

Newsman Denied Passport Speaks at Convo Monday

How much control should the U. S. Department of State have over the traveling citizen? That's the theme of the convocation talk by William Worthy, American newsman recently denied a passport, Monday, Jan. 25, at 9:40 in Festival Hall.

Mr. Worthy, whose suit for a new passport is currently before the U. S. Supreme Court, is one of three American newsmen who defied the State Department's ban on travel to the mainland of China. Along with a reporter-photographer team from LOOK magazine, he spent six weeks touring China as correspondent for the Baltimore Afro-American, CBS News and the New York Post.

At that time he was a Nieman Fellow in journalism at Harvard University. Earlier he had twice circled the globe on tours of duty, having covered the Korean truce negotiations, the Asian-African Conference at Bandung, and news in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe.

In 1955, with personal permission from Premier Krushchev, he broke the Soviet "radio curtain" by being first U. S. newsman to broadcast news from Moscow. In 1956 he made an uncensored newscast for CBS news from Pretoria, Union of South Africa, just before being deported from that country. From China he broadcast three times "live" from Peking and Shanghai.

Native of Boston, Mr. Worthy is now on a Ford Foundation fellowship in African studies at Boston University.

Saddle And Sirloin Selects Duemeland For Hall Of Fame

George A. Duemeland of Bismarck, manager of the Patterson Land Company, has been selected to appear in the Saddle and Sirloin Club's Hall of Fame.

He will be honored at the Hall of Fame banquet Friday evening, Feb. 5 in connection with the NDSC Little International Livestock Exposition. His portrait will be hung in the Saddle and Sirloin Hall of Fame in Shepperd Arena, scene of the exposition.

Each year the members of the Saddle and Sirloin Club add to the Hall of Fame a man who they feel has made outstanding contributions to North Dakota's agriculture.

Duemeland, who owns the Patterson Land Company in partnership with his son Lorin, has helped the livestock industry tremendously by producing purebred Hereford cattle of exceptional quality.

Mr. Duemeland has always been an active supporter of 4-H and FFA. On several occasions he has made his ranch facilities available for teaching livestock selection to 4-H and FFA club members as well as adults.

Duemeland, who has always been an active member of several livestock organizations, was born at St. Clair, Minn., in 1887 and attended high school and business college at Mankato.

In 1904 he joined Eugene Patterson in the operation of the newly formed Patterson Land Company. In 1945 George and his son Lorin purchased controlling interest in the company and two years later they completed purchase of the company.

Charles Hayter plays Grumio and Max Helpmann, Petruccio in the Canadian Players' production of "Taming of the Shrew" to be presented Friday night at 8:15 in Festival Hall.

Canadian Players Lyceum Feature

Canadian Players, Canada's only professional touring company, will present plays by Shakespeare and Chekhov at two NDSC lyceums in Festival Hall this weekend.

Mr. Denis Carey will direct the company which is touring the United States. The group will present "The Taming of the Shrew" by Shakespeare Friday, Jan. 22, and "The Cherry Orchard" by Anton Chekhov Saturday, Jan. 23. Both plays will begin at 8:15 p.m. Students will be admitted free on their activity cards.

The Taming of the Shrew is one of Shakespeare's earlier plays. It is the story from which the musical "Kiss Me Kate" was taken. It tells of two sisters Katherina and Bianca. Katherina, the elder is bad tempered. No one will consent to marry her, so her father vows that the younger daughter will remain single until a husband is found for Katherina.

The Taming of the Shrew results when Petruchio finally marries Katherina. He tames her by opposing her every wish. The situations which lead up to the finale of the Taming of the Shrew provide one of Shakespeare's most popular and delightful comedies.

The Cherry Orchard by Anton Chekhov was the last play written before his death. Chekhov refers to the Cherry Orchard as a comedy although by our standards it is extremely sad despite its few flashes of humor.

The setting is the Russian home of Mme. Ranyevskaia, a widow. She has left her estate with its beautiful cherry orchard to go to Paris for five years to forget the tragedy of her seven year old son. On her return she finds that the cherry orchard has been put up for auction to pay back taxes. She is a kind woman and believes that everything will work itself out so she lends what little money she has to the more needy peasants and waits for a miracle to happen.

Miss Kate Reid, brilliant Canadian actress, will tour this season playing Kate in the Taming of the Shrew and Madame Ravenskia in the Cherry Orchard. Miss Reid, a native Canadian, has worked with a number of stock companies in Canada and the Crest Theatre in Toronto. She has starred in two English plays, The Rainmaker and The Stepmother.

Miss Reid has played many leading roles in Canadian television which have brought her notices from all parts of this country.

Max Halpmann, who will play Petruchio in the Taming of the Shrew, was born in Australia and began his career as a song and dance man in that country. He worked in England in repertory companies for three years after 1936.

In 1948 he played with Yul Brynner in "Dark Eyes," then with Sir Laurence Olivier and Vivien Liegh in Anthony and Cleopatra, in further West End productions. He then came to New York to play on Broadway at the Ziegfeld Theatre.

The tour the Canadian Players are making this year is the biggest yet undertaken by the company. Preliminary bookings indicate an audience of well over a quarter of a million, and a trip of some fifty thousand miles.

Freshman To Attend White House Conf.

George Duemeland, Ag. Fr., has been selected as one of the 37 N. D. delegates to the Golden Anniversary White House Conference on Children and Youth. This conference will be held in Washington, March 27-April 2, 1960.

More than 7000 participants from the United States and foreign countries have been invited by President Eisenhower to discuss the problems of children and youth. Theme of the Conference is "to promote opportunities for children and youth to realize their full potential for a creative life in freedom and dignity."

These Conferences have been held about every ten years since 1909 when the first one was called by Theodore Roosevelt.

Selection of North Dakota's delegates was made by a Quota committee of the Governor's Committee on Children and Youth. Many factors were taken in to consideration in the selection of delegates. Primary consideration was given to individuals who displayed interest and initiative in developing and working with programs serving children and youth, including the Governor's Committee on Children and Youth.

George (Skip) is the grandson of George Duemeland who was named to the Hall of Fame.

Off The Editor's Cuff

By Bob Thompson

In regard to last week's editorial, I received five letters to the editor last week. The writers of two of them asked me not to print them and were justified in their request. You may read the other three letters on this page.

For the rest of the quarter The Spectrum would like to initiate a "Letters To The Editor Column." We hope this will be a regular weekly feature, expounding the student's views on interesting controversial topics, not only campus, but also general topics. With Senate elections coming up and the new appointment of the Spectrum editor controversial topics will be brought to light. If you want to speak your piece by expressing an opinion, write it down in 250 words or less, TYPEWRITTEN, and leave it in the Spectrum office no later than Monday noon.

IN ANSWER TO FLOYD ALBERS

No, I did not know that you were sponsored by the Agriculture School, and most of the senators did not know this either. They passed the motion, if my memory serves me right, on the pretense that Saddle and Sirloin could not afford to send you on your trips. Yes, I did quote the figure wrong on the amount of money you are receiving—which was a figure I received through the finance commission. You are receiving $700 instead of the $600 previously mentioned. No wonder you did not mention it in your letter.

You make it sound like I am not in favor of the judging team. I think I made it clear that I was when I said "your value is greater than that of the debate team."

"Do you (I) think the mediocre athletic teams from NDSC represent the college any better?" Yes and no. No they don't on a national basis, but to reverse the sentence a little, yes, more students are represented by our athletic teams. Gordy Lund has a comment on this.

YOU MEAN TO TELL me that because we are changing our name now we shouldn't utilize the freedom of the press and speech to speak up for something we think is wrong?

I did not accuse you of living "high" on the money you receive. That accusation was made towards the debate team and perhaps should not have been printed.

In closing I have just one thing to say. What is wrong with the members of debate and IRC? The Spectrum staff would like to hear your side of the story. We would also like to hear from the students who are not participating in any of the three organizations—the students who are helping to support these teams and organizations.

IN ANSWER TO GORDON LUND

This letter I seriously enjoyed. He admitted that the team isn't sponsored by Saddle and Sirloin but they are financially helped by them.

Since many students do not know just who is financially supporting the judging team, I gave Marion Buchanan, Chief, Division of Animal Husbandry Department, a call. He told me that the agriculture department pays for the transportation, entry fees, and chaperoning expenses. The members of the teams pay for their room and board, and are given money from Senate and Saddle and Sirloin for the expenses they wouldn't have had if they would have been at home.

Letter to the Editor

Saddle And Sirloin Member Comments On Livestock Judging Team Support

I am not contesting your complete column. The support of our college livestock judging teams is the part I want to defend.

First of all, and most important, they are sponsored by the college, not Saddle and Sirloin. They are as much a part of collegiate competition as other teams on this campus. These teams may not get cash support from the student body, but we do pay for it. Next time you write off your cuff I suggest you write a few facts on that cuff to facilitate you in writing a more accurate column.

I am not against the support of sports. I do believe if we can support them we can support these teams also. Why not sponsor the judging teams? They certainly have been doing well enough. They also spend their own money on these trips. Even with the SUPPORT OF THE STUDENT SENATE AND SADDLE & SIRLOIN the members still have to dip into their own pockets for board and room. This is still a good thing as they are getting an education on these trips and the members of these teams feel it well worth while. This does not mean we should discontinue our present support.

About the role of Saddle and Sirloin in the support of our teams. We put on the Little International show each year. This is put on out of our own effort with cooperation from the college faculty. The proceeds from the show are given to the teams.

I would like to invite you to our show and also the banquet and meet our teams, Bob. Even if you didn't enjoy being that close to agriculture I am sure you will enjoy the meal. The menu is swiss steak which is a product of beef.

Yes. This gives a chance to take part in school activities. We have just as much right to represent ourselves in the school affairs as the upperclassmen.

Yes, freshmen are enrolled as well as upperclassmen, and I believe that they should have the right to govern our campus.

I don't think so. I feel that they should be around the campus longer to get a better idea of what goes on around here. For too many, it is the popular thing to do.

No. Because freshmen aren't well enough acquainted with our campus and its functions to really know what the senate is all about.

This work requires a certain amount of maturity and likewise gives maturity to those who hold such positions. It would be better for them to take part in smaller organizations first to qualify themselves for such a position.

Letter to the Editor

Budget Needed By Student Senate

In last week's Spectrum you wrote an editorial on the wastefulness of money given to debate and judging teams. First of all, you had your facts wrong. You did not quote the correct amount that was allotted to the judging teams. Secondly, you stated that the judging teams are sponsored by Saddle and Sirloin and should therefore get their money from this club.

The judging teams are sponsored by the college and are as much a part of the college as is the football team, basketball team, or any other team participating in collegiate contests.

If you think it is wasteful to give judging teams money, what about the money that was thrown away when senate gave each student $1.50 to go to the football game at Augustana. That $1.50 did not mean anything to anyone who went nor did it keep anyone from not going if they had not received it. I realize however that this enabled everyone to buy at least one six-pack of beer more than they might have otherwise, with the students money!

Another point you do not realize or else will not admit is that the judging teams represent our college on a national basis. They compete with schools from every state in the union including the "Big Ten" schools. Where possibly could you get better advertising of a college than by national competition?

The judging teams have placed very well in this competition. Look at the records. I defy any athletic team from here to do half as well and yet we give our full support to them, forcefully if not willingly!

The money given to the judging teams is certainly not spent for high living. On these trips the members work all day judging and then give reasons until about 6:00 a.m. and start working again. Do you call this high living?

At a time when we are campaigning for a name change an editorial such as the one that appeared in last week's Spectrum is very detrimental. The Spectrum gets into the hands of a number of people interested in agriculture, and when someone declares we should not support our judging teams, this puts a bad taste in many a voter's mouth. The NDSC livestock judging teams represents a vital part of North Dakota's agriculture. After reading your editorial I am not thoroughly convinced that I as a voter of North Dakota will vote for the name change. Perhaps in a few years, if we do not get any more support or publicity than we have in the past, the only thing the agriculture students will have left will be the name North Dakota Agricultural College.

I believe it should be the responsibility of the editor of a paper to at least get his facts straight even if he is not capable of recognizing the true value of the things he is campaigning against before beginning to put it in print.

Floyd Albers
A Members of the
Livestock Judging Team

Letter to the Editor

Student Senate has appropriated $700 for the judging team, $600 for the debate team, $250 for IRC, and $1,000 for Sharivar. This represents only a part of the year's expenditures and these figures already EQUAL the amount appropriated to Student Senate for operating expenditures. Evidently more money will have to be spent and that is only half the story.

The 1958-59 Student Senate spent $5,878 over their appropriations. This represents the $1,144 supposedly set aside for tennis courts and $3,378 from the reserve fund. The $3,378 represents more than three years appropriations to the reserve fund.

What does this mean? This means that Student Senate has thrown caution to the winds and has spent $3,709 more than they received (in the same period) for operating expenses, reserve fund, tennis courts, and from miscellaneous sources.

What Senate needs is new blood. There should be more campus groups represented and more capable senators elected. Let the readers forget and make mockery of Senate—you elected these senators.

What can YOU, the students, do? Dorm councils, married students groups, Vets Club, and many other campus groups can sponsor candidates for election and push issues they deem necessary. Students can start pressuring Senate to use their heads. Obviously there seem to be some changes that need to be made. A budget is needed. Senate representation should be altered. A complete reorganization of Student Senate is needed.

Water Main Breaks Rev. Carl Storm Criticizes Censorship Leaving Dinan Girls Of Literature By Postal Department Begging For Water

Did you see any of the Dinan Hall girls begging for a drink of water last weekend?

If you did, here is why. According to Mrs. Florence Piers, head resident at Dinan Hall, the water main leading into the building broke Friday evening about 8:30 p.m. and there wasn't any water in the dorm all weekend.

Starting Friday evening the grounds around Dinan Hall were flooded on the northeast, east, and southeast and a small amount of water leaked into the basement.

Except for a five minute period on Saturday afternoon and on Sunday afternoon, there was absolutely no water in the dorm. The girls used the bathing facilities in Ceres Hall.

For drinking water, the girls turned to several sources; Ceres Hall, Student Union and sorority houses. Sunday it was a common sight to see girls dashing from Ceres Hall to Dinan with their heads wrapped in towels, as many of the girls decided to wash their hair.

When asked how the girls reacted to this ordeal, Mrs. Piers said, "The girls have been good sports about it and have been making the best of the situation although it has been very inconvenient."

Attempts by the postal department and others to censor literature and art were severely criticized Friday evening in a talk in Minard Hall by Rev. Carl A. Storm, minister of the Minneapolis First Unitarian Society.

About 50 persons attended the lecture sponsored by the campus chapter of the American Association of University Professors. Storm first criticized campus (not newspaper) censorship of his discussion topic, "Sex, Censorship and Pornography, which he said was the topic he would discuss, to the title "Freedom of the Press, Public Communications and Censorship" which he said he would not discuss specifically.

Mr. Storm criticized the efforts of Postmaster General Summerfield to ban from the mail copies of D. H. Lawrence's "Lady Chatterly's Lover." He stated, "The only duty of the post office department is to handle the mails."

He pointed out the difficulty anyone would have trying to determine exactly what is literature and art and what is obscenity and smut. He added that there is considerable psychological evidence that obscenity and smut have no particular effects on children in stimulating delinquency or sex deviation.

Another AAUP lecture is scheduled for February.

The thirteenth painting in the Parke-Davis' "History of Pharmacy in Pictures" series was one of the most difficult, according to editor George A. Bender. This painting is among the 40 which are being exhibited at the Student Union until tomorrow. Bender, who conceived the idea of the series for Parke-Davis, and artist Robert Thom worked for months on this painting alone. It shows Avicenna, the 11th century Persian whose pharmaceutical teachings were accepted as authoritative in the West until the 17th century. Bender and Thom visited museums across the nation researching Oriental tapestry and garments so that the painting would be absolutely accurate in every detail. Finally, they recruited an Oriental rug dealer to pose as a model and explain to them how Persian rugs were used nearly 1,000 years ago.

Plant Science Fellowships Awarded

Three additional fellowships in Plant Science have been awarded to NDSC under the National Defense Education Act of 1958, according to Dean Glenn L. Smith of the Graduate School.

These fellowships will each support a graduate student for three years of full-time study toward the Ph.D. degree at NDSC. Ph.D. candidates in plant science at NDSC may major in botany, plant pathology, soils or crops.

The stipend will be awarded $2,000 for the first year, $2,200 the second and $2,400 the third year, plus $400 for each dependent for the academic year.

Preference is given to applicants who plan to teach in a college or university. A new feature of the 1960-61 awards is that one-tenth of the 1,500 fellowships in the nation may go to applicants who have already earned the masters degree.

All applicants must be outstanding students and citizens of the United States. Applications are available from Dr. Smith. Early applications will receive extra attention.

The Fellowships available for the coming three years are an expansion of the previous program at NDSC. In September, 1959, four students received similar fellowships in plant science. They were Ed LeGrand, Mayfield, Oklahoma; Ardell Bjugstad, Lisbon; Robert Johnson, Towner; and John Dosland, Perley, Minnesota.

All applications should be in the hands of the Dean of the Graduate School early in February.

Mr. Spittler, SC night traffic officer, points to some of the damage done by a group of anonymous "benefactors" who mangled and destroyed facilities in the Men's rest room of the NDSC Student Union. The vandals removed a thermostat cover, up-stairs; and broke two mirrors on two towel covers, downstairs. According to Mr. Dale Brostrom, Union director, a record number of pool balls have also been stolen this year.

It's what's up front that counts

Euclid proved that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. And if you'll walk a straight line to the nearest pack of Winstons, you'll find it the shortest distance to a really enjoyable smoke. It's the tobacco up front that makes the difference and that's where Winston packs its own exclusive Filter-Blend—a special selection of light, mild tobacco, specially processed for filter smoking. You'll find Filter-Blend gives Winston a flavor without parallel. In fact, it's axiomatic that...

BISON BITS

By Sports Editor Sherry Bassin

The North Dakota State basketball team found the win column in the North Central Conference for the first time this year by thumping the Morningside Maroon Chiefs 89-65 at the fieldhouse last Saturday.

It wasn't all "cake and roses" for the Bison over the week-end though, as they dropped a 75-70 decision to the SDU Coyotes the night before.

In the SDU game it was a matter of not enough height, too many errors, and not being able to sink their free throws that forced the hometowners to drop the game.

The Bison were trailing by a score of 40-30 at the half, but found the hoop for 40 points, compared to the Coyotes 35 in the final 20 minutes.

Junior guard Marv Bachmeier scored 31 points to lead the individual scorers on both sides.

6-5 center Jim Chamberlin and guard Ken Mizerny came through with 20 and 19 points respectively for the Coyotes.

Forward-guard Angelo Donegan seems to be quite a find for Coach Dwane Clodfelter of SDU. Besides being an excellent ball handler, his general all-around ability adds excitement and interest to the game.

Donegan fouled out in the final half and received a howling ovation from the fans. The ovation was for his caliber of play, the murmur was for his fouling out.

The Bison, winding up on the short end of the score in their first three NCC outings, came out Saturday night and showed that they were not to be outdone. They led the Maroon Chiefs from the opening moments of the game and then never looked back.

It was Marv Bachmeier, again leading the way for both sides in netting 26 points for the winners, followed closely by partner Ken-Lehr with 25 points.

The underclassmen must stand in line for some commendation on their caliber of play last Saturday. They played most of the final 20 minutes, and their play forced one to think that the Bison's future looks quite promising.

With the North Central Conference but three weeks old, one could predict two facts without really going out on a limb. One, that the SDU Jackrabbits will recapture the NCC crown, the other that the Morningside Chiefs are destined for the NCC cellar.

Tonight the Bison invade Cedar Falls to battle the Iowa State Teachers in a game that may eventually decide who will place fourth in the NCC loop.

HERE AND THERE . . . Marv Bachmeier is leading the NCC league with his average of 25.25 points in 4 games. Mizerny who has a 22.6 average in 5 games is following close behind him . . . This same Mizerny leads Bachmeier 113 to 101 in total points . . . Sophomore forward Clyde Payne found the nets last Saturday for his first 10 points in the NCC loop . . . It was rumored that some of the ball players had to pick up some fans and bring them to the ball game last Saturday. This is just another indication of our hometown fans.

I can only say that those that were picked up were quite fortunate because they saw quite an entertaining ball game . . . Roland Smeltzer played some fine ball over the weekend and will likely be called for more play in the future . . . The Baby Bison freshman team gained two victories, in the preliminary games last week by defeating Mayville 79-64 and MSC 66-52 . . . Lloyd Babby, the freshman guard played some good ball in leading his squad to their two victories . . . Minnesota's hockey coach John Mariucci had this to say about NDU's hockey team: "They are as good as anybody in college hockey, and when they get healthy they may be better than anybody" . . . I can only say they must have improved a lot since I saw them before the holidays.

Letter To Sports Editor

Bowling Championships

For nine years our conference has sponsored the Eastern Intercollegiate Individual Match Games Championships. Each year the tournament has grown in both size and popularity among the college students.

Two years ago the scope of the match games was enlarged by inviting students from the entire eastern half of the nation to compete in the event. Last year 300 students from 60 colleges and universities competed in the tournament, which was held in New York City.

Our conference and the Midwest Intercollegiate Bowling Conference both feel that there is a need for such a tournament for all collegiate bowlers throughout the nation. Therefore, our two conferences will jointly sponsor the tournament this year, which will now be known as the National Collegiate Match Games Championship.

There will be an Eastern Regional Tournament held in New York City and a Western Regional Tournament held in Chicago. The winner of each regional title will compete for the title of National Collegiate Match Games Champion.

To become the collegiate match games bowling champion, a student must pass through a qualifying and semi-final round each consisting of eight games. Then he Marv Bachmeier, the Mr. Basketball of North Dakota broke his own scoring record at the fieldhouse last Tuesday, netting 47 points to guide the Bison basketball team past the Concordia Cobbers 81-71.

Bachmeier's scoring spree of 47 points outdid his former 46 point production that he scored in the famous six-overtime game against Iowa State Teachers last year.

The Devils Lake junior scored 37 points in regulation time and then added icing to the cake by "hooping" ten more in the overtime session.

NDSC, who were leading 38-32 at halftime fell behind 66-60 with 4:22 remaining in the game. Then came on with a late surge to tie the game at 68 and force the overtime.

Adair the "hot shot" guard for Concordia garnered himself 20 points for the night before bowling out late in the game.

The Cobbers played almost the entire overtime without the services of guards Adair and Brunsberg.

Les Torgerson, another Cobber dandy, scored a few long range shots to net a total of 19 for the opening.

must bowl a total of sixteen games against the other regional finalists in head-to-head competition. The regional champions then roll off for the national title. Everyone agrees that this is the toughest test of a good collegiate bowler.

Because of the expenses entailed in bringing the regional champions together to compete for the national title it will be necessary to increase the entry fee to seven dollars per student.

We hope that you and your student body are as pleased as we are with this idea of a national collegiate match games. We are sending this letter to give your students time to make the necessary arrangements. We sincerely hope to see your best college bowlers competing in the 1960 National Tournament. You will receive complete details in January.

Bob Ernest,
Eastern Regional Tournament Director

SC Hosts SDS Riflemen

The NDSC Army ROTC Rifle team played host to the University of South Dakota ROTC Rifle team at the fieldhouse last Friday.

The SDU team took the honors with a score of 1380. In second place, the Air Force ROTC had a score of 1341, while the host team placed third with 1264.

High individual scores were made by William Christensen, Beresford, S. D., who fired 282 points for SDU. Larry P. Eastland, Moorhead, Minn., scored 279 points for the Air Force ROTC, and Gordon Franke, Williston, N. D. shot high score for the Army ROTC with a total of 275 points.

Sophomore guard Ken Lehr making two of his 25 points against Morningside in leading his team to a 89-65 victory.

THE SPECTRUM
NORTH DAKOTA STATE COLLEGE
FARGO, NORTH DAKOTA

Attention girls, do you want to help make history on campus? If you do, be on hand Friday, Jan. 22, 9 p.m. for Stockbridge Hall's first annual dorm party.

Dancing in Stockbridge Hall's spacious lounge will be the highlight of the evening with ping pong and card playing for those whose interests may vary, according to Robert Hasse, dorm president.

SC Cadets Orientated At Rapid City

Thirty nine NDSC Air Science cadets flew to Ellsworth Air Force Base at Rapid City, S. D. Jan. 13. The trip was to orientate the cadets with the history, principles and purposes of the Strategic Air Command.

Agricultural Seminar Series Creates Much Interest, Has Large Attendance

Excessive attendance has been the unusual problem facing Mr. Perry Hemphill, director of the current Agricultural Economics seminar series being held at NDSC.

"We have been forced," he said, "to move to a larger classroom to accomodate the interested students and faculty. We hope that increasing interest will force us to move to still larger facilities. There will be no change in the policy of 'everyone welcome'."

The seminars are held in room 308, Morrill Hall each Thursday at 4:00 p.m.

This year's theme, "The Impact of Technology on Marketing — Past, Present, and Future", is one of the reasons for increased interest. Speakers have been selected to represent nearly all steps in the marketing of food and machinery, from manufacture or production right through to distribution and sale. Scheduled speakers and subjects include:

- Jan. 21—Mr. F. T. Briggs of the Massey Ferguson Corp., "Impacts of Technology on the Distribution of Farm Machinery".
- Jan. 28—Mr. Lyle Currie of the Red River Potato Growers Association, "Impacts of Technology on the Marketing of Potatoes".
- Feb. 4—Mr. Charles Ommodt of Cass Clay Creamery, "Impacts of Technology on the Processing of Dairy Products".

- Feb. 18—Mr. Joseph Fleming of Joseph Fleming Inc., "Impacts of Technology on the Role of the Food Broker in the Distribution of Food".
- Feb. 25—Mr. C. A. Freeburg of Fairway Foods, Inc., "Impacts of Technology on the Wholesale Distribution of Food."

To the 38 enrolled students the seminars are known as Ag. Econ. 498, a one credit course offered in the fall and winter quarter. Those enrolled are usually Agriculture students, most of whom are Ag. Econ. majors.

Gamma Delta Plans Ice Skating Party

An ice skating social will be held at Island Park tonight. Anyone wishing to attend is asked to be at Immanuel Lutheran Church at 7:30 for a ride.

The regular supper-meeting of Gamma Delta will be held Sunday, Jan. 24, at 5 p.m. at 1258 Broadway, Fargo. A topic "A Happy Marriage Makes a Happy Home" will be discussed. Everyone is invited to attend.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Mark Dollard (center) discusses an impending customer service problem with two of his supervisors.

There's a message for you in Mark Dollard's progress story

Mark C. Dollard earned his B.A. degree in English from Yale University in June, 1955. He joined the New York Telephone Company the following July 18th. Three and a half years later, he became a District Manager for the company in New York City—with a staff of 87 people reporting to him and responsibility for 49,000 customer accounts.

Mark's choice of a telephone career came after numerous job interviews in a variety of business fields. "What sold me," he says, "was the telephone company's reputation for solid managerial training, stability and growth. And I was impressed by the high caliber of people I met during my visit to the company."

And those are the things to which Mark credits his rapid advancement. His training during his first two years covered a wide range of activities... including the handling of customer contacts in the business office, selling communications services to businessmen and supervising a business office.

"It was the company's vigorous growth that created the opportunity for me to become District Manager in January, 1959," Mark points out.

"What I like most about my present position is the variety of managerial responsibilities I have," he says. "It's interesting, stimulating work. I deal with sales and marketing programs, handle personnel problems and make a lot of public relations contacts."

The message for you? Stability, growth, systematic training and genuine advancement opportunities all add up to rewarding careers with the Bell Telephone Companies. Be sure to look into the opportunities for you. Talk with the Bell interviewer when he visits your campus—and read the Bell Telephone booklet on file in your Placement Office. You'll like what you learn.
