Spectrum Prints Class Schedules
To Give Every Student A Copy

How many times have you wondered "Why aren't there enough class schedules to give one to each student?"

The main reason, of course, has been the time and the money required, printing several thousand copies of the class schedule each quarter.

This spring, however, a class schedule has been printed for every student. The center spread section of this Spectrum is your copy of the spring class schedule. You are advised to save it and use it for both pre-programming and registration. It is your only copy.

Printing of the schedule by the Spectrum is another way your college newspaper seeks to serve you better.

The first printing is an experiment suggested to the Board of Student Publications by Dr. Wayland Gardner, assistant professor of economics.

Working in close cooperation with the office of admissions and records, the Spectrum staff was able to devise a way to print the entire schedule on a four page Spectrum section. This means that the type used in printing the schedule will be smaller than usual, but also that costs are kept down and the convenience of a single sheet "pullout" section is maintained.

Burton Brandrud, director of admissions and records said, "I think the new schedule will be fairly easy to use if students remember to look for their courses alphabetically, first under the class schedules to give one to each student?"

He added that it may be helpful if students underline the courses they wish to register for so they can be easily located again.

If the printing in the Spectrum proves successful, efforts will be made to print all future class schedules this way. So, if you have comments, be sure to let us know.

From My Point of View

The Spectrum Asked:
What did you think of this year's campus election?

by Past Student Body President

We've heard another campaign on campus. Budgetary representation have been the favorite improvement projects for senate. These are secondary.

Student Senate programs should involve student-faculty evaluation of the total educational program. Programs such as this will discover ways in which the educational goals of the college are more effectively reached. This year a long range program of this nature, "The Role of Student Affairs," began this fall. What are we calling phenomenal progress? What corrective measures should we take? Senator should also help in developing student attitude toward learning in general. This work will lead to better understanding of the purposes of college and therefore to a better utilization of the educational program. The observance of Universal Day of Prayer will be held on Wednesday, February 18, from 12:00 to 1:00 p.m. in Carleton Chapel. The day is set aside by the World Student Christian Federation and to be used by the students of all universities over the world to observe the fact that student prayer is just as important group-wise as it is individual.

Intelligent Turmoil and Social Revolution is the World Day of Prayer theme and students are asked to express themselves and give time to the thought of their fellow students on their own campus. morning. This is a change for the better.

Senators Should

To our new Senators:
I've been wondering what is the very basic purpose of a student Senate. It is to become useful administrators of the curriculum. As the result of the failure of the student government to carry on with its usual activities, the student Senate has been and must be taken over by capable students.

What about our Name Change?

To You:
Hello! You aren't the one that was all fired up about the Name Change? What have you done to further the case of the Name Change? Nothing! You have not had the time or the opportunity to do anything, eh? What I've got to do is to change you.

Let's use the two fold plan of action - central voting poll and a take of time if all students participate. By taking a vote of all the students on this issue and having the communications office in Old Main. Starting to see so many people voting just seemed to me that not enough people were interested enough to run for office or concerned enough to hear the campaigning.

What is the purpose of the Student Government?

The purpose of the Student Government is to be a means of communication between the faculty and the students of the university. It must also be a means of communication between the students and the administration.

THREE WHO PASSED IN THE NIGHT

Last year, as everyone knows, 1,210,614 undergraduates dropped out of college. 256,080 funked; 309,656 got married; 375,621 ran out of money; and 309,254 found jobs. As you have, of course, observed, this accounts for only 1,210,611 of 1,210,614. What happened to the other three?

Well sir, to find the answer, I recently completed a tour of American campuses where I interviewed 40 million students and sold several subscriptions to The Open Road for Boys, and it pleases me to report that I can now account for those three elusive undergraduates.

The first was an LSU junior named Fred Googin. He was extremely popular, always ready with a smile, fond of folk dancing and pralines, and last semester his Chi Psi brothers unanimously elected him treasurer of the fraternity. This proved an error. Googin, alas, promptly absconded with the money and went to Tahiti to paint. The fraternity is baying every effort to extradite Googin, but Tahiti, alas, is currently observing the feast of Eliphthung, the Sun-God, a five-year ceremony during which all the islanders wear masks, so nobody, also, can say for certain which one is Googin.

Nobody can say for certain which one is Gaugin.

The second missing undergraduate is William Cullen Sigafous, Oregon State freshman, who went one day last fall to a disreputable vendor named A.M. Sashweight to buy a pack of Marlboros. Mr. Sashweight did not have any Marlboros because Marlboros are only sold by reputable vendors. However, he told Sigafous that he had another brand which was just as good, and Sigafous, being but an innocent freshman, believed him.

Well sir, you and I know there is no other brand as good as Marlboros. This filter, that flavorful flavor, that pleasure, that joy, that fulfillment—are Marlboros and Marlboros alone. All of this was quickly apparent to young Sigafous and he flew into a terrible rage. "As good as Marlboros indeed!" he shrieked, kicking his roommate furiously. "I am going right back to that mendacious Mr. Sashweight and give him a thrashing he won't soon forget!" With that he seized his lacrosse bat and rushed out.

Mr. Sashweight heard him coming and starting running. Now Mr. Sashweight, before he became a disreputable vendor, had taken numerous prizes as a cross-country runner, and he thought he would soon outdistance young Sigafous. But he reckoned without Sigafous's stick-toitiveness. At last report the two of them had passed Cleveland. When they reach the Atlantic Seaboard, had Mr. Sashweight get his lungs from Sigafous, you may be sure, and I, for one, am glad.

The third missing undergraduate, also named Sigafous, is a Bennington sophomore named Celeste Sigafous and, ironically, she never intended to leave college at all. She was merely going home for Christmas on the Natchez, Mobile, and Boise Railroad, and during the night, alas, her upper berth slammed shut on her. Being a Bennington girl, she naturally did not wish to make an unpleasant outcry, so she just kept silent. The next morning, alas, the railroad went bankrupt, and Miss Sigafous today is lying forgotten on a siding near Valparaiso, Indiana. Fortunately she has plenty of Marlboros with her.

And how about the rest of you? Do you have plenty of Marlboros sir? Or if you like cigarettes but you don't like filters, plenty of Philip Morrises? Hmm? Do you?
Jan Dunbar Is NDSC Best Dressed Girl For Glamour

"I'm very thrilled and excited and I want to thank those who chose me," said Jan Dunbar, sophomore, after the announcement that she had been chosen the best dressed girl on NDSC campus.

The judges, who were four students and one faculty member, chose Jan on her beauty, personality, campus participation and wardrobe. The selection of Jan is a result of a contest sponsored by the Association of United States Army on campus for the 1960-61 year.

Jan is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, Guidon, Try- eta, Choir, and was this year's Military Ball queen. Each campus will send pictures of their winter modeling a formal, a campus outfit and an off campus daytime outfit. From these pictures Glamour will choose the ten best.

The winning ten will be sent on a two week all-expense paid trip to New York City. They will be flown to New York May 30 and will stay at the Biltmore Hotel until June 10 as guests of Glamour.

Modeling for fashion shows, giving interviews to magazines and newspapers, attending dinners and going to the theater will be on the agenda for the ten girls.

'Y' Shows French Movies Fri. and Sun.

This week's Y films will be shows tonight at 8 p.m. and on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in Minard Hall 319. The movies, both which will be shown each day are "Beauty and the Devil" and "Martin and Gaston."

"We are running the films on Friday night also so more students will have an opportunity to see these outstanding foreign and entertaining films," said Leo Johnson, director of the campus.

The feature, "Beauty and the Devil" is the old story of Pythius and Mephistopheles but handled with a new treatment of fun and satire.

"Martin and Gaston" is a spontaneous and whimsical film which makes imaginative use of animation of cut-outs of drawings by French school children.

Both films are French movies.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Dick Petzold discusses time charges for a customer's telephone installation with an administrative assistant.

How to avoid a "dead end" career: read Dick Petzold's story

While a senior at the University of Maryland, accounting major Richard G. Petzold, made some definite decisions about his future. "I wanted to work for an established company," he says, "but I didn't want to get lost in a 'dead end' job."

Dick joined the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in Washington, D.C., right after graduating in June, 1956. Following three months of orientation, he became a supervisor in Revenue Accounting, where he continued building a productive capacity, with 15 people reporting to him. Here, he suggested a number of methods improvements which were adopted.

Far from a "dead end" career, Dick's took him into many operating areas:

- to General Accounting, where he handled market research projects, including a Customer Opinion Survey for four Bell System companies...
- to Disbursements Accounting, for IBM-equipment training and, later on, the supervision of Payroll Deduction procedures...
- to Personnel Relations, where he coordinated a special, four-company "absentee" study and presented findings to an important, top-level conference...
- to Disbursements Accounting again, where he is now Supervisor, Labor and Material, with an administrative assistant and 10 clerks under his guidance.

"The telephone company brings out the best in you," says Dick. "I've developed new skills, acquired self-reliance, and learned how to supervise and work with people. What's the core divisions of a 'dead end' career? Well, I've got it!"

Dick Petzold earned a B.S. degree in Accounting while in college. He's one of many students who varied college backgrounds who are finding rewarding careers with the Bell Telephone Companies. Eisenhower Invites Dean Frank Mirgain To Attend President's Conference

President Eisenhower has invited Dean Frank Mirgain, of the School of Engineering, to attend the President's Conference on Occupational Safety, to be held in Washington, D.C., March 13, 1960.

The conference will bring together in the nation's capital more than 3,000 leaders from American industry, labor, agriculture, federal, state and local governments, insurance, education, health, and private safety organizations from all parts of the country.

Under the general chairmanship of Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, the Washington meeting will come to grips with the knotty problem of how to minimize the country's losses in manpower, in technical skill, human suffering, and financial waste that job accidents are causing.

Their purpose is to devise and then apply voluntary, cooperative means for reducing the 13,300 deaths and nearly 2 million disabling injuries occurring annually because of on-the-job accidents.

Geared to the period of rapid technological and social change upon which experts agree the country is launched, delegates to the conference will examine problems arising out of new and intensified safety and health hazards throughout the U.S. economy. This effort is summarized in the conference theme: "The Challenge of Safety in a Changing World."

Program emphasis is upon broad functional topics pointed toward new hazards during the decade of the 1960's, rather than the industry-by-industry approach used in many safety conferences.
