

Three Students Run For Senate President

Talking over the campaign rules with the Student Senate presidential candidates is Jim Lamont, commissioner of campus affairs. Candidates are Sherry Bassin, Wayne Hamann and Leon Mallberg. Voting is on Monday, Feb. 6.

Banners are flying, posters are up and speeches are given at the "drop of a hat" at NDSU this week. Student Senate campaigning is at its height as Monday, election day, is rapidly approaching.

Three students are running for the office of senate president and 25 students are running for the 13 senate vacancies.

(Their pictures are on page 8)

Voting will be all day Monday in the Student Union lobby. Activity cards must be presented.

Following are statements and the platforms of the presidential candidates.

SHERWOOD BASSIN

I sincerely believe that the university students in general are becoming more responsible. I therefore feel that the next student body president should be fully aware of this fact and should be prepared to accept the responsibility of conducting and leading student senate in such a manner. My platform is:

1. Student-Faculty-Administration Council: to promote better relations between the faculty, students, and administration of the university by dealing with problems affecting these three groups and by making recommendations to the proper authorities for action.

The types of problem dealt with by this council will be honor system, married student housing, attendance requirements, evaluation program and parking problems.

Members of the council should be three students appointed by Student Senate, two faculty members appointed by the faculty, and two administration members appointed by the administration.

2. Intramural Sports Commissioner: A faculty member appointed by the Student Senate to review all disputed decisions of the intramural program and make a final decision as he sees fit.

3. Student Senate Information Reporter: A student appointed by the president of the student body to compile complete reports of Senate action, to see that they are properly circulated, and to conduct a general educational program informing students of the purposes and responsibilities of their Senate.

4. Advisory Committee to the President of the Student Body: This will be a group of students appointed by the president of the student body as his personal advisors.

Its purposes shall be to advise the president on an overall program of Student Senate action for the year and to keep the president aware of the feelings of the students and their desires for action.

WAYNE HAMANN

Contrary to the way many of the outgoing senators felt last year, I am not in the least bit ashamed to say I have been a member of Student Senate for the past year. I take my job of representing NDSU students seriously, and shall continue to do so in the future.

I feel that Student Senate has made many steps in the right direction during the past year. Most students don't realize the great amount of activities that Student Senate is directly or indirectly responsible for—including such things as freshman orientation, Homecoming, Sharivar, etc.

However, I believe there is one field in which Student Senate needs considerable improvement, and that is in student-faculty relations. The way things are now, Student Senate isn't in much better position to get any student-desired improvements on campus than the average student is, and that's the main reason why there hasn't been too much accomplished. You'll never accomplish an end unless you have a means to that end, and that is what Student Senate is currently lacking.

I propose the establishment of what I call the Student-Faculty Coordination Committee. The committee shall be composed of the eighth senate commissioners, the student body president, the dean of men, the dean of women, the head of campus parking, the business manager, the head of the athletic department, the director of the student union, the head of buildings and grounds, the registrar, and the special assistant to the president, who would act as chairman of the committee.

If a student had a recommendation for some kind of campus improvement, he could take it to Senate itself or tell a Student Senator about it. Senate could then decide if it was worthy of consideration before the Coordination Committee. If it was, it would be brought up at the next meeting of the committee, and would be discussed until the committee arrived at some definite action by mutual agreement between student and faculty members.

Aside from this much needed improvement, Student Senate could stand a few other improvements. I still feel that Senate needs some form of budget so the Senators have some idea of the main yearly expenditures before they spend money on current projects which should have been allocated for a more important project in the future.

Attendance at Senate meetings is another point which can't be stressed enough. It's just about impossible to conduct an effective meeting with half the Senators gone.

These are the things I believe in, and these are the things I am going to work for until Senate has become the effective organization it is supposed to be. Regardless of the outcome of the election, I will continue to serve the students of NDSU to the best of my capabilities during the coming year.

LEON MALLBERG

I am concerned for the average student, the University as a whole. This concern will lead me to strive for a more unified social and academic environment. In other words I would like to see the academic and social barriers between the Greeks and the independents removed. In this way we could conceive a unified University.

My platform is:

1. I will make no promises I cannot keep.
2. I will strive for better relations between the Greeks and independents.
3. I will meet each problem as it arises.

13th Street-University Drive Issue Will Be Voted On By Students Monday

by Alyce Puppe

NDSU students will be asked to vote on the renaming of 13th Street to University Drive in the coming election Feb. 6, stated Commissioner of Campus Affairs Jim Lamont, who presided over Tuesday night's Student Senate meeting.

Lamont stated that the idea of the change was brought to the Senate's attention by NDSU students Harold Kork and Art Meier.

In a letter to Fargo's Mayor Herschel Lashkowitz from Senate requesting the change, Lamont stated that the change will not only call attention to the fact that a university is located in the city of Fargo to visitors, but also shows the community has the advantage of outstanding educational facilities in attracting people to this area, because of the unlimited opportunities available in Fargo.

In reply to the letter, Mayor Lashkowitz pointed to the fine record of cooperation between the University and the city. He further mentioned that the more appropriate naming of the street would add prestige to the city if the name pointed to the fact that a University is located here. He stated that the City Commission would act upon it after receiving information as to the NDSU student body's opinion to the change.

Student Senate then voted to include this measure on the ballot in the Feb. 6 election.

Other action taken at Senate meeting included the defeat of a motion to give an allotment of $250 to the Associated Women's Students organization. Representing AWS, Carol Hersog said the organization had no basis for financial support. She stated that AWS has a potential of more than 700 students. Presently approximately 50-60 students are taking part in this program.

Senators voiced their opinion that the organization could support itself by having the members pay dues or carry out some type of projects. After a lengthy discussion the motion was defeated.

● Bruce Anderson, co-chairman for Sharivar explained the proposed budget for this year's festival Senate passed the motion to give an allotment of $1000 for Sharivar.

● Student Senate discussed the possibility of presenting a monetary award on Honors Day to a sophomore or junior outstanding in scholarship and campus activities. In regards to the discussion Sherry Bassin stated that Senate didn't have the funds to make such an award and if they would, the reserve fund would have to be changed.

Senator Dean Forseth added that Senate was supporting organizations which they shouldn't be supporting, therefore having no money to make such an award, which is something they should be supporting.

● Senator Wayne Hamann moved that election rules be amended so that students who didn't know the candidates for office could vote for any number of senators up to the maximum. This motion was defeated. Senator Sherry Bassin stated that students who are interested enough to vote should be interested enough to find information concerning the candidates for office prior to election.

Others in the cast include Marilyn Anderson, Linda Flesland, Nancy Flatt, Betty Rae Sanders, Ella Faye Thompson, Nadine Hiaasen, Claudia Revland, Joyce Miller, Eunice Light, Joan Scott, Don Nelson, Mike Fair, Larry Bartz, Ray Rogella, Bjorne Asp, Duane Lawrence, Leon Malberg, Clifford Jensen and James Bailey.

Dr. Frederick Walsh, speech department chairman, is directing the production.

"World Come of Age" is Chosen as Theme

"World Come of Age" is the theme for Religious Emphasis Week to be held on the NDSU campus Feb. 5-11. Dr. David Preuss, pastor of the Hope Lutheran Church, Minneapolis, will be the keynote speaker.

Religious Emphasis Week is sponsored by the Inter-Religious Council on campus. This organization is composed of representatives from all the religious groups. This week is held as a means of spotlighting religious activity and encouraging NDSU student organizations to focus attention on religion.

Religious Emphasis Week begins Sunday, Feb. 5 with a kickoff rally at the Lutheran Student Center at 7 p.m. with Dr. Preuss as speaker. Dalmon Larson, president of IRC, urges all religious groups and the public to attend.

Monday through Thursday will feature coffee hours in Meinecke Lounge at 4 p.m. on special problems. Dr. Preuss will speak on church unity on Monday. Donald Keyes from the committee for A Sane Nuclear Policy will lead the discussion on the United States nuclear policy on Tuesday. "The Family in a World Come of Age" will be the topic on Thursday with Eugene Talsma from Family Service as discussion leader.

"Brave New World" is the title of the address to be given by Dr. Preuss at a convocation Tuesday morning, Feb. 7, 9:40 a.m. in Festival Hall.

Discussions will be held at Greek houses on Monday night with dorm sessions on Tuesday night. The Little Country Theater production "Family Portrait" will be held Wednesday through Saturday with discussion following the Friday night performance at the LSA Center.

The purpose of the theme this week is threefold: First, to stimulate students to a deeper study and increased participation within their own denominational groups. Second, to create, through cooperation and execution, a recognition within each religious group that it is not alone in the total work of the Christian ministry on the campus. Third, to reach out to the campus, to students and faculty, and attempt to bring them to an awareness of the Christian gospel and the need to consider seriously the perspective of the Christian faith.

Speakers for Religious Emphasis Week are sponsored by the religious denominations groups on campus.

Dr. Josephine Bartow Named To Head Home Economics Education Department

Mrs. Josephine Bartow, who recently received her doctor of education degree from Pennsylvania State University, has been appointed chairman of the department of home economics education at NDSU.

Mrs. Bartow earned her B.S. and M.S. degrees at Iowa State University. She replaces Miss Lucile Horton who retired last year.

The new NDSU faculty member served as a consultant in family life education for the Milwaukee vocational and adult schools and directed a community program of parent education from 1953 to 1957. She directed a similar program while working for her doctor's degree at Pennsylvania State.

Her recently completed doctoral dissertation was a study of the relationship between family size and methods of rearing children.

Another of Mrs. Bartow's research projects was a statewide survey of Iowa housewives for her master's thesis.

Mrs. Bartow's position as chairman of home economics education department includes supervising student teaching and teaching methods.

She enjoys organizing groups and her hobbies include square dancing, cooking, gardening and working with her hands.

Mrs. Bartow believes that too many people have the misconception that home economics just involves cooking and sewing. "Actually," she says, "home economics covers a much larger area and gives the woman training for a better life."

Mrs. Bartow, a widow, lives with her son Gerald, 15, at 1502 10th St. S., Fargo.

In some cases, yes. Two years ago one of the winners stated to me, "I didn't expect to win; I just ran for the publicity." Some voters would like to vote for two or three good candidates. I think most of the students are honest trying to pick the most capable persons for jobs.

I believe the students of NDSU are adult enough to weigh the issues and support and vote for the people with the best qualifications. Every vote is important. The students must realize the future of senate is in their hands.

Yes, the ridiculous way in which the ballot is set up degenerates the election at least partially into a popularity contest. Why must one vote for six names when in the most cases there are two or three of whom he has never heard? The big names on campus can't help but prove it from this set up.

In a way, yes because if a person has a good standing in the school he is likely to win.

Editorial

● How about an unanimous vote of yes to change the name of 13th Street to University Drive? After we have voted on this issue on Monday the total figures will be presented to the Fargo City Commission. They will then act on the proposal. I'd think you'd all be for it so be sure to vote on it.

● What's the purpose of getting signatures on petitions before the election?

Candidates come up to you just expecting you to sign. They don't even bother telling you who they are and several even look a little peeved if you start asking questions. Then there were a few students that were peddling their buddies' petitions around. How can you get to know the candidates when they don't even bring their own petitions around. If they think just because the students signed their petitions, they'll vote for them, they better think again.

● It's rather nice this year not to hear of bloc voting which was so common in last year's election. I think up until press time the Vets were the only group that have come out for certain candidates.

● Soon as elections are over all of you should start to get your voices in shape — Remember "South Pacific" tryouts are Feb. 22 and 23. Be you short, tall, thin, fat, beautiful or even ugly there's a spot for you.

KEY IDEAS

"A BLUE KEY MEMBER SPEAKS"

by John Kocourek

MICKEY MOUSE. What's the first thing that came to your mind when you saw those words? If you've kept up with Spectrum editors or campaign promises on campus in the last few years, you thought of Student Senate. Regardless of your views on our government you will help fill 14 vacated positions with your vote next Monday. I hope all of you have maintained your political spirit from the national election and will give your vote some thought.

What are the qualifications for Student Senate? There is, of course, the written rule concerning overall average. Of equal importance are the intangible qualities which don't appear on paper.

Most important is the desire to represent the entire student body. Often persons run for Senate solely to uphold their fraternal organizations' position in extra-curricular activities. If elected they have reached their goal and sit back to wait out their term of office.

Another good quality is the desire to represent. Most students have some complaint which could be resolved by Student Senate. The ambition Senator will acknowledge these problems and present them for solution. If you are impressed by someone's platform remind him of his promises if he is elected.

Desire is a necessity. Election to Student Senate is an obligation, not an honor. A good member must be willing to devote more of his time than just attending meetings every other week. He should constantly be aware of his position and freely exercise his authority to improve our university.

I'm sure in the national election all of us picked our candidates after a great deal of deliberation. Let's show an equal amount of interest in our own election and give the best qualified students an opportunity to represent us in Student Senate. Don't make the garbage cans used for ballot boxes appropriate!

"A GUIDE FOR THE DATELESS"

With the cost of dating rising higher and higher it is no wonder that so many of us men are turning to discus throwing. Naturally, we would prefer nuzzling warm coeds to flinging cold disci, but who's got that kind of money? Prices being what they are, the average man today has a simple choice: dating or eating.

Unless the average man happens to be Finster Sigafoos. Finster came to college with the normal ambition of any average man: he wanted to find the prettiest coed on campus and make her his. He looked long and carefully, and at last he found her—a tall job named Kretchma Inskip, with hair like beaten gold.

He asked her for a date. She accepted. He appeared at her sorority house that night, smiling, eager, and carrying a bouquet of modestly priced flowers.

"Now then," said Kretchma, tossing the sleazy flora to a pledge, "where are we going tonight?"

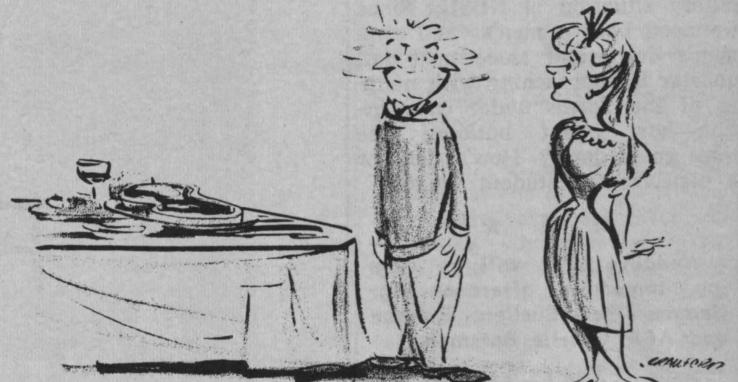

Finster was a man short on cash, but long on ideas. He had prepared an attractive plan for this evening. "How would you like to go out to the Ag campus and see the milking machine?" he asked.

"Tck," she replied.

"Well, what would you like to do?" he asked.

"Come," said she, "to a funny little place I know just outside of town."

And away they went.

The average man today has a simple choice:

The place was Millionaires Roost, a simple country inn made of solid ivory. It was filled with beautiful ladies in backless gowns, handsome men in dickeys. Original Rembrandts adorned the walls. Marlboro trays adorned the cigarette girls. Chained to each table was a gypsy violinist.

Finster and Kretchma were seated. "I," said Kretchma to the waiter, "will start with shrimps remoulade. Then I will have lobster and capon in maderia sauce with asparagus spears. For dessert I will have melon stuffed with money."

"And you, Sir?" said the waiter to Finster.

"Just bring me a pack of Marlboros," replied Finster, "for if ever a man needed to settle back and enjoy the mild beneficence of choice tobacco and easy-drawing filtration, it is the shattered hulk you see before you now."

So, smoking the best of all possible cigarettes, Finster watched Kretchma ingest her meal and calculated that every time her fetching young Adam's apple rose and fell, he was out another 97¢. Then he took her home.

It was while saying goodnight that Finster got his brilliant idea. "Listen!" he cried excitedly. "I just had a wonderful notion. Next time we go out, let's go Dutch treat!"

By way of reply, Kretchma slashed him across the face with her housemother and stormed into the house.

"Well, the heck with her," said Finster to himself. "She is just a gold digger and I am well rid of her. I am sure there are many girls just as beautiful as Kretchma who will understand the justice of my position. For after all, girls get as much money from home as men, so what could be more fair than sharing expenses on a date?"

With good heart and high hopes, Finster began a search for a girl who would appreciate the equity of Dutch treat, and you will be pleased to hear that he soon found one—Mary Alice Hematoma, a lovely three-legged girl with sideburns.

More Than 500 Books Overdue Or Missing At NDSU Library

Over 500 books are overdue at the NDSU Library. Some of these books have been out since 1957, states Dean Stallings, head librarian.

Of this number, 50 percent belong to NDSU students and the remainder belong to other users of the library.

Students may have replaced some of these books on the shelves themselves instead of leaving them on the desk. They are still checked out in that person's name.

Some of these books are important sources of information for term papers.

There are fines due on all of these books, which students on this campus are usually willing to pay, except for those few who put them on the desk and leave when no one is watching.

A list of the people with overdue books has been posted on the library door and on check-out desks.

The Latest . . .

By Donna Helbling

By all indications this weekend should be a great success social-wise.

Tonight is game night — Bison vs Augustana — at 8 p.m. Following the game is a Panhellenic sponsored dance in the union. Believe it or not, the music will be live and swinging by the Larry Dodge Combo — none of this juke box business.

The Fargo KC Club will be the scene of the Vets Club term party tonight at 7:30.

The merry men of ATO will hold their annual winter term party Saturday at the Moorhead Country Club. Banquet begins at 6:30 p.m. with dancing to follow.

IN BETWEEN PARTIES it might be a good idea to campaign for that favorite senate candidate.

YOU

Last year we had the pleasure of meeting many engineering and science seniors during our visit to the campus. As a result of our discussions, a gratifying number chose to join our company.

We'll be back on the dates below, and this notice is your invitation to come in and see us.

If you're interested in joining a company that's a leader in fields-with-a-future, you'll be interested in the advantages Boeing can offer you. Boeing is a major contractor on the advanced solid-fuel ICBM, Minuteman; on the boost-glide vehicle, Dyna-Soar, and on the BOMARC defense missile system. Boeing's Vertol Division is one of the country's foremost builders of helicopters.

Boeing is also the nation's foremost designer and builder of multi-jet aircraft. Production includes eight-jet B-52G missile bombers, KC-135 jet transport-tankers and the famous Boeing 707, 720 and 727 jet airliners.

Research projects at Boeing include celestial mechanics, solid state physics, nuclear and plasma physics, advanced propulsion systems, and space flight.

Expanding programs offer exceptional career opportunities to holders of B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in aeronautical, mechanical, civil, electrical-electronic and industrial engineering, and in engineering mechanics, engineering physics as well as in mathematics and physics. At Boeing you'll work in a small group where individual ability and initiative get plenty of visibility. You'll enjoy many other advantages, including an opportunity to take graduate studies at company expense to help you get ahead faster.

We hope you'll arrange an interview through your Placement Office. We're looking forward to meeting you.

Are They Paying Rent? 634 Girl's Dorm Occupants Identified as Freeloaders

"It's too crowded in here that's for sure," said a NDSU co-ed, Jan Dvorak, H Ec soph, who lives with nine dogs, a rabbit, a kangaroo, a doll, a bison, a gopher and one roommate.

This is the general situation in every room in Ceres Hall. There are 369 stuffed animals and 147 girls, as compared to 265 stuffed animals in Dinan Hall with 164 girls.

In Ceres, one room has eighteen stuffed animals; seven dogs, two cats, two elephants, two octopuses, a monkey, a tiger and a skunk.

Prince Jim, the largest of 158 dogs in Ceres, belongs to Leonore Foss, H Ec fr. He stands 2 feet 3 inches and weighs 15 pounds.

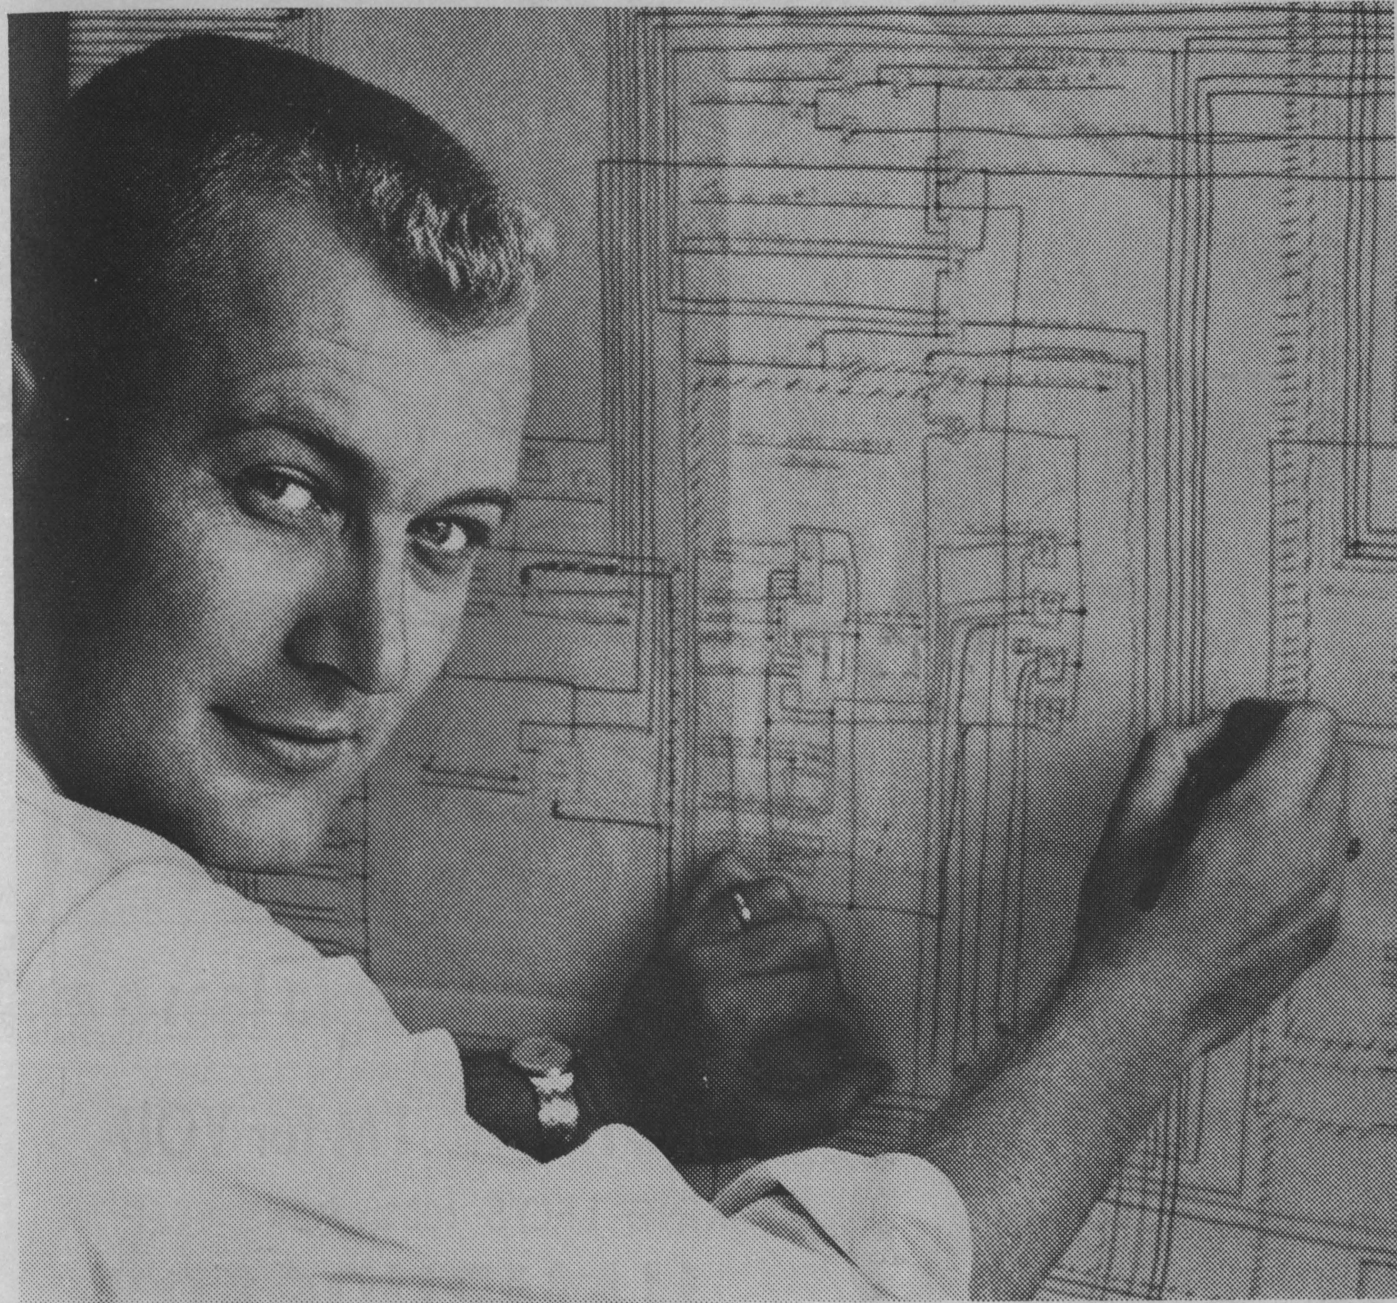

"I like them but there is no place to sleep," said Ilene Hedland, AAS fr.

In Dinan, Marsha Burgman, AAS jr, has a 7½ pound blue bear which is 38 inches high and has a 32 inch waist.

President of Ceres Hall, Linda Wieman said, "The population explosion of dogs in Ceres has risen to the situation where the Humane Society for Stuffed Animals will have to be notified."

Dogs number 150, cats, 44 and teddy bears, 40. All other species number less than ten.

Dinan's stuffed dogs number 66, bears, 20 and cats, 17. Other animals include alligators, kangaroos, elephants, skunks, seals, deer and camels.

Paul Farbanish analyzes the widely varied loads placed on computer systems by different applications. One of his assignments is to design new and alternate ways for data to move from unit to unit with the greatest speed and reliability.

To do his job he has become familiar with many challenging areas of electronics. Within the 1401 system alone he deals with circuits, data flow control, input-output, storage, etc.

If a young engineer wants to move rapidly into the most advanced areas of electronics, he would do well to consider IBM. In the fast-expanding world of data

STUDENTS AND STAFF OF NDSU

It is our belief that many of you are of the opinion that we are always very busy. Not so! At times, yes. But we have more idle time than we like. Here is our situation. We have four working chairs—and four waiting chairs so if the shop is filled, it would still be less than 40 minutes wait. You see, the average time for a hair cut is 20 minutes so if there are four barbers working and less than four waiting it would be less than 20 minutes and there would be an idle barber—we don't like to be idle!

So often someone will look in and see maybe one or two waiting and turn and walk away—thinking "too long to wait". If you just think about it you would be in the chair in a very few minutes.

We enjoy your patronage and we try to serve you to your liking though we are only human—and do realize that we couldn't possibly please everyone. There are four of us—and each barber regardless who he is, has just a little different conception of what constitutes a good hair cut. So if one of us doesn't do just what you have in mind, why not try one of the others? We feel that the barbers in your student union shop are as good as any in their field. Feel free to wait for the barber of your choice.

If you have a complaint tell us! If you are satisfied tell your friends.

We accept appointments—Dial AD 2-3134. Our hours are from 8:00-5:00 daily, Sat. 8:00-12:00. The shop will remain open all summer. Summer hours will be 8:00-5:00, Sat. 8:00-12:00.

BISON BITS

by Sports Editor Sherry Bassin

only time would prove so.

The winning streak of the North Dakota State University basketball team was brought to an abrupt end last week when they dropped the Lehr who "put the game on ice" for the Bison by sinking a gift shot at the end of the game.

The Bison are beginning to come into their own, and the experience the sophomores have gained is beginning to show.

I always maintained that the Bison had the potential and that

They have won the last two of their three games and will undoubtedly improve their record as the season progresses.

Last night NDSU returned to conference action by hosting the University of South Dakota Coyotes at the Fieldhouse.

Action resumes tonight at eight when the Vikings from Augustana invade Bisonville. Augustana will take to the hardwood court fresh from a surprising 77-72 victory over South Dakota State last week.

The Bison have already met the Augustana Vikings at Sioux Falls this year and lost a "squeaker" by two points.

Last weekend Coach Bentson said that the squad played some of its best basketball of the season.

So it looks like a lot of action tonight with the fast improving Bison out to gain revenge because of their two point loss at Augustana.

The Bison freshman squad will play the junior varsity team of Valley City State Teachers College in a preliminary game.

Bowling Team Win Nine Straight

The NDSU varsity bowling team will play host to the Wahpeton School of Science this afternoon at 4:30. Tomorrow they will play host to the University of North Dakota at 2 p.m.

The undefeated Bison, who have won nine matches in as many contests, will tour to Denver during the quarter break. While there, they will compete against the University of Wyoming, the University of Denver, the University of Colorado, Colorado State University, Kansas State, the University of Kansas and the University of Wichita.

The Bison came back victorious from the Tri-State Conference matches held at Grand Forks January 20-21. They defeated Duluth Branch, UND and the Wahpeton School of Science.

Plans are presently underway to arrange a match with the Air Force Academy.

The annual Inter-Dormitory Council will be held Feb. 4 in Stockbridge Hall from 9 to 12 p.m.

The party will include dancing, card playing, ping-pong, pool and refreshments.

The Council invites all residents of the campus dormitories to attend. There will be no admission charge.

Enthusiasm seems to reign at basketball games as the season progresses. The standings are getting tighter, as one can well observe by the spirit of the players. They are obsessed by a desire to win, no matter what the means to that end.
