475 High School Students Attend Future Homemakers Convention

More than 475 high school students are attending the 15th annual convention of the Future Homemakers of America organization today and tomorrow at NDSC, according to Miss Majore Lovering, State FHA advisor.

FHA members from throughout the state are taking part in a two-day program. State officers, State officers-elect, and district presidents attended Wednesday for a pre-convention meeting.

Theme for the two-day session is "Today's Teens Prepare for Tomorrow." President is Joan Chupat, state president.

Registration was held this morning prior to the opening session at 9 a.m. in Festival Hall. Dr. Fred S. Hultz, president of NDSC, addressed the group. A business session followed.

Highlight of the morning session was the Symposium: "What Kind of Education Do High School Girls Need Today?" Moderator was Dr. Hove, Ch. of English Department at NDSC. Participating were: Dr. John White, homemaker from Fargo; Marjorie Odegard, student at NDSC; Lynda Larson, president of FHA at Caselton; and Bruce Anderson, Junior at NDSC. Group singing led by Mary Jor dan, Ladgewood, followed a talk entitled "The Role of Youth in My Community." Guest speaker was Wilma Holme, American Field Service Exchange Student, Rugby High School.

The afternoon session with Con- nie Moon presiding will be taken up with tours. According to Miss Lovering, there will be tours of two types, twelve in a group with three different shifts. These tours will include visits to sorority houses, textiles lab, meal planning lab, and the nursery school.

Announcements of awards will be featured at the evening banquet in the Civic Memorial Auditorium at 6:30 p.m. Janet mistress of ceremonies.

Susan Currantyman, National FHA Vice-President, will talk on "Family Unity Across North Dakota.

Cheryl Clark, Northwood, is in charge of the Saturday morning session. The program will include: "Teenagers in Germany" by Gerhard Berner, American Field Service Student, Fargo High School; "Our Most Important Job — Our Family" by Dr. Glenn Hawkes, Professor of Child Development, Iowa State University; Youth questioning panel consisting of: Curtis Holman, NDSC; Donavon Eck, NDSC; Kathy Kunkel, Bottineau; Sandra Anderson, Lakota; Gaye Tivon, Bowman.

The convention will conclude with the installation of the 1960-61 officers with Kathy Kunkel leading the FHA closing ritual.

Alums And Students To Canvas Fargo

By Charlie Bateman

Spring? ... is upon us and with it comes the big onslaught of spring fever, drop tests, and possibly the biggest of all—alums. It was the latter with which I would like to deal as I opened this dissertation today. A word of advice to you, the first men on NDSC campus. It has been brought to my attention that some sources that creeks are like flowers, they grow wild in the woods. Lindenaqua, that, and the fact that you are in a woody area, so beware!

As does spring rush on, so does the deadline for turning in NAME CHANGE PETITIONS. Because of a joint effort on the part of NDSC alumni and organizations on campus, the Fargo house by house this coming summer, Our House. For petitions have been put up to April 7. At the present time the number of requests is a rather close affair. The TKE's refuse to tell how many petitions they have, which would probably make them the leading ones to receive. The Sigma Chi fraternity closely followed by the SAE's. That means that reports on the rest of the organizations are available at this time.

It seems to me that one of the questions that has been asked quite frequently is, "Just what is a university?" No one definition can be given that would suit all universities in our land, but one that is commonly accepted is a definition from the American College Directory in which states that institution of learning of the highest grade, having a college of liberal arts, including graduate study, and in the University of Ceresby which the association with other schools, and authorized to confer degrees." NDSC has all of these qualifications.

"Highest grade"—NDSC is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the academic association which also accredits the U of Minnesota, Purdue University, and Oklahoma State University of Agriculture and Applied Science.

"Professional schools"—NDSC has six schools on campus accredited by the American Medical Association and the various professional agencies.

"Colleges"—NDSC is one of the largest in the five states of Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota, and South Dakota.

4. Agriculture School is the third in the nation in the percentage of students enrolled. Because SC is proud of her agricultural achievements she believes agriculture is worthy to be called a university.

5. Home Economics School is the third in the nation in North Dakota and one of the five oldest in the nation.

6. Chemical Technology graduates more chemists with BS degrees than Michigan State, Yale, Notre Dame or the U of Chicago.

7. Given the fact that 95 per cent of ag. students will they no longer be mistaken for "trade school" students.

8. Recognize the importance of the study of agriculture in N. D.

9. Greater attraction for the best faculty and researchers who work for universities at present and are desirous of going to the University.

10. Increase out-of-state funds and grants from foundations interested in agricultural research and facilities of a University of Agriculture.

11. Give equal status to sister-land grant institutions in the role they have already been recognized as universities.

12. Institute a national system of state's number 1 industry.

So it becomes increasingly apparent that a change in name would benefit the institution, the students, the educational system of the state of North Dakota, and the educational status of North Dakota education.

The Board of Trust through this action would make one of the important changes that is today's education. It would show the students to which institution they belong not only in North Dakota, but to every other student in the country.

The executive committee of the Board of Trust through this action would make one of the important changes that is today's education. It would show the students to which institution they belong not only in North Dakota, but to every other student in the country.

Hi-Society

By Mary Stenso

Heard someone call a friend a "snake-in-the-grass" the other day? Must have been a water moccasin to live around here. I wish the maintenance could have dug up a few more feet of that modern sidewalk they had in front of Dinan. Then we could have gone somewhere besides east.

The KAT's had their annual awards banquet last Saturday. Janet Long was chosen their outstanding senior, Kathy deShazer their outstanding junior, and Betty Dahm, the pledge with the highest scholarship. Congratulations, girls.

Big dance at the Union ballroom tonight—9 p.m.—three big albums for doorprizes—everyone on campus invited.

The ATO's had a busy week. Past-precxy Harry Anderson paraded with Dave Pifer of Pelican Rapids, Minn. and Bruce Kason pinned JoAnne Guffy, Baylor U.

An award for the junior with the highest scholarship was given by the Business and Economics fraternity, celebrated its 15th anniversary on campus last Saturday. At their banquet they awarded Dean Severson for outstanding service to the fraternity.

Heard about the big war on campus? Gamma Tau of Sigma Chi has officially declared war on Gamma Tau of Kappa Gamma. Understand it's clean fighting—only soap and water guns allowed. Seems like quite a few of the girls are getting dishpan hands though. Crazy.

Many new actives again this week. From the Kappa Beta house: Yvonne Currie, Judy Willert, Cynthia Sethur, Kay Ulmer, Sue Knutson. From Yksi Skia发货: Green Heuter, Jeanette Rietmeyer, Barbara Limke, and Jean Nelson. From the Farmhouse reports five: Charles Weiser, Dave Cartin, Evin Simson, Loren Bell and Gordon Morse.

And from the KAT house: Pat Baker, Betty Dahm, Nancy Freed, Mary Kasson, Gay Krogsled, Carol Jean Lutehn, Carole Metzrote, Sonja Nelson, and Jane Severson.

Girls! An answer to your prayers! A doctor in New York City said the other day that garters are agony!! A doctor in New York City chose Karen Salaba as their outstanding senior, Cheryl Larson, most representative junior, and Nancy Flatt as pledge of the year.

More actives! The Big Chi's report: Bill Crooks, Don Fleming, Paul Grothe, Dick Hauke, Ross Johnson, Dick Simson, Bob Swanson, and Bob Veen.

Kappa Psi's Honored Mrs. Van Eaton

Mrs. Van Eaton, who has been chapter housemother for 20 years, was presented with a trophy commemorating her years of service, the official pin of the chapter and a necklace engraved with the Kappa Psi crest. A portrait of her, inscribed with the words "Twenty Years," was hung in her honor.

"It was a very delightful evening and very well executed—a wonderful tribute to a wonderful woman," said Dean of Students Charles Sevrinson.

Other guest speakers included: Dr. Fred S. Haltz, NSDC president; Dr. Clifton E. Miller, dean of the school of pharmacy, and Ansel Suckerman, charter member of the local chapter.

Chapter alumni took the occasion to present the active chapter with a donation of $220 towards the proposed new Kappa Psi house.

Band Members Get Well Acquainted On Eleven Day Tour

By Phyllis Christmann

Sixteen unequainted band members left on an eleven day band tour, to return a closely knit family, who had represented their college by creating music.

You may be saying to yourself, "Eleven days—funny they weren't sick of each other." Anything but sick of one another. It seemed that they'd hardly got to know one another and the trip was over.

Playing cards of all sorts, checkers, chess, singing and just generally "poofing off" seemed to prevent everyone feeling that they were part of the lively group.

Every evening except two were spent in private homes. This proved to be rather interesting! Phyllis Christmann and Carol Schulte were rejected from three homes one night because the people were expecting boys. Disguised and discouraged, they were almost ready to find the nearest park bench, when at a last resort the people in charge stopped at this lonely house and the people were gracious enough to take them, even though they too had been expecting boys.

Bruce Brokke and Laverne Swedlund entered one home to find a three year old child armed with a butcher's knife coming for them.

Little things like these made the trip enjoyable.

The four big questions that were asked at every home were: Where have you been? Where are you going? Isn't it going to be hard to make up your school work? What are your majors and then: "My, isn't that nice." They began to feel like recordings that could be plugged in and out at will.

Yet through all the jam sessions, jamborees, and after concert dances the real purpose of the trip was not lost.

The band, which traveled to Canada and through the state, represented our school just as our sports teams and housing teams, and they did the best job they could for their Alma Mater.

Press Attend Luncheon

Twenty-five local press people will attend the second annual Press Club luncheon today in the Student Union Banquet Room at NSDC.

Arlive Bakken, EOE, soph, will be master of ceremonies. Representatives from the six schools on campus will give reports about what their school is planning for Shivarir.

Four outstanding high school seniors have been invited to attend the luncheon and to preview Shivarir as our weekend guests.

What Is Your Part In The 1960 Sharivar?

By Darlene Gordon

What's your part in Sharivar? There are only three weeks left until Sharivar and this year it promises to be bigger and better than ever.

Arlene Christianson, central committee co-chairman, says, "Sharivar is unique in that it secures the cooperation and participation of almost every student on campus in at least one aspect of the activity. It is student-initiated and student-organized."

Sharivar is our annual all-college festival—an attempt to show the people of our state what goes on at a college. It is aimed particularly toward the high school student in trying to define college life a little better for him.

Invitations were also sent out to such notable people as Governor and Mrs. Davis and President Eisenhower. A letter was received from the President's secretary, Thomas E. Stephens, which said in part, "While it is not possible to send an acceptance, you may be sure your thoughtfulness in writing is sincerely appreciated."

Examples of new and interest exhibits this year are: typing of blood, $22,000 display of orches, theatre set-ups, chamber of horrors in textiles, various breeds of livestock in the arena, idiot pool table, and many commercial displays.

Job Interviews

SAE’s And Pharmics
Fight For 1st Place
In The Intramurals

Sigma Alpha Epsilon’s one and three teams came out on top of the intramural and inter-city bas ketball tournaments by placing first and second in the intramural finals and taking first in the inter-city tournament. SAE’s third team took first in both tournaments.

The season was split into two halves with five brackets in each half. In the second half of the season the winners of each bracket in the first half were placed in a bracket by themselves making it possible for more teams to get in to the finals. In order to qualify for the final playoffs a team had to take first place in one of the brackets of either half.

The SAE’s also took first place in ping pong by beating the Kappa Psi’s who took second. The final roll-offs for intramural bowling started Tuesday night. Results for bowling will follow next week.
