Name Change Wins 2-1; Issue Tops State Election

North Dakota voters this week decided finally and with 95,423 to 46,279 (at press time) definiteness that this institution will be properly called a university.

Actually, the legal technicalities prescribe that initiated measures become law 30 days after passage of the amendment. For practical purposes, however, student and faculty alike started talking NDSU Tuesday evening when it became apparent that the name change would carry with bigger majorities than any other measure or candidate in the North Dakota election.

One of the earliest congratulatory messages was from President George Starcher of the University of North Dakota. That and other statements are printed elsewhere in this paper.

On campus, things were "jumping". The student union served free coffee and the food services were crowded. So few students came to classes that most departments gave up trying to hold them.

Spontaneous celebrations took place all over Fargo. A group of cheering, singing students paraded through Fargo's business district. There were reports of students hanging the NDAC name in effigy and of expeditions to change the school name on signs along highway approaches to Fargo.

Many in the campus community thought that NDSU had won another major victory in the election of Democrat William Guy as governor. Guy, an NDAC graduate and later an economics professor on campus, received a substantial majority in the Spectrum straw vote, and there is little doubt that his state vote from the campus community was heavy.

The name change campaign, which started with the circulation of a petition last spring to get the name change issue on the ballot, was organized on a state-wide basis under the direction of Bob and Shirley Nasset of Regent. County committees were organized in every county by other NDSU alumni with the emphasis on personal contact at the grassroots level.

As the campaign gathered momentum, there was a surprising "pickup" of volunteer help by groups and individuals all over the state.

The campaign came to a climax last weekend after a student convocation in which Charles Bateman and other student and alumni leaders were asked to go home and contact people. Students estimate that their contacts totaled in the tens of thousands.

A HAPPIER PERSON you couldn't find at NDSU on Wednesday morning than Charlie Bateman, Student Name Change Chairman.

NDSU Celebrates Name Change Victory

Victory Statements

Bob & Shirley Nasset

Name Change Chairmen:

It is gratifying that the voters have approved this forward step for agriculture and higher education in North Dakota. We wish to express our sincere thanks to the many people who helped make the benefits known.

I express pleasure with North Dakotans approval of this change which will, in many very real ways, benefit both the young people and the economy of all of North Dakota.

Charlie Bateman

Name Change Student Chairman:

In addition to being an exciting and educational experience, my part in changing the name has been one I'll never forget. I'm very pleased and am sure it will have widespread benefits for the entire state.

Howard Fraser

NDSU Alumni Director:

We are pleased that the people of North Dakota agree that we should make this change. It has come about in a truly democratic fashion. The alumni are grateful for the efforts of the hundreds of people who helped in bringing it about.

Don Evashenko

Name Change Field Coordinator:

There can be little doubt that this change is a beneficial step for North Dakota. Both agriculture and higher education have been advanced by its approval.

Allyn Hart

Student Body President:

I am sure I speak for the vast majority of our student body when

Letter

As chairman of the faculty wives who rang doorbells for the Name Change, I wish to express my very great appreciation for the splendid help given by the campus community in that campaign.

Without the enthusiastic help given by students, student wives, wives and husbands of staff members, alumni and even volunteers with no campus affiliation who simply wanted to help, the project could not have been done so quickly or so completely.

The doorbell ringing was only a part of a long, difficult, and extremely successful campaign. But because it is the part I was most closely associated with I want to repeat . . . Thank You State University People.

Two Big Events Scheduled Union Days Societa Corelli

The annual "Union Days" will be sponsored by the Student Union Activities Board next Thursday and Friday, Nov. 17 and 18. A number of events are being planned.

"Union Days" will be highlighted by an All-College Variety Show. This will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 17 in the Memorial Union Ballroom. It will be built around a "Gay Nineties" theme. Ushers and waitresses will be dressed appropriately for that decade to add to the atmosphere.

The show will include singing, skits and pantomimes to be presented by campus groups. Lunch will be served before and after the performance.

Friday from 9 p.m. to 12, the Memorial Union Ballroom will be occupied by the annual "Union Days" dance. A band will provide the music—admission free.

A musical of great technical skill of the highest order will be presented at Festival Hall on Nov. 12 when the Societa Corelli of Rome appears at the annual NDSU Lyceum Series.

The Societa Corelli consists of 13 instrumentalists, each an accomplished artist in his or her own right. They have been the toast of Rome's musical circles.

They have played throughout Europe, in Canada and in the United States, where they were brought by the noted concert impresario, Albert Morini.

All NDSU students may get free tickets for all Lyceum programs. Students should present their student activity cards at the Little Country Theatre where a ticket for the attraction will be attached to the activity card.

Curtain time for the lyceum is 8:15 p.m.

The Latest . . .

By Donna Helbling

No complaints this weekend. The social calendar is overflowing with activities such as—

The Spinster Skip tonight at 9 p.m. in the Union. The Don Ford Combo will furnish the beat, so grab your date gals and away we go.

As for Saturday, there are more activities than people to participate.

Don't forget the final football game of the season. The Bison face Mankato State on Saturday afternoon—here's hoping for a victory to match last week's.

The Kappa Psi's will be partying at their term party at the Moorhead Country Club Saturday night. On the same night, the Co-ops will live it up at the Castle when their party swings at 9 p.m.

A lyceum series on Saturday night—Societa Corelli will be featured at Festival at 8:15 p.m.

To complete the weekend, how about the famous pledge presentations. This Sunday the Kappa's, KAT's and Gamma Phi's will be showing off their pledges from 3 to 5 p.m.

It's human to have your mind wander, but the trouble comes when you start to follow it.

The Gamma Phi's will be celebrating their Founder's Day Monday.

This past week has certainly been filled with activity. The KAT's started by serenading the Kappa Psi's on Monday and presenting them with cookies in appreciation for the help received on the Homecoming float.

The Kappa Psi's and Gamma Phi's donned their Mexican garb for a fun-filled evening at the Kappa Psi house on Thursday.

The SPD's kept busy this week with a dinner exchange on Monday with the Gamma Phi's and an evening's entertainment at the KD house on Tuesday.

A Halloween party, complete with costumes, was held at the Theta Chi house on Saturday. The Alpha Gams joined the joy boys for a spooky good time.

College boy: "Whisper those three little words that will make me walk on air."

College girl: "Go hang yourself."

More new pledges at the Phi Mu house—Bonnie Nelson, Mandan and Linda Clow, Orleans, Minnesota.

Newest KAT pledge is Penny Vosper.

The Theta Chi's have added to their ranks, Larry Peterson from Lakota.

Election at the Kappa Psi house has resulted in these pledge officers: Galyn Seller, president; Gary Mutschelknaus, vice-president; Phil Wattles, secretary-treasurer; Bob Kellogg, social chairman; Ken Michalski, chaplain.

A psychiatrist is a man who, when a beautiful girl enters the room, watches everyone else.

Pinnings — engagements — marriages have finally appeared!

Record Crowds See "Of Thee I Sing"

Record breaking audiences totaling 1600 saw the musical satire "Of Thee I Sing" at the Little Country Theater on Tuesday-Saturday last week and a holdover show on Monday.

The cast also presented the show at the Veterans Hospital on Tuesday night.

According to Frederick Walsh, chairman of the Speech Department, this is the first time a show has been held over to Monday night. "It's wonderful that the student body is aware of the fine attractions being presented. I am indeed delighted," said Dr. Walsh.

CHRISTMAS CARD CONTEST

Attention—artists! The Student Union Activities board is again this year sponsoring their annual Christmas Card Contest.

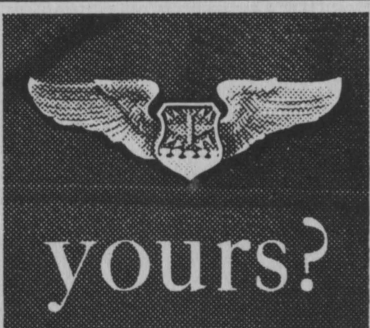

The purpose of the contest is to obtain entries and select the official Student Union card for Christmas 1960. This card will be printed and sent to every Union in the United States.

The judges will base their decisions on originality and talent displayed. A five dollar prize will be awarded the winner.

All entries must be in by noon on Thursday, Nov. 23.

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill in and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

A MODEST PROPOSAL

A movement is afoot—a shocking, startling movement—to solve the problem of overcrowded colleges by the simple expedient of refusing admission to women at coeducational schools!

It is argued by proponents of this plan that in today's world a college education is absolutely essential for a man, while for a woman it is merely a pleasant interlude between adolescence and housewifery. There is simply not room enough for both men and women in our overburdened colleges; therefore, in all fairness, women who have far less need of a degree than men, must yield their places.

Well sir, when I heard this drastic proposal, I was so shocked that I sat right down and lit a Marlboro. I always sit right down and light a Marlboro when I am shocked. I also always sit right down and light a Marlboro when I am not shocked. There is no time, no condition, no mood, no estate when it isn't a source of soul-deep gratification to settle back and have a full-flavored smoke—Marlboro, the filtered cigarette with the unfiltered taste—Marlboro, the jewel of cigarettes—Marlboro, the pinnacle of the tobaccoist's art—Marlboro, my comfort, haven, and snug harbor.

Well sir, I sat smoking my Marlboro and thinking over the shocking proposal to keep women out of coed schools, and hoping fervently that another solution can be found. If the calamitous day ever comes when women are banned from coed colleges, I will gnash my teeth and rend my garments and take to my bed without supper. Like any other Marlboro man, I love women. I love the sight and sound of them, the cut of their jibs, their beauty and grace, their cunning little spitecurls, their sleek dimples, their middy blouses, their aura and effluvium. Moreover, I freely admit that when it comes to brainpower, they can give the average man cards and spades and big casino too. It would be a shame, a disgrace and a catastrophe to keep these beautiful, intelligent creatures out of college.

However, it is always wise in time of fair weather to prepare for foul. What if the advocates of keeping women out of college begin to gather strength? We who abhor this fiendish plan must be ready with a substitute . . . and it just so happens I have one—and a mighty ingenious little plan it is, if I say so myself.

Granted that classroom seats are in short supply, and granted that men need degrees more than women, it is still not necessary to bar women from college. Let them go to college but—here is the beauty part of my plan—don't let them go to class!

I love the sight and sound of them . . .

This solution, it seems to me, answers every requirement. It releases hundreds of thousands of classroom seats to needy males. At the same time, it does not deprive women of the rich and varied benefits of campus life. They can join sororities, shoot pool at the Union, build bonfires for Homecoming games, pour at the Dean's tea, plait daisies in their hair, organize drag races, sculpt in ice, hook rugs, walk their cheetahs, play Monopoly, find love—in short, they can do anything except go to class.

Tell the truth, girls: Is that bad?

AFROTC Names Distinguished Seniors

Four NDSU senior Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps cadets have been designated distinguished military students, according to Col. Joseph Habager, professor of air science and head of the Air Force Reserve officer training corps at NDSU.

They are: Dean Forseth, Ag.; James Sather, AA; John McLain, IE; and Larry Van Sickle, AAS, received the award at a ceremony last week.

In order to qualify for the award, the cadet must be in the upper third of his air science class, the upper third of his graduating class, the upper third of his four week summer training unit, plus selection by the professor of air science. The summer training is normally conducted between the junior and senior year.

This award is partial requirement for application for a regular commission in the United States Air Force.

ND Young Adults Conference Elects Cecile Myhra President

Cecile Myhra, H. Ec. soph, was elected president of the North Dakota Young Men and Women which held their conference on the NDSU campus Nov. 4 and 5. YMW is an organization for young adults.

Approximately 75 young people, students and state leaders attended the statewide conclave which opened last Friday evening.

Donald Piepkorn, NDSU graduate and former IFYE student to Argentina, spoke on "Goals and Objectives—Their Value."

Mrs. Naurine Higgins, state home economics leader of the North Dakota Extension Service, gave a talk on the conference theme "Mature, Willing and Able."

Carl A. Schmidt in the Testing and Counseling office urged students to take special care in filling out their registration records for the coming quarter. He said a revised Student Activities Record Card will be given all students at the door which is one of the most important parts of the registration.

Ten SUAB Members Attend Conference

Ten members of the NDSU Student Union Activities Board attended the 13th annual regional seven conference of the Association of College Unions Friday and Saturday, Nov. 4 and 5.

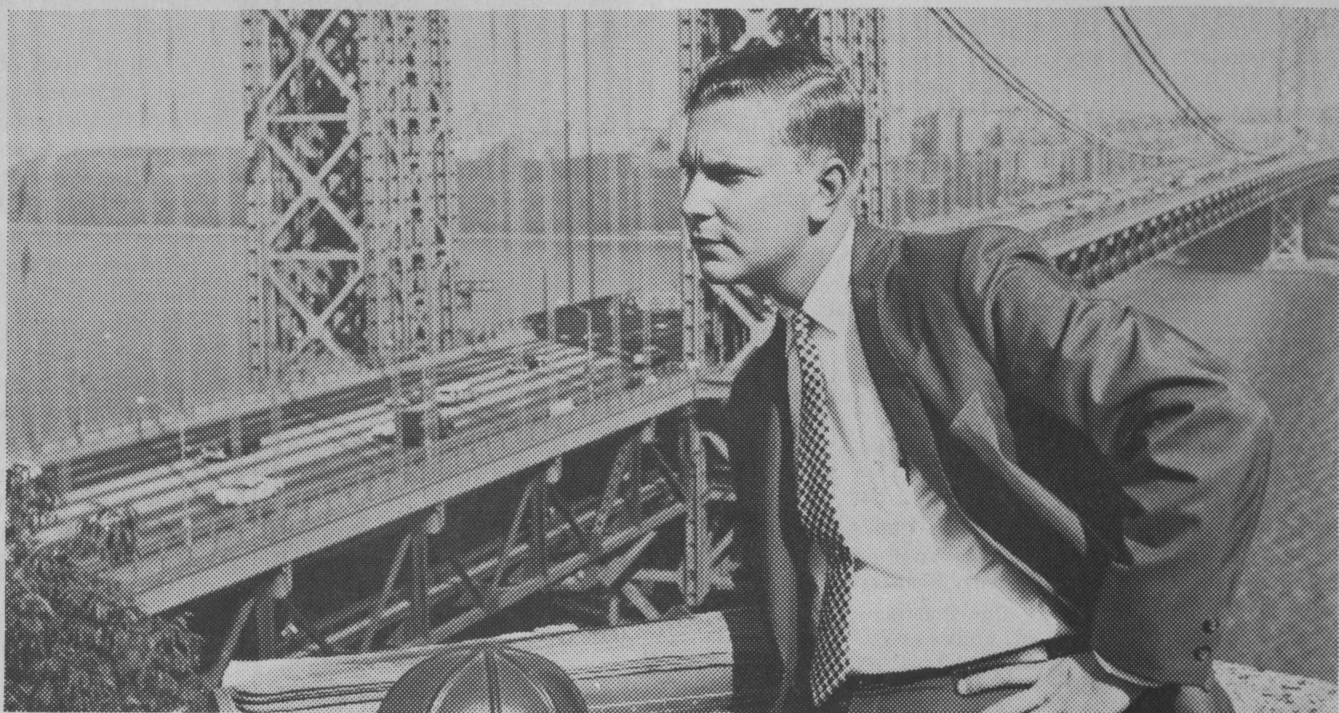

The conference was held at the Commons Building of Augustana College at Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

John Kocourek, AAS Sr., presided over the conference. The purpose of the association is to exchange ideas with the 52 schools in the region.

Attending the conference were Barbara Holcomb, Wilda Bridgeford, Mary Walrath, Toni Woodmansee, John Kocourek, Bob Mann, Dean Forseth, Jon D. Johnson, Joann Krumprey and Dale Brostrom.

Dean Forseth led a discussion on "Effect of Union on Study Habits." Jon Johnson was nominated as regional vice president.

The conference will be held at Macalester next year.

THIS YOUNG ENGINEER IS ON THE ROAD TO MANAGEMENT

Dick Cotton knew he wanted to take the engineering route into management long before he joined New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. In fact it was his goal when he was working for his engineering degree at Rutgers.

When he graduated, he had his lines out to eleven other companies. He came to New Jersey Bell because: "I didn't feel I was just a number to these people. There was no doubt in my mind that this job would be the best for the long pull."

His first assignment was a tough one. A complex of major telephone cables lay in the path of the approach to the new traffic level of the George Washington Bridge on the Hudson. Dick's job was to find the most practical and economical way to reroute these cables, and at the same time to provide for future telephone growth in the area around the bridge approach.

Dick ironed that one out and got a crack at another tough job.

Next stop: New Jersey Bell Headquarters Engineering Staff, Special Studies Group. Here

Dick was a member of a four-man team whose job was to find ways to eliminate some of the routine work of field engineers to give them "more time to think." Dick also helped plan and control a $100,000,000 annual telephone construction budget.

Presently, Dick is responsible for telephone equipment engineering projects in the Camden, New Jersey, area.

How does Dick look at it? "This is a growing business. I work with this growth every day. And growth means more room at the top. Of course, I don't figure I'll get there overnight—but on my jobs so far I've had a chance to take a good look at how this business is run. And I think the sky's the limit for a man who really wants to work for it."

If you're a guy who can tackle a tough job and deliver the goods—then you're the kind of man who should find out more about the Bell Companies. Visit your Placement Office for literature and additional information.

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most vital, intelligent, positive and imaginative men we can possibly find."

Applications For First ISA Scholarship are Now Available

Applications are now being accepted for the first Independent Students Association scholarship. According to Ray Hendrickson, ISA president, the stipend of $25 per quarter will only be given away during winter and spring quarters this year.

The following criteria must be met by students applying: (1) need for financial help (2) attended at least one quarter here (3) have cumulative averages of at least 2.5.

Both undergraduates and graduates are eligible. The stipend is renewable for each quarter of the school year.

Application forms are now available from Morris Johnson, room 114, Ladd Hall, or from the registrar's office.

Deadline for applications for the current school year is Dec. 9.

Vets Auxiliary Elects

Newly organized Veteran's Club Auxiliary has elected Jackie Marttila president.

Others elected at last week's meeting were: Shirley Johnson, vice president; Shirley Foien, secretary; Colleen Pederson, treasurer; Jan Aestrich, chaplain; Theo Stallings, program chairman; Carol Babcock, membership; Loin Hanson, courtesy chairman; Sue Bjerkken, social chairman and Dee McNeese, publicity.

Peotter prepares for art show

Ralph Peotter, instructor in the NDSU related art department, is preparing for a one-man art show at the Rourke Art Gallery in Moorhead Feb. 5-22. This show will include both ceramics and painting.

Peotter is working on his Master of Fine Arts degree at the University of Wisconsin. This is the highest degree in creative art.

"Men students often enroll in display, metal and ceramics classes," states Peotter who is starting his third year at NDSU.

First Place Winner

As one of three winners at the Red River Annual Art Show last spring, Peotter entered his oil painting "Untitled." He also won first place in the ceramics division with his stoneware bottle at the Wisconsin State Fair Art Show. His silver, brass and stained glass cross won first place in the Midwest Design Craftsmen Show.

"Craft Horizons," a national magazine, and "Ceramics Monthly" published his pictures.

A welded steel sculpture of a world map which Peotter helped to design, decorates the lounge of the Ford Motor Co. Administration Building in Dearborn, Mich.

"Great Ability"

Mr. Peotter has great ability and versatility according to Miss Kathryn Weesner, chairman of the art department. He is a ceramist, oil painter, jeweler, and print maker. His work is beautiful as well as functional.

Peotter, a native of Michigan, received his B.S. degree at the University of Michigan and his M.S. at the University of Wisconsin. He worked with Harvey Littleton, professor of ceramics at the University of Wisconsin. At the Toledo, Ohio, Museum of Art, he was assistant to the curator of Oriental art.

Dean Russell of the School of Arts and Science says that art is extremely important in the student's course of study. He explains that a school NDSU's size cannot have two art departments.

Art To Be AAS Course

However, Dean Russell is working on a plan to cross-list art courses in the catalog in both the Arts and Science section and the Home Economics section. Miss Weesner is already listed as a member of the Arts and Science Department.

Oddvar Helgeson

Helgeson Wins Again

The Bison Cross Country team has completed their duel meet season. The varsity took third place in the NCC Cross Country meet at Vermillion on November 5. In individual running Oddvar Helgeson, Jr., took first. Oddvar now stands undefeated for the season.

On Nov. 26 Helgeson and the NDSU varsity will travel to NAIA Cross Country meet in Omaha, Nebraska. Last year, in this same meet, Helgeson took third place. He will be running against the same men who took first and second in the '59 meet: Paul Whitely of Kansas and Mike O'Reardeck of Idaho State. Oddvar is from Tronsted, Norway, and did no competitive running until he started college at NDSU although he had a background in cross country skiing, which is of great benefit to his running.

Coach Neuberger feels, "The team did real well this year as they took four firsts, one second, and one third. The freshman team was very outstanding and should contribute many good runners to next year's team."

Basketball Team Looks Good Says Head Coach Bentson

The preseason outlook for the NDSU basketball team seems to be very good, according to head basketball coach Chuck Bentson.

We have plenty of height in the backcourt and with all-conference Marvin Bachmeier, who averaged 28.16 points per game last year, and Ken Lehr in the front court we should have a good team both offensively and defensively. This is the twelfth year at NDSU for Chuck Bentson.

NDSU will have eight returning lettermen, but only two of them started on last year's team. The club will consist of the following: Marvin Bachmeier, Senior; Ken Lehr, Junior; Bill Haas, Junior; Bert Sperling, Junior; Harold Anderson, Senior; Bob Reslock, Senior, and Roger Erickson, Junior.

Other height coming up from the freshman team last year will be the Langen brothers who are 6'7" and 6'5". This wealth of height should give the team rebounding power that the Bison have lacked for many years.

Marv Bachmeier, pride of the North Central Conference last year, should be in his best condition for his senior year with the North Dakota Bison, Bentson said. Last year he broke five of the conference scoring records, so this should be an interesting year for him.

Anyone interested in gymnastics report to Kaiser's office in the Fieldhouse Tuesday, Nov. 15 at 4 p.m.

Gentzkow Wins Loop Scoring Title; SD State Thorne Takes Rushing Title

BROOKINGS, S. D.—Dave Gentzkow of North Dakota State University has the loop scoring title and Joe Thorne of South Dakota State is the North Central Conference rushing champion.

Augustana and champion Iowa Teachers monopolized most of the statistical departments in the final tabulations.

Thorne finished the season with 462 yards. L. C. Hester of North Dakota University was second with 424 yards.

Gentzkow vaulted from third to first in scoring with a 20-point effort Saturday against South Dakota University. His 50 points for the season is 12 more than tallied by Augustana's Ron Wyatt. Pepper Lysaker of North Dakota University was third with 32 points.

Two records fell. Jim Luce of Augustana set a passing mark with 81 completions in 132 attempts. His 81 completions topped by 19 the former mark set in 1957 by Steve Piasecki of North Dakota University.

Jim Simko of Augustana caught 38 passes for 440 yards and four scores to top by two the former record set in 1953 by Dick Beetsch of Iowa Teachers.

Luce captured the total offense laurels for the second year with 958 yards gained in 162 plays.

Dave Cox of Iowa Teachers was top in punting with an average of 38.8 yards for 13 kicks. Bill Leifur of North Dakota University was second with 19 punts averaging 37.6 yards.

Mike Kinsella of North Dakota State captured the kick return title by returning 18 kicks for 345 yards.

Iowa Teachers—the champions—were tops in rushing, scoring, total defense and rushing defense.

They averaged 222 yards by rushing to edge past last week's leader, North Dakota University, which posted a final mark of 221.2 yards.

Against rushing plays the Iowa Teachers tutors gave up 135.8 yards per game to 156 for North Dakota University.

South Dakota State posted the best pass defense mark with a 57.2 yard average. North Dakota State was second with a 64.7 mark.

Blind Bogey Bowling Tournament

Something different (very differ- year — the 'Blind Bogey Bowling ent) in bowling tournaments will Tournament'. be added to "Union Days" this The tournament is designed to give bowlers of all degrees of proficiency a chance to win.

All persons participating will turn in their score sheets. At the end of each day the persons in charge will go through their sheets to determine the winner. For instance, the winners the first day may be the person with lowest number of pins in the third frame, the most splits, the highest number of strikes, etc. Similar requirements will determine Friday's winners.

The tournament will run from 1-5 p.m. on next Thursday and Friday in the Union Bowling Lanes.

All persons are urged to participate. Prizes will be awarded at the Union Days Dance on Friday night.

BISON BITS

By Sherry Bassin

NORTH DAKOTA STATE UNIVERSITY rampaged like a herd of Bison over South Dakota University at Vermillion last Saturday by wholopping the Coyotes 40-7.

The Bison finished off the NCC in a blaze of glory by out hustling and outplaying SDU for the full 60 minutes.

The game at Vermillion proves at least one point that the Bison were as good as any other club in this league and that they will be a team to be reckoned with next year.

Diamond Dave Gentskow, the Bison "bashing bruiser," scored 20 points to run his total to 50 and win the NCC scoring title.

Gentskow played his typically good game and deserved every point of the scoring title. It is a most deserving award to a most deserving football player. We offer our congratulations to Dave and we say "a job well done".

Seniors Play Last Game

Five seniors will play their last game in a Bison uniform tomorrow afternoon. All five will graduate this spring from North Dakota State University.

All five have contributed to the success that football has had at NDSU in the past four years.

At all times they displayed good sportsmanship and always gave a good account of themselves. Their positions on the club will be hard to replace next year.

Tomorrow afternoon Mankato State will be in town to face the Bison at Dacotah Field at 1:30 p.m.

This will end the season for the Bison and will give them a chance to add another win to their '60 record.

NDSU showed a powerful attack at Vermillion and are expected to come back tomorrow with similar effort.

On Progress

Eclectos: Why so glum today Pangloss?
 Pangloss: I had a bad day at school.
 Eclectos: What happened?
 Pangloss: Well, I was sitting in class and the teacher asked what we thought about the Transylvanian revolution.
 Eclectos: What happened?
 Pangloss: Well, no one raised his hand and the teacher just walked away with a disgusted look on his face.
 Eclectos: Why didn't you raise your hand?
 Pangloss: I didn't know the right answer.
 Eclectos: Oh, I thought he asked you what you thought.
 Pangloss: He did, but that's next week's assignment.

Architectural Critic To Speak Here

Joseph R. Passonneau, Dean of the school of Architecture at Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri, will be on the NDSU campus Monday, Nov. 14, as a visiting critic and lecturer.

Dean Passonneau has sent a program for a weekend sketch problem "A Studio for an Action Artist" for the junior, senior and fifth year architect student on campus. He will go over these student proposals Monday morning and then criticize them on Monday afternoon.

He will present an illustrated lecture "Technology as the Basis of a First Principle in Aesthetic Pleasure" at 8 p.m. in room 22 of South Engineering.

Passonneau worked with Holabird and Root and Burgee who designed the summer auditorium for the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

As a senior designer for Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, he designed the New York Life Insurance Company's first large private redevelopment project in Chicago.

As the Chief of Architectural

Design for the Tennessee Valley Authority he designed over a billion dollars worth of industrial buildings.

Two of the biggest shopping centers in the country, one of which was an entire new downtown for Oak Ridge, Tennessee, were designed by the partnership of Liberman and Passonneau.

The public is cordially invited to the lecture on Monday, Nov. 14.

Rheineck Attends Conference in Ohio

Professor Alfred Rheineck of the School of Chemical Technology was especially invited to attend the conference on Coatings for Missiles and Space Objects held in Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 9 and 10. This conference was directed by the Wright Air Development Center.

This is the first time that Rheineck had attended a meeting of this type. He hoped to learn about coatings for missiles so he can keep up to date with this type of information and pass it on to students.

Attending this conference were leaders in government, industry and personnel from aeronautics and missiles laboratories.

Dr. Rheineck attended a meeting of the Western Regional Laboratory Oct. 25. He is cooperating with them on an oil research project.
