J. E. Habeger who is coming from the Pentagon in Washington, D. C. He will arrive about the first of August.

Capt. Lee A. Kash is going to Luke AF Base in Ariz. Staff Sgt. Howard E. Miller will also be leaving.

Mike Kinsella was caught in the act as he was attempting to push Duane Sturlagson in the ditch by Minard Hall. Because of a broken water main, all the water was shut off in Minard Hall. This was also the reason why there was so much water in the Minard parking lot.

NDSC Women's Phy Ed Instructor Retires

Mrs. Neva Anderson, dance instructor in the women's physical education department will retire this spring after 11 years of service at NDSC. Hundreds of girls have taken her basic rhythms course here at State and many of them have gone on into her advanced courses in modern dance.

Through her efforts, a chapter of the national college dance honorary society, Orchesis, was established on this campus.

Mrs. Anderson says that in her non-teaching years at home, she didn't do much with dance. Now, however, she will continue dancing at home for her own pleasure and relaxation. "I don't think I'll ever let it go again," she declared. "Dancing can take me out of the deepest depression and make me feel so much better. Besides lifting your spirits, it keeps you physically fit."

"How can I be sure you've got some Camels?"

More buxom blondes with shipwrecked sailors insist on Camels than any other cigarette today. It stands to reason: the best tobacco makes the best smoke. The Camel blend of costly tobaccos has never been equalled for rich flavor and easygoing mildness. No wonder Camel is the No. 1 cigarette of all!

"This year's team was 30 per cent better than last year's team yet last year's team was much more successful as far as games won. We didn't have a single game with bad pitching this year." These were some of the words that Coach Chuck Bentson used to sum up the 1959 season. Coach Bentson feels that when the Bison needed a hit they couldn't get it and this is what happened every time this year. The inability to hit in the clutch was the Bison's downfall.

that were there. All varsity men but one scored points but 9 men just aren't enough to win a track meet.

Coach Neuberger summarized the track team as having quality but not quantity.

This is about it. We hope everybody has fun in summer sports this summer and comes back next fall really ready to play football, cheer the Bison on to victory in all sports, and make the 1959-60 school year the best in the history of NDSC. * * *

The tennis, track, and golf teams traveled to Sioux City, Iowa today to participate in the Conference Meet made up of teams in the North Central Conference.

On Saturday, in the State meet, there were some good individual performances for the few Bison

Bob Williams Is Athlete Of Week

This week's athlete is Bob Williams. Bob won this honor by last Saturday's performance in the State meet where he was high point man for the Bison, scoring 11 points with a first in the steeple chase and a third in the mile and two mile. Bob also set a new school record for the steeple chase when he ran it in 10.27. Bob, during the course of the day, ran a total of 3 3/4 miles.

Bob is a sophomore majoring in physical education. He hails from Fergus Falls, Minnesota and is presently the student trainer for the athletic department.

According to Tom Neuberger Bob is one of the most reliable, dedicated athletes at NDSC.

Harold Halvorson occupies the batter's box in a series with the University last week. Harold is an Architectural Engineering senior.

Helgeson Sets 2 Mile Mark

The NDU track team won its fifth straight state intercollegiate title as they scored 64 1/2 points last Saturday.

Only one new record was set. Oddvar Helgeson, NDSC frosh, set the lone record in the two mile with a time of 9:35.2. Team scoring for the days were as follows: Valley City, 46 1/5; Dickinson TC, 32; Jamestown, 30 1/5; NDSC, 26 7/10; Minot TC, 22; NDSC frosh, 16; NDU frosh, 13; Mayville TC, 8 1/5; Ellendale N. 1 and Wahpeton Science 3 each, Bismarck JC, 1.

The Bison mile-relay team lost a heartbreaker as Dennis Macussen of NDU ran a 50 anchor leg to overcome a 15 yard Bison lead.

Outstanding performers for the Bison were Dave Kearney, Bob Williams and Oddvar Helgeson, who set Bison school records. Helgeson, in the two mile, Bob Williams, in the steeple chase and Dave Kearney, in the half mile. Williams was the hardest working Bison athlete for the day as he scored 11 points, with a third in the mile and two mile and first in the steeple chase.

Wednesday found the Bison competing in an intercity track meet with Concordia and Moorhead State. Concordia is expected to have the strongest team in the meet.

On Saturday they will be competing in what may prove to be the most interesting conference meet for several years at Sioux City.

Next Saturday the Bison will be competing in the District 12, NAIA meet at Brookings. This will be the last meet of the season and will be a qualifying meet for the National meet. The best performers will go to the National meet the following Saturday.

Guests on the campus will be housed at Churchill Hall. Entertainment including a noted magician, a dinner and a sports film by Bill Weaver will be highlights for the three evenings.
