More than 475 high school students are attending the 15th annual convention of the Future Homemakers of America organization today and tomorrow at NDSC, according to Miss Majore Lovering, State FHA advisor.

FHA members from throughout the state are taking part in a two-day program. State officers, State officers-elect, and district presidents arrived Wednesday for a pre-convention meeting.

Theme for the two-day session is "Today's Teens Prepare for Tomorrow." Presiding is Joan Chaput, state president.

Registration was held this morning prior to the opening session at 9 a.m. in Festival Hall. Dr. Fred S. Hultz, president of NDSC, addressed the group. A business session followed.

Participating were Mrs. Joan Tryhus, homemaker from Fargo; Marjorie Odegard, student at NDSC; Lynda Larsen, president of FHA at Casselton; and Bruce Anderson, junior at NDSC.

Group singing led by Mary Jordan, Lidgerwood, followed a talk entitled "The Role of Youth in My Country—Finland" by Rita Holme, American Field Service Exchange Student, Rugby High School.

The afternoon session with Connie Moen presiding will be taken up with tours. According to Miss Lovering: "There will be tours of two types, twelve in a group with three different shifts. These tours will include visits to: sorority houses, textiles lab, meal planning lab and the nursery school."

Announcements of awards will be featured at the evening banquet in the Civic Memorial Auditorium at 6:30 p.m. Janet mistress of ceremonies.

Susan Countryman, National FHA Vice-President, will talk on "Family Unity Across North Dakota."

SHARIVAR

Students are already rehearsing for Bison Brevities, the variety show, and "Othello" the Little Country Theater play. Displays are being set up and a dance is being planned. Reservations from schools all over the state are coming in—so be sure you don't miss it!

WATER, MUD AND SPRING

Could you campus drivers perhaps drive just a bit slower so you don't splash mud and water all over us pedestrians? It's bad enough we get our shoes completely covered with mud trying to walk to class but we also have to get yards out of the way when we see a car coming—otherwise splash-splash—and spots from head to toe all over our clothes. I hope this doesn't go on all spring.

SCUMMING

From all the remarks I've heard I thought many of you were against my stand on scumming, but evidently you weren't—or didn't want to say so openly. To Bruce Ness I say this:

● You asked me if I speak with any degree of authority. How about yourself? You're a TKE and you know what's going on at your house, but do you know what's going on at other houses. From what TKE's and other fraternity fellows have told me your scum week is one of the leaders in making changes for the better.

● Would you like a few more incidental cases, Mr. Ness? The police could tell you about one and the Health Center could report a few others.

● Your first four points apply to your fraternity, not all eight of them. You say "most scum weeks." I don't believe it's most. It's more like half of them that are being improved to varying degrees. This I believe is good—this Help Week, if this is what it is. Sounds like a good idea.

● Your fifth point I enjoyed. On one side of the TKE house there's a vacant lot and on the other side are students—did you say Fargo people?

● Bruce, I realize I'm JUST a girl, but don't you really feel that many changes in scumming should be made? As you said, some are being made, but there is room for much more improvement on this campus. Let's live for tomorrow, Mr. Ness, not yesterday.

In Quest Of Petition Signatures Alums And Students To Canvas Fargo

By Charlie Bateman

Spring?? . . . is upon us and with it comes the big onslaught of spring fever, drop tests, and picnics. It is of the latter with which I would like to deal as I open this dissertation today. A word of caution for all of the frat men on NDSC campus. It has been said by a very reliable source that coeds are like flowers, they grow wild in the woods. Lindenwood Park qualifies as a wooded area, so beware!!

As spring rushes on, so does the deadline for turning in NAME CHANGE PETITIONS. Because of a joint effort on the part of NDSC alums and organizations on campus, to canvas Fargo house by house this coming weekend, the deadline date for petitions has been moved up to April 7. At the present time the petition trophy contest is a rather close affair. The TKE's refuse to tell how many petitions they have, which would probably make them the leading contender. However, they are followed closely by the SAE's, Theta Chi's and AGR's. No reports on the rest of the organizations are available at this time.

It seems to me that one of the questions that has been asked quite frequently is, "Just what is a university?" No one definition can be given that would suit all universities in our land, but one that is commonly accepted is the definition from the American College Dictionary which states: "an institution of learning of the highest grade, having a college of liberal arts and a program of graduate studies, together with several professional schools and faculties, and authorized to confer degrees." NDSC has all of these qualifications. Let's examine them:

1. "Highest grade"—NDSC is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the accrediting agency which also credits the U of Minnesota, Purdue University and Oklahoma State University of Agriculture and Applied Science.

2. "Professional schools"—NDSC has six schools on campus accredited by North Central and the various professional agencies.

3. Pharmacy School is one of the largest in the five states of Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota.

4. Agriculture School is the third in the nation in the percentage of students enrolled. Because SC is proud of her agricultural achievements she believes agriculture is worthy to be called a university.

5. Home Economics School is the only accredited one in North Dakota and one of the five oldest in the nation.

6. Chemical Technology graduates more chemists with BS degrees than Michigan State, Yale, Notre Dame or the U. of Chicago.

7. Greater prestige for ag. students as they will no longer be mistaken for "trade school" students.

8. Recognize the importance of the study of agriculture in N. D.

9. Greater attraction for the best faculty and researchers who work for universities at present and are not desirous of going to a college.

10. Increase out-of-state funds and grants from foundations for agricultural research and facilities of a University of Agriculture.

11. Give equal status with sister land-grant institutions in the nation who have already been recognized as universities.

12. Increase status of state's number 1 industry.

So it would seem increasingly apparent that a change in name would benefit the institution, the student body, and the education system of the state of North Dakota, and increase the status of North Dakota education.

Yes, I think it's a problem but I don't have any solutions.

Somewhat, however, it is less prevalent in my agriculture courses than in others.

Yes, this may be due to too much emphasis being put on grades and grade point averages.

Well . . . ah . . . are you going to do about it?

Yes. The bigger the class, the more cheating you are going to have.

Letter To The Editor . . .

Are you speaking with any degree of authority when you write about fraternity "Scum Week?" I personally feel that you speak with very little, if any. You've picked up several incidental cases and then enlarged them to a tabloid scandal story. Is this overlooking a journalist's duty to report all the facts and to write honest news?

Here is our side which you failed to mention.

1. At least five fraternities on our campus have outlawed the paddle and this was done, in most cases, many years ago. The national governing bodies of the fraternities do not turn their backs on these issues or avoid them.

2. Most "Scum Weeks" today consist almost entirely of constructive work for improvement of the house and grounds and have been renamed "Help Week". I imagine you forgot to mention that.

3. One good reason for fun week is to make active fraternity membership something special that has to be worked for. We don't believe in giving it away.

4. Scum Week, you seem to think, is just for fun and good times and I imagine that's all that happens. Of course, you failed to mention that most fraternities give study time during the week. In our house, I know, if a fellow being initiated has a test coming up, he is given time to study. Also, one of our rules is "NO CLASS CUTTING." There is a trend now to keep as much of "Fun Week" out of the school week when possible.

5. I imagine that Fargo people are bothered often by fun week since most fraternities try to keep their initiation strictly in the house. In our case, our next door neighbor has mentioned that he seldom notices when we are having initiation. If he doesn't notice, who does?

You feel that fun weeks should be abolished. I'm glad that your opinion carries little weight.

The next few quotes are from our new actives, who just completed initiation. "I enjoyed it." "I got tired, sure, but it's worthwhile and something to look back on." "By going through "Scum Week" you appreciate the active membership more."

I'm not saying that our "Fun Weeks" are perfect, but surely, as an observer, I know they're not like you seem to believe.

You say you don't think you could make it through fraternity fun week. I agree, you're a girl!

Following a precedent set by students at Cornell University in Ithaca, N. Y., a petition is being circulated on campus. The importance of this petition is its significance to the general crisis presently facing the South.

As you know, the 31-year old ordained Methodist minister, James Lawson, was expelled from the Vanderbilt Divinity School three months before his scheduled graduation, because of his participation in the "sit-ins" by Negroes in downtown Nashville restaurants. The University did not maintain that Lawson initiated a race riot but that he actively supported and advised the Negro students in their non-violent resistance.

"Lawson had been requested by Vanderbilt Divinity School Dean Robert Nelson to sign a statement asserting that in the future he would not violate the following section of the undergraduate handbook:

"It shall be the duty of every student to discourage disorderly assemblage in large groups on or off campus . . . Students found at the scene of a riot or in an unruly mob shall be subject to immediate expulsion from the University whether or not they are active participants."

The executive committee of the Board of Trust through Dean Nelson gave him the option of withdrawing or being expelled from Vanderbilt." (CONCERN, Mar. 18)

What Lawson did was to comply with a request made by Negro students that he teach them methods of non-violent resistance.

"The role of Lawson in the "sit-ins" cannot be dissociated from his duty as a Methodist minister to seek social justice for the people and to do so, at whatever peril to himself, in the spirit of nonviolent love. In his reply to the ultimatum put to him, James Lawson said:

"I have consciously sought to do this in such a fashion as would keep me only a pastor—preaching, counseling, and teaching—and not deeming to become a leader of any endeavor."

The white people of Nashville and of the whole South have not in the main understood that the "sit-ins" are part of a genuine Christian movement." (THE CHRISTIAN CENTURY, Mar. 23)

The Nashville Tennessean quotes Lawson: ". . . the issue completely overlooked is that throughout the demonstrations . . . the students remained wholly loving and non-violent even though the violence directed against them was beyond anyone's imagination."

NDSC students who attended the quadrennial conference of the National Student Christian Federation during the holidays were introduced to Mr. Lawson through his participation in the programs of the conference. The NSCF has assured us that one of the most constructive things that we can do is to flood the office of the Chancellor of Vanderbilt University with petitions protesting their action.

If enough colleges respond to this challenge, some concrete action may result. Petitions will be found in all schools on campus, and in the Union and Ceres dining rooms. We hope that all STUDENTS AND FACULTY, will take it upon themselves to make their voice heard in this matter, through these petitions.

The more sensitive student may consider this issue from a more basic position. What precisely is the role of the university in our culture? And more specifically what is academic freedom?

". . . this is a fitting time to ask whether a university is the handmaid of the culture in which it finds itself or the champion of an ethos in which men may seek and find and live by the truth."

Heard someone call a friend a "snake-in-the-grass" the other day—must have been a water moccasin to live around here. I wish the maintenance could have dug up a few more feet of that modern sidewalk they had in front of Dinan. Then we could have gone somewhere besides east.

The KAT's had their annual awards banquet last Saturday. Janet Long was chosen their outstanding senior, Kathy Kippels got the award for the junior with the highest scholarship, and Betty Dahm, the pledge with the highest scholarship. Congrats, girls.

Big I.S.A. stereo dance at the Union ballroom tonight—9 p.m.—three big albums for doorprizes—everyone on campus invited.

Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, celebrated its 25th anniversary on campus last Saturday. At their banquet they awarded Dean Sevrinson for outstanding service to the fraternity.

Heard about the big war on campus? Gamma Tau of Sigma Chi has officially declared war on Gamma Tau of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Understand it's clean fighting—only soap and water guns allowed. Seems like quite a few of the girls are getting dishpan hands though. Cruel men!!

Many new actives again this week. From the Kappa Delta House: Evonne Currie, Judy Willert, Cynthia Sether, Sylvia Snustad, Gayle French, Pat Slocum, Lorna Gunderson, June Heuther, Jeanette Rietmeyer, Barbara Limke, and Jean Nelson.

The Farmhouse reports five: Charles Weiser, Dave Carlson, Ervin Siminon, Loren Bell and Gordon Morse.

And from the KAT house: Pat Baker, Betty Dahm, Nancy Freed, Mary Kasson, Gay Krogstad, Carol Jean Leetun, Carole Metzrothe, Sonja Nelson, and Jean Sevrerson.

Girls! An answer to your agonies!! A doctor in New York said the other day that garters and girdles are dangerous—so shed 'em. You'll be ugly and lonesome, but what's that next to health??

Also holding their scholarship banquet last Saturday, the Kappa's chose Karen Salaba as their outstanding senior, Cheryl Larson, most representative junior, and Nancy Flatt as pledge of the year.

More actives!! The Sig Chi's reporting!! Lynn Crooks, Don Fleming, Paul Grothe, Dick Hawkness, Ross Johnson, Dick Simson, Bob Swason, and Bob Veen.

The cigars really went around at the Farmhouse Monday night. Passing them were Dalmon Larson on his pinning to Jacquee Danielson; Rollin Wolter, pinned to Charlotte Conklin, and Norman Bakkegard on his engagement to Sharon Ulmer. Hope you boys like cigars.

Also engaged are Kappa Psi Bob Doheny and Sharon Stevenson, KKG alum.

"AN EMBARRASSMENT OF RICHES"

Twinkly, lovable old Dr. Wagstaff Sigafoos, head of chemistry at the Upper Rhode Island College of Science and Palmistry, cares naught for glory and wealth. All he cares about is to work in his laboratory, to play Mozart quartets with a few cronies, to smoke a good Marlboro, and to throw sticks for his faithful dog Trey to fetch.

So when, after years of patient research, Dr. Sigafoos discovered Reverso, a shaving cream which causes whiskers to grow inward instead of outward, thus enabling a man to bite off his beard instead of shaving it, it never even crossed his mind that he had come upon a key to fame and riches; he simply assigned all his royalties from Reverso to the college and went on with his quiet life of working in the laboratory, playing Mozart quartets, smoking good Marlboros and throwing sticks for his faithful dog Trey. (Trey, incidentally, had died some years earlier but habit is a strong thing and Dr. Sigafoos to this day continues to throw sticks.)

As everyone knows, Reverso turned out to be a madly successful shaving cream. Royalties in the first month amounted to $290,000, which came in mighty handy, believe you me, because the college had long been postponing some urgently needed repairs—a lightning rod for the men's dormitory, new hoops for the basketball court, leather patches for the chess team's elbows and a penwiper for the Director of Admissions.

In the second month royalties amounted to an even million dollars and the college bought Marlboro cigarettes for all students and faculty members. It is interesting that the college chose Marlboro cigarettes though they could well have afforded more expensive brands. The reason is simply this: you can pay more for a cigarette but you can't get a better flavor, a better smoke. If you think flavor went out when filters came in, try a Marlboro. The filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste. You, too, can smoke like a millionaire at a cost which does no violence to the slimmest of budgets. Marlboros come in soft pack or flip-top box and can be found at any tobacco counter. Millionaires can be found on yachts.

But I digress. We were speaking of the royalties from Reverso which continue to accrue at an astonishing rate—now in excess of one million dollars per week. The college is doing all it can to spend the money; the student-faculty ratio which used to be thirty students to one teacher is now thirty teachers to one student; the Gulf Stream has been purchased for the Department of Marine Biology; the Dean of Women has been gold-plated.

But money does not buy happiness, especially in the college world. Poverty and ivy—that is the academic life—not power and pelf. The Upper Rhode Island College of Science and Palmistry is frankly embarrassed by all this wealth, but I am pleased to report that the trustees are not taking their calamity lying down. Last week they earmarked all royalties for a crash research program headed by Dr. Wagstaff Sigafoos to develop a whisker which is resistant to Reverso. Let us all join in wishing the old gentleman success.

The sponsors of this column can't offer you money but they can offer you fine smoking flavor—with or without filter. If you favor filters try a Marlboro. If non-filters are your pleasure pick a Philip Morris.

Mrs. Van Eaton, who has been chapter housemother for 20 years was presented with a trophy commemorating her years of service, the official pin of the chapter and a necklace engraved with the Kappa Psi crest. A portrait of her, inscribed with the words "Twenty Years", was hung in her honor.

"It was a very delightful party and very well executed—a wonderful tribute to a wonderful woman," said Dean of Students Charles Sevrinson.

Other guest speakers included: Dr. Fred S. Hultz, NDSC president; Dr. Clifton E. Miller, dean of the school of pharmacy, and Ansul Suckerman, charter member of the local chapter.

Chapter alumni took the occasion to present the active chapter with a donation of $230 towards the proposed new Kappa Psi house.

Publications Added 92 Enrolled in Telecourse

The Library has added a new feature for foreign language students, according to Librarian H. Dean Stallings. Since the first of the year subscriptions have been placed for four foreign publications, including three magazines and a newspaper.

The newspaper is Sonntagsblatt Staats, a German language weekly originating in New York. The magazines are Der Spiegel, a German language equivalent of Time Magazine; Mundo Hispanico, a Spanish weekly; and Marie-Claire, a French version of Life.

These periodicals are available to all students in the Library.

Ninety-two students are enrolled in the second NDSC Telecourse which began March 14.

The course, "Individual Appraisal", Education 423, is offered for three hours of undergraduate or graduate credit. Fifty of the 92 students are enrolled for graduate credit.

There are 73 teachers enrolled and eight school administrators. Other enrollees are housewives, nurses, business men, a farmer, librarian, school counselor and a full time college student.

The students view thirty television lectures on Individual Appraisal, which includes a study of techniques for evaluating educational, social, and physical growth and development.

The lectures are presented from 7 to 7:30 a.m. CST, Monday thru Friday on the North Dakota Broadcasting Company Stations in Valley City, Minot and Bismarck. They are then required to take a 2-hour final test on April 30 under authorized supervision.

Seventy-four of the Telecourse students are from North Dakota while 17 are from Minnesota and one is from South Dakota.

Press Attend Luncheon

Twenty-five local press people will attend the second annual Press Club luncheon today in the Student Union Banquet Room at NDSC.

Arville Bakken, EE soph., will be master of ceremonies. Representatives from the six schools on campus will give reports about what their school is planning for Sharivar.

Four outstanding high school seniors have been invited to attend the luncheon and to preview Sharivar as our weekend guests.

Band Members Get Well Acquainted On Eleven Day Tour

By Phyllis Christmann

Sixty-five unacquainted band members left on an eleven day band tour, to return a closely knit family, who had represented their college by creating music.

You may be saying to yourself, "Eleven days—funny they weren't sick of each other." Anything but sick of one another. It seemed that they'd hardly got to know one another and the trip was over.

Playing cards of all sorts, checkers, chess, singing and just generally "goofing off" seemed to get everyone feeling that they were part of the lively group.

Every evening except two were spent in private homes. This proved to be rather interesting! Phyllis Christmann and Carole Schultz were rejected from three homes one night because the people were expecting boys. Disgusted and discouraged, they were almost ready to find the nearest park bench, when as a last resort the man in charge of housing stopped at this lonely house and the people were gracious enough to take them, even though they too had been expecting boys.

Bruce Brokke and Laverne Swedlund entered one home to find a three year old child armed with a butcher's knife coming for them.

Little things like these made the trip enjoyable.

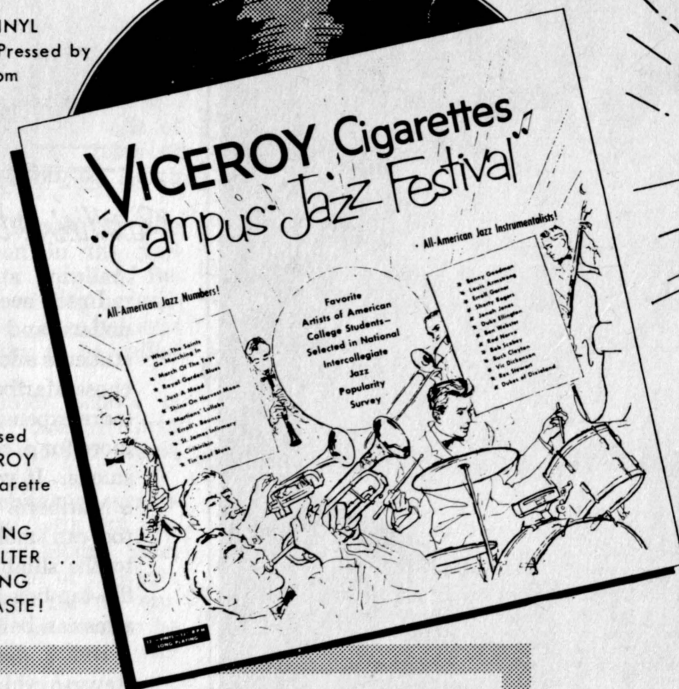

The four big questions that were asked at every home were: Where have you been? Where are you going? Isn't it going to be hard to make up your school work? What are your majors and then: "My, isn't that nice." They began to feel like recordings that could be plugged in and out at will.

Yet through all the jam sessions, coffee parties, and after concert dances the real purpose of the trip was not lost.

The band, which traveled to Canada and through the state, represented our school just as our sports teams and judging teams, and they did the best job they could for their Alma Mater.

What Is Your Part In The 1960 Sharivar?

By Darlene Gordon

What's your part in Sharivar? There are only three weeks left until Sharivar and this year it promises to be bigger and better than ever.

Arlene Christianson, central committee co-chairman, says, "Sharivar is unique in that it secures the cooperation and participation of almost every student on campus in at least one aspect of the activity. It is student-initiated and student-organized."

Sharivar is our annual all-college festival—an attempt to show the people of our state what goes on at a college. It is aimed particularly toward the high school student in trying to define college life a little better for him.

Invitations were also sent out to such notable people as Governor and Mrs. Davis and President Eisenhower. A letter was received from the President's secretary, Thomas E. Stephens, which said in part, "While it is not possible to send an acceptance, you may be sure your thoughtfulness in writing is sincerely appreciated."

Examples of new and interesting exhibits this year are: typing of blood, $22,000 display of orchids, theatre set-ups, chamber of horrors in textiles, various breeds of livestock in the arena, idiot pool table, and many commercial displays.

SAE's And Pharmics Fight For 1st Place In The Intramurals

Sigma Alpha Epsilon's one and three teams came out on top of the intramural and inter-city basketball tournaments by placing first and second in the intramural finals and taking first in the inter-city tournament. SAE's third team took first in both tournaments.

The season was split into two halves with five brackets in each half. In the second half of the season the winners of each bracket in the first half were placed in a bracket by themselves making it possible for more teams to get into the finals. In order to qualify for the final playoffs a team had to take first place in one of the brackets of either half.

The SAE's also took first place in ping pong by beating the Kappa Psi's who took second. The final roll-offs for intramural bowling started Tuesday night. Results for bowling will follow next week.

Intramural standings on points toward traveling trophy on March 29th:

SAE	120
Theta Chi	107½
ATO	79
Co-op	70½

SC Phy Ed Staff Will Host Conclave

NDSC Physical Education staff members will join with high school and college personnel of the F-M area in hosting the annual convention of the Central District Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, April 6-9.

About 700 delegates are expected at the convention, to be held in Fargo's new Civic Memorial Auditorium.

The delegates and participants will come mainly from the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Nebraska and Wyoming.

Hazel Dettman, Fargo Public Schools physical education consultant, is manager of the convention.

General sessions of the convention will feature outstanding educators from the Midwest as speakers. Dr. Robert Myers, Kansas City, Mo., will address the Wednesday evening general session and Dr. Harold Deutsch of the University of Minnesota will speak to the group on Friday evening.

Special sessions, demonstrations and discussions during the three-day meeting will treat the various aspects of coaching, athletics, health, physical education and recreation.

A program has also been arranged for students majoring in physical education. Kathleen Shephard, AAS junior, is one of the student chairmen representing the three F-M colleges.

BISON BITS

neapolis, the official NCC All Star basketball team will soon be known.

This fact in mind all college prognosticators from here to Edgerton are gazing into their crystal ball to try and second guess the official word.

Naturally, this corner must not be any exception and will therefore jump on the bandwagon with the rest of the pack.

If we are right, we will have the right to pride ourselves in telling you we told you so. If we are wrong, well, we are bound to find some excuse or else leave for Edgerton.

This is who we feel should place on the NCC All Star squad. The committee usually picks ten players so we will oblige in doing the same.

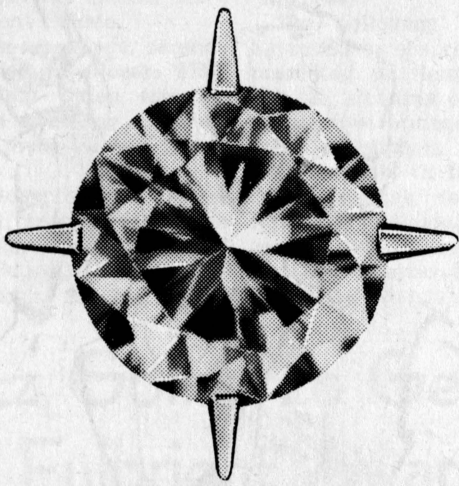

As a unit the Spectrum squad includes: Marv Bachmeier, NDSC; Larry Exel, NDU; Don Jacobson, SDSC; Wayne Gaughran, SDSC; Jim Jackson, ISTC; Bob Iwanhorst, Augustana; Jim Chamberlin, SDU; and Angelo Donegan, SDU. Honorable mention goes to Denny Schwartz, Morningside and Ken Lehr, NDSC.

We might mention that Ken Lehr of NDSC could almost make the squad but may be "beaten out" of a position by experience.

See you in Edgerton.

Coach Bob Danielson has called an official football practice to begin next Mon. at 4 p.m. It's wide open—everyone and anyone is invited to come out. All interested players can check out their uniforms at any time.

The most beautiful new look in diamonds

Evening Star ENGAGEMENT RINGS

You have to see it to believe it! Looks like a diamond star floating on her finger. And it makes any diamond look bigger, brighter, more beautiful. Don't even think of any other engagement ring until you see the dazzling "Evening Star" collection at your Artcarved jeweler's.

And, for real proof of value, ask your jeweler about Artcarved's famous nationwide Permanent Value Plan. It gives you the right to apply your ring's full current retail price, should you ever desire to, toward a larger Artcarved diamond—any time—at any of the thousands of Artcarved jewelers throughout the country.

IMPORTANT. Every genuine "Evening Star" diamond is guaranteed in writing, for color... clarity... and carat weight and only Artcarved stamps the exact diamond weight in the ring. It's a genuine "Evening Star" only when the name is stamped in the ring.

Phi U. Members Plan Talks

Sharon Alberts, president of Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics fraternity, announced that the group is planning a series of talks to be given to FHA and 4-H clubs in the Fargo area this spring.

"The girls will emphasize the wide scope of home economics, answer questions on college life in general, and encourage the girls to participate in the coming Sharivar activities," said Sharon.

This is a part of the Phi U professional project for this year. During quarter break, each member spoke to her home town high school home economics classes, giving them "first hand information" on home economics and college life. According to Sharon, the girls were well received and found the high school groups eager to know more about both careers in home economics and college life.

These speeches are the first step in an overall plan to let the public know what home economics is, its full scope, and the prospects for the future in the home economics field.

In connection with Sharivar, Phi U is sponsoring a tea and style show for high school girls on Friday, April 23. They are giving a scholarship to a girl entering NDSC, and enrolling in home economics for the 1960-1961 school year.
