February 10 has been set as the date for the 35th annual Little International Show, sponsored by the NDSU Saddle and Sirloin Club. Activities get underway on Friday with the Hall of Fame Banquet in the Union Ballroom, followed on Saturday with the livestock show and the livestock stock.

Raymond Anderson has been named as manager for the Farm Equipment show. Others working on the event are: Wendel Wischer, assistant manager; Paul Shea, publicity director; Byron Johnson, advertising director; Marvin Jenson, soil and water manager; Conrad Gilbertson, farm structures manager; Ronald Eftz, power machinery manager; Wayne French, farm utilities.

Manager for the Livestock show is Richard Knutson. His assistants will be: Norman Bakkegard, assistant manager; Donovan Eck, general division manager; Paul Brackelsberg, business manager; Rodney Wolf, area manager; Keith Bierke, reporter; Marlo Brackelsberg, advertising.

Darrel Dittner and Glen McCravy have been chosen Hall of Fame co-chairmen.

Anyone interested in showing in any of these divisions in the livestock show is urged to contact the division manager.

Musical pieces will be rendered by groups of the SUAB student-faculty Christmas party, which will be held in the Memorial Union Ballroom on Dec. 21.

The SUAB concert choir, under the direction of Robert Godwin, will present a program of Christmas music, followed by audience group singing.

Two student skits will also be a part of the program. Jon D. Johnson, Phar. Jr., will be master of ceremonies for the evening. Dancing will take over the last spot on the program. Refreshments will be served at the door.

Tickets for the concert and dance are available at Daveau's in Fargo and Moorhead, at the ROTC Detachment on campus and the Student Union, as well as at the door. Advance ticket sales for the ball are $4.00 per couple, and at the door purchases are $5.00 per couple.

Senior Rings

North Dakota State University was featured on NBC's weekend Monitor December 9-11. Each weekend Miss Monitor visits a college or university campus in the United States by means of tape recording. The national broadcast was taped in New York and played from a New York studio. An estimated 25 million people heard the program.

Her visit to NDSU was arranged by Jan Kippin of WDAY and Roy Peterson, promotion manager for WDAY. Both are graduates of NDSU. Information used in the seven one minute spot announcements was furnished by the Communications department.

NDSU was featured as the nation's newest university. Spot announcements started at 8:30 p.m. Friday night with the last one heard Sunday evening.

Miss Monitor told the nation about the name change campaign, Homecoming, Thanksgiving Brevities and the Military Ball. She mentioned that NDSU had the oldest department of paint chemistry in the world.

Emphasizing the School of Agriculture, she stated that the livestock judging team placed first in the nation. Monitor played the six most popular songs of KDBS, besides the NDSU concert choir's recording of "Go Tell It On The Mountain." These spot announcements were taped and NBC will send them back to WDAY.

Student Senate has adopted a new senior ring with North Dakota State University inscribed on it. This ring can be purchased with a $10 deposit down Tuesday, Dec. 20. In Memorial Union between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Only seniors and third quarter juniors can purchase the ring.

Confessions of a Student—By Byron Berntson

So many changes have taken place in my life; and now that something has happened, I should be bubbling over with joy and enthusiasm.

But I am not. I feel out of place in a university. In my mind is an image of what the real university student should be, and I don't fit the picture. I feel that I should be more than the name alone. Shouldn't change as well? How can I do this?

My idea of the university student is a student who is vitally concerned for his education and its effect on his whole life. I have been constantly talking about "getting educated." I know the professors and facilities are here to give me an education, but this almost implies a passive reception of education on my part.

My education is my own responsibility, and no one else can do it for me. Regardless of how much parents and society in general push me, it's up to me to do my job. The university student also assumes a questioning attitude which would add immeasurably to my education, such as art social climbing with the country club set. My education has taught the proper authorities with his constructive criticism. I am going to ask questions of my professors and discussing points with them after lectures are poor, there is no class discussion allowed, the text is

The atmosphere which prevails on and near the university campus. There are added to my curriculum as a part of my education.

Now is the time for me to begin asking questions of my professors and discussing points with them after lectures are poor, there is no class discussion allowed, the text is not clear, and the repayment of the principal need not be made until the student graduates.

Students interested in these awards and loans may obtain aplication blanks from the Scholarship Office of Dean Mirgain, Dolve Hall 101.

Scholarships Are Available

The American Legion Auxiliary of North Dakota has announced five scholarships of one hundred dollars each which are available to students at NDSU.

The Scholarship award will be made on the basis of scholastic attainment and need. An applicant need not have affiliation with the American Legion.

Also announced is an educational loan for students who are children of veterans of World Wars I and II for loans up to $200.00 per year. These loans are interest free, and the repayment of the principal need not be made until the student graduates.

Pi Tau Sigma Initiates Eight

Eight mechanical engineering students at NDSU have been initiated into Pi Tau Sigma, national honorary mechanical engineering fraternity.

The new initiates are: Daryl Devensport, John McDougal, Marshall Sverna, seniors; and Mike Gehart, Wayne Hamann, Barry Johnson, Dennis C. Peterson, juniors.

Pi Tau Sigma selects outstanding juniors and seniors who have shown proficiency and promise in their field.

"GIVE A MAN A TOUGH JOB AND A CHANCE TO GO SOMEWHERE...AND HE'LL BREAK HIS NECK TO DO IT"

In 1958 when Bill Ebben was only a few months away from his engineering degree at the University of Detroit, he was in touch with 15 prospective employers.

He chose the Michigan Bell Telephone Company because: "This company offered the kind of engineering management opportunity I wanted—and they weren't kidding."

One of Bill's first assignments was a survey of Michigan Bell's big Central District to find out how long available building space could accommodate the switching equipment required by rapid telephone growth. "I wasn't given any instruction," Bill says, "I was just told to do the job."

So Bill did it. His report became the guide for planning and budgeting future construction.

On his next move, Bill proved he could handle supervisory responsibility. He was sent to head up a group of seven engineers to design a new long distance switching center for Saginaw, Michigan—a $4,000,000 engineering project.

Today, Bill is on the staff of Michigan Bell's Program Engineer. He's working on a system for mechanized control of telephone construction costs.

How does Bill feel about his job? "Give a man a tough job and a chance to go somewhere—and he'll break his neck to do it. Of course, I don't think I'm going to be running the business next year—but I'm getting every opportunity to hit the top. You don't worry about opportunity here—you worry about whether you're as big as the job."

If you're a man like Bill Ebben, a man who can size up a job, figure out what needs to be done, and then do it—then you should get in touch with one of the Bell Companies. Visit your Placement Office for literature and additional information.

OUR NUMBER ONE AIM IS TO HAVE IN ALL MANAGEMENT JOBS THE MOST RATIONAL, INTELLIGENT, POSITIVE, AND INNOVATIVE MEN WE CAN POSSIBLY FIND."
